Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

All Wrong.

New Curate—Your husband is a confirmed invalid, is he not? Mrs. Billyus—Confirmed, sir? No, sir; he ain't Church of England. New Curate—I mean, is he a permanent invalid? Mrs. Billyus—Permanent? Lor', no! Doctor says he can't last a month.

Don't Complain.

If your chest pains and you are unable to sleep because of a cough. Buy a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and you won't have any cough. Get a bottle now and that cough will not last long. A cure for all pulmonary diseases. Mrs. J.—Galveston, Texas, writes: "I can't say enough for Ballard's Horehound Syrup. The relief it has given me is all that is necessary for me to say." Sold by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength, do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at Upchurch Drug Co. Price 50c.

The Alteration He Wanted.

Customer—Yes; I like this suit. I suppose you will make any alterations I may require free. Tailor—Oh, yes, sir; certainly. Customer—Very well, then. Just alter the price from £4 to £2 and I'll take it with me.—London Tit-Bits.

To do the wise thing at all times and under all circumstances is difficult—yea, impossible; but to make a fool of one's self is as easy as rolling off a log. —Springfield Republican.

Alice Roosevelt's Wedding

was something to be recorded in the annals of history. Herbine has been acknowledged the greatest of liver regulators. MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Pilgrims Rest.

It has been a very even contest between the Chilton and Autauga writers. But to fix things, well, seems to me like he might have been trying to turn a summersault. Anyhow, he got things in a rolling motion. He ought to have known that any respectable person wouldn't believe what he said about Buck and Brindle. We don't doubt him driving them, but we know that any girl that was anybody wouldn't be caught among white folks in such a rig.

A word to the boy that wore his papa's watch. If you want to see a pattern of the latest charms, just go down in Autauga. Those girls that wrote don't seem to think they are so popular. That's right, girls, you know a good thing when you see it. It seems curious that the Chilton boys would borrow money to pay the fiddler when it was them doing the playing. And if you got them a partner, you done so without any authority from them. I think the Jones Switch sport signed his name exactly right, for that is our little shepherd pup's name, and we all like that name fine. He said all the boys that wanted a darling had one. Guess there are not any of you that wants one, for you haven't got any. I am sorry for you boys, but you were so game I think the feathers will soon grow out on you. I think the game boys of Autauga have caused a great deal of disturbance, but think they have about run out. Hope they will try to write the truth when they write again.

ONE OF THE BOYS.

Providence.

We are having some fine weather.

The singing at Mount Moriah Sunday evening was attended by a large crowd, conducted by Mr. J. E. Bledsoe, Miss Esta Shaw and Mrs. Nettie Wilson, organist. Mr. Cleve Langston of Pletcher was with us at Mount Moriah, Sunday.

Mr. Abb J. Martin has returned home from Birmingham to spend a few days.

Mr. Albert Samons happened to the bad luck of getting his dwelling house burned down. The people have been very kind in erecting another house. He will move into his new dwelling this week.

Mr. Richard Cobb of Birmingham visited friends and relatives here Sunday.

Miss Esta Shaw is spending a few days with her cousin, Miss Sirgia Henry, of Randolph.

Misses Esta and Ora Shaw spent Friday with their sister, Mrs. Anice V. Cobb.

Mr. George Wilson and wife spent Sunday at Mr. J. E. Bledsoe's.

The memoriam piece written by Misses Verla M. Skipper and Ora O. Shaw was appreciated by all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin spent Sunday at Rockymount.

Miss Era Wilson visited her little friend, Miss Clara R. Skipper, Sunday.

Miss Litha Wilson spent Sunday with the Misses Lula and Pearl Bledsoe.

TWO FRIENDS.

Bethsalem.

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to the closing of Mr. J. Z. Mims' school at this place. We wish to say it has been the best school that has been taught at Bethsalem; the recitations and spelling in the afternoon was in every respect a success. We wish to make special mention of the genius and untiring faithfulness on the part of our teacher in taking so much interest in advancing the children. Prof. Mims has certainly taught a good school, and we hope he will be with us again in our next school. Prof. Mims will sadly be missed in this community. He is going to school at Livingston and we wish him much success and may God be with him in all of his undertakings through life. Much success to the Banner and its many readers.

LIZZIE BRIGANCE.

IN MEMORIAM.

On March 4, 1907, little Minnie, the 5 year old child of Mr. Riley Jones and wife, was burned at their home near Evergreen church, dying in a few hours. She was a sweet child, her affectionate nature won the love of all who knew her. The bereaved parents have our sympathy. Grieve not, for our loss is little Minnie's gain, for while we mourn, she is happy. God knows best, although we cannot understand just yet, but will by and by.

Notice of Application for Pardon.

Said notice is hereby given, that an application for the pardon of James Norman, convicted and sentenced by the Circuit Court of Chilton County, at the fall term of said Court, 1905, for assault with intent to ravish, to hard labor for fifteen years in the penitentiary of said State, from Chilton county, will be made to the Governor of Alabama.

JAMES NORMAN.

A Visit to Mountain Creek.

Editor Banner—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to tell the readers about mine and my wife's visit to relatives at Mountain Creek, Sunday. We sure had a nice time. We took in the Sunday school at Marbury, Bro. D. H. Marbury, Supt., one of the largest and most up-to-date Sunday schools I ever attended. The Bible class registered 92, all men; number of scholars in all 385. We had three fine sermons by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Smith. Bro. Marbury cares for his working men with food and raiment, he does not stop at that, he is doing all the good he can for their souls. There are two great leaders at Marbury in Bros. Smith and Marbury. The name of the Sunday school is Mt. Calvary and is composed of several denominations.

Ex-Senator Burton Rents Theatre to Expose Enemies When He Gets Out of Jail.

Abilene, Kan.—Ex-Senator Joseph R. Burton, who is expected to return to his home here this week from Ironton, Mo., where he is now in jail serving a six months' sentence, has engaged the local theatre for March 23, when he will deliver a public address. Senator Burton has for some time threatened to expose those whom he charged with being responsible for his conviction and it is said that his remarks on next Saturday will prove sensational. Mr Burton will be released from the Ironton jail on March 22.

Bank Statement.

New York.—The weekly bank statement issued here, while showing a most deplorable financial condition was nevertheless much better than expected.

It was thought that the quasi-panic which invaded the stock market on Wednesday and Thursday last would practically wipe out the reserve, and much encouragement has been engendered in monetary circles by a failure of the verification of the presumption.

The figures in detail are as follows:

Resources, increase	$ 981,375.00
Loans, decrease	13,380,300.00

Appointments.

Montgomery, Ala.—Major B. H Lewis, a well-known attorney of Andalusia, has been appointed judge of the city court of Andalusia. The appointment fills a judicial position created by the last legislature and ends a rather spirited controversy for the position.

Major Lewis was opposed for the place by W. M. Rankin, who is a well-known attorney of the Wiregrass City in which the court is to be located.

The governor has named J. S. Mooring as tax commissioner of Calhoun county. Mr. Moorings is a well-known citizen of Anniston.

Standard Oil Divides $14,750,000.

New York.—The sum of $14,750,000 has been disbursed among the stockholders of the Standard Oil Company in payment of the first quarterly dividend of 1907. The dividend is one of $15 a share, which is the same in amount as that declared at this time last year and the year before. If the disbursements this year continue the same as those of last year the company will have paid out by the end of 1907 a total of approixmately $867,523,000 since the organization of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in 1899.

87 Men Perish.

Berlin.—Two mining disasters, which it is feared will entail a loss of nearly a hundred lives, are reported here. An explosion of air damp in a mine at Kleinrosseln, in Lorraine, caused the death of 65 miners and injury to 12.

An elevator in a mine at St. John dropped 1,000 feet, killing 22 occupants.

R. E. Weaver Promoted.

Gadsden, Ala.—R. E. Weaver, yard master for the Louisville and Nashville railway in this city, has been promoted to the position of assistant master of trains on the North and South division, between Birmingham and Montgomery, with headquarters in Birmingham, and will leave at once to assume his new duties.

To Remove Kant's Body.

Berlin.—Ppreparations are making for the removal of the body of the philosopher, Imanel Kant, from the Stoa Kantiana to the Cathedral of Konigsburg, where it is intended that it shall lie near the tombs of the Prussian kings. Kant died at Konigsburg in 1904.

600 Additional Postal Clerks.

Washington.—The apportionment of num, authorized by the last postoffice 600 additional clerks at $600 per an appropriation bill, has been announced at the postoffice department here. The amount of increased business and the overtime showing of the various offices were given first consideration.

Appoint Georgia Man.

Washington.—It practically has been decided by Secretary Straus to appoint J. L. Benton, a well-known young business man of Monticello, Ga., as a special agent of the department to go abroad and investigate the market for cotton seed products.

Congressmen Go to Kingston.

Washington.—On their return trip from Panama the congressmen now on the isthmus will stop at Kingston, Jamaica, and Port-au-Prince, Hayti. They will leave Colon next Sunday, and will probably reach New York on March 24 or 25.

ROCKEFELLER MAKES GREAT DONATION

Outlines Plans For an Enormous Gift.

$50,000,000 FOR NEW YORK

Herald Prints Statement From Apparently Authoritative Source of Intentions of Magnate as to Disposition of Wealth.

New York.—The Herald says that according to a member of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s Bible class, and who is also a personal friend of John D Rockefeller and in a position to know of his affairs, the latter prosposes soon to make a princely gift to New York city.

It will amount to at least $50,000,000. It will be partly charitable and partly educational. The Herald adds:

"This man said that when Mr. Rockefeller was conferring with his son at Lakewood, N. J., a fortnight ago, the meeting was not for the purpose of discussing any immediate gift, but was on the subject of Mr. Rockefeller's will, which [illegible] the oil king was then completing with the aid of his son and his lawyers.

"It was said that the document will astonish the world when it is made public. It will, it is declared, donate no less than $250,000,000 for charitable and educational purposes, and it will be so bestowed that the benefit there from will almost be perpetual.

"The manner in which these bequests will be bestowed is said to be mainly for educational and charitable purposes. While there are some contributions for religious purposes, it is stated that Mr. Rockefeller does not think it necessary to extend any great aid to churches. To his manner of thinking the churches are growing stronger and stronger, and there is no danger that they will ever need any great financial assistance from any one man.

"Mr. Rockefeller, however, is said to be much in favor of the growth of education, and to the furtherance of this end he has done much in his will. He believes that education will make this country the greatest in the world and that every cent contributed toward that object will help to make better citizens and better Christians.

"As to the charitable bequests it was said some time ago that Mr. Rockefeller had in mind building model tenements for the poor, such as have been erected in some European cities.

"In his will, the Herald's informant states, Mr. Rockefeller has provided these three things: Bequests for religious purposes, though not of large sums; liberal bequests for education and what are described as princely bequests for charitable purposes. It is said there is scarcely a man, woman or child that will not be benefited in some way by these prospective donations."

Smuggle $25,000 of Diamonds.

New York.—Arthur Preston Green and Charles Rohrer, passengers on the steamer Amerika, were arrested when the vessel arrived from Hamburg charged with attempted smuggling of diamonds and jewelry to the value of nearly $25,000, which the customs officials alleged the prisoners had failed to declare, were taken from them. The valuables were confiscated and the men held for extradition.

Though only the charge of smuggling was preferred against the prisoners, it is stated by the police that they are wanted abroad in connection with a theft of some $35,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones, and the London authorities have been informed.

Smithfield Burns.

Birmingham, Ala.—The entire business section of Smithfield, a part of Blocton, Ala., was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss estimated at $100,000. In addition to the business houses burned twelve residences were consumed.

The fire started in a negro restaurant and spread rapidly. Included in the list of burned buildings was the city dispensary, a number of general merchandise stores, several of which were very handsome buildings, two meat markets and two restaurants.

Blocton is a widely scattered town, and Smithfield is the eastern portion, lying about three-quarters of a mile from the depot. It was practically a town within itself, although really a part of the town of Blocton. There is not a single business house left standing.

Switchman Killed in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—A. T. Roberts, a switchman employed on the Chattanooga Belt, was run over and killed while on duty.

New Railroad in Mississippi.

Laurel, Miss.—The governor has granted a charter to the Mississippi Southern railroad, a line which runs from Gulfport, through Laurel, to West Point, through the counties of Harrison, Green, Jones, Jasper, Scott, Leake, Attalla and Winston, occupying an almost entirely new territory.

Among the incorporators of the new road are Mayor T. H. Oden and M. Muhle, of this city.

SALVADOR ALLIES WITH HONDURAS

Joins Forces Against Nicaragua So Says Report.

TRINJOLO STORMED BY NAVY

Fighting Goes Seriously Against Honduras, Says Passengers at New Orleans—Gunboat LaTumble Mysteriously Missing.

Panama.—According to reliable information received here from Salvador, that country has allied itself openly with Honduras in the war with Nicaragua. On March 10 2,500 Salvadorean soldiers landed at Amapala and proceeded the next morning in the direction of Choluteca. This body of men came from San Miguel, in Hondunras, and under the command of Gen. Jose Dolores, president.

It is further reported that General Bonilla, president of Honduras, at the head of a body of troops, has started for Segovia, Nicaragua. In this movement he is supported by two detachments of Nicaraguan revolutionists commanded by Generals Chamorro and Chavarria. The government of Guatemala has refused a request made by Hondurean reveolutionists to be permitted to cross the frontier and invade Honduras.

Navy Storms City.

Washington, D. C.—A dispatch received by the state department from Philip R. Brown, secretary of the American mission to Honduras and Guatemala, and who is now at Tegucalgalpa, Honduras, announced that the rumor was in circulation that the city of Trupalo, Honduras, was being stormed by Nicaraguan vessels.

The United States gunboat Princeton has arrived at Corinto, Nicaragua, and the gunboat Paducah has arrived at Port Limon, Costa Rica. These two warships are to reinforce the Chicago and the Marietta, which are now looking after American interests threatened by the war in Central America. The collier Nero has also sailed from Guantonamo for Trujilli, Honduras, where it will supply fuel to the Marietta and the Paducah. Nicaraguan warships are supposed to be besieging Trujillo, but the sending of the Nero to that port was not brought about through these hostilities, Trujillo being the best harbor for coaling vessels.

BIG CAVE FOUND.

Hartselle, Ala.—Several caves or caverns of considerable magnitude have been discovered in this county recently. The one that deserves special mention has just come to light, and is situated just west of this place, near Flint creek, on the farm of Geo A. Vest. Although Mr. Vest has lived on his farm there for the past twenty years, he nor any of his family reared there had ever noticed it. The opening to the cave is near the summit of a hill, and is so small that it is with difficulty that a large man can let himself down through the rocks, one on either side, when a drop of six feet is made, and the observer finds himself in a huge underground mansion, with a concave top of rock, which is comparatively smooth. A short distance in it begins to widen and rooms begin to make off on either side, resembling very much the rooms in coal mines. The further in one goes the wider the cavern seems to get. In some places it is eighty feet wide, and all the while this top of rock is in such condition as toappear absolutely safe, and the passage was easy of ingress. From the overhead rock downward are beautiful glittering stalagmites, reaching from top to bottom, and one specimen was a facsimile of a Roman cross. Several persons from here have recently explored it to a distance of something like a mile, and have never reached the end yet. At an early date another exploring party will endeavor to traverse it from beginning to end.

There is another cave of this kind, nine miles east of this one mentioned, and the underground opening runs in precisely the same direction. In the latter one all along the route can be picked up fragments of rude pottery, Indian arrow points, etc. In the former one no trace of these have been found.

Inspect the Mississippi.

St. Louis, Mo.—The members of the Mississippi river commission departed for New Orleans on the steamer Mississippi to make their emi-annual inspection of the river en route. The party expects to reach New Orleans on March 25. The party is composed of Col. Clinton D. Sears, United States corps of engineers, president; J. A. Eckerson, Henry B. Richardson, of New Orleans; Homer P. Ritter, of Washington; Col. W. T. Russell, of Cincinnati; Major G. Warren, of Cincinnati, and Capt. G. R. Lukesh, secretary, of St. Louis.

Woman Superintendent of Education.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Hamilton county's next superintendent of education will be a woman, the appointment having been given to Miss Nita Cowart by R. L. Jones, who has become state superintendent.

The first daily newspaper appeared in 1702.

18 DROWN DURING WHEELING FIRE.

Water Surrounds Burning Pottery Plant.

HEROIC WORK OF FIREMEN.

Frightful Scenes as Helpless Thousands Hear Screams of Those in Adjacent Homes, Whose Panic Cost Their Lives.

Wheeling, W. Va.—Eighteen persons are known to have lost their lives in the fire that occurred here at the plant of the Warwick Pottery Company, which is located in the flooded district.

Because of the water surrounding the burned district it was impossible for the fire apparatus to reach the scene. The firemen pressed into service all the boats that could be secured and carried the lines of hose to the burning building by this means. They did heroic work, and not only fought the fire, but assisted in rescuing many persons.

The crew of a boat that was moored across from the building manned a yawl and rescued about 100 persons.

The men were offered all kinds of rewards and big sums of money for the work they had done, but they refused to accept.

At times the big yawl was filled to overflowing, and it was with difficulty that the rivermen prevented the frantic Syrians from upsetting the craft. During the progress of the fire the scene was most frightful. The screams for help of those in the buildings could be heard as far as the steel bridge, a mile north, where thousands of persons, unable to lend any assistance, watched the blaze.

The work of rescuing the bodies of those who were drowned has been going on all day. The current has been very swift, and the impression is that more bodies will be recovered when the flood subsides.

Had the drowned persons remained in their homes none of them would have met death. The buildings occupied by the unfortunate victims were not touched by the flames. The explosion that started the fire was what terrified the people living in the vicinity.

TRAIN WRECKERS.

Hot Springs-Memphis Flyer Runs Into Open Switch.

Little Rock, Ark.—Eastbound Rock Island passenger train No. 6, the Hot Springs-Memphis flyer, ran into an open switch and was wrecked at Cuneo, a loading switch station, 38 miles east of Little Rock. Engineer Killoyne and Fireman Currier, both of whom lived in Argentina, Ark., were killed, and two mail clerks, an express messenger, the porter (colored) and four negro dining car waiters were injured.

At the Rock Island general offices in this city, it is stated that an investigation of the track after the wreck disclosed that the wreck was without doubt the work of a train wrecker. It is stated that the switch was opened and was locked in that position when the passenger train ran into it.

University of Virginia Professors.

Charlottesville, Va.—The board of visitors of the University of Virginia have elected Stephen H. Watts, of Johns Hopkins University, professor of general forestry and director of the general hospital. Dr. Thomas D. Leonard Watson, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, professor of economic geology; Dr. Robert Montgomery Bird, of the University of Missouri, collegiate professor of chemistry, and Dr. Arthur E. Austin, of Boston, adjunct professor of physicological chemistry. The board accepted the resignation of Professor Francis H. Smith, of the chair of natural philosophy, which he has occupied for 57 years.

Postmasters' Salaries Raised.

Washington. — These postoffices have been advanced to the presidential classes, effective April 1. Salaries of postmasters will be as follows:

Columbiana, $1,000; Dora, $1,100; Marbury, $1,500.

Felix Tait appointed regular, Chas. E. Tait substitute rural carrier, route 1, at Camden.

Oliver Vice-President.

Washington.—William J. Oliver, of Knoxville, Tenn., whose bid for the construction of the Panama canal recently was rejected, has been elected vice-president of the United States Trust Company of this city, which was recently organized with a capital of $100,000. Daniel N. Morgan, formerly United States treasurer, is president.

Representative at The Hague.

Mexico City.—Finance Minister Jose y Limantour and Pablo Macedo na have been appointed as Mexican representatives of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, to succeed Gernaro Raigosa and Alfredo Chavero, deceased. The other Mexican members are Sub-Secretary of Foreign Affairs Jose Algara and Jose M. Gamboa, who acted in a similar capacity some years ago.

THE PULPIT

SUNDAY SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON THE FAMOUS DIVINE

Theme: A Christian. Why?

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme, "A Christian. Why?" the pastor, the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, took as his text Acts 26: 28, "A Christian." He said

This is the question that men who are outside of Christ ask. This is the inquiry that many of the best souls in the service of the Master find difficulty to answer in such fashion as to satisfy the intellects of those who do not enjoy the same spiritual blessings that they themselves possess in Jesus. This is the interrogation that we must be prepared to grant a sane and convincing reply if we are to be the workers in the vineyard of our Lord, that He desires us to be. We should be prepared at all times to undergo examination on this point. Always must we be ready to declare the reasons for and the reasonableness of the faith that is within us. And yet how many of us can, on the moment, give clear, concise, argumentatively upholdable grounds for our spiritual faith. The most of us fall back upon the assertion that we are Christians because we find in it the satisfaction of our minds, our hearts, our souls. For us this is sufficient. But the man who goes behind our satisfaction is oftentimes the man we meet and a man who always must be replied to with reasonable evidence and convicted out of the fullness of sensible, intellectually compelling truth. He asks what are the grounds of our satisfaction; what is the brand of the satisfaction that we find glory in; why, in short, are we at the root Christians?

A Christian. Why? And to answer that we must look within and without us; we must take counsel with our souls and with the countless souls of the universe of God; we must consider contemporaneous life and we must examine history; we must understand the spiritual and the moral elements in man; we must take cognizance, everywhere and in all time. It is not necessary that we shall be experts upon the minute details of the historic life of humanity. It is essential that we shall be correct in our judgments and that our premises shall be valid.

A Christian. Why? Now some men are Christians by heredity. They are so by birth. They have grown up in the arms of the church unquestioningly and have taken the religion, as they have taken the names, of their fathers and their mothers. Far be it from me to disparage that sort of religious life, if so be it be full and free and glorious to the soul of the man who is its divinely endowed possessor. Such a man is usually quite able to declare the grounds of his belief. But there are many hereditary Christians who can give no enduring reasons for their religious acceptances—I can hardly call them convictions any more than some men can reveal in intelligent fashion the reasons for their hereditary political affiliations. Some men are Christians because it is politic so to be; others because it is commercially or politically or otherwise profitable; and still a larger host I fear are the nominal disciples of the Nazarene because it is socially commendable and wise. Some men are Christians because the Bible commands such a religious course upon those who read its precious words. Better that sort of reason and that kind of Christianity than none at all. Many other men are intellectual Christians. They yield homage to the historic Christ; of the vital and invigorating Savior who fills the souls of men to-day with blessedness and joy and beauty, power, peace, they have no conception. They know much concerning Christ, but of Him they are as ignorant as the Hottentot is of the laws of the Medes and Persians. And all these men cannot lead men of intellectual and discerning force into the very presence of the Most High as He stands revealed to us to-day in Jesus Christ until they are indwelt by Jesus and are certified in their own lives by radical evidence, rather than by superficial, of the deepest and the holiest influences that make the Christian life joyous and that commend it to the world at large.

A Christian. Why? To speak broadly we may say that all men are instinctively religious. Whatever we may have been before the dawn of history, the truth outstandingly is this, that normal men everywhere are essentially religious. Men are not equally advanced in religious information or in the several departments of religious thought. But irresistably and indubitably we are impressed with the fact that universally men are endowed with a common elemental religious capacity and susceptibility. Throughout all the world we find humanity exhibiting a religious instinct which reveals itself in the consciousness of a spiritual relationship with a higher power and in obedience to certain moral regulations that are conceived to be beneficial to society and to the individual in his human relationships, and satisfactory to the higher agency that controls the world. Everywhere men, in the outreaching of their spiritual faculties, desire the intimate knowledge of an understandable power, which we call God. They desire to know the truth concerning that God. They desire that the universal ruler of the destinies of men shall unfold to them the wisdom residing in Himself. They yearn with eagerness and with hope unspeakable for a release from the bondage and the dominion of sin—that is to say, from the control and influence of a detrimental force which, whether it be understood and expressed in the terms of objective or of subjective experience, is, none the less, real. Hand in hand with the spiritual consciousness there goes an elemental, a growing, perception of the actuality, the necessity and the value of moral law as the applied truth of a self-unfolding God; a moral law which in its fullest [illegible] mark as tangible and [illegible] of the spiritual energies [illegible] life of man, a moral law which, short, shall prove a panacea [illegible] dividual and social ills.

We are Christians. Why? [illegible] because in the face of [illegible] sity and human experience [illegible] face of the universal religious [illegible] in the face of our own [illegible] formation, we believe and [illegible] we can demonstrate beyond [illegible] venture, that in Christianity [illegible] to be found both the deepest [illegible] fullest and the richest [illegible] and the highest and purest [illegible] moral law.

We are Christians because [illegible] kingdom of God as [illegible] in Jesus Christ we [illegible] and have entered into the [illegible] of a sensible, communion [illegible] higher power which, as [illegible] infinite, humanly [illegible] loving personality, is revealed [illegible] fectively to us in the person [illegible] Master. And this personality [illegible] we call God, strengthens [illegible] comforts, consoles, inspires [illegible] is constantly, both objectively [illegible] spiritually, revealing Himself.

We are Christians because [illegible] and His Gospel we find the [illegible] of divine truth unfolded [illegible] and revealed in convincing [illegible] a human life. Human wisdom [illegible] not comprehend larger [illegible] righteousness and loftier [illegible] conceptions than are delivered [illegible] in the messages of Jesus [illegible] glander application of the [illegible] of those truths for the [illegible] character and the influencing [illegible] man life than is to be [illegible] Christ.

We are Christians because [illegible] that faith is to be found [illegible] from the dominion of sin [illegible] more efficient and far more [illegible] any to be found elsewhere [illegible] is indeed the answer of the [illegible] hope and of the world-wide [illegible] Him the soul of the individual [illegible] of society, finds final rest [illegible] the power of the adversary [illegible] vation is free; it is universal [illegible] appeal; it is simple as to [illegible] tions, it requires no education [illegible] schools in order to be understood [illegible] is potent in this life and [illegible] out into eternity, granting [illegible] sin-sick, weary, burdened [illegible] men the precious promise of [illegible] final but also lasting [illegible] from the prince of the [illegible] darkness.

We are Christians because [illegible] faith that finds its name and [illegible] spiration in Jesus Christ [illegible] ceptacle of the highest [illegible] Within the treasury of [illegible] truth is to be found the last [illegible] the application of the principles [illegible] the eternal dominion of [illegible] the affairs of humanity in [illegible] tifarious relationships [illegible] world there is no gospel [illegible] far-reaching and so many-sided [illegible] inclusive and so searching [illegible] cerns itself with human [illegible] is the Gospel of the Savior [illegible] rightly accepted and properly [illegible] stood. Emanating as it [illegible] God and theocentric as it [illegible] it satisfies our hearts and [illegible] firm in the Christian faith [illegible] recognize the handiwork of [illegible] find in it the final solution [illegible] nacea for the dissolution of [illegible] man ills. Uncompromising [illegible] and declaring constantly for [illegible] the righteous and the [illegible] spires our devotion.

Greatest and best of all [illegible] Christians because all that [illegible] received, all that we are [illegible] makes us strong and steadfast [illegible] when we test it in our [illegible] experience, found to be [illegible] The Gospel whereby we [illegible] the Christ who is our Redeemer [illegible] promises which daily are [illegible] to us by our Lord: all that [illegible] taken not without investigation [illegible] upon hearsay evidence. We [illegible] the revelations of God for [illegible] We have tried them. We [illegible] fore, Christians.

Appreciation.

Recently a wealthy man [illegible] gave a dinner for fifteen [illegible] the cost was sixty dollars [illegible] With a few extras it cost [illegible] $1000. On his way [illegible] marked to a neighbor: "Now [illegible] fellows appreciated it, and [illegible] ing home mad at myself [illegible] ishness." A man gathered [illegible] boys together and treated [illegible] cream. As they left the [illegible] er's, they raised their caps [illegible] him a "hurrah" that [illegible] blocks away. He went [illegible] His one dollar had done [illegible] the other's thousand.

The Father of [illegible]

Someone has caught the [illegible] message from the trees [illegible] As the natural sun does [illegible] for a few trees and flowers [illegible] the whole world, so the Son [illegible] cousness shines not for a [illegible] but for the world of humanity [illegible] As the lonely pine on the [illegible] side looks up to the sun [illegible] "Thou art my sun," and [illegible] meadow violet looks up and [illegible] 'Thou art my sun," and [illegible] of grass and grain upon [illegible] hills looks up and [illegible] 'Thou art my sun," so [illegible] low, the rich and poor, the [illegible] and African can look up [illegible] of Righteousness and say [illegible] my Father."

Under His Wings.

Little thought is ever [illegible] prevision and devotion of [illegible] bird as necessary to the [illegible] her young, and little thought [illegible] of the tremulous affection [illegible] the Holy Spirit broods over [illegible] souls as necessary to [illegible] eration. "How excellent [illegible] ing kindness, O God!" [illegible] shadow of Thy wings [illegible] ever have come by [illegible] lity spiritual and eternal.

FIRES AND FLOOD AT WHEELING

Police Rescue Hundreds in Skiffs—Lives Lost—Property Damage Estimated at $400,000.

Wheeling, W. Va.—Fires added their horror to the distress of flood in the Wheeling district causing a loss of a quarter million dollars. At Bridgeport, opposite Wheeling, lime in water set fire to the extensive plant of the Scott Lumber Company, which was completely destroyed, involving a loss of $100,000. The fire spread to a number of nearby houses, which were destroyed, and the total loss is about $150,000.

For a time it was feared that the fire would spread to the principal business section of the town, and owing to the flood, the flames could not be fought at all. At midnight an explosion of gas at the Warwick pottery in South Wheeling destroyed the greater part of the plant, and threatened many houses in the vicinity occupied mostly by Syrians.

The police rescued a hundred or more persons from their homes in skiffs, but three little Syrian children were lost. The loss will be over $400,000.

It is reported that W. G. Claylor, fire chief, was drowned. When the police began to rescue the foreigners from the inundated buildings many people jumped from buildings into overloaded skiffs, which capsized. Several persons are thought to have drowned.

Dynamite Explosion.

Cincinnati, O.—An explosion of 250 pounds of dynamite on the site of the new city hospital in the resident district of Avondale occurred here. Windows were broken for many squares. It is impossible yet to learn any details, nor is it known if there were any fatalities.

Foraker's Pictures.

Washington, D. C.—From Cincinnati there has come an interesting bit of information that would seem to indicate that Senator Foraker is getting ready for the presidential campaign. It is reported that the Ohio senator has contracted with a lithographic firm for $2,000 worth of pictures and well-known cartoons of himself.

Postal Operators on Strike.

New Orleans, La.—About sixty-two operators in the employ of the Postal Telegraph Company here have walked out. The men say it was recently announced that there would be a general increase in wages of 10 per cent, and when the increase came it only applied to the regular men. The extra men then walked out, and the regular men went with them.

Police Kill Strikers.

Nantes, France.—Police fired on riotous strikers during a street fight killing two persons.

$1,000,000 Fire in London.

London.—The most disastrous fire in recent years, resulting in a loss of a million dollars, started in a lumber yard and spread to the manufacturing district. Over 350 firemen fought the flames.

Facts About Lead Pencils

By KATHERINE B. CALHOUN.

It is difficult to determine the exact period in which "black lead" was first utilized as an instrument for writing or drawing, as it has been confused with other mineral bodies to which it bears no relation. The ancients used lead, but the metal was formed into flat plates, and the edges of these plates used to make the mark. If an ornamental design was desired, the transcriber drew parallel lines, and traced their illuminated designs, usually with a hard point, but also with soft lead. That lead was known to the ancients is also proven by the fact that it is mentioned in the Book of Job.

During the year 1615 there was a description of the black lead pencil written by Conrad Gesner. He says that pieces of lumbago were fastened in a wooden handle and a mixture of fossil substance, sometimes covered with wood, was used for writing and drawing. About half a century later a very good account of this mineral was given, and it was then used in Italy for drawing and mixed with clay for manufacturing crucibles. We are informed in Beckman's "History of Inventions" that the pencils first used in Italy for drawing were composed of a mixture of lead and tin, nothing more than pewter. This pencil was called a stile. Michael Angelo mentions this stile, and in fact it seems that such pencils were long used in common over the whole continent of Europe. At this period the name plumbago or graphite was not in use, but instead the name molybdena or molybdoids, which is now applied to an entirely different mineral.

Graphite or black lead is formed in the primary rocks. In the United States it occurs in felspar and quartz, in Great Britain in greenstone rock and gneiss, and in Norway in quartz. The mine at Borrowdale, England, has supplied some of the finest black lead in the world, but the quantity varies, owing to the irregularity with which the mineral occurs.

The Jews were for a while the only manufacturers of pencils. It required great skill to perfect the manufacture, according to the degree of hardness or softness required. Of recent years the manufacture of pencils has increased to such an extent that the price of these articles has decreased proportionately. Graphite and pure clay are combined and used in the manufacture of artificial black lead pencils, and on the other hand the greatest perfection is attained in the making of the higher class pencils. Graphite is exposed to heat to acquire firmness and brilliancy of color. Sulphur is also used to secure a more perfect color.—Scientific American.

Rough Material.

"You are building a good wall there," said a passer-by, stopping to look at a workman by the roadside. "Some of your material looks rather poor to work with, too," and he glanced at a pile of rough, jagged stones.

"I ain't pickin' my materials," the man answered, simply. "What I'm here for is to build as good a wall as I can with the stuff that's brought me."

The same is true with the life we are building. We can seldom choose our material. Circumstances we cannot control bring us this happening or that, bring disappointment instead of the joy we looked for, weakness instead of the strength with which we meant to do so much. Many a rough and unexpected thing befalls, many an occurrence which we not only did not desire, but against which we cry out in bitter protest. Still it comes to us—material that some way, for good or ill, must find its place in our building.

We cannot choose our material, but we can choose what we will do with it and what it shall do for us—whether it shall weaken or strengthen the character we are forming.—Wellspring.

Cost of Living in Alaska.

"Living in the coast towns of Alaska is just about as expensive as it is in Washington, not any more, but in Nome or Fairbanks it is about double," said Governor H. P. Haggart, of Alaska. "It does not pay to truck extensively, but the ordinary vegetables are grown there in the summer for domestic use, and families manage to live as comfortably as in many of the States. Alaska is about twelve times as big as Pennsylvania, and many times larger than Texas, and we have only about 30,000 inhabitants, but last year the 30,000 inhabitants produced $30,000,000, or about $1000 for every man, woman or child. Can any State in the Union beat that?"—Washington Post.

The Plea of Tears.

A country lawyer of Kentucky of a very emotional character undertook the defense of an automobilist who had the misfortune to run over an old man near Lexington.

The case looked bad for his client, but the lawyer worked himself into a state of pathos in a tedious appeal for acquittal, and shed tears freely.

"What is Bill Sawyer crying about?" asked a new-comer of a friend.

"Crying? Why, he's crying because the case is so bad that he has no other way of pleading."

Force of Habit.

A Routt County Irishman, who is a great dog fancier, was shown twin babies by a proud father the other day. The Irishman looked them over and then, pointing to one, said: "Well, Tom, I believe I'll keep that one."—Denver Post.

Household Matters

To Make a Couch Rug.

A strikingly handsome couch rug may be made from red denim in wide stripes, the light and dark sides being used alternately. The stripes may be embroidered in heavy mercerized yarn, in black, sparingly outlined in gold. The design may be patterned from a Bagdad rug.

Artistic Pottery.

Newcombe pottery holds its own among the most artistic of the domestic potteries. At a recent craftsman exhibit in New York eighteen pieces of this delightful stuff were on view, all in nature forms, charmingly and artistically outlined, and indented with the depth, characteristic of Newcombe. Lilies and leaves, long grasses and other flower effects most effectively decorated the smaller pieces, plates, jugs and teapots, while a large jug, on which long lily leaves were gracefully entwined, was one of the masterpieces.

Gold Decorated China.

If china is decorated with gold it should never be washed with soap, as it has a dulling effect and after a time causes the gilt to rub off. Hot water does no harm. It is better soft, and, if no rain water be handy, it is an easy matter to boil it well, then reduce it to the proper temperature. The softer the drying cloth the better. Use it the moment the articles are out of the water. To rinse in cold water is to retard the drying. Besides, many cracks in china are due to the sudden plunge from hot to cold water.

To Clean Kitchen Walls.

To clean kitchen walls, first pour some kerosene in a basin, then take a soft cloth and dip it in the kerosene and wash a part of the wall with it, then wring another cloth out of nice hot water and go over the spot just cleaned with kerosene, and lastly wipe with clean, dry cloth. You will be surprised at the results. It is the easiest and most satisfactory way of washing painted kitchen or bathroom walls. Ask your grocer for bean bags for which he will charge you five cents each. Cut down both sides and across closed ends, hem all around and you will have two good towels, suitable for all kitchen purposes.

Fitting Up a Bathroom.

Ordinary papers are not at all appropriate in bathrooms, and it is better if the prepared papers are varnished again after they are put on. If we cannot have the materials for floors that we like, what we have must be made non-absorbent. Softwood floors should be covered with linoleum. Designs are now made reproducing tile and mosaic effects in blue and white, black and white, etc. They are very attractive and frequently hardly distinguishable from the real tiles. A hardwood floor should be oiled, shellacked or waxed after all the cracks have been carefully filled, and the treatment should be repeated very frequently. Old hardwood floors are often painted with white enamel paint. Daintily colored walls, a white standing finish, porcelain or enamel fittings, and nickel-plated fixtures make these rooms almost as attractive as those with the white tile floors and wainscot.—Harper's Bazar.

Apple Whip—Chop canned apples very small, or, better still, if you have canned apple sauce, use that. Rub through a colander. Beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff meringue, and add gradually to this a pint of the minced apples, adding, also, a dash of lemon juice and a little sugar, if needed. Line a glass bowl with lady-fingers and fill the bowl with this mixture. When serving, put a great spoonful of cream on each portion.

Chocolate Wafers—Beat one cup of pulverized sugar with the yolks of six eggs until very light, add the juice of one lemon and beat for five minutes. Have ready four tablespoons of grated chocolate mixed with two tablespoons of flour, one teaspoon of ground cinnamon and one of baking powder; add this to the egg mixture, then fold in the whipped whites of the eggs. Bake in two thin sheets. Put together as soon as taken from the oven with white icing. When quite cold cut into small squares or oblongs.

Griddle Cakes—Rub six ounces of good dripping into a pound of flour, and two teaspoonfuls of good baking powder, and mix thoroughly. Work into this half a pound of dried currants, add a pinch of salt, a grating of nutmeg, and make up into a light dough with milk. Boil out on a floured board, stamp into rounds with the edge of a small teacup, bake for fifteen minutes either on a griddle or in the oven. Some cooks add a little sugar to the above ingredients, but the general preference is for the unsweetened crisp little cake produced by the above method.

Beef Timbales—Trim the fat and gristle from cold meat, and put through a meat chopper. To one pint of meat add one teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Put into a saucepan one-half cupful of stock, two tablespoonfuls of bread-crumbs and one tablespoonful of butter; beat together over a slow fire and add the meat. When hot, take from fire and stir in carefully two eggs, well beaten. Put the mixture into buttered custard or timbale cups, place them in a pan half filled with hot water and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven.

SINKING INDIANA LAND.

Railroads Have Hard Work Preserving Grade in Mysterious Region.

A report has been received in Chicago that a constantly sinking depression 1000 feet wide running north and south through Lake County, Indiana, which already cost three railway companies thousands of dollars, has begun to droop worse than ever.

The latest downward movement of this mysterious sinkhole was observed early in the week by employes of the Erie Railroad at the point where that line crosses the strip. Hundreds of thousands of tons of gravel and earth have been dumped in the crevice, which continues for a distance of twenty feet on each side of the track, but the depression is now lower than ever, and the engineering department of the road is baffled.

The sinking of the earth at this point is an annual event, and has occurred about this time of year since the first railroad line pierced the region twenty-five years ago. It is believed that some subterranean cataclysm takes place in December which weakens the crust and causes it to sink under the weight of the heavy steam traffic. So serious is the condition that trains are compelled to slow down in passing over it.

The Panhandle and Indiana Harbor railroads also have suffered from this "bottomless pit," the influence of which apparently reaches about fifteen miles north and south. It was stated by an official of the Indiana Harbor line to-day that since they have erected a fifteen-foot embankment across the strip the tracks have not sunk, although depressions are noticed in the low land surrounding for a distance of 1000 feet.

The strip begins about eight miles east of Lake Michigan at the termination of the watershed and the northern limits of a region of low swamp land. The first evidences of unstable soil are to be seen at a spot twelve miles east of Hammond, Ind., and eight miles west of Crown Point.

It apparently is a product of "modern civilization," for prior to the advent of the railroad in that region twenty-five years ago traffic on the wagon roads was not heavy enough to break through the crust.

It is hinted among old residents in the neighborhood about Hammond that the Pottawatomie Indians, who lived in that region as late as the '30s, circulated an ancient legend that somewhere in the swamplands there was an entrance to the centre of the earth. The old Indian trail, which ran from the site of Michigan City to Chicago, narrowly avoided—possibly by desire—the northern limit of the "shaky" strip which has become so troublesome to the railroads.—Chicago Daily News.

Long Distance Jane.

An old farmer was skeptical as to whether people who were miles apart could really talk to each other over a telephone wire.

One day his wife went to make a visit to a distant friend who had a telephone in her house. During the afternoon the farmer visited a near neighbor, who also boasted a house telephone and persuaded the farmer to call up his wife as a little surprise.

Following instructions he put the receiver to his ear, and, after the usual preliminaries he shouted:

"Hello, Jane!"

Just then a flash of lightning caused by the heat of the summer day struck the wire and he fell sprawling to the floor. The neighbor was chagrined that the old man should meet with such an accident on his first trial of a telephone, and assured him that such a thing would not happen except in case of storms. But the farmer was convinced of the possibilities of communication, however, and would not try again. He rose to his feet, and shaking his head knowingly, said:

"It's wonderful; that was Jane, all right."

How Long Should One Sleep?

This is a question which can only be answered generally, says the editor of the People's Friend. No hard and fast rule can be laid down—indeed, every man must be a rule to himself. One thing is clear, that nature intends every one to sleep until the effects of waking are dissipated, and until bodily energy is renovated. In childhood, when the constructive processes of growth involve a large expenditure of energy, sleep is long and profound; in youth much sleep is still needed; in middle age, when decay and repair alone require to be balanced, less sleep is required; in old age, when repair is slightly and imperfectly effected, more sleep is desirable. The duration of sleep is also largely influenced by sex, temperament, occupation, season, climate, etc. The true grade is the recuperation of the energies. This is indicated by a feeling of well-being on awakening.

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall;
All the king's horses and all the king's men
Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again.

There he lay, stretched out on the ground,
While all the company gathered around;
When, valiantly stifling his tears and his groans,
He sadly addressed them in quavering tones.

CONUNDRUMS.

Why is a crow a brave bird? Because he never shows the white feather.

What did Adam first plant in the Garden of Eden? His foot.

Why is a stick of candy like a race horse? Because the more you lick it the faster it goes.

What kind of a robbery is not dangerous? A safe robbery.

Why does a dressmaker never loose her hooks? Because she has an eye on each of them.

What is that which the more you take from it the larger it grows? A hole.

Why is the letter D like a sailor? Because it follows the sea (C).

When is a clock on the stairs dangerous? When it runs down.

Why is a bald-headed man like a hunting-dog? He makes a little hair (hare) go a great way.

Why is the letter i like the snort of a horse? Because it makes a noise out of a nose.

What similarity is there between a nose and a violin? They each have a bridge.

Where should a captain of a packet ship keep his poultry? In the hatchway.

Why is a funny hoax like a species of antelope? Because it is a gaysell (gazelle).

Why is the man who beats his wife like a thoroughbred animal? Because he is a perfect brute.

Why are soldiers apt to be tired in the month of April? Because they've just gone through a March.

Why is a darkey with "no hair on the top of his head" like a rejected candidate for a club? Because he is a black bald individual.

Why is a lady who has bought a sable cape at half price like an officer absent on leave? Because she's got her fur low.

Why is the letter o the most charitable letter? Because it is found oftener than other in "doing good."

What is the difference between perseverance and obstinancy? One is a strong will and the other is a strong won't.

On what key does a boy pitch his crying. The key of A minor.

What did Maud Muller say to her babe when it cried for a baked bean? "It might have been" (bean).

Whose airs does a frequently repulsed mosquito sing? Those of Offenbach (often back).

When a man loses a fine horse, what does he next procure? A courser (coarser).

Why is a heifer not so high as a cow? Because it is a little lower.

Why do the conundrums of the autocrat of the breakfast-table wear well? Because they are made of Holmes-pun (homespun) material.

When the day breaks, does it break into small pieces? Yes; into minute particles.

What are the best drops for loss of appetite? Drop a meal or two.

Why is it an imposture for a monkey to beg pennies? Because he is four-handed (fore-handed).

What is the difference between the man that opens the mails and a minister who is being ordained? One is postmaster and the other most pastor.

Where shall a farmer send his son who has imperfectly hoed two gardens? To Rehoboth (re-hoe-both).—Good Literature.

WHEN A DOG WENT TO CHURCH.

"Willie was asleep and Dan was lonely," says Our Little Ones. "Willie is the minister's son, Dan is his dog. It was Sunday morning and every one was at church but these two friends. It was warm and sunny, and they could hear the good preaching, for their house was next door to the church.

"'Dan,' said Willie, 'it is better here than in church, for you can hear every word, and don't get prickles down your back, as you do when you have to sit up straight.'

"In some way, while Willie was listening he fell asleep. Dan kissed him on the nose, but when Willie went to sleep he went to sleep to stay, and did not mind trifles. So Dan sat down with the funniest look of care on his wise, black face, and with one ear ready for outside noises.

"Now, the minister had for his subject Daniel. This was the name he always gave Dan when he was teaching him to sit up and beg, and other tricks. While the dog sat thinking, the name Daniel fell on his ready ear. Dan at once ran into the church through the vestry door. He stood on his hind legs, with his fore paws drooping close beside the minister, who did not see him, but the congregation did. When the minister shouted 'Daniel' again, the sharp barks said, 'Yes, sir,' as plainly as Dan could answer.

"The minister started back, looked around, and saw the funny little picture; then he wondered what he should do next, but just then through the vestry came Willie. His face was rosy from sleep, and he looked a little frightened. He walked straight toward his father and took Dan in his arms, and said

"'Please 'scuse Dan, papa. I went asleep and he runned away.'

"Then he walked out with Dan, looking back on the smiling congregation. The preacher ended his sermon on Daniel as best he could, but then he made a resolve if he ever preached again on the prophet Daniel he would remember to tie up his dog."

THE MOOSE HUNTER.

The moose-calling hunter is one who, with a birch-bark trumpet, imitates the bellow of the cow moose and tempts the bull forth into plain view for an easy shot.

Though the least sportsmanlike, it is the most effectual way of getting bull moose. Fortunately for them, it can be practiced only for a fortnight or so at the beginning of the season, and in exactly the right weather and surroundings.

Dead calm is essential. If there be wind from the moose to you he cannot hear you call, if it be from you to the moose he smells you and flies to far regions. In a calm the call can be heard for miles, so far, indeed, that even if the moose came directly and quickly he might be an hour or more in getting to your stand. I once called from a hill at sunset and learned later that my friends four miles away heard me distinctly, and, therefore, a moose with his keen hearing might have heard it five or six miles off.

The experienced hunter begins very low, as there is always a possibility of a bull lurking in some near thicket, and calls not more than once in ten minutes—some think every twenty minutes often enough. It is probably too fast once the response has come. The bull's answer is a deep, low grunt, varied by the snapping of branches as he plunges forward through the woods, but stopping at times to thrash some bush in his course.

It is indeed one of the most impressive sights in the animal world when at length in the last dim afterglow the much-heralded monster heaves his bulk into view, overtopping the shrubbery like an elephant, looming huge and black against the last streak of red light. No matter how much we may be expecting it, the coming is always a thrilling surprise. We knew how big he was, yet how startlingly huge he looks, and those heavy antlers, a heavy burden for a man, he switches about as an Indian does the eagle feathers in his hair.—Ernest Thompson Seton, in Scribner's.

WHITEFOOT.

Last spring little Whitefoot made her home in the thicket close to the brook. She found a deserted bird's nest and roofed it over with dried grass, lining the inside with milkweed down. What a snug home this was for herself and her five babies! Soon as the children were old enough, she took them on short trips through the meadow, and showed them how to make neat little cupboards under flat stones, where they could store away beechnuts and other food. When the snow comes Whitefoot will tunnel under it to visit her friends. The deeper the snow the safer she is from her enemies.

When it is very deep, she says, "What a fine winter we are having!"—Margaret W. Leighton, in Holiday Magazine.

A Tremendous Leap.

If, as is reported, a Norwegian athlete has succeeded in leaping the enormous distance of 130 feet on his snowshoes, his prospect of winning the championship at the forthcoming Hoprend at Holmenkollen, near Christiania, ought to be indeed rosy. It is not many years since a leap of seventy feet from a platform two-thirds of the way down the steep snow slope which forms the track at Holmenkollen was considered marvellous. To-day a comparative tyro can afford to smile at such a feeble effort.—Westminster Gazette.

Vegetarianism.

Apostles of vegetarianism have rarely invaded Italy, and then with but scant success. Among us they have stirred little enthusiasm and much skepticism. Nearly all of us have continued on our way eating flesh to the greater glory of nature. And now the rigorous tests made by the German physiologist Caspari, which have just proved so potently disastrous to vegetarian theories, make it less likely than ever that these among us who think will resort to a diet of roots and raisins.—Secolo of Milan.

SERIOUS, YET FUNNY

UNCONSCIOUS HUMOR THAT HELPS TO PUT SPICE IN LIFE.

Some Examples of Delightful Incongruities in Speaking, Writing and Painting That Appeal Strongly to the Sense of the Ridiculous.

Nothing has added more to the merriment of the world than the unintentional, unconscious humor of writers public speakers and, in fact, all classes and conditions of men and women. And there is none so delightful. It far exceeds in mirth provoking quality the cold blooded humor of the professional wits.

We Americans are a fun loving people, and we must and will have our jollity. Some one has said with certain truth: "With all our vanity, energy and unrest, we are not a dull, cheerless people. Sour faced fellows, yellow and dyspeptic, are to be met with in our cars and on our streets, but they are not the type of the American, for he is as ready for a laugh as for a speculation, as fond of a joke as an office."

And the joke is all the more enjoyable when it is spontaneous. The greater the stress and strain of life the greater the need and demand for humor, and no one deprecates the value of humor excepting those who have none of this good gift to their portion.

"Sunset" Cox, one of the wittiest men of his day, says in his book, "Why We Laugh:" "Eliminate from the literature and conduct of any one people the amusing and the amused faculty, and you produce a sterility as dull and uninteresting as the cinders and ashes of the volcanic fields of Iceland. But include the amusing element within the experience and history of mankind, and no description of luxuriance, with grape, olive, nectarine and orange, such as makes the vales of Portugal a perennial smile, is adequate to emphasize the contrast."

One could not well instance a more amusing blunder than that in a painting of the "Blessed Virgin" in an old church in Spain. In this painting the Virgin is represented as sitting on a red velvet sofa fondling a cat with one hand, while with the other she is pouring coffee from a silver coffeepot.

This is as amusing as a painting in a German church representing the sacrifice of Isaac by Abraham. In this painting Abraham is about to discharge a huge pistol at Isaac when an angel descends and pours a pitcher of water on the pan of the pistol, thereby saving Isaac.

The writer once saw a crude painting of King Herod with a pair of spectacles painted on his nose. There is a very old painting of St. Peter denying the Saviour, and several of the Roman soldiers in the background have pipes in their mouths.

Those who are on the lookout for them will find many amusing blunders in the daily papers and in periodicals of all kinds. It was but the other day that the writer saw Miss Fanny Crosby referred to in a religious paper as the "author of so many blind poems." And it was a great metropolitan daily that one morning gave its readers the following information regarding the wrecking of a ship the night before: "The captain swam ashore and succeeded in saving the life of his wife. She was insured in the Northern Marine Insurance company and carried a cargo of cement."

Equally amusing as an instance of unconscious humor was the statement made by another paper regarding the capsizing of a boat at sea. It said that "but one life was lost, and that was found afterward."

He must be sadly deficient in humor who does not find himself amused by a sign like the following seen in the window of a shoemaker: "Any respectable man, woman or child can have a fit in this shop." It was an enterprising furrier who placed a card in his window stating that for the benefit of the ladies he would make "muffs, boas, etc., out of their own skins."

A prolific source of amusement to manuscript readers is the surprising way in which aspirants for literary honor and glory often "put things." We find one young woman saying of her heroine: "The countess fell back in a deadly swoon. When she revived her spirit had fled."

Another young writer places her heroine in a very perilous situation and then says of her. "Her lips quivered; her cheeks grew pale; her breath came in short pants."

A third writer gives this amusing description of the appearance of some one she referred to as "the bell of the ball:" "She was clad in some soft, clinging, fleecy, vapory stuff of purest white that gave the appearance of a bit of detached cloud floating in the sky. She wore no ornament with the exception of several bits of rare bric-a-brac gathered in a foreign clime."

A charming bit of purely unconscious humor was that noticed by some visitors to a great English coal mine. At the mouth of the great central shaft hundreds of feet deep was a placard bearing these words:

"Please do not fumble down the shaft."—Detroit Free Press.

THE STAR MIRA.

A Sun of Great Size That Is Struggling For Existence.

For the greater part of the time the variable Mira, which has been known to astronomers for 300 years, is altogether unnoticeable and indeed invisible, except with telescopes. It once disappeared entirely for a period of four years, but afterward attained extraordinary splendor, only to fade again to invisibility. It is a sun of great size, brighter than our sun when it shines at its brightest, but some trouble, some solar disease, seems to be sapping its vitality, and it resembles a patient almost at the last gasp. Once in about 331 days—but the period is irregular—it has a sudden accession of energy and flares up for a little while with several hundredfold brilliancy only to sink back into a dull red point that nearly escapes the ken of the telescope. One interesting explanation that has been suggested is that the surface of Mira periodically bursts into a vast flame of burning hydrogen, so great and powerful that it is visible across millions of millions of miles of space. It is a star for the imagination of a Dante, yet there is reason to believe that the time is coming when every star in the sky, not excepting the sun, will have to confront a similar struggle for existence, just as every mortal being must some time see death.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

What He Wanted.

"How will you have your hair cut, sir?" said the talkative barber to the victim in the chair.

"Minus conversational prolixity," replied the patient.

"How's that, sir?"

"With abbreviated or totally eliminated narrations."

"What?"

"Without effervescent verbosity. Let even diminutive colloquy be conspicuous by its absence."

The barber scratched his head thoughtfully a second and then went over to the proprietor of the shop and whispered, "I don't know whether that man in my chair is mad or a foreigner, but I can't find out what he wants."

The victim had to explain that he wanted the job done in silence.

A Line on Her Age.

"Oh!" gasped the beautiful woman as she fell back, clutching at her heart, and permitting the telegram to flutter to the floor.

Her fashionable guests rushed forward, crying:

"What is it? Has your husband met with an accident?"

"No, no," she moaned. "It is from my son-in-law. I am a grandmother!"

"In 1897 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said Dyspepsia, others Consumption. One said I would not live until Spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda biscuits and doctors' prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate; then I picked up one of your almanacs and it happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty-cent bottle of KODOL and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper."—C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., 1906. The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by Kodol for Dyspepsia. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug co.

Character.

How important that everyone should build up for themselves a good character. No matter how poor one is, if they are thoughtful, honest, sober, industrious and virtuous, they are possessed of true riches more valuable than silver and gold. Such a one may be in hard circumstances, but it is as some one has said, you cannot keep down a capable, worthy man. Sooner or later the world recognizes his worth and his advancement is sure to follow.

I know men who ate the bread of poverty in childhood and youth, men who had a hard struggle to gain good paying positions, yet those same men today have good jobs and have no difficulty in holding them. Why? Because they are persevering, faithful and honest. When they say they will do things, they put forth every effort to give satisfaction. In other words they are reliable. How amazing it is to deal with people who promise one thing and do another, or if they comply with their word, do so long after our patience has been exhausted. How miserable it makes us feel to know we must match some people lest we fall victims to their wrong doing. Young persons should be careful to avoid the bad, and be sure to form in early life those traits of character which mean so much for their welfare and will open to them the gateway to the higher walks of life.

State Sunday School Convention.

The twenty-fourth annual Convention of the Alabama Sunday School Association will be held in the city of Birmingham, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 9, 10, 11 next. The basis of representation is as follows: All officers of the State Association, five delegates at large from each county, all ministers of the gospel, the superintendent and two other delegates from each Sunday school.

The railroads have granted a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip to delegates attending the Convention. The delegates will be entertained by the Sunday school workers of Birmingham.

For further information about the State Convention write to Joseph Carthel, General Secretary, Montgomery, Alabama, or to S. D. Monroe, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, 2021 ½, first ave., Birmingham.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO CONVENTION.

A special Sunday train will run on April 8th from Selma to Birmingham in the daytime to carry the delegates of the Sunday schools of west Chilton to the State Sunday School Convention in Birmingham. April 9, 10, 11. Fare for round trip is one way plus 25¢. Let the Sunday schools to whom this route is preferable send me the names of the delegates—two from each Sunday school—right away so I will know how many to report to the railroad officials.

A Contrary Thing.

If ever there was anything in the world that went by contraries, it is the Chinese flag. It will be recalled that it is one of the gayest of national standards. The body of the banner is of a pale yellow. In the upper left hand corner is a small red sun, and looking at it is a fierce Chinese dragon. About 1,000 years ago, so the story runs, the Chinese made war upon the Japanese. They prepared for a great invasion. As a prophecy of victory they adopted a standard which is that of the present time. They took the sun of Japan and made it very small. This they put in front of the dragon's mouth to express the idea that the Chinese dragon would devour the Japanese. It happened, however, that the Chinese fleet, conveying an army of 100,000 men, was wrecked on its way to Japan by a great storm, and all but three of the 100,000 perished. The result of recent events has not been any more convincing than the first affair that the Chinese flag has been correctly conceived.

Letter to Jno. A. Thomas
Clanton, Ala.

Dear Si: You may like to know what you pay for the paint in a gallon of "paint," assuming the pure-paint part of all "paints" to be all alike; which it isn't; and worth $1.75 a gallon.

Of a paint adulterated 10 per cent, the pure paint part brings $1 94 a gallon.

15 per cent brings	$2 06 a gallon
25	" 2 33	"
33⅓	" 2 62	"
50	" 3.50	"
75	" 7.00	"

The average adulteration of paint in this country is about one third; so, you see, the average price the American people are paying for paint is about $2 62 a gallon.

It is a game of wits. Adulterators are always too sharp for the bulk of consumers. People won't pay $1 75 a gallon for paint. So they pay $2.62 a gallon for paint and something that looks like paint mixed with it. (They pay the painter, besides, from $2 to $4 or painting those useless gallons.)

Why do they do it? They don't know Devoe.

Yours truly

GIVEN UP TO DIE

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you? Upchurch Drug Co.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This paralyzes constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

A Testimonial

Maplesville, March 10, 1907

Messrs. Spigener & Jones,

Sirs: In reply to your request for my opinion of the "John Deere Planter," purchased of you last winter, I would say that I'm highly pleased with it.

It works successfully in planting cotton seed, corn, peas and sorghum.

It distributes the cotton seed so evenly and nicely, that subsequent work of chopping and cultivating is very facilitated.

It will save its cost in the expense of seeding, or in time in chopping, in a few seasons.

I could say much more for the John Deere Planter, but suppose, to be concise, this is enough. I would not hesitate to buy any labor-saving farm implement needed if I could be assured that it would work as successfully as this planter. Respectfully,

G. L. SPEER.

"Who are they?"

"Posterity."—Baltimore American.

Although the world is full of suffering, it is full of the overcoming of it.—Keller.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilirating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

Women Avoid Operations

MISS ROSE MOORE

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N.Y. She writes:-

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

Stood the Test.

Allcock's Plasters have successfully stood the test of sixty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equaled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of Allcock's by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as Allcock's."

Allcock's Plasters stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

FADED TO A SHADOW.

Worn Down by Five Years of Suffering From Kidney Complaint.

Mrs. Remethe Myers, of 180 South Tenth St., Ironton, O., says: "I have worked hard in my time and have been exposed again and again to changes of weather. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away, and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of the house. I was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, and lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and blur before me. I bloated so badly I could not wear tight clothing, and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and bloating was gone. I have been in good health ever since."

Alligator Skin and Oil.

The demand for alligator skins has for a long time past been so great that the manufacture of imitations has attained a point where even experts may be deceived. At least, such is said to be the case in Europe, where "alligator" skins that grew on the backs of sheep are passed for the genuine article. In order to increase the supply of the real skins, the possibility has been considered of raising alligators in some of the French dependencies. Alligator oil, or grease, is also in great demand, being employed largely in the manufacture of chamois leather.

Winter Work for Automobile.

There is a farmer out in Walworth County who hit upon a novel way of making the money he has tied up in an automobile. He uses the machine in the summer, but when winter sets in there is little pleasure or profit in automobiling and most of the gasolene buggies are left standing idle. In the case of this thrifty settler, however, there is no waste of this kind. He strips the machine of its wheels and sets it upon skids in the loft of one of the farm buildings. With a flywheel on one of the rear hubs and a drive wheel on the other he uses his engine to do all the farm grinding, pumping, feed cutting and other work where power is required. In this way he saves the cost of another gasolene engine, such as most farmers are now using.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Medals for Schoolmasters.

We claim, in the name of an important group of old servants of primary education, the medal of thirty years' service for schoolmasters. It is necessary when the old masters of the people pass by that we should recognize them and salute them with the words: "Behold those who during thirty years have fulfilled the finest of the pacific missions, the educators of the country." 135 ARE LOST IN MINE DISASTERS.

Six Perish and Number Injured in West Virginia.

107 BLOWN UP IN GERMANY.

The Whole Population Gathers to See Disfigured Bodies Brought Up—Twenty-two Die in Prussian Shaft.

Forback, Germany.—An explosion of fire damp in an underground shaft of the coal mine at Kleinrosseln, near here, resulted in the death of seventy-five miners and the terrible injury of twelve others. Six of the miners who were in the shaft at the time of the explosion are still missing. One hundred and seventeen others escaped into adjoining galleries.

Two hundred and ten men went into the mine at 5 o'clock in the evening, and about midnight the news was spread to the villages nearby that a terrible disaster had occurred. Soon almost the whole population of the country side gathered at the mouth of the shaft, among them being the families of the men below. Rain was falling heavily, and the most distressing scenes of grief were witnessed as the bodies were brought up. Many of the bodies were so disfigured that they were scarcely recognizable. The work of bringing out the injured men and the bodies of the dead was very slow, the galleries being choked with wreckage.

The mine belongs to the Dewendels, one of the richest mining families of Lorraine.

Explosion in Virginia.

Richmond, Va.—A special from Norton, Va., says:

An explosion occurred in the mines at Greenough after several miners had entered their working place. This mine is located on the Norfolk and Western railway, several miles east of Norton. As far as can be learned at this hour, ten miners have escaped slightly injured. Two dead bodies have been taken from the mine, and four are known to be in the mine and supposed to be dead. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

It is thought a greater number than now can be accounted for may be entombed. Robert H. Bruce, one of the owners of the mine, is well known in Virginia, having been the nominee for congress in the Ninth Virginia district last fall.

Cable Breaks.

Searlous, Rheinish Prussia.—Twenty-two miners were killed at the Garhard coal mine. They were descending one of the shafts in a cage when the cable broke.

The mine belongs to the Prussian government.

THOMAS HANGED.

Pays Penalty in Mobile for Shooting His Wife.

Mobile.—At 5:55 o'clock Friday morning Andrew Thomas, white, aged 28 years, was hanged for the murder of his wife on May 9 last. Death was pronounced by the physicians twelve minutes after the drop. Thomas' crime was the most brutal in the criminal annals of Mobile county.

Thomas shot his wife in a fit of jealousy while the woman was on her knees pleading with him not to kill her.

BURGLAR MAKES HAUL.

Burglar-Proof Chest is Opened Without Injury at York.

York.—Burglars entered the store of C. E. Lancaster here and secured $300 worth of clothing. After riddling this stock, which had just arrived for the spring trade, the burglars entered the store of J. H. Coleman and secured several articles of merchandise, some valuable jewelry and $38 in money. The jewelry and money were in the safe, which was opened. The safe in Mr. Coleman's store had a burglar chest, which was supposed to be secure. The safe and chest were both opened without injury.

There is no clew to the burglars.

TENNESSEE TO OUST STANDARD OIL CO.

Attorney Ceneral Brings Suit Under Anti-Trust Act.

TRY LESSEN COMPETITION.

The Bill Sets Out Basis of Conspiracy Facts Proven in Recent Cace in the Supreme Court.

Nashville, Tenn.—A bill seeking to prohibit the Standard Oil Company from doing business in Tennessee and to oust that corporation from the state has been filed in the chancery court of Sumner county at Gallatin. Attorney-General Charles T. Cates, Jr., brings the suit on behalf of the state under provision of the anti-trust act of the legislature of 1903, which act has recently been sustained by the supreme court of Tennessee. The bill is filed under section [illegible] of the act, which provides:

"Every foreign corporation which shall violate the provisions of this act is hereby denied the right to do and is prohibited from doing business in this state. It is hereby made the duty of the attorney-general of the state to enforce these provisions by due process of law."

It summarizes the alleged offenses of the defendant corporation in the following language:

"So that complainant overs and charges that the unlawful arrangements, agreements or combinations made and entered into between the defendant company and its said agents, Comer, Holt and Rutherford, and the said Love, Lane, Cron and Hunter, as hereinbefore shown, were not only made with a view of lessening full and free competition in the sale of the defendants' oil at Gallatin, but that in fact said unlawful arrangements, agreements or combinations naturally tended to and did result in lessening and destroying full and free competition in defenant companies' said oil at Gallatin, and naturally tended to and did result in advancing the price or cost of said oil in and about Gallatin and in Sumner county, Tennessee."

The bill sets out as basis for the charge of conspiracy the facts that were proven in the recent case in the supreme court in the case referred to, to enforce a judgment for a fine against the company. The supreme court in that opinion held that they constituted unlawful agreements or conspiracy described by the statute. Therefore, under the opinion of the supreme corut in the casa referred to, in order to sustain the charges made in this bill, it will be necessary only to prove the same facts that were adduced in the case decided at this term. On the question of what constituted conspiracy, the supreme court in the case referred to said:

"The making of the agreement with Love, with a view to lessen competition, and which tended to do so, is thus fully proven. That is all that is necessary to constitute a violation of the statute."

The next term of the chancery court of Sumner county will begin on the first Monday in May. Under the rules of the court the company must plead, answer or demur on the first day of the term or the bill will be taken for confessed. At the very earliest it is highly improbable that the case will be finally disposed of in the chancery court until the November term, and it is very probable that it will not be ready for trial even at that time.

Cabinet Meeting.

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou was one of the last cabinet officers to leave the White House after the regular meeting. There were several references during the meeting to the financial situation, but so far as can be ascertained there were no new developments, one of the members expressing the opinion that the flurry appeared to be about over. Secretary Cortelyou, when asked whether there had been any additional calls for help from the financial district in New York, and he replied in the negative. All of the members of the cabinet were present except Secretary Metcalf, who is out of the city. The meeting was one of the longest that has been held for some time.

Shoots Girl Who Refuses Him.

New Orleans.—Accosting Miss Eudez Dobson, his 15-year-old sweetheart, on the main street of Pointealahache, La., Whitney Molrare, a young planter, asked her to marry him, and upon being refused shot and killed the girl with a revolver. Then placing the weapon to his own head, he fired again and fell dead over her body. Miss Dobson was the daughter of Ernest Dobson, a prominent planter of Plaquemine parish.

Five Thousand Loss in Huntsville Fire.

Huntsville, Ala.—A destructive blaze in West Huntsville Thursday afternoon burned an office building and two frame store houses belonging to R. L. Ward. The loss is estimated at $5,000 and the insurance is $650. The fire started in a butcher shop and spread rapidly, there being no means of fighting the fire in that section of the city. Valuable property for several blocks around was endangered.

A WHOLE WEEK'S EVENTS.

Alabama Educational Association.

State Superintendent of Education H. C. Gunnels is urging all teachers in the state to attend the next session of the Alabama Educational Association in Mobile, March 28-30. He says that county boards of education have authority to dismiss schools so the teachers may attend, and count the days as taught. We are striving to have one thousand members at the close of the meeting. Go, if it is possible for you to do so, and carry your friends with you. If you cannot go, do not fail to send the one dollar membership fee to Secretary W. C. Griggs, Brewton, Ala., and thus enroll with the progressive teachers of the state, receive a copy of the proceedings, and help in the work the association is undertaking.

The railroads give one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. Mobile is arranging to care for the teachers in a royal manner.

FARMER KILLED NEAR M'FALL

By a Boy of Sixteen Years Over Farm Labor Dispute.

Anniston, Ala.—About midnight Louis Franklin, a well-known farmer near McFall, was shot and instantly killed by Arthur Chappel, another farmer of the same section, just in front of the brick store farm. The difficulty, it is said, arose from Chappel endeavoring to get hands off of Franklin's farm. Chappel escaped. Franklin was a man about 45 years old and leaves a family. He was in Anniston and Oxford Friday and was on his way home when killed. Chappel is only about 16 or 17 years old. He shot three times, two discharges taking effect near the heart and one in the mouth.

CYCLONE IN SOUTH ALABAMA.

Much Damage Is Done Fences and Outhouses.

Eufaula, Ala.—A cyclone thought to have been about half a mile wide swept over a section south of the city Thursday night doing considerable damage to young vegetation and destroying fences and outhouses. Seven or eight miles south of the city the storm was in its worst fury, and a prominent planter, in addition to losing his barn and a long line of fence, lost a valuable mule and other property. The storm also covered a small section of Southwest Georgia, doing considerable damage to farm houses and fences in Quitman county.

TEN HOUSES BURNED.

Flames in Foreign Quarter Could Not Be Stopped, as No Water Was Available.

Ensley, Ala.—Fire destroyed ten houses in the G[illegible]reene quarters of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company. It started in a large boarding house and continued to burn out a whole row of smaller houses.

ILLICIT STILLS CONFISCATED.

They Were Running Near Each Other Not Far From Cullman.

Huntsville, Ala.—Deputy Collector Campbell and Deputy Marshals Arnold and Root have returned from Cullman county after having captured and destroyed two very fine illicit distilling outfits and arrested three alleged moonshiners. Both stills were found about ten miles from Cullman, and they were within a few miles of each other.

Government Official Looks Into Breaking of Mail Boxes.

Florence, Ala.—A government detective is in Florence investigating several mail robberies which have occurred recently on route No. 1, R. F. D. Three mail boxes on the Sweetwater road have been broken open and the contents stolen.

Eutaw Election.

Eutaw, Ala.—One of the hottest and most interesting elections experienced by Eutaw in some years resulted in a vote of 75 against and 50 for municipal ownership of the water works and electric light plants, 100 against and 24 in favor of improved streets, and 100 against and 24 for a $7,000 public school building. The total bond issue authorized by this election for these purposes is $39,500.

Fine Strawberry Crop.

Cullman, Ala.—The prospect is good for a 50 per cent increase in the crop of the famed Cullman strawberry this year. The German Farmers' Association, the principal shipper, is noted for its honest packing. Each grower has his individual name printed on an association label, notifying the consumer to report any unfit or improperly packed fruit.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR MARCH 24 BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Woes of Drunkenness, Isaiah 28:7-13—Golden Text, Hos. 4-11—Memory Verse, 7—Commentary.

It is not at all necessary to go to the Scripture to find matter applicable to a lesson on the woes of drunkenness. All too sadly we have but to look right around us in order to find examples, illustrations and texts for a lesson upon this theme.

Isaiah draws us a thrilling, awful picture of the effects of drunkenness upon the people of Jerusalem, and especially upon their priests and prophets. He predicts that if they do not cease from wantonness and the following of drunken iniquity the Lord will punish them in the persons of the Assyrian hosts, men "with another tongue." He clearly sets forth what are the effects of drunkenness on the minds of men, leading them to defy even God Himself, and, without fear, to flout His chosen prophetic messengers.

The picture that Isaiah paints for us, in words that blaze and burn, is not more awful than the picture any prophet of God might draw, if he so desired, of the conditions of modern life. To be sure it would not be possible to say that the ministry, as a class, are given to the vice of intemperance. It would not be possible to say that those who, in any departure of life, believe themselves blessed of God with a prophetic message to men, are, as a class, under the dominion of that particular sin. The day long since has passed when it was considered "the thing" for ministers to drink and no great disgrace for them, now and then, to become over-indulgent. The priest of God who drinks is not the rule but the exception in this more enlightened age. But although the cup has come into disfavor among the cloth, it is all too sad a fact that, in the world at large, it is altogether too popular, both for the welfare of individuals and of society as a whole.

There seems to be an opinion abroad, in some very estimable quarters, that when these lessons on intemperance are taught we should, as far as possible, avoid telling the youth of our Sabbath schools the plain, hard, appalling facts of the woes of intemperance. The woes of intemperance are only to be spoken of in the title head. They are to be forgotten as we proceed to the study of the lesson. Frankly the writer is not of that same mind. Nothing is to be gained by dodging the enormity of the sin of intemperance as, to-day, its lecherous hand stretches over our land with eager desire to grasp our young men and maidens, our old men and matrons. Everything is to be lost by refusing to look the evil in the face and to paint it to the world in its proper colors. It cannot be passed by in silence if we are the followers of Christ that we should be; its baneful effect up on thousands directly and upon the whole nation indirectly cannot be gainsaid. Its grip must be broken, its influence must be nullified, it must be annihilated.

The woes of drunkenness descend upon women as well as men; upon the innocent as well as upon the guilty; upon society as upon the individual. The amount of drinking that is prevalent among women today is almost past belief. And even as men cannot escape the effects of strong drink, so women do not. And awful as are the consequences of intemperance upon the lives of men, they are unspeakably more so upon the lives of women. For a moral and sober motherhood is the base upon which all society rests. And anything that destroys the purity and the beauty of our womanhood strikes at the very vitals of all human life. Its effect upon men is so widely spread and so generally recognized that we should be arrayed solidly as a Christian host against it. Wrecked business enterprises, ruined reputations, forfeited positions of truta and responsibility and profit, blasted homes, disgraced lives, are the frequent concomitants of drunkenness among men. And the worst of it all is this, that the men and women guilty of the vice of intemperance do not always reap the most distressing consequences. Upon the innocent, the fathers and mothers, the wives and husbands and children, all too often the direful consequences of the individual's sins are visited. Further, the State suffers immeasurably through the moral downfall of her members through drink. Society has an interest in every member of its ranks. The weal of one is the welfare of all and conversely the woe of one has an evil influence upon the moral health of the whole community.

The woes of drunkenness. Half a century ago Harriet Beecher Stowe portrayed the woes of slavery, and her name is famous and the slave is free. Imperishable memory awaits the man who, with prevision, insight and precision, can depict to the world the horrors of intemperance unto the emancipation of a host now enmeshed in the toils of this iniquity.

Vs. 7, 8. Picture of the drunkenness of the priests.

Vs. 9, 10. The drunkards mock Isaiah. "Knowledge," prophetic teaching. "Tidings." "Revelations." "Weaned." "They protest they are not children."

Vs. 11, 13. Isaiah retorts to them with their own words. "Stammerings." A foreign tongue. "Another." Assyrian.

The paint of pride is not the same as the robe of righteousness.

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of Known Excellence and Quality and of Known Component Parts.

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and approved by them, and, therefore, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtlessly it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs; and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

For Girls & Women

You Need Cardui

At every age, after entering womanhood, girls and women need the strengthening, building, pain-relieving assistance of Wine of Cardui.

It will carry you over the rough places, ease your hard days and increase the comfort and pleasure of living.

What its millions of users think of it, is well expressed in these words of Mrs. Rosa Lee Cole, of Smithton, Mo., who writes: "I suffered from female troubles for 7 years. I had pain, low down in my stomach, my feet hurt so I could not stand, and I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do anything. I was just sick all the time. At last I wrote you for advice and you recommended Wine of Cardui, which I took according to your directions. I have now taken 5 bottles of Wine of Cardui, and am feeling better than in the past 7 years. My feet and stomach do not hurt, my female troubles have gone, I am getting stouter and stronger, can do all my housework, work in the garden and tend to 260 little chickens."

Wine of Cardui acts directly upon the sick or disordered womanly organs or functions. It is a natural, scientific, female tonic. It contains no dangerous minerals, or other deleterious ingredients, but is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless and beneficial to young and old.

Every reliable druggist sells it, in $1 bottles. Try it.

Ether and Matter.

The densest matter is more or less porus. Gold will absorb mercury as a lump of sugar will absorb water, showing there must be interstices or interatomic spaces in it, but the ether shows no such property. If a drop of water could be magnified sufficiently one would ultimately see the different atoms of hydrogen and oxygen that constitute the molecules of water. If a small volume of ether could be thus magnified the indications are that the ultimate part would look like the first, which is the same as saying that it is not made up of discrete particles, but fills space completely. This is expressed by saying that the ether is a continuous medium and is hence incomparable with matter.

There is about twelve hundred dollars worth of Shoes, also Clothing, Plow Tools, Harness, Crockery, Sugar, Coffee, Notions, Hats and all kinds of Cloth.

I will give below prices of a few articles to give you an idea how the goods are going:

20 lbs Fancy Sugar for	$1.00
20 lbs. Good Rice for	1.00
10 lbs Good Green Coffee for	1.00
1 lb Brown's Mule Tobacco for	25c
No 2 White Corn by the sack for 68c per bushel
Best Fancy Patent Flour per barrel	4 30
Best Half Patent Flour per barrel	4.00

Shoes at your own price—and everything else you want at prices that will surprise you.

I also want to buy five hundred good fat hens at 35 cents each.

These goods will be sold at my old stand.

Now, remember, this sale will not be kept on very long, as it is only to reduce my stock to get more room. Prices subject to change without notice.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Mr. Toland and son visited Jemison last week.

Miss Hovey of Thorsby visited friends here last week.

Our school is progressing nicely now under the management of Prof. R. A. Rasco and Miss Mattie Fite, though a number of pupils in Miss Fite's room are absent on account of whooping cough. We hope they will soon be in school again.

We have a fine music class here taught by Miss Ethel Toland; she is a good teacher and certainly takes an interest in her pupils.

Miss Jennie Toland visited here Sunday.

Miss Mamie Oglesby is visiting Miss Mae Honeycutt.

A LITTLE GIRL.

Billingsley.

The health of our town is very good.

The school is progressing nicely with about 90 pupils enrolled. The teachers of this place went to Mobile to the Teachers' Educational Convention and reported a nice time.

The Autauga Sunday school convention came off at Billingsley 31st inst., which was enjoyed by a goodly number of visiting preachers and teachers.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Ira Campbell is very sick at Vida. We miss her good letters in the Banner.

Mr. Felton is erecting a saw mill in Billingsley.

Mrs. J. C. Grimes and Mrs. W. W. Carter went to Montgomery Monday. With best wishes to the Editor and readers of the Banner, I will close. J. C. GRIMES.

The farmers are hustling with their work this beautiful weather.

We are glad to say our Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely under the able management of Rev. J. D. Deason.

We are sorry to say that our school closed Friday last. We are very sorry to see Prof. Bone leave our community, for he will be sadly missed here among the people and especially the children, for I think he has gained the love of all the children in his school, and we hope to see his smiling face in our community very often and hope to have him teach our summer school.

The band of Mars Hill visited Mr. J. A. Lowery Saturday night, accompanied by Misses Lena Cofer and Alice Foshee; Messrs. Martin Langston, Press Cofer, Williams, John and Tom and father, Green Cofer and others too numerous to mention.

We are very sorry to say our school closed last week, taught by J. H. Anderson. We hope to have him for our future teacher.

Mr. C. C. Gibson, who has been sick, we are glad to say is improving.

Time brings about many changes. We often wonder what has become of a certain little bell that used to rattle in these parts. Changes come by degrees, sometimes like whirl winds. First, the clapper drops out, then next we find collar, bell and all gone. So I will ring off with many wishes to the Banner and its many readers.

SIX KILLED WHEN TRAINS MEET.

Both Engineers and Both Firemen and Two Brakemen Victims.

Fort Worth, Tex.—Six trainmen were killed in a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Missouri Kansas and Texas railroad six miles south of here.

The collision occurred while both trains were running down grade and at a high speed.

Fire broke out immediately and two brakemen were burned before assistance could reach them. Over 300 head of cattle were also cremated and eight cars of merchandise were destroyed.

Failure of the northbound train to receive an order is said to be responsible for the wreck.

Charged With Many Swindles.

Cullman, Ala.—Last week a young man, giving his name as Corporal P. T. Williams, and representing himself as a United States army recruiting officer, appeared at Hartselle for the purpose, as he said, of enlisting recruits for the army. He had a lot of printing done at the Enquirer office, and afterward asked Editor Emeet Gray, of that paper to endorse a draft for him for $100, which the editor and another gentleman kindly did. The draft was turned down, but the man had skipped. He was later arrested at Jasper, Ala., charged with fleecing a man out of $100 in the same manner and beating the Jasper Eagle out of $20 worth of printing. He is in jail at Jasper, and it is alleged that he is a professional confidence man with a long string of similar crimes against him.

The Carbon Hill Mercantile Company, at Carbon Hill, and the Huggins Mercantile Company, at Oakman, are new commercial enterprises reported to the secretary of state. The first has a capital of $25,000 and the latter $15,000.

Sale of Indian Land Town Sites.

Washington, D. C.—The commissioner of the general land office has issued an announcement of the sale of the lots in town sites on the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache lands, as follows:

Randlett, beginning on Monday, May 13; Eschiti, beginning May 23; Quanah, beginning June 3; Abpeatone, beginning June 23, and Koonkazachey, beginning July 5. The sale will continue from day to day until all the lots are offered. Purchasers will be required to pay one-fourth of the purchase price in cash.

The fact that the government owns these lands was the reason for the president's veto of a bill authorizing the commutation of homestead entries for town site purposes in these reservations. The interior department took the position that the proposed legislation would interfere with the sale of the government lands.

Blinded by Sneezing.

New York.—Mrs. Joseph Jack, wife of a resident of Trenton, N. J., is blind as a result of a violent attack of sneezing. Mrs. Jack was so exhausted by the violence of her sneezes and the prolonged period of the attack that she fell asleep immediately after obtaining relief. When she awoke in the morning she was unable to see. Philadelphia specialists who are treating her believe the violence of her sneezing caused a hemorrhage of the blood vessels in the eyes.

Murdered With an Axe.

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Sarah Graff, of 446 West Harrison street, was found dead in bed at her home with a deep gash over her right temple. The floor of the room and the bed clothing were spattered with blood. The police are looking for the woman's husband Charles Graff, who, it is believed, killed her with an axe.

Two Drowned on Tug Boat.

New York.—Two men are believed to have lost their lives in a collision in the North river when the tug boat John D. Dailey was run down and sunk by the ferry boat Musconetoong of the Delaware, Lackawanna dan Western Railroad Company. Four members of the tug's crew were saved after jumping overboard, but they suffered severely from exposure. The men accounted for are John Shanappy, first officer, and a deck hand named McDavitt.

GAS WELL TESTED.

The Pressure Is Found to Be 600 Pounds to the Square Inch.

Huntsville, Ala.—The new gasser of the New York Alabama Oil Company was successfully capped, and a test of the pressure was made, showing it to be 20 pounds to the inch. This is one of the greatest pressures ever found in a gas well. The company is moving the drilling machinery from the well to another point near by, and another well will be sunk immediately. The second drilling outfit of the company is boring a well a mile and a half west of the city, and the two outfits will be kept busy in the future.

There is not much excitement here over the situation, as the average citizen does not appear to realize what it means to have natural gas available in unlimited quantities.

FORETOLD MURDEROUS WORK

Man Pawns Sweetheart's Wedding Ring to Buy Revolver.

Sheffield, Ala.—Two weeks ago John French, a young miner of Sheffield went to a jeweler and bought a gold wedding ring to place on the finger of pretty Norah Cole. He pawned the ring and used the money he got on it to buy a revolver, with which he attempted to murder the girl. After seriously wounding her and two other people he blew out his brains.

The affair is one of the most melodramatic that ever occurred in Sheffield, and a curious fact in connection with it was that it was foretold in a dream which the mother of one of the victims had on the night before the tragedy occurred.

This was an elderly woman named Fitzsimmons. Her son, Thomas Fitzsimmons, was French's landlord, or rather his host, for it was purely as an act of charity that the miner was taken into the Fitzsimmons household some five weeks ago, at a time when he was out of work. Soon afterward French fell in love with Norah Cole who was a servant in Fitzsimmons' employment, and before long he succeeded in making her promise to marry him—the arrangement being that their marriage should take place at a registry office in a fortnight's time.

Apparently, however, the miner who was of rather a brutal type, had gained the girl's consent largely through bullying her, for a few days ago she told him she had changed her mind. And next day she was warned by her employer's mother not even to go out with French, who, the elder Mrs. Fitzsimmons declared, was dangerous. The old lady asserted that on the previous night she had dreamed that shots had been fired in their kitchen and that French was the assailant.

Next day, when the Fitzsimmons family and two of their neighbors were sitting in the kitchen, French suddenly came in. Going up to Norah Cole he asked her if she intended to marry him, and the girl pluckily replied that she was not going to have anything to do with him. French then drew a revolver, fired at the mar Fitzsimmons, then at Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzsimmons, who had a baby on her knee, and then turned to the girl.

He told her to prepare to die. She fell on her knee, and then he turned to the girl to kill her, being unmoved by her appealing cries. He fired three shots at her, and then shot himself in the head with the last bullet left in the revolver and fell dead.

Fitzsimmons escaped with but slight injury, but Mrs. Fitzsimmons' nose was blown away, while the girl was seriously hurt.

On French's body being searched a pawn ticket for a wedding ring was found in one of his pockets. With the proceeds the man had first taken out a gun license. Then he bought the revolver and cartridges.

WILL NOT PROSECUTE GIRL.

Annie Powell, Who Killed Boy, Will Be Released.

Florence, Ala.—The 13-year-old girl Annie Powell, who is under indictment for murder in the second degree for killing a little negro, Frank Houston, by striking him in the head with a rock, will not have to face a jury for that offense.

The girl is small for her years, and members of the grand jury which indicted her stated afterwards that they would never have returned the true bill if they had seen her beforehand.

An agreement has been reached between A. A. Williams, attorney for the girl, and Solicitor R. T. Simpson, Jr., by which the matter will be settled out of court. The girl's name is Powell and the indictment was returned against Annie Powers. A plea in abatement will be presented to the court by Mr. Williams, which will be allowed by Judge Almon, according to agreement, and thus the matter will be thrown out of court.

APRIL WEATHER.

Average Given Out by Observer Lehman.

Birmingham, Ala.—W. F. Lehman, observer in the local weather bureau, has issued full data covering a period of eleven years as to April weather. The buletin issued is to show the conditions that have prevailed during the month in question for the period of years mentioned, but must not be construed as a forecast of the weather conditions for the present month. The mean or normal temperature was 63 degrees; the warmest month was in 1896, with an average of 70 degrees; coldest month in 1898, with an average of 58; the highest temperature was on the 17th and 23rd of 1896, and 30th, when the temperature was 90 degrees; the lowest on the 6th in 1898, when it went to 28; the average precipitation for the month was 4.68 inches; ten days had an average of .01 of an inch or more of rain; the greatest monthly precipitation was 13.08 inches in 1900; the least monthly precipitation was .31 inches in 1906; the prevailing wind was northwest.

JOHN COLLINS FINED.

Is Charged With Drawing a Gun on Ex-Marshal James Floyd.

Girard, Ala.—As a result of a personal difficulty in the street in Upper Girard, in which John Collins, a young man, drew a pistol and threatened James Floyd, ex-marshal of this city, Collins was fined $25 by Mayor Price and bound over in the sum of $750 to await the action of the Russel county grand jury. He appealed the case in which the fine was imposed, and the mayor assessed a bond of $250 in that case. This makes a total of $1,000 assessed in bonds. Collins was given five day in which to make the two bonds.

Mayor Price also created somewhat of a sensation by placing three of Collins' witnesses under bond in the sum of $500 each to insure their appearance before the Russell grand jury.

When Collins, during his excited conversation with Floyd, drew his pistol, it was feared that a tragedy would be enacted on the spot. Floyd was very cool and told the other to fire away.

Ginners Organize.

Huntsville, Ala.—A large number of farmers of Madison county held a meeting and organized the Madison County Ginners' Association. John M. Hampton presided at the meeting, and committees were appointed to go out and canvass the county to enlist members and to urge the farmers to raise more of the necessities of life on their farms instead of having to spend cash for what they need. Clarendon Davis, John M. Hampton and Sam Latham were appointed to this duty. Resolutions were adopted urging the members to have their cotton ginned at home gins instead of bringing it to the ginners in this city.

Montgomery Street Car Strike.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK NEAR LOS ANGELES.

Most of Those Fatally Hurt Were Italians.

TWENTY-SIX ARE KILLED.

Sunset Limited Passenger Train Ran Into Open Switch, Left by Careless Fireman—A Theatrical Company's Rescue Work.

Colton, Cal.—A disastrous wreck on the Southern Pacific occurred one and a half miles east of this town, when west bound train No. 9, from New Orleans for San Francisco, ran into an open switch while going at the rate of forty miles an hour, and ten of the fourteen coaches were derailed. Twenty-six people are known to have been killed, and the list will total much higher. The injured number about 100, many of whom will die.

The wrecked coaches were hurled in every direction. Four of them were smashed into splinters. Most of the dead were Italians from New York and New Orleans. They occupied the smoker and day coach.

The dead were terribly mangled. Eighteen were taken to Colton by 8 o'clock and eight additional bodies were seen underneath one of the overturned cars. This car could not be raised until a derrick was brought from Los Angeles, sixty miles away.

The injured were carried to this city in vehicles of all sorts, and the Colton hospital was quickly filled to its capacity. Many were then taken to the Presbyterian church and many private residences.

Two American Victims.

But two Americans are known to have been killed, although several of those among the injured will probably die. George L. Sharp, of Muncie, Ind., was instantly killed. The baggage man of the train, whose name has not been ascertained, was also killed. Engineer Clarence Wormington and Fireman Victor Crebb both jumped and were caught in the wreckage. They were both terribly burned and scalded.

Out of about eighty Pullman passengers there were but two who sustained serious injury. The three Pullman coaches and the diner, which were in the rear of the train, did not leave the track. The occupants of these cars were practicaly unharmed. The Florence Roberts Theatrical Company occupied one catch, which was hurled from the track and both ends crushed by impact against the others. But two members of the company out of a total of twenty-two people were injured. Miss Roberts herself escaped unhurt.

The escape from death of the occupants of this car was remarkable, considering the manner in which the coach was splintered and torn to pieces. The men and women were hurled from one end of the car to the other.

Rushed to Wreck.

There were three tracks where the accident occurred, which is in the open country. The people of Colton were first to be notified of the catastrophe. Hundreds of people hurried to the scene of the wreck. Physicians and nurses were brought from San Bernardino and Colton and ministered to the injured.

The derailment of the train was caused by the crew of a switch engine leaving a switch open at this point. It is said that the engine passed through the switch a few minutes before the Overland appeared. A switchman named Morrison was in the yard. After the switch engine had pased to another track the engineer asked the fireman if he had thrown the switch. The fireman recalled that he had neglected to do so, and the engineer whistled frantically for Morrison to close it. The signal was not given in time as Morrison did nat reach the switch before the Overland had plunged through and had been derailed.

The train, which was due in Los Angeles at 7:30 o'clock, was nearly twelve hours behind time and was running at a high rate of speed. There was absolutely no warning of the catastrophe. The engineer saw the signal when only a short distance away and had not time to sound a whistle of warning, much less to reverse the throttle or set the brakes. He called to his fireman to jump, and both leaped wildly from opposite sides of the engine. The engine left the track, turned over on its side and ploughed a great distance along the right of way.

Work of Rescue.

The wreckage of the day coaches and smoker, filled with the bodies of the dead and injured, were hurled all over it. Helpless passengers imprisoned in the wreckage called frantically for help. By a miracle, the train was not set on fire.

Accused of Adultery.

Anniston, Ala.—Mrs. Carrie Westmoreland, who was arrested in Anniston last Tuesday, has been taken to Gadsden to answer an indictment by the Etowah county grand jury for adultery. It is said Mrs. Westmoreland has a husband and family at Spartanburg, whence she ran away with L. M. Poteet, who also has a family. The two were confined in the Etowah county jail for some time.

BREWERY WORKERS STRIKE.

Twenty-five Hundred Walk Out of St Louis Breweries.

St. Louis, Mo.—Brewery workers to the number of 2,500, said to involve workers from every brewery in St. Louis, went on strike for increases in wages ranging from 5 to 60 per cent.

The strike was in accordance with a decision reached when a conference was held with the boss brewers of the city. The brewery workers, it is stated, were offered a general increase of 5 per cent in response to their demands, but declined to accept it.

A similar strike of brewery workers took place in East St. Louis, Ill., two breweries being affected, and forty men walked out.

TO ELECT DELEGATES.

The President Issues an Executive Order to Philippine Commission.

Washington, D. C.—The president has signed the executive order requiring the Philippine commission to issue the call required by the law for a general election of delegates to the first Philippine assembly. The order recites the fact that peace has been restored to all of the Christian sections of the islands. The Philippine commission has fixed upon July 30 next as the date of election.

The legal authority for the executive order is contained in an act of congress approved July 1, 1902, which is made a part of the order. This act stipulates that whenever the president shall be satisfied that conditions of general and complete peace have been established, which fact shall be certified to the president by the Philippine commission, he shall direct that a census of population be taken. Two years after the completion of the census the president is to issue the election order, which is to apply to all of the territory of the islands not inhabited by Moros or other non-Christian tribes.

The election is to be for the choice of delegates to a popular body, to be known as the Philippine assembly. When chosen and organized the assembly is to be vested with all the legislative powers now held and exercised by the Philippine commission, except such as relates to the Moros and other non-Christian tribes. The upper house of the newly formed legislature will be composed entirely of the Philippine commission.

The president says in the order that he received the certification of peace September 11, 1902, and nine days later ordered the census taken. The complete returns were reported March 28, 1905. The present proclamation bears date of March 28, 1907, thus complying specifically with the law.

BAD WRECK

Occurs Near Thomaston—Engineer Fitzgerald Killed—Others Injured.

Selma, Ala.—Engineer James D. Fitzgerald, on the passenger train of the Myrtlewood branch of the Louisville and Nashville, was instantly killed in a wreck which occurred a half mile this side of Thomaston. Express Messenger Will Gault, of this city, was slightly injured about the body, and one hand was badly mashed. A passenger, whose name could not be learned, was also slightly injured about the legs. That more of the passengers and train crew were not killed seems miraculous.

The negro fireman, who escaped unhurt, says that at the time of the wreck that the train was going around a curve; that when too late they saw a piece of iron on the track, and that the engine was thrown from the track when this obstruction was struck. Engineer Fitzgerald was caught beneath the boiler of the engine and was horribly mangled.

The mail and express car was turned half over, and both of the passenger coaches jumped the track. A wrecker left here for the scene of the accident to replace the cars and to investigate the obstruction which the fireman says was on the track. This is the most serious accident which has ever occurred on this branch of the Louisville and Nashville.

Engineer Fitzgerald, who was killed has been running over the branch for the past twenty years. He leaves two children by his first wife, Mr. Charles Fitzgerald, of Birmingham, and Mrs. John F. Butler, of this city. He leaves his second wife and three other children to mourn his loss.

Preaches Own Funeral on Gallows.

Spartanburg, S. C.—Thomas Harris a young white man, formerly a Baptist preacher, was hanged in the jail yard at Gaffney, S. C., for the murder of Mrs. Hortense Morgan, an aged white woman, last November. Before the black cap was adjusted Harris preached his own funeral sermon. He killed Mrs. Morgan by cutting her throat. Harirs narrowly escaped being lynched at the time of his arrest, and was brought to Spartanburg for safekeeping.

Alfonso Dissolves Parliament.

Madrid.—King Alfonso has signed a decree dissolving the present parliament, fixing upon April 21 for the election of a new chamber of deputies and May 5 for the election of senators. The new parliament will be opened May 13. Another decree signed by his majesty creates a national defense committee, which is to thoroughly overhaul the present army and navy organizations.

HEAD NEW GOVERNMENT

General Gutierrez Will Be President—Allied Forces of Honduras and Salvador Expected.

Washington, D. C.—General Gutierrez, one of the leaders of the revolt against President Bonilla, will be president of the new government established by the revolutionists, with the support of Zelaya, of Nicaragua. A cablegram received from Commander Merry, of the American gunboat Marietta at Port Limon, Costa Rica, says it is reported there that Gutierrez is the favorite to head the new government of Honduras. It is also stated at Limon, according to Consul Letherhalter's dispatches, that Bonilla is completely routed. The dispatch does not state that President Bonilla is killed, but that he is somewhere in the mountains on the south coast of Honduras. Dispatches received by the department from several different points in Central America announce the bombarding of Amapala, which is reported to have been continuing for several days.

Niece of General Trepoff Given Years for Assassination.

Thun, Switzerland.—Mlle. Leontieff, a Russian woman who murdered a Frechman named [illegible] at Interlaken in September, [illegible] taking him for M. Durnovo, minister for the interior of Russia, was sentenced to four years' solitary confinement and to twenty years' exile from the country.

Mlle. Leontieff is a daughter of General Leontieff, who took an active part in the Russian campaign in Manchuria and who afterwards was governor of one of the Russian provinces. She is a niece of the late General Trepoff. It is said to have been concerned in the unsuccessful attempt upon the life of Trepoff in 1905, for which she was confined for some time in a prison for the insane. She was released on her promise to leave Russia, and seems to have almost immediately joined the revolutionary group in Switzerland.

When M. Durnovo went abroad this year, Mlle. Leontieff volunteered to execute upon him the sentence of the "flying group" of revolutionists of which she was a member. Several hundred persons were assembled in the Hotel Jungfrau Saturday last. Mlle. Leontieff rose from her table, drew a revolver from her pocket and deliberately fired at Chrissaffer, a Frenchman, who was sitting at a neighboring table. The first shot inflicted a mortal wound. After the arrest it came out that Mlle. Leontieff has mistaken Muller for Durnovo.

Orientals Exports Show Decrease.

Washington, D. C.—Exports to the Orient show an improvement over February, according to figures just compiled by the bureau of statistics and labor and suggest a return to normal conditions of that trade. They showed a falling off in 1906 and a reduction in exports to the Orient from the United States occurred in the trade with China and Japan.

The exports to Japan during February were $3,000,295 in February, as compared with $2,991,[illegible] to the Chinese empire, $1,6[illegible] month of last year. The figures say that this decrease was largely due, in part at least, to a falling off in the general imports into that country, though the reduction in the exports is probably not so great proportionately as that in the imports into the United States.

To other parts of the Orient the exports show an improvement.

In the trade with other sections of the world the figures for February and those for the eight months ending with February show a general improvement over the corresponding periods of the preceding year.

PRESIDENT GREETS TEACHERS.

He Welcomes 500 From Toronto—As sures Them of Cordial Feelings.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt received about 500 school teachers from Toronto and surrounding places, who are on a visit to Washington. After greeting each one cordially the president addressed them briefly as follows:

"There could be no body of visitors whom I should more gladly greet than I greet this. I have, as every good American must have, the warmest and strongest feeling for our brothers across the line in Canada. So I welcome you as Canadians. Then as a father of six children I have a strong feeling for teachers—I may say sometimes a strong sympathetic feeling—and I want to greet you as both Canadians and teachers, I greet you with a double fervor."

SMASHED BY TRAIN WRECKERS.

Passenger Train Wrecked by Crossties Murderous Designs Stir Country.

New Orleans, La.—Train wreckers chained thirty-one crossties at intervals of a few yards across the rails of the Louisiana Southern railway south of New Orleans and caused the wreck of a local passenger train. There were no serious injuries in the wreck, but evidence of a murderous design has stirred the country people in the vicinity to threats of violence.

Beside the railroad is a public highway, with a bridge spanning a canal twenty five feet deep, and the wreckers removed the planks from the floor of this bridge, leaving a dangerous and deceptive skeleton work standing.

BRICKS THROWN.

Strike Sympathizers Try to Start Trouble.

Montgomery, Ala.—Strike sympathizers threw bricks and stones at one of the Montgomery Traction Company's cars, slightly injuring a motorman. Several arrests were made. Twenty-nine cars, practically all that can be handled normally, are in service and regular service has been resumed. The strikers are putting on a back line to cut into the street car business.

Moonshiners in Trouble.

Birmingham, Ala.—Deputy United States Marshal D. A. Smith and Deputy have just returned from Fayette county, where they went last Friday ...nty Revenue Collector A. J. Montgomon a raid against illicit distillers. They brought back as the result of their trip the copper cap of what is the largest still destroyed by officers in a long time. John Roby, a prisoner, was taken to Jasper, where he was given a trial before United States Commissioner Shields and released on $200 bail.

Villify French Government.

Paris—Violently worded manifestoes have been placarded throughout the city, villifying the action of the government in refusing permission to the state employes to form a traders' union. The central organization for the defense of the rights of the state's employes declared it would never accept the government's decision, which is designated as an alienation of liberty and further evidence of the state's

Dunne Declares He Will Be Re-Elected

Chicago, Ill.—Charges that William R. Hearst has come to Chicago to "boss" the city were made by republican speakers at a political meeting held at the Auditorium under republican auspices.

oGverner Deneen was one of the chief speakers in behalf of the campaign of Fred A. Busse for mayor. Some of the speakers said Hearst was working for the re-election of Mayor Dunne in order to further his alleged ambition to be president of the United States. These charges were repudiated by the democratic speakers, who said Hearst was inspired only by a desire to give the city good government and an improved street car system.

Dunne says he will be re-elected by a plurality of 30,000. The republicans claim about the same figures for Busse.

Vienna.—The second secretary of the American legation here, Francis G. Langdon, of New York, has resigned for personal reasons and will return to America in May.

Waverly Hall, Ga.—The house of W. P. Watts was destroyed by fire. No insurance except a small amount upon the furniture. The Methodist church was saved, but was considerably damaged.

Richmond, Va.—Bishop John C. Granberry, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died suddenly at his home in Ashland while sitting in a chair. He was 76 years of age and had been bishop since 1882.

Cremated in Hotel.

Shreveport, La.—A special to the Shreveport Journal from Tremont, a small town on the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific road, says Tremont hall was burned to the ground. George A. Tassin, Jr., a stenographer for the Tremont Lumber Company, and a drummer, whose name was not learned, but who registered from Chattanooga, Tenn., were cremated. The cause of the fire is not known.

PEASANTS FIGHT WITH HAY FORKS.

Oppose Field Guns Loaded With Grape Shot.

DO TERRIBLE EXECUTION.

Slaughter in Roumania—Soldiers Gain Upper Hand—More Disorders Are Feared in the Petroleum District.

Bucharest.—The peasants in the petroleum district, who up to the present time have not taken part in the general disorders, now demand the annullment of all existing concessions to individuals or companies, and that no new contracts be made. Failing to comply with this demand, they threaten incendiarism.

Strong forces of soldiers have been sent to the petroleum district.

Field guns, loaded with grapeshot, according to the official reports, are winning against the revolutionary peasantry, whose arms are most hay forks and scythe blades. The insurgents were able to hold their own against the troops at close quarters and withstood cavalry charges, doing terrible execution with long pronged forks and scythe blades strapped to long poles, but the slaughter since the troops used artillery appears to be terrifying them into submission. In the district of Viashica, where the outbreak was particularly serious, large numbers of insurgents have surrendered and have denounced their leaders to the authorities, with the result that many of the latter have been arrested. The government hopes that with the leaders in jail the undisciplined bands will soon abandon the field.

Although the disorders are dying down in some districts, the agitation is spreading in the provinces adjacent to the Carpathian mountains. Much plundering and incendiarism has taken place among the farms and isolated hamlets. Troops are in active pursuit of the maraudera. With the object of preventing so far as possible the fraternization of troops and peasants belonging to the same districts the Moldavian troops have been transferred to Lltol Wallachia, while the Wallchia troops attached to the first army corps have been detailed for duty in Moldavia.

London.—Great Britain is being kept fully advised by her minister at Bucharest and her consuls throughout Roumania of the progress of the revolution in that country and the efforts of the government to put down the disorders. These official reports show that the trouble has been serious and widespread, and that the army has had an extremely difficult task to cope with the outbreaks and stay the loss by the destruction of property. For a time it was an open question whether or not the outbreak had not gotten beyond the control of the Roumanian authorities, but dispatches received here indicate that the troops are finally getting the upperhand of the peasants.

The damage has been so great, however, that it will take the country years to recover.

Killed While Going to Rejoin His Wife.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The injured taken from the wreck of the Southern Pacific Sunset limited at Colton have been brought to Los Angeles.

Over thirty injured were sent to their homes or to hospitals. The death of George Sharp, of Muncie, Ind., whose life was instantly crushed out, was particularly pathetic. Sharp was on his way to this city to meet his wife, from whom he had become estranged years ago. He formerly resided here, but when he and his wife separated he returned to Indiana. Recently he notified friends here that he was coming to Los Angeles to see his wife and secure a reconciliation. Sharp did not know that she had secured a divorce from him more than a year ago and had remarried.

TRAGEDY IN TEXAS WOODS.

Dead Bodies of Miss Balkum and Ed Patricks Reveal the Tale.

Livingston, Tex.—Lying but a few feet apart the dead bodies of Miss Bertie Balkum, daughter of former District Clerk Balkum, of San Jacinto county, and Ed Patricks, of Colwater, Tex., were found in the woods near here.

Miss Balkum had a bullet hole through her left breast and one through the temple. Patricks' body was lying a few feet from Miss Balkum's, with a bullet wound through his head and his pistol by his side.

The young woman left Cold Springs in the afternoon in the mail hack for Shephard, and when about five miles from town was overtaken by Patricks on horseback. It is alleged Patricks forced her to get out of the hack and go with him into the woods, where their bodies were found.

Postal Conference Held.

Washington, D. C.—The Canadian postal commissioners continue their conference with the American postal authorities here relative to a new agreement regulating rates on second-class matter. Indications are that an amicable agreement will be reached.

ODDITIES IN NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

VORACIOUS ENGLISHMAN ATE 5000 PEAS IN A DAY.

London.—John Cotton, who lives in Dewsbury, Yorkshire, is believed to possess the most voracious appetite of any man living. Within the past few days he has consumed a meal at which a van horse would have jibbed in despair. The contest which has just ended lasted fourteen days. The condition was that he should eat two peas on the first day, double that number on the second, and continue to double it day after day for fourteen days. The peas which were used for the contest were the ordinary green marrowfats. During the first week the man simply swallowed them like pills, in the dry state; afterward they were steeped and boiled. On the tenth day the number was 1024; on the eleventh, 2048; on the twelfth, 4096; on the thirteenth, 8192, and on the fourteeth, 16,384. Owing to a little hitch in the proceedings he refused to consume the total on the last day; but on the thirteenth day he disposed of 8192, which is believed to be a world's record. The only condiment he took was a little pepper. On the thirteenth day operations were commenced about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He disposed of 500 without the slightest inconvenience, and calmly rested until 7 o'clock in the evening before recommencing operations. At that hour he faced the enormous mass, which filled the largest household bucket, with a determination not to surrender. Just before 11 o'clock he cleared the last of the dishes, and was greeted as the world's champion. During the thirteen days he had eaten 16,384 peas.

FROGS AND BUGS IN A MICHIGAN CLOUDBURST.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—A shower of insects of a kind never seen in this vicinity, large in size and greenish in color, together with very small frogs, fairly covered the territory between Kalamazoo and Battle Creek. The storm broke quickly in a cloudburst. Frogs began falling slowly at first and increased in number until catch-basins became clogged with them. The bugs followed after the frogs. Professors and students carried large numbers of insects home for examination. Scientific authorities assert the specimens are not known, but claim they would not have reached earth had not an unusually heavy thunderstorm prevailed. Most of the bugs were dead when picked up.

SEA TRIP TO JAMESTOWN FOR LIBERTY BELL.

Philadelphia.—For the first time in its history Liberty Bell will have a sea trip. In July it will be taken to the Jamestown Exposition on board the battleship Pennsylvania. All that is required is the indorsement by President Roosevelt of the plan, and it is understood he favors it. While the Jamestown Exposition will be open before July the bell will not be sent from Philadelphia until after July 15, when the Elks' convention in Philadelphia adjourns.

ASHES DEPOSITED IN VAULT OF BANK HE FOUNDED.

Boonville, Ind.—The Boonville National Bank received a novel deposit when the cashier accepted a box containing the crematory ashes of Dr. Charles Keegan, who died recently. Dr. Keegan founded the bank in 1874 and continued to be a large stockholder. It was the request of Dr. Keegan that his ashes be kept in the vault of the bank he founded.

Hondurans Abandon Their Capital.

Mr. Philip R. Brown, American Secretary of Legation, took charge of affairs at Tegucigalpa when the Hondurans evacuated their capital and turned the city over to the Nicaraguans when they entered.

Russian Drumhead Courts Abolished.

The Duma by an almost unanimous vote passed a resolution providing steps to abolish drumhead courts martial. Premier Stolypin made a conciliatory speech.

NURSE FINDS HUSBAND ON DISSECTING TABLE.

Kansas City.—By means of a deformed foot Mrs. William B. Turner, a trained nurse, was able to identify the body of her husband as it lay upon the dissecting table in the Hahnemann Medical College. The head had been removed. Mrs. Turner is now exerting every influence to have it found and restored, so that she may have the body decently buried. Turner had died at the City Hospital while his wife was attending a patient, and under the law the body had been turned over to the medical college. When the woman applied for admission to the dissecting room she was refused, but she soon displayed authority for her presence and was then allowed to enter. The moment she saw the deformed foot she cried out: "It is Will! Oh, my poor husband!" The hospital authorities and city officials are silent as to the case. It is said there will be an investigation.

BLACKSMITH SHOCKED TO DEATH CLIPPING HORSE.

Chicago.—Frank Tesmer, a horseshoer, was killed while clipping a horse by electric power. He was holding the steel clippers in his hand, when suddenly there came a blue streak from the ceiling. Tesmer was thrown against the wall of the shop and died instantly. The horse was also knocked down and killed. Linemen were at work on wires across the street, and in some way a wire charged with electricity of high voltage was thrown across the wire which furnished electricity for the clippers.

AGED WOMAN'S HAIR SHOWS REMARKABLE CHANGE.

Greenfield, Ind.—"Grandma Clayton is growing a full suit of black hair," was the announcement made concerning Mrs. Ruth Clayton, the oldest resident of Hancock County, 100 years old, and many of the pioneer's friends called upon her and were astonished to see the change that had come over her. Following a short spell of illness a few weeks ago Mrs. Clayton lost her hair, which was silvery. A few days ago her hair began to grow again.

FIFTEEN CENTS A DAY TOO MUCH FOR RICH MAN.

Omaha, Neb.—"Tar Title" Seaman, the eccentric Omaha man who has a fortune of about $200,000 and has boasted that it cost him only fifteen cents a day to live, has decided that his living expenses are too high for a man of his means and that he must cut them down. He never buys any but second hand clothing, but he says that this year he shall buy none at all. "I have figured on it," he said, "and I find that I can live well on twelve and a half cents a day, and I'm going to do it. Fifteen cents is too much."

SHARK BITES OFF SAILOR'S FINGER USED TO PLUG LEAK.

Washington, D. C.—A curious story illustrating the number and ferocity of the sharks that infest the harbor of Manila is reported in the mail just received at the insular bureau from the Philippines. As one of the boats of the little gunboat El Cano was being rowed out to the ship the plug in the bottom came out and J. J. Dunlap, a sailor, thrust a finger into the hole. The finger was immediately bitten off by a shark as I. amputated by a surgeon. As the lost finger was used to pull the trigger of the rifle the sailor will have to be retired.

John Burns Denounces Hardie.

John Burns, President of the Local Government Board, said in the House of Commons that nine-tenths of the schemes of James Kier Hardie were morally mischievous and economically unsound.

Oil Trust Puts Up Prices.

The Standard Oil Company advanced the price of all grades of gasoline, naphtha and refined oil in barrels one-fourth cent a gallon f. o. b. at Cleveland.

FAVORS A TEACHERS' UNION.

"I am the teachers' mantle"
In Denver have a plan
For gettin' 'em a raise.
Said little Billy Thane:
"I'd like to see 'em do it,
I think their motto should,
For us kids that they're teachin'
Twould do a lot of good.

"For instance, when they'd whip us,
The union rules would fix
It so they'd have to let up
With just so many licks.
They'd only touch us twice a week—
I bet there would be fun,
For then they couldn't keep us
In after school, you see.

"An' then, just think how dandy
'Twould be when they would strike!
They'd keep us away with a clear conscience,
Say—that's just what we'd like
Less here they get together
An' form a union quick
The present way it is do things
Sure makes us fellers sick."

The "Papaw" of the United States.

The two cultivated and six wild species of eastern North American shrubs and small trees, to which the name "papaw" is commonly applied by the Americans, are species of Asimina (natural order Anonaceae) closely related to the sweet sop or sugar apple of the tropics. The two cultivated species bear attractive flowers and edible fruits. One will grow in the open in New York State. The true papaw of the tropics, Carica Papaya, is not in any way related to the above-mentioned species. It is called in the United States "melon papaw" for the sake of distinction. It grows in the open only in South Florida; but is frequently grown in conservatories north of the frost line. —Agricultural News, Barbados.

Testing Locomotives Indoors.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has a plant at Altoona, Pa., for testing locomotives running at full speed indoors without traveling an inch, with apparatus for keeping an exact record of their pulling power, fuel consumption and every other element of efficiency and economy.

The amount of coal burned for the whole locomotive, the amount per square foot of grate, the evaporation of steam for any given length of time, the weight of cinders and sparks that go up the smokestacks, the boiler pressure, the number of gallons of water required and the friction of the mechanism are a few of the things ascertained at the testing plant. The test has the advantage of a road trial, and none of the interruptions, inconsistencies and irregularity.

Let us have a good meeting on Saturday.

Lawley.

On Friday, March 22, Prof. A. L. Grant's school closed near here, and it was one of the most successful schools ever taught in this community. Prof. Grant's geniality has won for him the highest esteem from both pupil and patron and his popularity among the people generally can somewhat be described by the royal way they came to see the close of the school, By one o'clock, at the invitation of Prof. Grant, people came pouring in and continued to do so until the crowd was extremely large.

This is the third year we have had the good fortune of having Prof. Grant and we were so very sorry to give him up, and hope we can get him again.

There were considerable outdoor exercises and it made us happy to see the children with their buoyant faces and confident expressions work and play their parts in such a way as to make it a perfect success. After the exercises closed we all returned to the house, where delightful refreshments consisting of fruits, cake, candy and lemonade were served. Then several of the patrons expressed their appreciation of the highly valued services of their teacher, and after a heartfelt "Thank you" from Prof. Grant, the school sang "Will you be there?" and with tear-dimmed eyes and hearts full of gratitude and love, we bade him good bye and returned home feeling that much good had been accomplished for the uplifting of our children and community at large. Prof. Grant returned to his home in Clanton with the good wishes of our entire community.

A SCHOOL BOY AND GIRL.

Griffin-Vance.

At the home of the bride's father on March 31, Mr. N. J. Griffin and Miss Allie Vance were happily married. It was a quiet marriage, only a few being present. The home was beautifully decorated. The bride was charmingly gowned in white, carrying white lillies and ferns. After the marriage the bridal party was invited to the dining room, where a bountiful supper was spread. The bride is one of Fairview's most charming young ladies; the groom is a splendid young man and is much to be congratulated. Our best wishes go with the happy young couple.

Death of Mrs R. A. Aldridge

Mrs. R. A. Aldridge died at her home in Clanton, last Friday, aged about 36 years. The deceased had been a sufferer of consumption for many months, but had only been confined to her bed for two weeks. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church, and leaves a husband and seven children to mourn the loss of a kind wife and devoted mother. The funeral services were held at the Methodist church Saturday morning, Rev. S. B. Turnipseed officiating, and interment was made in the Clanton cemetery. Our deepest sympathy is extended the bereaved ones.

SOUTHERN COTTON ASSOCIATION.

Mobile, March 30, 1907

Editor Banner—This will, or is intended, to inform the farmers, merchants, bankers, county officers and people at large of Chilton county, that the good work of the Southern Cotton Association as a State and National institution is yet a very live proposition, notwithstanding the prophecy of some that it has "Petered out" in Chilton county.

I, as the State Financial Agent for the Southern Cotton Association, have been doing some valuable work for past few weeks. The city of Montgomery has furnished my field up this week and I beg to report to the people of my county that the good people of Montgomery, not farmers, but mostly the business men, have contributed about fourteen hundred already, and I feel sure before I am through will increase it to fully two thousand dollars to the fund to carry on the good work of the Association.

I came to Greenville Tuesday, where, between the arrival of one train and the departure of the next, I collected easily $112.50, nearly half that amount at Evergreen on Wednesday, and Brewton, Thursday. Monday it will be my pleasure to start on an active canvass of the city of Mobile and will report to our meeting at Clanton, on April 6th, the result here.

Now then, I want to ask each and every reader of the Banner, together with its Editor, to attend our meeting at 10 o'clock next Saturday. Bring your pocket book along as well as your heart, for if your heart is not in this work then you are an iron man and do not deserve its profits. I trust my past efforts in behalf of this cause may be rewarded by such an attendance as was never seen before in our courthouse. I don't want office, mind you, but I do want a continuance of prosperity, and 10 and 11¢ cotton will do in future what it has in past two years and thereby enable the poor to become rich and the rich richer. So come one and all and let us have an old fashioned love feast next Saturday. Hope each paper will join in this effort by nice editorial comment this week. Yours truly,

F. A. GULLEDGE.

Many expressions of opinions are going the rounds from various editors as to the future of the Alabama Press Association. From them it is taken that there is some lack of appreciation of the real contest made by the Association before the legislature and which will be prosecuted in the courts if possible. The fight was not made for the mere continuation of the "exchange of courtesies" but for the inalienable right guaranteed to every man of this liberty loving nation to conduct his business as he chose, so long as he committed no crime nor defrauded any one. The contention before the legislature was, and before the courts will be, that the newspaperrs of Alabama have the right to exchange their commodity for anything they chose, be it railroad transportation, farm products, cord wood or what not and for a governor and legislature to say otherwise is to make an unjust discrimination and abridge the God given privilege of the free.

As to the future of the Alabama Press Association, while the inability to get transportation in exchange for space in the newspapers—should such come to pass—will undoubtedly lessen the attendance at the immediate meetings of the association, there is no reason for a belief that the organization will go out of business. Its purposes are founded deeper than the mere value of one contract and the Alabama Press Association will live under any circumstances and conditions that even a drastic administration state or national can devise.

The meeting for 1907 will be held some time in July in Montgomery and no member should think for a moment of not attending even if he has in reality to walk every step of the way.—Selma Journal.

Run-down People

the modern strength creator and body builder

Many people right here in this vicinity are all run down and hardly able to drag about—don't know what ails them.

"Such people need Vinol, our cod liver preparation without oil, which contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but from which the useless oil is eliminated and tonic iron added.

We ask every man, woman and child in this vicinity who is run down tired and debilitated to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Upchurch Drug co.

State Sunday School Convention.

The twenty-fourth annual Convention of the Alabama Sunday School Association will be held in the city of Birmingham, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 9, 10, 11 next. The basis of representation is as follows: All officers of the State Association, five delegates at large from each county, all ministers of the gospel, the superintendent and two other delegates from each Sunday school.

The railroads have granted a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip to delegates attending the Convention. The delegates will be entertained by the Sunday school workers of Birmingham.

For further information about the State Convention write to Joseph Carthel, General Secretary, Montgomery, Alabama, or to S. D. Monroe, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, 2021 ½, first ave., Birmingham.

Maplesville, March 28, 1907

Editor Banner—Please say in your next issue we failed to get the special train for the Sunday School State Convention on the Southern railway, that the fare will be as previously stated; but the delegates must go on one of the regular trains.

Yours truly,
T. U. CRUMPTON.

WHY

have a torpid liver when Herbine, the only liver regulator will help you? There is no reason why you should suffer from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Chills and Fever or any liver complaints, when Herbine will cure you. F. C. Waite, Westville, Fla., writes, "I was sick for a month with chills and fever, and after taking two bottles of Herbine am well and healthy." Sold by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

Love needs no definition. Men and women loved long before dictionaries were discovered.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

It is earnestly desired that Chilton county will give evidence of her interest in Sunday school work by sending a large delegation to the State Convention in Birmingham, April 9th 11th. It is hoped that county badges can be provided for all who go from Chilton. Especial attention is directed to the following announcement by Judge Carthel: "All delegates attending the Convention must bring credentials signed by the superintendent of the Sunday school. The plan of entertainment is as follows: Delegates will be given breakfast and lodging, lunch will be served at the church at noon and each delegate will be expected to provide for his own supper."

The many singings held throughout Chilton, demonstrate that our people know and appreciate good singing, therefore an especially attractive feature of this convention will be the chorus of 150 voices now in training by Prof. Alsorp, a well known musical director.

The program includes, W. C. Pearce of Chicago, teacher training superintendent and superintendent of the adult department of the International Sunday School Association; Prof. Leavell of Oxford, Miss., a field secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Rev. A. L. Phillips of Richmond, Va., general superintendent of Sunday school work for the Southern Presbyterian church. These three Sunday school specialists are of national reputation and will help to make this convention the most successful ever held. Separate conferences will be held for primary teachers and it is earnestly hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of this opportunity to become familiar with modern ways and methods.

COUNTY SECRETARY.

Letter to H. A. J. Harris.

Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir: Here's honesty for you! North Dakota has a pure paint law. Prof. Ladd, the state chemist analyzes a certain paint labled "contains only lead and zinc and strictly pure," and finds it no lead at all, a resinous oil, and benzine. It is, however, full measure and contains no water.

That's like the man on trial for killing his grandmother; proved that he didn't set fire to the house.

No lead, but zinc and barytes, resinous oil, and benzine—"strictly pure lead and zinc paint!"

Pure paint is lead-zinc-and oil; but that isn't all; there is such a thing as proportion and make. The strongest paint is Devoe.

North Dakota is doing a handsome thing in holding these confidence people up to scorn. She gives their names as well as their works.

Yours truly

Death of Piety Robinson.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson, March 21st, and took away their little daughter Piety, aged 6 years. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. Parents, you should not grieve for the departed little one but strive to meet her in the world above where there will be no more parting from loved ones. We know it is hard to give thee up, but thy will, oh God, be done; and parents, let it be a consolation to you to think that the little one has missed the trouble and hardships of this world and gained a home where there will be peace and happiness evermore.

Excelsior Bone Compound
High Grade English Acid Phosphate

These brands have been thoroughly tested by the most wide-awake farmers in the cotton states. Time is money; so don't waste your valuable time in trying NEW BRANDS that you know nothing about, when you can get these old established RELIABLE ONES.

None but the best and purest materials are used, such as raw and steamed bone, high grade bone phosphate of lime, dry and acidulated flesh from the slaughter houses of the West, dried blood, tankage, azotine, fish scrap and pure forms of potash.

MECHANICAL CONDITION.

We desire that buyers will particularly notice the mechanical condition of these goods. They are manufactured many months before they are shipped out. They lie in bulk so that all the materials become thoroughly amalgamated, and to this fact is their excellency largely due. All of these goods are carefully milled and screened before shipment.

ALL OF THESE GOODS ARE IN PERFECT MECHANICAL CONDITION and we believe that they are WORTH MORE MONEY to the farmer than goods that are not in perfect condition.

Itching, Bleeding Sores Covered Body —Nothing Helped Her—Cuticura Cures Her in Five Days.

"After my granddaughter of about seven years had been cured of the measles, she was attacked about a fortnight later by a furious itching and painful eruption all over her body, especially the upper part of it, forming watery and bleeding sores, especially under the arms, of considerable size. She suffered a great deal and for three weeks we nursed her every night, using all the remedies we could think of. Nothing would help. We tried the Cuticura Remedies and after twenty-four hours we noted considerable improvement, and, after using only one complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, in five consecutive days the little one, much to our joy, had been entirely cured, and has been well for a long time. I haven't passed a stone since using Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and that was three years ago. I used to suffer the most acute agony during a gravel attack, and had the other usual symptoms of kidney troubles — lassitude, headache, pain in the back, urinary disorders, rheumatic pain, etc. I have a box containing 14 gravel stones that I passed, but that is not one-quarter of the whole number. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a fine kidney tonic."

WOMAN'S REALMS

Garb of Pitbrow Lassies.

The pitbrow lassies of the Lancashire collieries wear trousers while engaged in their work, although at home and on Sundays female garments are donned. Possibly, however, the most remarkable "man-woman" in England at the present time is "Lady Jack," the daughter of a distinguished naval officer, who works on a farm near St. Mary Cray, dressed in a neat Norfolk skit, with cap, leggings and boots to match. Tall and muscular, she shares all the rough work with the laborers.—Tit-Bits.

Long Nails Denounced.

A German medical paper has been denouncing in no uncertain terms the popular custom of wearing long nails. "Even the rosy, well-kept nails of a beautiful woman's hand cannot be considered beautiful," writes this journal, "and involuntarily reminds one of an animal's claws. But many people even do not understand how to keep the long grown nail clean, and the sight of such a hand is downright disgusting. With the greatest cleanliness, however, the long, pointed nail may inflict an injury to the skin, and, as there is frequently an accumulation of disease germs under the apparent cleanliness, it very often adds infection to the injury. Such injuries can be inflicted upon one's own person, and also upon that of others, and mothers are liable to imperil their children, with whom they often come in close contact. The nail, therefore, should be worn short, ending directly above the tip of the finger, which it is, after all, intended only to protect. Nurses of the sick, in particular, should never have long nails, as they increase the possibility of their transmitting disease to the healthy."

The Pace That Kills.

In a word, greatness in womanhood is like greatness in nature. The mightiest forces in the realm in which men and women are called to do their work are the quietest and serenest forces! And just as we turn from the fierce gust of the hot sirocco that tears and roars and beclouds its way across the desert to the silent and sovereign sun that kisses the wide harvests into life, just so we turn from that fevered and overhurrying step which is too widely the gait of our modern life to a pace that is more deliberate, to speech that is less vehement—in a word, to a service that is quiet and unhurried and thorough.

"But the age," I hear some one say. "Do you not know that its whole spirit and habit are hostile to the ideal which you have painted?" Alas! I know it too well! And you and I know the wrecks of women—the victims, so often, we are told, of "nervous prostration"—who are its victims. All the more, fair sister, friend, wife, daughter, mother, whosoever you may be, does it belong to you to resist the drift and to hasten the pace! —Bishop Potter, in Harper's Bazar.

Watch For Each Gown.

Yes, it is evident, that next to the joy of owning valuable jewels comes the gratification of replacing them after they have been witched away, so no wonder the fashion of wearing the tiny flat watch dangling from a chain about one's neck still remains popular. These tiny timekeepers which tempt the hold-up are now no longer of gold with monograms on the back when worn by the fashionable maiden, but match her gown in color. It does not matter much about the make for no woman is expected to keep engagements on the dot, and a watch may be ten or fifteen minutes out of the way without giving the wearer a moment's worry. Of course women who can't have many watches will have to get one to "go" with all and it may appeal to any woman's fancy that chrysanthemums on a blue background will harmonize better with the majority of her frocks than one with pink or red roses on a cream background. Enameled watches hold the first place at present and a lovely one seen had a deep blue background with clusters of red, yellow and white chrysanthemums brought out in sharp relief by a dark surface color. Another had a cream background with tulips in vivid combinations or reds, yellows and pure white. The dials of both original timepieces were bright silver with rays radiating over the surface from the centre which gives a very dazling effect.—New York Press.

Favorite Perfumes.

Apropos of Queen Margherita's recent sojourn in Paris, during which she purchased some very rare and costly perfumery, the Parisian papers state that her favorite perfume is the odor of violets, and at the same time they enumerate the favorite perfumes of other queens. The French are particularly well informed about this matter, as almost all queens get their perfumes from Paris. This applies especially to the Czarina, who spends annually in the French capital no less than 50,000 francs for essences, pastes, soaps and toilet waters. She, too, is very fond of the perfume of violets prepared at Grasse for her special use from blossoms picked between five and six o'clock in the evening. In the Czarina's opinion this is the time when violets emit their most delicate perfume. Her Russian majesty has also a pronounced predilection for perfumes of all kinds. Every day all her rooms are sprinkled with all kinds of essences, such as lilac, jessamine, narcissus, jonquine and tuberose, and the air becomes so permeated with their fragrance as to make it sometimes unbearable to others. Queen Alexandra of England uses "essence bouquet," that mysterious perfume that has been in constant use in the English royal family since 1829, and the recipe for which has been handed down by the court druggists from father to son. It is prepared from musk, amber, essence of roses, violets, jessamine, orange blossoms and lavender. Queen Wilhelmina has a less complicated taste, being fond of eau de cologne, of which she uses half a litre daily. Soaps, pastes and powders she discards, as she believes a daily bath of seven minutes' duration, followed by a cold shower, quite sufficient to conserve her wonderful complexion, of which she may justly be proud.

MOTOR BOAT FISHING.

Revolutionizing the Fisheries in Iceland.

Consul B. S. Rasmusen, of Stavanger, furnishes the following translation, from a Norwegian newspaper, supplementing reports previously published that Iceland fishermen were adopting motor boats:

A complete revolution of the fisheries in Iceland is near at hand. Both the open boats and the sailing cutters disappear as fast as they are worn out. No new purchases of these are now being made. In the future fishing will be done almost exclusively with motor boats and steam trawlers, which give many times better results and do not require so large a crew. During the last two or three seasons there has been expended nearly $250,000 for motor boats, and they have given such good results that there are instances where a boat in the course of five months earned double its value, besides giving its master and crew an income equal to a well-paid officer's salary for the whole year.

At Westmanna Islands there were only two motor boats in 1905, and they gave so much better results than other boats that they have now purchased thirteen new ones for about $25,000.

But the trawlers have given still better results. A small trawler, owned by a company in Havnefjord, during 1906, earned enormous profits, which has led to the organization of two new trawling companies in Reykjavik, one of which is having a trawler built in England, while the other, with a capital of 100,000 kroners ($26,900), is buying one all complete at the same place.

This is only a small beginning. Purchases of new trawlers will in the near future increase so rapidly that in the course of five or ten years it will be possible to create a good-sized Icelandic trawling fleet. The main hindrance, of course, is the lack of home capital, but this is not insurmountable when the people first learn to unite.—United States Consular Reports.

Answered According to His Folly.

Queries of every conceivable kind come to a newspaper office. Some are sensible and some are not. Many are sincere in all their folly, and a few are unmistakable traps set for the unwary scribe. Most are of the proverbial kind, taking more than the wisdom of seven sages for their answering. But answers of some kind have to be found for a majority of them.

The other day some very ingenious or very sly person sent to an office a request to know whether hockey could be counted among aquatic sports. It was a puzzler. To answer a plain "no" would have been to issue a certificate of mental poverty on behalf of the whole staff. So the man most nearly concerned in the matter took counsel with his colleagues. The result was this reply:

"Not unless the player falls in."—New York Evening Post.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR APRIL 7, BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Jacob's Vision and God's Promise, Gen. 28:1-5, 10-22—Golden Text: Gen. 28:15—Memory Verses, 13, 14.

This story of the journey of Jacob from his father's house to get him a wife is replete with lessons that are supremely valuable for us to-day. We shall be very foolish if we spend our time in disputation over the chronology or the possibility of the events depicted in this record, while we miss the searching, beautiful truths contained in it.

Isaac's trust in the ability and willingness of God to continue to his son and to fulfill the promises that He had made to him, is the first message that we should take into our hearts. There is no note of hesitation or of questioning in the blessing that Isaac bestows upon Jacob. Get thee out, into a prouer and wisely selected country, and seek a wife; and God bless thee with the blessing of thy fathers. So Isaac speaks to Jacob. There is no doubt in his mind concerning the efficiency of God. He has full faith in the Divine fidelity.

The Vision that came to Jacob, as he lay asleep with stones for his couch, contains three striking lessons: First, of the Divine reality; second, of the Divine contiguity; third, of the Divine providence.

In the dream Jacob is certified, first of all, of the reality of God. The ladder stretching from earth to Heaven, with the angels of Jehovah ascending and descending upon it, is but an incident in the dream. We shall be unwise if we allow this to obscure our clear vision of the Lord. "Behold, the Lord stood above it," the sacred writer tells us. And that is the first great fact that the dream certified to Jacob, the fact of the reality of God. The ladder was to direct his attention to God. The angels ascending and descending had their impulse from the God whom Jacob discerned at the top of the ladder. They were to Jacob the Divine means and method of communication. They were incidental to the discovery, in a peculiar fashion, to the mind of Jacob, of the fact that God is. No man can do much for God unless he has a lively consciousness of the actuality of God. No man can be expected to have respect for Divine decrees and Divine promises until he has had a vision of divinity. We cannot have respect, adoration, love for a being of whose existence we are ignorant or sceptical. It was necessary that Jacob should have a vision of God for himself; a special, intimate, personal comprehension of the reality of God. What was necessary for Jacob, what proved of such value in his life; that is necessary in the life of every man, and it will be inspirational to every soul to which it is experiential.

Jacob, further, was assured in his dream of the fact of the Divine contiguity; that is to say, of the Divine nearness. God was not so far away that He could not be seen. He was just at the top of the ladder. He was clearly and easily visible. Jacob didn't have to strain his eyes to catch the vision of Jehovah. The Lord was near enough for Jacob to discern His lineaments and to hear the sound of His voice. God was at hand. He was very near. And this was another lesson that Jacob needed to learn for himself. He had to be impressed with the sense of the nearness of Jehovah. The further we picture God away, the less likely we are to be assiduous in His service. One of the greatest motives to righteousness in the world is the conception that God is always near. We cannot follow an "absentee God" with any burning zeal. But we fain would love and die for a God who is always by our sides. The sense of the contiguity of God made Jacob a better man. It will better any man who is conscious of its truth.

Then, too, Jacob received the assurance of a Divine providence. This God who was real and near, beautifully real and delightfully near, supervises and directs the lives of those who love Him and are amenable to His will. Jacob needed the assurance of the Divine guidance. This was a marvellous promise that God gave to him. It was almost beyond human comprehension. Jacob was but a man. And not the most characterful man in the world. Evidently he was an average man. And, being like the rest of us, he needed to know that the promising Father is also the enabling Lord. And we, being like Jacob, need to learn this salient truth also.

Critics tell us that the promise of Jacob to give God a tithe of his substance, in recognition of His guiding, is an interpolation by another hand at a later time. We shall not debate that. We shall grasp the truth that the church needs. The God of the faiths of Jacob and of America is deserving of at least a tenth of the income of every man. The money question will be solved in the church when Christians devote a specific portion of their income, of one-tenth or more, to the Lord's work. And it will never be solved until we do.

Of course Jacob was wrong when he said that Beth-el was the gate of Heaven. And of course Jacob was right when he said it. No particular spot under the skies is the gate of Heaven. But every place may be a gateway unto God. The gate is universally wide; it is open everywhere to the man who will use his eyes.

Asthma.

Those who have seen the struggles of a victim of asthma realize how bad the trouble is, yet it is very largely an affection of the nerves. In many cases the patient wants to exhale, and cannot finish before there is a spasmodic attempt to inhale. The effort to breathe out and breathe in meet in the middle, as it were, with the result that the patient can do neither, and simply struggles and gasps. A doctor conceived the idea of putting his hands, one on the back and the other on the front of the chest, and squeezing the air out to help the inspiration. When the lungs were deflated, inhalation was easy. After several manoeuvers of this sort the patient expressed relief from the straining and struggling—American Cultivator.

is no respecter of age, and it is just as common a condition among children as it is with their parents.

The condition is far more likely to reach an acute stage, develop seriously with the little folks, because of the difficulty in detecting it.

Many a child has died from constipation, or illness arising from it, when it might have been saved by the timely use of

Dr. Caldwell's
(Laxative)
Syrup Pepsin

This is the greatest remedy known for correcting constipated conditions.

Don't wait until your child is affected, but administer a dose of the medicine occasionally.

You will notice a perceptible change for the better, a healthy color and a livelier disposition.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a good thing to have in the house, because it is good for the whole family.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Mothers write today.

Adams.

Dear Editor—I want to drop a few words to your grand paper if you will allow me the space. Our school closed the 22nd of March, 1907. It was the grandest success ever known in Adams district.

We had several cynics in our school, but it was carried out to the finish; we pushed them out of our minds and the teacher and balance of patrons united and carried the school on just the same. Every child that attended the school was perfectly satisfied, and they didn't fail to show it for they exercised every means in their power for improvement. I am sure hey will be blessed by their creator, for he says in his holy word: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Every one was sorry to see that day come, and I think if the people could have done without their children longer, it wouldn't have closed so soon as it did; nevertheless we had a great day.

The people assembled about 11 o'clock, chatted an hour and then prepared dinner, and such a dinner as our district had never experienced before. All ate until they were damaged, althongh I hope there won't be any suit for damage.

After dinner all went into the house, and heard a grand exercise, which was displayed by the school. Right along in harmony with this was the music of Messrs. A. Latham and R. Lenoir, which made the vibration of the air much more pleasing to the ears of everyone. They will long be remembered for the music they afforded.

God bless the Editor and readers of the Banner.

Unity.

Health of this community is very good at present, except Mrs. Foster who is ill, but we hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. Will Thacker of Birmingham spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives.

Mrs. Juliss Foshee returned home last Wednesday, after staying a week with her son, Mr. G. O. Foshee.

Miss Ola Jones spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Messrs. Lyne Baker and Lonnie Teel of Boyles visited homefolks Sunday.

Miss. Lula Fraser of Saginaw, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Grant, returned home last Thursday.

SUBSCRIBER.

Rest is the great restorer. we tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug Co.

Saginaw.

The egg hunt Saturday evening given by Miss Eunice Brown was very much enjoyed by the children. The Easter service at the Methodist church was a grand success. A large crowd attended the ice cream supper in the grove Saturday night and report a nice time.

Mr. Murrah happened to the misfortune of getting his dwelling burned down last week.

Misses Effie and Mamie Crim of Ocampo visited the Misses Hales Sunday.

Mr. Tom McArrel of Ocampo visited his sister Mrs. T. M. Dunlap

Miss Lula Fraser has returned home from a long visit to her sister Mrs. John Grant.

Mrs. E. W. Gray visited Birmingham Friday.

Miss Ruby Willians and brother of Stanton are visiting ralatives and friends at this place.

Miss Irene Smith and Miss Lula Fraser visited Pelham Monday.

Mr. Frank Hester went to Clanton Saturday.

A large crowd attended the Sunday school convention at Ebenezer Sunday and report a nice time.

Mr. Arch Wells visited his home at Jemison Sunday.

Mr. T. M. Dunlap visited Calera lately.

Master Hushel Dunlap is visiting Lamar Gray this afternoon.

VIOLET.

She Was Careful.

Spats—That old maid, Miss Van Shelf, is the most careful and methodical boarding mistress I have ever had disturbing my den. Socratoots—Yes; I can imagine when she goes to heaven she will want in summer time to lay away her wings in camphor balls.

Light Restored.

"There are many more women living than I used to think."

"Is that so?"

"Yes. Before I married I used to think my wife was the only woman in the world."

Illuminated.

Benedick—That luminous paint is a splendid thing. Singleton—What do you use it for? Benedick—We paint the baby's face, so we can give him a drink in the night without lighting the gas.

TYNER'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.
Many Have Dyspepsia and don't Know It Read Symptoms.

Do you belch up wind? Do you taste your food for an hour or more after eating? Do you see specks or haze before your eyes? Are you pale and haggard? Does your heart flutter? Are you dizzy at times? Do you have pains in side or back? Do you have risings or pimples on the skin? Are you low spirited? Is there a sour taste in your stomach? Is your breath bad? If so you have Dyspepsia, and it is a dangerous condition, don't delay, but take Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy as directed on label. It is made for just such troubles and symptoms. Tyner's Dyspepsia remedy removes acids from the stomach, strengthens weak stomachs, helps digest your food, stops all aches and pains, stops fluttering of the heart, (sometimes called heart disease.) By making the food digest, new blood is made and all pimples disappear. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, sold by druggists, 50c a bottle. Money refunded if it fails to cure. Sold in Clanton by Florence Drug Store: call or write; remedy sent by express.

Evergreen.

Editor Banner—School having closed at Evergreen, I wish to express my appreciation of the kindness accorded me by her people. To make mention of any few would not be doing justice to others, for during my stay of seven months among them they all seemed to never tire of anything that would tend to inspire and elevate the community. They were always ready to accomodate me in any way possible. I never asked a favor of them that wasn't granted.

When I began teaching there they stood greatly in need of desks, boards, and other school furnishings which were readily procured and paid for by the patrons, pupils, and friends. And they didn't only pay for other furnishings but they also "paid the teacher."

I cannot fail to make mention of the dutiful and studious pupils. They are excellent boys and girls, both at home and at school. They are all farmers children and have less opportunities of attending school than some children, yet they show their worth by improving their time when an opportunity presents itself. I hope that I may always teach such pupils.

While teaching there I learned to love them all. I was always glad to meet them in the morning and sorry to part in the afternoon. In fact I enjoyed my work and stay there very much. I wish to recommend the community to any teacher who thinks they are liable to teach there.

They also have a growing Sunday school superintended by Mr. W. J. Johnson who ably fills the place. my love and good wishes are with them in all their undertakings; may they always be as faithful to duty as they were to me, is my earnest desire.

Very respectfully.

LOTTIE JOHNSON.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. SARAH A. COLE, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

A CARD.

We take this method to thank the people of Clanton for their co-operation with us in our recent Bazaar. We cleared $61.10. We are grateful for the use of the Court House which was tendered us by the Judge and thank him for his many courtesies.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Editor Banner—Please allow me, through a space in your valuable paper the opportunity, to express my thanks to your readers and friends that patronized me during my brief stay on the brickyard in Thorsby, Ala. I regret having to leave so soon. I am sorry to say that Mr. J. L. Burnett and family have received nothing but slander and injustice for all their kindness and shelter extended to me when the house burned down, with everything I had. Concluding by wishing the Banner and all its readers success, I remain,

Their sincere friend,
CHAS. M. SVENSON.

Verbena.

Editor Banner—Will you give me a small space in your good paper? I have been traveling around some the last week and it makes me feel good to see the farmers all getting along so nicely with their work. All have their land in good shape for planting cotton; corn up and looking nice. Good gardens at every place; everybody in good heart. Mr. Gulledge writes as it his work is going to do the farmers good in getting the worth of their cotton. We truly hope that it will, and if it will do the farmers good we hope he will go on with his good work.

We have a good and nice little Methodist preacher this year, and we all like him very much.

Am very sorry to know that Mr. B. Nelson is down sick with rheumatism. Truly hope he will be up and out again soon; he is missed very much, he is always willing and ready to serve the customers.

Wadsworth-Temple.

Mr. W. W. Wadsworth and Mrs. Fannie Temple were happily married on the 3d inst. at Prattville in the parlor of the Mims hotel. The marriage was most beautiful. The bride and groom, with friends and relatives, arrived in Prattville on the 11 o'clock train and immediately repaired to the hotel where they were met by a host of friends and relatives. The bride received the wedding presents in her room.

A most excellent dinner was served at 1 o'clock, and all the good things were greatly enjoyed by the guests. They were married immediately after dinner, Judge Livingston officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in drab silk, carrying a lovely boquet of hair fern and pink carnations. After many cheerful and happy congratulations, the happy couple left on the 2 o'clock train amid showers of rice and many cheers and good wishes. The bride is a kind, loving and estimable lady, and the groom is a man of large ability and a well known gentleman, both of Wadsworth, Ala. May their lives ever be as bright and beautiful as was the day and marriage. A FRIEND.

Adams

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to the communication from this place in last weeks issue who signed his name Jack. I suppose Jack had reference to the school taught by Mr. J. J. Walker.

I will say to Jack and the public that there were seven so called cynics or seven patrons that opposed J. J. Walker teaching to three in favor of him, yet Jack claims a grand success. I will only leave it to the judgment of the public to say what a success could come from such a one-sided affair as that was; am quite sure it would take three wide-awake patrons and an up-to-date teacher only a short time to unite and push things to a finish. I suppose Jack meant they pushed the dinner to a finish, as such a dinner was never experienced before in Adams district. I will say that I am sure that Jack never visited the schools at Adams in the past, if so please recall the schools taught by Mrs. A. G. Dunlap, Miss Birdie Cunningham, and no longer than last summer the school taught by Mrs. Ettamae Apperson, then you can say success and good will with a clear conscience.

Just a word or two to the one who signed her name "One of the Girls" I will say I hardly think she lives in Adams district at all, and am sure she does not know any more as to the management of the school taught by Mr. Walker than a goat. Also when Prof. J. J. Walker teaches another public school in Adams district No. 6, school No. 1, there will be more hearts made to rejoice, more music and better music than the L. L. Band on the school ground than was on the 22d of March 1607.

Success to the Banner and it's readers. CITIZEN.

Cured of Rheumatism

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscle so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

IN MEMORIAM.

On March 31st, 1907, the death angel visited the home of Mr. Jack Rasberry and called home to glory his loving wife, Nancy Rasberry. She leaves a husband and two children and a host of friends to mourn her loss. But weep not dear ones, for we assure you your loss is heaven's gain.

Mrs. Rasberry was a true Christian and was loved by all who knew her. The remains was laid to rest at Salem cemetery.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Editor Banner—Please allow me, through a space in your valuable paper the opportunity, to express my thanks to your readers and friends that patronized me during my brief stay on the brickyard in Thorsby, Ala. I regret having to leave so soon. I am sorry to say that Mr. J. L. Burnett and family have received nothing but slander and injustice for all their kindness and shelter extended to me when the house burned down, with everything I had. Concluding by wishing the Banner and all its readers success, I remain,

Their sincere friend,
CHAS. M. SVENSON.

Verbena.

Editor Banner—Will you give me a small space in your good paper? I have been traveling around some the last week and it makes me feel good to see the farmers all getting along so nicely with their work. All have their land in good shape for planting cotton; corn up and looking nice. Good gardens at every place; everybody in good heart. Mr. Gulledge writes as it his work is going to do the farmers good in getting the worth of their cotton. We truly hope that it will, and if it will do the farmers good we hope he will go on with his good work.

We have a good and nice little Methodist preacher this year, and we all like him very much.

Am very sorry to know that Mr. B. Nelson is down sick with rheumatism. Truly hope he will be up and out again soon; he is missed very much, he is always willing and ready to serve the customers.

Wadsworth-Temple.

Mr. W. W. Wadsworth and Mrs. Fannie Temple were happily married on the 3d inst. at Prattville in the parlor of the Mims hotel. The marriage was most beautiful. The bride and groom, with friends and relatives, arrived in Prattville on the 11 o'clock train and immediately repaired to the hotel where they were met by a host of friends and relatives. The bride received the wedding presents in her room.

A most excellent dinner was served at 1 o'clock, and all the good things were greatly enjoyed by the guests. They were married immediately after dinner, Judge Livingston officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in drab silk, carrying a lovely boquet of hair fern and pink carnations. After many cheerful and happy congratulations, the happy couple left on the 2 o'clock train amid showers of rice and many cheers and good wishes. The bride is a kind, loving and estimable lady, and the groom is a man of large ability and a well known gentleman, both of Wadsworth, Ala. May their lives ever be as bright and beautiful as was the day and marriage. A FRIEND.

Adams

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to the communication from this place in last weeks issue who signed his name Jack. I suppose Jack had reference to the school taught by Mr. J. J. Walker.

I will say to Jack and the public that there were seven so called cynics or seven patrons that opposed J. J. Walker teaching to three in favor of him, yet Jack claims a grand success. I will only leave it to the judgment of the public to say what a success could come from such a one-sided affair as that was; am quite sure it would take three wide-awake patrons and an up-to-date teacher only a short time to unite and push things to a finish. I suppose Jack meant they pushed the dinner to a finish, as such a dinner was never experienced before in Adams district. I will say that I am sure that Jack never visited the schools at Adams in the past, if so please recall the schools taught by Mrs. A. G. Dunlap, Miss Birdie Cunningham, and no longer than last summer the school taught by Mrs. Ettamae Apperson, then you can say success and good will with a clear conscience.

Just a word or two to the one who signed her name "One of the Girls" I will say I hardly think she lives in Adams district at all, and am sure she does not know any more as to the management of the school taught by Mr. Walker than a goat. Also when Prof. J. J. Walker teaches another public school in Adams district No. 6, school No. 1, there will be more hearts made to rejoice, more music and better music than the L. L. Band on the school ground than was on the 22d of March 1607.

Success to the Banner and it's readers. CITIZEN.

Considering how strict the laws are about the speed limit, it is astonishing, to the Somerville Journal, how many people won't think for a moment of buying an automobile that cannot run sixty miles an hour.

Compared with the extraordinary progress in mechanics, the state of the roadbeds of the railways is still so primitive that very high rates of speed must be attended with danger, especially at sharp curves, declares the Boston Globe.

The old maids of a Massachusetts town want the bachelors taxed heavily up to forty years of age and then chloroformed. This in face of the physiological fact that as man approaches his second childhood he becomes an easier mark, exclaims the Atlanta Constitution.

Quite often a young man spends the whole afternoon thinking out what he is going to say to the girl when he proposes, and then in the evening forgets it all, and never knows afterward what it was he did say. However, the girls look after such things, so that generally he gets out all right.

The president of the Underwriters' Association says life insurance fell off $400,000,000 last year and blames it all on Tom Lawson and the newspapers. On this line of reasoning, muses the New York American, a house burns down not from the flames, but because somebody yells "Fire!"

In the interest of the public health milk not officially certified to be pure should be pasteurized. In Berlin, where the dairies are cleaner than in this country, practically all the milk consumed is pasteurized. Trained veterinarians control the dairies. Municipal ownership is being credited with the shrinkage in value of municipal securies in Britain. This linking of cause and effect would be more effective if many other securities had not also shrunk in value, suggests the Toronto Globe. The high rates of interest and tempting offers for investment have a natural effect on the value of securities yielding a low and fixed return.

It was in July, 1865, that General Booth, struck by the condition of London's East Side poor, founded the Christian Mission, which developed in 1878 into the Salvation Army. In less than thirty years he has seen this organization grow until now it is in fifty-two countries, with more than seven thousand societies and nearly twenty thousand officers. It is estimated that in one year the Army supplies to the destitute over seven million meals.

President Roosevelt's "mollycoddle" is no new member, declares Victor Smith, in the New York Press. The word was used centuries ago by old English writers to designate an effeminate, and has been in almost constant use ever since. A "molly" is a husband who stays around the house too much, meddling with the domestic affairs of which his wife should have charge. "To molly" is to follow the wife about to see that the household duties are not slighted and to find fault with everything.

VARDMAN TACKLES THE RACE PROBLEM

Repeal of Fifteenth Amendment Issue of Mississippi Campaign.

DECLARES NEGRO HOPELESS

Millions Spent in Education Has not Helped the Race—Only the Strictest Guard Has Kept It Under Control. Pleads That the Ballot Is a Mistake.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—Gov. James K. Vardaman in his opening speech at Poplarville in his race for the United States senate against John Sharp Williams devoted most of his time to discussion of the race problem, intimated that he proposed to make it the issue throughout the campaign, that if elected to the senate he proposed to keep the subject in the halls of national legislation and proposed to devote odd time to the discussion of the subject before northern audiences.

Although the fact that Governor Vardaman would open his campaign at Poplarville was not generally advertised except by word of mouth, there was a large gathering, not only of the residents of Pearl River county, but of politicians all over Southeast Mississippi. A number of other candidates for state offices were also present some of them being on the stump down in this part of the country and others having come down with the governor from Jackson.

Governor Vardaman spoke in the court room. He was introduced felicitously by Hon. Theodore B. Bilbo, himself a candidate for the state senate.

"I am not here," said the governor "to criticise the record of any other democrat who may want to go to the United States senate. If I had to go to the senate by criticising my opponent's record I would spurn the office."

Race Problem.

"I am going to discuss the race problem. It is the greatest problem before our people. It is not a local question. It becomes local when the state is given the power to deal with it. Under the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments it cannot be dealt with as a local question."

Governor Vardaman read from a magazine article by Thomas Nelson Page, and also quoted approvingly a part of an editorial in the New Orleans Times-Democrat of that day.

"The fourteenth and fifteenth amendments," he continued, "prevent any sort of discrimination on account of race by the states. How is the white man going to control the government? The way we do it now is to pass laws to fit the white man, and make the others come to them. There are 50,000 more negroes than whites of voting age in the state of Mississippi. If the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments were enforced to the strict spirit in Mississppi every office in the state government and in more than half the counties would be filled with negroes. But the white man is going to rule in this state as in every other state, and if it is necessary every negro in the state will be lynched in order to maintain white supremacy. The fifteenth amendment ought to be wiped out. We all agree on that. Then why don't we do it? We are told that we must sit here and rot and suffer moral deterioration till we hear from the north. They say it can't be done. The United States constitution ought to be changed to effect this end."

Governor Vardaman read from an old magazine a symposium, wherein it was shown that Senator Lamar, Gen. Wade Hampton and Alexander H. Stephens took the position that the enfranchisement of the negro was correct and that the negro should never be disfranchised, having once been goven the ballot.

"So," continued the speaker, "if we in the south sit supine and some man up in Maine in the course of time proposes to disfranchise the negro, it will be necessary only for somebody to get up and say, 'What are you howling for up in Maine? Down in the south the white people seem to be satisfied with conditions as they are.'

Government Builder.

"You cannot nullify the fifteenth amendment without violating the law. I do not think the best educated negro on earth is as capable of understanding the theory of our government as is the least educated white man of sound mind. One is a government builder by nature; the other a government destroyer. The question is not a new one. Ancient Egypt 6,000 years ago had the same race problem. Here in the south we have spent millions of dollars and given precept and example and encouragement to develop the negro, and yet he is ten times more criminal than when he was given his liberty and enfranchised.

"I do not despair of solving the race problem. While it is said that as governor I have accomplished nothing in the way of carrying out my policies with regard to negro education, I did not promise to cary out my theories, but to do the best I could to carry them out. Every candidate for governor now in the field is standing on my platform. In the past few years there have been four brute crimes committed by negroes within the very shadow of the state capitol at Jackson. Every home in the Capital City is guarded at night by a man or boy big enough to shoot a gun. It is the same here in Poplarville. It is the same all over the south. But if it were not for this guard—if this guard were raised for one night only the crimes that would be committed before morning would shock the world. And this after hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent on the education of the negro. And yet we are told to sit still and wait for something to turn up.

Separate Province.

"Mississippi is not a separate province. Forty years ago our fathers went out with their guns to establish a new nation, and I am not prepared to say that I am glad they failed. Unless the negro question shall be solved even the north may be sorry we did not win. It is nonsense to ask us to sit here till we putrify. Let us stir things up. Why are our vacant lands not filled with good white settlers from the north? Because northern immigrants cannot stand the presence of the negro here. How can the fifteenth amendment be set aside? The negro is the most impressionable creature there is. If every negro in the country were today put back into slavery nine-tenths of them would acquiesce with perfect good humor. Take the best educated negro you know and wrap a toe nail in a piece of hair and bury it and you can make him leave home. In not less than ten thousand years could the barbaric nature be eradicated which the negro has acquired fro ma hundred thousand years of dirt eating, fetish worshiping in the jungles of Africa.

One of His Hobbies.

"I may have my hobbies. This negro question may be a hobby of mine. If I shall go to the United States senate I shall never make a speech in that body without introducing this hobby. I shall in the meantime discuss it among northern audiences. I do not doubt that the veterans of the north who shouldered their muskets and came down here to fight for a sentiment will do us justice and know the facts of the case as we know them and feel them."

Governor Vardaman closed his address with a flowery tribute to the ladies, of whom there were many in the audience.

Railway in Chile.

Valparaiso.—The government has accepted the German and Belgian syndicate's proposal to survey a great longitudinal railway.

Troops in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg.—Large bodies of troops, including dragoons and Cossacks, are pouring into St. Petersburg as they did previous to the dissolution of the first parliament.

Selmians Watch Tornado Break Up.

Selma, Ala.—A small cyclone passed over the country across the river from here. The cyclone came from the southwest direction and folowed the river, but when opposite the city it stopped hugging the ground and went up in the rai, where citizens saw the whirling and dust laden winds bound up and down.

When opposite the eastern part of the city the clouds went to pieces, but bark from trees and other small debris was hurled across the river as far north as the Southern railroad tracks. What damage the cyclone caused in the country south of here has not been learned yet, but it is reported that a negro house was blown down and that a negro man was killed. This report has not been confirmed, but a large number of trees in the track of the wind were blown up. The bursting of the cyclone was followed here by a small hail storm.

Seal Up Coaches of the King's Train.

Madrid.—Great precautions are being taken by the Saragossa and Alicante Railway Company with regard to the coaches on the special train which will convey King Alfonso and his mother, Queen Christina, on their journey to Cartagena to meet King Edward and Queen Alexandra. The company has affixed seals to the doors of all the coaches in the train and has detailed a special watch to guard the coaches night and day. This watch has been ordered to allow nobody to approach the coaches, not even employes of the company.

Big Cotton Deal.

LaGrange, Ga.—Probably the largest single cotton transaction ever made here was consummated when 2,000 bales were sold through J. E. Dunson to the Consolidated Cotton Duck Corporation, of Baltimore. The price, it is understood, was about 11 cents, and a check was issued for about $110,000 for the whole lot.

The cotton belonged to Messrs. J. E. Dunson, J. M. Barnard, W. A. Reeves and others, of the Troup company, and was stored in the new warehouse of the Troup company at LaGrange.

Greene and Gaynor Case.

New Orleans, La.—A new trial has been asked for Green and Gaynor by P. W. Meldrim, of Savannah, who made the closing argument for the defendants in their appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

Argument on the appeal closed with Mr. Meldrim's speech, and the court took the case under consideration. Judges Shelby, Pardee and McCormick constitute the court.

ROUTE OF 300 MILES.

Alexandria, La., First Felt Brunt of Its Force, Several Deaths Occurring, the Storm Then Sweeping East.

New Orleans, La.—Probably fifteen lives were blotted out by a tornado which swept across portions of three gulf states, which was distinctly traceable for a distance of 300 miles and which took about eleven hours in crossing this zone.

The tornado moved from west to east, crossing the southern extremities of Louisiana and Mississippi and striking into Alabama for a short distance. Portions of four towns were devastated and damage probably exceeding $500,000 was done. In addition to the places in which the tornado manifested fatal violence, the disturbance did general damage to property, crops, telegraph and telephone wires throughout its 300-mile course.

The tornado began at Alexandria, La., soon after 1 o'clock in the morning, killing four persons there, probably fatally injuring three more and seriously injuring thirteen others. Soon after daylight it neared the Mississippi river, killing five persons at Jackson, La., while at Bayou Sara, La., at least half a dozen others are reported killed. There was one fatal injury at Jackson. The tornado next appeared at Carson, Miss., where great property damage was done, and the last heard of it was about noon near Selma, Ala., where the inhabitants saw whirling clouds rise into the air as they crossed the river. One death, a negro, was reported near Selma, although not confirmed.

ROADS AND MEN SIGN UP.

Commissioners Knapp and Neill Leave for Their Homes.

Chicago, Ill.—The general agreement which was reached between all the western roads and their employes in the train service through the mediation of Commissioners Knapp and Neill was signed and the committee which had been in almost continuous session here for the past three months left for their homes.

The Brotherhood of Firemen, which has been negotiating for several weeks for practically the same demands as the trainmen and conductors, have about reached an agreement with the roads. It is the general belief that the firemen will be granted the same concessions as the conductors and trainmen.

IN BROWNSVILLE INQUIRY.

Senate Committee on Military Affairs Takes Recess to May 14.

Washington, D. C.—The senate committee on military affairs, which is making an investigation of the Brownsville affray, has agreed to take a recess until May 14. It is not thought likely that the committee will go to Brownsville until fall, when a trip will be made merely for the purpose of giving the committee an opportunity to look over the town and see for themselves the marks of bullets in the various buildings. It is not intended to examine witnesses in any place except Washington.

At Friday's session Senator Warren cross-examined Maj. Jos. P. O'Neil, of the Thirteenth Infantry, and Lieut. H. K. Leckie, of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, two of the officers who conducted tests at Fort McIntosh to see whether the race of men in uniform could be distinguished on clear night. Nothing material was developed.

$189,000 to Corrupt City.

Dayton, O.—The grand jury has returned indictments on ten counts against George H. Smart, former secretary of the Dayton Gas and Light and Coke Company. The whereabouts of Smart are unknown. One report says he is somewhere in Florida, and another in Mexico. The total amount of the alleged shortage is about $189,000. It is claimed a greater part of the alleged shortage was used to secure municipal legislation favorable to Record Gifts by Andrew Carnegie.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The gift of $6,000,000 to the Carnegie Institute, announced by Andrew Carnegie, swells the amount given by Mr. Carnegie to the library, institute and technical schools here to $19,620,000 and raises the total of his benefactions in Greater Pittsburg to $32,500,000.

It is said this is the largest sum given by any individual to any one community in all history.

Tailors Strike.

Berlin.—A general strike of tailors and cutters has begun throughout Germany. Ten thousand men are involved.

Seventh Cardinal.

Rome.—It is announced that the seventh cardinal, to be created at the consistory to be held April 15, will be Monsignor Aguirre Y. Garcia, bishop of Burgos, Spain.

Southern Agricultural

Modern Methods That Are Helping Farmer, Fruit Grower and Stock

Profit in Cowpeas.

The development of agriculture in the Augusta cotton district is due largely to cowpeas. There is no crop that has been more profitable during the last ten years than the cowpea and this season they have been more profitable than ever. The country is beginning to realize what a great crop they are, and peas are now bringing above $2 per bushel. Even at that price the demand cannot be supplied, and the farmers will have difficulty in getting a supply of seed.

In Augusta one warehouseman has handled over 50,000 bushels of cowpeas this season, and it is certain that he has therefore handled more cowpeas than any other man in the world. This year the cotton crop of Augusta was very short and the pea crop has proven a sort of a blessing in disguise, so to speak, in more ways than one. While the crop was primarily planted as a soil renovator and improver, the fine weather last season permitted the farmers to gather the entire crop and it has proved a sort of a bridge over the gulf for many a farmer.

The value of the cowpea crop for hay, pasturage, soil renovation and seed, places it easily in the front ranks as a profitable Southern crop, and to-day we are paying $22 to $25 per ton for cowpea hay. What more profit could any man ask for in any way? The eleven-cent cotton does not equal it as a crop when labor and cost is included, and besides that the improvement in the land is a great consideration.

No matter what prospects are in sight the farmers of the whole State of Georgia would do well to consider the value of the cowpea crop and plant them by all means and when the time to gather them comes be sure and do it. The farmers must recognize their value. One of the most progressive farmers in our county told me quite recently that he would plant them even if he had to pay $5 per bushel for seed. There are numerous varieties, and while down in South Georgia and some other sections there is difficulty found in getting them to withstand the wilt, it will be found that the Iron cowpea obviates this difficulty and a good crop can be grown.

So above all things remember that the cowpea crop is one of Georgia's greatest blessings. It provides pasturage to get cattle in good shape to stand the winter, improves land, makes valuable hay, and is profitable as a seed crop. Nothing else can equal it, and nothing else requires such little labor or will grow on such poor land.—J. C. McAuliffe, in the Southern Cultivator.

The Double Row System.

Lay off your row six feet wide; subsoil this furrow, or double furrow, so as to throw it out well and break the land deep. Drill your stable manure or compost in this furrow, if you have any, if not, put in 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer. Then list on this furrow, so your list furrows will be sixteen inches apart; these will constitute your double rows. Drill in 100 pounds fertilizer per acre and stir or mix it with the soil by running a small scooter of subsoil in the bottom of these two furrows. Drop or drill in your corn and cover lightly with double plow. When corn comes up you can do first working by running small plow or colter between the rows. This will be the only time you can plow between these double rows. Hoe thin and replant. At second plowing run around the double rows. At third plowing put 100 pounds fertilizer in this siding furrow and side with wider scrape, or better, with a cultivator. When you lay-by, drill 100 or 200 pounds guano in the middle and lay-by level. This gives you 800 pounds of guano per acre. You see, this will virtually have your fertilizer broadcast, but you do not apply it all at once; instead you feed the corn gradually, as it needs nourishment, and do not over-stimulate the corn in the beginning or cause an excess of stalky growth at the expense of the ears. We forgot to say the corn should be left sixteen inches in the drill. Our father made seventy-six bushels of corn per acre on very poor land, that never had any previous manuring to bring it up. But after enriching this land it made one bale of cotton per acre in 1906, though it has been rented out for fifteen years. This is one reason we like to encourage our farmers in making large yields—there is nothing like once getting your land rich. Everything helps you to keep it so, while the opposite is true if your land is poor.—J. B. Hunnicutt.

Columbus Closes Contract.

Columbus, Ga.—The water commission has closed a contract with the Hudson Engineering Company, of New York, to furnish the city with 2,000,000 gallons of artesian water every day for five years for the sum of $85,000. The company is to begin work at once and has sixty days in which to demonstrate the feasibility of their offer, and if successful the contract will be made permanent.

CRASH IS WORK OF TRAIN WRECKERS.

Fast Pennsylvania Passenger Goes Down Embankment.

HIGH SPEED BUT NONE HURT.

Five Thousand Dollars Reward Offered for Information as to the Identity of the Wrecker, Whose Work Is Recognized.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Train No. 322, the fast passenger train between Pittsburg and Cleveland on the Pennsylvania, was wrecked at Hudson, O. The train was eastbound and running fast, but no one was injured except the engineer, who jumped. Pennsylvania officials say train wreckers are responsible for the accident.

An investigation shows the attempt made by the wreckers was the same as has been made several times in this vicinity. A reward of $2,500 is offered to anybody giving information leading to the identity of the wreckers, and $5,000 if this information is furnished within forty-eight hours.

When one and a half miles west of Hudson, O., the locomotive, followed by the tender and baggage car, left the track. The locomotive plunged with great force into the embankment. The hillside, however, probably saved the lives of many of the passengers, as the train, which was running at a high rate of speed, was brought to an abrupt stop. The Pullman and day coaches remained on the tracks, but the jar was so terrific that all of the passengers suffered from the shock.

The passengers and crew of the train made an examination of the track and found that bolts and fish plates had been removed. The track ends were bent almost half a foot. After several hours' delay a new train was made up and proceeded to this city.

The attempt to wreck the train was similar in every detail to the ones attempted in this vicinity recently.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS

Taken for Safety of Russia's Dowager Empress Leaving London.

London.—Queen Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia, and Princess Victoria have left London for the continent. The queen and her sister will separate at Calais, the former and Princess Victoria proceeding to Toulon, where they will join King Edward preparatory to the meeting between the latter and Kink Alfonso at Cartagena. The dowager empress will go to Birratiz. The same extraordinary precautions were taken for the safety of the dowager empress as marked her arrival in England. No one was admitted to the railroad station except on written authority, and the railroad from here to Dover was closely patrolled.

Several Russians who arrived in England after the advent of the dowager empress have been kept in close surveillance.

BINGER HERMANN TRIAL.

Defendant Continues His Testimony the Third Day at Washington.

Washington, D. C.—The third day of Binger Hermann's testimony in his trial for the destruction of certain letter books while commissioner of the general land office, was begun with a line of questions intended to show that Mr. Hermann had no information or interest in the Hyde-Benson-Desmond-Schnieder combination. Mr. Hermann said he had never seen Benson after the story interview with him in San Francisco. The witness had no recollection of ever having met Mr. Hyde. As to Messrs. Harlan and Valk, clerks in the land office, who have testified that they were at the same time in the employ of Mr. Benson, Mr. Hermann said he had no knowledge or suspicion of such a condition.

Mr. Hermann disclaimed acquaintance with the various individuals connected with the alleged fraudulent land conspiracies in the west.

RECIPROCAL DEMURRAGE.

Subject of a Ruling by the Interstate Commercee Commission.

Washington, D. C.—That the interstate commerce commission is without authority to prescribe rules and regulations for reciprocal demurrage between shippers and carriers of interstate freight is the gist of an opinion rendered by Commissioner Clark. The decision is based on the complaint of J. B. Mason against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. Mason asked for the appointment of receivers of interstate freight for all interstate roads, who should deduct from freight charges a reasonable sum per day as demurrage in all cases of delay in shipment.

Meridian Physician Hurt.

Meridian, Miss.—Dr. B. L. Robinson, a practicing physician of Meridian, was dangerously injured by the collision of his buggy with an electric car. Dr. Robinson was hurled from the buggy with great force, and is still unconscious. His worst injury is thought to be that of the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S VIEWS ON THE RAILROADS

Says He Will Not Deviate From Course He is Pursuing.

HAS NO PLAN FOR VALUATION

Statement From White House—Old Stock is Safe—Future Overcapitalization is Opposed, But Present Water Not Squeezed Out.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt has at last made his long expected statement in response to appeals to speak "a reassuring word," in the hope that it will put an end to the prevailing uncertainty in financial and railway affairs which many people declare to be due to radical legislation enacted and proposed by the national Government and individual States. In a measure the statement is to the effect that the President sees no necessity at this time to make any public declaration as to his future course for the reason that he adheres to all that he has said in the past and is "more firmly than ever convinced that these beliefs are wise and that the policy I recommended in my messages at the opening of each of the last regular sessions of Congress must be carried out."

The statement, if it may properly be called that, was in the form of a letter which the President wrote and mailed to the president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, who headed a delegation of that association which called on Mr. Roosevelt and requested him to make a speech in Springfield, Ill., that would explain his future attitude toward railroads and other corporate interests. The letter contained a declination of the association's invitation to visit Springfield, the reason given being that the President could not make any speech that would contain anything new as to his policies. With the letter the President sent copies of his speeches and his messages to Congress, the passages in these expressing his well known views in regard to Government supervision of railways and interstate corporations being marked. The passages so designated are intended to convey that the President adheres to what is contained in them as strongly as he did when these statements were written or spoken.

The President has received a great number of requests for a statement by him or a speech to be made by him in connection with the railway situation. He has given these requests the utmost weight and most careful consideration. After fully looking into the matter the President informed his advisers that he had come to the conclusion that there was nothing which he had to say at this moment on the railway situation; that he did not deem it either wise or proper to say anything with a view to any immediate situation in Wall Street, and that as he should only give expression to the definite and settled policy to be carried out wholly without regard to the exigencies of the moment, and as his views on the policy in question were already a matter of record, it did not seem necessary at this time to repeat them.

To the different men, friendly and unfriendly, who have visited him or written to him, he has answered verbally or in writing that his words and acts spoke for themselves and needed no explanation whatever and that he should not in his future course deviate one hand's breath from the course he has pursued in the past and is now pursuing.

The statement was made from an authoritative source that "even a most cursory examination of what the President has repeatedly said in speech and in message will show the utter nonsense of supposing the Government has the slightest intention to take any action which would invalidate the safety and stability of the railway securities now issued, the whole legislative programme of the President having been proclaimed again and again as one to insure the future against the mistakes and delinquencies of the past. The President holds that every executive action taken under his administration, whether by the Department of Justice or by the Interstate Commerce Commission, has furnished its own ample justification."

It was pointed out in administrative circles that the President has made no references in his speeches or messages to the question of the physical valuation or railroads. His position on this question, it was said, is that the roads themselves will work out this problem as an item of bookkeeping and reference was made to the fact that two roads, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern, already have submitted figures as to their physical valuation.

It can be stated on authority that the President again will ask Congress, at its next session, for power to deal with the question of overcapitalization of railroads. A similar request was made at the last session, but favorable action was not taken upon it.

In his letter to Mr. Smith, the President inclosed copies of the speech he made at Raleigh, N. C., October 19, 1905, and the one he delivered before a delegation of railway employes in this city on November 14, 1905, together with his last messages to Congress at the beginning of the first and second sessions of the last Congress. The President concludes his letter to Mr. Smith as follows:

"You will see in the two speeches and the two messages that I have said about all that I would say if I spoke now. As I said to your body the other day, I have already expressed again and again my carefully thought out beliefs. I am more firmly than ever convinced that these beliefs are wise and that the policy I recommended in my messages at the opening of each of the last regular sessions of Congress must be carried out. Just at the moment I do not see that I have much to add to what I have already said, and I think that what has occurred since I wrote the two messages in question merely illustrates in striking fashion the desirability of the course I therein outlined."

To summarize the statement makes clear the following four points:

First—That the President intends to adhere rigidly to his original plans for the reform of the management of railroads, regardless of the adverse criticism which his course has provoked in some quarters.

Second—That he is not hostile to railroads, but, on the other hand, wishes to do all in his power to safeguard the stability of the securities now in the hands of investors and give a square deal to all.

Third—That he has no idea of enforcing a physical valuation of the railroads, believing that the corporations themselves will compile the figures.

Fourth—That he has not abandoned his purpose to deal with the matter of over-capitalization of railroads, and will take up that subject again with the next session of Congress.

HUGHES MAKES HIS APPEAL.

Defends the Public Utilities Bill in a Speech at Utica.

Utica, N. Y.—While his enemies at Albany are planning his defeat, Governor Hughes took an active hand in the fight by making a notable speech at Utica. In it he appealed to the people of the State to save the Public Utilities bill from the amendments suggested by the public service corporations.

The speech was made before the Utica Chamber of Commerce at the annual banquet of that organization. The Governor replied to the critics of the Utilities bill with a warning that the will of the people cannot be permanently disregarded. He demanded a free hand for the proposed State Public Service Commission in regulating the corporations of this State.

Declaring that Federal regulation is not State regulation, and that Federal powers and State powers are exercised in different spheres, he objected to a general court review of the administrative acts of the proposed Public Service Commission, on the ground that it is not in accordance with the theory of our Government that an attempt should be made to convert the Appellate Court into an administrative board.

GALUSHA A. GROW DEAD.

Ex-Speaker of National House—Many Years in Office.

Scranton, Pa.—Galusha A. Grow, who was in his eighty-fourth year, died of the diseases incident to old age at his home in Glenwood, Susquehanna County, Pa. He had been ailing for three years. One of his three nieces, who live in Binghamton, N. Y., was with him at the last. Mrs. W. P. Kellogg, another niece, lives in Syracuse, N. Y.

A bachelor, the people of Susquehanna County held Mr. Grow in affection almost filial. A man of the highest honor, Mr. Grow after long years of public service, left an estate of only $50,000.

Galusha Aaron Grow was born in Connecticut. His widowed mother took her six children to Susquehanna County when he was eleven years old.

The greatest public service of Mr. Grow was as the "father" of the Homestead act, through which measure many million acres of Western farm lands were opened up to settlement by homesteaders, an act which has been credited with doing more than any other one thing for the development of the great West.

MAINE'S ICE CROP.

Nearly 800,000 Tons Harvested During the Past Winter.

Gardiner, Me.—Although definite figures of the Maine ice crop for the past winter have not been compiled, careful estimates place the amount of the harvest at between 700,000 and 800,000 tons. Of this amount 400,000 was harvested on the Kennebec River, nearly 100,000 on the Penobscot and the balance housed or shipped from smaller streams and ponds.

Contrary to the expectations at the opening of the season, the harvest of ice in Maine was not a record breaker, as the steady cold weather permitted the cutting of a bigger crop on the Hudson River than had been looked for, and it was found unnecessary to work the Maine ice fields to the greatest capacity. The largest crop ever taken in Maine was in 1890, when the total harvest by private individuals and companies amounted to 2,991,300 tons.

STATE NEWS OF ALABAMA BY TELEGRAPH.

Correspondence From All Sections of the State.

A WHOLE WEEK'S EVENTS.

Montgomery, Ala.—The assessment of the Birmingham Southern railway, a series of lines which serve the industries in and about the Birmingham district, has been raised by the state board of assessment from $11,000 to $14,000 a mile, with side tracks boosted from $2,725 a mile to $4,000. The general equipment as raised in all about $20,000.

New Corporations.

The Parmaline Agency Company has been incorporated at Montgomery with capital of $99,000. C. H. Scott, one of the republican referees in Alabama; J. H. Parsons and D. Jones are the incorporators.

The Laura Hill Hospital Company has been incorporated at Montgomery with capital of $5,000. L. L., R. S., Lucy L. and Bessie H. Hill are the incorporators.

The Mobile Cement Company has been incorporated at Mobile with capital of $3,000. The incorporators are E. A. Wierenge, F. R. and C. T. Forest.

The Bullock County Stock Company has been incorporated at Union Springs, with capital of $2,500. Stock raising is to be the business. C. R. Russell and others are incorporators.

Gets Good Job.

R. H. Deholl, of Birmingham, has been appointed commissioner of immigration. He will receive a salary of $2,400 a year. He is a native of Holland and is a well-known chemist of Birmingham.

Huntsville Contest.

Huntsville, Ala.—The Anti-administration Reform Club held a meeting to consider the matter of contesting the election of R. E. Smith, who was elected on the face of the returns Tuesday by a majority of 28 votes. A committee previously appointed for the purpose of securing evidence of illegal votes was not ready to report, and the matter was deferred until next week. Should there be a contest there will probably be lively times in municipal politics. The administration candidates in the Second ward, who were defeated for aldermen, threaten to contest that ward if any move is made by the reformers. The Second is Speake's strongest ward.

Peaches Promise Largely.

Hartselle, Ala.—The Elberta peach crop here is now an assured success. A safe prediction that something like 25,000 to 30,000 crates will be marketed here this year. Strawberries are being sold daily here. Something like twenty-five acres of berries will be marketed here this season. This is also a new departure in fruit growing. Only last year did the branch of the industry assume any proportions. The acreage will be more than doubled this year. We have the same soil that the famous Cullman berry is grown on, and it is a wonder that the industry has never gained ground sooner.

Fatally Stabbed by Negro.

Birmingham, Ala.—William Scott, white, 20 years of age, is in a dying condition at an Ensley infirmary as a result of a difficulty he had with a negro at the steel mill, in which he was stabbed through the lungs. The youth had gone to work for the first time an hour before. At last reports bloodhounds were in chase of his assailant, and there as much indignant talk. The sheriff sent a number of deputies to the scene.

Starting on Long Journey.

Anniston, Ala.—Ernest C. Dickinson, of this city, is working on an eighteen-foot gasoline steam launch, in which he proposes to sail 2,000 miles. The journey will be begun in June from Guntersville, Ala., where the boat will be launched in the Tennessee river, down which it will be steered to the Ohio, thence into the Mississippi and on to New Orleans. At that place he proposes to enter the gulf and proceed to Mobile, where he hopes to sell the craft for $500.

Claims He Was Swindled.

Birmingham, Ala.—Claiming that his orders to sell and to buy cotton were "bucketed," and that he was the victim of various frauds, amounting in charge that cotton reported sold was in fact never even quoted on the New York cotton exchange, Ed Wetzel has filed a sensational suit for $5,000 against G. C. Abercrombie & Co., a well-known local wire brokerage house. The suit is brought in the circuit court here.

Columbus Closes Contract.

Columbus, Ga.—The water commission has closed a contract with the Hudson Engineering Company, of New York, to furnish the city with 5,000,000 gallons of artesian water every day for five years for the sum of $85,000. The company is to begin work at once and has sixty days in which to demonstrate the feasibility of their offer, and if successful the contract will be made permanent.

Seven Killed by Cyclone.

Montgomery, Ala.—A Luverne special says:

Seven persons, five white and two colored, were killed by the cyclone that passed through the county Friday. The dead are: James Knowles, son of James Knowles, Hugh Farrior and two children, Jule May, negro.

Mrs. Farrior was fatally hurt, and an unknown negro was injured. The storm struck nearest to Luverne at Pattsburg, six miles from here. Here several houses were blown down and Samuel Brown and two children were injured.

James Knowles and son were killed at Petrey, Dan Jordan seriously hurt and others slightly injured.

Mrs. Farrior and two children met death at Bradleyton, as did the two negroes. Others were injured the e also.

Lynching Case Revived.

Huntsville, Ala.—News comes from Birmingham that the government has taken an appeal in the Robert Powell case, in which the defendant is charged with conspiring to deprive Horace Maples, the negro who was lynched here, of his rights under the federal constitution. Powell is cited to appear before the supreme court to show cause why the decision of Judge Jones sustained Powell's demurrer, and in effect quashed the indictment against Powell, should not be reversed. It as expected that the other indictments against other parties pending in the United States court here would be quashed at this term.

New Bank to Open.

Huntsville, Ala.—The Henderson National Bank, a new institution, will open for business in this city as soon as all papers have been arranged and the building fitted up. Papers have been signed by Fox Henderson, of Troy, two or three other prominent men of that city, and several capitalists of this city, and they have been forwarded to the comptroller of the currency at Washington. The capital stock of the new bank will be $100,000. The bank will be backed by some of the most prominent men of the state, and the mere fact that they have chosen Huntsville as a field for their operation will be a powerful influence for the building up of this city.

Florence's Egg Trade.

Florence, Ala.—During the month of March one Florence merchant shipped from Florence 12,000 dozen eggs, bought at an average price of 13 cents per dozen. The eggs were shipped by freight to different points. The hen is an unassuming biped, but when it is considered that the egg harvest continues all the year round and that with prices at the minimum one merchant paid the poultry men $1,560 in one month. Lauderdale's egg crop becomes a rival for her cotton crop.

Much Ado About Nothing.

Bridgeport, Ala.—Great excitement was created in town over the disappearance of two small boys, Raymon Johnson and Joe Laffmore. Telegrams were sent to Nashville, Chattanooga and other points trying to find the boys. Searching parties were at work all night. Early next morning when Mr. Johnson opened his store he found the boys fast asleep on a pile of mattresses.

Charged With Arson.

Huntsville, Ala.—Richard Betts and Shelby Hammond, negroes, were brought to Huntsville and lodged in jail on charges of arson in the first degree. They are accused of setting fire to the home of William Cartwright, in the Madison precinct, while the family were asleep. Cartwright and his family escaped from the burning building and found traces of the work of firebugs. Bloodhounds were taken to the scene, and they followed trails to the homes of Betts and Hammond. The state expects to establish a motive for the crime and there is a possibility that the men will be hung.

Alex McDonald Shot.

Huntsville, Ala.—Alex McDonald, a white man, was shot and probably fatally wounded in Maple Hill cemetery by Bolling Bynum, a negro grave digger. The trouble came up over a trivial affair. Bynum was drunk, and after the shooting came to town and surrendered to the police. McDonald was shot through the neck, the bullet ranging downward and lodging against a shoulder blade.

Died at Bridgeport.

Bridgeport, Ala.—Mrs. Henry Holland died Thursday morning. Her husband and four small children survive her.

Capt. R. C. Gunter, one of the oldest and most prominent men of the town, died Thursday evening. He was captain of the steamboat Gunter during his early days, but retired several years ago. He leaves a wife, two brothers and several nieces and nephews.

Made Cannon for Confederacy.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Mayor Frierson has received a letter from Herbert S. Smith, of Prince Albert, Can., in which he says William Child, aged 82, formerly of Chattanooga, who made arms and ammunition for the Confederate army, died in Cheltenham, England, recently. Mr. Child amassed a fortune of $80,000, which he lost when the war of secession came up. He was a licensed victualler at Prestbury.

THE Thaw trial promises to come to an end this week.

The Cotton Association failed to hold a meeting last Saturday; more's the pity!

HON. Oscar Hundley, of Huntsville, has been appointed to the new judgeship of the Northern Alabama district.

WE regret to lose H. E. Whitaker, editor of the Columbiana Sentinel, who has sold The Sentinel to Mr. J. A. McKnight. Mr. Whitaker has given us an excellent paper in the Sentinel, and we hope that Mr. McKnight will continue the good work. Mr. Whitaker will remove to California, where we wish him the best of luck.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The spring term of Circuit Court was opened on Monday morning by Judge W. W. Pearson, the new judge of the new circuit, who has made a very favorable impression upon the bar and the public.

The Grand Jury was sworn in, with J. J. Hicks as foreman, and the Judge made an exceptionally clear and comprehensive charge to them. He called special attention to the new game law, as required by the act.

Wiley Gore was appointed bailiff and the jury retired to their room. It will probably be Friday or Saturday before they conclude their labors.

Mr. D. D. Askew, the pleasant courteous solicitor, is winning the good opinion of all.

The following were the principal cases disposed of:

E. O. Lowery vs. John W. Headley: verdict for plaintiff for $169.

A. A. Ayers vs. W. I. Mullins; verdict for defendant.

C. A. Pyron vs. Pyron Bros.; verdict for defendant.

E. L. Burnett vs. J. J. Stanley; non suit.

J. J. Grant vs. L. & N. R. R.; suit for damages for $1,999; now before court.

Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by Upchurch Drug co. 50c.

SYNOPSIS OF THE GAME LAW

Prohibits the killing at all times, of all wild birds, other than the game birds enumerated below, except English sparrows, hawks, owls, and crows.

The open season on game birds as follows: Wild turkeys, from Dec. 1st to March, 1st; quails, doves, swans, geese, brant, ducks, rails, coots, mud hens, sand pipers, woodcocks and curlews, Nov. 1st to March, 1st; Snipe and Plover Nov. 1st to May, 1st.

The killing of wild turkey hens is at all times prohibited.

The various kinds of pheasants and all imported game birds are protected absolutely until Dec. 1st, 1912, and thereafter the open season is from Nov. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Prohibits pitfall, deadfall, scaffold, cage, snare, trap, net, salt lick, baited hook or baited field, or any other similar devise, or any drug, poisonous chemicals or explosives, for the purpose of injuring, capturing or killing any protected bird or animal, also prohibits protected birds or animals between dark and daylight.

Open season on deer, Nov. 1st to Jan. 1st, and prohibits killing of doe or female deer, at all times.

Open season on squirrels, from Sept. 1st to Feb. 1st

Fixes the following limits for each person in one day: One deer, two turkeys, twentyfive game birds.

Prohibits absolutely the sale or the offering for sale of protected game birds or animals, whether in this state or not.

No license to hunt in voting precinct of residence, or on one's own land any where in the state.

License for hunting in the county of residence, $1.00, for hunting in any other county in the state, $3.00. Non-resident and alien license $15.00. License to be obtained from Probate Judge.

Prohibits the shipping or carrying of game, except openly, and in the possession of those who have hunters license, as required by the act.

Prohibits common carriers from accepting game to be carried in any way, either within the state or without the state. Prohibits absolutely the carrying or shipping of live game.

Makes it unlawful to hunt on land of another without written permission. The only protection the farmer has ever had against the pot hunter, and the vandal.

ESSENTIAL FEATURES OF THE FISH LAW.

The use of dynamite or explosives of any kind in any of the waters of the state is prohibited, except by special permission of and under the supervision of the State Game and Fish Commissoner, and then only for mining or mechanical purposes, or to recover the bodies of persons.

There is no license to fish.

Prohibits the taking of fish by the use of seins, trammel nets, gill nets, fish traps, or any other devise or trap, or by any means other than by ordinary hook and line, gig, spear or trot line. But this does not apply to navigable waters of the state, or any waters of the state in whic the tide ebbs and flows.

Allows the use of minnow seines not more than 12 feet in length and 4 feet in width, for catching minnows to be used for bait only.

Sheriffs, Deputy Sheriffs, Marshals, Constables, and peace officers are made Deputy Game Wardens and Fish Wardens.

VINOL'S RELIABILITY

Prominent Physicians Join with Upchurch Drug Co. in Recommending Vinol.

Countless physicians and druggists are now prescribing and indorsing Vinol as the most valuable cod liver oil preparation known to medicine, and it is fast superseding all other forms of cod liver oil and emulsions

A prominent physician writes: "I am satisfied that Vinol derives its wonderful life-giving and strength creating power from the medicinal curative elements found in the cod's liver. It is the best strength creator and vitalizer for old people, weak women, children and the convalescent that I ever saw."

Another physician writes: "I could cite many cases where health has been restored in a suprisingly short time by Vinol. I should be very sorry to have to do without Vinol in my practice. It has no equal for hard colds, throat and bronchial troubles."

Now, when we tell you that we have sold in our store a remedy of more remarkable curative and strength-creating power than Vinol, for the weak, the sick and the aged, and that, if it fails to accomplish what we say it will, we will refund your money without question, it shows you our faith in the preparation.

Try Vinol on our guarantee. Upchurch Drug co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Clanton, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

"Original Providence."

Health of this community is very good.

The Sunday school is progressing nicely under the management of Bro. J. A. Lowery.

Little Miss Lois Cobb, who has been on the sick list, is now improving.

Mr. M. E. Lowery and daughter, Lula, visited Mr. J. E. Cobb and family Sunday.

Mr. Fate McGraw and family visited Mr. J. E. Cobb and family Sunday.

Mr. Herma Hodgens of Pleasant Grove visited "the Original" Sunday.

Mr. R. B. Price of Birmingham is visiting his parents.

Miss Clem Misskelly of "the Original" is visiting her sister, Mrs. Belle Brantley.

Mrs. J. A. Lowery spent Sunday with Mr. W. A. Sims and family.

The people of these parts are preparing for the 'phone.

Our little bell which is lost, we would like to know what become of it; I think it is so far gone it will never be found again. Best wishes to the Banner.

Mr. C. H. Cobb of Birmingham was one of our pleasant callers Sunday.

Mr. Jim L. Martin was in Jemison Saturday.

We have had some fine sunshiny weather but the storm served us pretty badly last Friday, but didn't do any serious damage.

Mr. R. B. Price of Birmingham was amongst friends here Sunday.

We are sorry to say that Mr Jim Martin's children, Cecil and Leon, are very sick with whooping cough.

Mr. Crunby Beasly accompanied by Miss Lizzie Cobb and Clifford Cobb visited Shelby Sunday, and report a nice time.

Rev. S. U. Turnipseed failed to preach at Mt. Moriah Sunday, but he preached an excellent sermon Sunday night to a very large crowd.

I suppose the little bell that lost its clapper has now gone to ringing again; it has never entirely stopped ringing, but every one has not been hearing it.

Mr. J. E. Bledsoe, wife and two youngest children visited Mulberry Saturday and Sunday.

With best wishes to the Banner and its readers. TWO FRIENDS.

Sunday School Convention.

The first Sunday School Convention of the year, in district No. 5, convened with Pleasant Grove church, near Lawley, on Sunday, March 31.

The convention was called to order by our enthusiastic president, Mr. T. G. Milling.

First, was a song by the choir, and devotional exercises were conducted by Mr. J. R. McAfee.

Then the first subject on the program: "Should a Sunday school go into winter quarters?" was taken up and handled very eloquently by Rev. J. D. Martin, after which the second subject, "How to make an evergreen Sunday school" was well discussed by Messrs. N. L. Broadhead and T. J. Deramus. If the suggestions made by these two were adhered to, our Sunday school would be sure to grow better and more interesting to both old and young.

Then the convention was divided into two classes: The advanced class heard by President Milling, the primary class by Miss Mollie Reynolds; and when the lesson was concluded we adjourned for dinner and went to the table where a most delightful dinner was spread. After an hour was pleasantly spent with this nice dinner and socially chatting friends, the convention was again called to order by the president, when the reports from the different Sunday schools were called for. Out of the thirteen schools in the district, nine were represented and reported as evergreen Sunday schools.

Then the "Home Department" was taken up and admirably discussed by Messrs. F. M. Barnes, N. L. Broadhead and others. Next was the "World-wide Sunday school work," which was opened by a short talk by Prof. W. A. Haggard; then discussed in an elegant manner by Rev. P. G. Maness. This concluding the program. A collection was taken for convention expenses and Rev. Wm. Walker, the blind preacher. $2.50 for expenses; $9 65 was given Bro. Walker. This finished the work of the day. The convention adjourned after a most delightful day, regardless of the inclement weather, for which we wish to express our sincere thanks to the good people of the community.

Letter to J. A. Hester.

Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir: If we sell Devoe to paint your town, your road won't have so much freight to handle.

It takes 10 gallons to paint a fair-size house, and that house won't want painting again for 5 or 10 years. That's true in a way; but people, you know, rather like fresh paint, and they paint for nothing but looks sometimes.

That house would take 12 or 13 gallons of almost any other paint than Devoe, and would have to be painted again in half that time Ten years is a very long time for a paint to wear; and five isn't short.

Which makes the most freight, a 10 or 20-gallon paint? 5 or 10-year paint? But the 10-gallon paint is the 10 year paint; and the 20 gallon paint is the 5-year paint. Which makes the most freight?

Ask your paint-dealer which he'd rather sell, and which he could sell most of. Ask your painter which he'd rather paint; whether good or bad paint is good for his business; which is good paint, the 10 or 15 gallon paint; which pays most freight and which pays most wages Which will you buy yourself, the 10 gallon 10 year, or 20 gallon 5-year paint?

Yours truly

High Grade English Acid Phosphate

These brands have been thoroughly tested by the most wide-awake farmers in the cotton states. Time is money; so don't waste your valuable time in trying NEW BRANDS that you know nothing about, when you can get these old established RELIABLE ONES.

None but the best and purest materials are used, such as raw and steamed bone, high grade bone phosphate of lime, dry and acidulated flesh from the slaughter houses of the West, dried blood, tankage, azotine, fish scrap and pure forms of potash.

MECHANICAL CONDITION.

We desire that buyers will particularly notice the mechanical condition of these goods. They are manufactured many months before they are shipped out. They lie in bulk so that all the materials become thoroughly assimilated, and to this fact is their excellency largely due. All of these goods are carefully milled and screened before shipment.

ALL OF THESE GOODS ARE IN PERFECT MECHANICAL CONDITION and we believe that they are WORTH MORE MONEY to the farmer than goods that are not in perfect condition.

WORKERS TO MEET.

Sunday School Crowd to Be a Big One.

Birmingham, Ala.—Birmingham will entertain this week no less than from 2,000 to 3,000 Sunday school workers the occasion being the annual convention of the Alabama Sunday School Association.

The local Sunday schools have been at work for the past six weeks making preparations for this gathering. Several weeks ago circular letters were sent out throughout the state urging all Sunday schools to elect delegates and to send in names of those thus chosen.

The committees here have received the names of no less than 1,000 to 2,000 already, and every mail brings others. Some of the most prominent citizens in various communities are given as delegates selected, and in several instances city and town officials are among the number.

The reports from the committees given out would indicate that every delegate and visitor to the city this week will find a heatryw elcome. The trains will be met by the white cap committee, men and women attired with neat costumes and white caps. A bureau of information will be opened and the guests will be assigned to accommodations just as they arrive.

The convention proper will be held at the First Baptist church on Twenty-second street and Sixth avenue. Should there be any overflow, and there is no doubt but that there will be, the First Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches will be used. The convention will last for three days.

Special rates have been granted by the railroads, and it is expected that the attendance will be larger than ever before.

The city will do its share towards entertaining the visitors. Every privilege has been extended the Sunday school workers. The program for the big convention was announced from the secretary's office in Montgomery a few days ago and includes a number of addresses by prominent workers from all parts of the state.

ANTI-PASS PROVISION

Given Further Construction by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, D. C.—The anti-pass provision of the railroad rate law has received further construction by the interstate commerce commission in an opinion by Commissioner Harlan that the Frank Parmlee Transfer Company, of Chicago, may not receive free interstate transportation, although there is no law to prevent the transfer company from giving all the free transportation it pleases. The basis of the decision is that the transfer company is not an interstate carrier, and is thus precluded from the clause permitting exchange of passes between common carriers. The "baggage agent" clause of the law is not affected by the decision.

FIVE INDICTMENTS

Returned at Cheyenne Charging Conspiracy to Defraud Government.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—The federal grand jury here has returned five indictments against E. M. Holbrooks, president of the Wyoming Coal Mining Company, who owns the Monarch and other mines in Sheridan county, Wyo.; E. T. McCarthy, a former business associate of Holbrook; E. E. Lonabaugh a Sheridan attorney, and Robert McPhilamey, a real estate dealer of Sheridan. The indictments charge conspiracy with intent to defraud the government.

Holbrook and McCarthy are reputed to be millionaires. McCarthy is engaged in zinc and lead mining enterprises in Missouri. Lonabaugh and McPhilamey are charged with taking up coal lands and selling them to the company. They are in this city and have been held in $5,000 bonds. The other two men have not been apprehended.

Lost His Home by Fire.

Huntsville, Ala.—The home of W. W. Balch, a farmer, three miles west of this city, was burned to the ground the total loss being about $3,500. The blaze started in the sitting room from a defective flue and spread so rapidly that but few articles could be taken out. Capt. Milton Humes owned the house.

Banana Shipping Resumed.

New Orleans, La.—A cable message to a local fruit company announces that the shipping of bananas from Puerto Cortez to the United States has been resumed after a short cessation due to fears of an attack by Nicaraguan forces. The cable mentions no attack on Puerto Cortez, although Nicaraguan dispatches say that an attack was made. During the cessation all trains running on the railroad to Puerto Cortez were run into the interior.

Killed at Saw Mill.

Knoxville, Miss.—News has just reached here of a saw mill accident at White Apple, six miles north of here, in which Will C. Longmire was instantly killed. The young man was feeding an edging machine, and a piece of lumber was kicked back, striking him and causing instant death. Deceased was reared near Gloster, Miss., and was a son of S. D. Longmire, of this place.

UNCLE JOE IS HAPPY.

Speaker Cannon Is Back From Panama.

New York.—"What kind of a time did you have, Mr. Speaker?"

"I had a jolly holiday. I enjoyed every minute and set my watch back every time I thought of it. I never felt better in my life."

With this salutation Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, stepped off the steamer Blucher after a month's pleasure jaunt to the West Indies, Venezuela and Panama.

When the ship docked Speaker Cannon held a reception on the pier, the passengers crowding around for a fare well handshake and a parting word. He spent the evening at the Waldorf Astoria and started for Washington at midnight. Speaker Cannon refused to say anything about the controversy between President Roosevelt and Mr. Harriman.

Congressman J. S. Sherman was a member of the party. When asked concerning the campaign contributions of the fall of 1904 Mr. Sherman said:

"Gentlemen, I am now giving a correct imitation of a Sphinx."

Of the work on the canal Speaker Cannon said:

"I was mighty well pleased and agreeably surprised, as was every member of our party, with the progress of the Panama canal. It is a mere question of work, which is being done rapidly under a splendid system. If I was paying for the job myself I would slap the boys on the back and say, 'Hustle along and get the dirt out!'"

MISTAKE KILLS A CHILD.

Used Acid as an Eye Wash, Death Resulting.

Mt. Pleasant, Tenn.—Through the mistake of a nurse carbolic acid was applied to the eyes of an infant, aged 3 days, which resulted in its death after about twelve hours of indescribable agony.

The infant was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Young, of this place, and it was perfect in health and a very bright boy.

As a precaution an eye lotion had been prescribed, and it was this the nurse thought she was applying.

WORSE THAN WITCHES' BROTH.

Mixture Concocted by Negro Murderer in Knoxville Jail.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Peter Turner, colored, who is in jail for the murder of another negro's wife, is anxious to die and wants to be hanged, he says, without trial. He was told that this was impossible, and the sheriff found in his cell a decoction which would kill anything on earth. Turner had mashed beans, match heads, two or three spiders and other available articles in a receptacle. He had also sharpened two spoons until they were as sharp as daggers. Turner's trial comes up in the criminal court.

South Alabama Suffers.

Montgomery, Ala.—As communication is established with the towns in South and West Alabama that were storm-swept Friday the list of casualties increases, and the loss to property is shown to be enormous.

In Coffee county the towns of Central City, Clayhatchie and Waterford were swept away and at least twenty persons were injured. At Central City a Mr. Odom was instantly killed in the wreckage of his house.

At Brocktown and Enterprise the people fled in terror from their homes and many were hurt by flying timbers. Houses were blown over and stock were killed.

At Lanesville, Hale county, many negro cabins were razed and one negro boy was killed, half of his face being blown off. Near this point a large flock of sheep were caught in the path of the storm, and every one of them killed. Near Crawford, Lee county, a son of Lem Wynn was putting on his shoes. They were blown from his hands a distance of 100 yards, but the boy was not hurt.

Special from various parts of Alabama state that growing cotton has been whipped to the ground, young fruit trees have been broken and twisted, vegetables and plants have been destroyed.

Big Jewelry Theft.

Cincinnati, O.—Information has leaked out in police circles that while sojourning in New York Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cox, of this city, were victims of sneak thieves and that the light fingered crooks carried off a large number of jewels and ornaments belonging to Mrs. Cox, valued at $35,000. Although the jewels were stolen over two weeks ago and the police of Cincinnati and New York have been working on the case, they have, it is said, so far failed to find the slightest trace of the treasures.

Judge Truly at Houston.

Houston, Miss.—Hon. Jeff Truly addressed a large and appreciative audience here. He complimented his opponents and said that they were all brave, patriotic and courageous gentlemen, that he did not believe in nor approve of any mud-slinging in politics, but called upon his hearers to join with him and assist him in conducting the gubernatorial campaign on a high and honorable basis.

OPENING STATEMENTS

For Defense in the Chicago Oil Case at Chicago.

Chicago, Ill.—The opening statements of the attorneys for the defense were made in the trial of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. It was charged by Attorney Rosenthal, who made the first address to the jury, that the defense will be able to show not only that the witnesses for the government misinterpreted the rate sheets of the Chicago and Alton road, but that they did so wilfully.

Mr. Rosenthal declared that the defense will show that the rate between Whiting, Ind., and Chappell, Ill., used by the Standard Oil Company was a lawful rate and was known to every shipper in the district.

Judge Landis interrupted the attorney with the suggestion that he was making an argument against the evidence submitted by the government and asked him to come back into the limits of an opening statement. The attorney replied that he had merely detailed all the facts which the defense expects to prove.

"It sounds very much to me," replied Judge Landis, "like the final argument in the case."

The defense during the afternoon placed upon the stand three men who testified as experts regarding rate sheets and application sheets. The witnesses were William Hurlburt, formerly in the employ of the leading western railroads; Henry E. Pierpont general freight agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad; Frank J. Schubert, assistant general freight agent of the Rock Island road.

Cuba Would Be Trouble.

New York.—Former Ambassador Andrew D. White, who has returned after a cruise in the Carribbean, said of Cuba, which he visited:

"I regard the Cuban question as more serious than our Philippine problem. Cuba is a great negro state, incapable of self-government, and everything that I saw while there strengthens my conviction that Cuba as a state would be a curse to us—simply a vast rotten borough with a few wealthy men in the midst of a negro population incompetent to govern themselves, to say nothing of aiding the government of the United States. If Cuba were made a state of the union it would, in my opinion, rapidly become a curse to itself and the nation."

Shots Fired at Street Car.

Montgomery, Ala.—Another street car was fired upon shortly after 10 o'clock Sunday evening on the Pickett Springs line.

So close has been the patrolling of the system during the past few days that no opportunity was given the mischief-makers to cause tronble similar to that of one evening last week.

But Sunday evening an outward bound car, while near the trestle work on the line to Pickett Springs, was fired upon from out of the darkness. None of the shots, so it was reported struck the car.

The car was run on to the springs, whence a telephone call was sent to police headquarters shortly before 11 o'clock. Captain of Police Miles Smith, Special Officers Taylor and Graham and Bicycle Patrolmen Cantey and Curtis repaired at once to the scene of the shooting, but no trace of the miscreants could be discovered.

Trustees for Two Normal Schools.

Montgomery, Ala.—Governor Comer has appointed six trustees of the Livingston Normal School and two for the Jacksonville Normal school. He also called a meeting of the board of trustees of the Livingston school for April 16 in his office at noon. J. R. McNeill, of Taladega, was appointed a trustee of the Jacksonville school to succeed John A. Nichols, whose term had expired. W. T. Brown was reappointed a trustee. The following trustees of the Livingston school were appointed: John C. Webb, Demopolis; P. J. Jarman and W. S. Nichols, Livingston; B. B. Barnes, Eutaw; E. M. Eliott, Moundsville, and Henry Fitts Tuscaloosa.

$5,725,386 Contract Let.

Washington, D. C.—The postmaster-general has awarded a contract for furnishing stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers for four years, from July 1, 1907, to the Mercantile Corporation of New York, the lowest bidder. Hartford Manufacturing Company bid $5,887,635. The Mercantile Corporation bid $5,725,386.

Birmingham Expansion.

Birmingham, Ala.—The city council has passed a resolution to put into effect immediately the Miller Greater Birmingham bill, thus adding some 40,000 to the city's population. The city council, under recently enacted laws, has also raised the mayor's salary from $2,500 to $5,000 per annum.

Will Not Permit Work.

Lodz, Russian Poland.—Ten workmen were shot and killed by the strikers in the factory district here because they attempted to resume work. The managers of the factory have begun to rearrange men, but the strikers are bitterly opposing a resumption of work.

Paper slippers are serviceable and comfortable.

However valuable quietude may be to contemplation it is not necessary that we shall be, numerically, alone in order to be alone with God. In the centre of the jostling crowd, in the midst of the rush and the roar and the excitement of the street life of the great metropolis, in the midst of the worries, the discomforts, the trials of business life a man may be just as truly alone with God as though he were alone upon the mountain top with silence only for his companion. God may teach us lessons that shall clarify our minds and sanctify our souls in the face of the most distracting conditions if we will. There is a lesson for us in every man, in every crowd, in the noise and the roar itself. We need but, in the face of humanity, to be still before God and await His revelations in order to enter into enlarged knowledge and into the perception of increasing visions.

In the face of many-sided nature we may read the lessons God has for us to learn. But we cannot learn the most enduring lessons until we see in nature not an end in herself, but rather a means to an end. We cannot enjoy the divinest blessings until we shut out even nature itself, with all its loveliness, its beauty and its charm and in solitude and expectancy wait in stillness upon God.

The loudest prayer is not the prayer that brings the greatest blessing. The oft repeated words are not the surest of reply. The prayer that tells God what we need is not always the most acceptable or the most efficacious. We are most blessed of God in prayer when we are simply still. Our Father hath knowledge of our necessities before we ask. It is a good thing for us to be constantly in an attitude of recentivity toward God. If we would talk less to God and let God speak more to us we should be better off. We learn most of the facts of the kingdom in prayer that is not too voluble. He is a wise Christian who lets God speak to him. That is to say, he is wisest who is prayerfully contemplative.

Relaxation is as necessary as rush. The man who is continually rushing himself is the man who is cumulatively wearing himself out. His end is at hand. None of us is a better man because of over-exercise. Nothing is more dangerous than to destroy to-day the vital forces that are stored up for to-morrow's use. Men cannot escape the necessity for quietude. They cannot live without it for long. Every man must, for his own self-protection, now and then withdraw himself from the world. And that which is true of the physical man in his material relations is equally so of humanity in its intellectual and spiritual departments. We must have intellectual relaxation. To rush the brain is to invite the madhouse. To rush the soul is to invite spiritual weariness. Men must have relaxation.

And it is in these hours of stillness, of relaxation, of recuperation, of communion and contemplation that the soul of man enjoys growth and invigoration.

Much as we may grow in the midst of the conflict and the noise we do not expand in the fullest measure except in our hours of communion and contemplation. Then it is that we see with the clearest vision, then it is that we comprehend the vasty truths of God's kingdom. And as we do not enjoy the fullest growth except in our times of contemplation so true is it that we are truly invigorated by our moments of communion. The rush may give us the energy that comes from excitement and endeavor, but it is but a momentary strength. It is inevitably followed by reaction. Turmoil and tremendous endeavor may minister sustentation for the time to our nervous force, but it is in the hours of contemplation, of quietude, of communion that we are really invigorated, that we find true rest.

"Be still." May God give us all the wisdom to be still and learn from Him, learn that He is God.

The Best Side.

Most of us show our best side to children. We do so because we know that they do not believe us to have any other side, and we shrink from disappointing them, and from losing their good opinion. A child has not learned to look for deceit and unkindness or double dealing. Therefore, grown people who think at all are more careful to be scrupulously truthful to children, and to keep to the letter their promises to children, than they are to older ones who, as they know, "will make allowances." An unspoiled child does not "make allowances" for evil. He knows no standard but the simple best. Occasionally a grown man or woman seems to have retained that unspoiled confidence in the best side of everyone. And to such a man or woman we all try to show our best; when we are with them we try to be our best. Suppose we all lived with each other as with children! Would the world be better or worse for it? The Kingdom of Heaven has been said to be of such.—Church Herald.

How to Avoid Evil Thoughts.

How shall we avoid evil thoughts? First, by fear of God — an awful thought! A living God, infinitely pure, is conscious of your contaminated thoughts. • • • Love and hope will keep us strong against passion, as they kept our Saviour strong in suffering, "who, for the joy that we set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame."

Secondly, by the promises of God. Think of what you are—a child of God, an heir of heaven. Realize the grandeur of saintliness, and you will shrink from degrading your soul and debasing your spirit. It is in reading saintly lives that we are ashamed of groveling desires. • • • Seek exercise and occupation. • • • Commit to memory passages of Scripture. Let him store his mind with these as safeguards. Let these be to him the sword, turning everywhere to keep the garden of life from the intrusion of profaner footsteps.—Rev. F. W. Robertson, D. D., in Church Forum.

Eyes That See Not.

There are some men to whom it is true that there is no God. They cannot see God, because they have no eye. They have only an abortive organ, atrophied by neglect.—Henry Drummond.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: Contemplation.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme, "Contemplation," the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, pastor, took as his text Ps. 46:10, "Be Still." He said:

This is a call to quietude. It is an invitation to meditation in the midst of a busy world. It is a summons to contemplation. It is an appeal to men to seek satisfaction and restfulness not in commotion but in thoughtfulness, in mental, physical, spiritual tranquility before God. And it is needed.

Noise abounds. Cacophany is contemporaneous. Racket is as noticeable as anything in the order of the days. Hubbub, confusion, clamor, these are the concomitants of our modern, especially of our modern urban, life. It would almost seem as though din were demanded. City life is characterized by its diversity of sounds, by its confusion. And that which is a feature of city life is, sadly, altogether too increasingly becoming the rule in suburban life. The countryside is receiving the evil influence of the commotion of the city. The noises of the city seem to penetrate with too much frequency and insistency into the solitudes of nature. And we cannot easily escape.

Our life is strife. Man's career is one of turmoil to a great extent. We must in some measure live in the midst of the bustle, the hurry, the rush. The incessant roar is of necessity, in some measure, an attendant circumstance of our manner of living. It is largely inevitable.

But noise is not all that is needed. Neither is it always a sign of efficiency. A certain amount of din may be inexpugnable. But it is no guarantee of effectiveness. In fact the opposite of this is the truth. Noiselessness is both desirable and indicative. The stars rush through the heavens in their age long courses silently, majestically, tremendously. Their speed is appalling, their energy is beyond human comprehension. And withal the movement of the spheres is as noiseless as silence itself.

That which is characteristic of the motion of the celestial globes is the aim of the endeavors of the mechanicians. The desire mechanically is to attain noiselessness. We have learned that noise is largely lost motion. And so the energy of the mechanical engineer is to reduce friction, to abolish noise, to secure quietness in the working of machinery.

What is true of the world of mechanics is true of the crowd. The people who make the most noise are not the ones who do the most work—generally. The man who fusses is not the man who is accomplishing the most. Disturbance, disorder, excitement are not indications of effectualness. The man who is busiest is not the man always who gives the casual observer the impression that he is expending energy. The man who shouts the most is not always the man who makes the most telling argument. The advocate who rants and tears a passion to tatters and brings consternation to the witness is not the lawyer who wins the case—always. The noisy mob is never the most dangerous. All this noise is so much lost motion. It is waste. So as in the realm of mechanics the effort is in the life of man to secure quiet. That is if the man be wise.

We cannot escape labor. In the wisdom and the providence of the Almighty we must work. But noise is only an incident of labor. It is never the thing itself. And while we recognize that God summons us to a portion of labor, let us also not fail to realize that He calls us into the stilly places, that He invites us to communion with Himself, that He invokes us to contemplation.

There is a good deal of this commotion in the intellectual and in the spiritual life. Men are striving to secure a knowledge of the things of the intellectual life and of the religious life by the exercise of excessive energy. They are trying to force their way to the truth by sheer intellectual and spiritual brute force—if I may be permitted such an inexact expression. Many men seem to desire to blast their way into the depths of divine wisdom, with much tumult and agitation to the mind and soul. We do too much of our thinking with our mouths and not enough with our heads. We endeavor too much to learn of the spiritual truths of the kingdom of God by discussing at great length, and with more or less book knowledge, upon the mighty speculative matters of the theological disciplines, seemingly forgetful of the fact that an understanding of the eternal principles and truths of the kingdom of God is not to be gained by theoretical disputation, but rather by communion with the living God.

The most profit and the greatest progress may be found both intellectually and spiritually in quiet. The soul that waits in silence and expectancy, with an open mind and an open heart, while the Father reveals Himself is the soul that will indeed know that He is God. "Be still," for this is the way to intellectual and spiritual wisdom.

The great facts of human life are most surely made known to us when we simply let God speak to us. We may force some knowledge. We may enter into a measure of information of the facts that inhere in the multitudinous life round about us by the exercise of sheer energy, but the finest, the deepest, the most abundant truths of the kingdom of God, intellectual and spiritual, are those that are mediated by the divinely appointed process of contemplation, of intellectual and spiritual susceptibility. The man who, in the midst of the crowd, out in the silent fastnesses of nature, in the quietude of prayer, will be still before Jehovah is the man to whose soul the most enriching blessings come, whose intellectual appreciation of spiritual truths is most surely certified, who enters into the broadest and profoundest understanding of the wisdom of God.

CHICAGO ELECTS F. A. BUSSE

City Wins Control of the Traction Franchises.

Republican Defeats Dunne, Advocate of Immediate Ownership—Street Car Ordinances Passed.

Chicago.—Frederick A. Busse, the Republican candidate for Mayor, was elected, defeating Mayor Edward F. Dunne, the Democratic candidate, by a plurality of 13,121.

The new Mayor will have the City Council with him. The make-up of this body shows thirty-five Republicans, thirty-four Democrats and one Independent Democrat. The ordinances settling the street car question were carried by a good majority. The vote on this question was 165,846 for and 132,720 against.

The election followed the most intense campaign in municipal politics that Chicago has experienced in many years. William R. Hearst and his papers were strong supporters of Mayor Dunne.

The issues in the campaign have been largely based upon the improvement of the local traction systems. Both parties agreed that present conditions were intolerable, but differed as to the best method of revising them. The Democratic party, headed by Mayor Dunne, stood for immediate municipal ownership through condemnation of the street car obtained in any other way. The Republican party favored the ordinances can party favored the ordinances which were recently passed by a Democratic City Council over the veto of Mayor Dunne.

These ordinances provide for twenty-year franchises for the street car companies, the city retaining the right to purchase the systems for $50,000,000, plus the amount to be spent for immediate rehabilitation of the lines, six months' notice being necessary of the city's intention to acquire the property. The ordinances also provide for universal transfers throughout the city, a five-cent fare and fifty-five per cent. of the net profit of the companies to be paid to the city.

The vote generally showed a decided reversal of public opinion on municipal ownership since the Mayoralty campaign two years ago. At that time Dunne received 163,189 votes, against 138,671 for John M. Harlan, the Republican leader. The Prohibitionist ticket received 3294 votes and the Socialist 23,034. This year the Republican vote was 164,839 and that of the Democrats 151,718. The Prohibition vote ran slightly above that of two years ago, while the Socialist vote fell off heavily, being 13,459.

The campaign has been one of the most vicious the city has ever known. Charges and counter charges have been hurled, the personal lives of the candidates have been discussed and speakers on both sides have indulged in tirades filled with invective and abuse.

Chicago will now speedily settle its street car problem which has been bandied back and forth for eleven years as a political asset, the service growing more wretched and antiquated every year. Within ninety days the traction companies must accept the ordinances or lose their franchises.

It is expected the Chicago City Railway Company will at once commence the work of reconstruction of its lines and put into service as quickly as possible 150 cars of the up-to-date type specified in the ordinances. Within a year the Union Traction interests must put into service 225 of such cars. Rebuilding of the tracks is to go on as rapidly as practicable.

BRIDAL PAIR END LIVES.

Finding Husband Dead in Woods, Wife Shoots Herself.

Washington, Va.—A pitiful story of a lovers' quarrel, resulting in two suicides, was pieced together by the Coroner's jury from the peculiar circumstances under which the bodies of Henry Foster and his young bride were found in the deep woods near their home.

Foster had threatened to take his own life. He left the house with his bride, taking his rifle. At noon she returned alone, depressed, and refused to eat, saying she would wait for her husband. In the afternoon she went in search of him, found him shot dead and, using a forked stick to pull the trigger, fired a charge into her own head and fell dead across her husband's body. In that position relatives found the bodies.

NO DRINKS FOR OLD TOPERS.

The Names of Fifty Men on Stroudsburg's Black List.

Stroudsburg, Pa.—Everything was dry for nearly fifty men, victims of the habit of excessive drinking. Every hotel man and bartender was given a list of names by County Detective John M. Decker, with instructions not to sell them any liquors. At the recent session of the license court the question of violations of the liquor laws by hotelkeepers and saloonkeepers through selling to men of known intemperate habits was discussed by the court and the black list was decided upon.

Premier Clemenceau sent a long letter to the Figaro in reply to statements made in documents seized at the Nunciature and printed. He bitterly attacked M. Piou, president of the Liberal League.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever, and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription," from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs.

These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.

An Uncertain Obituary.

A Georgia man wrote the following on an oak slab which marks a supposed grave in a meadow: "This spot is sacred to the memory of a faithful animal, a white mule, born ten years before the Civil War and went through that war on a rush from Bull Run to Lee's surrender. We ain't certain that the mule died here, but when last seen the faithful critter was grazing on this identical spot and trying to kick a lightning flash back to the clouds."—Atlanta Constitution.

Flower Girls as Guard of Honor.

A guard of honor composed of London flower girls, basket on arm, formed the most striking feature at the marriage on Saturday of Miss Louie Pennington, daughter of the Rev. J. J. H. Septimus Pennington, rector of St. Clement Danes, to the Rev. William Bickford, one of the curates of the church.

St. Clement Danes was gayly decorated, and on either side the west entrance the flower girls were drawn up, looking very smart in new crimson shawls, the gift of the bride, and with their baskets overflowing with violets and lilies of the valley. Still, even at a wedding business is business, and it was amusing to see the girls offering their wares to the wedding guests as they arrived, not a few of whom took advantage of such a convenient opportunity to provide themselves with buttonholes.—London Chronicle.

Bad Riviera Season.

The Riviera complains this year of the fewness of visitors, the languor of the hotel season, and the small custom for those candied fruits that make a perfect avenue of luscious things out of a single Mentone street. And it is to the attraction of Egypt that the falling off is attributed. Cairo, in fact, is in such prosperity that it will soon be destroyed. Palaces and gardens are disappearing before hotels and flats, for the ground is now selling at $250 and $300 the square meter, and there is a deep satisfaction in the native heart. "It is not," writes a correspondent, "a spoiling of the Egyptians, for they are growing rich on the stranger." But it is evidently a spoiling of Cairo.—London Chronicle.

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY — MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case?

Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other one remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, Teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 58 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous remedy, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 338 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to permit of my womanly organs performing their natural functions. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did so. I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that may help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

In Memory of Mr. Gilvie Henley.

On the 22d day of March, at his home at Lomax, the death angel came and took away the spirit of Mr. Gilvie Henley to the beautiful realms above.

He had been sick for many months with that fatal disease, consumption and his sufferings were great, though he never murmured against the dear Father's will but accepted the cross with angellic patience and carried his burden to Jesus, the source of all strength.

Dear weeping friends and relatives, we have nothing of this world's consolation to offer, we do not feel that we could speak any words that would ease your aching hearts or fill the vacancy of this dear one, but remember the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, and He will fold His arms of love and protection around those who put their trust in him.

Mr. Henley was placed in Pleasant Grove cemetery Saturday about one o'clock, where a large congregation of mourning relatives and friends had gathered to pay their last respects.

Mr. Henley leaves a broken-hearted wife, one daughter and two sons, and a father, step mother, one sister and two brothers. May God's blessings be upon them to inspire their hearts to realize more deeply that in Christ's name they can find comfort and consolation.

Character.

One may have enemies, yet if we possess the right kind of character, they are bound to respect us. Then, again, what comfort to know our character is no reproach to our family. Surely, this thought alone ought to be enough to keep one ever stirring to establish the best of character. Too often have I seen good families cowed and made most miserable by the wrong conduct of some of its members. We cannot live to ourselves alone. The influence of our lives will tell on those around us. How sad to see men and women possessed of fair intelligence living in utter disregard of those traits which make good character.

To my mind nothing goes so far to ruin character as strong drink. Let the desire for drink once become firmly fixed, and man is no longer temperate in anything. His whole character seems changed; he seems to be swept loose from all former good traits, and loses his self respect, along with that of the world.

Let us walk in wisdom's ways and strive to lead others to see the beauty of a just and true life. But the crowning glory of all character is a surrender of self to all supreme will which governs the universe, and practically living the golden rule.

This will lift us above all low things and make us strive for and attain high ideals.

A READER.

Rest is the great restorer, we tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug Co.

East Stanton,

Please allow me space in your paper for a few lines in regard to our school that has just closed on March 22d. We are proud to state that we have had the opportunity of sending our children to such an able and instructive teacher as Prof. J. J. Walker of Plantersville. Our school has been a success, our children have advanced wonderfully during the five months session. We had some confusion in our school, several of our patrons quit the school and tried to break it up, but we carried it on all the same. I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadfuf disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. In Memory of Mr. Gilvie Henley.

On the 22d day of March, at his home at Lomax, the death angel came and took away the spirit of Mr. Gilvie Henley to the beautiful realms above.

He had been sick for many months with that fatal disease, consumption and his sufferings were great, though he never murmured against the dear Father's will but accepted the cross with angellic patience and carried his burden to Jesus, the source of all strength.

Dear weeping friends and relatives, we have nothing of this world's consolation to offer, we do not feel that we could speak any words that would ease your aching hearts or fill the vacancy of this dear one, but remember the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, and He will fold His arms of love and protection around those who put their trust in him.

Mr. Henley was placed in Pleasant Grove cemetery Saturday about one o'clock, where a large congregation of mourning relatives and friends had gathered to pay their last respects.

Mr. Henley leaves a broken-hearted wife, one daughter and two sons, and a father, step mother, one sister and two brothers. May God's blessings be upon them to inspire their hearts to realize more deeply that in Christ's name they can find comfort and consolation.

Character.

One may have enemies, yet if we produce the right kind of character, they are bound to respect us. Then, again, what comfort to know our character is no reproach to our family. Surely, this thought alone ought to be enough to keep one ever stirring to establish the best of character. Too often have I seen good families cowed and made most miserable by the wrong conduct of some of its members. We cannot live to ourselves alone. The influence of our lives will tell on those around us. How sad to see men and women possessed of fair intelligence living in utter disregard of those traits which make good character.

To my mind nothing goes so far to ruin character as strong drink. Let the desire for drink once become firmly fixed, and man is no longer temperate in anything. His whole character seems changed; he seems to be swept loose from all former good traits, and loses his self respect, along with that of the world.

Let us walk in wisdom's ways and strive to lead others to see the beauty of a just and true life. But the crowning glory of all character is a surrender of self to all supreme will which governs the universe, and practically living the golden rule.

This will lift us above all low things and make us strive for and attain high ideals.

A READER.

Rest is the great restorer. we tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug Co.

East Stanton,

Please allow me space in your paper for a few lines in regard to our school that has just closed on March 22d. We are proud to state that we have had the opportunity of sending our children to such an able and instructive teacher as Prof. J. J. Walker of Plantersville. Our school has been a success, our children have advanced wonderfully during the five months session. We had some confusion in our school, several of our patrons quit the school and tried to break it up, but we carried it on all the same. It cost some of us $37.25 each supplement, but we paid it cheerfully and are willing to pay the same amount to the same teacher for another term. A number of the patrons and neighbors met at the school room on the last day of the school and spread a nice dinner that was enjoyed by all. We had good recitations from all the children, an excellent speech from Prof. Walker on the progress and education of Alabama. We had good music by W. C. Lenoir and A. E. Latham. D. M. APPERSON.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to stock law. I have lived in stock the most of my life and I find it to be the thing for people that have stock, both rich and poor. I have been in Chilton about three months and have had but one cup of milk and it was half water. The stock in Coosa county are all fat and plump.

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to express my thanks to the good patrons of 58 District for their testimonial in my behalf which appeared in last week's issue of the Banner. I intend to live up to that confidence. I tried to discharge my duty fearless of criticisms Of course I got a few criticisms, but they came from a source of small influence.

Respectfully

Dear Editor—Please allow me small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to what Mr. Citizen had to say about the school in Adams district in last week's issue. He seems to think that the school was not a success. Jack and myself both know that there was never anything in Adams district that was a success that had Mr. Citizen in it. He is a good fellow, but good to raise a disturbance. Jack and myself have visited Adams enough to know what we are talking about. Just a word about what he had to say about the one that signed her name One of the Girls. He says she knows no more about J. J. Walker's school than a goat. I wish to say that she doesn't study goatology, but I think Mr. Citizen does by the way he has been butting. I have been knowing J. J. Walker for many years and I know he has ten friends to Mr. Citizen's one. It seems that Mr. Citizen is a pretty old man, he remembers things that passed in 1607. Ha! ha! Jack and myself will never live to be that old. I don't wonder at him being so hard to please. It seems that he is throwing off on the music. Now, Mr. Citizen, when the people get a teacher that pleases you, Jack and myself will get Gilmore's band to come to Adams and play Dixie; if this ever comes to pass, there will be more hearts and children made to rejoice than there was in the 16th century, when Mr. Citizen was quite small. Well, I will ring off with best wishes to the dear old Banner.

To the Confederate Pensioners of Chilton County.

As there seems to exist more or less confusion in the public mind as to the character and extent of legislation enacted at the recent General Assembly of Alabama relative to pensions, I wish to state for the information of all concerned that the status and classification of those already on the pension roll remains unchanged.

An annual appropriation of $350,000 for the next four years was made, which added to the amount already set apart, aggregates $400,000 annually. Those of the first class are to receive $100, the second class $80, the third class $64, and the fourth class $50.

Beginning Oct. 1, 1907, these amounts will be paid in quarterly installments, to wit: Oct. 1st, Jan. 1st, April 1st, and July 1st, of each year. Although not stated in the Act, I presume the payments will be made as heretofore, through the Probate Judge's office.

The requirements as to new applications remains unchanged.

Miss Katie Walker has relatives visiting her from Mississippi.

Mr. W. A. Dawson and wife visited their parents Sunday.

Miss Ressie Johnson from Stanton visited Miss Hattie Moore, Sunday.

Messrs. John and Howard Moore are visiting their relatives in Clanton.

I don't think I ever heard of so much marrying going on in my life. I wish it would ring off for awhile because there is not enough girls to enjoy themselves when they go to gatherings or to entertainments; there is just about one girl at a place, and where there is just one girl the home folks want her to stay at home and cook all the time, and there is no fun in cooking, you all know.

Mrs. Nannie Moore is on the sick list; we hope she will soon recover. Much success to the Banner and its readers.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

He who is firm and resolute in will molds the world to himself.—Goethe.

Unfortunately for Mr. Harriman, the American public has no confidence in him, is the verdict of the New York World. It distrusts his character and mistrusts him when he talks of fair play. It is justly suspicious of his pretended Pauline conversion to the doctrine that the people have rights which a captain of industry is bound to respect.

The comic press has published pictures showing magnates hanging over the ticker while their trains crashed together. And sober journals have expressed themselves similarly to the Chicago Herald, which says: "There is too much thought of stock juggling and too little of efficient, safe, progressive management. There must be a radical change of policy, or, at the present accident rate, moral bankruptcy will before long overwhelm the railroads and cause an irresistible demand for Government ownership."

The Aero Club of France attempts to settle some vexed questions of nomenclature. It declares that "aeronef" describes a flying machine heavier than air; that is, an apparatus having no gas bag. "Aeronefs" are divided into several classes: "Helicoptera," machines depending on screws for flight; "aeroplanes," machines in which equilibrium depends on plane surfaces, and "orthoptera," mechanical birds and machines propelled by the flapping of wings. The expression "aivator," very often incorrectly employed, should be applied only to the pilot of an "aeronef," as "aeronaut" is applied to the pilot of a gas balloon.

Whiskers are worth $101 a set. That is the price established by a court at Wellston, Ohio. E. S. Gilliland lost his beard while at work n factory, and sued for $6000 He claimed that the whiskers were not only beautiful, but that they kept his face and neck warm. Now he has to wear a muffler. A little fire broke out one day in his beard, and before the firemen could get to the scene the damage was complete. Heroic efforts were made by other factory employes to save the beard. One man threw a bucketful of water on the conflagration, while others willingly gave up the milk and coffee out of their lunch tins, but it was no use. Mr. Gilliland narrowly escaped with his life. It was indeed a close shave.

China's effort to check the opium habit in her people meets obstacles everywhere, deplores Collier's Weekly. Difficulties inherent in the home situation are large enough, and they are increased by the habit which business has of fixing up arguments to back its "interests," by which, among all conceivable interests of the human race, money is always meant. That organ of the British Government, the London Times, says that the English people would sacrifice much if they were convinced the opium habit could actually be extinguished. "What they can not fairly be expected to do, and what they ought not to do, is to make concessions which must seriously affect an important branch of the Indian revenue, without proof that those concessions will bear the fruit which they desire." A mean obstacle to poor old China is this convenient skepticism, and a telling spectacle to the world.

Wall Street recently emerged with blanched face but otherwise unscathed from a characteristically senseless panic. The folly of its latest fright is illustrated, maintains the New York World, by the fact that it required only the absorption of a few blocks of Reading shares by a manipulator of that stock to check the decline and begin the restoration of confidence. While Wall Street was in this tumult there was no evidence that the rest of the country lost a minute's sleep because of the worry. There was not a deficit of a dollar anywhere through the shrinkage of values in any legitimate industry. There was no shortage of wheat or cotton and the railroads did not carry a pound less of freight. Not a factory wheel stopped turning. What happened was simply that a number of gentlemen engaged in stock gambling and actuated by gamblers' superstitions let their fears run away with their discretion.

STEVENS SAYS CANAL WILL BE COMPLETED.

Declares Rumor of No Rock Foundation to be "Rot".

WILL TAKE A LONG REST.

Resigned Chief Engineer of Panama Canal Reaches New York—He Says the Work is Progressing Splendidly.

New York.—John F. Stevens, who recently resigned as chief engineer of the Panama canal, arrived here on the steamer Panama from Colon. Mr. Stevens declined to talk about the work on the isthmus. It is his present plan to take a long rest, including a trip to Europe, before again engaging in active work. Mr. Stevens said he was greatly flattered by the send-off given him by 3,000 canal employes when he left Colon. "I retired on the best of terms with my fellow employes," he said.

When Mr. Stevens was asked about the story that had been published here to the effect that his resignation was due to a realization that the canal would never be completed, he replied:

"That's nonsense. The canal will be completed just as sure as you are alive."

Asked as to whether he thought the canal eventually would be of the sea level type, he replied:

"Undoubtedly in time."

Mr. Stevens said he resigned for purely personal reasons. The report that the canal will never be built because there was no rock foundation for it caused Mr. Stevens to say:

"It is all rot," adding: "The foundations on the isthmus are as good as in New York city."

"Will you see the president in Washington?" he was asked.

"If he wants to see me he will know where to find me," said the chief engineer. "I have done my share of the work on the canal, and I am willing that some one else should take a hand. The people of the United States should get the idea out of their heads that the canal work is not progressing. it is going on splendidly."

Mr. Stevens said:

"I was not asked to resign On the contrary, the highest position, authority and consequent responsibility, next to that of the secretary of war, was not only offered, but turned upon me. I never had any clash with any of my superior officers, and their attitude was always in support of my efforts.

"The knowledge of and the connection of the Washington officials with work on the isthmus was too small to offer many chances for disagreement. I have never opposed doing the work by contract; in fact, a year ago last June in Washington and at other times since I advocated such a policy. The plan of contract under which bids were received was formulated by myself July last, only one month after Congress had decided upon the type of canal. I did oppose letting the contract to the Oliver syndicate for good reasons, but the statement that I have ever opposed the letting of any contract is false. I did not cable or write Washington that I would resign if the contract was let.

"The matter of contract had in no way anything to do with my leaving the service of the canal commission. I made no suggestions as to leaving until I knew the work was in such shape to leave, and that the organization, personnel, plant and system which have been evolved made up such a working machine that no failure or serious daley can occur with a continuation of direct business methods."

Georgia Crops Are Badly Injured.

Atlanta, Ga.—That the cotton crop is greatly damaged by the recent cold snap is the opinion of the state commissioner of agriculture, Thomas G. Hudson. He estimates the damage to cotton south of Fort Valley, Ga., at 50 per cent. He says that 25 per cent. of the cotton now up is killed, and that 25 per cent. of that not yet up will fail to mature. He fears that the Georgia peach crop will be a very short one.

Want Combination Test.

Indianapolis, Ind.—The coming fall will witness a new motor car test of national proportions if the plans discussed here recently by leading spirits of the American Automobile Association go through. Being of the opinion that such tests as the Glidden tours are necessarily unsatisfactory in their results, the promoters of the project are laying plans for a combined endurance run speed contest. It is proposed that the contest take place over the new parkway in Long Island during the week following the Vanderbilt Cup race.

Will Meet at Gaeta.

Rome.—It was officially announced that King Edward and King Victor Emanuel will meet April 18 at Gaeta. As Queen Alexandra will accompany King Edward it is expected that Queen Helena will go to Gaeta with King Victor Emanuel. A grand naval review will be held in the gulf, the British and Italian sovereigns inspecting from their respective yachts the British and Italian squadrons.

GENERAL WADE RETIRES.

Gen. William S. Macaskey, of Tampa, Will Be Promoted.

Washington, D. C.—Maj.-Gen. James F. Wade, the senior of that rank in the army, and next in rank to Lieutenant-General MacArthur, terminated his active action with the military establishment Saturday by operation of law on account of age. He became 64 years old, the retiring age, on Sunday. His military services cover a period of forty-six years and include participation in the civil war, the Indian campaigns and the Spanish-American war.

The retirement of General Wade will result in tht promotion of Brig.-Gen. William S. Macaskey, commanding the department of Texas, to the grade of major-general, and the promotion of Col. Charles Morton, of the Seventh Cavalry, which is in the Philippines, to the grade of brigadier-general. Maj.-Gen. Frederick D. Grant, commanding the department of the east at New York, will succeed General Wade in the command of the Atlantic division. The division command will be abolished on July next and merged into the department of the east. General Grant will retain that command until relieved by General Wood, when he will probably be assigned to the command of the department of the lakes at Chicago.

CONSIDER CHARGES.

President and Secretary Garfield Confer With Hagerman.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Garfield have given some consideration to the charges against Robert J. Hagerman, governor of New Mexico, regarding the transfer of territoral lands to a Pennsylvania development company.

Governor Hagerman, who came to Washington with Levi Hughes, the treasurer of the territory, in connection with the charges, was present most of the time the president and Mr. Garfield were together.

The governor declares that the real basis of the fight against him is political in character.

Secretary Loeb said after the conference that no decision had been reached by the president in the case, and that there was no announcement to make. The governor also declined to manke any statement concerning the conference. He left for New Mexico, and said that upon his arrival there he would at once resume his official duties.

RACE AGAINST DEATH.

Captain Ely Reaches Home Thirty Minutes After Wife Dies.

Chicago, Ill.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Iowa City, Ia., says: Racing against death from San Antonio, Tex., to Iowa, Capt. Hansom E. Ely, of the United States army reached Iowa City just thirty minutes after his wife died. By train, carriages and automobiles Captain Ely spen homeward. Relays were arranged by telegraph, and the officer covered a wide stretch of territory in automobiles. Mrs. Ely was kept alive by stimulants and an indomitable will a day longer than the attendant physicians had deemed possible, and constantly said until she lost consciousness, "I must live until my husband comes." The deceased was a victim of pneumonia contracted while at her grandmother's funeral. Four children, the youngest a baby of three weeks, survive.

Old-Time Negress Dead.

Columbus, Ga.—The love exhibited by southern white people for negroes of the ante-bellum type was well illustrated in the case of Charity Flournoy, a faithful old negro servant, who died at the Georgia sanitarium at Milledgeville, Ga. Reared a slave in the family of the Pattons in Columbus, she remained with the family after the war, and for many years was a devoted servant in the family of Mrs. Henry Bruce, being beloved by every member of the family. Two and one-half years ago her mind failed, the result of a severe spell of illness. For eight months she was given every attention by the family, and when, two years ago, it became necessary to send her to the state asylum, two young lady members of the family accompanied the old servant on her journey to Milledgevill, as she exhibited terror at the idea of traveling alone. She was nearly 70 yearso f age.

Intercollegiate Races.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Metcalf has given his consent to the proposition for a crew of midshipmen in the intercollegoate rowing races to take place at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26. This will be the first time in many years that the middies will have had an opportunity to display their strength and skill (outside their own waters) against the acquatic material of the great colleges and universities, and is in a way a return to the old traditions, when the naval academy sent forth the winning amateur crews of the country.

Warships Gathering at Hampton Roads

Norfolk, Va.—The armored cruiser Washington, Capt. James D. Adams in command, arrived in Hampton Roads Saturday morning from the League Island navy yard. The Tennessee, a sister ship of the Washington, arrived Friday afternoon. They, with the battleship Connecticut and chuiser St. Louis, already there, will await the arrival of Admiral Evans' fleet, of which they will form a part at the opening of the Jamestown Exposition.

6 CHILDREN AND 9 ADULTS CREMATED

Fifteen Persons Meet Awful Fate on Canadian Pacific.

BROKEN RAIL CAUSED WRECK

The Passengers Fought Their Way Through the Flames and a Number Were Pulled Out Badly Burned—Fifteen, However, Were Burned to Cinders.

Fort William, Ontario.—The worst wreck in the history of the Canadian Pacific occurred near Chapleau, 300 miles east of here. Fifteen persons are missing, and are believed to have been burned to death in the coaches. The wreck was caused by a broken rail, which ditched the train, the two tourist cars rolling down an embankment into a small lake below. Passengers fought their way through the flames, and a number of people in the coaches were pulled out badly burned but still alive. Most of the passengers received more or less serious injuries.

Official Statement of Horror.

Montreal, Quebec.—The following official statement has been issued by Mr. McNicoll, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway:

"About 22 miles west of Chapleau, Ontario, the westbound transcontinental train, which left Montreal on Tuesday morning, was partly derailed caused by a broken rail. Five cars ran down an embankment and caught fire, said to have been from the cooking stove. Nine adults and six children are missing.

"The following are the names given:

"William Dah, London, England.

"Winnifred and Susan Horton, Charing Heath, Kent.

"C. H. Golding, his brother and his brother's wife and two children, of Palistow, Essex, England.

"Mrs. August Djorklund and two children, of Worcester, Mass.

"Mrs. R. B. Hampton and Mrs. R. Davidson and baby."

5,000 STARVING DAILY.

Desperate People Pulling Up Growing Crops.

Shanghai.—Telegrams received here from twenty points in the famine district report that the conditions are growing worse.

The Chinese government and people up to date have contributed $4,000,000 for famine relief, and the sums received from all foreign sources total $500,000, including the supplies on their way here from America.

There are fifty missionaries with the high class of Chinese engaged in overseeing the relief distributions. Confucianists, Catholics and Protstants are working together. The telegraph officials are carrying free all messages to and from the relief work, and the steamship companies are furnishing free transportation for supplies of food, etc., for the sufferers.

Ten millions persons are suffering from a lack of food and facing starvation.

The members of the committee at the front report that they find the bodies of the sufferers bloated and that their faces turn green or black as the result of starvation. The people are pulling up the growing crops for food. Whole families have been found dead in their houses, and corpses are seen lying by the roadside. Probably 5,000 persons are dying daily from starvation.

Rome Tribune Destroyed by Fire.

Rome, Ga.—The building and plant of the Rome Tribune have been practically destroyed by fire of an unknown origin. The loss has not yet been estimated. The insurance is said to be small. The Herald has offered its plant for printing to the Tribune. The fire originated in the composing room and spread to the other offices in the building.

Adjoining property was seriously threatened, but a sudden veering of the wind prevented further spread of the fire. The Tribune has been published continuously since 1843, when it was known as the Courier, the paper's name being changed in 1887.

Millers Want Revision in Tariff.

Chicago, Ill.—A resolution was adopted at the closing session of the millers' association here asking congress for a revision of the tariff that ould provide for better reciprocal relations with foreign countries on wheat.

Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, D. C.—Postmasters appointed: Cohort, Jefferson county, Mortimer C. Burton; New Lexington, Tuscaloosa county, John D. Thomas; Searles, Tuscaloosa county, N. E. Jones.

Is Found Guilty.

Washington, D. C.—Paymaster John Irwin, of the navy, who was tried at Mare Island on charges of neglect of duty, making false rturns and embezzlement, has been acquitted of the charge of embezzlement, but found guilty on the other charges. The court sentenced him to dismissal, but the president commuted the sentence to a reduction of fifteen points.

FAVORS REVISION OF NAME.

British Ambassador Objects to Duplications in America.

Washington, D. C.—James Bryce, the new ambassador to the United States from Great Britain, says he is not a reformer, but that should he at any time be inclined to embark upon a reform movement it would be in the direction of a revision of names for American and Canadian cities. He says he especially abhors duplications as they lead to confusion in the mails and telegraph. While in Capula recently he wrote a number of dispatches to his government and addressed them London. The dispatches went to London, Ontario, Canada. Now he is convinced that there should be but one London in the world. Likewise believes there should be but one Washington, and he as surprised to learn that there are a dozen states in this country that have cities of that name.

BRAZIL HAS INFORMATION.

Government Has Denounced Existing Commercial Treaty.

Rio De Janeiro.—Brazil has received official information of the government of Netherlands that she is to participate in the approaching peace conference at The Hague. The Brazilian government has denounced the existing commercial treats with France, and it has been decided to denounce also the agreements with France, Spain, Italy, Portugal and Switzerland, under which the consular reports of the specified countries are allowed to intervene in the collection and settlement of inheritances.

Coal Barges Sink.

New Orleans, La.—The loss of about 1,000 tons of coal at sea and the consequent partial failure of the first attempt to ship coal by water all the way from Pennsylvania to Cuba was announced by the tug W. R. Wilmot upon her arrival here on Saturday. The Wilmot left here on April 3 with 1,000 tons of coal in three steel barges, which had floated dow nthe rivers from Pittsburg to New Orleans en route to Havana. On April 5 and 6, south of Pensacola, Fla., the Wilmot was caught in a northeast gale, during which two of the largest sank. The third barge was towed safely into Havana harbor, its destination.

Consul DeGive is Critically Ill.

Atlanta, Ga.—Laurent DeGive, consul in Atlanta from Belgium, and proprietor of the Grand opera house, is critically ill at his apartments in the Grand building, and his recovery is considered doubtful by his physicians, owing to his advanced age. Few men have been more prominently identified with Atlanta's history than Mr. DeGive. During his long residence in the city he has built up a fortune, and his connection with the theaters of Atlanta has made his name a familiar one. For thirty years he has represented Belgium, his native country, as consul in Atlanta.

Bonilla Escapes.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua.—President Bonilla, of Honduras, made his escape from the city of Amapala and has taken refuge on board the United States cruiser Chicago. Amapala, the last town in the possession of Honduras, has surrendered to President Zelyma, of Nicaragua, and the Honduran revolutionists, his allies. With President Bonilla on the Chicago are a number of his generals and others of his followers.

Abner Confesses.

Lexington, Ky.—It was stated Friday that John Abner, who is charged jointly with James Hargis, Elbert Hargis, John Smith and Ed Callahan with the assassination of Dr. B. D. Cox, has confessed, giving details of the Breathitt county murders. Attorneys for the prosecution are said to have the confession, which will not be made public yet.

Salvador's President.

San Salvador.—Speaking to the Associated Press Major-General Figuers, president of Salvador, said that the republic had a well equipped army ready for any emergency, but that an honorable peace would be accepted. The president added that Philip M. Brown was bending all his energies to bring about peace.

Frost in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—The government theremometer here registered 33 degrees Saturday night. Light frosts are reported from Northern and Western Oklahoma, with fruit gardens on low grounds injured. Peach and other fruit trees in Oklahoma are laden with young fruit, the season being nearly four weeks earlier than usual.

Quarantine Declared.

Kingston, Jamaica.—Strict quarantine has been declared against vessels from Cuba and Trinidad, where yellow fever has appeared.

Talking of Disarmament.

Berlin.—Announcement is made that Baron Von Aehren, the Austrian premier, is about to visit Berlin to discuss with the emperor, Prince Von Buelow and the foreign officers the financial attitude of Austria and Germany at The Hague conference, especially concerning the questions of disarmament.

OUR GROWING FOREIGN TRADE.

Increase of $223,629,301 During the Past Eight Months.

Washington, D. C.—The foreign trade of the United States increased $223,629,301 during the eight months ended February 28, notwithstanding a falling off of $23,000,000 in the exports of foodstuffs. The increase was made up of $132,779,306 in the volume of imports and $90,848,995 in the value of exports—the most notable in any one class being the exports of crude meterials to be used in manufactures, which reached a total of $447,073,527, against $372,054,901 in the same period of the previous year. The imports of like materials also showed a large increase—$44,821,164. The totals for the several classes and the comparative increases are:

EXPORTS OF MANUFACTURES.

Exceed $700,000,000 a Year—Have Doubled in Value in Ten Years.

Washington, D. C.—The United States now ranks third among the world's exporters of manufactures, according to a monograph on "exports of manufactures from the United States and their distribution," issued by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

It is shown that not only do the exports of manufactures now exceed $700,000,000 per annum, and have doubled in value in a single decade, but the share which products of the factory form of the total exports is steadily increasing. A comparison shows that in 1880 manufactures formed only fifteen per cent. of the total exports of domestic products, while in 1906 they formed forty per cent.

In the decade ending with 1905 exports of manufactures increased 198 per cent., while those from Germany increased seventy-five per cent.; from the United Kingdom, forty per cent., and from France, twenty-five per cent.

Customs Receipts Heavier.

New York City.—Customs receipts are running $70,605 a day heavier than last year. So far this fiscal year they have averaged $749,579 a day, as against $678,973 during the fiscal year 1905-6. Treasury officials predict the highest annual record the country has ever known on July 1.

Indorse Third Term.

The Minnesota House of Representatives at St. Paul with a rising vote which the Speaker announced was "nearly unanimous" passed concurrent resolutions indorsing President Roosevelt for a third term.

Jap Embassy at Constantinople.

Advices from London say that a Japanese Embassy at Constantinople is assured, and it is pointed out that its establishment will put an end to ideas of the partition of the Ottoman Empire.

STATE NEWS OF ALABAMA BY TELEGRAPH.

Correspondence From All Sections of the State.

A WHOLE WEEK'S EVENTS.

TWO HOUSES BURNED.

The Fire Threatened Oother Residences Owing to High Wind.

Huntsville, Ala.—The residence of G. R. Holmes was totally destroyed and that of James R. Boyd seriously damaged by fire that originated in a coal box in the home of Mr. Holmes. Mr. Holmes' loss was $3,500; insurance, $1,500. Mr. Boyd's loss was $1,500, fully insured. For a time at least half a dozen houses in the neighborhood were afire, the stiff wind blowing big sparks everywhere through a thickly settled portion of the city.

POLICEMAN KILLED.

Chief of Carbon Hill Was Also Severely Wounded.

Birmingham, Ala.—News has just been received here of a fatal shooting at Carbon Hill, Ala., in which a police officer, C. D. Haney, was killed and Chief of Police Hinsley badly injured. The two officers went to the home of a negro named Squire Holt, when he fired upon both men. The negro escaped.

Fire on a Trolley Car.

Montgomery, Ala.—Strikers or their sympathizers, it is thought, fired on car No. 85 of the Traction Company. Five or six bullets hit the car, and one glanced and struck the motorman, but inflicted no injury. A number of passengers were on the car at the time.

The strike situation is practically unchanged. General Manager Ragland stated that the company at present had a sufficient number of employes, and desired no change, save that they had rather have perfect harmony. He said that the company had promised to take back none of the old employes, and for a while at least they intended to abide by this decision. The strikers have been holding mass meetings in various sections of the city.

Has Serious Accident.

Athens, Ala.—Alvy McAnn, a butcher in this place, met with a very serious accident while returning from Belle Mina, in the south part of the county. His team ran away with him and he was thrown from the buggy and his face badly cut and one ear nearly severed and his body bruised. He was dragged by the lines for quite a distance, and when rescued by a colored man was unconscious. He has never been able to tell how it all happened.

New Produce Company.

Florence, Ala.—A produce company has been formed in this city which will furnish a good market for all the produce which can be grown in this section. The movement was put on foot by the Young Men's Commercial Club and is primarily to benefit the farmers, though the stockholders are expected to reap some profit. M. Coplan, an experienced grovery and produce merchant, will be general manager, and R. S. Crews, of Birmingham, will be traveling buyer, purchasing all kinds of farm produce. The company will have its headquarters in this city and will ship produce by the carload from this point to the best markets.

New Depot.

Florence, Ala.—The Southern Railway Company has called for bids for the new passenger depot and freight warehouse to be erected in East Florence. The building will be a one-story frame structure, similar to the one destroyed by fire last year, except that the freight room will be larger.

Mr. Bragg Dies.

Huntsville, Ala.—A telephone message as received in the city announcing the death of Jefferson Bragg, a prominent planter, who lived in the Hurricane precinct. Mr. Brass was 50 years old and was well known throughout Madison county.

Bank Is Chartered.

Huntsville, Ala.—The application for a charter for the Henderson National Bank, of this city, having been approved by the comptroller of the currency, the promoters of the new institution have let a contract to E. L. Patterson for remodeling and fitting up the Struve corner, in which the bank will locate. The fixtures will be elegant and a large sum of money will be devoted to the building of a fire-proof vault. Fox Henderson, of Troy, and W. F. Garth, Luke Matthews, J. P. Fuller, Jr., and other local capitalists are stockholders in the new bank.

Another Allen.

Tupelo, Miss.—G. H. Allen, who was reported in trouble in Memphis on account of unhonored checks, is not related to J. M. Allen, who is well known over the country as "Private John Allen." G. H. Allen came here from Meridaian, and was originally from Alabama. He is not connected with the family of Private John Allen in any way. G. H. Allen has resided in Tupelo about a year and was engaged in the brokerage business.

COLD WEATHER DOING MUCH DAMAGE.

Truck Growers Think Crops are Ruined.

ICE REPORTED IN ALABAMA.

Weather Men Say Present Cold Snap Established New Record in State for April.

Montgomery, Ala.—Special report ice at Huntsville and other points in Northern Alabama and of cold weather prevailing all over the State. Damage to fruit and vegetables is reported to have been heavy. The cold in this state is similar to weather conditions prevailing generally over the country.

The lowest temperature recorded here during the present spell is 35 degrees, on Saturday morning. Light frost formed in low places. The weather has broken the record for April, Saturday being the first day after April 13 during the records kept by the weather bureau since 1872 upon which the mercury has registered less than 40 degrees.

A temperature of 35 degrees was reported even so far south in the state as Greensboro. Around Gadsden the danger of destruction of the peach crop was avoided, to somed egree, by the employment of huge fires around the orchards. Strangely enough Cullman, though near Gadsden, does not seem to have suffered so much, the strawberry crop there being reported to have escaped serious injury. In most northern districts of the state truck gardens are badly damaged.

M. W. Hayes, director of the United States weather bureau, made the following statement:

"Last March, according to figures compiled by the weather bureau, was the warmest in the history of Alabama; that is to say, it was the warmest March of which there is a record. Sufficient temperature readings have been collected to make up state means from 1841 to the present time (with the exception of 1861 to 1866) and in all of these years the warmest March was that of 1907.

"This April, however, is making up for the large excess over the normal temperature, with the exception of a warm period from April 5 to 8 the daily mean temperatures have been considerably below the normal. Yesterday's mean was 18 degrees below normal.

"The weather is cold in practically all of the country, and Alabama is faring as well as, if not better, than any other state."

Crops Are Killed.

Gadsden, Ala.—A heavy white frost fell here and ice formed to the thickness of a fourth of an inch. Practically all tender vegetation above ground was killed and great damage was done to the fruit crops.

The young peaches in the lowlands were frozen, but the owners of the large mountain orchards claim that their crop was only slightly damaged. At the large orchards of the Elliott Fruit Company, near this city, large log fires were kept burning throughout the night and the frost was kept off.

Farm crops, such as oats, corn, wheat and grasses suffered greatly owing to the advanced stages. Garden vegetables of every description were killed, and will have to be replanted. The loss will run up into thousands of dollars in this part of the state.

A cold north wind has been blowing all day, and another heavy frost is predicted for tonight.

Heavy Frost in Bibb.

Centreville, Ala.—There was one of the heaviest frosts of the entire winter here, and all vegetation in this section was destroyed.

The fruit crop will be an entire failure, and what corn was up will have to be plowed up and the land planted again. All gardens were ruined.

Freeze at Decatur.

Decatur, Ala.—A cold wave has passed over this section of the state, the thermometer falling to 27 degrees above zero. There was a heavy frost and a slight freeze.

The grapes in this locality are all killed, and it is feared that many, if not all, the peaches and other fruit is killed by the freeze. Much garden stuff and some early corn is killed.

Ice at Huntsville.

Huntsville, Ala.—There was a heavy frost here and some ice. The temperature was 29 degrees. All vegetables, early strawberries and most of the fruit was killed.

Cotton Killed.

Greensboro, Ala.—The government thermometer registered 35 degrees here. All the cotton in this vicinity that was up is killed.

Charles Scott at Newton.

Newton, Miss.—Hon. Charles Scott delivered his first address at this place in the opera house to one of the largest audiences that has greeted any of the candidates, all six having spoken here now. He was introduced by C. M. Beaver, a young lawyer of this place. Mr. Scott spoke for an hour and a half, defining in a clear and bold manner his position on matters of import to the people.

STANDARD OIL CO. IS FOUND GUILTY.

Charge of Receiving Rebates From Chicago & Alton.

GUILTY ON 1463 COUNTS.

The Company is Liable to Fine of $29,260,000—The Minimum Fine is $1,463,000—The Judge's Charge.

Chicago, Ill.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which has been on trial for the past six weeks before Judge Landis in the United States district court on a charge of having received rebates from the Chicago and Alton railroad on shipments of oil from Whiting, Ind., to East St. Louis Ill., was found guilty on 1,463 counts out of the original 1,903 in the indictments. The remaining 440 counts were dropped from the indictment on account of errors. The oil company is liable to a fine of $29,260,000, as the Elkins law, which the indictment charges the company with having violated, provides a fine of $1,000 to $20,000 for each offense. Pending the decision on a motion for a new trial, which John S. Miller, chief counsel for the defense, announced would be made immediately, the court will not pass sentence on the company.

The indictment charged the shipment of 1,903 cars of oil over the Chicago Terminal Transfer and the Chicago and Alton railroad from Whiting Ind., to East St. Louis by way of Chappell, Ill. The charge is that the company accepted a rate of 6 cents a hundred pounds, when the legal rate was 18 cents.

When the case first came to trial the attorneys for the defense endeavored to have all the counts in the indictment thrown out on technicalities but the court ordered that each count be taken up and considered separately, which was done, and after a great deal of arguing the counts in which errors were found were dropped. The defense then put all its efforts toward proving that they were unaware of the fact that the "special rates" had not been filed with the interstate commerce commission, as provided by the Elkins law. Evidence was offered by the government showing that it was the duty of the company's officials to see that the reduced rate was in the hands of the interstate commerce commission. Touching on the part of the evidence Judge Landis in his charge to the jury said:

"The indictment alleges that the defendant accepted a concession knowingly. To maintain this averment the proofs need not establish that the defendant had actual knowledge of the lawful rate. It was the duty of the defendant to diligently endeavor to in good faith get from the Chicago and Alton Railway Company the lawful rate by applying to one of the company's officers. In making this endeavor the defendant is presumed to have known that the railway company would be guilty of a misdemeanor if it gave the defendant a rate on interstate tariff which was not set down on paper and a copy of the schedule filed with the interstate commerce commission."

"In regard to the assertion made by the defense that the Standard Oil Company did not know of the existence of the tariff on which the indictment was based, Judge Landis said the evidence submitted by the government went to show that there was a department in the Standard Oil Company which dealt with oil lots less than one carload, and that it would have been absolutely necessary for the head of this department to be familiar with the tariff in question.

The jury was out less than three hours and reached a verdict upon the first ballot.

The case, which has been on trial in the federal court for several weeks, was given to the jury at 6:15 Saturday night. The prosecution of the oil company was based upon alleged violation of the Elkins act in the shipment of oil from Whiting, Ind., to St. Louis over the Chicago and Alton railroad. That part of the Elkins law which the indictment charged the company with violating reads: "It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to offer, grant or give, or to solicit, accept or receive any rebates, concession or discrimination whereby any property shall by any device be transported at a less rate than the rate named in the published tariff. Every person or corporation violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $20,000.

"Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall print and keep for public inspection schedules showing the rates and fares charged for transportation of persons or property upon its route."

New Bank at Robertson.

Cornersville, Tenn.—J. B. Gambill, of this place has returned from Cross Plains, Tenn., here he organized a bank, ith a capital of $12,000, ith seventy-five stockholders. The officers are: Dr. L. B. DOG VICTIM TERRORIZES SHIP

John J. Clark, of Jewett City, Conn., Succumbs to Convulsions.

Passenger Dies of Rabies After Raving During Long Trip—Physicians in Doubt As to Symptoms.

New York City.—Having violently from hydrophobia which his physician believed resulted from brooding over frequent references friends made to a slight bite by a dog three months ago, John J. Clark, a mill superintendent, of Jewett City, Conn., kept 340 passengers in the steamer Chester W. Chapin in a state of constant anxiety during a trip from Norwich, and died in convulsions just before the boat reached Pier No. 40, North River, in this city.

Clark and his mother were bitten at the same time last January, but applied only home remedies to the slight abrasions on their hands. No ill effect was felt until Clark's hand began to swell. The swelling continued until Dr. S. J. Holmes directed him to come to the Pasteur Institute in this city for treatment. Accompanied by the physician, two brothers and several other male relatives, Clark took passage from Norwich in the steamer.

Hardly had the trip begun before the patient began to show the first symptoms of violence and to bark like a dog. It required the combined efforts of his traveling companions to keep him in check, and the other passengers were in constant fear that he would overpower his attendants and do himself or other persons on board bodily harm. Heroic treatment was resorted to by Dr. Holmes, who used drugs. As the steamer was nearing her pier Clark suddenly collapsed and died in a few minutes.

"I believe Mr. Clark was frightened into the belief he had rabies by persons who kept reminding him he had not had the wound cauterized, and that the disease was largely due to the mental state thus produced in the patient," said Dr. Holmes, discussing the case. Clark's mother, on hearing of her son's death, started at once for the Pasteur Institute to take the treatment herself. No symptoms of the disease have yet developed in her.

M'CREA AFTER R. R. WRECKERS.

President Bound His Road Shall Be Made Safe.

Philadelphia.—At the close of a conference held at Broad street station, President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, announced his intention of going to Pittsburg to lead operations against the gang of train wreckers who, in less than two months, have caused eight wrecks on the Pennsylvania lines, seven of them within the last two weeks.

This conference was called by President McCrea and attended by several of the road's vice-presidents, General Manager Atterbury, heads of the railroad detective force and Pinkerton officials.

The detectives' revelations decided Mr. McCrea, it is said, to go in person, and to indorse the extraordinary measures proposed for the suppression of the wreckers.

DIES AFTER READING OF DEATH.

Newspaper Error Throws Indiana Woman Into Fatal Hysterics.

Evansville, Ind.—Thrown into a state of nervous prostration by reading an account in a newspaper of her supposed death Mrs. Louisa Duley passed away.

Through an error the death of a woman of the same name was reported as having occurred in Mrs. Duley's home, and as she read the story she fell from her chair to the floor. A physician was called, but was unable to learn the reason for Mrs. Duley's collapse. Later she became rational but, after talking a few minutes, began to cry: "I am dead, I am dead! I saw it in the paper," and died in hysterics.

ANTI-BUCKETSHOP BILL WINS.

Texas Legislature Passes Measure Prohibiting Dealing in Futures.

Austin, Texas.—The Senate concurred in the House amendments to the Watson-McGregor bucketshop bill. These amendments were in effect the Jenkins-Mayfield bill, which is a stringent anti-bucketshop measure, going so far as to prohibit hedging on cotton futures.

The new law will not go into effect for ninety days after adjournment of the Legislature. It will put out of business every bucketshop in Texas. It also strikes the Galveston and Houston cotton exchanges a hard blow. It prohibits all dealings in futures.

$100,000 LOSS, THEN SUICIDE.

Society Matron Ends Life Because of Husband's Misfortune.

Lowell, Mass.—Crazed by illness and worry over a $100,000 loss her husband is reported to have suffered, Mrs. Gertrude Burke, wife of John C. Burke, a social leader, ended her life in her home by shooting herself in the head. News of the suicide shocked the whole city. Burke, who is a prominent lawyer, refused in the last campaign to run against John B. Moran for Governor. He is the senior member of the firm of Burke & Corbett. The family occupies a fine house, No. 24 Eleventh street.

The claim has been made that the Jamestown exposition will be the greatest exposition yet held; not the greatest industrially, financially, commercially or artistically, but simply as a whole the greatest exposition. Whether at Paris, Chicago, St. Louis or Buffalo the visitor to Jamestown may have in mind, he will find here features of surpassing and altogether novel interest. He will find novelty, originalty, and a striking contrast to all his exposition experience.

He knows that the inspiration of the enterprise is the most romantic and eventful chapter of the nation's history. He will find a location unsurpassed and certainly never equalled in exposition history. He will find an environment the most historical of any section of the United States, one wherein the patriot may find inspiration and the poet a theme. He will find a score of nearby points of natural beauty and historic interest, sufficient of themselves to make the trip worth while. In the great international naval and military displays he will be offered a splendid pageant never before equalled in this country.

If genuine amusement and health-giving recreation be an item desirable in the sum of his expectations he could find no better spot than the shores and waters of the nation's finest harbor. Last, but not least, he will find a city beautiful, full to overflowing with the wonders of industry, of handicraft, of art, of science, a city of fairy palaces, glittering under the light of a Virginia summer sky, and rearing aloft the symbols and the tokens of the founding of the nation, and over all the sentiment of the patriotism and the brotherhood of a people first in peace, first in war, and first in every good thing under the sun.

CIRCUIT COURT.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

To the Honorable W. W. Pearson, Judge of the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit:

The Grand Jury empanelled by your Honor at the beginning of the Spring Term of the Circuit Court of Chilton county, 1907, beg leave to make this its final report:

The jury has diligently inquired into all indictable offenses against all offenders of the law where the evidence justified, and the public good demanded it. As a result of its labors, it has examined about 135 witnesses and found 21 true bills, having investigated 53 cases. Some of these bills are for selling liquor without license. This offense seems to be on the increase in this county and we have summoned quite a number of witnesses before us in this character of cases but have found it exceedingly difficult to get a sufficient amount of evidence to authorize the finding of an indictment.

The jury calls attention of the various justices of the peace of the county to the fact that some of them are too much inclined to cumber the Grand Jury docket with trivial cases, which shou'd be finally disposed of by them. A justice of the peace has no right to bind over a defendant in cases where he has final jurisdiction, as provided in Section 4630 of the Criminal Code. An appeal can be taken from his judgment, but that he must try the defendant, and then if the defendant is not satisfied with the judgment rendered, can appeal to a jury.

We have had quite a number of reports from the road apportioners of different sections of the county to the effect that the roads are in good condition as could be expected under our present system of working public roads. Through committees, the public buildings, poor house, and the books and bonds of the county officers were examined. The court house and jail are new and are in good condition, and are well kept. We would suggest that the arrangement for the petit jurors up stairs be changed or raised so that the jury, when engaged in the trial of cases, will occupy a raised position and be in more symmetrical order.

In order to insure the more safe keeping of prisoners at the jail the jury recommends the extension of the sanitary connections into the cage.

The inmates of the poor house, fifteen in number, are well cared for and seem to be as contented as they could be under the circumstances.

It is an impossibility for the committee from the Grand Jury to so examine the books of the county officers as to tell whether or not they are correct owing to the limited time at its command and the impossibility of having a jury of expert examiners. About the only thing such a committee can do is to see whether or not the books are neat and kept in a legible way. The committee reported that the books examined were neatly kept, and they found that the bonds of all county officers were sufficient.

We have examined the books and vouchers of the County Superintendent of Education, and find them neatly and correctly kept, and find a balance in his hands as foilows: Six hundred and ninety-eight and 69 100 dollars.

We have also examined the books and vouchers of the County Treasurer and find them neatly and correctly kept, and we herewith attach a statement from the County Treasurer, showing the amount of money now in his hands, marked Exhibit A, and ask that it be taken and considered as a part of this report.

We have examined the execution docket of the Circuit Clerk in reference to criminal matters and find it neatly and correctly kept, and that he has properly accounted for all moneys that have gone into his hands as such Clerk.

We have also examined the books of the Sheriff, and find them neatly and correctly kept, and that he has properly accounted for all moneys that have come into his hands.

It was impossible for the committees appointed to go into the details of the condition of the books of the different county officers and ascertain whether or not the county officers have all discharged their duties as required by law, and we would respectfully suggest that the Commissioners employ an expert examiner of public accounts, to check all the books of the county officers and make a report on same as the law directs.

The Grand Jury desires to thank your Honor for your able and comprehensive charge; Solicitor for his untiring and constant attention to direction of the Jury as to the law governing cases before it; the Bailiff for his watchful care; the Sheriff and his deputies for their prompt execution of papers; Judge Reynolds and Mr. Callen, the Treasurer, for their kindness in helping to get up the statement on the finances; in fact, all the county officers for their attention to the wants of the Jury.

Our labors having ended, we now respectfully ask to be discharged.

The Jury requests that this report be published in the Banner and the Union.

J. J. HICKS, Foreman.

To the Honorable Solicitor and Gentlemen of the Grand Jury, Spring Term 1907, of Chilton county, Ala.:

Gentlemen—I beg to report to your Honorable body that I have cash on hand to the credit of the following funds:

General Fund	$7554.07
Special Bridge	3.34
Fine and Forfeiture	149.74
Redemption of Land	91.03
Total Cash on hand	$7798.18

I, W. T. Callen, Treasurer of Chilton county, Alabama, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct statement of the finances of Chilton county as appears from my books.

Respectfully submitted,
W. T. CALLEN.
Treasurer of Chilton county, Ala.
Clanton, Ala., April 9, 1907.

The Grand Jury concluded its labors last Friday about noon, this being the shortest session for several terms.

In the case of J. J. Grant vs. L. & N. R. R., the jury, after being out for several hours, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages at $250.

On Monday morning the criminal docket was taken up, and in a large number of cases for selling liquor without license the defendants were discharged.

Following are the principal cases disposed of:

Ed McCullough, murder in first degree, nol prossed.

Lee Hubbard, carrying concealed weapon, continued. Defendant in penitentiary.

Joe Walker, carrying concealed weapon, continued. Defendant in penitentiary.

Thomas M. Barnett, assault and battery, continued. In Supreme Court.

Sam Glasscock, disturbing religious worship, not guilty.

Lum Rasberry, assault with weapon, nol prossed.

James Roberts, failure to do duty as road overseer; fined $1.00.

Bailey Klenner, assault and battery, continued.

James A. Thomas, embezzlement, not guilty.

John Kicker, failure to do duty as road apportioner, fined $1.00.

Alonzo Bussey, disturbing religious worship, fined $5.00.

John Gusten, adultery, continued.

Joe Price, disturbing religious worship; fine $20.

Color Blindness.

The term color blindness implies an entire absence of the color sense, and there are a few persons who are in this condition, but it also includes all the forms of partial color blindness in which the perception of one of the fundamental colors—red, green and violet—is wanting, and which are known as red blindness, green blindness and violet blindness. The line between these various kinds of color blindness and a perfect perception of colors is not sharply drawn, so that a large number of persons have what is called a feeble color sense, which falls short of actual color blindness. There is no doubt that color blindness in its various forms is much more common than is generally supposed, and it is more common among the imperfectly than the well educated classes.

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to a piece I saw in your paper from here last week signed "A Citizen." Citizen said a great deal about a school that closed here March 22, 1907, and about a piece I wrote about the closing exercise. I want to inform Citizen that I did not attend any school at the above mentioned time for that is further back than I know anything about. I attended the closing of Prof. J. J. Walker's school, March 22, 1907, and never saw better behavior or better exercises than they had that day, and I have never seen children learn any faster than those that kept going till the close of the school, and I think those swell headed people that stopped their children have regretted stopping them more than once, and am confident if they had the same thing to go over they would send on and not act so silly any more. I also notice that Citizen says when Prof. J. J. Walker taught another public school at this place there would be more hearts made to rejoice, more music and better music than the L. L. Band. Am glad to say we don't care whether there is any more hearts to rejoice or not, and as for the music that was simply grand. Am glad Adams district can boast such a good band.

As for Prof. Walker teaching another public school in Adams district, No. 6, we do not want him to teach the next one; we will leave that one for the trustees and those that stopped their children. We surely think they are competent to teach a public school such as their children need to go to, but we do not care to send our children to such teachers. We will hire Mr. Walker to teach ours at home.

Well, say, I'm not so sure I live in Adams district, would like for Citizen to have the district run out so I will know. With best wishes to the Banner, I am,

THE SAME GIRL.

Dear Sir: The cheekiest fraud in all paint is paste paint. He's one. Lawyer Arley B. Magee, Dover, Del. painted his house four years ago with paste paint at a cost of $44 for paint and $61 for labor; total $105. The house got shabby in two years; then he painted Devoe at a very different cost: $18 for paint and $30 for labor; total $48. [Paste paint $105; Devoe $48.]

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Trying to Knight a Sweep.

The visit of the King and Queen to Burton-on-Trent recalls a story that has been told for generations past in Burton, but which is so good that it is worth repeating.

During the latter years of the eighteenth century, when George III. was King, the Regent happened to visit Burton, and being in an excellent humor with himself, and also with Burton, he wished to knight somebody in honor of the occasion, and that somebody the first man he could lay hands on. A chimney sweep named Saltinstall happened to be the nearest person to the Regent when he formed his hasty resolution, and regardless of the soot that came out of the man's clothing he seized the sweep and told him he would knight him.

The man was too scared to utter a word, but as the Regent was calling for a sword with which to confer the honor the Marquis of Anglesey, the Regent's host, pointed out that his solicitor, John Fowler, was a worthy recipient of the honor. The Regent was, after some demur, persuaded to alter his hasty decision; the sweep was only too pleased to get away, and Sir John Fowler worked a comfortable practice for many years, which still continues.—London Daily Mail.

ROMANTIC DEVONSHIRE

The Land Made Famous by Philpotts' Novels.

Philpotts has made us familiar with romantic Devonshire, in his fascinating novels, "The River," "Children of the Mist," etc. The characters are very human; the people there drink coffee with the same results as elsewhere. A writer at Rock House, Orchard Hill, Bideford, North Devon, states:

"For 30 years I drank coffee for breakfast and dinner but some 5 years ago I found that it was producing indigestion and heart-burn, and was making me restless at night. These symptoms were followed by brain fag and a sluggish mental condition.

"When I realized this, I made up my mind that to quit drinking coffee and having read of Postum, I concluded to try it. I had it carefully made, according to directions, and found to my agreeable surprise at the end of a week, that I no longer suffered from either indigestion, heartburn, or brain fag, and that I could drink it at night and secure restful and refreshing sleep.

"Since that time we have entirely discontinued the use of the old kind of coffee, growing fonder and fonder of Postum as time goes on. My digestive organs certainly do their work much better now than before, a result due to Postum Food Coffee, I am satisfied.

"As a table beverage we find (for all the members of my family use it) that when properly made it is most refreshing and agreeable, of delicious flavour and aroma. Vigilance is, however, necessary to secure this, for unless the servants are watched they are likely to neglect the thorough boiling which it must have in order to extract the goodness from the cereal." The Pulpit

Subject: The Faultless Christ.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme "The Faultless Christ," the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, pastor took as his text Luke 23:4, "I find no fault in this Man." He said:

This honest answer of Pontius Pilate to the statements of the lying multitude is the testimony of all men who study, with insight and understanding, the career of Jesus Christ. Put to any test and judged by whatsoever standard you may will, the Master of us all will be found without flaw, fault or spot. Measured by any rule you may suggest, Jesus meets requirements to the full. Does your ideal of manhood demand more than mortal men reveal of virtue and of worth, there the Savior stands to supply your soul's desire. Do you ask for weight of mind or depth of thought, who can outmatch Jesus? Do you seek for clarity of vision and for spiritual force—there is none like Him. For downright manliness and for that hallowedness of heart which marked Him as divine, none can compare with the Son of God. Each of us must declare Him faultless, all of us must admire and should imitate His perfectness of life. Pontius Pilate pronounced Jesus free of guilt after a limited discussion of Jesus' regal claim. In this day and hour millions of men, after careful analysis and close scrutiny of His life and claims, glory in His perfectness and hail Him Son of God and saving Lord. Shall we not do honor for a moment to this self-declared Messiah, whom we have crowned as King?

To the faultlessness which Pilate ascribed to Him let us add the testimony of St. John, who has preached Him as the fulness of truth and grace.

Faultless, the possessor and the revealer of divine truth, powerful in His wealth of grace, so was our Lord. For His excellency in these three winning virtues let us pay Him homage now.

"Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this Man." Faultlessness is perfection. To be without fault is to free from defect. As the Italians would phrase it, to be faultless is to be lacking in nothing. Jesus was a faultless man—only such could have been the mouthpiece of the convincing oracles which the Savior brought from God. Faultlessness, which is but another name for falseness, was apart from His nature. Jesus made no pretensions. He was just what He claimed to be. Sincerity rang from His every word and made eloquent His every deed. Deceit and deception were not in His line. Often the Lord sent His truth home veiled with well chosen words. But at no time did He use deceit to gain His ends. True enough it is, that plain statement of the truth made Him so many enemies at times, that it is a wonder that, now and then, He did not pare the truth to save Himself friends. But no, the Christ was not on earth to trim or to cut the truth to suit those whom it hardest hit. His mission was to preach the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, as coming from the mouth of God. The Savior was no trimmer. Oftentimes His words laid bare the soul secrets of the men to whom He spoke. Now and then, He cut them to the very quick. But because their hearts were hard was not His fault. His was the blameless, faultless life and theirs were the hearts that were dead in sin and to shame. Without guile and without guilt is the judgment of our minds and hearts upon this man in whom Pilate found no fault.

John tells us in the verse which we just read that Jesus was full of grace. Grace is graciousness, loveliness. Coming to us as the dispenser of the love of God freely bestowed upon men in sin Jesus exemplifies in His own life that gracious loveliness which He preaches. Pure, gentle, noble, upright, kind and true, Christ is a joy to eye and soul alike. To gaze into His face must have been to walk with God to those who understood. And those to-day within the unhindered influence of the Master may bear upon their own faces the marks of inward loveliness of life. The power of transforming grace will change not only the spiritual nature of a man, but also will remold and transfigure the very features of his face. A countenance that is hard with sin will mellow into gentleness and peace through the yielding of the soul to the Savior. That quiet charm of manner which must have been our Lord's, and which is the badge of Godly living which many Christians bear, may be the possession of each of us, do we want it. You know the gracious cast of countenance I mean. That quiet, holy, saintly look which fills the faces of many men and women in whose hearts the spirit moves. Who does not want it?

Grace is kindness. Maltbie Babcock put it well when he said "kindness is recognizing another's kinship." Jesus saw the same ancestry in other men which made Him a Son of God. Seeing the need of dying men, His kinsmen, our Lord yearned to give them life forevermore. Not His own convenience, but their need, moved Christ to action. Personal ambition crept into His soul but once, only to be sacrificed forthwith to human need. Satan offered power, but Jesus hungered after souls. Satan preferred money, the Savior chose men. Kindness proved the inner grace of Christ. And a Christly kindness exercised by each of us will not only makes us friends, but will also cause us to grow in grace.

Grace is good-will. This is not to imply that we are merely to have a hope that the man next to us may gain success through the expenditure of his own effort. Good-will that counts for anything gets behind the working brother and helps him ahead. It is the spirit of assistance, not so much the roar of applause, that we want. Good-will becomes concrete and an aid most when it resolves itself into living helpfulness. A good round of applause may put heart into the Christian who is working hard for Christ, but ready assistance from the brethren who watch so sympathetically the progress of his toil will be most a benefit to the harvester of souls. Love for men in sin, and words of approval for those who are breaking Satan's shackles from off their lives, are all well enough so far as they go, but unless the love and approval are expressed in willing aid, they are not most of use. God always felt and always does feel for men, the Father ever has a good word for those who are leaving sin behind, but the gift of Christ to point to us the way, and the wording of the spirit who shall send us on ahead toward God, are more necessary and grateful to our hearts than all Jehovah's words of praise. Approbation, applause and approval are good; well wishings and godspeeds are full of incentive to any man; but that good-will which assists and aids and helps to clear the way to material success or to God is the good-will which most brings us cheer. Good-will is willing helpfulness.

Faultless, truthful, graceful was the Lord of our lives. And it is because He was without spot or blemish or reproach; because He was the incarnation of divine virtues; because He (showed grace that is sufficient unto our salvation, that we crown Him King. Had the Christ not been without blame; had He not been the living expression of the truth that He was; had He failed to evidence a helping grace, our hearts could never hail Him as divine.

The first appeal of Jesus to our minds is His faultlessness in the dissemination of the truth of God; the next appeal is the absolute consistency of His actions with His words. The spiritual facts which Jesus brought to men deserve and fasten their attention. For depth in philosophy, for insight into the furthest reaches of human life; for clearness of application of divine truth to the needs of men; for explication and unfolding of those words of wisdom which point us to a fuller life in God, the Master is incomparable. Many of the teachings of Jesus were not new in substance, many of His utterances may be paralleled in the writings of the Old Testament and in the teachings of not a few philosophic leaders of the world's great faiths. But Jesus magnified and sanctified all the old material that He touched, by the way He spiritualized it and turned it up toward God. Many of the more prominent of Jesus' thoughts were not new in substance to the men and women of His time; most of them felt and admitted the force of His message no doubt, so far as they went with Him; but the central facts are these: that Jesus breathed new life and imparted new meaning to their old beliefs; and then lived entirely the life He preached.

Jesus was faultless, full of grace and truth. His faultlessness implied no blame at all. His was the fulness of grace; that is to say, He not only brought men assurance of His power to save, by word of mouth, but also proved by deed His potency and efficiency. Full of truth, He lived that life we should expect. He demonstrated the worth of His own teachings by His own allegiance to them. Believing that sin was shameful, He lived a blameless life. Preaching free forgiveness and the possibility of a richer life through the grace of God, He proved His own possession of the grace He claimed to be the need of men. To Him truth is eternal and is to be obeyed. Claiming to know and to reveal entire truth Jesus never balks His own best words. How different are we. We hate sin, we want grace, we love truth is fact. And we who have tried truth. But yet we hug the wrong; we shut the heavenly glory from our hearts; we block and balk by action the truth we try to preach. Jesus is faultless. His grace is real. His truth is fact. And we who have tried the power of His grace to reform our lives and to renovate our souls are sure that only as we live His truth are we able to be found without a fault.

Full worthy was our Lord to be our Savior and to receive our trust and faith. The beauty of His message and His life are past compare. Nowhere do we find another such a man. On His divine side He is supreme. As a man He is the manifestation of the humanity of God. Christ not only spake things but lived them. The spirit of adoration that bound the twelve to Jesus should make us learn to love Him more. Entering into union within Him we may progress into faultlessness and grow in wealth of grace and the knowledge of the truth.

Dr. Parkhurst has said a true word when he calls attention to the fact that "Christians grow by addition, not by subtraction." When first we think upon it the statement seems to be but half the truth. But do we consider for a moment we will find it fair. The accretion by the Christian of spiritual power will drive sin out. There will be no room for evil. The life that is drawing close to God has no need to subtract sin. Let the heart pay strict attention to the work of soul culture and Satan will subtract himself. Most of us spend so much time in subtraction that we never learn to add. Keep increasing the measure of soul force that is yours and sin will make itself a minus quantity. Try to do what you know you ought to do and you will find the problem of how to escape sin is lightened of itself.

All things in the last analysis must be brought to the test of Jesus Christ. He is our Savior and our one example. He is the test of our fitness and the pattern for our faith. His grace may be ours; the appropriation of His truth is the business of the Christian. The vigor of our grace and truth is the measure of assured success. Our faultlessness will be judged of men and God by the samples we are of the influence of the life and word, the truth and grace of Christ.

You Are Sufficient.

God never sets one of His servants to undertake any task without first sufficiently qualifying him for that task.—Scottish Reformer.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR APRIL 21, BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Joseph Sold by His Brothers, Gen. 37:5-28 — Golden Text: James 3:16 — Memory Verses, 26-28.

One of the most fascinating characters of Old Testament history is Joseph, the beloved son of the old age of Israel. Idealized, to be sure, in some measure, the character of Joseph is yet one to be made a pattern in many respects. The story of his virtues must have had a remarkable influence upon the hearts and minds of the youth of Israel throughout the centuries. And we may declare him a model in many respects for the children of this age.

This lesson shows us the incident in the life of Joseph when his jealous brethren rid themselves of his presence. It shows what are the inevitable consequences of favoritism upon the part of parents, what was the youthful unwisdom of Joseph, what was the progress and the culmination of the hatred that the brothers held toward Joseph, what was the furtherance they gave, unwittingly, to the plans and purposes of God in their very sin. The lesson shows us many other minor lessons also, but we shall be content to consider those outlined above.

Joseph was the beloved of Israel. This was his joy; it was also his misfortune, so far as immediate consequences were concerned. It was the highest happiness of the life of Israel to pour out on Joseph without stint the fulness of his heart's affection. But his very pleasure in his beloved son became the cause of some of the bitterest hours in the life of Israel. The love that Israel bore Joseph was natural; its demonstration was unwise. However his heart may have delighted in the winsomeness of the stripling he should have had the wisdom, commensurate with his years, not to publish the fact too largely in the family circle. Joseph had no more claim on the affection of Jacob than any of the rest of his father's children. Israel was primarily responsible for the rising of the unholy passions that swept Joseph into Egypt. And the household of Israel was not the only one in which this particular unwisdom has been displayed. This is a lesson for parents.

Then, too, Joseph was not wise with his brethren, however natural to youth his action may have been. He must have been conscious, in some measure at least, of the enmity that was aroused in their hearts. They had eyes to see and ears to hear and spirits that could resent unfairness. We are led to believe that bad feeling had been manifest in the family life before this overt sin was committed of which the lesson speaks. And so Joseph could not have done a more foolish thing than to tell his brethren of the dream of his own preferment that had come to him of God. It was natural. It was boyish. We cannot say that it was told with the desire to evoke resentment. But that it was a provocation none may question. It was maladroit, to say the least. There are many youths to whom Joseph's example might be a salutary lesson. Nothing is to be gained by informing people of the fact that we mean to outstrip them in the human race for preferment and success. The man who has a vision of his future greatness will be a wiser man if he keeps the vision secret with his God.

Jealousy is a desperate sin. No man is quite so cursed as the man with the jealous disposition. Of all the sins against humanity there is none so vicious and distressing as that of jealousy. For jealousy is akin to covetousness, and covetousness is at the very base of all human misery. At bottom Joseph's brethren were covetous. For they desired the affection of their father in the measure that Israel loved Joseph. If they had been satisfied with the sort of treatment Israel dispensed there would have been no trouble. But they weren't. And jealousy, surging and rushing through their hearts, led them to increasing manifestations of their resentment. Anger leads to conspiracy. Conspiracy has its fruitage in premeditated fratricide. Only the good sense of Rueben saved Joseph's life. As for his other brethren, they were no doubt congratulating themselves upon the effectiveness and the awfulness of the death to which they had finally consigned Joseph. A death in a dry well in a desert country! It was ghastly to contemplate. In the providence of God the Midianite merchantmen came their way. And so their hands were saved from bloodguiltiness. We cannot say the same for their hearts. They saved their house from the stain of murder by despicably selling their brother to a foreign people for less than the price of a slave. And they thought doubtless they had done away with him none the less effectually.

But this very action was a furtherance of the divine plans. The very wickedness of his brethren was the means God used to exalt Joseph. It was a hard way to use to get Joseph to Egypt. But it was efficient. And what were the hours of ignominy to the years of power with which God requited Joseph. The dream came true. The jealous brothers lived to see Joseph ruling with viceregal splendor in the land of the Pharaohs. They lived to discern, what many another evil man has seen, that the wickedness of humanity is the opportunity of God.

You may know how precious the Bible really is to a man by the extent to which he banks on it.

Man as a True Sport.

By THE EDITOR OF LIFE.

Our hearty thanks ought to be given to certain scientists and other great men for revealing the fact that most foods which we like are really dangerous to human life. The simple fact of eating harmless things from day to day becomes so monotonous for awhile that half the charm is gone. When we are told, however, that all oysters contain more or less typhoid germs, that milk is infected with tubercle-bacilli, that all meat and fish are afflicted with ptomaines and that fierce, migratory or nomadic germs are wandering from vegetable to vegetable, then the process of absorbing food becomes a genuine sport, enlivened at every turn by the prospect of being cut open for appendicitis, or having our stomachs removed and renovated by willing experts while we wait.

All of us being gamblers by nature, it becomes truly a pitiable condition when there is no longer any harm in anything. One-half the pleasure of indulging in what we know to be dangerous is the thought of what it may lead to. Is there anything better, for example, than hot mince pie? Containing, as it does, practically everything that is not fit to eat, so many complications for the future are bound up in it that our pleasure is sure to be enhanced in proportion to the varieties of danger it represents. There is pleasure in the act of eating it alone, quite enough to make it worth while. When we add to this the thought of the suffering that may come, the joy of the act rises at once to moral grandeur. It is just such sacrifices as this that show the differences between man, the thinking being, and the brute beast.

A dog foolishly and instinctively avoids the things that are not good for him. A professor of Greek eats clam chowder, lobster Newburg and ice cream because his intellect demands it, and his stomach craves big game. Time was when we fought big game in the jungle. Now we do it in lunch counters.—From Life.

Wholesome Fruit.

It would seem like a paradox to say that fruit both warms and cools the body, but such is actually the case. In summer its acids temper and equalize the heat, and in winter its sugars warm. Sugar and acid, in fact, are so equally balanced in this food formed in the great laboratory of nature that neither preponderates unduly or to the detriment of the other. We may take the testimony of the birds as to the healthfulness of fruit. The Arabs form a good example of a nation that, to a very large extent, lives on fruit. Who can be more brave than the Arab, or who possesses more dash and elan? "Give an Englishman his beef and cheese," says a writer. By all means, we say, but let him and the Americans, too, combine with them good, wholesome fruit. As we have frequently pointed out in these columns, the employment of fruit as an article of diet is invaluable, and, we are happy to say, that its consumption in the United States is constantly increasing, and our California fruit is the finest in the world.

Indignities to a Statue.

The statue of William III. which, it is stated, the Kaiser contemplates presenting to London, is not likely to have so checkered a career as the equestrian effigy of the Prince of Orange which has literally withstood the storm of centuries on College Green, Dublin.

The Dublin statue has had many an escape from destruction. On one occasion a fervent patriot was found astride the steed calmly cutting off the head with a saw. Later still, in the last century, the statue was blown up with gunpowder. On that occasion the late Mr. Ralph Bernal Osborne (so the story goes) sent an urgent message to Sir Philip Crampton, a leading Dublin surgeon, to attend "a titled gentleman" who had been thrown from his horse in College Green and badly hurt.

During a strike of police in Dublin the effigy was crowned with a battered tin can, which remained on the head for some days.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Big Force.

A modern ocean greyhound has in its crew men enough to make quite a village more, and the general public, and even passengers on the ships, have no idea of the number of men necessary to man and handle one of the big ocean-going passenger steamers. The master of the new steamship Kronprinzessin Cecelia has command of a force of 697 persons, divided as follows: Twenty-four officers, surgeons, pursers and mail officers, sixty-one engineers, electricians, boiler makers and oilers; 231 firemen and coal heavers; 229 stewards, stewardesses and 'tweendeck stewards; thirty-three dishwashers and pantry men; thirty-three cooks, confectioners, bakers and butchers; nine Marconi operators, baggage masters, barbers and booksellers; fifty-nine quartermasters, boatswains, carpenters, sailmakers, sailors and lamp trimmers.—Philadelphia Record.

Medieval Wages.

In the Middle Ages and the Renaissance the artist was very much like the craftsman. Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci received £26 a month, but Cimabue and his assistant got together only the equivalent of 19s. a day.—Revue des Deux Mondes.

Eyes and Exercise.

It was a matter of surprise to Emerson that the following little piece of advice by De Quincey should not have attracted more attention: "The dept and subtlety of the eyes varies exceedingly with the state of the stomach, and if young ladies were aware of the magical transformations which can be wrought in the depth and sweetness of the eye by a few weeks' exercise I fancy we should see their habits on this point altered greatly for the better.—Health Record.

Somewhat Involved.

"Don't you love me?"

"Yes, dear, but I'm already engaged."

"Break your engagement."

"Oh, George, that wouldn't be honorable. An engagement is a sacred thing and not lightly to be entered into or broken off. Besides—"

"Well?"

"Well, I'm engaged to two men, and that makes it even worse."—Cleveland Leader.

Not So Bad as She Thought.

A very tall young man and his companion were standing at the curb on Van Ness avenue.

"Nothin' doin', Duncan, on those labelled 'Turk and Market.' I don't want to figure on any more corners until we get home to Berkeley."

"All right, Doc; we'll lay for a through car."

Presently two belated Turk street cars came in sight over the curve some distance up the street, and at the same moment one of a pair of young women who had approached near the men slipped slightly on the muddy pavement.

"Ah, ha! Two Ferries!" I choose the one that isn't loaded," triumphantly exclaimed the tall man.

"Sir! You forget yourself!" hissed the woman who had slipped, and her glance would have converted Strawberry Creek into an ice-skating rink for the rest of the winter.—San Francisco Chronicle.

What Kind of a Socialist?

John Mitchell was talking to a reporter about the wide interest that the world now takes in Socialism and the labor question.

"Socialism and what it stands for," he said, "has become a complex science, like astronomy.

"There was a labor meeting in session behind closed doors the other day, and a friend of mine tried to get in to it.

"'What are you,' the doorkeeper asked sternly, positionist, communist, Socialist, Marxist, solutionist, Sinclairist or collectionist?'

"'I—faltered by bewildered friend. Why, I—I am a machinist.'"—Washington Star.

Gray Eagle Killed in Alabama.

Saturday afternoon at his home near Scottsboro, Miller Kirby, a farmer, killed a gray eagle that measured six feet eight and a half inches from tip to tip. Mr. Kirby had been missing fowls for sometime, which he could not account for.

Saturday afternoon he heard a commotion out in his barnyard among the sheep and upon going down to ascertain the cause he saw a large eagle trying to make its way off with a good sized lamb. He secured his Winchester rifle and killed it at a distance of seventy yards.—Scottsboro correspondence Nashville Banner is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the appoval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

It Builds Force

What is medicine for? To cure you, if sick, you say.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Rest is the great restorer. we tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning. and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug Co.

On Education.

Dear Editor—Will you please let me say a few words to the boys about education. Boys, do you know the future history of our dear country depends entirely upon us. First, let us get the dictionary and see what "education" means. It doesn't mean a knowledge of books only, but also a general development of the mind, discipline and nature.

Taking a retrospective view of our nation, we find that all of the men who did great acts which have preserved their names forever in this nation, were educated.

Do you remember what Longfellow said:

"Lives of all great men remind us,
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Foot prints on the sands of time."

This verse seems very short without contemplating over it

Boys, we possess a mind, while an animal only has a brain. God intended more of us than He did the animal or He would not have given us this mind.

And what are we doing with it, just letting the time roll by and not trying to develop our minds so we can be able to help our country, instead of being an injury to it.

One of our great writers said, "He that lives long lives well, but time misspent is not lived, but lost. Just think how much time is lost throughout this countty. Of course people are obliged to have a little recreation.

The very idea of boys getting drunk to enjoy themselves. They may think they are enjoying life. So time spent in drinking, and various other ways, is not lived but lost.

To think of the great number of things to be learned together with the length of life is almost discouraging. We must not get discouraged but must strive the harder to acquire this knowledge. What would the world ever have done without such men as Geo. Washington, Benjamin Franklin, H. W. Longfellow and many others. Now boys we are going to need some more such men in the near future.

Our country's future history being entirely dependent upon us, let us try to be competent to fill any vacancy that may occur.

I close with many good wishes to the Banner and its many readers.

Editor Banner—Will you allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words. There has been a lot of sicknes in our community put the health is getting better.

Rev. G. A. Conville filled his appointment at Walnut Creek Sunday and we were glad to have him with us.

R. W. Taylor of Birmingham spent a few days with his parents here.

Our school at this place closed last Friday, after being managed by Prof. E. H Mims.

I guess the ice cream supper at Sam Parrish's was a success Saturday night. I guess that anybody could have ice cream in freezing weather.

We are glad to see the improvement on the Baptist church at Concord; we began to think that our money that we paid in was going like our public money is going.

We don't feel like we have missed our golden opportunity yet. Success to the Banner and its many readers.

TYNER'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.
Many Have Dyspepsia and don't Know It Read Symptoms.

Do you belch up wind? Do you taste your food for an hour or more after eating? Do you see specks or haze before your eyes? Are you pale and haggard? Does your heart flutter? Are you dizzy at times? Do you have pains in side or back? Do you have risings or pimples on the skin? Are you low spirited? Is there a sour taste in your stomach? Is your breath bad? If so you have Dyspepsia, and it is a dangerous condition, don't delay, but take Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy as directed on label. It is made for just such troubles and symptoms. Tyner's Dyspepsia remedy removes acids from the stomach, strengthens weak stomachs, helps digest your food, stops all aches and pains, stops fluttering of the heart, (sometimes called heart disease.) By making the food digest, new blood is made and all pimples disappear. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, sold by druggists, 50c a bottle. Money refunded if it fails to cure Sold in Clanton by Florence Drug Store; call or write; remedy sent by express.

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words.

The health of this community is very good at present. We are having some very cool weather now but us farmers are working mighty hard to make some more of that 12c cotton and get 8c for it.

Let us hear from the Two Twins again. You said Tam Miller and Marshall Baker were all smiles, but every time I see Marshall he is all eyes and wrinkles.

We haven't heard from Long Lane in a long time so let us haar from you.

Some of the boys and girls of this community went flower hunting Easter Sunday and report a fine time. Success to the Banner and it's many readers HILL BILLY.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on appbying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. SARAH A. COLE, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Strange Fog Signal.

When fogs prevail in Boston harbor, the attention of passengers on the Nantasket Beach line of steamers is attracted by a faint metallic sound which might be mistaken for the sound of a bell. But it is not the clanging of a bell which the passengers hear. Suddenly through the mist there appears ahead, like a specter, a large tripod, from the apex of which is suspended a big steel triangle. It is this which causes the strange sound and signals vessels as to how to guide their course through the difficult channel of the fog.

MAKE MONEY.

Clanton, April 22, 1907

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to Mr. W. A. Smith's letter in last week's Banner. He said he had resided in stock law, and said it was the thing for both rich and poor. I was raised in Chilton and was never in stock law, but I know that we Chilton folks don't need any stock law. Smith said that he had been in Chilton about three months and had had but one glass of milk and it was half water. Now, Smith, I am living near three families that moved from Coosa, and if all the cows in Coosa are like these men brought from there all the milk in Coosa is half water. I have two cows that have never seen stock law. I have six in family and have plenty of good milk and butter and am furnishing another family of four. Now, Smith, if you will come to see me I will give you all the good milk you can drink and it won't have any water in it. As for myself, I have 80 acres of land and can fence 40 acres and have a good pasture, but there are many others who have no land and if we had stock law they could not have any stock at all.

A Good Old Boy.

Billingsley.

Dear Editor—Since writing last to the Banner, we have had a good deal of sickness; our M. & O. agent is very sick, there is but little hope of him recovering. Mrs. Reese, our assistant teacher, has been very low and was taken to Montgomery a few days ago. Mumps have broken out in our town; we have a few people with the big head, but there is a lot of them expecting the big neck.

The Baptist church here is without a pastor.

The ball season is open in Billingsley; the boys played Vida Saturday at New Hope church; the game resulted in a victory for Billingsley by a score of 25 to 6.

The fish and game seem to have caught on to the game law, as we can hear as many as three old gobblers belching forth their morning joys every morning, and fish can be seen by the hundred at J. C. Grimes' saw mill.

The Felton saw mill company is progressing nicely and the old time whistle and the buzzing of the saw will soon be heard again in our town.

Mr. Editor, get you up a hook and line, then get a bottle of Clanton's booze and come down and we will live a high life for awhile anyhow. The Miller.

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklens' Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores. Heals every sore. 25c. at Upchurch Drug co.

Original Providence.

Rev. R. M. Honeycutt filled his regular appointment both Saturday and Sunday to an appreciative audience. His text Saturday was Paul's second letter to Corinthians, beginning with second chapter and dwelling on the 11th verse. He gave us a good lesson. All who will take heed will never fail to have God with him. The lesson for Sunday was from Paul's second Epistle to Timothy, beginning with second chapter, 5th verse, dwelling some length on 5th verse. This lesson was good to the soul and brought forth manifestations of the presence of the Holy Spirit. Bro. Honeycutt has labored with us very faithful and we feel that there will be much lasting good accomplished here in the future.

Providence is not dead yet; when the people will it, much can be done. The people stand together in many things—school, Sunday school, and when the evil one comes out too boldly, the people rise up as one and say halt!

We have for the last few days put in about five miles of telephone line, which gives us communication with several neighborhoods, and it is a busy time of the year. Does that show division, or dead? I think not.

Mr. J. R. Busby had a right painful accident Saturday while connecting a wire to one of the poles; he fell, but caught on his feet, and received a painful jar; but hope to see out soon.

Several neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. J. A. Lowery Sunday eve and had a singing, which was enjoyed by all. Several on the line near Jemison and Mars Hill could hear it distinctly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Broadhead of the vicinity of Ocampo visited Mr. W. A. Sims' family Saturday and J. H. Anderson Sunday.

Mr. Joseph E. Cobb and wife visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowery Saturday.

Mr. J. H. Martin and charming daughter Miss Lillie whre guests of Mr. Lowery's Sunday eve.

Everybody is invited and requested to attend Sunday school next Sunday; we intend to keep her alive. The Same Old One.

Falakto.

We have been having plenty of rain for the last few days.

We are sorry Mr. W. A. Scarbrough is leaving his old home where he has lived for several years.

Mr. A. P. Powell is taking his part of fishing this rainy weather.

Well, we keep hearing of new communities, but I think Pumpkin Hill and Hill Billy is the best one we have heard of. Hill Billy doesn't say anything of their school; I think he is all right. Let us hear from him again. With best wishes to the Banner and its many friends.

Says the Denver Republican: Wizard Burbank has succeeded so well in making sweet-smelling flowers out of noxious weeds that there is hope he will try his hand on denaturizing the automobile.

Edward Everett Hale says: "Speak every day to some one whom you know is your superior." Many who read this advice, observes Life, will think they cannot follow it—save when they kneel in prayer.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger has conceived a great idea. It suggests that instead of retiring the public land after the timber has been stolen it would be a good scheme to retire the thieves from circulation.

The National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, at its first meeting this season, approved a plan for issuing uniform tickets for the season for its eight clubs. The committee in charge announced that at least 8,000,000 tickets would have to be printed to cover the season. That is for one League only. The American League is fully as important as the National League and draws as great crowds. In the whole country there are hundreds of baseball leagues which tap districts not served by the two major organizations. Baseball on the basis of such figures is truly the national game, maintains the New York Evening Sun.

Although France is carrying the enormous burden of perhaps two thousand millions of Russian securities, at a time when Russia is passing through a tremendous political and financial crisis, with the possibility of an ultimate repudiation, yet France is to-day enjoying the easiest money market in the world, and has great blocks of money to loan and an immense hoard of gold in her vaults. Why is this? What is the secret of the French financial power? marvels the Wall Street Journal. Not mineral wealth, not a crop surplus, not even industrial activity. The secret lies simply in the fact that every man, woman and child in France spends less than their income. France is a nation of 39,000,000 savers. The United States is rapidly acquiring the reputation of being a nation of 85,000,000 spenders.

If the figures given by a writer in the Scientific American are correct, the number of deaths which occur from accident every year in the United States is so great as to make it high time for such an exhibition of safety devices and industrial hygiene as has just been held in New York by the American Institute of Civil Service. According to these figures, the number of persons accidentally killed every four years in the United States is greater by eighty thousand than the number of men who perished in battle and died of wounds in both armies during the four years of the Civil War. The number of those who are maimed but not killed is, of course, much greater. Not only is the loss of life appalling, but because of the lack of any general system of industrial insurance, such as prevails in Germany, the death of the bread-winner usually means suffering for a widow and children.

What is the matter with Wall Street? asks Town Topics. The people have more money than at any former period. Prices of everything but securities are high. Even stocks, outside of Wall Street, are held in good esteem. Coppers in Boston seek new top records. Here they are laggard if not exceeding soft. Is the country outgrowing the Street? There are evidences that have led to such assertion. The unanimity with which State Legislatures are adopting reduced rate laws means something more than resentment over the close interpretation of the anti-pass statutes. There is exhibited an independence of spirit in West and South that springs up quickly when stomachs are well filled and granaries are bursting. It takes form also in the refusal to buy securities when money can seemingly be used to better advantage at home. People in the States have been too busy to think of Stock Exchange affairs. The trading has been left almost entirely to the professionals and semi-professionals outside of the investing classes.

Training Children to Spend

By MRS. ERNESTINE SWALLOW

An allowance system carried out amid all the unchangeable "pledges" of the majority of homes is necessary—only a wise and just adjustment of expenditure to income and the spenders.

In the average home father and mother can talk over the known necessary expenses for the year to come, using the experience of the past to help in the estimate, and together decide those expenses to which the amount they can afford. Does it assume separate purses if the mother accepts a stated sum for expenditures as her own, while the father takes the rest for others, while the amount for each is apportioned according to the old fashioned plan of dividing the needs of the household as a whole, but with the agreement not to overstep? Or parents and to the individual allowance plan.

A child should not be kept in ignorance of the state of the family purse or their ability at any particular moment, for the wisest wishes to spend. The management of household finances is a part of the school of the child should learn how much he shall spend.

If the child can be taught to believe he can—his responsibility in the care of the home will be much. The father's business or profession has the household and the child, too, should share in the care that pertains to the common welfare of all—duties fitted to age and ability. If all share in the work that makes and keeps a home all should share in the benefits, each having a regular allowance that is his own to give, or save, or spend. The child's share is as truly earned as the mother's, and no less truly than the service she fulfills the duties of wife and mother.

No child so taken into partnership with the parents would be unwilling to have his allowance reduced as circumstances demanded, or, of course, only pennies for candy and his penny gifts to the Sunday-school, or else would come under his charge for his own smaller needs and to help the little "school-child" in his larger giving should come responsibility, and so on, but always under the parents' sight.

The wise mother will counsel and advise and then let the child make his own decision, except in cases where his immediate desire commands prohibition—such as for some sweets.

The youth who spends his money with no thought for the future, needed trousers and shoes, or who refuses to wear ragged ones because he cannot earn enough money, by chopping wood, to buy new, does not get the lesson. Nor does he fail to get teaching in economy who makes his old cap do another season because a new one will take all the money he wants for some other purpose.

A certain lad, who had been disappointed in last year's Christmas gifts, by refusing because he had spent his allowance money on himself, bought a pair of skates with money earned by going up of his own accord and doing more than was required of him. He didn't do much labor, but it was well done. No one enjoyed the beautiful skates more than he.

By this allowance system the child who is impetuous, impulsive, careless, can be taught foresight, self-control and the selfishly-inclined generous, helpful child has learned how to save as well as to spend, as well as to share in times of temporary stress. The child who has voluntarily given his money, or to let the family wait unpaid and the bills have been accepted, if he is a Congregationalist.

Hid Three Months in Cellar.

Birmingham, Ala.—After being hidden three months in the cellar of the public school, Jesse Shepherd, housebreaker and escaped convict, has been arrested in Dothan, Ala., and will be returned to the Henderson Lumber Company's convict farm. Shepherd was sent to the mines for throwing a brick through a window and seriously injuring a white woman of Pratt City.

Prince Wilhelm Stops at Boston.

Boston, Mass.—It is learned here that Prince Wilhelm, grandson of King Oscar, of Sweden, will make his first landing here when he comes to the United States to attend the Jamestown Exposition. Prince Wilhelm will come to command the crack Swedish cruiser Fylgia. From here he will sail to New York, and thence to Norfolk to add his ship to the naval display in that harbor.

Jealous of Calve, She Suicided.

New York.—Jealous of Mme. Calve, the great singer, Isabelle Routtelet committed suicide by gas in the apartments of Louis Belleville, her former sweetheart. The couple had been engaged, but the engagement was broken two months ago. Belleville is a cellist in the Manhattan Opera House orchestra, and in this capacity has been thrown much in the company of Mme. Calve. This business relation caused the girl to become insanely jealous, resulting in a quarrel. Failing to heal the breach she took her life.

Schools of State to Have $1,956,422.

Montgomery, Ala.—It is an interesting fact that on October 1 of this year the state educational department will have $1,956,422.30 for the rural or common schools. This is not for the schools of higher grade than what is termed common, leaving out the normal, agricultural and all of that kind. The amount comes from the following sources: One mill tax in forty counties, $206,169.90; three mill tax appropriation and poll of the state, $1,150,261.40; increased state appropriation, $300,000; various amounts from towns and cities.

An interesting fight is on in Geneva county, where the question of a levy of the one mill tax for school purposes is being contested. J. M. Lammons, county superintendent, is leading the forces for the tax, and it is thought will win his battle. The county voted on this tax once before and failed by a small vote, but the other result is likely this time. The election is set down for May 20. Geneva has sixty-eight school districts and would receive about $3,000 from such a tax by the latest valuations of the property.

Sheffield's Growth.

Sheffield, Ala.—The population of Sheffield has shown a gain of 1,250 since July, 1906, at which time a city census gave a population of 4,224. The census which has just been completed gives approximately 5,500 people. One effect of the census just taken will be a compulsory stock law, as there is a state law providing that cities of 5,000 inhabitants can prevent the running of stock at large. This was an important issue in the recent city primary.

Barn and Mules Burned.

Cullman, Ala.—At Blountsville, near here, Prof. J. A. B. Lovett's barn was destroyed by fire and two fine mules were burned to death, together with $100 worth of feed. Two mules were saved. Origin of fire unknown.

Woman Burned to Death.

Guntersville, Ala.—Mrs. John Morgan was seated in front of the fire nursing her 8-months-old babe when her clothing became ignited, and she died in horrible agony, although the flames scarcely scorched her skin.

Wicked Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala.—Twelve indictments for murder and one for rape were returned by the county grand jury Saturday. In addition to these there were eight other true bills returned for capital offenses.

Subscription to Pay His Fine.

Okolona, Miss.—A rather novel proceeding has come to light here. It seems that John Lewis, a negro who has been traveling around the state posing as a preacher, has been indicted by the grand jury of Mississippi for horse stealing, but in the meantime Lewis crosses the state line into Alabama and there gets himself arrested for a minor offense. The Mississippi sheriff who went to Alabama to secure the negro was told by the magistrate that he could not get possession of him unless the fine of $25 was paid and the costs. The sheriff returns to Okolona and reports the situation to the citizens of that town, whereupon they raise the money to pay the negro's fine in order to get possession of him, the negro agreeing to go to Mississippi without requisition papers. It is expected that Lewis will turn state's evidence against an organized gang of horse thieves who have been operating in the Okolona section for quite a period.

Thieves Got Diamonds.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Diamonds valued at from $12,000 to $15,000 were stolen by burglars, who blew the safe of John Daynes & Sons, jewelers.

Lord Haliburton Dead.

London.—Lord Arthur Lawrence Haliburton, for a number of years under secretary of state for war, is dead. He was born in Windsor, N. S., September 26, 1832.

3,000 CHILDREN HAULED STATUE.

Statue of Jefferson Davis was Drawn Through Streets.

FOLLOWED BY OLD VETERANS

Thousands of People Witness Ceremonies When Statue of Jefferson Davis Was Borne to Site of Monument.

Richmond, Va.—The bronze statue of Jefferson Davis for the elaborate monument to Mr. Davis to be unveiled here June 3 was drawn through the streets of the city to the monument site by some 2,500 or 3,000 children, who did the hauling by means of a double rope some two or three squares long.

The children were led by Lee and Ticket camps of the Confederate Veterans, and these in turn were headed by a handsomely uniformed boy fife and drum corps. Many of the girls among the children were dressed in white, and a large proportion of the youthful enthusiasts in the "Lost Cause" carried small Confederate battle flags, which they waved industriously throughout the march.

The scene was especially inspiriting, and was witnessed by thousands of people. The rope used in hauling the statue was, after the ceremony, cut into many thousands of pieces for souvenirs.

EARTHQUAKE IN LUZON.

Towns of Nueva Caceres and Aribos Caramines Suffer Shocks.

Manila.—Reports have been received from South Luzon of a severe earthquake in the town of Nueva Caceres, capital of the province of Aribos Caramines, and also at Tayabas, in the province of Tayabas, in Northern Luzon. The destruction of buildings is reported, but so far there is no mention of any loss of life. A trembler has experienced at Manila with intermittent shocks for three hours. Three of the shocks were severe, but the majority of the others were scarcely perceptible.

Felt in Prussia.

Potsdam, Prussia.—The seismograph of the Geodetic Institute here registered two violent earth shocks estimated to have occurred about 8,000 miles from here.

Sharp Warning for England.

Berlin.—King Edward's approaching meeting with King Victor Emmanuel at Gueta is attracting much attention in the German press, which comments on the event as being an effort to isolate Germany and wind Italy away from the triple alliance. An article in the Cologne Gazette in this sense is being wiedly discussed because it is believed to have been inspired from Berlin. The writer says public opinion in Germany sees in King Edward's course an attempt to disturb the European equilibrium, which is calculated to awaken misgivings regarding his disarmament proposal, and finally warns Great Britain that "war with Germany would be dangerous for any opponent or any coalition of opponents."

This sharp language is interpreted by the Tageliche Rundschau as meaning that the German government has grown weary of the "English game of hide and seek and the comedy of peace and disarmament."

Studies German Labor Problem.

Berlin.—Hoke Smith, governor-elect of Georgia; William W. Williamson, president of the Savannah chamber of commerce, and G. Gunby Jordan, president of the Immigration Association of Georgia, have arrived here. They are visiting Germany in order to study the emigration question with a view to the development of the resources of Georgia and other southern states. At Bremen they tried to induce the North German Lloyd Company to establish a direct emigrant line to Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C., and met with encouragement. They believe that the outlook for increasing the emigration of some of the Austrian-Hungarian races to the South Atlantic states is better than the prospects of inducing Germans to go there just now.

Centenarians to Marry.

St. Louis, Mo.—John B. Bundren, 101 years old, has left for Talesville, Tenn., to prepare for a big reunion and his wedding with Miss Rose McGurgle, 99 years old. In their twenties Bundren and Miss McGurgle wanted to be married, but their parents were not willing. Bundren grew rich. Miss McGurgle never married, and now "love's young dream" is to be realized.

A Bank for the Middies.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Metcalf has signed an order making a change in the navy regulations which permits enlisted men of the marine corps not retired to deposit their savings with paymasters of the navy or any officer who carries their accounts in sums of not less than $5, the same to remain so deposited until final payment is made on discharge.

SOUTHERNERS GO TO ISTHMUS

Business Men on Tour of Inspection. Number of Alabamians in Party.

New Orleans.—Thirty-four southern business men sailed from here Friday morning on an inspection trip to the Panama canal zone. The cities represented are Indianapolis, Ind.; Nashville, Tenn.; Birmingham, Demopolis and Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss., and Shreveport and New Orleans, La. Complaints that eastern firms have been given the preference over southern dealers in supplying food stuffs to the canal employes will be investigated. J. A. Van Hoose, president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, accompanied the party.

WHIP CRUEL HUSBAND.

Splintered Their Weapons Upon Man Who Caused Wife's Death.

London, O.—Sixteen irate women of Resaca, Madison county, beat George H. Ward, a prosperous farmer, until he was battered and bruised and was removed to his home in a critical condition.

Owing to Ward's alleged cruelty to his wife she had been removed to a neighbor's house by friends, where she died of consumption. Ward allowed no religious services over the body, and when returning from the funeral in a solitary buggy he was attacked by the women of the community, armed with whips, who beat him till the whips were splintered.

In a suit for divorce Mrs. Ward had charged that her husband had driven her from bed while suffering from consumption to water stock.

Hail Twelve Inches Deep.

Houston, Tex.—Reports received here tell of a terrific hail storm which passed over Carthage, Yorktown and Clayton, this state, Friday, doing enormous damage to crops, houses and live stock. Telegraphic advices state that hail stones fell as large as eggs, and at Yorktown the ground was covered to a depth of twelve inches. The path of the storm was twelve miles wide, and crops will have to be replanted. Fruit trees were shattered by the force of the storm, and immense hail stones crashed through roofs of frail houses.

Ice Trust Magnates Under Arrest.

Columbus, O.—The grand jury which adjourned a day two ago returned secret indictments against the members of the ice trust in this city on the grounds that they had conspired in restraint of trade. The men indicted are C. M. Kinnaird, W. W. Polley, D. O. Davis, Starling Waddell, F. G. Stockdale, D. H. Norville and W. J. Phillips. It was not known until they were arrested and gave bail that they had been indicted.

Railroads Examine Assessment Books.

Montgomery, Ala.—In the hearing before the state board of assessment Friday afternoon it was shown that the railroads had become fully posted on all the tax assessments of the state.

The roads up were the Louisville and Nashville, the Central of Georgia and the Frisco. Evidence was produced to show that the railroads had gone to every one of the sixty-seven counties and secured the valuations from the books. These were followed to sales, and it was alleged that while other property was assessed at 45 per cent of market value, the railroads are assessed at 50 to 60 per cent. This was argued against any raise of the present values. None of the assessments of the big roads have yet been announced.

The board took no action in either case. There is a lot of information that was desired by the board, and all were carried over to later days. Vice-President Lawton appeared for the Central, along with R. E. Steiner and George W. Jones, the new district attorney for the Louisville and Nashville. John P. Tillman, of Birmingham, represented the Frisco, and John V. Smith, former chairman of the state railroad commission, appeared for the Louisville and Nashville along with Mr. Jones.

Brakeman Hurled to Death.

Jasper, Ala.—W. B. Campbell, a brakeman on the Northern Alabama railway, was killed by being thrown from a freight car on a high trestle at Calumet Friday night. Campbell was on a section of the cars which was struck by another section running down a hill and was thrown high in the air and to the ground.

Chilean Volcano Active.

Valparaiso, Chile.—News has reached here that the Puyhue volcano, in the province of Valdivia is in violent eruption. The eruptions are accompanied by awful subterranean rumblings, earthquakes, intense darkness, electrical displays, ashes and boiling water. The flowing lava has set fire to the surrounding forest and the inhabitants are fleeing in terror.

Want Receiver Appointed.

Nashville, Tenn.—Wade H. Cooper, of Nashville, has filed a bill in chancery here asking that a receiver be appointed for the $1,000,000 of bonds voted by the city of Nashville for the Tennessee Central railroad. Charges of fraud are made, and it is asked that the bonds be cancelled. Mr. Cooper is solicitor for J. H. McPhail, G. A. Myers, R. B. Currey and others.

KING EDWARD AIMS AT LATIN UNION.

Tour of the Mediterranean Is More Than an Exchange of Courtesies, Believe Monarchs—Status Quo in Sea.

London.—While the officials here minimize the importance of King Edward's tour of the Mediterranean, it cannot be denied that the visit to Cartagena and Gaeta were more than exchanges of courtesies between the monarchs of three great powers. The presence of Sir Charles Hardinge, permanent under secretary of the foreign office and King Edward's personal adviser on foreign affairs, stamps the meetings as being more than acts of civility. Sir Charles joined the king on his majesty's departure for Cartagena, and has been at his side ever since, and besides he has had conferences with the foreign ministers of Spain and Italy. That The Hague peace conference has been one of the subjects discussed cannot be doubted, but it will be possibly found that the main interests lie in another direction. As a prominent diplomat expressed it, "recent events point to the restoration of the Mediterranean to its old primacy, by which the relations between the general powers were determined."

What King Edward is aiming at, some well-informed persons contend, is a Latin union supported by Great Britain for the maintenance of the status quo in the great inland sea. Whatever connection Italy has with the plans must have arisen since King Edward's departure from England, as it was not until after his arrival at Malta that his majesty instructed the foreign office to arrange for meeting with King Victor Emmanuel. Whether there will be other conferences has not yet been made public, but it is certain that King Edward's tour, which began with a friendly call on King Alfonso at Cartagena, has been gathering interesting force as it progressed, and the British, with greatest confidence in the diplomacy of their king, are looking forward to announcements of agreements, such as that entered into with France.

A GIFT TO CHINESE.

Louisville, Ky.—Rev. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church and a close friend of John D. Rockefeller, announced during a mission sermon that plans for a forthcoming princely gift by the millionaire and which has been pointed at heretofore, are practically complete.

"I can say to you, not for publication," said Dr. Jones, "that the greatest benefactor of the Baptist church has about completed the arrangements for a gift of the sum of $50,000,000 for the education of the Chinese."

When questioned after the sermon Dr. Jones refused to qualify his statement or give any details, contenting himself with admitting that it was correct. The money presumably will be devoted to mission schools.

Bank Clerk Steals $50,000.

New York.—W. G. Douglass, loan clerk of the Trust Company of America, was arraigned in the West Side police court Saturday and remanded without bail on the charge of taking from the company $50,000 in bonds. He was arrested on the complaint of Oakleigh Thorne, president of the trust company, who discovered the loss of the bonds and personally traced Douglass to a hotel in Forty-seventh street. Mr. Thorne stated that after his arrest Douglass admitted to him that he had taken the bonds, which were those of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, about ten days ago, and also told where they were. He said he had made no attempt to dispose of them, and that he did not know why he took them. Douglass had been with the company for a number of years. His salary was $7,500 a year, and he was not known to be in financial straits.

Collision Due to "Excusable Errors."

Bremen.—The verdict of the German admiralty court for the collision in November last between the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and the British royal mail line steamer Orinoco, off Cherbourg, is that the accident was "due to excusable errors on both sides." The British admiralty court on December 8 decided that the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was alone to blame for the collision off Cherbourg November 21 between that vessel and the British steamer Orinoca. The suit for damages was brought by the owners of the Orinoco.

Revenue Collector Commits Suicide.

Nashville, Tenn.—Deputy Revenue Collector E. E. Bell committed suicide at a hotel in this city Sunday night by taking morphine. No cause is known for the deed. He had been in the revenue service for many years. He was a terror to the moonshiners in the mountains of Tennessee.

$11,000,000 Business Done at Brunswick.

Brunswick, Ga.—The volume of shipping business transacted at Brunswick during the first three months of 1907 presents the most creditable showing, business to the amount of over $11,000,000 having been handled during January, February and March according to the report of the port statistician.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR APRIL 28, BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Joseph Faithful in Prison, Gen. 39:20-40:15—Golden Text: Rev. 2:10 — Memory Verses, 21, 22.

The Midianites take Joseph with them into Egypt. He is sold to a new master, Potiphar, the captain of the guard of Pharaoh. God wonderfully blesses all the work to which he lays his hands. He gains the confidence and the esteem of Potiphar. He is made the head servant in the captain's household. Fidelity to his trust in the face of opportunities for evil against which few men in a like capacity would have been proof lands him in prison. There is no justice in his condemnation. But into the dungeon they send him upon the unsupported testimony of an unworthy woman.

In the prison the greatness of God's providence and of Joseph's character receive further demonstration. Joseph is supremely blessed. God prospers whatever he undertakes to accomplish. As for Joseph he wastes no time in idle condemnation of the hardness of his lot. He wastes no time cursing God for allowing him to become enmeshed in such a terrible net. The dream in which he had as a boy found an egotistic delight sustains him and comforts him as a man. He is confident of the blessing and the providence of God in the face of this severest trial. God had delivered him out of the hands of intending murderers and had spared his life. He had raised him to a position of power in the household of a captain of an Egyptian guard. The God who had delivered him before and had endowed him with success still lived. Why should he mourn or berate?

Joseph played the man. He was faithful to God. He retained a lively consciousness of God's fidelity to him. He never relinquished his belief in the divine leading and the divine providence. And his rectitude was recognized. He became as powerful in the prison as he had been in the home. His integrity was taken for granted. In all likelihood his innocence was assumed though he was not released.

Faithfulness to God made all this possible. God blessed him because he was worthy of the blessing. Joseph was able to resist the wiles of Potiphar's wife because he had a realization of the duty he owed to God and to Potiphar. He was able to be cheerful and obedient and tactful in prison because he had faith in God and was faithful to Him.

It takes a man to be faithful to God in the face of the difficulties that confronted Joseph. But it is the man who is faithful in the midst of the shadows of life who is worthiest of the blessings that come when sunshine floods the soul. Joseph had ample excuse, if he had been anxious for any, to find fault. He was not to blame for the unwise love that his father showed him. He had done nothing particularly criminal, though he may have been a bit foolish, to warrant the slavery into which he had been sold. He might have reviled the character of that justice that would jail a man for desiring to be pure in life. He might have torn his hair and beaten his head against the walls of his cell as he contemplated his predicament. But he did nothing of the sort. He did none of those things that naturally we should have expected a man in his condition to do. He was simply faithful.

And his faithfulness is the lesson we had best learn. The Golden Text says: "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." That is an invitation and a promise. It is an invitation to the exercise of those qualities of manhood that are noblest and truest and best. Without faithfulness we should be a sorry people. Without faithfulness, fidelity, constancy to purpose and responsibility the world would cease to progress. Faithfulness is at the bottom of all human progress, just as truly as it is an element in the divine character. Eliminate faithfulness from the human character and commerce will cease, knowledge will vanish away, morality will be destroyed, religion will be no more. With faithfulness as a motive in the lives of men and of nations, humanity will prosper, and it will go from glory unto glory in every sphere of its activity.

Further, we are invited to the exercise of our capacity for faithfulness in our relations with God. Faithfulness not only for the moments and the days, but faithfulness for the span of the life that God in His providence permits to us upon the earth, God wants us to be continuously, not intermittently, faithful. He desires constancy.

The Golden Text also offers us a promise, the most precious promise that a loving God can make to men. "I will give thee a crown of life." That is the reward for continuous faithfulness in our relationships in this life. It should be the endeavor of every soul to attain it. The God who inspired Joseph is the same God who makes this gracious promise to us. The God who rewarded the faithfulness of Joseph in this life is the God who promises that the result of our faithfulness here shall not fail us hereafter. Shall we not trust Him? Shall we not be faithful to Him and to His children, our brethren? Faithful in shadow as in brightness, in the evil days as in our hours of prosperity? Shall we not be as faithful to Him as He is to us?

Publicity Organization's Proposals.

At a meeting of the National Publicity Bill Organization in New York City ex-Senator W. E. Chandler defended President Roosevelt from the sarcastic attack of Col. Alexander Troup, of Connecticut. W. J. Bryan proposed drastic legislation to prohibit the contribution of political campaign funds by trusts.

Col. George W. Jones has been very deservedly promoted to the position of district attorney to the L. & N. railroad company, a position he has practically been filling for some time past, since the bad health of Col. Falkner necessitated his vacating the office. We congratulate Col. Jones on his well-merited promotion.

SCIENTISTS declare the crust of the earth is in an unstable condition, and this is the cause of the several earthquakes the world has been experiencing of late. We hope the crust is substantial in this quarter, however.

ON page 3 will be found the list of delinquent taxpayers, which we publish for the benefit of our subscribers. Some misunderstanding seems to have arisen in the minds of some of our subscribers in regard to the publication of this list, and we wish to assure them that we get no pay for this list, but publish it free of charge, and solely for their information. Everything of interest to the people of Chilton county will always be found in THE BANNER, which has the largest circulation of any paper in Chilton county, and is the only paper printed in the county—a county which apparently could well support two printing offices and not have to send its good money abroad for work which can be done as well and cheaper at home. Some good people know it, but our county officers are wofully short-sighted.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

The ceremonies incident to the formal opening of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition on April 26th, 1907, will be under the direction of Mr. G. T. Shepperd, Secretary of the Jamestown Exposition company, assisted by Lieutenant P. H. Bagby, 6th United States Infantry, military attache to the Department of the Secretary.

At sunrise on April 26th, the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, stationed at the Exposition Grounds will fire a salute of three hundred guns to usher in the commencement of the day opening the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the first English settlement in America.

Upon the arrival of President Roosevelt, on the Mayflower, in Hampton Roads, a salute will be fired by the United States and foreign war ships there assembled.

When the President presses the gold button, starting the machinery of the Exposition in motion, it will, at the same time, be the signal for the unfurling of more than one thousand flags on the various buildings of the Exposition. The pressing of this button will also be the signal for a salute to the Union by the United States and foreign ships assembled in Hampton Roads and by the garrison at Fort Monroe. At the conclusion of the salute all of the bands on the Exposition grounds will play the "Star Spangled Banner," at which time all troops will salute the national anthem by presenting arms and the entire concourse will be expected to uncover during the rendition of this ceremonial.

Immediately thereafter the President of the United States will review the parade, of which Major-General Frederick D. Grant, of the United States Army, will be the Grand Marshal, which will be participated in by the soldiers and sailors of the United States and foreign governments and the National Guard. The governors of the different states of the Union having military representation in the parade will participate in the parade.

CHILTON COTTON ASSOCIATION.

Verbena, April 20, 1906

Editor Banner—I have this day collected in and near Verbena for account Chilton county division of the Southern Cotton Association $50, as per list herewith attached, and it was real easily done, which caused me to think our cotton association is not so dead after all, at least in and about Verbena. Of this amount and of this list I collected of six colored men one dollar each, and which they appeared to take pleasure in giving, and I have promise of still other contributions from both white and colored. Think by time Verbena has done its do this list will reach $75, and for which I wish to thank those who have already or in future give anything for this worthy cause. I shall call on the good people of Clanton and other Chilton county towns soon and I trust they may do as well as my home town. I send this report to both the county papers that all may see the good work I am doing in my home village.

I have just received invitation to attend meeting of prominent men in Birmingham on 23d inst. who propose valuable work for and in the interest of the Cotton Association, and I trust we may do something in our meeting that will instill into the people generally and especially of Chilton county, new life and renewed zeal.

American Cotton Supremacy.

An appropriation of $12,000,000 by the German Government,—on condition that German manufacturers raise a large sum,—to encourage cotton-growing in the colonies of Fatherland, has called attention anew to the supermacy of America in the production of this great staple. In average years the fields of the United States produce more than three quarters of the cotton crop of the world. We hold our own, although, since our Civil War, many and costly attempts have been made in various parts of Asia and Africa to compete with our cotton-growing States. To-day Texas alone produces nearly as much as all non-American countries combined. During the year ending September 1, 1906, our cotton crop aggregated 11,319,860 bales, of which 6,716,351 bales were exported to Europe. During the same period, the East Indies, Egypt, and the rest of the world produced 2,562,000 bales. The production of Russia is increasing rapidly. According to Baron Kaneko, three quarters of all the raw cotton used in the Mikado's empire comes from this country. The fact underlaying the whole situation is that the world's demand for cotton is expanding far more rapidly than the world's supply.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

DELICATE CHILDREN

Advice to Clanton Mothers Who Have Delicate Children

If we could only make all fathers and mothers in Clanton regard what we say there would be fewer sickly, delicate children on our streets.

Rapidly growing children need a great deal of vitality. They grow fast, play hard, and work too hard at school, and many such children are tired, thin, pale and worn when they ought to be robust and rosy.

Every run-down, growing child in Clanton should take Vinol, our delicious cod liver preparation without oil. It requires almost no digestion at all and cannot upset delicate, weakened stomachs as do old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions. Vinol also contains peptonate of iron.

It strengthens the digestive organs, makes new vitality, sound flesh and muscle tissue, strong bone structure and pure, rich, red blood. Vinol fills out hollow cheeks and makes thin little arms and legs plump and round.

Said a member of the Upchurch Drug co: "We cannot recommend Vinol too highly for puny, weak and ailing children, to build up the run down, over worked, tired and debilitated, or to give renewed vitality to the aged, and we cheerfully refund the money in every case where it fails. Upchurch Drug co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Clanton, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Mr PINCKARD ON CLANTON.

From the Birmingham Age-Herald

"Clanton is making great strides as a cotton center," declared E. M. Pinckard of Clanton, last night at the Hillman. Mr. Pinckard is the senior member of the firm of E. M. Pinckard & Co. of Clanton, and an experience of twenty years in that town gives him a knowledge of conditions in that fine agricultural region which has been profitable to him and which has aided in the development of the town and country. "Our town handled 7000 bales of cotton last year, but I believe we will go to 10,000 this year," continued Mr. Pinckard, "and a peculiar fact about last year's crop was that about ten grades of cotton appeared on the market compared with a maximum of a half dozen in previous years. This was because of the great rain storm last fall which beat out the cotton and damaged the crop greatly.

"The late frosts damaged fruit and vegetables very little in our section. At first the reports stated that everything was killed, but these proved to be erroneous, and farmers are complaining only of losing a few vegetables.

"Clanton is coming to the front rapidly in many respects. Our lumber interests are increasing and the business of the town has made wonderful growth in the past five years. If our farmers would only diversify their crops we could be independent of the world. So long as the crop is almost entirely of cotton there is always a chance for hard times to have an effect, but there has been nothing to complain of for the past three years since cotton has maintained a good price.

"Farmers are apt to overstep themselves under a continued regime of prosperity and they forget that a bad crop year may come on, and under the inspiration of good prices for cotton indulge too much in luxuries and strain their credit. This matter of credit is a serious thing to both merchant and farmer, but judiciously used is the salvation of the cotton-growing region.

"When the farmer learns to raise other crops besides cotton the matter of credit, advancing on the crop and mortgages will not worry him."

your cough is only in the throat and does not trouble you now, don't think that it needs no attention. When it has not had much of a start is the time to check it. The slightest cough leads to Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Consumption. A bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. The price puts it within reach of all. Sold by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

The Weather Bureau sends out the following bulletin:

Montgomery, Ala., April 23, 1907

The week was cool and rainy. The mean temprature for the state (58 degrees) was about 4 degrees below the normal for the third week of April, while the amount of rain was between three and four times greater than the usual fall.

The weather began to grow warmer on the 15th; and on the 16th the mean temprature was about normal; during the remainder of the week the daily means fluctuated below the normal.

"Nothing so good as Cascasweet," writes a mother who has used it. "It saved my baby's life" writes another. Cascasweet is a vegetable corrective for the disorders of a child's stomach. Contents on the bottle in plain English. 50 doses for 25 cents. Recommended by Upchurch Drug co.

Dear Editor—Please allow me small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to what Jack's Friend and The Girl had to say in last week's issue. Say, little girl, the people that stopped their children did not stop them to regret it, they considered the act thoroughly before they did it, so they did not regret it in the least. They may be somewhat swell headed and silly, but are swelled for the good of their community and silly with the majority of their district; not swelled with prejudice and for want of intellect as you are. The trustees in this district do not claim to be school teachers, but are school workers for good, and we claim ourselves and children second to no one. So old Citizen has been here too long that he does not know where the boundary lines of the district are and is well satisfied with them. So if you are desirous of having them surveyed the job is up to you. Say, Jack's Friend, you changed your autograph somewhat; old Citizen may be quite a kicker, butter and fuss raiser, but he has not kicked any pine trees down yet to build him a school house of his own because he is not willing to be governed by the majority of his people in his district, neither has he butted any windows out of the school house already built, nor kicked the stove down, piping and all. So old Cit. will but off to come no more, there being no designs on his trustle board to cause confusion. CITIZEN.

Unity.

On Monday afternoon, April 8th, the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Miller and took her aged mother, Mrs. Foster. She had been sick about two weeks. She was a good lady and loved by all who knew her. She was carried to her old home in Coosa county, and was interred beside her husband, who departed this life several years ago. She leaves one daughter and several grand children, and a host of friends who mourn her loss. Our deepest sympathies are with the bereaved ones.

We are glad so say Mrs. Alice Baker and Miss Mattie Miller, who have been sick, are up again.

Little Thelma Farley, who has been sick, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs Jim Jones of Clanton visited his father Sunday.

There will be preaching here Sunday, at 11 a.m. by Rev. Cox, and Sunday school at 10. We hope to see a large crowd out.

Monarch Brand Guano
Montgomery Acid Phosphate
Royal High Grade Fertilizer
Capital City Standard Fertilizer
Edisto Extra High Grade Super Phosphate
Montgomery Acid 2% Potash
Excelsior Bone Compound
High Grade English Acid Phosphate

These brands have been thoroughly tested by the most wide-awake farmers in the cotton states. Time is money; so don't waste your valuable time in trying NEW BRANDS that you know nothing about, when you can get these old established RELIABLE ONES.

None but the best and purest materials are used, such as raw and steamed bone, high grade bone phosphate of lime, dry and acidulated flesh from the slaughter houses of the West, dried blood, tankage, azotine, fish scrap and pure forms of potash.

MECHANICAL CONDITION.

We desire that buyers will particularly notice the mechanical condition of these goods. They are manufactured many months before they are shipped out. They lie in bulk so that all the materials become thoroughly assimilated, and to this fact is their excellency largely due. All of these goods are carefully milled and screened before shipment.

ALL OF THESE GOODS ARE IN PERFECT MECHANICAL CONDITION and we believe that they are WORTH MORE MONEY to the farmer than goods that are not in perfect condition.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and vouches in print for it. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, ofttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

There are numerous tool gates on the road to success.

MONEY IN PHEASANTS.

Breeders of the Beautiful Birds Make Handsome Profits.

"One proof of the fact that there is no country under the sun with so many people of wealth as ours," said the game fancier, "is found in the large number of English pheasants imported to this country.

"In 1904 the number was one hundred and fifty thousand, and these were all for table use. Last year an increase of about 10 percent in this number was reported. The pheasant is a table luxury, and in England, France, Germany and Belgium they are reared by the thousands.

"In America breeding is but in its infancy. In ten years, however, we may be producing enough to supply the local demand, and prices will be cheaper than now. The cheapest one can be purchased for now is about $2, and from that figure up to $10 to $15 is demanded.

"The English and the Mongolian pheasants are game birds, and an increasing demand for them for preserves of clubs and wealthy owners of country seats is noted. We have one breeder in the East who supplies from two to three thousand a season, and he has to import many in order to fill all his orders.

"The pheasant is a beautiful bird and by no means difficult to rear or breed.

"Their plumage is in good demand for millinery purposes. Taxidermists pay as high as $8 and $10 for the skins of the best marked birds.

"There are varieties of pheasants that are purely ornamental. They appeal neither to the cook nor to the hunter.

"Pheasants cost most in the winter months. About September 1 the breeder adds 10 percent to his price. This holds good until April, when they quit laying. The pheasant is as hardy and as easily reared as the turkey, but they are not domesticated birds. With the pheasant one is dealing, with a bird that is still subject to the laws of the jungle, and exhibits many of the instincts of the wild life from which they are really but a few generations removed. They are but cousins to the grouse or quail. The longer the breed has been in activity the more docile and the better layers they are."—Washington Post.

JURISTS DISCUSS INTERNATIONAL LAW.

American Society Holds First Annual Session.

DAVIS ON NEUTRAL PROPERTY

Judge Advocate General Contends That Great Care Should Be Exercised in Carrying of Contraband Goods.

Washington, D. C.—The American Society of International Law met in this city in its first annual session. After the address of welcome, responded to by Secretary of State Root, president of the society, the morning session was devoted to papers and general discussion of these topics: "Would Immunity From Capture During War of Non-Offending Private Property Upon the High Seas Be in the Interest of Civilization?" and "Is the Trade in Contraband of War Unneutral and Should It Be Prohibited by International and Municipal Law?"

The questions of transference from the municipal courts to an international court of all prize cases and as to whether the forcible collection of contract debts in the interest of international justice and peace were discussed at the afternoon meeting.

Judge Advocate General Davis addressed the meeting upon the subject of immunity of neutral property from seizure. He sketched in brief the existing rules of contraband so far as they are recognized in international law, saying that they represented the compromise between conflicting interests of belligerents and neutrals. The neutral desired to maintain his relations of amity with the belligerents and continue his ante-bellum trade, while the belligerents were each unwilling that the other should be able to trade in contraband.

General Davis pointed out the difficulty that confronted England and America in restricting contraband trade because of the practice of allowing the greatest freedom of business occupation to the citizen, while the continental European powers, with their more highly concentrated and centralized systems, could easily impose restrictions upon the commercial activity of their subjects. To abolish contrabands of war would be to deprive the belligerent of the right to protect himself by reason of the war-like material which the enemy has succeeded in obtaining from neutral sources. Sooner or later, he said, the belligerent would, with great reason, demand that the neutral states should charge themselves with the burden of preventing export trade in contraband to a belligerent destination in time of war.

General Davis referred to the difference between England and the continental powers in the matter of possibilities of a blockade, pointing out that owing to her insular situation, while the other European powers had land boundaries with other state, England was the one state which might be really effectively blockaded. In conclusion he said:

"The munificent operation of the declaration of Paris has done much to mitigate the rights of maritime research and capture and the practice of belligerents in refraining from exercising their conceded rights in localities distant from the theatre of the belligerent to bring into such immunity fro mcapture and annoyance as is now enjoyed by neutral commerce in time of war. And it is in this direction, that is in extent of the area of neutral immunity and in resting the activity of the belligerents to the theatre of actual naval hostilities, that we must seek for the immunity of neutral commerce from the belligerent interference in time of public war."

American Delegates.

Washington, D. C.—The complete American delegation to the International Red Cross conference, which will open in London on June 10, has been named by the state department, as follows: Surgeon-General Robert M. O'Reilly, representing the army; Medical Director John C. Wise, for the navy; Col. William Cary Sanger, for the American Red Cross board; Ernest Bicknell, of Chicago, and Miss Mabel T. Board, of Washington. Mr. Bicknell was in charge of relief work at San Francisco following the earthquake.

Both Duelists Dead.

Owensboro, Ky.—William Gooch and Harry springer, union miners, engaged in a pistol duel in the pool room at Sturgis, near here, and both were shot to death. Gooch borrowed a dollar from Winn Moore, a non-union guard, and Springer remonstrated with him. Hot words followed, and both men pulled revolvers and began firing.

New Bank at Robertson.

Cornersville, Tenn.—J. B. Gambill, of this place, has returned from Cross Plains, Tenn., here he organized a bank, ith a capital of $12,000, ith seventy-five stockholders. The officers are: Dr. L. B. Walton, president; Moses Byrum, first vice-president; Dr. James J. Covington, second vice-president; Sam B. Wilson, cashier. The bank will open about June 1.

FORT LEE MONUMENT

Marks Retreat of Continental Soldiers From New York.

New York.—The Fort Lee monument committee has announced that Sculptor Carl E. Tefft's design has been accepted for the bronze statue to be erected to commemorate the masterly retreat of the Continental army from New York to Fort Lee during the revolution.

The site is at Parker's Pond, Fort Lee, and the monument, which will be unveiled in October, will be in full view from Manhattan and the river.

Sculptor Tefft describes the monument as follows:

"On a granite base will stand an upright, oblong boulder weighing forty tons. Clinging to the boulder will be the bronze figure of two Continental soldiers, each seven and a half feet high. The design is emblematic of soldiers scaling the Palisades."

Oklahoma Ready for Statehood.

Guthrie, Okla.—Without a dissenting vote, the constitution for the proposed state of Oklahoma was adopted Friday afternoon. President Murray signed the sheepskin with an alfalfa pen presented by W. J. Bryan.

Capitalists Pay Walsh's Debt.

Chicago, Ill.—John R. Walsh's $11,000,000 debt to the Chicago clearing house banks was assumed, it was announced Saturday, by a syndicate of Chicago, St. Louis and New York capitalists, who have subscribed about $20,000,000 to finance the completion of the Chicago Southern and Southern Indiana railways to conect with the Chicago Terminal tracks.

Falls Dead Reading Orphan Report.

Baltimore, Md.—During the progress of the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum Sunday afternoon its president, Moses J. Oppenheimer, began to read his annual report. He had finished the first page when he suddenly fell dead, a victim of heart disease.

10,000 Immigrants Land in One Day

Washington, D. C.—Ten thousand immigrants passed through the gateway to the United States at Ellis Island on the 18th of April. The indications are that the flood of immigrants to this country is greater than ever before.

Explosion Destroys a Large Mexican Factory—Loss Is $200,000.

San Antonio, Tex.—A special to the Express from Chihuahua, Mex., says: An explosion, which is attributed to a lighted cigarette stub carelesaly thrown aside, totally destroyed La Sultana, an extensive fireworks factory, causing a property loss of $200,000 and fatally injured two of the employes of the plant, shook the buildings of the city to their foundation and spread terror among the peons, who fell to their knees uttering prayers to be saved from what they thought was an earthquake.

Of the injured persons, a number of whom cannot recover, are Juan Martinelli and Gerturdio Barretan. Both had lingered behind the other employes, who had left the building but a few minutes before.

JUMPED TO THEIR DEATH.

Body of Girl Found, But Lovers Remains Disappeared.

Staunton, Va.—The body of Miss Mabel Pendleton was found Saturday half a mile below the bridge over Jackson river at Clifton Forge, from which she and her lover, Stuart Gay jumped to their death on Thursday last after being turned back at Staunton while en route to Washington to be married. The body of Gay has not been recovered.

Chicago Grafter Is Caught With Goods.

Chicago, Ill.—The accounts of Homer K. Galpin, chief clerk of the new municipal court, have been found short to the amount of $2,421. Calpin is a protege of John R. Walsh. The money was taken from the cash drawer and "I. O. U.'s" or "memoradum" notes, many of them without date or signature, substituted as security. Galpin was defiant when called to account but made restitution. Galpin is also a state senator, although he holds his membership in the legislature in direct violation of the constitution of the state.

Prison Governor Shot Dead.

Rostov-on-Don, Russia.—The vice-governor of the prison was shot dead in the streets here Saturday night. His assassin was arrested.

Lumber Yards Destroyed.

Gilmer, Tex.—The Commercial Lumber Company's lumber yards were destroyed by fire Saturday. Total loss, $60,000, fully covered by insurance.

West Point, N. Y.—Seventeen cadets at the military academy are to be placed on trial for violation of the rules of the institution in lending their overcoats to their shivering girl friends on April 7.

Athens, Ala.—M. K. Clents, who was defeated for mayor in the recent mayor's race by Clarence R. Frost, has filed his bill of contest in the circuit court.

DRUGGIST WHO VIOLATE PURE DRUG ACT.

May Get Into Serious Trouble Soon.

SEC., WILSON'S STATEMENT.

The Government Does Not Guarantee Any Food or Drug to Be Pure Because It Is So Labeled.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson announced that some prominent manufacturer of foods and drugs would get into serious trouble with the government if they did not stop telling the people that the government guaranteed the purity of their products.

"The serial number and the statement that the food or drug is 'guaranteed under the food and drugs act, June 30, 1906,' does not mean that the United States government guarantees the purity of the article or guarantees that the label is what it says it is, said Secretary Wilson. "On the contrary," he continued, "the statement means that the manufacturer of the article guarantees it to be pure, free from adulteration, and that he warrants every fact stated on the label to be true. It is the guarantee of the manufacturer, not the guarantee of the government.

"Such advertising as 'After January 1, 1907, the United States government will protect you by an official serial number that you may easily recognize,' and other statements of similar character, must be stopped, and stopped at once," remarked the secretary emphatically, "or I will do a little advertising myself in behalf of the people. I am growing tired of seeing these untruthful statements on the advertising pages of the magazines, the walls of the New York subway and the advertising spaces of the street cars of the principal cities."

Stray Torpedo Cost Railroad $85.

Birmingham.—Three suits against the Alabama Great Southern railway for alleged injuries to Flora and Russell Mosely from the result of handling a torpedo found lying near the tracks of the road near West End, in Jefferson county, were settled by consent before Judge H. A. Sharpe in the city court. Judgements were given by consent for $25 each in two cases and $35 in the other case. The plaintiffs averred in their petitions that on December 9 of last year Russell Mosely, aged 12 years, found an unexploded torpedo used for signaling near the tracks of the Alabama Great Southern. The boy exploded the torpedo with a hammer, which resulted in injuries being inflicted upon Russell and Flora Mosely.

To Take Six Years to Dig the Canal.

Washington, D. C.—John F. Stevens, formerly chief engineer and chairman of the isthmian canal commission, was a caller at the White House Saturday. His visit was a personal one, he said, and he had not seen the president since his return to this country. He talked with the president about the condition of affairs on the isthmus. "How long will it take to complete the canal?" was asked of Mr. Stevens. "Between six and seven years," he replied, adding: "The first of January, 1915, after discounting all contingencies, and it should be completed two years before that time." Mr. Stevens was asked if he would say anything about Mr. Oliver, whose bid to do the work by contract was rejected, but he replied that he did not know Mr. Oliver.

Big Stock Yard Fire.

Chicago, Ill.—Fire that caused more than $200,000 damage almost entirely destroyed warehouse No. 5 of Libbery, McNiell & Libbey at the stock yards Saturday drove 200 employes from the building in panic, and for a time threatened to include several other valuable buildings in the immediate vicinity.

Tragic Reality.

London.—William Zeltz, while impersonating a signal man bound to the railroad line by robbers in a moving picture representation of a train wrecking scene, was killed by a train near Corydon. The train ought to have stopped, but failed to do so, owing to an error in the signaling.

Provide for Separate Rooms.

Nashville, Tenn.—The state railroad commission has issued an order to all railroads in the state to provide separate waiting rooms at all stations on their respective lines for the use of white and colored passengers. This order has been issued under the recent act of the legislature increasing the powers of the commission.

Preacher Arrested for Assaulting Wife.

Charlottesville, Va.—Rev. Harvey J. Seaman, of this city, a well-known minister, was committed to the city jail by Justice Robert Watson upon his failure to furnish bond in the sum of $500 to keep the peace. Rev. Mr. Seaman, who is pastor of severn' churches in adjoining counties, was arrested on the complaint of his wife that he assaulted her.

THE WOMAN WITH THE BROOM.

Bowed by the cares of cleaning comes she leans
Upon her broom and gazes through the dust.
A wilderness of wrinkles on her face
And on her head a knob of wispy hair
Who made her slave to sweeping and to soap?
A thing that smiles not and that never rests
Stanch-nosed in stall, a eater to the cow?
Who loosened and made shrill this angled jaw?
Who lowered this narrowed chest for blowing up
Of sluggish morn folks and their morning fire?

Is this the thing you made a bride and brought
To have dominion over heart and home,
To scour the stairs and warm the bun for flour
To bear the burden of maternity?
Is this the wife they wove who framed our law
And pillared a bright land on smiling homes?
Down all the stretch of street to the last house
There is no shape more angular than here
More tongued with gabble of her neighbors' deeds
More filled with nerve acne and rheumatic twinges
More fraught with menace of the frying pan.

O lords and masters of our happy land!
How with this woman will you make account
How answer her shrill question in that hour
When whirlwinds of such women shake the polls
Heedless of every precedent and creed, Straight in hysteric haste to right the wrong?
How will it be with cant of politics,
With king of trade and legislative boss,
With cohorts of hypocrisy and greed,
When she shall take the ballot for her broom?
And sweep away the dust of centuries?
—Edwin W. Sanborn, in New York Sun.

Hole in the Watch Key.

"The queerest patent?" said the attorney. "Well, the queerest patent I know of was the patent of a hole.

"An old farmer out St. Louis way patented a hole, and what is more, he made a lot of money on it. Now, though, it isn't worth the paper it is written on.

"This farmer one morning in the dim past went to wind his big silver turnip and found the key stuck full of dirt. He tried to dig the dirt out with a pin. No go.

"'Consarn ye,' he said, 'I'll fix ye.'

"And he drilled a hole in the key, and with a single breath blew out every bit of the dirt.

"He patented that hole. He built a factory, bought millions of keys and made holes for them. His plant turned out 27,500 holes a day.

"In fact, all the world used the farmer's watch keys, which were the only kind that would keep clean, and the old fellow got rich.

"That, of course, was in the dim past. The hole factory is only running on half time now, for few persons to-day use any save the stem winding or keyless watch."—Minneapolis Journal.

The Worth of Nurses.

Contrasting his Indian experiences with those of South Africa, Field Marshal Lord Roberts said that for the first two or three months of the siege of Delhi not a single case of amputation survived, and at Lucknow the death statistics were very similar. In fact, it would hardly be possible to describe what the wounded and sick suffered during the Indian campaign from the overpowering heat, the swarm of insects, the stench, the lack of surgical and medical treatment and the want of proper nursing. During the South African War a totally different state of affairs prevailed, and the presence of trained nurses materially contributed to the difference.—London Hospital.

The Evolution of Household Remedies.

The modern patent medicine business is the natural outgrowth of the old-time household remedies.

In the early history of this country, EVERY FAMILY HAD ITS HOME-MADE MEDICINES. Herb teas, bitters, laxatives and tonics, were to be found in almost every house, compounded by the housewife, sometimes assisted by the apothecary or the family doctor. Such remedies as picra, which was aloes and quassia, dissolved in apple brandy. Sometimes a hop tonic, made of whiskey, hops and bitter barks. A score or more of popular, home-made remedies were thus compounded, the formulae for which were passed along from house to house, sometimes written, sometimes verbally communicated.

The patent medicine business is a natural outgrowth from this wholesome, old-time custom. In the beginning some enterprising doctor, impressed by the usefulness of one of these home-made remedies, would take it up, improve it in many ways, manufacture it on a large scale, advertise it mainly through almanacs for the home, and thus it would become used over a large area. LATTERLY THE HOUSEHOLD REMEDY BUSINESS TOOK A MORE EXACT AND SCIENTIFIC FORM.

Peruna was originally one of these old-time remedies. It was used by the Mennonites, of Pennsylvania, before it was offered to the public for sale. Dr. Hartman, THE ORIGINAL COMPOUNDER OF PERUNA, is of Mennonite origin. First, he prescribed it for his neighbors and his patients. The sale of it increased, and at last he established a manufactory and furnished it to the general drug trade.

Peruna is useful in a great many climatic ailments, such as coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis and catarrhal diseases generally. THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES HAVE LEARNED THE USE OF PERUNA and its value in the treatment of these ailments. They have learned to trust and believe in Dr. Hartman's judgment, and to rely on his remedy, Peruna.

SKIN SORE FOR EIGHT YEARS

Spent $300 on Doctors and Remedies, But Got No Relief—Cuticura Cures in a Week.

"Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms. I had to stay at home several times because of this affection. Up to a week or so ago I had tried many other remedies and several doctors, and spent about three hundred dollars, without any success, but this is to-day the seventh day that I have been using the Cuticura Remedies (costing a dollar and a half), which have cured me completely, so that I can again attend to my business. I went to work again to-night. I had been suffering for eight years and have now been cured by the Cuticura Remedies within a week. Fritz Hirschlaff, 24 Columbus Ave., New York, N. THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Sensible Advice to Women from Mrs. Henry Lee, Mrs. Fred Certia and Mrs. Pinkham.

MRS HENRY LEE — MRS. FRED CERTIA

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

This is the most critical period of her whole existence and every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time also cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularities, constipation and dizziness are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when this great change may be expected.

Mrs. Fred Certia, 1014 So. Lafayette Street, So. Bend, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ideal medicine for women who are passing through Change of Life. For several months I suffered from hot flashes, extreme nervousness, headache and sleeplessness. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I had made up my mind there was no help for me until I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my bad symptoms ceased, and it brought me safely through the danger period, built up my system and I am in excellent health. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound unsurpassed for women during this trying period of life."

Mrs. Henry Lee, 60 Winter Street, New Haven, Conn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After suffering untold misery for three years during Change of Life I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wrote you of my condition, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and followed your advice, and to-day I am well and happy. I can now walk anywhere and work as well as anyone, and for years previous I had tried but could not get around without help. I consider your medicine a sovereign balm for suffering women."

Women passing through this critical period should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If there is anything about your case you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is free and has guided thousands to health.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health, actually thousands of women, you cannot well say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." It is your duty to yourself and family to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For Ladies Ills

Great suffering is the lot of all women, who neglect the health of their womanly organs. No reason to do so, any more than to neglect a sore throat, colic, or any other disease, that the right kind of medicine will cure. Take for all your womanly ills. It can never do harm, and is certain to do good.

Mrs. Sallie H. Blair, of Johnson City, Tenn., writes: "I had suffered from womanly troubles for sixteen months, and had four doctors, but they could not help me, until I began to take Wine of Cardui. Now I think I am about well." At all reliable druggists, in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

A MISSOURI WOMAN

Tells a Story of Awful Suffering and Wonderful Relief.

Mrs. J. D. Johnson, of 603 West Hickman St., Columbia, Mo., says:

"Following an operation two years ago, dropsy set in, and my left side was so swollen the doctor said he would have to tap out the water. There was constant pain and a gurgling sensation around my heart, and I could not raise my arm above my head. The kidney action was disordered and passages of the secretions too frequent. On the advice of my husband I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Since using two boxes my trouble has not reappeared. This is wonderful, after suffering two years."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Rest is the great restorer, we tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally overworked as our digestive organs. A tired and overworked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last Dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Upchurch Drug co.

Two very pronounced movements were taken the latter part of last week in this city by the Alabama division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, whose executive and campaign committees held executive sessions lasting until Saturday evening.

The first step taken was the planning of an educational campaign to cover the state, each county being taken separately and aroused by rallies in their midst. This campaign will be inaugurated on June 15 and continue for six weeks.

The next and probably most important action was the selection and employing of a state teacher of cotton grading. The gentleman chosen for this position is Hon. J. M. Thornton, of Talladega, who has had thirty years' experience in that line. Mr. Thornton will teach a cotton grading school at Auburn, commencing July 15. This will be during the farmers' summer school of Auburn institute, and farmers will be in attendance from all over the seate. The inauguration of this custom is regarded as the most advanced step the farmers of Alabama have yet taken.

Present and taking part in the deliberations were the following:

Executive committee—J. F. Baker, of Sulligent, chairman; J. W. Sorrel, of Chilton; J. A. Fanning, of Cullman.

MEMOIR.

On April 20th, at 4 o'clock p.m. the death angel visited the home of Bro. and Sister F. A. Gibson and took from this world of suffering to her home in glory the sainted spirit of Sister Allana Henley, wife of Bro. Wm. Henley. Sister Henley had been confined to her bed of suffering sixteen months. She had borne her afflictions and suffering with all Christian patience and fortitude, never murmuring or complaining, but patiently awaiting the Master's call and fully resigned and submissive to His will. Sister Henley was about 83 years old; she had lived 60 of those years the true and faithful wife of Bro. Wm. Henley and a devoted member of the Methodist church, 35 of them being spent in the Methodist Protestant church. She was the mother of eight children, seven of whom she raised to be grown, who she faithfully pointed to the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. One of her sons, Rev. J. A. Henley, was a minister of the Gospel and preceded her to the gloryland; her oldest daughter is the wife of Rev. F. A. Gibson, with whom she lived at the time of her death. To know Sister Henley was to love her for her motherly Christian graces. Oh how her ever-faithful husband and her ever-faithful daughter and son-in-law will miss her. But weep not, dear ones, for she is at rest with her blessed Saviour, and there is only a short space between and then you will join her again in heaven, the Christian's happy home. In the death of Sister Henley the church has lost a faithful and useful member; the community a true, Christian neighbor; the husband a faithful and dutiful wife, one who had faithfully stood by him in adversity as well as prosperity; the children and grand-children a devoted mother. May they all take her true Christian life as an example and live so that they may meet her in her happy home above.

The remains were laid to rest in Pleasant Grove cemetery at three o'clock p.m. on the 21st, attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives. The burial services were impressively conducted by Rev. N. A. Dobbs, her old and faithful pastor. These lines are written by one who knew and loved her as a true Christian and neighbor.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—MRS. SARAH A. COLE, 149 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money—isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Ocampo.

Editor Banner—I beg for a little space in the Banner to tell of the glorious success of the all-day singing at Ocampo on the 28th inst. In my opinion it was an unprecedented gathering of the good people of Chilton county on any similar occasion. From all points, north, east, south and west, they came, notwithstanding in the early hours of the morning the sky was overcast with threatening clouds, but before ten o'clock, the sombre canopy broke away and "Old Sol" beemed forth with his brightest face giving cheer to the hearts of all. Birmingham, Bessemer, Parkwood, Saginaw, Calera, Jemison, Thorsby, Clanton and the immediate neighborhoods of Stump Hill, Rockymount, Mt. Moriah and Providence were represented. A conservative estimate placed the crowd at between 500 and 600.

The services were conducted by Mr. Ab Glass of Providence, assisted by Mr. Charles Glass and Mr. Arch Glass, respectively of Mt. Moriah and Jemison, and Mr. Billingsley of Thorsby. The old and the young joined in the singing with a hearty good will. The seating capacity of the church was crowded to its utmost, while many occupied the windows, and others standing, leaned against the walls; one-third at least compelled to remain outside, making the best of conditions. Everybody seemed happy, dressed in their best. The ladies inside largely predominated, and their gaily decked hats with Flora's most beautiful creations, presented a picture of enchanting loveliness; bright eyes of black, of brown and blue, and dimpled, rosy cheeks added to the attraction. "Cupid" bent his bow and let his arrows fly in every direction, no doubt wounding many hearts. Dinner being announced, the crowd dispersed, and in groups assembled to partake of the good things from bountifully laden baskets. During the dinner recess, the festive lasses with their gallant beaus roamed about the grounds, while ancient widowers and "out-of-date" bachelors dispairingly looked on. The hospitable homes of the Ocampo people were open to all who would partake of their invitations. Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Smitherman of the "Ocampo Inn" dispensed lavishly, appeasing the appetites of all who accepted their generous invitation. The occasion was one long to be remembered as a happy one in the journey of life.

ENYAP.

District 32.

The health of our communnity is not good at the precent.

The Liberty Hill folks visited Poplar Springs last Sunday and they were welcome.

The singing at Poplar Springs was enjoyed by a large congregation. I think we surely had some of the best singers in the county.

We also had a grand sermon at 11 a.m. by Rev. A. L. Foshee.

Original Providence.

Health of this community is very good at present, except bad colds.

Mr. Van Wallace and family of Dry Valley visited Mr. John Martin and family Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. J. R. Busby and family visited Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Busby.

Mr. J. A. Lowery and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Cobb Sunday.

Mr. Clabe Sims of Anniston spent the past week with parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sims.

Quiet a number of young folks of the "Original" atteuded the singing at Mr. Lumb Langston's Saturday night and reported a nice time.

Mr. J. H. Anderson has moved to Mars Hill to teach a summer school, and is sadly missed by his many friends.

The charming daughter of Mr. J. H. Lowery is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. J. A. Lowery.

We were glad to see so many young people attend Sunday school Sunday. We welcome you again.

I will ring off for this time with best wishes to the Banner.

THE BELLE.

Ragpickers Valley.

Dear Editor—We will step in this beautiful Saturday afternoon for a little chat.

We are glad to know that Mr. George Bruce has recovered from his few days illnes. His little son, Curvie, who has been suffering from whooping-cough, is also slowly recovering.

Misses Maggie Brown and Eddie Charles Bruce are guests of Miss Ennis Aldridge this afternoon.

Mr. Moses Hathcock spent last night with his sister, Mrs. Eulah Cunningham.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. S. J. Brown is suffering from a severe pain in her side, and hope for her speedy recovery.

The Sunday school at Samaria is progressing nicely under the management of Mr. N. J. Calloway. Our communnity would be better if we had more men like Mr. Calloway.

Mr. Emile Aldridge is a guest of Messrs. Horace and Floyd Aldridge this afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Walker was a welcome guest of Mrs. J. S. Aldridge his afternoon.

Miss Naomi Holly visited Miss Ennis Aldridge last Sunday.

Miss Maggie Brown visited Miss Ruth Bruce this morning.

Miss Birdie and Callie Askins visited W. M. Aldridge's family this week.

Come again, Nobody's Darling, we like to read your letters.

We think Falakto is doing fine, let us hear from them again. Do your best, Buster Boy. Let us hear from Saginaw again.

LITTLE SWEETHEARTS.

Walnut Creek.

The many friends of Mr. R. W. Taylor were glad to have him with us a few days. Mr. R. W. has a position in the First National Bank of Birmingham and is only 17 years old and finds it hard to stay away from home. Something seems to attract Mr. R. W. down the road. Look out, boys, some of the girls were all smiles when Mr. R. W. came, but now they are all frowns. Come again, Mr. Taylor. With good wishes to all.

A FRIEND.

Mount Moriah.

The Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely under the able management of Mr. J. E. Bledsoe. We have a banner Sunday school at this place and have large attendance.

The Mount Moriah singing had a special invitation to Ocampo Sunday and all reported a nice time.

Misses Annie, Minnie and Verler Skipper visited Misses Lula and Pearl Bledsoe Sunday afternoon.

Miss Sudie Martin visited her sister, Mrs. Alice Sutley, last week.

Messrs. A. J. Martin and C. H. Cobb of Birmingham were pleasant visitors here Sunday.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Earn Cobb happened to a very bad accident of getting his leg broke, but is improving fast.

Miss Lanie Cobb visited her brother Sunday.

Messrs. George Cobb and Cranby Beasley attended prayermeeting Wednesday night.

Mr. Clifford Cobb visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Skipper, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ora Shaw spent Saturday p.m. with her friends, Misses Annie and Verla Skipper.

L. J. B. and A. B. S.

Published Weekly

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

The decision of the War Department not to lend any more troops as attractions to help swell the profits of moneymaking shows is, in the opinion of the New York Tribune, heartily to be commended. Uncle Sam's uniform ought not, any more than the Stars and Stripes, to be used for advertising purposes.

The general prosperity of New Zealand is remarkable. Out of a population of a little less than 1,000,000 one-third have money in the savings banks. The wealth a head is nearly $1500, which is the largest of any country in the world. Statistics show for New Zealand the highest health and the lowest death rate of any country.

Because of adverse legislation more than $6,000,000 invested in these racetracks is tied up: Harlem, Hawthorne and Worth, Chicago; Fair Grounds, Delmar and Kinloch Park, St. Louis; Montgomery Park, Memphis; Cumberland Park, Nashville; Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs; Little Rock, Ark.; Essex Park, Hot Springs; Elm Ridge, Kansas City; Highland Park and Grosse Point, Detroit; Oakley Track, Cincinnati, and Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H.

We have learned that whether the price of a certain stock is this or that, the trains on the railroad run as usual, the wheels turn, the crops grow, the sun rises, the rains fall, and day succeeds night exactly as before. We may have some feeling of regret to learn that this gentleman or that has lost at his speculating, continues the New York American, but the business of the country will survive, the farmers will sow and the fields yield their harvests nevertheless. That the prosperity of the country should ever have been believed subject in any way to the profits of the speculation game seems strange, but we can be pretty sure it is a supposition that has fled from among us forever.

The way a streetcar blockade was raised in Philadelphia the other day serves as a lesson for people who try to conquer balky horses. Motormen, policemen and the driver of the horse who caused the cars to accumulate were unable to make the horse go or to push him off the track, and the emergency wagon was about to be sent for when a young girl stepped out of the crowd and asked permission to start the animal. She patted the horse's nose, and then she produced from her pocket a piece of white candy. The horse, possessing the sweet tooth of its kind, nibbled at it, but for the second piece he had to reach out and take a step forward. By the time the third morsel of candy was eaten the horse was off the track and business was being resumed.

Prof. Charles Zueblin, of the University of Chicago, told the members of the League of Religious Fellowship that one cannot belong to the "Four Hundred" without losing half the joy of living. He said it is impossible for the individual to become a member of any exclusive set without finding himself a loser, when, in the end, he takes account of his assets. "They don't get anything out of life," said Prof. Zueblin; "their perspective is narrow, they have only a small circle of friends, and they are constantly meeting the same faces. They intermarry and intermarry with the result that finally their children are marked in the same way that the children of the aristocracy are marked—they are without vigor, without purpose, without ambition." Prof. Zueblin also declared that those of the so-called exclusive set who refuse to recognize those outside of their set do so because they are afraid to know people in the other classes. "They feel the insecurity of their position in their own class, and hence are afraid of losing their position if they associate with people outside of their classes," he said. "The really big people are never afraid of losing anything by mingling with all classes. One can measure the real stature of a woman by her interests." Prof. Zueblin declared that one of the social needs of the hour is a greater approach to economic equality. He urged that this economic equality should extend to the family. "The wife who is economically independent is the more respected by her husband," he said.

Sun Dial Mottoes.

Light rules me,
The shadow thee.

Come what may, time and the hour
Run through the longest day.

Moments pass like shadows.

Time waits for no man.

Time goes, you say? Ah, no!
Alas, Time stays, we go!

Hours fly,
Flowers die,
New days,
New ways,
Pass by;
Love stays.

I am a shadow, so art thou,
I mark time; dost thou?

Amidst ye flowers
I tell ye hours.

Those by the Dial's Shady Stealth know
Time's thievish progress to Eternity.

Time flies, Lives rise, and Shadows ...
Let it pass by,
Love reigns forever over all.

I go and come every day,
But thou shalt go without return.

It is my will and my delight
To tell the hours of day and night.

A clock the time may wrongly tell,
I never if the sun shines well.

I note the time that you waste.
—The Hours.

The Difference.

You may think, in looking upon the world, that the great difference between people is that some have many things to enjoy and others are very few; when you know better you will find that the difference is that some have the power to enjoy and others very little.—Rhondda Williams.

NEW ORLEANS RAIN CEASES.

The Downpour Greatest in Twenty-four Years.

New Orleans, La.—The heavy rain which started here Friday morning and which continued intermittently for almost twenty-four hours, finally ceased. At the local United States weather bureau the record shows that for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock Saturday morning there was a total precipitation of 8.75 inches, the heaviest here since April 8, 1883, when the local bureau recorded 9.32 inches during the same period of time. Although all of the pumping stations connected with the city's drainage system were kept working, with a total discharge of 114,000,000 gallons an hour, many streets were flooded, telephone lines were crippled, street car service was badly delayed and considerable damage was done.

RATE CONCESSION MADE.

Railroads Favor the Independent Oil Companies.

Cleveland, O.—The Cleveland Plain Dealer says that the railroads have made a big concession to the independent oil men. The independents will no longer have to pay $105 for the return of an empty tank from the Pacific coast to a refinery east of the Missouri river. A rate that, it is said, has been a big factor in the Standard Oil Company's success has been withdrawn.

Both moves are made in advance of the interstate commerce commission hearing to be held at Washington May 21.

Notice to this effect has been received at the headquarters of the National Petroleum Association in this city.

The readjustment of rates means that the Standard Oil Company loses an exclusive rate of 78 1-2 cents a hundred for central freight and trunk line association territory to the western coast.

IMMIGRATION FOR GULF PORTS.

Effective Steamship Service Inaugurated by North German Lloyd.

Chicago, Ill.—The railroad of the southwest are getting ready for the greatest immigration effort in their history, according to the Record-Herald. Plans are being perfected which will result in the establishment of a new, effective steamship service between Europe and gulf ports. This service will be inaugurated by the North German Lloyd Steamship Company. Among the railroads interested in the movement are the Rock Island and Frisco systems, Missouri Pacific, Harriman lines, gulf coast roads and all the Texas lines having terminals at gulf ports. Officials of the different roads interested are now in Europe arranging for a comprehensive agency to carry on the work.

Would Pay Fee for Husband.

St. Louis, Mo.—"If you know any fine young man who has a fair education and a good character who wants to get married put me in correspondence with him and I will reward you for your services with a liberal fee," wrote Miss Emily Schilling, a Columbus, O., school teacher, to Justice Werner, of Clayton, Mo., in a letter made public by him.

DEFIANCE OF LAW

Alleged Against Manufacturers of a Meat Preservative in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan.—Dr. S. J. Crumbine, secretary of the state board of health, announced on Thursday that he had discovered in use here a preservative for meats, the manufacturers of which he asserts are openly defying the state and federal pure food laws. The preservative is made in the east, and chemical tests show that it contains charcoal and pure sulphur, which, when burned, form a sulphur dioxide gas that is absorbed by the meat and has the same effect as borax. The manufacturers, in their circulars, state that the preservative makes it possible for butchers to evade the law, contending that the powder itself does not touch the meat. Dr. Crumbine said he will submit the matter to Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, at Washington.

Dynamite Placed in Boiler.

Hartwell, Ga.—A serious explosion occurred at the saw mill plant of J. L. Cordell & Co., which resulted in demolishing the boiler and injuring the fireman seriously, but not fatally. The explosion is supposed to have occurred from dynamite, which was placed in the boiler by some unknown parties. The fireman had started a fire in the furnace when the accident happened, and no steam had been generated. No clue leading to the guilty parties has yet been found. Sheriff W. M. Kidd has offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension of the guilty one with evidence to convict.

BUILDINGS ARE OPENED.

Three State Structures at Jamestown Are Now Ready.

Norfolk, Va.—The Ohio, Mary and Connecticut state buildings on the Jamestown Exposition grounds were formally opened Saturday, and a second opening function occurred at the Virginia state building, during which Governor and Mrs. Swanson received informally for several hours. It is hoped to have the Louisiana building open in a few weeks, but the decorations are yet incomplete, and the opening date has not been fixed.

ALL WOMEN LOVE HIM.

Iowa Man Appeals to Police for Protection Against Would-Be Brides.

Des Moines, Ia.—With tear-filled eyes and trembling voice H. J. Higgins, a bachelor worth $100,000, has appealed to Chief of Police Jones to protect him against the scores of women who, he declares, are determined to make love to him against his will. "For nearly a year I have not had a moment's peace," declared Higgins. "I have worried so that I am getting as thin as a rail." Higgins insisted that he did not care a snap for any woman on earth and only asked to be let alone. He told the chief that if molested further he would demand an injunction. The chief promised Higgins that he would not be further molested.

FITZGERALD KILLED OPP.

Young Lawyer Shot Proprietor of a Billiard Hall.

Friar's Point, Miss.—Gerald Fitzgerald, a promising young lawyer, shot and killed W. F. Opp, the proprietor of a billiard hall. The men had some words some time ago, and met about noon in the store of W. L. Fobbs. Both drew revolvers, it is said. Fitzgerald shot himself in the right lung, but is not dangerously wounded. He then killed Opp. Another bullet from Fitzgerald's revolver struck his brother-in-law, Ben Booth, in the left hand.

Bandits Stopped Fast Mail.

Charlotte, N. C.—An attempt was made to wreck No. 43, the southbound fast mail train on the Southern road, ten miles north of Charlotte Friday night. The engine ploghed into a pile of crossties that had been placed on the rails by unknown parties, narrowly escaping a fatal catastrophe. The train crew sprang out in time to see several men fleeing away. Several shots were fired, but none of the wreckers were caught.

AMERICAN WISHES

As Considered in Arrangements of Tariff Relations With Germany.

Cologne.—An inspired telegram from Berlin regarding the provisional arrangements of tariff relations between Germany and the United States is printed by the Cologne Gazette. It says that, considering how little the United States was able to offer Germany at the present time, it was impossible for Germany to discuss again the concession of the entire German conventional tariff, but though the latter was only conceded in part, American interests and wishes were considered to such extent that an unhindered development in the exchange of goods is expected.

REWARD FOR CAR WRECKERS.

Dynamiters Do Much Damage in Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala.—The Commercial Club of Montgomery has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the person who placed a dynamite bomb on the tracks of the Montgomery Traction Company early Sunday morning and wrecked a car. A string of cars were going to the barn, when one of them struck the bomb within a block of the state capitol. The explosion shook the city and was heard a mile away.

Business men of the Commercial Club assembled and offered the additional reward of $1,000 without restriction as to conviction of the guilty person. This makes a total of $2,050 for capture of miscreants who have been dynamiting the street cars.

Paving Decatur's Streets.

Decatur, Ala.—City Engineer McCalley is now making a survey of the streets which are to be paved during the summer, and as soon as he completes his survey and makes his estimate bids for the paving will be asked for, both on asphalt and vitrified brick. It will depend largely on the bids received as to which material will be used. The work will be done in the business section of the city, and something like 57,000 feet will be paved.

Wife of Alabama's Oldest Citizen Dead

Birmingham, Ala.—Mrs. Sarah Gibson, aged 89 years, wife of the oldest white man in Alabama, died at her home in Calera, Ala., late Saturday afternoon. Her husband, Austin Gibson, will be 120 years old on his next birthday. He has been totally blind for several years. The couple had been exhibited at Alabama state fairs for a number of years as the oldest married couple in the state.

Farmer Goes Insane.

Cullman, Ala.—A young farmer named Linton, living near Vinemont, suddenly became insane and ran off through the woods Saturday. When last seen he was going north toward Wilhite's Station. Linton came in from the field at noon and told his wife that "they" were after him and would kill him if they caught him. He said he would just have to leave. He got his razor and hurriedly shaved off his mustache, took his little boy's cap and stuffed it into his pocket and ran off bareheaded. Up to this time nothing has been heard of him, though a searching party went after him. Linton is about 25 years old and has a wife and several children.

Negro and Mules Are Drowned.

Demopolis, Ala.—Joe Taylor and a fine pair of mules belonging to Capt. John C. Webb were drowned in the Tombigbee river at the wharf in this city. The darky was driving for Captain Webb and had just returned from one of his plantations with a load of seed, and drove into the river for the purpose of washing off the wagon. There were only a few eye witnesses to the catastrophe, and these were employed around the morehisherew employed around the warehouse. They saw the man drive into the river and saw the mules, man and wagon disappear. They rushed to the rescue, but were too late, as neither man nor mules were seen after their first disappearance.

Fruit Not All Killed.

Huntsville, Ala.—Not all of the fruit in Madison county has been killed by the recent freezes. In the southern part of the county and in the vicinity of the Tennessee river there will be good crops of peaches, pears, grapes, apples and plums. The big commercial orchard of George Darwin, in that locality, was not injured at all. However, in the northern portion of the county the prospects for fruit are very gloomy.

Store Robbed; Goods Hauled Away.

Decatur, Ala.—The general store of Pullen Brothers at Greenbrier, ten miles east of here, was broken open by unknown parties and several hundred dollars' worth of goods stolen and carried away in wagons. The store is being guarded to keep people away, while L. P. Couch, of this city, is on his way to Greenbrier with bloodhounds, being called there by telephone.

Addicks Not a Fugitive.

Lynn, Mass.—J. Edward Addicks is not a bankrupt or in hiding, in spite of the reports about the former Delaware gas king, is the statement of John F. Donohoe, his confidential friend. Donohoe says Addicks is at the Union League Club in Philadelphia, where he went for a rest. He further says that Addicks, despite his recent losses in speculation, is undoubtedly worth not less than $2,000,000 today.

REWARDS FOR DYNAMITERS.

Montgomery Excited Over Continuance of Street Car Outrages.

Montgomery, Ala.—Rewards aggregating $2,050 have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who dynamited an electric car of the Montgomery Traction Company in almost the heart of the city early Sunday morning. At a meeting of members of the Commercial Club $1,000 was added to the rewards which already had been offered for the apprehension of the dynamiters.

It was thought that the trouble which has existed since the strike of the street car employes in Montgomery had about come to an end, and that no more outrages would be attempted. But Sunday morning a bomb was placed under a car on Madison avenue, and though the force of the explosion was terrific, no one was injured. The citizens now are more aroused than ever before, and every effort will be made to land the dynamiters in jail.

Won Diamond Necklace.

Decatur, Ala.—The distinction of being the prettiest girl in Cuba has been conferred upon Miss Willie Huston, a diamond necklace going with the verdict. Miss Huston was the winner by 30,000 votes in a contest held by the Havana Post to decide which of the young women of Cuba should be declared the most beautiful. Miss Huston is the daughter of Mrs. R. S. Dues, of South Decatur. She makes her home with her uncle, Dr. Minkens, who is a member of the hospital corps at Camp Colombia, Havana.

Is Rescued by Salvation Army.

Mobile, Ala.—Through the good work of the Salvation Army the young woman who applied at the army headquarters for help the other day, has been sent to Washington on her way home to Boston. The young woman, on applying at the army headquarters told a pitiful story of being deserted by her husband in New Orleans, and she asked to be helped on her way home to Boston. The Salvation Army took the matter up immediately and succeeded in locating a brother of the young woman in Washington, who notified the authorities to send the young woman to Washington, and he would see that she reached her home in Boston in safety.

Baldwin at the Fairs.

Bay Minette, Ala.—At a meeting of the Gulf Coast Fair Association it was decided to arrange for creditable displays of the county's products and resources at the fairs to be held in Montgomery and Mobile.

Took the Wrong Drug.

Brewton, Ala.—Mrs. Fannie Connor, wife of A. J. Connor, died Sunday morning as a result of a dose of morphine, which she took for quinine.

Boy Is Hanged While Swinging.

Crawford, Ala.—The 14-months-old son of Frank Howard, a prominent farmer, was hanged accidentally here while playing in a swing. The mother found the child too late to save its life.

Cotton Seed Scarce.

Demopolis, Ala.—It is certain that most of the cotton in this section will have to be replanted, and already there is a scarcity of seed, the price of which has risen.

Gadsden Pipe Company Sold.

Gadsden, Ala.—The plant of the Gadsden Pipe and Foundry Company, organized in 1901, has been sold to H. Hammond, of Bird & Hammond, of Birmingham. About $25,000 was the price paid. Rumor connected the Coosa Pipe and Foundry Company with the transaction, but this is an error. It is understood that eastern capital is interested, and that Bird & Hammond will be the exclusive sales agents. The sale included all the machinery and equipment, as well as five or six acres of land located in the city of Gadsden.

Headache of Bursting Variety.

Nashville, Tenn.—A Glasgow, Ky. dispatch says that Mrs. Bettie Davis an aged lady, who lives at Coral Hill, Ky., recently had her head to burst from headache. The case is a most peculiar one, and is puzzling the doctors. Thursday afternoon Mrs. Davis took a severe headache and suffered throughout the afternoon, night and all day Friday. The usual simple remedies failed to give relief, and some time Friday night a hole about the size of a 32-calibre ball appeared in Mrs. Davis' forehead, near the temple, and when discovered the blood had run down off the bed and for more than six feet on the floor. After the loss of considerable blood Mrs. Davis' head became easy, and since then she has suffered no inconvenience.

Will Represent Alabama.

University, Ala.—Charles Edgar Rice (Law '07), of Birmingham, will represent the university in the Southern Intercollegiate Oratorical Association Contest to be held at Columbia, S. C., May 1. Rice won for the university last year over the representatives from Vanderbilt, Sewanee, University of Kentucky, South Carolina and Virginia. Rice's subject is "Democracy and Cosmopolitanism."

PIER CRASHES INTO HARBOR AT BALTIMORE

Six Known to be Dead, Sixteen Others Missing

WARNINGS HAD BEEN GIVEN

Circulated Among Workmen Just Before Disaster, Probably Saving Many Lives—Like a Tidal Wave.

Baltimore, Md.—A section of the new pier being erected at the Immigration station at Locust Point, South Baltimore, for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, collapsed Saturday, carrying down between twenty and twenty-five men, of whom six are known to be dead. Later a revised list of the missing was issued, placing the number unaccounted for at sixteen, most of them laborers. It was further stated that only three bodies had been recovered, all of which have been identified. Howard T. Ellender, of Baltimore, a civil engineer, was one of the dead. He lost his life trying to save the men on the outer end of the pier.

Superintendent William Edson, of the Baltimore Bridge Company, who was injured in the performance of the same service, was not seriously hurt.

All the victims were employes of the Baltimore Bridge Company.

The pier was a two-story building, 1,000 feet long and its estimated cost is $400,000. About 480 feet of it sank.

Warning of the disaster was had several days ago, when the piles toward the end of the pier began settling, and vigorous efforts were being made to save the structure.

Shortly before thee disaster occurred the piles began settling in such an alarming manner that orders to leave the place were circulated among the fifty-odd workmen, and it is due to this fact that the casualties were not greater. Those caught were on the end of the pier or on the roof.

The falling of the pier into the water created a tremendous wave throughout the harbor and led many persons to believe there had been a tidal wave. At Sedeen's ship yard, directly across the harbor from Locust Point, the water suddenly dropped eight feet, throwing two men overboard from a marine railway. They were rescued with difficulty.

SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR CUBA.

Taft Makes It Clear That the United States Will Withdrawn Sooner That Was Expected.

Cincinnati, O.—That the United States government will withdraw from temporary control of Cuba a great deal earlier than has been supposed by many was manifested in an interview by Secretary of War Taft here on Saturday. Briefly referring to that country and his recent visit there, the secretary said that the Cuban settlement had proved so unexpectedly satisfactory and Governor Magoon has so completely succeeded in winning the confidence of all parties there he feels the United States can withdraw from Cuba and give those people another opportunity for self-government not later than a year from the coming September.

Secretary Taft said that while the Cuban parties had not agreed with themselves, still they had agreed with him, and thus the coming evacuation from the island by the American troops is a matter of calendar calculation. Secretary Taft also said that he expects to sail for the Philippines September 1 next, and will be absent about eighty days on the trip.

Copper Ridge Tunnel Fire.

Knoxville, Tenn.—The fire which started in the Copper Ridge tunnel of the Louisville and Nashville road last Sunday was finally extinguished Saturday by a detachment from the local fire department, who have for several days been pouring water on the burning timbers of the tunnel. Hundreds of workmen with all kinds of machinery are ready to start the task of repairing the underground way, and hope to have everything running in two weeks' time. The passenger service is using the Southern railroad tracks, but most of the freight is held up. As a result of the accident nearly a thousand coal miners in different sections of East Tennessee and over the line in Kentucky are out of work the Louisville and Nashville being unable to supply cars.

Kiel Ship Canal.

Berlin.—The supplementary appropriation bill introduced in the reichstag provides $2,750,000 as the installment of the amount to be expended in widening and deepening the Kiel ship canal. The new depth will be thirty-six feet, and the total cost of the improvements is estimated at $16,250,000. It is estimated that the work will be completed in seven or eight years.

Goes to Europe for Labor.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—James Cheatham, the labor agent who has been representing W. J. Oliver & Co. in this section, and who has almost a dozen cases pending against him because of his methods in carrying laborers from one state to another, has gone to Europe to import laborers to this country to be employed on the numerous log jobs of the Oliver company.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE DISCUSSED.

Italy Continues Efforts to Bring the Understanding About Armaments.

Rome.—While the Italian foreign office continues its efforts to bring about an understanding among the powers at The Hague peace conference, especially with regard to the proposition to discuss the limitation of armaments, Foreign Minister Tittoni has ceased answering all the inquiries on the subject. But he expects to make a statement in the chamber of deputies during the debate on the foreign office budget about the middle of May. On that occasion the foreign minister hopes to be able to define the attitude and action of Italy during the negotiations.

The attitude of the Italian foreign minister is regarded as significant in view of Italy participation in the triple alliance, and the apparent lack of complete understanding thus far between the members of the alliance—Germany, Austria and Italy—concerning their attitude on the limitation of armaments before The Hague.

SLAUGHTER LUMPY JAWED.

Diseased Portion Cut Away—No Disease Transmitted.

Chicago, Ill.—Lumpy jawed cattle will continue to be slaughtered in Chicago, according to a statement which was made by Commissioner of Health Evans Saturday night. According to Dr. Evans, the entire scientific world is sure that no disease can be transmitted through the lumpy jawed cattle to the consumer. He says there has not been one case in Chicago where the consumer has ever suffered from infection from this cause. When the diseased portion is cut away, the commissioner claims, the remaining portion of the carcass is as well fitted for food as the carcass of a perfectly healthy animal.

NEW YORK LIFE ELECTION.

Charges Growing Out of It Investigated by District Attorney.

New York.—The fact that an assistant district attorney is making an investigation of the charges growing out of the recent election of the board of trustees of the New York Life Insurance Company became known Saturday. Charges were made by the International policyholders' commission that agents of the company committed forgery in signing the names of policyholders to administration tickets without the sanction or permission of the policyholders. The commissioners attending the forwarding of ballots by the international commission also are being examined.

BINGER HERMANN NOT GUILTY.

Jury Returns Verdict in Trial of the Former Land Officer.

Washington, D. C.—Binger Hermann, former congressman from Oregon and former commissioner of the general land office, was acquitted of the charge of destroying public records by the verdict of a jury rendered Saturday. The trial had progressed for twelve weeks, and the jury deliberated twenty-one hours before reaching a verdict.

Nothing was heard from the jury after it retired at 5:30 o'clock Friday until 11 o'clock Saturday, when word came that it was desired that Justice Stafford repeat his charge to them. This request was granted after brief argument of counsel, and the next hour and a half was occupied in rereading the charge. The jury within ten minutes after its second retirement appeared with the verdict of "not guilty."

United States District Attorney Baker and many others in the court room congratulated the defendant.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

Involuntary Petition by Cleveland Window Glass Company.

Cleveland, O.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed for the Cleveland Window Glass Company in the United States district court. The liabilities are given as $450,000.

The petition was filed by an attorney representing a number of local creditors of the company. According to the petition, the claims amount to more than the assets of the company. It is further declared that the company admits its insolvency and consents to the bankruptcy proceedings.

Rumors of trouble for the company have been in circulation for several days. A little more than a week ago the board of directors was reorganized, and an extension was asked of the creditors.

Imports and Exports of Specie.

New York.—Total imports of specie at the port of New York for the week ending Saturday were $18,000 silver and $82,330 gold. Total exports of specie from the port of New York for the week were $210,407 silver and $25,300 gold.

Atlanta to Lose Headquarters.

Birmingham, Ala.—It was definitely announced here that the headquarters of the Southern Cotton Association will be removed from Atlanta to Birmingham, and that President Harvie Jordan and other officials of the organization will take up their residence here. This action will also make necessary the removal of the Cotton Journal, the official organ of the association, to this city.

The Republican executive committee of the Fourth Congressional District met at Calera last Thursday and transacted business; Frank Goodgame was elected committeeman from Chilton county. The following resolutions introduced by Judge W. E. Horne were introduced:

Resolved by the Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, That whereas it has been published in the newspapers of recent date that there disaffection among the Republicans of this state therefore be it.

"Resolved by the Republicans of the Fourth congressional district, That we are still loyal to the administration of Theodore Roosevelt and that, instead of disaffection, we are the more intensely the loyal supporters of the greatest American of the century; that his name and fame is a part of the greatest epoch of all the years of human progress, human valor, human worth, and that the unprecented and marvelously increasing commerce of America, and the achieved greatness of the nation requires the continued activity and heroic statesmanship of Theodore Roosevelt."

Death of Mr. Will VanDerveer.

On Tuesday morning the mortal remains of Mr. Will VanDerveer were laid to rest in the cemetery at Clanton, Rev. F. M. Woods officiating. Mr. VanDerveer died in Kansas City, of typhoid fever, late Friday evening, his wife and mother being present at the end, and they accompanied the remains to its final resting place. Mr. Van Derveer was 26 years of age, well liked and respected by all who knew him. He leaves no family.

DORMOUSE DELICACIES.

Titbits That Were Relished in Ancient Roman Times.

Brawn was originally a Roman dish and was eaten with garum, and cow's and calf's foot jellies were likewise dainties with Rome's upper ten in the time of the Caesars. One would hardly suppose that black puddings were so old as the reign of Tiberius, but this is the fact. They were made of pig's blood, with little cubes of fat interspersed in the compound, and were the invention of a gentleman who rejoiced in the name of Bambonselvergius. It was he who invented all kinds of sausages—that is, meat stuffed into skins, which, we take it, is the ground plan, so to speak, of a sausage.

This gentleman also wrote a learned treatise on the fattening of dormice for the table, for at one period dormice were a craze. There were dormouse soup, dormouse sausage, dormouse brawn, dormouse cooked in every conceivable way, and the demand for this delicacy in prise sizes was so great that there was room for a book on the subject, though unfortunately this book is lost to posterity, and the only knowledge which we have of the fattening of dormice in Rome is from Petronius Arbiter, who tells us that they became fat by sleeping.

He also tells us that the best sauce to eat with dormouse is a mixture of poppy seed and honey, a mixture which probably had the merit of inducing sleep after a meal.

Cheering Tommy Up.

The obstacles which beset the pathway of a photographer when he endeavors to secure "a pleasant expression" are many, particularly when his sitters are of a tender age.

"I do not believe whipping does children a particle of good," said Mrs. Green, returning flushed and discouraged from a visit to the photographer with her Tommy. "Here I've spent over an hour in that hot room trying to make this child look pleasant. I've slapped his hands twice, and he looked crosser each time than he did before."—Youth's Companion.

Chamberlains' Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

There is probably no medicine that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Jemison.

Winter has at last given place to spring, which change we gladly welcome. If Jupiter Pluvius would withhold some of his showers and let the farmers finish planting their crops we think that they would be made glad. All who planted cotton seed before the recent cold weather are having to plant again.

Dr. McNeill is having several nice cottages erected out at Mineral Springs, Messrs. Durham and Patton being the contractors. The mineral properties of the waters there are said to be as good as any in the south and Dr. McNeill intends making an elegant and comfortable summer resort there. So when any of our people want to spend some time at a good resort and springs, either for rest, health or pleasure they can do so in our glorious old county of Chilton.

Mr. W. F. Jones, our photographer, is very sick. We hope to see him out again soon.

Mr. Archie Glass attended singing at Ocampo Sunday.

Messrs. Earl Jackson, Gene Bean, Robert Honeycutt and Mose Ray went out to Mr. Martin Franklin's Saturday night and Sunday, where they carried their string band and played Saturday night. They report a good time and say that Miss Maggie Franklin is an entertaining and charming hostess.

Mr. H. I. Honeycutt passed through Jemison Sunday on his way out to his father's place.

The school will close here Thursday night with a concert. The people have been much pleased with this session of our school and they hope to keep Prof. Rasco with us.

Prof. Rasco will begin a special term of school on Monday May the 6th. This term will be the place for the teachers who want to take the state examination. We welcome all teachers to our town.

Miss Anna Lowery is visiting friends and relatives at Bessemer this week.

The music class here will give a musical concert the last days of May. The time will be announced later. A ROUNDER.

DO YOU LOVE

your baby? You wonder why he cries. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he will never cry. Most babies have worms, and the mothers don't know it. White's Cream Vermifuge rids the child of worms and cleans out its system in a pleasant way. Every mother should keep a bottle of this medicine in the house. With it, fear need never enter her mind. AN OLD GERMAN LEGEND.

The Skull With the Nail Driven Through Its Temple.

At Freiburg, Baden, in front of an old chapel rich in mediaeval painting depicting the rewards of virtue and the wages of sin, stands a great cross, at its foot a skull with a nail driven into the temple.

A shoemaker of Freiburg, according to tradition, died suddenly in the good old days before coroners and juries were too inquisitive and was buried near where the cross stands. Scarcely had the earth upon his grave been wet by the rains before his wife took a second husband.

Neighbors talked, but that was all. One night the priest of the parish awoke to find standing at the foot of his bed the ghost of the dead shoemaker. The ghastly figure raised a gory lock from its forehead and pointed to a nail driven in the temple.

The body was exhumed, and there was the evidence of the crime just as the specter had indicated. The wife confessed the murder and was executed. But the skull was placed at the foot of the cross as a warning.

"The effect was most wholesome," relates the truthful chronicler, "for since then not a wife of Freiburg has murdered her husband."

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

MRS. ROBERT WHITELEY

Mr Robert Whiteley of Pittsburg Pa., writes: "My wife was subject to chronic stomach trouble and terrible nervousness; she was thin, and had a worn out look. Doctors, after great expense, all failed to help her. At last she tried Vinol, and soon the change in her condition seemed almost miraculous. She continued its use, and today she is in perfect health and gained 36 pounds—her friends hardly know her so great is the change. To Vinol we give all the praise, and every where I recommend your Vinol, as I have great faith in it.

Vinol is successful in cases like this because it contains in a concentrated form all of the curative properties contained in cod liver oil the useless oil eleminated and tonic iron added. Try Vinol on our guarantee. Upchurch Drug co.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

Montgomery Ala. April 30, 1907

The week began cool and rainy. The middle portion was fair and in most sections the sunshine was abundant. Temperatures rose steadily as the week advanced and towards the end the cloudiness increased and light sprinkles to heavy rains were reported from nearly all districts.

The mean temprature for most stations was somewhat below the normal; the warm weather at the close of the week not being sufficient to offset the cold days in the early part.

Precipitation exceeded the normal in all parts of the state. In some places in the southern district the weekly total exceeded the normal for the entire month of April.

Light frost was reported from a few places in the northern district.

Letter to Ruffin & Sons

Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sirs: If you should bake bread that people like better than any other, and at less cost by the day, you'd have a pretty good business, wouldn't you?

We have just such a business as that in paint; a gallon goes further than any other gallon of paint in the country—that's bread at less cost by the day; but the difference isn't so small as it is in bread And a job wears longer—that's bread at less cost by the year People hate to paint; it costs money to paint; and they hate the fuss They like our bread by the year.

If your bread is better than anybody else's, and costs less too, you've got a good trade; for people do like good bread; and people like money. It doesn't take long to find out; give 'em time.

But you can't bake better-than-anybody else's bread for half the usual price for a breakfast, can you?

Devoe is just such a paint as that The price by the gallon or leaf is no matter. Count by the day week month year lifetime. Devoe is the bread. We hope yours is as good.

Yours truly
24 F W DEVOE & CO

THE CHILD'S MIND.

Give It a Chance to Develop by Its Natural Processes.

The littler they are the better, because farther removed from the world that is ours and deeper placed in their own world. A good baby radiates peace. Every one who is rightly constituted smiles at the sight of it.

They are busy, they are cheerful. As a rule, they seem to be kind to one another. They are not bored, and unless the weather is insufferable or they are sick they are not depressed.

What philosophers! What heroes! Is it strange that the attitude of an unperverted child should be the Christian ideal?

The great merit of children as companions lies in the breadth of their limitations. They are easy to please, agreeable to most propositions and not very critical.

They do not "know better." That is one of their delightfulest traits. Children will trust you, and that is one of the most gratifying compliments possible.

In the company of children you have relief in considering what will pay. The things that they do and prefer to do, do not pay, as a rule, except in the doing of them.

Wise elders who are qualified to train the mind of a child are pretty scarce. The next best thing is the older who is wise enough to respect the child's mind and give it a chance to develop in a sympathetic atmosphere by its own natural processes.—E. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine.

What It Takes to Make a Lady.

It requires a true knowledge of the laws of life; the mind must be kept pure and clean, thinking pure thoughts will create a sound, perfect mind. Health, courage, independence, self-reliance and all the noble traits of character are produced by pure thinking. When you have learned to be a true lady in your home heaven will take care of itself in outlining the proper education of a lady. We would lay especial emphasis on the need for industrial training; she should be so trained that if she be so called to be queen of the kitchen as well as the drawing room, she should be well instructed in all branches of domestic science and the art of home-making. Household economy generally should be incorporated in the curicula offered to make a lady; to be a perfect lady she should be a Christian to live to her highest in all things that pertains to us; to lend a hand as best she can to all others for this same end, to aid in righting the wrongs that cross her path by pointing the wrong doer to a better way and aid them in becoming better; to open herself fully; to keep pure and clean heart; to be true; to be genuine. No lady is made perfect that does not include this above all things. Truth is more than riches, more than culture, more than earthly power or position. She should do her own thinking, listening quietly to the opinions of others, and to be sufficiently a lady to act always upon her own conviction to do her duty regardless of others' opinions; to love all things and to stand in awe or fear of nothing save her own wrong doing. Cheerfulness and a sunshiny disposition are due to a pure and high thought; respect the aged; seek to help those who are in need. A lady must seek the grace of a cheerful heart, an even temper, sweetness, gentleness and brightness of mind as walking in His light and by His grace. There is nothing noble in being superior to some other lady, the true nobility is in being superior to our precious self. Again I say attach thyself to truth, depend justice, rejoice in the beautiful. There are people who believe ornamental side of life, how to do the society act, to dress according to the latest fad, one that lives in the city, is the perfect lady. That belief is an error into which many people have fallen generally confused of thought. The perfect lady has a pure thought not addicted to fashions. A lady must possess adaptability; she must not be insincere; she must cultivate a sympathetic understanding of the views of others; a lady must be ever ready tactful; cleverness to lead a conversation. The greatest importance in being a lady is careful home influences and religious surroundings, self is the lord of self; with self well subdued, a lady's way of life is peace and happiness. Everybody likes ladies who do their best to be pleasant and courteous at all times; who do not repeat unpleasant remarks made about other ladies; who, although they cannot boast of a spare penny, always look neat and nice; who are lavish with their smiles and are sorry when they are obliged to frown; who look out every day for the happy things of life; who try to jump over all the little ridges that break up the smoothness of their path; who are happy because they make people about them see the sunshine; who always have a good word for everybody, and who appreciate the fact that the world was not made for them alone.

With many thanks to the dear Editor and love to the Banner and its readers, I will close.

ELLA L. MILFORD.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Upchurch Drug co. 50c.

Notice to All Men.

When young men are taking upon themselves a great deal concerning the actions of their fiancées through what light or what, but very little is said about the man who "gets cussed either in it all over." And the latter, not being so constituted that he can resist, as a rule, after a fight, generally keeps his own counsel and often is given the credit of being cool and "sorry" when the fact is that his knees are ready to bump together for mutual support.—Forest and Stream.

On the Safe Side.

They had been engaged for fully thirty minutes by the cuckoo clock.

"I have a surprise in store for you, Alfred, dear," she said. "I can cook as well as I can play the piano."

"That being the case, darling," he replied, "it will be well for us to board."

INDIGESTION.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

POPULAR BRANDS WE CONTROL

which are manufactured by VIRGINIA-CAROLINA CHEMICAL COMPANY:

Acott's Gossypium Phospo
Monarch Brand Guano
Montgomery Acid Phosphate
Royal High Grade Fertilizer
Capital City Standard Fertilizer
Edisto Extra High Grade Super Phosphate
Montgomery Acid 2% Potash
Excelsior Bone Compound
High Grade English Acid Phosphate

These brands have been thoroughly tested by the most wide-awake farmers in the cotton states. Time is money; so don't waste your valuable time in trying NEW BRANDS that you know nothing about, when you can get these old established RELIABLE ONES.

None but the best and purest materials are used, such as raw and steamed bone, high grade bone phosphate of lime, dry and acidulated flesh from the slaughter houses of the West, dried blood, tankage, azotine, fish scrap and pure forms of potash.

MECHANICAL CONDITION.

We desire that buyers will particularly notice the mechanical condition of these goods. They are manufactured many months before they are shipped out. They lie in bulk so that all the materials become thoroughly assimilated, and to this fact is their excellency largely due. All of these goods are carefully milled and screened before shipment.

ALL OF THESE GOODS ARE IN PERFECT MECHANICAL CONDITION and we believe that they are WORTH MORE MONEY to the farmer than goods that are not in perfect condition.

The Republican executive committee of the Fourth Congressional District met at Calera last Thursday and transacted business; Frank Goodgame was elected committeeman from Chilton county. The following resolutions introduced by Judge W. E. Horne were introduced:

Resolved by the Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, That whereas it has been published in the newspapers of recent date that there disaffection among the Republicans of this state therefore be it.

"Resolved by the Republicans of the Fourth congressional district, That we are still loyal to the administration of Theodore Roosevelt and that, instead of disaffection, we are the more intensely the loyal supporters of the greatest American of the century; that his name and fame is a part of the greatest epoch of all the years of human progress, human valor, human worth, and that the unprecented and marvelously increasing commerce of America, and the achieved greatness of the nation requires the continued activity and heroic statesmanship of Theodore Roosevelt."

Death of Mr. Will VanDerveer.

On Tuesday morning the mortal remains of Mr. Will VanDerveer were laid to rest in the cemetery at Clanton, Rev. F. M. Woods officiating. Mr. VanDerveer died in Kansas City, of typhoid fever, lats Friday evening, his wife and mother being present at the end, and they accompanied the remains to its final resting place. Mr. Van Derveer was 26 years of age, well liked and respected by all who knew him. He leaves no family.

DORMOUSE DELICACIES.

Titbits That Were Relished in Ancient Roman Times.

Brawn was originally a Roman dish and was eaten with garum, and cow's and calf's foot jellies were likewise dainties with Rome's upper ten in the time of the Caesars. One would hardly suppose that black puddings were so old as the reign of Tiberius, but this is the fact. They were made of pig's blood, with little cubes of fat interspersed in the compound, and were the invention of a gentleman who rejoiced in the name of Bambonselvergius. It was he who invented all kinds of sausages—that is, meat stuffed into skins, which, we take it, is the ground plan, so to speak, of a sausage.

This gentleman also wrote a learned treatise on the fattening of dormice for the table, for at one period dormice were a craze. There were dormouse soup, dormouse sausage, dormouse brawn, dormouse cooked in every conceivable way, and the demand for this delicacy in prize sizes was so great that there was room for a book on the subject, though unfortunately this book is lost to posterity, and the only knowledge which we have of the fattening of dormice in Rome is from Petronius Arbiter, who tells us that they became fat by sleeping.

He also tells us that the best sauce to eat with dormouse is a mixture of poppy seed and honey, a mixture which probably had the merit of inducing sleep after a meal.

Cheering Tommy Up.

The obstacles which beset the pathway of a photographer when he endeavors to secure "a pleasant expression" are many, particularly when his sitters are of a tender age.

"I do not believe whipping does children a particle of good," said Mrs. Green, returning flushed and discouraged from a visit to the photographer with her Tommy. "Here I've spent over an hour in that hot room trying to make this child look pleasant. I've slapped his hands twice, and he looked crosser each time than he did before."—Youth's Companion.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

There is probably no medicine that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Jemison.

Winter has at last given place to spring, which change we gladly welcome. If Jupiter Pluvius would withhold some of his showers and let the farmers finish planting their crops we think that they would be made glad. All who planted cotton seed before the recent cold weather are having to plant again.

Dr. McNeill is having several nice cottages erected out at Mineral Springs, Messrs. Durham and Patton being the contractors. The mineral properties of the waters there are said to be as good as any in the south and Dr. McNeill intends making an elegant and comfortable summer resort there. So when any of our people want to spend some time at a good resort and springs, either for rest, health or pleasure they can do so in our glorious old county of Chilton.

Mr. W. F. Jones, our photographer, is very sick. We hope to see him out again soon.

AN OLD GERMAN LEGEND.

The Skull With the Nail Driven Through Its Temple.

At Freiburg, Baden, in front of an old chapel rich in mediaeval painting depicting the rewards of virtue and the wages of sin, stands a great cross, at its foot a skull with a nail driven into the temple.

A shoemaker of Freiburg, according to tradition, died suddenly in the good old days before coroners and juries were too inquisitive and was buried near where the cross stands. Scarcely had the earth upon his grave been wet by the rains before his wife took a second husband.

Neighbors talked, but that was all. One night the priest of the parish awoke to find standing at the foot of his bed the ghost of the dead shoemaker. The ghastly figure raised a gory lock from its forehead and pointed to a nail driven in the temple.

The body was exhumed, and there was the evidence of the crime just as the specter had indicated. The wife confessed the murder and was executed. But the skull was placed at the foot of the cross as a warning.

"The effect was most wholesome," relates the truthful chronicler, "for since then not a wife of Freiburg has murdered her husband."

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

MRS. ROBERT WHITELEY

Mr Robert Whiteley of Pittsburg Pa., writes: "My wife was subject to chronic stomach trouble and terrible nervousness; she was thin, and had a worn out look. Doctors after great expense, all failed to help her. At last she tried Vinol, and soon the change in her condition seemed almost miraculous. She continued its use, and today she is in perfect health and gained 36 pounds—her friends hardly know her so great is the change. To Vinol we give all the praise, and every where I recommend your Vinol, as I have great faith in it.

Vinol is successful in cases like this because it contains in a concentrated form all of the curative properties contained in cod liver oil the useless oil eleminated and tonic iron added. Try Vinol on our guarantee. Upchurch Drug co.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

Montgomery Ala. April 30, 1907

The week began cool and rainy. The middle portion was fair and in most sections the sunshine was abundant. Temperatures rose steadily as the week advanced and towards the end the cloudiness increased and light sprinkles to heavy rains were reported from nearly all districts.

The mean temprature for most stations was somewhat below the normal; the warm weather at the close of the week not being sufficient to offset the cold days in the early part.

Precipitation exceeded the normal in all parts of the state. In some places in the southern district the weekly total exceeded the normal for the entire month of April.

Light frost was reported from a few places in the northern district.

Letter to Ruffin & Sons

Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sirs: If you should bake bread that people like better than any other, and at less cost by the day, you'd have a pretty good business, wouldn't you?

We have just such a business as that in paint; a gallon goes further than any other gallon of paint in the country—that's bread at less cost by the day; but the difference isn't so small as it is in bread And a job wears longer—that's bread at less cost by the year People hate to paint; it costs money to paint; and they hate the fuss They like our bread by the year.

If your bread is better than anybody else's, and costs less too, you've got a good trade; for people do like good bread; and people like money. It doesn't take long to find out; give 'em time.

But you can't bake better-than-any-body else's bread for half the usual price for a breakfast, can you?

Devoe is just such a paint as that The price by the gallon or loaf is no matter. Count by the day week month year lifetime. Devoe is the bread. We hope yours is as good.

Yours truly

THE CHILD'S MIND.

Give It a Chance to Develop by Its Natural Processes.

The littler they are the better, because farther removed from the world that is ours and deeper placed in their own world. A good baby radiates peace. Every one who is rightly constituted smiles at the sight of it.

They are busy, they are cheerful. As a rule, they seem to be kind to one another. They are not bored, and unless the weather is insufferable or they are sick they are not depressed.

What philosophers! What heroes! Is it strange that the attitude of an unperverted child should be the Christian ideal?

The great merit of children as companions lies in the breadth of their toleerations. They are easy to please, agreeable to most propositions and not very critical.

They do not "know better." That is one of their delightfulest traits. Children will trust you, and that is one of the most gratifying compliments possible.

In the company of children you have relief in considering what will pay. The things that they do and prefer to do, do not pay, as a rule, except in the doing of them.

Wise elders who are qualified to train the mind of a child are pretty scarce. The next best thing is the elder who is wise enough to respect the child's mind and give it a chance to develop in a sympathetic atmosphere by its own natural processes.—R. S. Martin in Harper's Magazine.

What It Takes to Make a Lady.

It requires a true knowledge of the laws of life; the mind must be kept pure and clean, thinking pure thoughts will create a sound, perfect mind. Health, courage, independence, self-reliance and all the noble traits of character are produced by pure thinking. When you have learned to be a true lady in your home heaven will take care of itself in outlining the proper education of a lady. We would lay especial emphasis on the need for industrial training; she should be so trained that if she be so called to be queen of the kitchen as well as the drawing room, she should be well instructed in all branches of domestic science and the art of home-making. Household economy generally should be incorporated in the curricula offered to make a lady; to be a perfect lady she should be a Christian to live to her highest in all things that pertains to us; to lend a hand as best she can to all others for this same end, to aid in righting the wrongs that cross her path by pointing the wrong doer to a better way and aid them in becoming better; to open herself fully; to keep pure and clean heart; to be true; to be genuine. No lady is made perfect that does not include this above all things. Truth is more than riches, more than culture, more than earthly power or position. She should do her own thinking, listening quietly to the opinions of others, and to be sufficiently a lady to act always upon her own conviction to do her duty regardless of others' opinions; to love all things and to stand in awe or fear of nothing save her own wrong doing. Cheerfulness and a sunshiny disposition are due to a pure and high thought; respect the aged; seek to help those who are in need. A lady must seek the grace of a cheerful heart, an even temper, sweetness, gentleness and brightness of mind as walking in His light and by His grace. There is nothing noble in being superior to some other lady, the true nobility is in being superior to our precious self. Again I say attach thyself to truth, depend justice, rejoice in the beautiful. There are people who believe ornamental side of life, how to do the society act, to dress according to the latest fad, one that lives in the city, is the perfect lady. That belief is an error into which many people have fallen generally confused of thought. The perfect lady has a pure thought not addicted to fashions. A lady must possess adaptability; she must not be insincere; she must cultivate a sympathetic understanding of the views of others; a lady must be ever ready tactful; cleverness to lead a conversation. The greatest importance in being a lady is careful home influences and religious surroundings, self is the lord of self; with self well subdued, a lady's way of life is peace and happiness. Everybody likes ladies who do their best to be pleasant and courteous at all times; who do not repeat unpleasant remarks made about other ladies; who, although they cannot boast of a spare penny, always look neat and nice; who are lavish with their smiles and are sorry when they are obliged to frown; who look out every day for the happy things of life; who try to jump over all the little ridges that break up the smoothness of their path; who are happy because they make people about them see the sunshine; who always have a good word for everybody, and who appreciate the fact that the world was not made for them alone.

With many thanks to the dear Editor and love to the Banner and its readers, I will close.

ELLA L. MILFORD.

Editor Is In All Over.

When people are taking upon you heavily, and condemning the conduct of this people go through which lightly or cloak, but very little is said about the man who "gets started after it is all over." And the latter, not being to conscientious that he can resist, as a rule, often does after a fright, generally keeps his own counsel and often is given the credit of being cool and "nervy" when the fact is that his knees are ready to bump together for mutual support.—Forest and Stream.

TO MAKE WAR MORE HORRIBLE.

Lots of Inventors at Work on Great and Grewsome Devices.

This government expends a small sum each year for testing new devices of a possible military value. The Board of Ordnance and Fortification is supposed to have the duty of encouraging inventors and assisting in the development of their inventions.

Last year only $5000 was expended by the board, which, with its accumulated allotments of previous years, has now on hand more than $100,000. Comparatively few experiments are made, says Harper's Weekly and the vast number of suggestions are apparently shelved without much more attention than polite acknowledgment to the authors.

Nearly all the devices submitted are intended to increase the terrors of war by adding to the efficacy of the means of fighting. Perhaps an exception should be made in favor of an ear protector, the invention of a New York man, adapted for use by those who are on duty in the turrets of battleships and those who are stationed at the coast fortifications.

Ordinarily the blast of a big gun has an effect upon the drum of the ear; it is at best unpleasant, and sometimes it proves disastrous, as in the instances of men who have lost their hearing. The ear protector is a little cellulioid bulb so pierced that it may be placed in the ear and protect it from the noise and shock while not interfering with the hearing, an advantage, of course, over the crude method of stuffing the ears with cotton so that nothing can be heard and when orders can only be appreciated by pantomime.

Some of the other inventions which have been favorably received may be regarded as having a tendency to encourage peace since they would introduce into warfare factors of devastation which would by their diabolical results promote international disarmament. Of this class must be considered those bomb dropping devices, which, if successful, would destroy whole armies; the inflammable projectile capable of burning up a camp; the nitroglycerine missile; a scheme for pouring burning sulphur into trenches, and kindred methods of wholesale obliteration.

There is, too, the usual proportion of armored cars, including the highly protected motor which shall penetrate the enemy's lines and afford its steel shielded occupants a chance to pick off the opposing marksmen and incidentally strew high explosives along a death dealing route. One of these hurtling cars makes the famed Juggernaut look like a nursery toy.

One of the conditions which seems to be fully met by incipient invention is the use of smoke for various purposes, including that of a shield which will permit approach upon an enemy without his discovery of the advance.

The country does not lack yet, with all the cry for universal peace, the means of increasing the ravages of war.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: The Man Jesus.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme, "The Man Jesus," the pastor, the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, took as his text John 12:21, "Sir, we would see Jesus." He said:

Let us go with these certain Greeks of whom John bears us record and see Jesus. Down the long perspective of the ages let us look at Christ, the man.

A study of the career of the Savior will indicate two central and crucial elements in His character as a man. Jesus was a man of parts; He was also a man of power. The Lord was not a negative being. He had definite ability and the energy to put His gifts into direct achievements.

The Christ was a man of parts. As a philosopher He is peerless; as a teacher He can teach us all the way to teach; a preacher to mankind His messages convince. His ministry is a present and a constant joy to the weary and a sweet remembrance to heart and soul alike.

Jesus was a man of power. His spirituality is unsurpassed. His goodness is the godly kind that we admire. His sincerity makes the heart sure; His commanding positiveness is refreshing. His constancy was sublime.

Jesus was a man of parts. In His clear and comprehensive statements of eternal truths He stamped Himself a philosopher without an equal. To Him God was the first great cause—the personal, spiritual giver and ruler of all life. For Him union with the will of God in a holy, godly life is the highest good for men and for society. In the mind of Christ sin is disobedience to the will of the Father and its wages is deliberate separation from Him—that is to say, death. The things that are spiritual are the only things that last unto eternity, and it was to the attainment of eternal graces as the end of human existence that Christ turned the attention of mankind. A glance into the depths and ranges and reaches of human thought and experience that His many messages touch will convince any man, however skeptical he may be, of His predominant position among this world's philosophers.

Jesus is markedly a teacher as He unfolds and explains the mysteries of divine verities. With the simplest language and the most charming parables Jesus sent home changeless truths. Does He desire to show the uselessness of trust in riches He pictures to us the rich man with his barns and his bank and the wreck thereof. Under His touch the leaven in the loaf reveals to us the men and the women we should be. He lights a candle for us, and we strive to spread His truth throughout the globe. The supper of the mighty lord sends us out into the highways and the byways to bid men lay fast hold upon salvation, free, rich, sufficient. As a teacher Christ is masterful. He takes a mustard seed and we see the coming of the kingdom. A man hides a talent in a napkin and stands forever as a danger signal beside the king's highway. The foolish virgins are a lesson to us to be ready for the coming of the Master. These and the rest of the parables of Jesus are full of suggestion and of implication, weighty with concentrated principle.

Jesus taught spiritual and moral principles. He was not foolish enough to endeavor to give to us a set of rules which should be for us a sort of guide book or directory. He gave no set of statutes. Realizing that we are men and not automatons our Lord suggests the principles and then leaves the individual to work out for himself under the guidance of the Spirit of God the application of the principle of his own life. Christ didn't worry about the geographical situation of Judea or over the question as to whether the world is flat or round. Those points at issue were quite beyond His province. His mission was to teach spiritual and moral truth, and He had neither time nor taste for anything else. Why should He worry over secondary and transient matters when the souls of men were in dire need of that primal truth which is necessary unto eternal life?

Jesus also taught with authority. He knew that the truth was in Him and He let no man contradict Him with success.

He spake, and to those men—believing and unbelieving—it came as the voice of God. The honest hearted believed unto salvation; those who didn't want to accept His truth sent Him away in scorn and crucified Him at the last. The Jews sent Jesus to His death not because they did not realize the force of His words but very largely because He spake too much truth to suit them. Some one has said that there is no more hazardous task than that of carrying the torch of truth into those hidden recesses where the light has never shown. Jesus found this to be true.

Christ's application of His theories to the needs of every day and His positive insistance upon the legitimacy of the demands of godliness and ultimate truth upon the lives of all men are the secrets of His marvelous power are a preacher. He not only preached abstract theory but also showed how these ideas could become factors for uplift in the busy lives of men. The duty to love God and to serve the truth was not with Him a mental problem, but a fact of life. Christ never minced words. He knew that which He was after, and He never failed to make His hearers see what He meant. Vivid, direct, without a waver, Christ sent home the truth. And it was this that gained Him both friends and enemies, as it will any man who dares to state the truth men either cannot see or will not hear. What a prophet He was and oh, what a need there is to-day for men who can see and feel, for men with insight and prevision, men who dare to probe the present and the past and to predict the future, fearlessly, inspiringly, with God-given wisdom and divine zeal. How sick we all are of that popular preaching of the day, which is aimed nowhere and hits nothing—whose main and prevailing characteristic is that it is inconsequential and flabby, effeminate and devoid of the power men should show.

The winsomeness of the ministry of Jesus is a fact that merits our attention. The love that flowed from His heart, the tenderness of His voice, the sympathy that rushed without ceasing from His soul, the healing virtue of His hand, all these stamp Him as a minister who can teach us how to aid men best.

The Lord was a man of power. Power is to ability what electricity is to a dynamo. A man of parts must become a man of action before he is of much use. The world is full of geniuses who are impotent. They cut no figure in the life of their day simply because they lack energy and force. Jesus was a man of many powers.

His spirituality is unsurpassed. He had a right basis for His philosophy and His life. He had the right point of view, and thus of necessity saw things in their right relations. His spiritual philosophy colored all His mission, messages and ministry, and gave individuality and peculiar meaning to His words and deeds. Christ began right. He put God at the centre of His system of life and of course all went well with Him. The insight of Christ and His spiritual sense are our need.

Jesus was a good man, and goodness is greatness and power. Christ was no sickly sentimentalist, but a good man in the best sense of the word; that is to say, He was a godly man. He was a clean minded, pure hearted, noble acting man, and no matter what may be the mental or material abilities of any man, if he be not good he cannot hope to be most of use. Godliness must be a characteristic of any man who would mold a lasting and revered memory. Christ was not mawkish. You know how He dealt with the problems of the shew bread, the ears of corn, the man who waited to be healed. He was straightforward and more than conscientious. He was constructively, progressively, cumulatively righteous. He moved ahead. He was kind, true, pure, noble — that is to say, good. Meanness was beneath Him. The truth was His glory. Cleanness of life was the sign of His inward grace. He was a gentleman, a true nobleman. He was an aristocratic democrat, who showed His birth and His breeding in His manner.

Jesus was sincere. He was not a patch work, but a whole pattern. He leveled to any plumb. He met specifications to the letter. There were no weak spots, no faulty places in His life glazed over with pretended character. Jesus was a whole, wholesome, well rounded man, without defect whatsoever. His sincerity inspired trust, for He lived the sort of life He asked other men to enter. Every one knew and knows just where Jesus stood—with the right always.

Jesus was positive. He didn't suppose, or guess or just think. He knew and was sure. His knowledge was from personal experience and it was power. Because Christ is dead certain of what He speaks about we hail Him Lord. And do we wish to lead other men to Him we must also speak with conviction out of personal knowledge.

But constancy was not the least of the Savior's powers. Jesus was no quitter. He was not a prey to discouragement. He had faith—and to last. He stood squarely with the issue and the cause He represented at all times and in all seasons, through thick and through thin, through good and evil report. Christianity needs more of such Christlike constancy. Constancy means pluck, endurance, courage against and in the face of odds. Inconstancy is the child of lack of faith and it breeds failure.

Jesus was a man of parts and of power. His facility for various work needed a man of power. Jesus was a genius and a hard laborer. He had inherent ability and a fund of forcefulness. The world is full of geniuses without power. The list of unknown saviors is large. Jesus had talent and the real, vital spiritual power that could make talents productive. He had the right kind of energy and enough of it. He got His dynamic from God. That is where we should apply for ours.

Little Sins.

The little faults, the little sins, so-called, which may seem so inconsequential, may, nevertheless, hide from us the vision of the Eternal. You need not break the glasses of a telescope, or coat them over with paint, in order to prevent you from seeing through them. Just breathe upon them, and the dew of your breath will shut out all the stars. So it does not require great crimes to hide the light of God's countenance. Little faults can do it just as well.

Take a shield and cast a spear upon it, and it will leave on it one great dent. Prick it all over with a million little needle shafts and they will take the polish from it more than the piercing of the spear. So it is not so much the great sins which take the freshness from our conscience, as the numberless petty faults which we are all the time committing.

The Only True Religion.

Men talk much about "practical religion," but differ greatly as to what it comprises. Many limit it to benevolent gifts and kindly ministries, or to public religious services. But it is more. It includes a personal faith in Christ, holy communion with God and a pure life. There can be no real and abiding practice of Christianity without a renovated nature and a sanctified heart.—Presbyterian.

True Peace.

To know that God is near, to feel that you are acting toward Him as a reverential and affectionate child, and that He is feeling toward you as a gracious and compassionate Father—this, this is peace.—Hamilton.

No Danger There.

"Put your whole soul into the Christian life. No one ever was guilty of backsliding who was pressing with all his might toward Jesus."—Philadelphia Methodist.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR MAY 5 BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Joseph the Wise Ruler in Egypt, Gen. 41:38-49—Golden Text, James 1:5 — Memory Verses, 39-40.

Two years have passed, as we are told in Gen. 41:1, between the events which are chronicled in the Scripture that we studied last week and those that are recorded in our lesson for to-day. With Joseph they have been years of confinement in an Egyptian prison. To be sure, he was a man of importance above the men who were jailed with him, he was a favorite and trusted lieutenant of the warders of the dungeons; but he was nevertheless a prisoner. A good life in a prison is still a prison life. Joseph was a prisoner under the dominion of Pharaoh. He was also a prisoner for God. He could unite to-day with Paul in the declaration, "I am in chains for God." Joseph's only crime had been his desire to serve God and be faithful to the social obligations of his surroundings and his manhood. He went to prison because he would rather be obedient to the vision and the call of God than to bartes his character and the favor of the Almighty for a mess of pottage.

That which appeared to man, perhaps, to be disadvantageous to the future success and prosperity of Joseph, however, in the providence of God was working and did work out most splendidly and marvellously for his enduring fame. His wisdom as a diviner to the baker and the butler of Pharaoh in the prison leads him directly into the court of the emperor. His explanation of the meaning and application of the queer dreams the Pharaoh had had about the cows and the ears made him a marked man in the estimation of the king. It was the means, for him, of entrance into vice-regal power.

One thing noticeable about Joseph, first, is this, that he gave substantial evidence of his nearness to God. Of course in those days among the nobles of the Egyptian court a man would perhaps be noted as a companion of God for different reasons, so far as outward expression is concerned, than would impress us of this day and generation. The court and the emperor were impressed with the godliness of Joseph because he was an informing oracle of God. "Can we," says Pharaoh, "find such a one as this is, a man in whom the Spirit of God is?" Pharaoh saw in Joseph the lineaments and the movings of the Spirit of God because Joseph declared the implications of his dreams with courage, with sense, with conviction. He was impressed with the soothsaying powers of Joseph. His gift for accurate divination caught his fancy and fixed his attention.

That which Pharaoh saw in Joseph and honored with vice-regal favor the captain of the guard had discerned from quite another point of view. That which attracted the attention of Potiphar and gave him confidence in Joseph also influenced the minds of the keepers of the prison and led them lighten the burdens of Joseph and to install him in a place of responsibility and authority among the men with whom he was incarcerated. And that which they all saw we, too, see to-day as we gaze down the perspective of the centuries.

Joseph was faithful to Potiphar because he was the child of God. He was trustworthy in prison because he was in right relations constantly with God. He was able to interpret dreams and to unfold them with prophetic power and more than common accuracy because he kept his senses alert and his whole manhood alive to the ministrations of the living God. Pharaoh was right. Joseph was a man in whom the Spirit of God abode with power. If God had not been with him he would have been overwhelmed with the insistency of the importunate invitations of Potiphar's wife. If God had not given him grace he might have used his liberty in the prison to have escaped to a more hospitable soil. If Jehovah had not vouchsafed to him a more than common ability to understand the mind of God he never would have been able to have predicted the famine that with such exactness came to pass.

The power that came to Joseph in a material way was a tribute not to him, but to the God through whom he was strengthened and his vision was clarified. Pharaoh was no fool. He saw with precision the God behind the man. And so he says, with a philosophy that is beyond question and an insight that is altogether commendable, "None so discreet and wise as thou." For God had given Joseph the vision.

Another thing that is noticeable is that Joseph was not unduly puffed up by the unexpected and unprecedented influence that was so suddenly thrust into his grasp. It might easily have turned his head. But the impetuous dreamy youth of yesterday is now a man. He has seen much of the world and he is cautious. Called to a special work he keeps to that work. He offends none by any exhibition of pride of position. He uses his immense authority for the future welfare of the people. In the days of prosperity he prepares for the coming days of adversity. He shepherds, as God would have him to do the people under his rule.

The lesson ought to teach us that nothing is impossible to the man who lives near to God. It should make us humble, regardless of the heights to which we may gradually or suddenly attain.

Calling People to Church.

When I was examining the church bells of the East Riding of Yorkshire some years ago I came to a little place called Fordon, on the wolds between Melton and Bridlington. It was a very primitive place, quite cut off from the world, the few inhabitants hardly knowing the road over the hilltop to the next place northward. The diminutive building which serves as a church is built near the brow of the hill. It has no tower, bell turret or bell cot. On inquiry I found that it had no bell. The parson came over on horseback now and then from a neighboring parish, tied up his horse outside the church, opened the door, put on his surplice and then walked to the top of the hill and cracked his whip several times, "and then we knaws as it's time ti gang ti chotch," said my informant on the spot.—London Notes and Queries.

The Man Who Was Obstinate

By ALICE BROWN.

There was once a man who, in his youth, had several beautiful friendships. They were all covered with buds and blossoms, and he thought he had never seen any with such hardy roots. By and by, as he grew older, some of them withered a little, and even one died down entirely, so that he was on the point of throwing it away. But he was very fond of things that grow, and it hurt him to destroy anything that had ever had one green leaf, so he watered the earth where the root was, and kept on watering it, and made sure it was in the sun whenever there was a ray to be seen.

"Why do you keep that unsightly thing?" people would say to him. "It's as dead as a door nail. Didn't you know that?"

"Is it, do you think?" the man would ask; for he not only loved to make things grow, but he had something many of us call obstinacy. "Well, perhaps it is. But it hasn't rained much lately. I think I'll keep on watering it."

As time went on, he found he had other newer friendships, because he seemed to be a great man to accumulate that kind of thing. Some of them turned out well, great, strong, hardy growing plants, and some turned out ill.

"Do you like the color of that?" people would say to him, when one put out an ugly bloom.

Then the man would look at it thoughtfully, but he would never express his mind. There was something about friendships that kept him from telling exactly what he thought of them, even to himself. And it cannot be denied that he was better at guarding than selecting, and that, in the beginning, almost any thrifty-looking plant could impose upon him.

"Well," said he, "maybe it will look better to you if I put it in this light." And then he would turn it about until the sun fell on it at exactly the right slant, and sometimes, for a minute or two, he could actually make you believe you were looking at the most beautiful blossom in the world.

Still it was true that many of his friendships gave him trouble, and that, in his moments of heavy-heartedness he was sure somebody else could have taken care of them far better than he.

After a good many years the man died, and immediately he was taken into a pleasant place where it was all growth and bloom.

"What is this?" he asked. "Is it heaven?"

The one who had met him when he came smiled a little.

"That is what they always ask," said he.

"But is it?" said the man.

"Well," said the other, "that is one name for it. You can call it what you like."

"I never saw so much color," said the man. He delighted in color. "And certainly I never smelled anything so sweet."

"Look about you," said the other. "Don't you see what the color and the sweetness comes from?"

There were his friendships all about him, and they were so full of bud and blossom, their leaves were so shiny, and they nodded their heads so in the sun and rustled so in the breeze, that he would never have known them. And the one that had seemed to be dead was the tallest and most beautiful of all.

"Why," said he, "they never looked like that before!"

"No," said the other, "they were never quite like that. And they never would have been if you hadn't taken such care of them."

"Well," said the man, "then perhaps it pays to be obsinate."

"Obstinate?" said the other. "Is that what you call it?"

"Why, don't you call it so?" asked the man.

"Well, you can call it that if you like, we have a different name for it here."—From the Atlantic.

Keeping Tab on the Hens.

G. Grey Miller, of Bethlehem, reading of the proposition to date hens' eggs, so that the purchaser may ascertain their age at a glance, has devised a machine which he believes will meet the requirements. Miller's scheme is to provide a nest to which is attached a rubber chute, which conveys the egg to the dating appliance. The chute is arranged with rubber stops to lessen the speed of the egg as it rolls merrily on its way. The dating attachment is operated by clockwork, and one winding will keep it running for a year. As the egg reaches the dater it is caught in a clutch and held in place while the stamp is applied. The egg then rolls into a basket.—Philadelphia North American.

A Stammering Proposal.

A Holton man who is noted for his perfect self-possession and polished manners tells this story on himself. He bought a ring for his best girl. When he gave it to her he intended to say: "Dearest, here is a ring I have bought to adorn your fair hand. May the circle be a symbol of my undying affection for you." What he did say was: "H-here's a ring I bought for myself and it was t-too small. Y-you might as well h-have it."—Kansas City Journal.

Tricks of Trade.

At Brighton two boys were charged with an extensive theft of rabbit skins. "What do you do with the skins—turn them into sables?" asked the Magistrate's clerk of the prosecutor. "No; into sealskins," was the reply.—Lloyd's Weekly.

RECORD BREAKING WHALER DEAD.

Captain William H. Allen Made $417,000 From One Three-Year Voyage.

Captain William H. Allen died in his home, in Groton recently, after several weeks' illness, attributed to general breaking up in health. He was eighty-one years of age, having been born October 9, 1826, in Lebanon.

To him belonged the honor of having made the most successful voyage on record in the annals of the whaling industry. This was in 1863, when, in command of the ship Onward of New Bedford, he cruised in the eastern, Yellow, Japan and Okhotsk seas and off the California coast.

On this voyage he captured 134 whales, the catch netting 6873 barrels of oil, and 62,000 pounds of whalebone. This cargo sold for $417,000, of which Captain Allen's share was $29,536. The voyage covered three years.

Captain Allen was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of Hawaiian lodge, in Honolulu. He was a member of Pyramid Temple of the Mystic Shrine, of Bridgeport, and an Odd Fellow. For ten years he was commodore of Jibboom club, No. 1, of New London, being elected admiral on his retirement from active service in that organization a year ago.

He married Georgiana, daughter of Orlando Bailey of Groton, in August, 1858. Of their three sons and one daughter, one son, Charles, died at the age of five years; Ralph O. is in the insurance business in New York city; Frank W. is secretary and director of the Eastern Shipbuilding company.

In 1899 Captain Allen became president of the Mariners' Savings bank, of which he was one of the organizers in 1867. During his career at sea he had command of the Onward of New Bedford, for seven years; his other commands being the bark Nile, of New London, and prior to that the barks Harmony of New London; Lewis of New Bedford and the Charles Phelps of New London.—New London (Conn.) Correspondent of the New York Herald.

Juvenile Economy.

"Tommy," said the fond mother, "isn't it rather an extravagance to eat both butter and jam on your bread at the same time?"

"No, ma'am, it's economy," the boy answered. "The same piece of bread does for both."—Harper's Weekly.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

Ladies Like It

When Sick

you will like Cardui, for the good it does you.

Made from purely vegetable ingredients, it contains nothing injurious to young or old.

Acting especially upon the womanly organs, it is a medicine for women, not men.

Girls and women need it, when suffering from any of the ailments peculiar to their sex.

It acts gently and naturally, relieves pain and distress, builds up weakened organs, regulates irregular catamenia.

Mrs. Nevada Hensley, of Lorenzo, Tenn., writes: "I have been using Wine of Cardui for sixteen (16) months, and have received much relief. I had suffered from womanly weakness and the doctors were unable to help me. Finally I wrote you for advice and took Cardui with the result mentioned. I can heartily indorse Cardui for the good it has done me, and wish you every success in manufacturing and selling such a good medicine for the relief of suffering women."

Sold everywhere in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

"THE MARRYING SQUIRE."

Justice Geo. E. Law, of Brazil, Ind., Has Married 1400 Couples.

Justice Geo. E. Law, of Brazil, Ind., has fairly earned the title "The Marrying Squire," by which he is known far and wide, having already married some 1400 couples. Ten years ago he was Deputy County Treasurer. "At that time," said Justice Law, "I was suffering from an annoying kidney trouble. My back ached, my rest was broken at night, and the passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent and contained sediment. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me in 1897, and for the past nine years I have been free from kidney complaint and backache."

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame found my wife went to the drugstore here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; J. Hon, Thorsby.

Hawley.

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper. This is my first attempt to say anything through the columns of the Banner, so I hope my little piece won't be thrown aside, don't matter how poor it may be.

I want to say the weather sure is bad in this community.

They are putting up a saw mill south of Shoults.

We have a fine Sunday school at Pleasant Grove, somewhere about a hundred scholars enrolled.

Messrs. Charley and Frank Bearden are visiting relatives at Bethlehem.

Preacher Martin has taken up his singing school at Pleasant Grove.

Miss Litha Bearden and little sister are visiting their uncle, near here.

I wish all you readers could be with us in our singing school and help us sing summer time.

NOBODY'S DARLING.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Upchurch Drug Co.

Stump's Hill.

Dear Editor—Please allow us a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words, as we have not been represented in the past few weeks. We are glad to welcome Mr. Oliver Mullins and family back to our community.

As the State of Alabama has got a fish and game law, we the citizens of Stump's Hill think it our duty to adopt something of the kind in our "Little state," as we do not want to be left entirely out.

First: It is a fine of one box of shells to shoot at any bird on the wing. There is a prize of one fox hide, to the man or boy that can call up and kill the most "Bob whites" in summer, and any man that doesn't kill as many as three birds at one shoot by shooting into a covey on the ground is supposed to give his gun to his nearest neighbor

And it is a fine of one-half gallon of sorghum whiskey to hunt squirrels at any season, unless he takes an ax, cross-cut saw, gun, dog, and men enough to cut trees and get everything the dog trees. But if he will go prepared as above stated he has a right to hunt seven days in a week.

Any man caught fishing here with a hook will be held under water one minute for first offence and drowned for the second. A man is allowed to use small mesh nets in shallow water, but all nets of any depth must be dynamited with sufficient quanity to get fish enough for more than one family. Hoping the above laws will suit all. I remain as ever yours

TYNER'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.
Many Have Dyspepsia and don't Know It Read Symptoms.

Do you belch up wind? Do you taste your food for an hour or more after eating? Do you see specks or haze before your eyes? Are you pale and haggard? Does your heart flutter? Are you dizzy at times? Do you have pains in side or back? Do you have risings or pimples on the skin? Are you low spirited? Is there a sour taste in your stomach? Is your breath bad? If so you have Dyspepsia, and it is a dangerous condition, don't delay, but take Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy as directed on label. It is made for just such troubles and symptoms. Tyner's Dyspepsia remedy removes acids from the stomach, strengthens weak stomachs, helps digest your food, stops all aches and pains, stops fluttering of the heart, (sometimes called heart disease.) By making the food digest, new blood is made and all pimples disappear. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, sold by druggists, 50c a bottle. Money refunded if it fails to cure Sold in Clanton by Florence Drug Store: call or write; remedy sent by express.

CAN'T EAT

When your nerves are all unstrung, your appetite fails you and you feel as though the bottom had dropped out of your stomach, you are paying the penalty for the abuse you have inflicted upon yourself by hastily-eaten and improper food.

Your digestive organs, even though delicate, will stand a lot of service, but they resent ill-treatment.

Dr. Caldwell's
(Laxative)
Syrup Pepsin

is the greatest remedy in the world for correcting and curing all forms of stomach and digestive trouble.

It instantly imparts new life and vigor to these parts and keeps them in prime and perfect working condition.

Don't wait until you are in the grip of these torturing complaints, but get a dollar or half-dollar size of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN now at your druggist's and forestall the trouble.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Do it now.

Chilton County Baseball League.

Thorsby, Ala., April 24 1907

Chilton County and the surrounding towns have always stood for progressiveness and anything which pertains to enlivening the life and making the life more wholesome she approves. There is a sentiment among some of the boys that a greater interest in the game of baseball would add much to the present good feeling among each other. The game is clean and a greater participation would tend to make the days of the boys cleaner and more enjoyable. A Saturday afternoon on the ball field is a great relief from the hard work of the week on the farm. The diversion makes the boy more contented to renew his work on the farm the following week. In order to bring this about it is necessary to have an organization whereby a series of games may be played in each town for a silver cup. This will encourage honest competition, it will give the people in the various towns good entertainment in the delight of following the playing of their respective teams and watching the struggle for the cup. It will unite the boys in each section and enable them to know each other better. I propose that Clanton, Verbena, Union, Randolph, Jemison, Thorsby and any others in the immediate vicinity of Clanton, organize a league with a President, Secretary, and Treasurer. That each team which joins the league deposit $5 with the treasurer for the purchase of the silver cup and the other necessary expenses such as balls, etc. A series of games be scheduled for each town with the respective teams of the league and the team winning the greatest number of games at the end of the season will retain the cup as their permanent possession. With all interested from the above towns write to William J. Lamkie of Thorsby, Ala., to arrange to select delegates for a meeting to be held in Clanton to draft a schedule.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is BETTER than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Upchurch Drug co.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Bell, of Romney, W. Va., says—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in our family."

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Manila, Philippine Islands,
March 23, 1907

Editor Banner—Will you please allow me a small space in the dear old Banner to say a few words as it has been some time since I have had anything to say. There is one thing I am proud to say the people in and around Clanton are becoming more interested in schooling and educating the coming generation. That is one of the finest things that could be done. I am proud to hear of so many schools in Chilton and hope to be there soon and go to school myself.

Well, cotton is a very good price still. I suppose the farmers will put about ⅓ of their crop in cotton this year and depend on buying their meat and corn.

Well everything is going fine in the Philippines.

I am proud to say the transport Thomas will bring me to the states in April. Will leave Manila April 15, to take station in Nebraska.

Well, as I am looking for this to drop where the rollers did I will close with many good wishes to all the Chilton people and the Editor. M. L. M.

Marbury.

Will you allow me a small space in your paper in regard to the Sunday school at this place. We have one of the best Sunday schools in Alabama. Mr. D. H. Marbury is the efficient superintendant, and we all love him. He is one of the best Sunday school men in the state. With his mind and money he stands ready to help in this good work at all times. There was present in Sunday school last Sunday 380; in the Bible class, "Our class," there was present 110. Among them were several old Veterans, who we were glad to have with us; one of them was 111 years old. Jay Smith is the teacher of the class and we all love him, and we all are glad to have him with us again, after being gone to the infirmery at Birmingham. This is the second largest class in the state. Come down and be with us one Sunday, Mr. Editor, we will do you good. A cordial welcome awaits all who will visit us; we are always glad to have visitors. A MEMBER.

SATURDAY MARKET.

The L. A. S. of the Clanton Baptist church will open a Saturday market on next Saturday, the 11th inst. This market will be conducted on the lower floor of the court house, every Saturday throughout the summer season. Breads, cold meats, salads, cakes and dainties can be procured that will materially aid the provident housewife in the preparation of her Sunday's meals. Lunches will also be served on Saturday from noon until 2 p.m. These lunches will be ten, fifteen and twenty-five cents each. Hot coffee, and ice cold lemonade will also be served. This project of conducting a Saturday market, is carefully planned and will be faithfully carried out by earnest workers in the interest of the pastorium fund. Liberal patronage is solicited, and entire satisfaction will be guaranteed.

Providence.

Dear Editor—As we havn't seen anything from here in a few weeks we will write a few jerks. Health of this communnity is very good.

The Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely under the able management of Mr. J. A. Lowery.

Mr. Charlie Shaw and family of Jemison spent Sunday with Mr. W. H. Shaw's family.

Rev. S. U. Turnipseed filled his regular appointment at Mt. Moriah Sunday; he preaced an excellent sermon to a very large crowd.

Mr. Frank McGraw and family of Mulberry spent Sunday with Mr. J. E. Bledsoe's family.

Mr. Jim Cobb of Birmingham was with friends here Sunday.

Mr. J. C. Martin spent Sunday at Rockymount.

Miss Ora O. Shaw spent the week with her sister, Mrs. Annis Cobb.

The Sunday school at Mt. Moriah is getting along fine under the care of Bro. J. E. Bledsoe, Miss Verla Skipper secretary.

Mr. Jim Cobb of Montgomery visited homefolks Sunday.

Mr. Loranzo Cobb and wife visited Mr. W. H. Shaw's Sunday.

Mr. Richard Cobb and Miss Lula Bledsoe were happily married at the M. E. church Rev. S. U. Turnipseed performing the ceremony; many of their friends took dinner with them at the bride's home. The young couple will go to Birmingham where they will make their future home: we hope for them a long and happy life.

TWO FRIENDS.

Stanton.

Rev. Bryant filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday.

We have a flourishing Sabbath school with good attendance and good teachers.

The ice cream supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Elders Saturday night was quite a success and enjoyed by all present.

Messrs. L. O. Dyer, G. R. Williams and Walter Dyer made a business trip to Selma last week.

Mr. Vester Young is visiting his parents at this place.

Mrs. Web and charming daughter, Miss Tina Mae of Mississippi are visiting relatives here.

We regret to say the little babe of Mrs. Willie Cunningham is still on the sick list.

GUESS WHO.

Our commnity was saddened on the 28 ult. by the death of Miss Mat Jones. She was a good christian lady and loved by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in Sunday school and church and in all our surroundings. May He who doeth all things well comfort the hearts of those who are bereft. ONE WHO LOVED HER.

SINGING.

Bro. Mize Lawley will sing in the Christain Harmony note book at Providence in Beat 2 on the fourth Sunday in this month. Come and bring your dinner and old song books.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Verbena, Ala., May 3, 1907.

The public, and particularly the deputy sheriffs and constables, and other peace officers of Chilton county will please take notice that the present Game and Fish law, enacted by the present Legislature of Alabama, which is now effective and in force, enjoins on the deputy sheriffs and constables and other peace officers, the special duty of attending to its strict enforcement; under the terms of the Statute, such officers are made deputy game wardens.

A failure to enforce the Game and Fish law by such officers, subjects the officer so failing to prosecution and a penalty. All violations of this law should be promptly reported to the County Game and Fish Warden; or complaint made to the nearest justice of peace, the judge of the county court or the county solicitor.

I suggest that all persons who desire to hunt in the county or state, apply to the Judge of Probate for the necessary authority before so hunting. Respectfully,

J. W. E. GULLEDGE,
Game and Fish Warden.

Cascasweet for babies is the best remedy for colic, summer complaint, diarrhoea and sour stomach. It is especially good in cases of teething when irritation affects the stomach and intestines. Falakto.

We are having some rainy weather at present.

Well, little Sweetheart, as you said for Buster Boy to do his best, it would be best I expect for Buster Brown to lay still awhile, if he was to get started he would be very bad, I expect. But, little Sweetheart, let us hear from Ragpicker's Valley often; I think that you could beat Buster Boy.

Falakto is doing well this week.

Well, the Stump Hill Crowbar has made a game law of his own and I think it is a very good law, it will do them, anyway.

We would like to hear from Saginaw, but I think Saginaw has rung off. We would like to hear from Pilgrims Rest and Jones, but I guess they can't write. Let us hear from Stumps Hill. Best wishes to the Banner and its many friends. BUSTER BOY.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by Upchurch Drug co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

A London critic has written that laughter is unmoral. He does not say it is immoral. One must note the distinction. Laughter is without moral purpose. It is not wicked. But if men had always laughed they would not have progressed.

Boston physicians claim to have cured consumption by vaccination. This is the four hundred and sixty-seventh cure that has been discovered, sarcastically observes the New York American, and it will, no doubt, follow in the illustrious footsteps of its predecessors.

The following significant sentiment is taken from an editorial in the New York Sun: There is a Wall Street which is a savings bank—the greatest and most important savings bank on earth. Don't confuse it with the celebrated gambling hell of the same name.

The Wall Street Journal says: "The railroads at first defiant now acknowledge defeat and admit the advantages of Federal regulation and open, equal rates." But they didn't acknowledge defeat, adds The Commoner, until the power of the State government in the work of regulating corporations was demonstrated.

Former Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is greatly worried because our trunk lines altogether could not carry an army to the Pacific coast in six months. A more urgent reason for double tracking them, in the opinion of the New York World, is that they can't carry the crops to market fast enough to keep them from rotting.

Frank Richardson observes in the London Mail: When one looks around at the jovial, happy, healthy faces of vulgar men; when one reads of the vast sums that they leave at their decease, one is astonished that the Art of Vulgarity is not taught in schools. If one has not inherited a certain proficiency from one's parents one has to pick it up one's self! The solution of the great problems of life, how to be healthy, how to procure the privileges of the wealthy and a reputation for happiness and wisdom is to be vulgar.

"Pirates of Industry" and "Buccaneers of Business" are terms of reproach enjoying so much present popularity that people are in danger of thinking they stand for the truth and nothing but the truth, remarks Judge. Some time since our wizards of finance and fortune were "Captains of Industry." For a quarter of a century they were gifted with no small share of the distinction and honors of the times. To-day it would appear that the popular verdict is veering around in the opposite direction. Successful men generally are "pirates" and "buccaneers," lawless, roystering and irresponsible adventurers. We hold no brief for these gentlemanly brigands, but we venture to say that this verdict of a muck-raking period will come to have a very ridiculous look to the saner judgment of after days.

The following timely advice is from American Homes and Gardens: In endeavoring to get the best for one's money in building a house, attention is chiefly directed to the matter of cost. That, of course, is so important a subject that it can never be lost sight of, but it is often a quite mistaken idea to regard it as the one essential thing in house building. A successful building operation is one in which a due economy is exercised at every stage. There should be no waste, either of materials or of funds; there should be no waste by the use of poor materials or improper construction. The builder or owner, as the case may be, is entitled to full value for his money. There are, however, other considerations which enter into the building of a house, or which should do so, considerations quite as important as getting good material and good workmanship. And these may be summed up in the phrase, questions of art or questions of beauty. The person who spends $5000 for his house, or ten times as much or more, is entitled to an artistic return, quite as much as a material return. His house must not only be well built, but be good to look at, or it will be as great a failure as a house as any structure can be.

E WHOLE STATE OF MISSOURI PLEADS ITH ROOSEVELT FOR CONVICT'S FREEDOM

Jean Valjean in Real Life Has Aroused the Sympathy of High and Low.

Washington, D. C. — President [illegible] velt in a note to the Depart[illegible] of Justice expressed the opin[illegible] that John William January, of [illegible] souri, should have his sentence [illegible] ated at once or be pardoned [illegible] ight. He wrote as follows:

[illegible] partment of Justice:

In view of the statements of the [illegible] ge, bank presidents and so forth, [illegible] know him, I think Anderson's [illegible] years of life as an honest citi[illegible] hard working and of good re[illegible] warrant us in commuting his [illegible] ence at once or in pardoning him [illegible] ight.

Which do you think ought to be [illegible] e? Are there sufficient reasons [illegible] for doing either?

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The whol[illegible] State of Missouri has [illegible] up in appeal to President [illegible] velt for a pardon for this West[illegible] Jean Valjean, who has just been [illegible] ptured in Kansas City after an [illegible] ght and prosperous life of nine [illegible] s, during which he had proved [illegible] self one of the best citizens of the [illegible] e. Missouri is asking the Presi[illegible] t to give the man a "square deal," [illegible] there does not seem to be much [illegible] bt that Missouri's request will be [illegible] nted.

John William January, thirteen or [illegible] teen years ago, when he was just [illegible] nty-one years old, broke into the [illegible] ffice at Hennessey, Okla., for [illegible] purpose of robbery. He got no [illegible] ey worth anything, but was [illegible] ught, tried in the Federal Court at [illegible] arie, and sentenced to serve five [illegible] rs in the penitentiary.

[illegible] prison January was a model of [illegible] d behavior. He was working for [illegible] good conduct commutation, and [illegible] e come to within eight months of [illegible] time when he would be liber[illegible] d, when he saw a chance to escape [illegible] d took it. He worked his way [illegible] th, and after a time got work on [illegible] railroad with a construction gang, [illegible] saved his money, and finally had [illegible] ugh to get to Kansas City. There, [illegible] der the name of Charles W. An[illegible] son, he got a job on a street rail[illegible] y. He was steady and sober, [illegible] rked hard and saved his money. [illegible] nsas City is a red-hot city politi[illegible] y, and the fact that he never [illegible] d be induced to vote, even on [illegible] stions in which the street railroad [illegible] n were deeply interested, caused [illegible] e to marvel, but Anderson, aware [illegible] his civil disability through his pri[illegible] sentence, held steadfastly aloof.

[illegible] t length he saved enough money [illegible] buy out a small restaurant near [illegible] car barns of the street railroad. [illegible] principal customers were his for[illegible] r workmates. He stuck to his [illegible] aurant as he had to his railroad [illegible] rk, and as before he prospered. [illegible] had lived so long undetected that [illegible] began to believe he was safe, so [illegible] married and had one child, a five[illegible] -old girl.

He made enough money to buy a [illegible] her business in a more thriving lo[illegible] ity. He sold his first place for a [illegible] d price, and was looking for a [illegible] w one when he was caught. It [illegible] ppened that a man who had been [illegible] the penitentiary at Leavenworth [illegible] h him met him on the street and [illegible] ognized him. The ex-convict fol[illegible] wed Anderson and made himself [illegible] own. Anderson realized at once [illegible] he was in the man's hands, and [illegible] if he chose to betray him. The [illegible] n proposed that they go "down[illegible] n and have some fun."

"No," answered Anderson. "I [illegible] ve quit all that. I am married and [illegible] e a family. I don't want to have [illegible] anything to do with you."

The convict knew there was a standing reward of $60 for information that would lead to the recapture of escaped prisoners. He got in communication with the prison authorities, and promised, if the money was forthcoming, to reveal the whereabouts of January.

The authorities promised, and the information was given them, with the result that the police of Kansas City were requested to arrest Anderson. Two policemen, hating their task, took the man they knew to have been a good citizen for nine years, and locked him up. Then it developed that the convict who had betrayed him could not receive the reward after all, because such money could be paid only to citizens, and he was outside the pale. So it was offered to the two policemen who made the arrest. Both spurned it.

There was nothing for the court to do but remand Anderson to prison. He did not attempt to deny his identity and went back to Leavenworth to serve out the unexpired portion of his full sentence, all his good conduct commutation having been forfeited by his escape. That was about a week ago.

Kansas City rose up in his behalf, and all Missouri followed the lead of the city. The two policemen who had scorned the blood money accepted it and turned it into the fund that was raised to help obtain Anderson's pardon. Everybody in Kansas City lent a hand. Doctors, lawyers, judges, merchants, the Mothers and Homemakers' Club, the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce, labor organizations and private individuals, either signed petitions or wrote directly to the President.

The House of Representatives of the State Legislature, by formal resolution, added its weight to the appeal to Mr. Roosevelt. The judge before whom January had been tried wrote one of the strongest letters ever received at the Department of Justice, and the warden of the penitentiary made an appeal. Nothing, he said, could better serve to convince the prisoners now in the penitentiary of the relentless pursuit of wrongdoers by the Government than the manner in which January had been brought back after nine years. But the mere bringing him back had served to enforce that lesson. Now there was opportunity to add to it a lesson equally striking, in the mercy as well as the justice of the Government, by giving the man who had proved his reform a pardon for his old offense.

Neither the White House nor the Department of Justice knew at first what it was all about. By the time the slow-going official mail had brought the information there were thousands of unofficial appeals for mercy for January. Then came a sworn certificate that a petition signed by 37,000 citizens of Kansas City was on its way. Senator Warner and Representative Ellis took up the case. Their constituents in solid mass demanded that they should act.

The red tape of official methods compels a little delay. Usually it is a great deal of delay. But in this case the pardon attorney of the Department of Justice will have his opinion ready promptly after the official application from Mrs. Anderson for her husband's pardon is in his hands. Then it will go to Attorney-General Bonaparte for his recommendation, and thence to the President for action.

General Hudson Ill.

Topeka, Kan.—Gen. Joseph K. Hudson, who is ill at his home here, was reported to be slightly weaker Saturday morning. The physician stated that all hope of recovery had been given up. The end may come at any hour.

To Fight Anarchy.

Madrid.—Severe measures for the suppression of anarchism in Barcelona are in contemplation.

Strike for Eight Hours.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Six hundred machinists and 400 helpers in Pittsburg and Allegheney were idle Wednesday as a result of the strike for a minimum hourly wage of 40 cents and the eight-hour day.

Washington, D. C.—Because he shook his fist at the White House Gus Ferori, an Italian laborer from Memphis, Tenn., is being detained by the police.

VACCINATION FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Theory Discussed at Medical Association Meeting.

USE X RAY IN DIAGNOSIS.

Usual Method of Transmission to Young Children Not From Milk, but From Man to Man.

Washington, D. C.—Tuberculosis infection from bovine and other germs, through human germs, was discussed at length at a meeting of the Medical Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in thir annual session here. The question was not settled, and the proposition was turned over to a committee appointed to further investigate this subject.

Dr. Charles Hunter Dunn, of Boston had for his subject "Recent Advances in the Knowledge of Tuberculosis in Children." He said in early stages tuberculosis did not affect the lungs as in the cases of adults, but frequently remained hidden in the internal glands in children until an acute form of tuberculosis developed, pneumonia causing death. He declared that children have no power of resistance against the acute outbreaks, and that small babies showed no tendency toward the healing of the lesions.

Coming to the sources of tubercular infection, he mentioned the various theories that it was due to dust or a moist sputum, and said that while there was truth in all of them, the commonest source was house contagion from tubercular surroundings.

In diagnosing latent forms of the diseases, he said the X-ray was the most important method.

Finally he spoke upon the subject of immunizing a person against tuberculosis by means of vaccination.

He reviewed the progress that had been adopted in that direction, and said he believed that human beings were in a pretty good state of natural resistance, and he held out hope of finding a vaccine to make that resistance absolute.

Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw, of Albany, N. Y., in discussing the question, "The Present Status of the Transmissibility of Tuberculosis as Illustrated by Infants and Young Children," argued that the usual method of transmission was through the method of man to man and not through milk. The report of Dr. Flick dealt largely with what had been done by the national congres since it came into existence in 1889 in Paris. The report stated that there had been raised $30,000 of a proposed fund of $100,000 for the scientific and philanthropic congress, the entertainment of visiting delegates and for the best exhibits of objects in the crusade against tuberculosis, etc.

The report adds that President Roosevelt has expressed a feeling of sympathy with the congress.

Praises America.

Rome.—The Pope gave an audience to the Rt. Rev. Joseph J. Fox, bishop of Green Bay, Wis. The Pope expressed gratitude for and admiration of the filial devotion of American Catholics in the holy see. He said that America afforded him many consolations. Referring to the Catholic Poles living in the United States, he said that in due course of time they will have some bishops of their own nationality, not especially appointed, but appointed in the usual way.

Get Into Trouble.

Chicago, Ill.—Forty-six establishments have been compelled to give up interstate trade in meats as a result of the enforcement of the inspection law, according to a statement by Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture, in a speech before the meat inspectors of this city. Many of these got in trouble, declared Dr. Melvin, owing to the fact that the proprietors utterly ignored the law, giving as an excuse that they thought the law applied only to the big packers.

Warfare Over Name.

Chicago, Ill.—One of the greatest battles ever waged for a name will be fought out in court here when Mrs. Phillips Henrici, Jr., No. 2, tries to prohibit her husband's divorced wife, now married to Prof. C. J. Carter, a magician, with whom she has been appearing on the stage, from using the Henrici name. The Henrici divorce proceedings caused attention one year ago, April 9, because of the allegation that the divorcee "quaffed, without quitting, thirty-one high balls on her thirty-first birthday."

Shot Cousin to Death.

Groveton, Tex.—Foiling a dispute at a dance Ollie Freeman shot and killed his cousin and former chum, John Ashworth. Freeman surrendered.

Volcano Active.

Lima, Peru.—The volcano of Alarcon, province of Neuquen, Argentina, is in full activity.

Plug Up San Francisco 'Phones.

San Francisco, Cal.—The strike of the "hello" girls has practically tied up the telephone service in this city. They are receiving substantial support of the citizens. It is likely the teamsters will go out on a sympathetic strike.

Says Grim Fund Is Nonsense.

San Francisco, Cal.—In reference to published statements that the grand jury had traced the money alleged to have been paid city officials by the United States mint and sub-treasury in this city, President Patrick Calhoun, of the United Railroads, said: "I have seen the extraordinary statements in the papers, in which the money transmitted to San Francisco through the United States sub-treasury have been stated to be a bribe fund. This is sheer nonsense." After saying that the money was used for the relief of the street railway employes, Mr. Calhoun continued: "The allegation that this money constituted a bribery fund is infamous. To intelligent men it must be apparent that the openness of this transaction, every detail of which left necessarily an open, full and complete record, is not the method that would be pursued by any one who had anything to conceal."

Names Wanted for Big Battleships.

Washington.—President Roosevelt has under consideration the naming of the two battleships of the Dreadnaught type, for which contracts will soon be awarded. The ships will be given the names of states, according to custom. Most of the states have been honored already, but there remain Delaware, Utah, North Dakota and New York that have no war vessels named for them. New York is eliminated for the reason that there is an armored cruiser named for the city of New York. When Oklahoma qualifies as a state it will give the navy department one additional name to draw upon. While no action has yet been taken, it is thought that Delaware, the second smallest state in the union, will be honored by having one of the greatest battleships named for it, and that Utah will be the other state to be so honored.

South to Get Share.

New Orleans.—The party of business men from several southern cities which left here several days ago for the Panama canal zone to present complaints in favor of southern producers in supplying canal commissaries have returned on the steamship Ellis, and reported that they had been unexpectedly successful.

M. B. Tresevant, heading the New Orleans contingent, said that he was authorized by Colonel Goethals to announce that a change is contemplated in the commissary, which will give the army the handling of the purchase of supplies in the United States. This change, in the opinion of members of the party, will remove several causes for complaint, which have been made by southern commercial bodies recently.

Prisoners Released.

St. Petersburg.—A plot which resulted in the liberation of thirteen political prisoners was daringly executed at Alexandrovitch, Yekaterinoslav. During the Easter services at the prison chapel a band of revolutionists entered the building, killed the chief inspector and exploded two bombs. Under cover of the confusion which followed thirteen political prisoners, including important terrorists, escaped. The Easter holidays otherwise passed off quietly. No manifestation of anti-Jewish feeling was reported from any point in the empire. Dispatches from various cities announce the customary pardoning of minor offenders at Easter.

Moyer-Haywood Parade.

Boston, Mass.—About 10,000 people participated in the parade and mass meeting held by the labor organizations of this city Sunday as a protest against the proceedings against Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone for alleged conspiracy in the murder of Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho. A Scandinavian club, which brought up the rear, displayed three plain red flags. A thousand or more women were in line. At a mass meeting on the common resolutions were adopted protesting against the arrest and trial of the three western miners.

Piles Freight Car in Heaps.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—Fireman Abner Wengner, of Elkhart, Ind., was instantly killed, and John N. Brown, driver of a city street sweeper, was fatally injured when a double-header Lake Shore freight train collided with the sweeper at the Portage street crossing, derailing the train and piling 19 freight cars in a heap.

To Go Down to Mississippi.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt probably will accept the invitation of eighteen governors of Mississippi river states to accompany them on an inspection trip down the river. It is proposed to go by boat from Minneapolis to New Orleans. An eighteen-foot channel the entire distance is wanted.

Report on Panama Canal.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Taft has laid before the President a report from Alfred Noble, Frederic P. Stearns and John R. Freeman, who went to the isthmus of Panama to examine the sites proposed for the locks of the Panama canal. The engineers say they found that all of the locks, of the dimensions now proposed, will rest upon rock of such character that it will furnish a safe and stable foundation.

MILLIONS CRAFT IN CAPITAL SCANDAL.

$3,500,000 Profits in State House Furnishings Alone

NUMBER CRIMINAL SUITS.

Pennypacker Issues Statement That Not a Dollar Is Misspent, but the the Public Eagerly Awaits His Explanation.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Several criminal suits will be brought by Attorney-General Todd against those responsible for the state capitol scandal. A list of those who will be named as defendants will not be known until the inquiry is completed. The commission will hold no more public sessions until after the legislature adjourns on May 14.

The suits will be based on the testimony showing that the contractors collected from the state for 372 thermostats and installed only 263, and in substitution of domestic for bascarrat glass and an inferior glass for Tiffany favrille.

J. H. Sanderson & Co., general contractors; J. M. Huston, architect for the building commission, and J. H. Schumacher, former superintendent of grounds and buildings, are among those involved.

The testimony also shows that while the more elaborate of the $2,000,000 worth of lighting fixtures was to be mercurial gold, the bulk of those installed were merely lauguered, the latter process costing one-tenth the price of the former.

The reports of the experts which will be made to the commission before the public hearings are resumed will show that the measurements of the parquetry floorings, painting and decorating and other fittings were falsified, and that the contractor's profit on the $2,000,000 metallic furniture was 500 per cent.

It is estimated that Sanderson's profits on the $5,556,765 paid him for the furnishings were $3,500,000.

Former Governor Pennypacker, who was president of the board until he went out of office last January, and was a party to all the furnishing contracts, issued a public statement last fall that not a dollar was misspent by that board; that the building could not be duplicated for $13,000,000; that no bill was finally settled until the article had been measured or weighed as the schedule required; that every bill was certified to by Huston & Schumacher as to its accuracy before being produced.

In view of the recent disclosures the public is eagerly awaiting Pennypacker's explanation of the approving and paying of these bills.

Granted an Injunction.

Nw York.—Theodore H. Price, the most talked of man in the cotton world and probably the largest cotton speculator in the world, through his attorneys, Friday obtained from Judge Bischoff a temporary restraining order in an injunction suit brought against the New York cotton exchange and the classification committee of the exchange. The members of the exchange say that the exchange has nothing to fear from the suit, and a motion will probably be made at once to have the restraining order revoked, but the filing of the suit probably marks the beginning of a bitter legal fight that will bring to light everything possible about the inside working of the New York cotton exchange.

Made More Than Million in Oats.

Chicago, Ill.—By manipulating the oats market "Jim" Patten, "The King of Coarse Grains," has just cleaned up $1,220,000. Patten's holdings are estimated all the way from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels, and he now has a profit averaging 11 cents a bushel.

Four Children Burned to Death.

West Branch, Mich.—Four small children were burned to death Friday night in the home of Martin Campbell, eight miles from here. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell went to a dance and locked their six little ones in the house. The left a big fire in the stove, and in some manner this ignited the house which was destroyed. The two oldest children escaped in their night clothes.

Governor of Chickasaw Tribe Dead.

Ardmore, I. T.—Peter Maytubby, for two terms governor of the Chickasaw tribe, is dead at his home in Caddo, aged 60 years.

Record Breaking Passage.

New York.—Ten Trans-Atlantic liners brought more than 15,000 aliens to this port Thursday, which is a record number of immigrants for one day.

Shows Marked Progress.

Washington, D. C.—The report on the operations of the rural delivery service up to May 1 last, made public here by the fourth assistant postmaster-general, shows that the total number of petitions for the service received up to that date was 34,827, upon which 15,573 adverse reports have been made. There are in operation 37,597 rural routes, served by 37,447 regular carriers. A balance of $1,300,478 remains of an appropriation for new service.

Third Planting.

Found Necessary by Cotton Growers in Lincoln Parish, Louisiana.

New Orleans, La.—A third planting of cotton will be necessary in Lincoln parish, Louisiana, on account of the unseasonable weather. Overflows caused by heavy rains are the cause of the latest disaster to the crop. The farmers' only ray of hope in the situation is that the wet weather has in some measure drowned out the boll weevil. Ghister, Miss., also reports that a new planting of cotton will be necessary. In both sections complaints are made that seed is very scarce and high-priced.

Countess Denied Admission.

San Francisco, Cal.—A landing in this country has been denied "Countess Valensky," the woman who, dressed in male attire, arrived recently with her husband on the Ventura. The countess and her husband came here under the names of George and John Pepper. After their arrivals he said that she was a daughter of the Duke of Buckingham and a cousin of the Czar, and that she had been exiled from Russia, because of her marriage to the pseudo Pepper, who was much beneath her in social station. She also told of having been suspected of a murder, of which she was innocent, and of being exiled on that account. The stories led to her examination as to her sanity. The physicians who examined her pronounced her sane. The woman, who is still on board the Ventura with her husband, will present her case to the department of commerce and labor at Washington.

Indictments Found for Police.

Chicago, Ill.—Indictments were returned by the grand jury Friday afternoon in conection with the civil service commission investigations into the alleged corruption in the police department. Those indicted are: Willima L. O'Connell, former commissioner of public work and chairman of the democratic city committee; Edwin Roche, city purchasing agent and member of the democratic city committee; John M. Collins, former chief of police; Frank D. Comerford, former police attorney; Detective James McGrath and Detective Patrick McNulty.

Celebrate Anniversary.

Berlin.—It is understood here that it is the intention of the Hungarian government to invite a sort of world's parliament of journalists from Great Britain, America and all continental countries to participate in the festivities at Budapest in September in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the coronation of Emperor Francis Joseph as king of Hungary. The festivities, which will take place all over the country, will consist not only of banquets and illuminations, but of historical, military and ethnological processions in the various towns, showing the social, literary and economic development of the people.

May Issue Warrant for Rector.

New York.—With a view to gathering evidence upon which to have a warrant for the arrest of Rev. Jere Knode Cooke, who is alleged to have eloped from Hempstead last Monday with 17-year-old Flora Whaley, the district attorney of Nassau county has assigned a county detective to work on the case. It is said that an attempt will be made to have Mrs. Whaley, grandmother of the eloping girl, make a complaint against the minister, as Floretta Whaley is under 18 years of age.

Forged Railroad Ticket.

Norfolk, Va.—Commonwealth Attorney Hilton announced here that A. L. Ragland, in jail on a charge of having forged a Norfolk-Suffolk railroad ticket to Columbus, O., had made a full confession to him, and that in order to prevent further prosecution had agreed to accept the maximum punishment of two years in the Virginia state penitentiary, which sentence will be formally imposed by Judge Hanckel following his indictment. Ragland claims to be a traveling ticket agent from San Antonio, Tex.

Anti-Cigarette Bill Passes.

Little Rock, Ark.—After an extended debate the bill prohibiting the sale, manufacture or giving away of cigarettes or cigarette papers in this state was passed by the house. The bill was passed by the senate several months ago, and now goes to the governor for his signature.

New Meat Certificate.

Paris.—The foreign office has given a reassuring reply to Ambassador White's energetic representations on the subject of the action of the customs administration in rejecting the new form of meat certificate under the United States pure food law, which rendered American meat unaccompanied by a certificate showing that it has been microscopically examined liable to exclusion.

Hughes Approves Bill.

Albany, N. Y.—Governor Hughes has approved the Page child labor bill drawn by the child labor committee and the Consumers' League. It provides that no minor under 16 years of age shall be employed or permitted to work in any factory in this state before 7 a. m. or after 6 p. m., or more than eight hours in any one day. The permitted hours are now 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., and a nine-hour day is permitted. The act will not take effect until January 1, 1910.

The weather is playing havoc with farm work, and all outdoor work is greatly retarded with the frequent rains.

After July 1st, the pay of rural carriers will be as follows:

For routes of twenty-four or more miles, $900 per annum; twenty-two to twenty-four miles, $864; twenty to twenty-two miles, $810; eighteen to twenty miles, $720; sixteen to eighteen miles, $630; fourteen to sixteen miles, $540; twelve to fourteen miles, $504; ten to twelve miles, $468; eight to ten miles, $432; six to eight miles $396.

Judge Jules Alford of the inferior criminal court of Mobile has declared as a result of a test case in his court that the new fish law of Alabama, passed at the first session of the state legislature and approved February 19, 1907, is unconstitutional.

The unconstitutionality of the law is based upon section 3 of the act, which refers to the sale of fresh water fish during the period intervening between March 15 and June 15 which Judge Alford claims is not clearly embraced in the title of the act.

There have been many fierce conflicts upon the waters of Hampton Roads, but the fire of belching cannon, and hissing, bursting shell—the deadly combat between the Monitor and Merrimac in 1862, was nothing compared with the scene enacted on these historic waters on the night of April 26th, 1907. The burning of Rome, the destruction of the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were no doubt grand, but they were also terrible. The scene upon Hampton Roads was grand beyond the power of of pen to describe, while it was absolutely devoid of the terrible.

Placidly lying at anchor on Hampton Roads when the sun went down on the evening of the 26th of April, were American and foreign war vessels, in solid but friendly phalanx, covering a distance of not less than ten miles. As darkness settled over the face of the waters, a few lights flickered here and there, subdued by the silvery moonbeams that fell like a sheen upon the land and sea. The great array of death-dealing, iron-clad monsters were dimly outlined until at a given signal about 7:30, every ship blazed forth in lines of electric fire. It was so sudden and so grand that the silence of the thousands upon the waters and shores attested an admiration too deep to be expressed in word or sound.

There they lay, every outline of hull and bridge and deck, and funnel and stock, lined in living fire. Nothing like it has ever been seen before, and outside of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition, will probably never be seen again. With the ships in the harbor a blaze of glory, and the buildings ashore scarcely less gorgeous, the entire scene was one so grand, so uniquely splendid that those who saw it will never forget it. It was a feature alone and unparalleled in the history of expositions, and in the history of the world.

The illumination of shore and harbor and vessels by an element that the wildest scientific dreamer had not conceived when the event occurred that the Ter-Centennial Exposition celebrates, is one incident alone that demonstrates the giant strides that have been made since the pilgrims landed upon America's shores.

The searchlights of the various war vessels time and again shot out their piercing rays, turning into broad daylight the darkest nooks and corners along Hampton Roads, but gorgeous, weird and wonderful as was the illumination on the night of the 26th, it is only initiative of the greater and grander scenes that will follow when the government piers are finished, and the system of submerged harbor illumination is installed.

But, as it is, the illumination of the opening night so far eclipsed the most gorgeous pyrotechnic display ever attempted that there is positively no comparison.

Chilton County Singing Convention

On Sunday last the Chilton County Singing Convention met on the grounds of the Thorsby Institute at 10 a.m. The convention was called to order by the president, J. L. Gore. After singing one song led by the president, prayer was led by Rev. Groves.

Then by motion the president appointed a program committee, which consisted of the following persons: T. W. Childress, W. G. Culp and G. D Retherford.

The leaders on the program for the forenoon service were J. L. Gore, J. W. Billingsley, C. L. Glasscock, R. D. Durham and James Franklin. Mrs. J. L. Gore and W. G. Culp, accompanists. Before adjournment for dinner a male quartet, "We are going down the valley," was sung by J. L. Gore, James Franklin, Z. Lowery and R. D. Durham. Then adjourned for dinner, which was bountifully spread and we think enjoyed by all. Though the crowd was immense, some estimating the number between 1000 and 1500, the good people of Thorsby treated to strawberries in abundance.

At 1:30 we reassembled at the house. The afternoon service was led by Z. Lowery, M. C. Crumpton, W. G. Culp, J. L. Gore, Jas. Franklin, R. D. Durham and Archie Glasscock, with Misses Anna Lowery and Tishie Burnett and W. G. Culp, accompanists. With some of the last, but not least, was a soprano and alto duet sung by Mrs. Stabler and Mrs. Norton to a very appreciative audience.

By request of the president, the following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, that we, the members of this convention, tender the good people of Thorsby our sincere thanks for the cordial way in which we have been entertained during our stay with them. We shall retain a grateful remembrance of their kindness and hospitality towards us for a long time and ask God's choicest blessing upon them.

Very respectfully,
JAS. FRANKIN, Committeeman.

With singing "Shall I meet you up there?" led by the president, and prayer by Bro. A. Horn, we adjourned to meet with Macedonia church, the fifth Sunday and Saturday before in June, the program for said meeting will be announced later. Asking God's blessings upon each and every effort tending to lift higher the cause of sacred song,

I am yours very truly,
JAMES FRANKIN, Sec.

DO YOU LOVE

your baby? You wonder why he cries. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he will never cry. Most babies have worms, and the mothers don't know it. White's Cream Vermifuge rids the child of worms and cleans out its system in a pleasant way. Every mother should keep a bottle of this medicine in the house. With it, fear need never enter her mind. Price 25c Sold by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

The Baptist State Board of Missions met in Montgomery last Friday and the following delegates from Chilton county were appointed to attend the Baptist convention to be held in Richmond, Va., May 16-20. F. M. Barnes; alternate T. J. Deason, T. U. Crumpton, P. G. Maness.

VANDIVER-SIMS.

On Wednesday, May 1, the marriage of Rev. J. N. Vandiver of Avondale to Miss Mary Gatewood Sims took place at the home of the bride's parents at Fairview, Rev. W. R. Adams of Opelika performing the ceremony. The bride has a host of friends who wish the happy couple all good things in their home at Avondale.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, insomnia. Ayer's Pills assist the Sarsaparilla by keeping the bowels regular. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. Ask gently, all vegetable.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Much Benefited by the Use of Vinol.

Hundreds of old people right here in Clanton need just such a strength maker and body-builder as our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol; and we simply cannot understand why they will continue to drag out a half dead and half alive existence, when we guarantee Vinol will invigorate every organ in the body, stop the natural decline, and make them well, vigorous and strong.

If you want to know how an aged, feeble, discouraged man or woman may be made active, cheerful and vigorous, read this letter:

Mrs. Catherine Therer, of Albany, N. Y., writes: "Six months ago I felt that I was broken down by age, and I was doomed to the weak and feeble condition of old people. The slightest exertion tired me, and I had no strength. My daughter brought me a bottle of Vinol. I soon felt an improvement; I continued its use, and am now well, cheerful, and stronger than I have been for years; in fact, I feel ten years younger.

Vinol is not a stimulant which reacts on the system, but it is a genuine cod liver and iron tonic which in a natural manner makes rich red blood and replaces weakness with strength. We wish every old person in Clanton would try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Upchurch Drug Co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Clanton, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Old Waddy.

The health of our community is good, except whooping cough and mumps. The farmers are getting badly behind with their work, on account of so much rain.

Several of our young people attended the singing at Thorsby and report a nice time.

Dr. McNeill is building some new houses at Mineral Springs, and we understand that he will erect a nice hotel there in the near future.

Messrs. Walter Robinson, Vesker Martin, Nat Smith and Alonzo Robinson visited Union town Saturday night. Look out, Union boys, there will be something doing up there.

Well, we understand that the Governor of Stumps Hill has signed the game law and it is now in force. We are glad that Stumps Hill is trying to keep up with her sister state. TOBIAS.

Beat 11.

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to some stock that have been brought down here. If the owner is afraid the boys will ride his horse he had better keep them nearer home.

The boys of Beat 11 have never stolen any man's horse, neither have killed his cow. They have got stock of their own to ride, if they didn't have they would not at all a pine woods colt to ride for they would be afraid it would fall and break their neck.

We will not bother any man's stock until they bother us, then they may go to Norfolk, Virginia. Hoping this will miss the waste basket I will ring off. ONE OF THE BOYS.

Sardis.

Will you allow me a few words in your Banner about what it takes to make a lady. She should always think before speaking; she should be kind to the poor and needy and be ready to lend a helping hand to the poor; she should have a Christian heart to love everybody as her own heart; she should be true in all she says or thinks; truth and kind words and an honest life will guide everyone to the heavenly home. I appreciated Miss L. A. Milford's peace to the Banner last week on what it takes to make a lady, and also I heard others speak kind words of it. It was a kind piece and if everyone will take that advice they will be a lady and a gentleman. But there are so many that don't care for the truth and kindness of a Christian girl. Truth and love and kindness will carry the day.

Miss Esther Landers is improving from having the measles.

Mrs. Susie Roper was very sick last week, but is better now.

Miss L. A. Milford is visiting relatives at Fairview. So I will close for this time. Many wishes to the Banner and its readers.

The Old Southern Union Singing Convention.

The Old Southern Union Singing Convention met at Samaria on May 5, 1907. It was opened by song, "Thanks be to God," and next was the welcome address by Bro. N. J. Calloway, followed with prayer by Rev. Cox, and next the committee was appointed viz: E. J. Jones, J. C. Allred, R. J. Langston, and the report of the committee was that T. L. Robinson sing 20 minutes, organist Fannye Belle Robinson; J. S. Jones 20 minutes, organist Fannye B. Robinson; R. J. Langston 20 minutes; recess 15 minutes. W. O. Rich 20 minutes, organist Lum Robinson; R. T. Grant 20 minutes, organist Lum Robinson. Adjourned for dinner until 1:30 p.m.

On returning, the committee arranged for W. H. Robinson to sing 20 minutes, organist Lum Robinson; followed by A. L. Robinson 20 minutes, organist Mamie Robinson; H. Calloway 20 minutes, organist Lee Robinson. Recess 15 minutes. Bro. Willoughby 20 minutes, R. R. Robinson 20 minutes; organist Lum Robinson.

Closed by song "Lord, dismiss us." We thank the good ladies of that place for their kindness and for their dinner.

Chamberlains' Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

There is probably no medicine that is relied upon with more confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Letter to Forest Lumber Co.

Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sirs: Not one man in ten knows whether he's wasting money or not, when he paints. It depends on the paint.

With one paint, your job will take ten gallons and cost $50 for paint and labor;

with another 12 and cost $60;
with another 14 and cost 70;
with another 16 and cost 80;
with another 18 and cost 90;
with another 20 and cost 100;
with another 22 and cost 110;

Here's an example. Prof. Irvine, of the Academy, Mercersburg, Pa, painted the floors of his dormitories every year, one year with one paint, next year with the paint of the other dealer there—to divide the business between them—till Devoe came to town.

The job took 90 gallons; takes 60 Devoe. The difference, 30 gallons, $150. He didn't know he was losing $150 a year till he got Devoe.

Another example. When Geo W Brown, Union, S C, painted B F Arthur's house first time it took 30 gallons "cheap" paint; repainted Devoe; 14 gallons.

Yours truly
25 F W DEVOE & CO

Please allow me a small space to say a few words in regard to this community. Health is very good now. Our Sunday school is progressing nicely at Maple Springs under the careful management of Prof. Fonza Vinson.

Farmers are getting behind with their work on account of so much rainy weather.

There will be singing at Mount Piegah Sunday evening; everybody come and let us enjoy ourselves singing praises to God.

Well, I ring off for this time, hoping this will miss the waste basket. I will come again soon.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Upchurch Drug Co. 50c.

CHAOS REIGNS IN GUANTEMALA.

Mexican Ambassador and Secretary Root in Conference

MANY ARRESTS BEING MADE.

Men, Women and Children Held as Prisoners at Guatemala City on Account of the Attempt to Assassinate President Cabrera.

Washington, D. C.—Ambassador Creel held a conference here with state department officials respecting the disturbed conditions of affairs in Guatemala. It appears from the advices the ambassador has received from the City of Mexico that a condition of chaos exists at Guatemala City, following the recent attempt to assassinate President Cabrera.

The Mexican account is that indiscriminate arrests are being made of men, women and children, not only native Guatemalans, but persons of other nationalities, and that these prisoners are being harshly treated. It is understood that protests already have been made by the diplomatic representatives of other nations in Guatemala, and that an attempt will be made to secure joint action by Mexico and the United States to prevent a continuance of this policy of indiscriminate arrests.

In the event that the Mexican legation in Guatemala City is closed and a diplomatic rupture between Mexico and Guatemala follows the refusal of the government of the latter country to extradite Jose Linn, charged with complicity in the assassination of General Barrillas, it is understood that the affairs of the Mexican legation will be placed in charge of the American minister in Guatemala, who will look out for the interests of Mexican citizens in that country.

GIVE ALABAMA BETTER ROADS.

Campaign of Hobson and Tennessee Engineer—Latter's Trip.

Washington, D. C.—After spending several months on the Pacific coast, Samuel C. Lancaster, of Jackson, Tenn., consulting engineer of the office of good roads department of agriculture, has gone to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where he will join Representative Richmond P. Hobson and party and will conduct a three weeks' campaign in his district in the interest of better roads and more intensive and better methods of agriculture.

Later Mr. Lancaster will go to Memphis to attend the drainage and good roads meeting May 15.

Speaking of his trip in the far west, Mr. Lancaster said that Los Angeles county, California, was spending $3,000,000 in building permanent improved good roads. He said that a recent good road law enacted by the legislature of Washington could give that state the best system of improved roads in the United States. This law creates a highway commission and a state highway engineer, under whose directions all roads are built, the state paying one-half the cost. The road tax is paid in cash, and the antiquated system of setting out the road tax has been forever abolished. Provision is made also for working convicts in crushing rock and preparing road materials.

Mr. Lancaster is city engineer of Jackson, and his splendid work in building highways in Madison county has attracted wide attention.

Unique Sentences.

Uniontown, Pa.—Eight boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years, were found guilty of chicken stealing here before Burgess Warman and sentenced to spend eight days in their rooms at home and learn the ten commandments. At the expiration of that time they are to report to the Burgess, who will discharge them upon proof that they have undergone sentence as imposed. Burgess Warman distinguished himself in a similar way last Wednesday, when he sentenced Pat McHugh to spend ten days in his own back yard, leaving him the alternative of going to jail for thirty days. McHugh chose his back yard.

WILL HAVE NO EXHIBIT.

Commissioners Meet and Decide That Time Is Too Short.

Birmingham, Ala.—As a result of a meeting here of the commissioners of the Alabama state exhibit for the Jamestown Exposition it was decided to call off all the plans and have no exhibit. There were present at the meeting Gov. B. B. Comer, George H. Malone, of Dothan, and Gen. Rufus N. Rhoden. These commissioners after discussing the matter thoroughly and conferring with Judge Taylor at Uniontown by long distance phone decided that, taking all things into considerations, it was best to call off the proposed exhibit.

Governor Comer in an interview stated the reasons for the action of the commissioners, saying that the lack of time for the preparation of a creditable exhibit was the principal factor in the decision.

"We were entirely satisfied with the work of the commissioners," said the governor. "They have been loyal and worked hard to prepare this exhibit, but were badly hampered by the lateness of the start toward this enterprise.

"This is a matter of great regret to us, as we hoped to have a good exhibit at Jamestown of the state's resources, and we thought Alabama owed in a large measure to her sister state of Virginia assistance in the great exposition. We were convinced that no exhibit at all was better than an imperfect and unsatisfactory one."

INSURANCE COMPANY PLANS.

Former Governor Jelks Has Raised $150,000.

Birmingham, Ala.—At a meeting held here in the office of Cabaniss & Bowie the plans for the half million dollar insurance company, which is to be headed by former Governor Jelks, were considered.

The statement was made that more than $150,000 had been subscribed to the capital stock. The headquarters of the company will be in Birmingham. The name of the concern has not yet been selected.

Unusual Egg Found.

Eufaula, Ala.—E. D. Corker, of this city, has in his possession an egg that in many respects is unlike anything ever seen in this section. The egg goose in shape and appearance and measures eight inches in circumference and is four inches long. It might properly be termed an egg within an egg, for upon breaking the outer shell, which contained the usual white and yolk, there was found within another but smaller egg encased in a shell equally as brittle and containing the same essentials as the large one. The egg was handed Mr. Corker by S. F. Jenkins, a prominent citizen of Louisville, who is responsible for the statement that he found it among a lot of eggs in his hen house, where only ordinary chickens use and there is not a turkey, goose or larger fowl within a mile of it.

Editor Falls Dead.

Huntsville, Ala.—Charles P. Lane, editor of the Evening Tribune, dropped dead on the street while en route to his dinner Wednesday. Mr. Lane was 53 years of age and is survived by a widow and several children. Mr. Lane has for years been prominent both in politics and journalism. He was the republican candidate for governor four years ago, and was one of the best known editors in Alabama. The deceased was a member of a distinguished Alabama family, and was a brother of the late Hector D. Lane, who filled the office of state commissioner of agriculture at one time.

Wreck Near Selma.

Selma, Ala.—Passenger train No. 12 of the Southern railway from Akron to Selma, and which was due here at 11:05 o'clock Friday morning, was wrecked three miles east of Newberne and did not arrive until 5:45 p. m.

The train was filled with passengers, and that many of them were not killed outright seems miraculous. Every passenger on the train received some slight injury, though no one was seriously hurt.

The wreck was caused by a broken rail. The first and second-class coaches and baggage, mail and express cars were turned over and thrown off the right of way, the engine alone remaining on the track. The rail is believed to have been broken by a westbound freight train which passed the passenger train at Newbern.

Young Lady Is Killed.

Scottsboro, Ala.—Miss Mattie Hunt, formerly a resident of Scottsboro and a popular young lady, was killed at Rock Hill, Fla. Miss Hunt and a young lady friend were out driving, when the horse became unmanageable and ran away, throwing the occupants of the buggy out into a ditch, fatally injuring Miss Hunt, although her friend was not seriously hurt.

Cedar Shipments.

Huntsville, Ala.—Thousands of dollars' worth of cedar is being shipped out of Huntsville every month now, and the industry has grown to large proportions, three companies operating here and employing about 150 men. Forty-two cars, valued at $1,000, were shipped from here in April. Every hill and mountain in this section is covered with a thick growth of cedar, and the industry promises to continue for several years.

MINERS SAVED FROM FLOODED COAL SHAFT

Starving Tellers Rescued After Hundred Hours of Agony.

FOUND BY HEROIC COMRADES

Tell Their Experience—Economized on Food in Lunch Baskets and Kept Only One Lamp Burning—In Exhausted Condition.

Johnstown, Pa.—The seven miners who for five days have been imprisoned in the innermost depths of the flooded Berwind-White coal mine at Foustwell were reached by two heroic rescuers at 10 o'clock in the night of the fifth day. All seven were found alive and well, but suffering terribly from thirst and the darkness.

In the morning when the last of the water had been pumped from the mile of flooded tunnel that blocked their way to safety, they were led to the mouth of the shaft.

The names of the two men who reached the entombed seven will go down in the history of mine heroism as the "bravest of the brave." These men are Stiny Rodon and Charles Ream. After one rescue party had given up in despair they swam fifty feet through the pitch-black tortuous tunnel and dragged themselves upon the ledge where the entombed miners sat. The rescuers were more dead than the men to whom they brought the hope of life.

When, two hours after the first heroic swim, Ream, half conscious and exhausted, staggered back to the head of the shaft to bring news of the rescue, such a roar of joy and welcome went up from the anxious crowd in waiting that the ground trembled and the echoes carried for miles.

Earlier in the day a first attempt at reaching the entombed men had been made by a party of four, headed by John Boiya, brother of Foreman Boiya, one of the seven within the mine. But the water was still too high, and though Boiya, frenzied with grief as he thought of his brother's starvation, had desperately dived in an attempt to swim beyond the high water mark, his companions were forced to pull him back by the rope they had tied around his waist as a precaution, and return. At that time the surface of the flood reached the dome of the narrow shaft in many spots along the mile of winding length between the mouth and the little eminence whereon the seven imprisoned men sat waiting.

The return of this party empty-handed drove the thousands outside half wild with grief and disappointment.

Efforts at pumping were then redoubled. At 10 o'clock the water had so far gone down that it was resolved to make one more attempt to break through to the overcast, where it was believed the unfortunate men were still alive.

Rodon and Ream volunteered for the service. They made a dash through fifty feet of water filled heading, reached the starving men.

All seven were not only alive, but well, though greatly exhausted from their long confinement. They were cheerful, too, despite the danger of mental breakdown. In fact, it was to ward off the phantoms threatening them in the unfathomed gloom beyond the small space lighted by their lamp that they kept up their spirits. The rescuers swam under water for many feet to get to them, and when they arrived in the air chamber where the captives waited for help, they for the moment were in worse plight than the men they had braved all to save. For the rescuers were half drowned by their protracted submersion, whereas the other men were singing with forced gayety when the dramatic reunion under ground occurred.

The entombed miners were supplied with abundance of food for days through the forethought of their leader, Michael Boiya, the contractor in charge of the heading swept by the flood. When the water surged around the seven, mounting from knees to hips and reaching for their throats, Boiya shouted to his companions to save their luncheon baskets. Half consciously they obeyed him. They needed no admonition from him to keep their lights dry. That they did automatically, with the instinct of their kind.

The rescued men are: Michael Boyla, John Howard, John Cones, Stephen Ballard, George and John Meka and Michael Petre.

DIED OF REMORSE.

Edward Linne, of St. Louis, Struck His Mother and Committed Suicide.

St. Louis, Mo.—At the inquest into the death of Edward Linne, twenty-four years old, who committed suicide, it developed that Linne took his life because of remorse in having struck his mother. He had been out of work and his mother chided him for not making further effort to secure employment. In a rage he struck her in the face. Later he returned and weepingly begged forgiveness, which she granted. Then he shot himself.

Suicide From Ill Health.

Captain William H. Thompson, for thirty years in the oyster trade at Baltimore, Md., shot himself dead in that city on account of ill health.

Frost in Tennessee.

The Tennessee State Board of Agriculture reports serious injury to wheat from frosts. Complaints of green bug damage are less numerous with none received outside of the Southwest.

Russia Abolishes Drumhead Courts.

Bills were passed by the Russian Duma regulating the year's military service, abolishing drumhead courts-martial and appropriating $3,000,000 for famine relief.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: Murder.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the above theme, the pastor, Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, took as his text: Exodus 20:13, "Thou shalt not kill." He said:

The extent and force of the admonition to recognize the inalienable right of all men to life is not widely recognized in our day, in view of the professed love of our forefathers and us for God and the Christ. With no circumlocution and no wavering of the voice, Moses speaks out for God a principle that the modern world, as the nations of all ages have done, disregards. To be sure the civilization of to-day is better in general than the manner of life thousands of years ago. We do not kill our neighbors out in the open to gain our food. The settlement of private wrongs by "wild justice" is, in this country at least, limited largely to the mountain whites. No man of enlightenment grants the right of a ruler anywhere to stamp out a human life arbitrarily as of old. Physical disability in a babe to-day merits more our sympathy than slaughter. Gradually we are coming to recognize the rights and privileges of the children who are yet unborn. Vendettas are unpopular, and the mere threat to kill is, very properly, sufficient to put a man under bonds to keep the peace. Nowhere is the murderer safe from the clutches of outraged law. Does he slay his victim here, then whither shall he flee? The minions who upholds the law in Mohammedan Turkey will hound him to the earth to return him to the scene of his fortal sin in the borders of Christian America. Here and there a few far-seeing souls declare that even the State has no business to exact an eye for an eye, a life for a life, and they say that society has no more right to cut short a human career than has that unit of society the individual. Yes, the recognition by the world of the wisdom of this commandment is greater to-day than ever before, but it is not yet what it should be.

To kill a man is to deprive him of life. But the process may be varied and the length of time consumed in stifling the light of life may be greater or less, according to the means employed. "Thou shalt not kill," says the commandment, and instinctively we picture the quarrel, the hot fight, the hand quick to slay. "Thou shalt not kill," and we see the gun, the axe, the poison, the bludgeon. "Thou shalt not kill," and the vision of a sharp, keen conflict, man to man, or of the silent, sudden blow flashes into the mind's view. Yes, each photograph is true to some scene in life. To these the law refers! But is this all? Is it always the axe or the poison or the gun that fells a soul into eternity? Must the murderer be the man with the instrument of immediate death? Are the murders which are the result of overt crime the only killings that take place? I think not. Slow work is not so fast, but it is just as sure. The breaking of a human heart by ill-treatment, either in word or act, is murder, though the papers never hear of it. Constant abuse may end a life, though the body show never a scar.

The man who hounds his family to an early grave with physical abuse is a murderer. The smooth and careless youth who breaks his mother's heart is no less guilty than the man who brains me with a maul. The scurrilous and unscrupulous writers who hold honest men up to obliquy and shatter sensitive souls till the hand of death draws them out into the other life, are guilty of a mortal crime. The man who grinds the men who labor till they welcome death with joy is soiled with blood. The company of respectable and money-eyed men who use their reputable names to float financial schemes and then ruin those who, trusting them, have put their all into their keeping, are guilty of robbery least of all. The record of the starved, the broken-hearted, the insane, the suicides, is but the corollary of their greed. The man who sells his neighbor poison, be that poison arsenic or whisky, is accessory before the fact to a suicide. The employment of children in factory and mining work before their time is almost murder in the first degree.

My friends, anything that tends to destroy or prematurely to curtail human life is a means to murder, and the men who set into motion the forces of unrighteousness that deal and hasten death are criminals in the sight of God, though the law may never touch them. Far be it from me to say that many of the men who commit these indirect murders have any real intention to cause misery or to commit crime. But the truth is that they are none the less culpable. The one thing that is needed is a clear-cut vision of the meaning of the commandment which frames our text. The need is for sharp and unmistakeable definition of what it is to kill. The eyes of men must be opened to their personal responsibility for the outcome of their acts. A new realization of the fullness of the command of Christ must infill every human heart. Moral laziness must give the way to moral clarity of vision. Spiritual indifference must yield the road to spiritual insight. The Christ must come into all men's hearts, not in small measure, but with a fullness that shall leave no room for unrighteousness. We must train our minds to thoughtfulness for others, and not to satisfaction of self. The money in our purses ought to burn our very souls if we see upon it any tinge of blood. The health and happiness of the man who toils, and bends a weary back that we may live in luxury, must be our care. The amelioration and betterment of the life of all the world should be our constant aim. As Christian individuals we should guard the life of every human soul.

As the right of the individual to slay his brother is denied by the commandment, so also implicitly the right of society to take human life is questioned. The murderer is an enemy to society, and for the best welfare of the many it is wisest to keep him under guard. But the principle of the lex talionis, the life exacted for the life destroyed, is unChristian, and in the light of the teachings of Jesus is unwarranted. The State lowers itself and commits real sin when it wreaks the penalty of death upon the modern Cain. Vengeance is the business of the Lord, if indeed there be any such thing. The State has nothing to gain by the sending of any soul to his last rest. The criminal has the right to a death not of the State's making. The principle of capital punishment is as vicious at bottom as is private murder by the individual, and is unwholesome in that it disregards the very law of inalienable right to life that it essays to protect. "Thou shalt not kill," says the State, "for if you do, and we can prove the case against you, we will slay you." The inconsistency of the situation should appeal to everyone, but queerly enough the very disciples of that Christ who said, "Father, forgive," are among the loudest clamorers for the life of the murderer.

But the greatest example of the violation of this commandment is to be found in the actions of the Christian nations of to-day. Theoretically Christian, we are, as segregated peoples, largely pagan. Praising God as individuals and despising, most of us, in our private lives un-Christian conduct and un-Christlike acts, we stand ready as members of a great social body to sustain and to serve measures that are wholly corrupt and corrupting. Professing a love for peacefulness and for the Prince of Peace, we pay without a grumble our military tithes. Indeed, we may often see the spectacle of two mighty peoples, each paying homage to the same God, clutching each at the other's throat, the meanwhile each is asking God to give the enemy defeat. All too often we may see the armies and the navies of a wealthy Christian nation full of power, menacing a weaker sister to collect a money debt. The nations of this day descend to the decision by fisticuffs which all worthy men deny to be manly, or to be of value to decide an issue.

The situation would be ludicrous were it not so lamentable.

Christian men and Christian nations have no communion with disloyalty to the Father. The individual, the church, the peoples have no call to kill. God gave us brains with which to settle our difficulties in sober thoughtfulness. He gave us our hands to help ourselves, not to harm each other. The more money you may possess, the more must you care for the men below and about you. Financiering that makes its chief profits through the exploitation of the man with small means, or through the financial wrecking of the monbyed man, has no place in a Christian economy, for its fruit is all too often death. Many are the victims of unscrupulous Napoleons of finance. The easier you make the task of the toiler in your shop, or mine, or mill, or field, the more do you serve your God. The oftener we settle disputes between individuals or among nations, by the courts of arbitration, the more do we glorify our Lord and manifest our manhood. Immense armaments merely prove national weakness of will and lack of mental poise. Wars often bring victory to those who are in the right, and they should. But no war has ever proven the validity of the case of any victor no matter how well founded the argument of that winning party may have been.

The crushing of little children at men's tasks is a short-sighted policy to score it very little. The system which wrecks and destroys the youth of a land, prepares a heritage of wrecked humanity for the worriment of future generations. Gain at any price is a poor business proposition, and is morally unjustifiable.

My friends, the need of the hour in this matter is for an honest recognition, by individuals and nations, of the force which the words of Jesus Christ add to the command "thou shalt not kill." We need a quickened conscience that shall always counsel for the right. We need a holy manhood that shall insist that no form of murder, be it brutal or refined, shall soil the private or the public record. The call is for Christ men who dare to do good and to be upright, no matter how much the dividends may suffer, no matter how much humanity may remain unappreciative of kindness, charity and love. The call is for men of high and men of low estate who shall ever recognize that war is hell, and that God is honored, not by the smoke and din of battle, but by the exercise of human self-control.

Let us, then, be men, and be sure to keep our hands from blood-guiltiness. Let not the death of our brothers be upon us. Let us live and let live. Let us serve and save. Let us not destroy.

The Gates of Pearl.

In his sermon, "On the Twelve Gates," Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman says, "I am sure that there is some meaning in the fact that the gates are of pearl. Do you know the history of pearls? Humanly speaking, it is the history of suffering. When discovered it is at the risk of the pearl fisher's life. It is said that pearls are formed by the intrusion of some foreign substance between the mantle of the mollusk and its shell. This is a source of irritation, suffering and pain, and a substance is thrown around about that which is intruded to prevent suffering, and thus pearls are formed."

The Preacher Needs Help.

As long as the winning of souls is considered to be the work of one man, he and the believers to whom he ministers must suffer loss. They are kept from the spiritual exercise and activity which is essential to a healthy life. He is robbed of the support which their witness and their prayers could give.—Andrew Murray.

Paying For Sin.

Every sin must be paid for; every sensual indulgence is a harvest, the price of which is so much ruin for the soul.—Robertson.

The Girl Who Tries to Conquer New York.

By MRS. DOMIS DENISON.

"I know of nothing more pathetic," said a woman to me, lately, "than the one face one is sure to find at every boarding house in New York—the face of the girl who has just come to conquer the city. To me such faces are more tragic than an army with banners. Why doesn't she go home?"

Now, why should she go home—the girl who has just come to conquer the city? The women who are at the heads of their professions did not go home, and they are not going to keep their places always. Who will take their places if that army of eager, confident young women at the boarding house tables of New York should suddenly go home?

There came a girl to New York, three years ago, who went to see one of the successful women in her profession.

"My dear young friend," said the successful woman, "go home. I have an average of ten girls a day who come to me as you have come. I know girls of refinement—college-bred and clever—who cannot earn five dollars a week in this town. Go home and stay there."

"But you didn't go home," suggested the girl.

"That was because I didn't know what I was daring," replied the successful woman.

The girl did not go home, however. She stayed, and now she is earning a salary almost equal to that of the successful woman—for New York is indeed a fairy city if one knows a little magic oneself.

To every girl who has come here to make her way I should like to say two things.

First, know yourself: that bit of advice has never yet been equaled.

Second, if it is not your pride, nor your desire, nor your discontent at home, but your sober judgment of your own ability and perseverance that leads you to believe honestly that you can win—then stay.

Given health, and with no pressing call of duty at home, any girl who understands her own personality, and who stays in the belief I have just mentioned, holds her future in her own hands. In her own hands! There, alas, is the rub; for upon the way she juggles the future with her own clever hands everything depends, far more than on the intervention of fate.—Success Magazine.

New York's Extravagant Tax.

It costs New Yorkers $31 a head to be governed. In Philadelphia and in Chicago it costs only $13 a head, and citizens are provided with police, fire, sanitary and other protection common to large cities. In Buffalo the figure is $12; in Washington, Bridgeport, Schenectady and cities of that sort, $11 per capita pays the tax; in Houston, Texas, the charge is under $10; in lively Los Angeles, $7.50; Scranton and Seattle each collect $6.50, and Nashville, Tenn., is at the bottom of the list of progressive cities with a taxation of about $6 per capita, less than one-fifth of New York's rate.

The average city tax throughout the country is probably between $10 and $11 per capita, or almost exactly the amount by which New York has raised its per capita figure in only nine years.—Broadway Magazine.

Fruits by the Roadside.

The province of Hanover, Germany, owns 175,794 fruit trees planted along the sides of 1976 miles of highways. There are pear, cherry, plum and apple trees. Apples are the most numerous, and give, upon the whole, the best returns. The planting of trees began in the early part of the last century. Those which are too old to be of service are being replaced. But a large part of the highways thus utilized as orchards have been constructed since 1870. The gross income from these trees has reached nearly $40,000 in a season. The maintenance costs about half the average product, which is a little over twelve and a half cents per tree.—Youth's Companion.

Of Proved Honesty.

A small town out West had for a long time a chief of police, one Alf Church, noted for his bluntness and honesty. One day a grocer went to him for information about a certain Joe White, who had applied for credit and a book at his store, and the following dialogue ensued:

"Good mornin', Mr. Church."

"Mornin'."

"Do you know Joe White?"

"Yes."

"What kind of a fellow is he?"

"Pretty fair."

"Is he honest?"

"Honest? I should say so. Been arrested twice for stealing and acquitted both times." — Harper's Weekly.

How the Printer Erred.

It was a typographical error that threatened to bring streaks of gray into the locks of the editor of a newly started weekly which purported to chronicle the doings of the smart set of a Western city. In reality, however, it sold out the edition and filled the readers with a desire to see what would develop in the succeeding numbers. The subject of the paragraph was a pink luncheon given by a well-known matron. When the edition was given to the public it was found that the opening lines of general eulogy were followed by the bald statement, "The luncheon was punk."—Lippincott's.

A Woman's Book

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and failing, or other disturbance, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening restorative known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

It is a fact, declares the New York Herald, that when the mind is intensely occupied minor bodily ailments cease to worry us. If the pulpit held the attention as closely as does the stage, there would undoubtedly be less coughing and less drowsiness in church.

The Earl of Seafield holds Great Britain's record as a tree planter with 60,000,000 trees planted on 40,000 acres in Invernesshire.

TEN YEARS OF PAIN.

Unable to Do Even Housework Because of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Emmerich, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from kidney troubles. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused sharp, shooting pains. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were not helping me. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life."

Brought His Knife Along.

Whenever the penurious manager of the large store wanted to sharpen his pencil he would enter the shipping department and borrow a knife from one of the boys. Sometimes the boys did not have their knives with them, but there was one lad, Tommy Breen, who always could be depended upon.

"How is it, Tommy?" asked the manager one day as he whittled his pencil, "that you always have your knife with you, and the other boys haven't?"

Tommy hesitated for a moment, then gathering courage, said:

"The wages I get aren't enough for me to afford more than one pair of pants."—Harper's Weekly.

Just Keep On.

When today's difficulties overshadow yesterday's triumphs and obscure the bright visions of tomorrow's, when plans upset and whole years of effort seem to crystallize into a single hour of concentrated bitterness, when little annoyances eat into the mind very quickly and corrode the power to view things calmly, when the jolts of misfortune threaten to jar loose the judgment from its moorings, remember that in every business, in every career, there are valleys to cross, as well as hills to scale; that every mountain range of hope is broken by chasms of discouragement, through which run torrent streams of despair! To quit in the chasms is to fail. See always in your mind's eye those sunny summits of success! Don't quit in the chasm! Keep on!—System.

Working of Prohibition in Kansas.

The fact that the druggists report more liquor sales to the probate judge during months when the lid is on than when the town is wide open is not a sign that the liquor selling drug stores get the business that ordinarily goes to the joints. The real number of sales made by drug stores is not very materially increased by the closure of the joints. More sales are reported merely because the druggists insist on their customers signing up for what they get. Customers are not allowed to drink their purchases on the premises. If they buy beer the druggist starts the corks and they must take them outside to drink.

In filling out the blanks it is necessary for the signer to state for what purpose he wants the liquor, and if for medicinal purposes, for what disease. In many drug stores the purchasers merely sign their names and the druggist fills in the ailment blank spaces at their convenience. The result is startling. Colds and stomach trouble seem to constitute a majority of the complaints written in. Following is a summary of the ailments given in one book of signed applications for liquor:

Colds, 30; grip, 8; rubbing, 1; bath, 10; rheumatism, 3; stomach trouble, 11; preparing absinthe 1; tonic, 1; paralysis, 2; heart trouble, 3; weakness, 4; nervous prostration, 1; sore throat, 1; liver trouble, 1.—Topeka Capital.

SKIN CURED IN A WEEK

After Suffering Six Months With Disfiguring Red Spots and Pimples—Cleared Away by Cuticura.

"Cuticura Soap and Ointment are the greatest remedies for skin diseases on earth. I have suffered six months from a disease which I cannot describe, but I will tell you the symptoms. My skin was full of red spots and my face was full of red pimples. It made life miserable for me and I was discouraged with everything. I went to several doctors, but it was useless. I resolved to try the Cuticura Remedies, and after using them for about one week I became a new man. The pimples and the red spots have disappeared and they made my skin as soft as velvet. Albert Cashman, Bedford Station, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1905."

The annual fruit crop killer is registered at the Hotel Calamity, declares the Atlanta Constitution.

The Massachusetts announcement that the human soul weighs an ounce must not be misunderstood, warns the Pittsburg Press. Not everybody's soul weighs that. It's just the average. There are heavy-weight souls, middle-weights, light-weights, welters and light and heavy bantams, ice trust magnate souls are all light bantams.

Garfield Tea, Nature's remedy, brings relief from many ailments; it overcomes constipation, regulates the liver and kidneys, purifies the blood and clears the complexion. It is made of Herbs, and is absolutely Pure!

MISS ADELAIDE NICHOLS

PERIODS OF PAIN

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer as severely. Irregularities and pain are positive evidence that something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to serious derangement of the feminine organism.

Thousands of women have found relief from all periodic suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the conditions which cause so much discomfort and robs that period of its terrors. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular functions should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking

Miss Adelaide Nichols of 224 West 22nd Street, New York City, writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"If women who suffer would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound their troubles would be quickly alleviated. I feel greatly indebted for the relief and health which has been brought to me by your inestimable remedy."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints such as Falling and Displacements, and Organic Diseases, Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole feminine system. For the derangements of the Kidneys of either sex Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

Canada's Postal Protest.

Two United States postal officials have been at Ottawa negotiating a new arrangement for second class matter—newspapers and periodicals. Some time ago the Canadian authorities gave notice that the existing arrangement made in 1875 was unsatisfactory. The chief complaint is that the United States is sending ten tons of this class of mail into Canada for every ton returned, and that the present free exchange is one-sided in its benefits.—Canadian Courier.

Recent revelations at Paris, in the consideration of the Baltimore Sun, will no doubt help to discourage the tendency of American heiresses to buy titles with monkeys on the end of them.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drugstore here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

Riderville.

Will write a few lines from this place as it has not appeared for some time.

Mr. Shafter Hood of Plantersville was the guest of Miss Catabee Reynolds Sunday.

We are sorry to say that the measles have about broken up our school at this place.

Glad to say the sickness of this place is some better than it has been for some time.

There will be a commencement at Plantersville the 9th and 10th of May. Lookout, Plantersville folks, all Riderville is coming if we don't slip. Succes to the Banner.

TWO TWINS.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jim son bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Upchurch Drug Co.

Mulberry.

The health of the community is very good at present.

Some of the farmers are almost disheartened on account of rain, others seem to be satisfied; "though some of the Chilton people are satisfied with anything."

I never saw the like of cross-ties everybody seems to be cutting them.

In reading lettters in the Banner, I find that a great many of the boys are fighting the "beloved dispensary" now located at Clanton. It seems to me that there is no use of fighting the dispensary, but, instead, fight the liquor habit. If the liquor habit is destroyed the dispensary will die also, Mr. B. T. I am a young boy, half past eighteen, but I know right from wrong in some instances.

I have been reading my Bible, and I think I have found some scriptures that will convince any drunkard that whiskey is a death-dose to the soul.

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." Prov. 20: 1.

"Be not among winebibbers; among riotous eaters of the flesh; for the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags." Prov. 23: 20. 21.

Read St. Luke. 21: 34. 35, 36. Rom. 13: 12. 13. 14. Gal 5: 21. 22. 23. Jer. 13. 13, 14. Duet. 21: 20, 21. 22. 1 Cor. 5: 11. 12. 13.

I wish everyone of the whiskey lovers would read the above passages of Scripture. If this escapes the waste basket I will come again.

PEA VINES.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is BETTER than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Upchurch Drug Co.

TYNER'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

Many Have Dyspepsia and don't Know It Read Symptoms.

Do you belch up wind? Do you taste your food for an hour or more after eating? Do you see specks or haze before your eyes? Are you pale and haggard? Does your heart flutter? Are you dizzy at times? Do you have pains in side or back? Do you have risings or pimples on the skin? Are you low spirited? Is there a sour taste in your stomach? Is your breath bad? If so you have Dyspepsia, and it is a dangerous condition, don't delay, but take Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy as directed on label. It is made for just such troubles and symptoms. Tyner's Dyspepsia remedy removes acids from the stomach, strengthens weak stomachs, helps digest your food, stops all aches and pains, stops fluttering of the heart, (sometimes called heart disease.) By making the food digest, new blood is made and all pimples disappear. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, sold by druggists, 50c a bottle. Money refunded if it fails to cure. Sold in Clanton by Florence Drug Store; call or write; remedy sent by express.

Heartburn

You know what it is—few people are exempt from frequent "spells" of this distressing complaint.

The appetite becomes impaired, while a severe gnawing or burning sensation is experienced in the upper part of the abdomen.

Heartburn is one of the many ways in which the digestive organism expresses disapproval of ill-treatment—warns you to be careful.

Dr. Caldwell's
(Laxative)

gives instant relief in all cases of heartburn and by toning and strengthening the stomach and bowels, prevents a return of the trouble.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is an invaluable remedy for all trouble arising from the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys, and because of its purity can be used with impunity for both children and grown folks.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S LOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Do it now.

THE DISPENSARY.

Please allow me space in your most valuable paper, as I would like to describe the three different tigers that confront our beloved Chilton county today. First there is the blind tiger where whiskey is made by moonshiners, away back in some peaceful spot, where not half of our young men can find; that is why it is called blind.

The next tiger known to man is the Christian tiger or the Clanton dispensary, one of the worst forms of open eyed tigers, can see everybody and everybody can see it, and strange to me no one is afraid of it. No not even the Christains of Clanton. Neither are the good old grayhaired fathers and mothers of this place called Clanton.

The next and third of them is the open saloon, almost as bad as the socalled Christain dispensary, cloaked by Christain people. Law abiding citizens of our fair land, Chilton county, are you blind? If not, why do you sit with your eyes closed to this most dangerous demon, which is in your town (Clanton). In the first place I will say as to this tiger called blind tiger I am not afraid of him so much for if he is blind he cannot see me and I am sure I will not go and hunt him up, but Oh God! how I am afraid of the opened eyed saloon and dispensary, that can look all around over our fair land and choose our bright-eyed young men and make victims of them and its owner to stand behind the counter and say, young man come in the good tiger will not hurt you.

But, alas, my friends, you will see that the courts of this county will have some of our mother's dearest ones tried before this so-called Christian dispensary is in your town one year. The citizens claim this is to educate our children. Would to God that their children never get an education than to be educated on tainted money. Yes, I mean tainted money, tainted with the red demon of hell. No doubt but what some of the so-called citizens, in the next five years, that voted for this hell's resort, will see their loved ones going down to a drunkard's grave, and some one may say to him my noble boy, why do you not stop this way you are going? And then hear him say well, father voted for the dispensary, and what father does is all O. K. Can father die with these last words ringing in his ears? No. This so-called dispensary is a curse to our fair land and our brave young men.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting study: Make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all these people, only the few who SAVE SOMETHING really MAKE anything at all. Simply earning money isn't making it; what slips through the earner's fingers is finally "made" by somebody else. Don't forget to count yourself in on the list, and if you are not "making" money, begin now to save with us. One dollar will open your bank account.

Lomax.

Health is very good at present.

We have been having some rainy weather for the past two weeks, but we hope to see the beautiful sun shine out bright for us again.

The Misses Mattie and Ola Jackson attended preaching at Bethel last Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Edwards of Mulberry visited our Sunday school last Sunday. It seems as if the older people are not interested in the Sunday school as they should be. Fathers and mothers you should go to Sunday school and teach and instruct your children in the way that leads to heaven.

Misses Gussie Zimmerman and Annie Jones were visitors of Miss Lucy Bullard Saturday evening.

Misses Hattie and Gertie Randall visited our Sunday school last Sunday. Come again, girls, we like to have you with us.

We are sorry to see Miss Lena Waggoner sick again, but we hope she will get well soon.

Say, Pea Vines, come again, your letter was fine. The world needs to be full of boys like you and then we would not have such bad things as the dispensary in our country.

Much success to the Banner and its many readers. Pet.

Fletcher.

Well, we think the farmers are taking the blues, because it is raining so much they are getting in the grass, some of them so deep I don't know whether they will ever get out or not.

The health in this community is very good at present.

Mr. Will Hayes and family visited Mr. C. H. Giles' family Sunday.

Misses Rosie and Ada Minor visited Miss Bertha Roebuck Saturday night.

Miss Georgie Giles visited her brother, C. H. Giles, Sunday.

Mrs. Essie Hosey visited Mrs. Mattie Pool this week.

Mr. Monroe Patrick's family is visiting friends and relatives at this place,

Miss Isabel Minor visited Miss Ada Deason Sunday.

Mr. C. H. Giles is visiting friends and relatives in Autauga.

Blue Eyes.

Providence, Beat 10

Rev. W. Robinson filled his regular appointment Saturday and Sunday and preached an excellent sermon, and we were proud to see so many visitors from other churches.

Our Sabbath school is progressing nicely under the management of our superintendant, R. Robinson; we had a perfect lesson Sunday and we sure were proud.

The farmers are getting along mighty slow since the week's rain.

The health of this community is very good.

We were proud to see Sister L. E. Parrish able to come to church again, since having such a long spell of pneumonia.

Good wishes to the Banner and all of its readers. W. L. B.

Doodle Ridge.

Dear Editor—As I have never seen anything from Doodle Ridge, I will write a few lines about it.

The health of this community is very good. Farmers are planting their cotton over, but corn is growing nicely.

We are having plenty of rain, so much that nearly all the farmers have the blues.

Misses Rosa Ellis, Lena and Willie Walker visited Miss Mabell Williams Sunday and reported a nice time.

There must be something very attractive somewhere on Poverty Ridge with Mr.—. He stops over every Sunday evening.

Messrs. Ed Ellis and Grover Merchant visited Maplesville Saturday night and Sunday.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the careful management of Mr. J. R. McAfee.

Messrs. Sam McGee and Arthur Garner attended the singing at Tabernacle Sunday.

I hear talk of a summer school at Shoults school house this summer, and if there is girls, go right down to work at your studies and don't make too much of the boys. Boys won't do to trust.

With best wishes to the Banner and its many readers I will ring off.

Original Providence.

Hello! Here I come for another chat if you will permit me a little space in your valuable paper.

Health here is good at present.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the careful management of Bro J. A. Lowery and Miss L. B. Lowery, secretary.

Mrs. M. E. Lowery and Mrs. G. W. Martin took dinner with Mr. J. E. Cobb's family Sunday.

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day and we hope to see a large crowd out.

I don't think that old Providence has quite gone dead yet.

Miss L. P. Lowery from Broad street spent the p.m. with Miss C. S. Misskelly.

Miss Lillie Martin took dinner with Miss Lula Lowery Sunday.

Messrs. J. R. Busby and J. H. Martin were in Jemison Saturday.

Say, boys, look out, the wedding bells are getting stylish nowadays. Sunshine.

Men and watches are judged by their works; both have wheels.

My Hair is Scraggly

Do you like it? Then why be contented with it? Have to be? Oh, no! Just put on Ayer's Hair Vigor and have long, thick hair; soft, even hair. But first of all, stop your hair from coming out. Save what you have. Ayer's Hair Vigor will not disappoint you. It feeds the hair-bulbs; makes weak hair strong.

Riderville.

Well, as I haven't seen anything from Mike, I will try and write a few lines. Well, we are glad to know that Mr. Bell's family is improving.

The school at Plantersville has just closed and had the grandest exercises that was ever had at that place. The school was a grand success. I think if the people will keep the teachers that it will be a great help to the little town.

Well, I will say a word about the crops. We have the finest crop of grass I ever saw at this time, but that is the best crop.

I often see a word about the public roads, and I will say this, that we have some section of road in Beat 8 that has not been worked in some time and it is time the overseers were woke up and shown their duty if they cannot see it, and I hope all of them in Beat 8 will see this and those that are not doing their duty will do it. A Voter.

SINGING.

Bro. Miss Lawley will sing in the Christian Harmony note book at Providence in Beat 2 on the fourth Sunday in this month. Come and bring your dinner and old song books.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. CLANTON, ALABAMA.

AFFAIR IS SETTLED.

The Mexican Government Will Not Persist.

Mexico City.—The Guatemalan affair has been settled. Mexico will not persist in her demand for the extradition of Gen. Jose Lima and Col. Onofre Bone, charged with complicity in the assassination of General Barrillas.

Diplomatic relations with not be severed. Senor Gamboa, Mexico's minister to Guatemala, will be sent to Salvador. A Mexican consul will attend to this country's affairs in Guatemala. At the same time Mexico will not give Senor Giron, Guatemalan minister to Mexico, his passports, the idea being to humiliate Guatemala and express Mexico's resentment for Cabrera's conduct during the affairs.

The state department will shortly publish the history of the entire matter with the official correspondence, in this way showing to the world what this government terms the bad faith of Guatemala.

Europeans Leaving.

Paris.—The foreign office has received a dispatch from M. Reginault, minister to Morocco, stating that he has received a dispatch from the commander of the French cruiser, Jeanne D'Arc, according to which Morocco City was in the hands of the Rahma tribe, and all Europeans except Germans had left. The message, however, was not clear, owing to interruptions in transmission and requires confirmation. The dispatch from M. Reginault says also that the British consul left May 9, at which time the French residents were preparing to depart. The French consul at Mogador, he says, has received by special courier a letter from Mulah Hafis, a brother of the sultan, on the situation in Morocco City, couched in most reassuring terms. The dispatch concludes by saying that the agitation at Morocco City was not caused by the occupation of the French troops of Oudja, but by the total absence of local government.

Revolutionary Activity.

London.—There was much excitement and revolutionary activity among the Russian social democrats in the White Chapel district Sunday and a constant coming and going of delegates between the many socialist clubs, but the veil of secrecy as to what was being done was almost impenetrable. Pickets surrounded the headquarters of the Russians, and it was impossible for strangers to enter. The police are keeping a strict watch on all proceedings. The real work of the conference began Monday, and daily meetings will be held for a week. There are differences of opinion as to whether the conferences shall be public or private, but it is proposed to hold at least one public meeting in order to arouse sympathy. There was no formal meeting Sunday, though a continuous discussion was carried on at the club, which was visited by many prominent socialists. Maxim Gorky has arrived here to advise and watch the social democrats.

Cause of Plague.

London.—The plague, which has ravished the native population of India for ten years and caused nearly 1,500 deaths, is caused by a tiny flea called "Puplex cheopis," a parasite on rats. Infected rats carry the plague germ into crowded unsanitary native quarters and villages, and the fleas transfer the infection to human beings. The natives have a saying that "when the rats begin to fall it is time for the people to leave the house." Although a vigorous campaign against the rats have been waged for several years, it has had little apparent result. In the last week of April the number of deaths from plague in India was 75,000. In the year of 1904 the death roll reached the appalling total of 938,010.

Remove Disabilities.

Constantinople.—The removal of the disabilities under which the American missionary institutions in Turkey have heretofore labored has commenced, the porte having issued instructions to repeal certain disadvantageous measures. It is hoped that the embassy officials will in a few days see the conclusion of all the formalities leading to the official recognition of the American establishments on the same basis as the other foreign missions and find the other pending question in process of final solution.

Strike May Be Extended.

New York.—President Patrick Conners, of the Longshoremen's Union, expressed the opinion that the strike against the trans-Atlantic steamship companies would be extended to the Boston and Philadelphia docks if the companies sent their vessels to discharge and load at those ports. This the steamship officials here said they would do if sufficient help could not be procured here.

LESE MAJESTE IN LOVE LETTER

Woman Arrested on Charge of Criticising the Emperor's Polish Policy.

London.—According to the ... correspondent of the Express, Mrs. Wowanke, the wife of a Chicago engineer, has been arrested at her parents' home in Radwanitz, Silesia, on the charge of having committed lese majeste in love letters she wrote ... years ago. Mrs. Wowanke, it is stated, was originally betrothed to a Pole by the name of Strobowski. The girl cancelled the engagement and went to America, where she married Mr. Wowanke.

Recently she returned to visit her parents. Thereupon Strobowski, in order to obtain revenge for his jilting, submitted to the public prosecutor love letters written, it is alleged, by his former sweetheart, in which she attacked the emperor's Polish policy. Her arrest folowed on the eve of her return to Chicago.

Japan Desires Closer Relations.

Constantinople.—The pour parlers by which Japan is seeking to establish diplomatic relations with Turkey and the location of a Japanese ambassador at Constantinople, have encountered a rather serious stumbling block. Japan wishes to be treated on the same footing as the great powers of Europe with respect to the "capitulations," by which Turkey gives foreign powers certain supervision over her internal affairs, including schools, missions, consular courts, etc. The Porte is firmly opposed to conceding this privilege to Japan, as all of the efforts of Turkey within recent years have aimed at the restriction and ultimate abolition of these privileges to foreign powers.

The efforts of Japan to establish diplomatic relations with Turkey date back to the period preceding the Russo-Japanese war, and were renewed later at different intervals. In November last year a fresh attempt was made during the presence in Constantinople of two Japanese staff officers, who were occupied in a tour of studies in Turkey, one of whom subsequently proceeded to Bagdad. These officers were the bearers of a large number of Japanese decorations for Turkish officers. It is stated in official circles that the pour parlers are still going on, although reticence is observed regarding the place where the negotiations are being conducted.

It is obvious that the presence of a Japanese diplomatic representative would naturally tend to strengthen the position of the British ambassador in view of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. This probability might account for the unfavorable attitude which has been hinted at on the part of certain powers.

It is believed that Prince Fushimi, at present on a visit to Europe, will come to Constantinople and use his personal influence to bring about a settlement.

Two Are Killed.

Fort Worth, Tex.—A special from Denison, Tex., says: In a freight wreck on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad at Milford, Tex., Engineer E. J. Bevan and Brakeman Lawrence Foley were crushed to death and Fireman H. S. Gardner fatally hurt. The engine overturned on a bridge, catching members of the crew underneath. Fifteen cars were wrecked. Most of them were empties. J. O. Cunningham, the conductor in charge of the train, was in charge of one of the trains in a head-on collision near Fort Worth in which six men lost their lives. The men killed were residents of this city. Bevan leaves a wife and three children.

Girl Has Leg Crushed.

Talladega, Ala.—Saturday morning Augusta Mattison, a 10-year-old girl had her left leg crushed off below the knee by a Birmingham and Atlantic train. The little girl is the pet of the town, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mattison. The accident occurred at the street crossing, where there was no flagman.

Professor Schofield Goes.

Cambridge, Mass.—Prof. William Henry Schofield, professor of comparative literature at Harvard University, has been chosen visiting professor of the University of Berlin for the academic year of 1907 and 1908. Professor Schofield goes to the German university in exchange for a professor who comes from that institution to Harvard in accordance with a custom established three years ago.

Mistook Sheep for Armed Men.

San Antonio, Tex.—A special from Orizaba, Mex., says the entire Twenty-sixth regiment of infantry and a body guard of rurales were rushed to Santa Rosa, a suburb, in a special train in response to the urgent call of Clemente Raba, a wealthy mill owner, who mistook a flock of sheep on the hillside near his home for a band of armed textile strikers. Raba was placed under arrest and will be dealt with severely.

CLEVELAND MYSTERY SOLVED

Body of Hoenig Child, Thought Kidnaped, Found in Barrel of Refuse.

Cleveland, Ohio. — The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the three-year-old Alexander Hoenig, who it was believed had been kidnaped, was cleared by the discovery of the body of the boy in a large barrel of refuse in the home of his parents. The body was concealed beneath a lot of rubbish. The police believe the child was murdered.

DOLLAR WHEAT AND FIFTEEN-CENT COTTON

Farmers in West and South Will Reap Reward

LARGE YIELD IMPOSSIBLE.

DETERIORATION IN THE CROP AND THE FLOCKING OF THE NEGROES TO THE CITIES ARE SERIOUS FACTORS TO THE FARMERS.

New York.—"Dollar wheat and 15-cent cotton is now the slogan of the speculative public throughout the country. Weather conditions throughout the west and south have worked in favor of the bulls in wheat and cotton. In the south, deterioration in the cotton crop, experts say, makes a large yield next year absolutely out of the question, and no commodity, with the single exception of copper, has felt, or is likely to feel, so continuously the increasing demand for it as cotton.

Cotton duck used in the production of automobile tires is one of the most recent articles manufactured which has added to the consumption of cotton. It is stated that something over 500 bales were used this year in the manufacture of cotton duck for automobile tires.

The prevalent and high prices for wool, silk, flax and other textile fabrics have directed the consumptive demand of society upon cotton as the cheapest available form of cloth. The demand is constant and on the increase both by reason of the growth of population and the new uses made of it in industrial development. On the other hand, the production of the staple is affected both by climate and industrial complications.

The United States has practically a monopoly of the world's cotton production. It is really indebted for this monopoly to the institution of slavery.

One of the most serious factors with which the cotton planter in the south today has to contend is the dissipation of the unskilled labor through the use of which he has been able in the past to produce constantly increasing crops of cotton.

The industrial development of the South, the railroad building, and the magnetism of the great cities for the negro are rapidly decimating the ranks of the negro labor hitherto available for cotton culture, and this is one of the most alarming complaints at present coming from the South.

It remains to be seen how far it will affect next year's production.

Trying to Play Joke.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A dispatch received here discloses how the first news of the wreck at Honda reached the railroad officials. It is said that after the wreck occurred Conductor Jones climbed the nearest pole, and with a telegraph instrument provided for such purposes succeeded in tapping one of the dispatcher's wires. Connected with the San Luis Obisco division office, he told of the wreck. The men at the other end of the line doubted the story, believing some one was playing a prank, but consternation followed when in confirmation of his identity the conductor read a copy of his last order. The news was immediately sent to Santa Barbara and other points.

Declare the Crop Off 10 Per Cent.

Omaha.—A special train filled with a committee of fifty members of the Omaha Grain Exchange, which has been making a tour of investigation of the Nebraskan and Kansas wheat fields have returned. The consensus of opinion follows:

Wheat, especially in the southeastern portion of Nebraska, has suffered about 10 per cent., owing to the influx of green bugs and continued drouth. Sumner county, Kansas, will not make over 40 per cent. Some members declare the entire crop is ruined between Caldwell, Kan., and Wichita, a distance of forty miles. The party agree that the yield of wheat this year will be very light as compared with former years.

The party covered the district of Kansas and Nebraska that has in the past always raised bumper crops, going as far south as the Oklahoma state line.

Has Slept Forty Days.

Kansas City, Mo.—T. C. Webster, 50 years of age, who was taken unconscious from an eastbound train here on April 2 and removed to the city hospital, has slept constantly for the last forty days, and is still asleep. Physicians say he is suffering from acute melancholia. He has been aroused from time to time sufficiently to take nourishment, but at no time has he been thoroughly awake.

Waterspout Does Damage.

Athens, Ala.—This section was visited by a terrific waterspout Sunday, accompanied by considerable hail and a very heavy electrical storm. The farmers, already behind with their crops, have been further delayed by this storm. It was general and reports from the lowlands show much damage. The farmers feel that unless they have a late fall the cotton crop will be very short. Much of it is yet unplanted.

AMERICANS RELEASED.

Were Charged With Complicity in Attempt on Cabrera.

Washington.—The Guatemalan government has released C. I. Tullas, of Little Rock, Ark., and Miss Hall Stamma, of Cincinnati, O., the two Americans arrested in Guatemala City on the charge of alleged complicity in the attempted assassination of President Estrada Cabrera.

Advices to this effect have been received at the state department from Philipp Brown, charge of the American legation at Guatemala City. Apparently the only reason for the arrest of the two Americans was that they had a house not far from the scene of the dynamiting, and when the domicile was searched explosives were found.

The Americans have been in Guatemala a number of years engaged in the timber business and contracting of various kinds. The explosives were used in their business.

It is stated here that the revolutionary spirit is greatly feared, and that the Cabrera government is every day resorting to the use of force of order to uphold its control.

IS IN ATLANTA PRISON.

Millionaire Who So Longed for Jail That He Threatened to Build One.

Atlanta.—Louis A. Gourdian, the man who threatened to build a prison of his own near Joliet, arrived at the Atlanta federal prison to begin his term of four years.

Gourdian, who is a millionaire several times over, was sentenced last June to four and a half years on a charge of violating the postal lottery laws. On July 13 he was released through the efforts of his lawyers, who appealed. He protested against release, and went to New York and Washington, where he begged to be sent back to prison, threatening to build a prison of his own and stay in it. He swore he would give away his fortune to the victims of the lottery scheme, and take all his own family on a ship and drown them.

Gourdian's appeal failed, but he had his wish gratified by going back to prison at Joliet on April 24th of this year. He was transferred to Atlanta.

WHOLE FAMILY HELD.

Result of Murder by a Boy Only Ten Years Old.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—An entire family are being held at the county jail here as the result of the killing of Joe McCormick, aged ten years by David Pendleton, who gives his age as ten, but who appears to be not over six.

The boys were playing with popguns in East Chattanooga, a suburb, when the Pendleton boy, becoming worsted, ran to his home, secured a shotgun and fired into his playmate's abdomen. Mrs. Pendleton, who, with her four children, is being held, is alleged to have told her boy to shoot McCormick. This is denied by the woman, who claims that she was not present when the act was committed.

Although the shooting occurred early in the afternoon, no report of it was made to the authorities until later.

Germans Urge More Ships.

Cologne.—The German Fleet Society, which is holding its national convention here, sent a dispatch to Emperor William saying that the aims of the Fleet Society were to create a strong navy for the Fatherland, "which, in the hands of your majesty, will be the surest guarantee of peace."

Major-General Keim, president of the society, created great amusement by stating that the British Naval League had applied to the German Fleet Society fo rinformation regarding the methods by which the latter had attained such phenomenal growth. General Keim added:

"With our usual amiability we sent them our by-laws and gave them advice and instructions."

Sultan's Victory.

Melilla, Morocco.—It is rumored here that the army of the sultan has won a victory over the forces of the pretender near Marchica. The casualties on both sides are reported to be heavy, and the government troops are said to have captured two hundred prisoners.

Cuban Drouth Broken.

Havana.—Heavy rains have fallen in Havana province, breaking a drouth of many months' duration. Rain has been reported in other sections of the island during the past day or two.

Grand Duke Weds.

Alta.—Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch was married here to Princess Anastasia of Montenegro.

Miss Anderson Is Sponsor.

Anniston.—Miss Jessie Anderson, of this city, has been elected sponsor for Camp Tige Anderson, U. C. V., of Atlanta, and will accompany the veterans to the reunion at Richmond. Miss Anderson is a daughter of the late Gen. "Tige" Anderson, of this city, and the camp for which she will be sponsor is composed largely of General Anderson's brigade.

NO PLACE TO STORE FLOOD OF FREIGHT

Warehouses Already Bursting, More on the Way.

DOCKS PILED WITH BOXES.

Longshoremen and Steamship Company Officials Refuse to Listen to Talk of Arbitration—National Civic Federation Would Play Peacemaker.

New York.—Arbitration is being broached to end the longshoremen's strike, but there is little hope as yet of any negotiations being entered upon by the parties to the controversy. The national civic federation has been sounding the representatives of the steamship companies and the strikers' leaders, but its efforts have been almost negative.

Ralph M. Easley, chairman of the executive committee of the federation explained that that body was not discouraged, but would keep up its efforts.

It was strongly hinted by participants in the meetings of the representatives of the steamship companies, which issued an ultimatum to the strikers, that the strikers could not hold out much longer, because they had no strike fund.

But the strikers present an undaunted front and rely as a last resort upon sympathetic strikes by unions affiliating with theirs.

Meantime the ocean freight business is all but demoralized and the monetary losses are becoming enormous. Railroads, it is reported, are beginning to refuse freight bills to this port and that exporting houses are showing signs of decided uneasiness, inasmuch as they stand liable to have to store and pay for the freight refused by the steamship companies.

The railroads are also in a predicament, as tons of freight, especially of grain, consigned to them for shipment from here, are traveling to New York and the congestion here is already so great that it is a question what shall be done with these incoming goods. European houses are flooding firms here with inquiries about expected shipments.

Some of the steamers sailing on Saturday went out with part of their incoming cargo still in their holds. Others carried great quantities of coal to weigh them down to the sailing line, and still others had nothing more than water ballast. All the steamers had full cabins, as the spring tourist season is at its height.

Rotten Tubes in Warships.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Frank Emmett turned state's evidence Friday in the trial against himself, J. Jay Dunn and Charles L. Close, charged with furnishing defective boiler tubes for United States warships, and made the startling statement that defective tubes had been stamped with the inspector's stamp, procured by forcing a desk where the stamp was kept, were subjected to a water pressure of but fifty pounds, instead of the required 1,000 to the square inch. He said he was told by Dunn and Close to have all the tubes possible, even after they had been rejected by the government inspectors. This, he said, often resulted in tubes being filed and the defects patched up, after which the tubes were again put for inspection. The appearance, he said, was the same as a perfect tube, and no surface defect could be found.

Up From Office Boy.

New York.—Barrett B. Mitchell, who went to work for the Vanderbilt railroad system forty years ago as office boy at $3 per week, has been appointed general freight traffice manager of the entire Vanderbilt lines at a salary of $25,00 annually. His headquarters will be in Chicago.

Curious About War Exhibit.

Norfolk, Va.—The grounds of the Jamestown Exposition were invaded Friday by 500 Japanese sailors from the cruisers Tsukuba and Chitose, now at anchor in Hampton Roads. They made a wild rush for the guns and other implements of war and some of the sailors climbed over the shoulders of their fellows in order to get to the exhibit. The visitors were tendered a reception at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home.

Clashes With Cuban Governor.

Havana, Cuba.—All officers attached to the command of General Barry, military commander in Cuba, who have been engaged in special insular service, have been recalled to Havana. The order is reported to be the result of a clash between General Barry and Governor Magoon, the civil governor of Cuba.

John L. Makes Plea.

Washington.—John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, saw the president by appointment in behalf of John L. Lennon, his nephew, who is serving a sentence at Governor's Island for desertion from the marine corps.

He made an earnest plea to the president to pardon the young man and permit him to serve out his enlistment in the corps. The president has the application under consideration.

INVITED TO VISIT NEW ORLEANS.

Invitation Extended Roosevelt by New Orleans Progressive Union.

New Orleans, La.—Albert Godchaux, president of the New Orleans Progressive Union, has sent an invitation to President Roosevelt asking him to visit New Orleans next October in the event of his attending a deep waterways convention in Memphis at that time. The belief prevails here that the convention will certainly be held at Memphis, and that if it is held the president will probably attend. President Roosevelt has been suggested as director general of the International Exposition to be held here in 1915 to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal, and Mr. Godchaux asked that he take advantage of the opportunity presented by his trip south to come here and express his views on the undertaking.

HEIR BORN TO SPANISH THRONE.

Madrid.—The queen of Spain gave birth to a son Friday morning and heir to the Spanish throne.

This is the first time in several generations that the first child of Spain was a boy.

As soon as the sex of the child was known the waiting populace were notified by a salute of twenty-one guns fired from the palace throne. The child is to be called Alfonso XIV.

King Alfonso in honor of the event decreed the pardon of thousands of prisoners, including eight prisoners who were condemned to suffer the death penalty.

Girl's Salary Raised.

Reinbeck, Ia.—Because Miss Lillian Amath, a teacher in the Voorhees public school, whipped M. Albright, a farmer who sought the righting of an alleged wrong, she was given a raise in salary from $30 to $40 a month and a diamond ring valued at $100 by citizens of the town. Albright, it is said, did not like the treatment accorded his son, and came to the school with the lad to see about it. At the threshold he was stopped by the teacher, who asked him his business, and when he attempted to brush by her she seized a poker standing handy and began using it over his head and shoulders.

Work to Begin on Tunnel.

Cripple Creek, Colo.—The beginning of the work on the long projected Cripple Creek drainage tunnel was celebrated here Saturday by festivities participated in by the most prominent mining and business men of the leading cities and towns in the state. Excursion trains from all parts of Colorado had poured hundreds of visitors into the camp. There is general rejoicing throughout the Cripple Creek district. The tunnel will drain and permit the opening up of virgin territory containing, it is estimated, over $200,000,000 worth of gold ore and will prolong the mining life of Cripple Creek.

Asks for a Change of Venue.

New York.—John B. Stanchfield, representing President Frederick A. Burnham and Auditor George Eldridge, of the Mutual Reserve, jointly indicted for grand larceny and perjury, Friday argued before Justice Dowling for a change of venue on the ground that the prejudice was strong against insurance companies and officials in New York county. Assistant District Attorney Nott opposed the motion, and Justice Dowling reserved decision, postponing the trial of President Burnham to a week from May 13 to give him time to decide the motion.

Miss Booth Tours West.

New York.—Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army forces in America, has left the city for an extended tour in the west. Miss Booth will make addresses in the following cities, in the order named: St. Louis, Kansas City, Des Moines, Peoria, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Jose, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

American Entry Wins in Paris.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Cable advices from Paris state that in an endurance contest of typewriters an American entry, the Monarch Visible, won against all visible writing machines. Only three machines of the winning make were represented in the visible class, as compared with as many as twenty-one of rival candidates.

Negro Pugilist to Wed White Woman.

San Francisco, Cal.—Jack Johnson, a negro heavyweight pugilist, admits he is to marry Miss Lola Tay, a rich Australian white woman. He said he expected the wedding to take place in San Francisco or Los Angeles. Johnson has evidently forgotten the California law forbidding a white person to marry a negro.

Vine Growers Threaten Trouble.

Bezilbrest, France.—A giant demonstration of vine growers was held here Sunday, 120,000 persons from all parts of the south attending and demanding that the government take measures to remedy the distress arising from overproduction of wines and the extensive sales of wines manufactured.

The crisis is similar to that caused by the overproduction of coffee in Brazil, and is growing in intensity.

A WHOLE WEEK'S EVENTS.

To Use Bloodhounds to Chase Dynamiters.

Montgomery.—The dynamiting of street cars is causing the people much uneasiness and the officers much trouble. Notwithstanding there is a reward aggregating over $1,500 for the arrest and conviction of the person who puts dynamite on the tracks it is still being done, and the citizens are afraid to ride on the cars at night. Not only this, the other night Capt. Miles Smith and several police officers had a pistol battle with several unknown persons who were shooting into a car. No one was injured. Now it is proposed to bring bloodhounds to the city to hunt down those guilty of doing these deeds. The officers are doing everything in their power to locate the guilty ones, but so far have been unsuccessful. So far as the union is concerned the strike is still on, but th traction company officials say all their cars are now being operated by non-union men.

Money Made High.

Birmingham, Ala.—The Commercial Club has inaugurated a very strenuous movement for the repeal of the tax imposed on corporations outside the state lending money in Alabama, appeals for the repeal of the tax coming in from all over the state. The tax does away with otherwise cheap money, because it is levied on the amount of business does, and, being charged to the borrower, makes the money come high. Several corporations, including the Equitable Life have withdrawn large loans since the act was adopted in February last. Speakers at the club meeting expressed sincere regret at Governor Comer's action in standing pat, and a committee was named to seek to create such public sentiment as will compel the repeal of the act at the adjourned session of the legislature in July.

Roast for Official.

Anniston, Ala.—Mayor Pro. Tem. E. P. Cooper, councilman from the First ward, roundly scored Recorder James T. Greene at the session of the city council Friday night because of the small fines the latter has imposed on convicted gamblers, terming the recorder's rulings an "absolute farce." Mr. Cooper says the present administration is pledged to suppress gambling in Anniston, and that this can never be done so long as the fines imposed are only $10 and ...s for the first offense, and $11 and costs for the second offense. He referred particularly to a recent case, in which four prominent citizens were arrested and convicted of playing seven-up. Instead of making an object lesson of these gentlemen, said Mr. Cooper, the recorder suspended sentence and promised to refer the matter of fines to the mayor. Mayor Kilby stated in reply to a question from the alderman that he had not been consulted in regard to the matter, and Mr. Cooper stated that the recorder had then broken his word by himself imposing a paltry fine of $10 and costs the next morning. Mr. Cooper asked that his utterance be placed on record by the clerk as a formal protest.

Seeks Balm for Finger.

Anniston, Ala.—Because on January 12, 1907, Fred Sheppard, "an ignorant and inexperienced minor between the age of 9 and 10," applied a match to a stick of dynamite, "or other highly explosive substance," losing a finger and suffering other mental and physical anguish by the resultant explosion, he has entered suit in the circuit court through his father, Jack Sheppard, to recover $5,000 damages from the city of Anniston. The slut is based on the allegation that the "highly explosive substance" was carelessly or negligently left under the house of Veda Thrasher, near the home of Sheppard, where it was secured by the "ignorant and inexperienced minor between the age of 9 and 10" during the absence of the city employe who left it at the home.

Prize Turkey Tale.

Athens, Ala.—L. J. Hively, a planter residing near Athens, is also quite a poultry fancier, and he brings the report to town of a most remarkable occurrence. He set a turkey hen on fifteen eggs, and, being anxious that she should not be molested, placed her in a coop where he could see that nothing annoyed or disturbed her. He kept a close watch on the nest, counting the eggs daily. He had placed fifteen eggs under her, and she hatched off seventeen turkeys, two eggs hatching two turkeys each.

The Mayor Quits.

Yekaterinoslav, Russia.—The mayor of this city, M. Anan, having received a second warning that he has been sentenced to death by the revolutionary organization, has determined to resign.

Damascus is the first city in the Turkish Empire to be lighted with electricity and to have electric street cars.

WORK AT MUSCLE SHOALS.

Congressman Richardson Returns From Inspection.

Huntsville.—Congressman Richardson has returned from Muscle Shoals, where he accompanied the board of army engineers on their trip of inspection made for the purpose of ascertaining if the development of the power of the Tennessee river at that point will interfere with navigation.

The board has completed the preliminaries and has made a brief inspection of the plans of the Muscle Shoals Hydro-Electric Company and the members have returned to their respective stations.

Another meeting will be held in the next few weeks in Chattanooga, and then the plans of the company will be more fully inspected. Judge Richardson has no doubt that the report of the board will be favorable for the development of the immense water power.

Charles H. Baker, agent for the Hydro-Electric Company, is in Huntsville to ascertain the amount of power used in the industries here, with a view of making contracts for transmitting cheaper power from the river at the shoals. He will visit every city and town in the Tennessee valley for the same purpose.

WILLETT'S BIG FEE.

Anniston Lawyer Receives Check for $10,000.

Anniston.—Judge Joseph J. Willett has received a check for $10,000, his fee in the matter of the creditors of the Jenifer Furnace Company, which has been recently adjusted.

This is one of the largest fees received by an Anniston attorney in a number of years.

When he took up the cause of the creditors of the furnace company, among them were some of the foremost firms of this city, the defunct company offered from ten to twenty cents on the dollar. Judge Willett has just succeeded in arranging a settlement of 100 cents on the dollar and the accrued costs and attorney's fees.

Labor Trouble Hangs Over the Decatur.

New Decatur.—Whether the Louisville and Nashville railroad shops in this city, employing about 2,500 skilled mechanics and laborers, are to remain an "open" shops like they have been for a number of years or whether they will become a "closed" shop, recognizing the unions, is a question that will in all probability be determined within the next few days.

The shops in this city and the ones in Louisville, Ky., are the only open shops of the Louisville and Nashville system. For som etime the question of union or no union has been drawing closer and closer towards a climax in New Decatur, and that climax, it seems, has now almost been reached by the discharge of thirty-four machinists from the shops here. "Reduction of forces" is the cause assigned by the railroad officials for the discharge of these men. It is claimed that the railroads all over the country are reducing their forces at this time and that the Louisville and Nashville is not making a greater reduction than any other road. But by many of the men the matter is looked at in quite a different light.

Sunday afternoon a mass meeting was held in the Payne Theatre at 2 o'clock. The house was packed, there being over 1,000 railroad shop men, merchants, professional men and others present. The occasion was a speech by J. D. Buckalew, of Washington, D. C., the third vice-president of the International Association of Machinists. He was introduced by Col. Dick Adams. Mr. Buckalew was sent here by the union to investigate the conditions here and the discharge of the thirty-four machinists. He spoke on the question of organized labor, taking for his subject, "Has the Laboring Man the Right to Be Organized?" He intimated strongly in his speech that the cause of the discharge of the thirty-four machinists was due to their being union men and that there was some probability of a walk-out here, although he did not say that this would be the case.

The question involved here is not one of wages, but the question of an "open" or a "closed" shop. Should the railroad company refuse to make this a closed shop it is difficult to say what the result would be, but the general belief is that it would mean a strike.

League Is Formed.

Goodwater.—At a mass meeting held at the Presbyterian church in Goodwater Anti-Whisky and Anti-Saloon League was organized with the following officers: Rev. I. Windsor, president; M. M. Epps, vice-president; J. C. Carmichael, secretary-treasurer, and John A. Durden, corresponding secretary. The object of the league is to rout whisky from Coosa county, Goodwater especially.

Hepburn Bill Convictions.

Wilmington, N. C.—The Lumberton Cotton Oil and Ginning Company and the Lumberton Oil Company pleaded guilty to the charge of rebating and were fined $5,000 and $10,000 respectively. These are the first cases to enforce the passage of the Hepburn railroad rate bill.

Mr. MIDDLETON AT BOSTON.

From The Montgomery Advertiser.

The Boston Post of the 6th inst., shows that Representative Middleton, from Chilton County, and Joe Manning, Postmaster at Alexander City, have broken forth in the classic city, Shawmut, Avenue Church, where they held forth, is a negro church. Mr. Middleton is not the only Republican in the Alabama Legislature. There is one Mr. Barton of Winston. Joe Manning is not a representative-elect or otherwise, of anything we ever heard of. There is no minister in this city named Wiltz. The following is a full report of their ridiculous performances:

"Ben Tillman and his crowd are flim-flamming the North with the bogy of negro domination in the South," said the Hon. J. O. Middleton, the only Republican member of the Alabama Legislature, yesterday afternoon in an address at the patriotic mass meeting at the Twelfth Baptist Church on Shawmut Avenue.

"I want the self respected men of the North, both black and white," he continued, "to ask Mr. Tillman if it is just as bad to do a thing illegitimately as legitimately, for I doubt if he himself has learned to know the difference. It has come to pass when the Tillman crowd, numbering a few thousand, are conducting a Democracy far more serious than is imaginable, a so-called political slavery, a slavery which denies a man the right of suffrage, a right which 200,000 white and 180,000 colored men are not allowed to exercise."

Mr. Middleton is a very energetic and forceful speaker, speaking with an earnestness which could not be doubted. "There are some bad black men," said Mr. Middleton, "where I come from, but for every one I will find you two white men who are worse. Dr. Wiltz of Montgomery, Ala., has publicly declared from his pulpit that there are over 400 white men in his county who are living a life lower and more debased than any negro.

"I want all to realize the situation in the South, both politically and socially, and am particularly anxious to interest you in the new movement, or crusade, under the leadership of Mr. Manning, against the oligarchy, or Democratic machine, a movement far greater than the civil war, as it concerns both black and white, while the civil war was in the interest of the blacks only. I hereby prophecy that the days of Ben Tillman and his crowd are numbered, for, as it it says in the good book, "As a man sows, so shall he reap"—and great will be Tillman's harvest.

Two young Alabamians, one a republican member of the Alabama legislature, and the other a republican postmaster in an interior town, the editor of a republican weekly, have recently been traveling over the north, making speeches reflecting upon the honesty, the patriotism and the wisdom of the policies of the southern people, those among whom they live, their neighbors and friends and associates. Like most of the birds of prey they befoul their own nests. They have made unwholesome statements about their own people that both may live to regret.

But here is a mild rebuke to these native Alabamians from one who is a republican, and who came to this state in reconstruction days, drifted down here from the north, and has come to appreciate the good qualities and high purposes of the splendid people among whom he lives. Ben deLemos, who is editor of the Outlook, a clean and reputable republican newspaper, says:

"Mr. Joe Manning, postmaster at Alexander City, and Hon. J. O. Middleton, representative from Chilton county, are in Massachusetts on a speaking tour. We came from Massachusetts with the boys in blue to Montgomery forty-two years ago, and forget almost all about it, except we feel in good hands and are here to stay. The south and its people suit us."

"The south and its people suit us," says Ben deLemos, and if any republican editor knows the people of the state Editor deLemos does. He has had his trials and misfortunes, but he has always found, even in the darkest days of reconstruction, friends and sympathizers—those to reach out a helping hand to him when he needed it, regardless of his politics, regardless of sectional feeling or nativity.

"The south and its people suit us!" What a rebuke to southern men, native born, who go about trying to discredit the intelligence and common honesty of their own people to another section of the country.

Manning knows better. He ought to be ashamed of himself. Middleton is young and has time to learn his mistake.—Montgomery Journal.

A heavy storm of rain, accompanied by lightning and thunder, occurred Tuesdad night. A gentleman said Wednesday morning that the bad weather means not more than half a crop.

I went to Calera on 9th and got the following contributions:

Judge S. M. Adams, $1.00; A. Stein, $1.00; Senator W. R. Oliver, $1.00, Total, $3.00.

Out of an incorporated city, with a bank, four or five hotels, brick stores, four saloons and a big railroad center, don't the contribution for this last place jar you?

Then I call attention of all and especially the farmers, to the names of those who have subscribed and more especially to the names of those who have had an opportunity to do so and have made themselves conspicuous by the absence of their names. I am no beggar and all who know me are aware of it, but I do insist that the fund which is being paid in if all would be liberal with this cause and thereby be liberal and just to themselves would receive its value with many fold increase ere long in return. Going back to Calera and in justice to those who did give, they gave quickly and freely and Judge Adams promised to see members of his bank and probably give more, which I believe they will do. I want to say further that Clanton with all its handsome streets, dwellings, brick stores, arc lights, 65 long distance telephones, double turn-outs, etc., is far in the rear compared to its sister, or half sister, (don't guess we could get in on full fellowship) towns. Remember, Clanton, you want others to be liberal and they are liberal with you. See the absence of names of prominent people to these lists. Even Verbena had some who will not help, to both my surprise and regret. Remember Clanton has given $52.50; Mountain Creek, $22.00; Verbena, $81.00.

Now, I ask how much more will each give and what other towns of Chilton county will give? Let each man in Chilton contribute not less than a dollar, and as much more as his condition or station in life will allow. It makes me tired to hear some folks when asked to give, reply "I am not in the cotton business;" another will say "The farmers will not stick together;" still another will condescend to tell a false by saying "I am broke, I have no money," when the fact is they are too devilish short and mean, stingy, to eat enough if they could live without it, and yet I learn that certain persons have said "Gulledge is just doing what he is to bring himself into notice and act the bigot." To this class I want to extend a special invitation to come down and fill up. My cats get more and better three times a day than such as they. It appears from the size of the Verbena list that the good people of Verbena like to see me act the bigot and even act it with me by the free use of their cash. Even the Verbena colored men are bigoted if that is the standard of measure.

Now, without ill will toward anyone and living and working daily for and in the interest of all and thanking those who have already given as well as those who may do so, and especially pitying those who will not, give I ask to be allowed to continue this good work at least for a while longer.

On the 13th I will go to Birmingham for a few days, thence to Selma and other points in West Alabama. On or about the 25th or 26th inst. will leave for Richmond, to attend the Reunion; thence to Jamestown and other small places like Norfolk and Washington, D. C., finally including some large cities, such as Clanton, Cooper and Verbena, and if I can keep my head and not get lost in the last three cities, don't you know I will have a time? Wonder if Judge Deason or some other of the good boys would like to go? What is the matter with B. T. G. going? I was with him once upon a time. Pardon lengthy letter and report.

Yours truly,
F. A. GULLEDGE,
State Financial Agent.

The weather has changed and the people seem to be in better heart, but don't know what to think about cotton, it is dying in this settlement.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the great sermon preached by Brother Martin at Pleasant Grove church Sunday; there was a large crowd to hear him. The Sunday school is very nicely conducted by Bros. McAfee, N. L. Broadhead and Noah Latham. All seem to take great interest in the Sunday school.

I guess the mail carrier is just as glad it has quit raining as the farmers.

We are expecting to hear the whistle blow at Sheppard's mill near here in few more weeks. The bosses of the mill say they would be more than glad if the people would keep their little boys away from the mill on Sunday, anyhow.

Miss Abraham from Centreville enjoyed the past week at Mr. Noah Broadhead's.

The fifth Saturday and Sunday Bro. Martin will preach at Pleasant Grove church to give the church a chance to go to Rehoboth church the second Sunday in June.

With best wishes to the Banner and this community we will ring off. MARD KNOT.

Farmers are at a stand still; the ground is so wet they can't work their corn and they haven't got a stand of cotton; many have planted over; a few of them think they will have to plant the third time if they can get seed.

Mr. Will Thomas is still quite sick.

Miss Ressie Harris is on the sick list again.

We went to the singing convention at Samaria on the first Sunday. They had a fine singing, a splendid dinner and we might have had a nice time if some of the young ladies hadn't fought so shy of us.

There seemed to be some mistaken in Ragpickers Valley in regard to Buster Boy. We suspect that if you would come down you might find him on the creek still enjoying his part of fishing.

There is probably no medicine that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Letter to Rev. S. U. Turnipseed.

Clanton, Ala.

Rev. Sir: We should like to ask your advice on a certain thing done: was it right or wrong? We shall have to state it, including the names.

D F Dreicorn is a painter, in Holyoke, Mass. John J Donohue is an architect, Springfield, near-by.

Donohue was building, at Holyoke, the Holy Family Institute, letting the work by bids, as usual. Dreicorn got the paint job; the paint was to be lead and-oil.

But Dreicorn said to himself: "lead-and-oil isn't half so good as Devoe and it costs more money, what shall I do?" He painted Devoe; and, after the work was done, told Donohue, saying: "if that isn't better than any lead-and oil job, I'll make it so."

Was Dreicorn right or wrong in painting a lead and-oil job Devoe?

You asked how it turned--out. This was six years ago. Now Donohue has another job there, a big addition to the Catholic Hospital; and he doesn't ask bids for the painting, but he says to Dreicorn: "Go ahead Dreicorn and give me as good a job as you did on the Institute. That's the best paint job I ever saw."

The question is "Was Dreicorn right in painting Devoe when he had agreed to paint lead and oil?"

That isn't quite all. Lead-and oil is expected to last three years. If Dreicorn had used lead-and oil, there would have been another job for him or somebody-else three years ago.

Was he right in losing that job for himself or somebody-else three years ago?

The Institute took 200 gallons Devoe and cost $1,000; the paint has worn six years, when Donohue says "it's the best paint job he ever saw." If he had used lead-and oil, it would have cost about $2200 for the two paint jobs (six and three years ago) and be hungry for pain again.

Dreicorn lost $1200 of business and took the risk of making Donohue mad and losing his business forever: all to save th Holy Family Institute $1200 besides the fuss of a paint job.

Was Dreicorn right or wrong as a painter; and which would you pain your church, lead-and-oil or Devoe by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

CATS AND DOGS.

Cats Independent—Dogs Dependent.

It happened not long ago to an unfortunate man, who had separated a cat and dog which were fighting, to pay for his interference with his life. The cat, so we read, scratched him so violently that he died from blood poisoning. The incident is only worth mentioning because of the light which it throws on the respective characteristics of the animals most frequently and most closely associated with man. Why was it reserved to the cat in this case to resent human interposition? It is plain that she did not acknowledge any right on the part of her ordinary independence of human control. Man, as Bacon shrewdly observed, is a god to his dog, but a cat is a practical atheist, and as she does not ask for her master's protection, so she renders him no submission. How pathetically does the canine reverence for man display itself in the behavior of a dog who finds himself in the custody of a railway official whom he has never seen, and whom he would not hesitate to bite if his master was at hand. But alone he feels himself helpless, and so he fawns upon his temporary tyrant, wags his tail and tries every artifice to coax him into good humor. Cats will often try to ingratiate themselves with strangers, but with them it is not a serious business. Just a smile, and a "poor puss," is all that is obtained or looked for.—London Globe.

CHANGE IN FOOD

Works Wonders in Health.

It is worth knowing that a change in food can cure dyspepsia. "I deem it my duty to let you know how Grape-Nuts food has cured me of indigestion.

"I had been troubled with it for years, until last year my doctor recommended Grape-Nuts food to be used every morning. I followed instructions and now I am entirely well.

"The whole family like Grape-Nuts, we use four packages a week. You are welcome to use this testimonial as you see fit."

The reason this lady was helped by the use of Grape-Nuts food, is that it is predigested by natural processes and therefore does not tax the stomach as the food she had been using; it also contains the elements required for building up the nervous system. If that part of the human body is in perfect working order, there can be no dyspepsia, for nervous energy represents the steam that drives the engine.

When the nervous system is run down, the machinery of the body works badly. Grape-Nuts food can be used by small children as well as adults. It is perfectly cooked and ready for instant use.

Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Two Ways of Pruning Grapevines.

In all grape growing localities the Kniffen system is the best and cheapest for strong growing varieties, such as Niagara. It is best because it requires less care and work, and it is cheap. It saves money in time and labor. Only two wires, instead of three or four, are required for the trellis. Slow growing varieties, such as Delaware, are better trained on the fan system, as they must be renewed from a point nearer the ground. When following the fan system the pruner can always cut to good wood; when following a more definite system, as the Kniffen, sometimes he must cut at a loss.

The fan system is briefly as follows: When planting, cut the vine back to two buds; next spring, again cut back to two buds; second spring after planting, if vine is strong, leave one cane about two or three feet long, and tie up to trellis wires. When growth on this is about six inches long, rub off all sprouts below the point on the upright where it is desired to start the fan. Third spring, prune back to six or eight buds the strongest canes that arise from near a central point below the first wire; tie about three of these fan-shaped to the wires and remove all the rest. The following seasons, renew the wood from as near the trunk as possible and increase the number of arms to five or more if growth is strong.

A vine trained by the Kniffen system consists of an upright trunk or standard and four arms. To produce this result the young vine is treated similar to the fan system for two seasons. The second spring after planting, select the strongest cane and tie it straight and firmly to the top wire, cutting everything else away. The third spring, select four arms, two on opposite sides of the standard near the lower wire and two similarly placed near the upper wire, cut these back to six or eight buds according to the length of the points on the cane, tie them to the wires, and remove all other canes. The fourth and subsequent years renew the arms with wood that arises from a point as near to the central standard as possible.—Canadian Horticulturist.

Sweet Potato Hotbed.

The most convenient size for a sweet potato hotbed is one that will hold three barrels of potato seed. Take for the back a board sixteen feet long and one foot wide and for the front a board the same length, eight inches wide, the end boards twenty-six inches long, to come even with the front and back boards, nailed to a solid stake at each corner, also a stake in the middle of each sixteen-foot board. Then take a spade and dig the dirt out so as to make the bed twenty inches deep from the top of frame boards; the same all over the bed. Then fill in with fresh stable manure and tramp down to ten inches in thickness. The manure should have considerable bedding in it and stay heaped up at least twenty-four hours before it is packed in the pit, when it should be shaken well and thoroughly mixed, as some of the manure will heat sooner than other parts and will cause an uneven temperature and consequent uneven sprouting.

After the manure has been placed and well tramped so that it slopes to the south, put in four inches of loose earth evenly all over the bed. Let this stay until the dirt becomes warm, then place the potatoes on so as not to touch each other and then cover two inches deep with fine loose earth. If you find in a few days that your bed is too hot, make a sharp stick and run it to the bottom of the bed and leave several holes through the centre and the heat will soon escape; then fill the holes again. As for sprinkling or wetting them, it is not required, nor should they be rained on until plants are well up; the steam from the manure furnishes all moisture that is needed. The bed should be kept covered until sprouts are well up, but the top may be removed to give the plants air and light when the temperature is not so cold as to injure the plants.—The Epitomist.

Raising Carrots.

It has always seemed strange to the writer that carrots were not more universally grown, for not only are they remunerative commercially, but they are most excellent for feeding live stock, especially horses. It is a well-known fact that carrots when fed to horses improve their wind greatly.

The gross profit from an acre of well-grown carrots should be about $300. A light loam or sandy soil suits them best, with but a moderate application of manure. For general cultivation, the writer prefers the Rubicon, Danvers and Long Orange, for if grown in excess of the market, they can be profitably fed to the live stock.

It requires from three to four pounds of seed per acre, depending on the distance between the rows. The plants should be from three to six inches apart in the rows, and the rows wide enough apart for a horse cultivator to be used. A good bit of hand thinning can be saved by going through the rows first with a hoe and cutting out a hoe's width, leaving about three or four plants between the first hoe's width and the next. Carrots are free from insect or other enemies, as a rule, and demand no extra attention.

There is no farm-raised animal that doesn't relish carrots, from the fowls up. The writer still believes, at the risk of being called old fashioned, that we would have healthier and more contented live stock if we fed more roots and less mill feed; also that our farms would pay better if we didn't put all our eggs in one basket. For example, if a man goes in for dairying exclusively and is by chance unfortunate enough to have to kill all his herd on account of tuberculosis, he faces temporary embarrassment, to say the least; whereas, if he had fewer cows, and other crops to depend on, such as beets, carrots, strawberries, potatoes, etc., he would feel the loss so much less.—A Farmer, in the Country Gentleman.

A Real Rosery.

To most of us a rosery means just a plot of ground set apart exclusively for roses. That, however, is only like the hasty assumptions of the ordinary person. A rosery in its real sense is something more than this. It must contain a specimen of every known species and variety. At present there are believed to be only three in Europe which come up to this standard. Two of these are in Germany, and the third is at L'Hay, near Paris. France, however, is desirous of "getting even" with Germany in this matter, and a fourth rosery has just been laid down at Bagatelle, in the heart of the Bois de Boulogne. It will contain 10,000 plants, and will include all the 1200 types at present known, with an open space in the centre to receive all new varieties of merit as they appear. Parisians have to thank M. Forestier, the curator, for this charming embellishment of the Bois.—London Globe.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: The Son of God.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme "The Son of God," the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, pastor took as his text 14 Matt. 33, "Of a truth Thou art the Son of God." He said:

In this expression of the faith of the boatmen in the Christ as the Son of God we have the consensus of a host of men and women who, for nineteen centuries, have followed the gentle Galilean. The disciples proclaimed their faith in the reality of the Sonship of Jesus after a visible, external, objective exhibition of His power. In ages past, however, many a song-sung martyr and many an unknown saint has held firm to the same faith, seeing only with the spiritual eye. And to-day every sincere follower of our Lord acknowledges, with a joy that passes all human understanding, "of a truth Thou art the Son of God." From the fullness of a rich and enriching spiritual experience do we, here and now, reiterate our belief in the supreme divine Sonship of our Savior and our Lord.

Jesus of Nazareth—the place from which nothing good was held to come—the Messiah of the chosen people of God, proclaimed by angels, adored by the wisdom of the East; youthful confounder of priests and prelates. He it is of whom the apostle writes. Jesus—the man of parables and of miracles; Jesus, the expounder of those wonderfully well-put doctrines contained in the Sermon on the Mount; Jesus the Christ, the King of Israel, the Savior of the world. He is the divine human of whom the disciples said: "Of a truth Thou art the Son of God."

Let us look for a moment into the claims of this Man, this despised Nazarene, this carpenter's son, to the title and to the office of the Son of God. Has He any claim that we are bound to respect? Is there any reason why we are called upon to serve Him, shall we believe upon Him, or shall we reject Him. What, in the last analysis, is the proof that is final that Jesus is divine.

If you will glance through those pages of the Old Testament which give the history of the life and of the hopes of the ancient Jewish people, you will find that, running through them all, the coming of a Messiah—that is to say, a Savior—is prophesied. To His people God has promised a King who shall give to them eternal power and an endless peace. Step by step, incident by incident, is unfolded in the old prophetic books the coming of a Christ.

Thus we see that the Man who is to be the Son of God, the Messiah of the Jews, the King of Israel must be a man who measures to the standards of the God-given prophecies of the centuries.

So much for the historic demands upon the claims of the Messiah. No less imperative, however, is the need that the Man who is to be the Son of God and the Savior of the race shall be such a revelation of God as our hearts demand. You and I cannot trust in the Son of God save as He meets the requirements of our reasoning faculties and highest sense. The Christ must not only be a God-declared Messiah, but also a self-proven incarnation of Almighty God. He must not only bear divine letters of recommendation to us, but also convince us by a living divinity that He is what He claims to be. And above all the truths of His messages must be proven practical forces in our own lives ere we can believe.

Jesus is the Son of God, the Savior of the world, the Messiah of the Jews, the King of Israel. As we have seen the man who is these must measure true to the standards of the God-given prophecies of the centuries. Jesus so measures. Throughout the whole of the New Testament the revelation of Christ as the fulfillment of prophecy is set forth. He is the Messiah. He is the King whom God has promised to His people Israel. He is the Son of David for whom the holy men of many generations yearned. Christ satisfies all the demands of the Old Testament prophetic writers. From that standpoint He is the Son of God and Savior. But whether or no there had been given prophecies aforetime, there are grander and more glorious reasons for faith in Christ as the Son of God. Christ is such a revelation of God as our hearts demand. For as we read the story of His life we see manifold instances of His divine power, purity and perfectness. Time and again we see His godhood and divinity in His workings and His words. He is the fullness of grace and truth. Yes, my friends, in His miracles and His messages, in His acts of love and His conscience-touching truths, this man of sorrows and of griefs reveals His Sonship divine. The power of God shows through His physical miracles, the love of the Father shines through the spiritual transformations that He wrought. From what other lips do we hear such deep, such soul-satisfying promises and commands. Nowhere in the history of all the world has there been another such a man. Mohamet, Confucius, Buddha—the ethical and philosophical teachers of all peoples and of every age—are incomparable with that personal, sanctifying Savior of the Christian soul, whose name is Light and Love.

But Jesus not only meets demands as a revelator, He is also assured of our confidence through the fact that His words and His life are in harmony. Jesus not only revealed by word the sort of God for whom instinctively we yearn, but He also exemplified in His life the fullness of truth which He preached. Telling of the love that crowns the character of God He was lovely. Preaching the essential spiritual nature of the Father He was Himself spiritually controlled. Telling men that the truth of God and Jehovah Himself were to be spiritually apprehended and discerned Jesus walked and talked with God. Preaching the Kingdom of Heaven as love, peace, joy, purity of life, the Savior went about loving men, seeking and pursuing peace, bringing joy into saddened souls, leading hardened hearts into purity of life. Believing that the cultivation of godliness is the business of mankind Jesus was holy, upright, godly Himself. And it is because He not only preached truth unto life eternal but lived also the life that shall gain and keep the crown of rejoicing that we hail Him Lord.

History makes Jesus the Son of God. His clear-cut, reasonable revelation of the character of God by words so declares Him; His consistent practical revelation of divinity in His daily life marks Him as God's Son. And yet it is not until we have taken His truth into our hearts, and proven the richness and practicability of His theories in our own lives that we can yield to Him the adoration that is due Him. The application by a normal man to his own life in true fashion of the truths of Jesus Christ will prove them to be mighty unto upliftment and enlightenment and practical principles that shall make for good when practically used in life. The truth of Christ will be found so full of divine inspiration and revelation, and the life of the man who revealed it will then be found to be so godly that the human heart will hail the great revealer Son of God. Jesus Christ cannot be understood save by those who have entered into that manner of spiritual life that shall open their eyes unto the divine wonders of His life. No man can enter into the fullness of the truths revealed in the messages of the Master save as he stands ready to be born again and move ahead in the spiritual life. The disciples did not glory in the divine Sonship of Jesus until they had had their eyes opened in part to the spiritual mysteries which underlay the objective miracles that Jesus wrought. We know how slow they were to see the depth and the application of His principles as He preached to them the truth. And yet with them as with us the secret of their faith in the Master lay in the fact that there was no discord between the truth that He preached and the life that He lived. They waited the long-promised Messiah from God who should deliver Israel; they gave Jesus a hearing as a self-styled and heaven-proclaimed Christ; they heard the music of heavenly truth in all He said, and above all they marked the fact that He not only talked divinely well, but lived even as God would live. And so they followed Him. But they were not able to have confidence in Him that should enable them to bear witness of His divine power until they had tried for themselves the sort of life He lived and applied for themselves to their own lives the eternal principles that He propounded and found them practical.

Men say to me, "I do not believe Jesus was the Son of God," "I cannot accept Him as the incarnation of the Father." And my first question is whether or no they are fully competent to judge. Are they in possession of such spiritual experience as will enable them to pass good judgment upon the case in hand? Many a man who has no experience in the Christ life will without a blush reject all the truths so dear to Christian hearts. If I as a minister presumed to pass expert judgment upon astronomical truth, having never even seen or marked the coursings of the stars or gained experimental knowledge of the wonders of the heaven above us, you would hoot me from this church. Yet many a man with no Christian experience at all will pass final and irrevocable judgment upon Jesus Christ without so much as a shred of personal testimony that could be worthy of notice.

Jesus is the Son of God. And the only way you can come to know that is through the spiritual, personal experience of the fact. Jesus is the Savior of our souls from sin and the only means to a convincing knowledge of this truth is through the entrance of the saving truth of Jesus Christ into your life. Jesus revealing the truth, you testing, trying, proving its reliability and reasonableness in your own personal life.

What is Worth Coveting.

It requires a well kept life to do the will of God, and even a better kept life to will to do His will. To be willing is a rarer grace than to be doing the will of God. For he who is willing may sometimes have nothing to do, and must only be willing to wait; and it is easier far to be doing God's will than to be willing to have nothing to do—it is easier far to be working for Christ than it is to be willing to cease. No, there is nothing rarer in the world to-day than the truly willing soul, and there is nothing more worth coveting than the will to will God's will. There is no grander possession for any Christian life than the transparently simple mechanism of a sincerely obeying heart.—Professor Drummond.

True Prayer is a Great Achievement.

Believe me, to pray with all your heart and strength, with the reason and the will, to believe vividly that God will listen to your voice through Christ and verily do the thing He pleaseth thereupon—that is the last, the greatest achievement of the Christian's warfare on earth. Teach us to pray, O Lord!—Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

Character Alone Endures.

Nothing is eternal but that which is done for God and for others. That which is done for self dies. Perhaps it is not wrong, but it perishes. You say it is pleasure—well, enjoy it. But joyous recollection is no longer joy. That which ends in self is mortal. That alone which goes out of self into God lasts forever.—Frederick W. Robertson.

Be Appreciative.

Seek to cultivate a buoyant, joyous sense of the crowded kindnesses of God in your daily life.—Alexander MacLaren.

A Poor Reward.

The Age Limit.

President McCrea of the Pennsylvania Railroad has acted wisely and commendably in raising the age limit at which men may enter the employ of his company from 35 to 40 years. There was never a more senseless notion than that which would limit the age of efficient service to 60 or even 65. Many of the strongest men in public and business life are over 60, and some of them are beyond 70. Farragut was 60 at the beginning of the Civil War, and Oyama was over 63 at the outbreak of the war between Japan and Russia. Haydn wrote his oratorio, "The Creation," after he was 67, Goethe finished his "Faust" at 82 and Humboldt his "Cosmos" at 76. Among grand old men in the annals of American statesmanship it is sufficient to mention the names of George F. Hoar, John Quincy Adams and Thaddeus Stevens. Henry Ward Beecher never preached better than in the last year of his life. J. Pierpont Morgan and H. H. Rogers, both over 60, do not yet begin to show signs of senility, and Mark Twain is still "cutting up," though past 70.—Leslie's Weekly.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that has any such professional endorsement—world more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

One of the unexpected results of anti-railroad legislation, to the Philadelphia Record, is the promition of honest politics.

In 1812 people died of the plague at Constantinople at the rate of over 11,000 a week. In all, 144,000 perished.

Chairs of Celtic.

It is greatly to be regretted that America should have done so little either in the way of original study and research in connection with the early Celtic literature, or in the way of popularizing and familiarizing that literature, and it is much to be desired that wherever possible chairs of Celtic should be established in our leading universities. Moreover, in addition to the scholar's work which is especially designed for students, there must ultimately be done the additional work which puts the results of the scholarship at the disposal of the average layman. This has largely been done for the Norse sagas. William Morris has translated the "Heimskringla" into language which, while not exactly English, can nevertheless be understood without difficulty—which is more than can be said for his translation of "Beowulf"—and which has a real, though affectedly archaic, beauty. Dasent has translated the "Younger Edda," the "Njala Saga," and the "Saga of Gisli the Outlaw." It is pleasant for Americans to feel that it was Longfellow who, in his "Saga of King Olaf," rendered one of the most striking of the old Norse tales into a great poem.—From Theodore Roosevelt's "The Ancient Irish Sagas" in the Century.

A Floating Distillery.

A resourceful distiller was the Connaught man who prepared his mash—as he might legally do—on shore, placed it on board a hooker fitted up as a distillery, and then sailed out on the pathless Atlantic while the whiskey making was in progress. Then he landed with the liquor.

After a long hunt a force of police in curraghs, or canvas canoes, at length laid the marine distiller aboard and called upon him to surrender. The answer was a shout of defiance and a brandishing of oars which the crew of potheen makers threatened to run through the frail skins of the curraghs. Only when the police officer declared that he would not hesitate to shoot did the outlaws surrender at discretion.

Death and Sleep.

Sleep is an instinctive need for rest; natural death in like manner is the manifestation of an instinctive want, and the instinct of death is often seen in very old people, who die as easily and quietly as children fall asleep.—Hospital.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the appoval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

BABY'S ECZEMA GREW WORSE.

Hospitals and Doctors Could Not Relieve Disease—Cuticura Remedies a Speedy, Permanent Cure.

"Eczema appeared when our baby was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different every time, but nothing brought relief. At last, one of our friends recommended to us Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is six months old and is quite cured. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. C. F. Kare, 343 East 65th Street, New York, March 20, 1906."

A Thought for the Week.

There is no beautifier of complexion, or form, or behavior, like the wish to scatter joy and not pain around us. 'Tis good to give a stranger a meal, or a night's lodging. 'Tis better to be hospitable to his good meaning and thought, and give courage to a companion. STOMACH ACHE

You have more or less trouble with your stomach, your bowels and your liver—everybody does. And when these delicate and easily-disordered organs do get out of order, they are the worst things in the world to you. If you took the right kind of care of them, you wouldn't suffer, but you don't.

The only way you can correct the trouble you do have and prevent these parts from getting out of order is to use

Dr. Caldwell's
(Laxative)
Syrup Pepsin

Everybody knows that PEPSIN is good for the stomach, but in combination with certain plant drugs by DR. CALDWELL'S formula, its natural value is highly increased.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is the best thing in the world for correcting and curing all forms of stomach trouble—you'll say so when you try it.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes at all druggists, and your money will be refunded if it fails to benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail only, your free booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Mail your postal today.

Sup'ts Plowing will holds forth and the farmers are not yet done planting their crops

This is good weather to fish for there is plenty of water and some of our people seem to be making use of it

The school closed here Thursday night with a concert There was a immense crowd present at the closing exercises, and for a period of three hours the people were entertained with recitations and dialogues The pupils did honor to themselves and the preparation of the program, painstaking and careful training that were exhibited by the pupils in rendering their recitations and dialogues certainly reflect great credit upon Prof Rasco and his assistant, Miss Pitts.

Prof. Rasco opened his special term for teachers Monday with a good number in attendance and more coming in. All teachers who intend to take the state examination this summer would do well to attend this special term for teachers. Prof Rasco is a teacher of ability and he knows how to instruct teachers so that they will be able to impart their knowledge to others.

Miss Mattie Pitts left for her home Saturday. We regretted to see her leave us She has made many friends in Jemison.

We regret that Mr. Jones, our photographer, is still ill. He is reported to be in a serious condition. Paralysis is the trouble.

Our hustling and accomodating merchant, J. W. F Garner, is very sick with pneumonia. We wish his speedy recovery.

Postmaster Collum is still in disposed.

Quite a number of our people attended the singing down at Thorsby Sunday. They report a large crowd and a real nice time.

We are glad to welcome back to Jemison Mr W T. Hall who has been spending some time in New Mexico and Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A TRIP TO PICKENS COUNTY

Editor Banner—I am a citizen of Chilton county, live in Maplesville, but am now in Gordo, Pickens county, Ala., visiting Mr. J. T. Martin and wife, my son-in-law and daughter, whom many of the citizens of Chilton know, as Mr. Martin was raised in Chilton and taught several schools at different places over the county.

I left Maplesville Tuesday at twelve o'clock on the M. & O. and arrived here about three, having traveled eighty miles. I met with clever treatment from the conductor and his assistants on my trip. As the part of the road over which I came runs mostly through a timbered and mining district, I saw but few farms, but in what few I saw, I noted the backwardness of the crops and the scarcity of stands. In coming on one doesn't see but little of the towns along the route, as the railroad mostly runs on one side of nearly all of them.

But I must say that I was wonderfully surprised to find Gordo situated so nicely and its citizens so prosperous and clever. It so much resembles Clanton that I could not help but note the contrast. It is larger too, than I expected to find. (Now I am not employed to boost Gordo.) But as to its size, I will say that there are about twenty retail stores, one wholesale and retail, two drug stores, three sawmills, one large planing mill going up, a furniture factory, a canning factory, a fertilizer factory, undertakers establishment and furniture store, a nice little bank, three churches, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian; a free city school which employs five teachers and an enrollment of over three hundred pupils and (if you please) two saloons. The people here do not seem to be in much hurry, but one can see they, all the same, they are turning over the dollars, one also note that the town is laid off in streets and lots, showing that its citizens are looking ahead for growth permanency. One sees too, that there are plenty of peaches on the trees to make plenty of that fruit, if nothing happens to them.

Butter and eggs are cheap, the former 15¢ per pound and the latter 10¢ per dozen. More about eggs, I read today in the Gordo Messenger, a weekly newspaper published in this town that Messrs. Windham & Mayfield of this place, who buy and ship eggs from here, that since Jan. 1st they have shipped eleven thousand dozen, (139,680) eggs. The Messenger also states that this amount was over and above what the town consumes.

Now, after I leave here, I shall go on to Birmingham and perhaps to Huntsville, and if you appreciate this enough to print it as reading matter for your subscribers, and will send me a copy of the paper containing it to Gordo, Ala., I may try you with another before I return, as I shall be gone about two months. In conclusion, success to the Banner and its many readers.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the management of Rev. Lindsey Smith.

Several of the young people visited Union Point Sunday and report a nice time.

Mr. Burus Goodgame was a visitor in our community Sunday and seemed to be all smiles. Could you guess why? Come again, Burns, we will be glad to have you.

Mr. Lindsey Thompson was a pleasant visitor Sunday.

Miss Mollie Belle Traywick is all smiles nowadays. You can guess why. Success to the Banner and its many readers. GUESS WHO.

TYNER'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.
Many Have Dyspepsia and don't Know It Read Symptoms.

Do you belch up wind? Do you taste your food for an hour or more after eating? Do you see specks or haze before your eyes? Are you pale and haggard? Does your heart flutter? Are you dizzy at times? Do you have pains in side or back? Do you have risings or pimples on the skin? Are you low spirited? Is there a sour taste in your stomach? Is your breath bad? If so you have Dyspepsia, and it is a dangerous condition, don't delay, but take Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy as directed on label. It is made for just such troubles and symptoms. Tyner's Dyspepsia remedy removes acids from the stomach, strengthens weak stomachs, helps digest your food, stops all aches and pains, stops fluttering of the heart, (sometimes called heart disease.) By making the food digest, new blood is made and all pimples disappear. Tyner's Dyspepsia Remedy, sold by druggists, 50c a bottle. Money refunded if it fails to cure Sold in Clanton by Florence Drug Store; call or write; remedy sent by express.

THE PENITENTIARY.

Christian people of Chilton county, let me say if there are any of you, for God's sake do not send your loving children to be educated on this tainted money. I am sure my child will not be reared up in this world and educated on this good stuff. Yes, so good that the penitentiary is full of its victims, also the asylum and the potters' field is also crowded with victims caused by this red demon. Mothers and loving wives have suffered ten thousands deaths on account of whiskey. It is the patronage of the "Christian dispensary" far more than it is the low wages that spells squalor in homes, heartbreaks for wives, and every woe for the helpless and dependent. Hence comes rage, hence comes lesolation, hence comes every form of brutality, vice and crime that disgrace humanity. Few wives are beaten, few homes are turned into hells because of hard work and low wages. It is the Drink Devil who wields the whip and brings in the hell; there is no task master who drives so cruelly or lays on so terribly a lash. Much labor, both in character and in its rewards, may be akin to slavery, but there is no bondage so galling, no servitude which exacts so much and gives so little as the slavery of stteng drink. Among all other good and true aims set before them, let the people of Chilton county declare an unalterable and deadly enmity to the Christian dispensary and they will achieve a larger good for the people of this county than in all other efforts to which they can put their hearts and hands. Boycot the dispensary, order a general strike along this line and there will be a result in the homes and by the firesides of world's toilers that will rejoice and bless humanity. A VOTER.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jim son bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Upchurch Drug co.

We are sorry to say little Miss Ophelia Bledsoe is on the sick list, hope she will soon be out again.

Mrs. Dove Shaw visited Mrs. Elmer Skipper Sunday.

Mr. Geanie Ellison and family of Bessemer are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin.

Miss Lanie Cobb visited Miss Ester Shaw Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cobb left Friday for their home in Birmingham.

Miss Essie Watson spent Saturday night and Sunday with her cousin, Miss Ora Shaw.

The singing here Sunday afternoon was fine, conducted by Mr. Charlie Glass, with Miss Ester Shaw, presiding.

Mr. Hardie Martin of Ocampo visited his parents Sunday.

Mr. Crumbie Beasley, accompanied by Miss Lizzie Cobb, visited Shelby Sunday.

The Sunday school at this place is still doing well, have about 55 on roll; hope it will continue so. We are always glad to have new scholars coming in.

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOL GIRLS.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is BETTER than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Upchurch Drug co.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Bell, of Rosemont, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and two one dollar bottles did more for me than all the doctors and other medicines I had taken in twenty years." Kodol Digests What You Eat.
Sizes only. $1.00 size holding 2½ times the trial size, which sells for 50 cents.

EKHAM ON THE CORNER

Of the Sights He Saw, and Some He Saw Not.

On Friday night (May 24) at the ool house, Clanton, the Clanton ntrels will give their second formance for the benefit of the ol. The program embraces jokes and other varieties. e of you who were at the first formance will be anxious to see second, and those who were ab- will be glad of an opportunity tend this one. A good time is ised all.

Our young townsman, Mr. Sam- C. Matthews, acquitted himself honor at the closing exercises the Marion Military Institute, ing won one of the prizes in lish composition. The degree B. A. was conferred and he re ved a scholarship to the Univer- of Pennsylvania from the In- ute.

At three o'clock Wednesday rnoon, Main street presented a roughly sleepy appearance— n't seen it so quiet in the last dozen years. Bass Jones came ly up the street as if he knew e was nothing doing. Cald- McMorries was holding up the ing post at Abe Kanter's, ile Harvey Chandler was read- the Banner outside of Pinck- 's, and no one else in sight— the dispensary was asleep.

A Baptist Young Peoples Union been organized at the church. I Mullins was elected Presi- , E. E. Upchurch, 1st Vice- , P. I. Hopkins, 2nd Vice- , J. E. Robinson, Treas.; D. There is a number of people who are under an erroneous impression. They think that they never control enough money to start a bank account. In this they are mistaken. We solicit small accounts as well as large. And we handle the business of both with our best care. We believe that you ought to have a bank account, and we offer you our services.

This is Why

We deserve to be favored with a share of your banking business:

First, because OUR RECORD IS CLEAN, and a long record of honest dealing is the best guarantee of a prosperous future.

Then OUR POLICY is as liberal as is consistent with security; we are accommodating but prudent.

And finally, OUR LOCATION is central and accessible—right in the centre of business.

We ask your consideration.

Center Point.

Dear Editor—Please let me in for a chat this week. It seems as though spring has just come, and you ought to see the farmers hustling. Prospects that once looked gloomy are bright, and we are made to say: "Surely goodness and mercy has followed us all the days of our lives."

We are sorry to know that Mr. Joe Wallace is very sick of fever.

Our Sunday school at this place is progressing very nicely.

Prof. J. O. Williams of Mulberry visited our Sunday school recently, and made an interesting talk on Sunday school work. Come again, Mr. Williams.

Mr. Joe Williams and son, J. B. are putting in a fine cotton gin in our community. We wish them success, for a good gin is much needed here.

Misses Delia Williams and Ida Logan attended the entertainment at Mr. John Mims' Saturday night and report a lovely time.

Mr. Dock Bone broke the game law last week by finding a partridge nest. He was arrested and carried before justice J. B. Williams, and fined fifteen cents. This should be a token of obedience to the other boys.

The marriage of Mr. Robert Deason to Miss Lula Owen, on last Sunday evening, was a beautiful scene, and was attended by an immense concourse of people. Their friends wish them many years of enjoyment together.

With love to the Banner readers, I am A SUNDAY SCHOOL BOY.

Ocampo.

Dear Editor—We, the people of Ocampo, wish to express through the columns of your paper our deepest regrets at the departure of our friend, Dr. J. P. Ellsberry one who has been so faithful in the hour of sickness; one who was ever ready to do all that was in his power for the Sunday school and prayermeeting, which is badly neglected by so many people. And too, the Doctor now possesses a head of gray locks. He is greatly missed from the social circle of Ocampo, especially by the fair sex. Our heartiest wishes are with him wherever he may go.

Our school is progressing nicely under the skillful management of Prof. Sawyer. Oh! the professor made a flying trip to Jacksonville last week for some cause.

Mr. E. H. Wills spent a few days in Tuscaloosa last week.

Mrs. Fant and Mrs. Ware visited Clanton last Saturday.

Mr. Oliver Collum is on the sick list. FOORS.

KILLED AT MULBERRY.

Last Thursday night about seven o'clock, at the home of Abb Headley, Mulberry, John Cochran was shot and instantly killed by Abb Headley. Cochran appears to have been in an ugly mood, and chased his wife and sister-in-law (Headley) with an open knife, trying to kill them. When Abb interfered he was attacked and cut in four places, then with his shot gun he fired at Cochran who fell mortally wounded.

A preliminary trial was held before John Milford, J. P., and Headley was discharged.

MAN KILLED.

About ten miles southwest of Clanton, about dark, on the evening of May 16, 1907, A. C. Headley shot and instantly killed one J. T. Cochran. Said Cochran was a brother-in-law of Headley and he and his wife were visiting Headley's family, when about one hour prior to the killing Cochran got mad with his wife about a hat that was missing and became very boisterous, and when Headley tried to quiet him, (offering to pay him the value of the hat if he would be quiet) threatened to kill his wife and Headley's family also. Then Headley told his family and Cochran's wife to go to a neighbor's house in order to get away from Cochran. When they left the house to go to the neighbor's, Cochran followed them and Headley took his gun and followed Cochran, all the while begging Cochran to come back and behave himself; when about a hundred yards away Headley tried to pass Cochran in order to get between him and the family. Cochran turned on Headley, advancing upon him and threatening to kill him with pocket knife in hand, Headley shot and killed him.

On the following morning Headley was tried before Squire John Milford, and the verdict was justifiable homicide and Headley released. When on the same day Judge Reynolds, not knowing that Headley was arraigned and tried, issued a warrant for him and deputy Hubbard came down and arrested Headley again and carried him to Clanton, accompanied by R. E. Roper, A. L. Williams, W. W. Williams and W. P. Headley, and when Judge Reynolds heard that A. C. Headley had been tried, he consulted with Hon. W. M. Adams, the county solicitor, and upon examining the records of the trial before Squire Milford (said record being carried to Reynolds by R. E. Roper) Solicitor Adams took A. C. Headley's statement and released him. Thus ended the first serious disturbance that has marred the peace, quiet and dignity of the little neighborhood in which we have quietly rested for many years, and be it remembered that such would not have been the case if it had not been for the intrusion of a foreign substance (J. T. Cochran) whom we consider committed suicide, for evidently he was the cause of his own death.

SINGING.

Bro. Mize Lawjey will sing in the Christain Harmony note book at Providence in Beat 2 on the fourth Sunday in this month. Come and bring your dinner and old song books.

Give a man an inch and he wants a tumbler full.

Riderville.

The weather has been good for the last few days and the brother farmer is in a better spirit it seems. But the outlook for a crop of cotton is indeed gloomy, from what I can hear there is no stand, and of course if there is no stand it cannot be made.

We are glad to know of the sick in our town being better.

The most of we employees of the E. E. Jackson Lumber Co. are tired of the road law that the overseers have in Beat 8, it is awful. The reason I say overseer, I know the county is not aware of the fact, for we have paid at this mill about $125 on the road that leads to Selma already and has been rained out for two more days and it means one-half as much more, and the road has not had $10 worth of work this year. The apportioners must stop this, for from what we can hear they had better, for if Chilton county has any law we will find out at the next grand jury. A VOTER.

Saturday morning a rear end collision occurred between two freight trains at Deatsville, blocking the line for several hours. A negro fireman was slightly injured.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a breaking down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflamation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by Upchurch Drug co.

Providence.

Providence is lucky. May 18th J. R. Busby, W. D. Carver, J. A. Lowery and J. H. Martin, delegates and others from Providence, Center Hill and Oak Grove met at Clanton Saturday to transact business in regard to changing or splitting the Providence, Oak Grove, and Center Hill school districts. It was suggested by some to take from the three school districts and form a new district. The delegates to the latter were Jno. Bledsoe, J. A. Simmons and two skipper brothers I am glad to say they were defeated. FOUR FRIENDS.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is better than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same time it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and allays inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Upchurch Drug co.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Heaton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by Upchurch Drug co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism over two years," says Mr. P. Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so as to incapacitate for duty. One day when I was in severe pain and suffering from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I at once rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from the disease for over three months." For sale by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton, and A. Horn, Thorsby.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

"Women do the gardening in England, and see the bonnie cheeks of them," says the Los Angeles Times.

Nothing is better calculated to make a person feel like a three-ply idiot than to have some of his old sentimental letters produced in court, mourns the Hartford Courant. The safest way is to destroy a personal communication after it has been answered.

The most hopeful forecast of the life of American iron ore fixes it at fifty years. The next generation of Americans will practically have no wood or iron and the coal supply will be scarce and rapidly diminishing. This will call for serious readjustment of the economic lot of millions of people.

The London Standard calls the oratory of Mr. Jerome and Mr. Delmas in the Thaw case "flapdoodle." If our esteemed British contemporary thinks that was flapdoodle, it should hear a Western spellbinder nominating a favorite son in a national convention, exclaims the New York World.

Walter Wellman has never, in the opinion of the New York Tribune, said anything which betrays more good sense than his remark that "the plan of reaching the Pole with an airship is too good to be ruined by a premature attempt." Those who hope for the ultimate success of the methods which he has adopted will rejoice to know that he does not intend to start from Spitzbergen until he has made elaborate tests of his vehicle.

Former Secretary Shaw has been elected president of the Carnegie Trust Company at New York. Asked as to the effect that this step would have upon his political fortunes, he replied: "A man by taking thought may make himself justice of the peace, but no man in my time by taking thought has made himself President of the United States, and those who have given the subject most serious consideration have usually died in disappointment. Admittedly some of the successful ones have sought the place, but no one was nominated because he sought it."

Says Victor Smith in the New York Press: We have become acquainted with brainstorm. Now why not introduce "mental petrifaction?" It is no invention of mine. I nad it of Epictetus, the noblest of the Stoic philosophers, notwithstanding a poor, suffering, maltreated slave of a brutal master. Epictetus observed that there were certain persons who would deny the plainest and most evident truths, and this state and condition he termed a "petrification or mortification of the mind." Good, very good! We have a town half full of these persons. Petrification, petrifaction and fossil are entirely synonymous.

All the world has a mouth watering when it hears of the "roast beef of old England." When Henry Edward Crampton, Ph. D., professor of zoology, was delivering his series of lectures on the "Doctrine of Evolution; Its Basis and Scope," he gave the following explanation to a wondering audience in Cooper Union: "The roast beef in England is so good because they have so many old maids over there. The old maids keep cats. These cats, running free, catch the mice which make eternal warfare on the bumble bees. The bumble bees fertilize the soil which grows sweet clover, the finest possible forage for cattle; so you see it is really due to the old maids that there is such fine beef in Great Britain."

In an interview in London on the result of the Thaw trial Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M.P., delivered the following simile: "It is true the English people are very prone to hold up their hands in holy horror at the semi-theatrical display of so-called society within the precincts of the court and at the glaring headlines and millions of columns that fill the American press. It must be remembered, however, that a millionaire like Thaw is in American life in much the same position as a wealthy Duke in England. I venture to think that if a millionaire Duke shot another nobleman on the ground that the latter had insulted his wife you would have in the English press as great a sensation as imaginative editors could

His Word of Honor.

"A very odd thing happened at one of New York's great hyphenated hotels a few years ago," said Pat Galligan, the house detective of the New Willard.

"A group of distinguished millionaires, five of them, all men whose names are known from one end of the country to the other, were taking luncheon in the hotel's palm room. It wasn't a business luncheon, but merely a little getting together, and they all became pretty gay.

"The talk at the table veered around to the subject of a business man's word of honor. One of the millionaires, a man known for the extreme sharpness of some of his transactions, felt called upon to be very outspoken on this subject, almost as if he felt himself under fire. He held to it that once a business man passed his word there should be —could be—no recalling of that word. The word should stick in any and all circumstances. Nothing should be allowed to interfere with the carrying out of that word, even if the man passing his word should be put to all sorts of hardships in carrying out the provisions of his word of honor.

"It seemed to some of the others that this was carrying it a bit to far. They said so, and argued the point with the man who was for the unbreakableness of the passed word of honor.

"'Suppose,' said one of them, 'that the person to whom such a word of honor is given should be an unworthy individual, and one who would "do" the man thus giving him his word as quick as winking if he got a chance?'

"'Doesn't make a particle of difference,' said the millionaire who was for the bindingness of the passed word. 'Before giving his word the business man should see to it that he isn't likely to come into contact with any such people. If he does come into contact with them it's his own fault. He must bear the consequences. But he can't break his given word.'

"'But, suppose,' said another one of the disputants, 'one should happen, by some mischance, to give his word to some acknowledged thief, what then?'

"'He'd have to abide by it, that's all,' promptly replied the man who clung to the letter of the word. 'One doesn't have to come into contact with thieves, but, if one does, and inadvertently passes the thief the word of honor, why, there's nothing else in life to be done except to abide by the word. That's all. That's the way I look at the matter, anyhow.'

"'Well, I'd like to see you put to such a test, old man,' said one of them then. 'I'm not saying that you wouldn't act up to your convictions, but I'd be willing to gamble that it would give you a twinge and that you'd be letting off some steam while it was happening.'

"'I never go on record with anything that I don't stay with in actual practice,' replied the millionaire with the strong views on the subject under discussion, and then the talk switched around to something else.

"The luncheon party broke up about half an hour later and the millionaire with the strong views went to his suite of rooms. He found himself alone when he got there. His valet was out on an errand and his secretary was attending a funeral. The millionaire tossed himself on a couch to take a bit of a nap. Before he had been stretched out a minute, however, a card was sent up to him. The millionaire didn't know the name on the card, but there were three words scrawled on the bottom of the card relating to a deal that the millionaire was interested in that induced him to tell the bellboy to send the visitor up.

"The visitor appeared three minutes later. He was a distinguished looking man of forty-five or so, with whitening hair, and perfectly dressed and groomed.

"He advanced as if to shake hands with the millionaire, who stood in the middle of his study. Then the millionaire noticed that his visitor had a revolver in his hand and that the muzzle of it was on a line with his own heart. He paled, but steadied himself.

"'Don't worry, sir,' said the visitor, in a well-bred way, but never lowering his weapon from its high-high position. 'I have no violence in mind if you haven't.'

"'So it would seem, when you approach me with a gun in your hand,' said the millionaire, grouchily.

"'The fact is,' said the visitor, with complete calmness, 'I find myself profoundly embarrassed this afternoon to get the money to pay a note that is due. The amount is ten thousand dollars. I have taken the desperate chance—the only chance I can see—of getting the money from you.'

"'Of sticking me up for it, eh?' snorted the millionaire.

"'Well, if you elect to call it by that ugly name, yes,' replied the visitor, unmoved, 'I may add that I think it will be best for you to let me have the amount without loss of time.'

"'And if I refused to give it to you, what then?' inquired the millionaire, stunned with the man's impudence.

"'I trust you will not require me to answer such a question,' was the polite reply. 'But I haven't the least notion that you will refuse me the money,' and there was a hard sound to the visitor's voice when he said this.

"The millionaire stood looking at the

"'But,' he said, 'you are not blind enough to suppose that I carry any such a sum as ten thousand dollars in cash about with me, are you?'

"'I certainly am not,' was the cool reply. 'But, then you are—and will write me a check for the amount.'

"Instantly the millionaire experienced what he thought was a flash of understanding.

"'Give you a check, eh?' he said. 'But, you scoundrel, what makes you imagine that I would not stop the payment upon the check immediately you left this room?'

"'Because you are going to give me your word that you will do no such thing,' calmly replied the visitor.

"Whereupon the millionaire secretly chuckled. He could see it all, he felt confident. His friends with whom he had taken luncheon had put up a job on him. They were testing him as to that statement of his that even if he gave his word of honor to a thief he would keep the word inviolate.

"'Well,' thought the millionaire, 'I'll show those duffers.'

"'You are a cool rascal,' said the millionaire to the visitor, 'but I suppose there is nothing else for me to do but to yield to your game, since I am here alone and utterly defenseless. I shall write the check for you, but I'll get you yet, mark that!'

"'All I ask you to give me your word about, sir,' replied the visitor, 'is that you will not stop the payment on the check. After I cash the check I shall attend to the matter of my own safety.'

"'Put your gun down then and I shall go over to my desk and write you the check.'

"And he did write the check and hand it to the visitor. The check was on a bank right around the corner from the hotel.

"'Now,' said the visitor, ready to depart, 'you are giving me your solemn word of honor as a gentleman and as a business man that you will not stop payment on this check?'

"The millionaire nodded, and the visitor left. The millionaire sank into a chair and laughed aloud when the man had gone.

"'I'll show these rascals up for putting up that job on me,' he chuckled. 'They'll have to own up that I beat them at their own game. Probably they'll be up here in half an hour or so, with the man they sent here to put up the job on me, and I guess they won't feel cheap when they are obliged to confess, as this man hands me my ten thousand, that I stuck to my word and didn't stop payment on the check.'

"But his friends didn't turn up, nor did they appear to respond to the millionaire's chuckles when he met them at dinner that evening. Then he up and told them all about it. They gasped with amazement. Then told him, with all solemnity and truth, that no job had been put up on him. He had simply been victimized to the tune of $10,000, that's all.

"Which is exactly what happened, and the way it happened was this:

"Seated close to the millionaire's table at luncheon that day, and overhearing their talk about the inviolability of their word of honor, was Alonzo J. Wakeman, the celebrated forger and all-around confidence man, who wasn't known in his true light at the hotel at that time. The Wakeman had been Mayor of Duluth and had come close to getting into Congress from Minnesota at one time, too, but he fell into bad ways and took to forging. Wakeman heard talk between the millionaires and he determined to profit by it, that's all. He knew that if he could get up the millionaire right on the spot that talk the millionaire would conclude that the job had been fixed on him by his friends, and by acting immediately or presumption.

"Wakeman cashed the $10,000 check and went to Europe. He was put away for a long term three years ago, after convicted in Buffalo of a long series of forgeries."—Washington Star.

TO FIND A GAS LEAK.

There is a Way to Prevent Explosion and Fire.

The following method of hunting for a leak in a gas-pipe with a lighted match is not so dangerous because of the danger of an explosion as of other damage, as is shown by the experience of a West Philadelphia householder last week. One or two small leaks were detected by going over all the pipes and holding a lighted match to them. The smell of gas ceased, but was replaced a few hours later by the smell of burning wood. Another visit to the cellar showed a charred floor joist a little distance above a gas-pipe. There was no apparent cause for this until a very close examination discovered that a tiny jet of gas was coming from the pipe beneath the beam. It was lighted, but was so small as to be blue in color and nearly invisible. It had been lighted by a match used in the first investigation, but had not been noticed. If that leak had happened to be in the lead joint instead of an iron connection," said a gas man, "there would probably have been work for the fire department. The smallest possible jet of lighted gas issuing through lead will in time heat and melt the lead and make the leak larger, until a big flame is issuing. This may make a fire hours later, in the dead of the night or at a time when no one is in the house. The only proper way to look for these very small leaks is to paint the suspected pipe with a smooth soap lather. Just as in the case of a bicycle tire, the tiniest leak will blow a bubble in the lather, and there you are."—Philadelphia Record.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: The Religious Life.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church on the theme "The Religious Life," the pastor, the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, took as his text Deut. 8:3, "Man doth not live by bread only, but by everything that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live." He said:

The one thing most necessary in the life of the individual and of society is religion. A man may exist in the possession of all the temporal and material aids to comfort and to the satisfaction of the natural man, but he never begins really to live until he is conscious of the divine personality and recognizes the validity of the divine control. A man may exist without a thoroughgoing sense of the reality of the control of "the Divinity that shapes our ends," but he only is alive when he gains a consciousness of God and of his accountability and infinite indebtedness to Him.

In our day too many men are drifting from the religious life, too many are endeavoring to live without a controlling sense of the reality of God, too many are endeavoring to live as though God were non-existant and as though He were entitled to no authority over their lives. Many good men, confusing ecclesiasticism with religion, and uncomprehending of the vast difference that there often is, though to be sure there should not be, between church membership and the Christian life, have turned and are turning, altogether too commonly for the peace of mind of the church of the living God, away from organized religious systems prim[illegible] from any sort of religious allegiance at all. Gazing upon the [illegible]less insincerity of many [illegible]ians and the stupid indifference of many churches to the needs of society and the demands of the times, as contrasted with the divinity and the universal interest in the God-man and His Gospel [illegible]n whose character and truth the Church is founded, men have misjudged Christianity by its misrepresenting fruitage, and, in numbers that annoy us, have turned from religion entirely. Contemplating the sins of individuals in the church, they have permitted their eyes to be withholden from the discernment of the truth that the personality and the pronunciamentoes of Jesus Christ as the oracle of God are the leaven that most surely could transform their own lives and effect a transformation in the social order of which they are a part. Many bad men, with the determination not to know or to serve God under any conditions, utterly are neglectful of the claims of the religious life upon their higher natures. They turn from religion because they are willfully desirous to be the followers of the devil rather than the servants of God.

Many men have turned from organized religion because of intellectual difficulties. Some of these have gone out of the church to follow the bent of their peculiar and personal religious conceptions and convictions; some have turned to philosophy and have deified man as sufficient unto himself; still others have to their entire satisfaction eliminated God from the scheme of things.

In spite of the attitude of a host of men, however, a true religious life is as necessary to the welfare of humanity as are fresh air and pure food and the creature comforts that we desire, need and strive so persistently to secure. No man is well rounded; no man has realized the possibilities of manhood; no man is complete; no man is really alive until he is alive unto God. And no man has sounded the limits of the capacities of his own being until he has enjoyed a knowledge of the highest revelation of the character of God that is in the world to-day.

A true religious life ought to appeal to every man first, because it is reasonable; secondly, because it is spiritually real; thirdly, because it is ethically influential.

The true religious life is reasonable. It does no damage to our good sense, and it commends itself to our judgment. It does not shock our ideas of the fitness of things. It satisfies our intellects. Man, in the wisdom of God, is an intelligent being; he possesses mental qualities that are fundamental in his make-up. Men must be convinced of the reasonableness of things before they can have any lasting hold upon them. That which is intellectually unsatisfying or that will not stand the tests applied by the minds of men, they reject. Man does not demand that he shall be able to exhaust every subject which comes under the province of his intellect, but he does demand that, whether or no he is able to explain all the things in which, as a rational being, he holds an interest, he shall at least be able to discern in them the evidences of reasonableness. Religion appeals to the mind of man. Not because he is able to sound all the depths of religious philosophy or of religious truth or to explain all the manifold wonders of religious experience, but because there is in religion that which is intellectually reasonable and satisfying. No religious system that is worthy of attention holds the respect of humanity for long unless it be first of all of no damage to our sense of the fitness of things. The true religious life commends itself to our best judgment and in the recognition of its imperatives we find rest and joy.

The true religious life is transcendently and delightfully real. It is not susceptible, perhaps, to arithmetical or geometrical demonstration. We are not able to prove it in its operative and abstract phases by the terminology or the experiences of the senses altogether, but it is none the less real. Laying hold as it does upon the divine, it is simply inexplicable in all its outreachings through the medium of finite speech. As true is it that human cannot tell of the spiritual life as it is that the tongue has not yet told the fullness of the glories of that richer life that is yet to be. But though the tongue may be unable to explain it all or to reveal in finite language the infinite experiences of the spiritual life it is none the less real. The spiritual religious life is the result of experience. It is experience. It is just as exact and scientific in its way and just as experimental, mystical and abstract though it be, as any other scientific discipline. It cannot, of course, be demonstrated by the experiences of the physicist alone, or by the terminology of the geologist alone, or by the rules of the algebraic formulae. But it has its own laws. Its own characteristics may be scientifically tabulated. Its experiences may be classified. Its reality may be investigated and proven by any open-minded, open-hearted man who will place himself within the realm of its manifestations and permit himself to be moved upon by its influences. It is spiritually real.

Then, too, the true religious life such as has been revealed unto us in Jesus Christ is ethically influential. It takes hold of the conduct of the man, and whereas he was before satisfied with lax and easy regulations for the ordering of his personal and social life, it leads him past all that is superficial and insufficient and less than wholly righteous, step by step into such a recognition of the claims of God and of humanity upon his life that he is soon satisfied with nothing but the best in manners and morals, and is continually testing himself by an increasing measure to find whether or no he is worthy of the approval of Almighty God, his King. The real religious life that was practiced by our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ is a life that is militant in the life of the man seven days a week. It is no week-end religion. It is a force from the first stroke of the midnight chime on Saturday night to the precise moment when another week having gone ringing down the grooves of the past the bells shall boom again another mid[illegible]clares to men the [illegible]ne divine authority and the insistency of human accountability to Him. It leads the soul into a larger recognition of the claims of personality and inspires humanity to square itself with the claims of society upon the individual life.

The true religious life in Jesus is as vital in national affairs as it is in individual. We do not need in our times more churches or a larger organization. What we need most is that the present organization and the present churches shall make the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ to be felt and realized as a vital force in all departments of our national life.

The true religious life is the medium whereby comfort, joy, hope and courage are mediated in divine fashion to the human soul. In no other life is comfort so satisfyingly given. In no other life is the joy that humanity so largely needs so truly ministered. Here is our highest hope. Here we drink deep of courage and are most endued for conflict against principalities and powers and panoplied effectually for the conquering of sin.

The greatest mistake in the world is for a man to reject the privileges, the prerogatives, the appeals of the religious life. For the soul without God is not alive. Only in the consciousness of His reality and in willing subjection of self to Him do we live. The live man is the one who lives within God through the grace and love revealed and mediated in our Lord Jesus Christ.

Every Road Leads to Jesus.

A young man just starting upon his work in the ministry was one day talking to an aged minister in London, who had spent a lifetime in the service. The young man said, "You have a great deal of experience; you know many things that I ought to learn. Can't you give me advice to carry with me in my new duties?" "Yes, I can," was the response. "I will give you a piece of advice. You know that in every town in England, no matter how small, in every hamlet, though it be hidden in the folds of the mountains or wrapped round by the far-off sea, in every clump of farmhouses, you can find a road which, if you will follow it, will take you to London. Just so every text you shall choose to preach from the Bible will have a road that leads to Jesus. Be sure you find that road and follow it; be careful not to miss it once. This is my advice to you."

The Soul Winner's Equipment.

Be filled with the Spirit. (Eph. 5: 15.) This is the call to every Christian to be filled with the Spirit. That is what is needed to-day. Only those who are filled with the Spirit can be soul winners. To be filled is the privilege of all. Christians are known by their fruits. "Without Me ye can do nothing" (Jno. 15: 5). It is as impossible to live the Christian life without the Holy Spirit as to live natural life without air.

There must be an emptying of all else before there can be a real filling. Holiness must prevail. The little sins if tolerated will hinder the Spirit from having full sway. This is not only a privilege for every Christian, but a duty; for it is a command: "Be filled with the Spirit."—C. B. Styers.

Drawing Men.

The holiness of Christ did not awe men away from Him, nor repel them, it inspired them with hope. It was not that vulgar, unapproachable sanctity which makes men awkward in its presence, and stands aloof. Its peculiar characteristic was that it made men enamored of goodness. It "drew all men unto Him." This is the difference between greatness that is first rate and greatness which is second rate — between heavenly and earthly goodness. The second rate and earthly kind draws admiration on itself. You say, "How great an act—how good a man!" The first rate and the heavenly imparts itself—inspires a spirit.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON [illegible]
MENTS FOR MAY 26 BY [illegible]
REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Childhood and [illegible] of Moses, Ex. 2:1-15— Text, Acts 7:23 — [illegible] Verses, 9, 10.

The first two verses give us a sight into the humble beginnings of Moses. A simple man and woman marry. And from that [illegible] union the leader of a mighty people and the leader of a social [illegible] appears. The mighty men of [illegible] quite generally and equally [illegible] ably been the children of [illegible] homes and of simple parentage. It is unnecessary to mention [illegible] they are familiar to us all. [illegible] light of these verses every [illegible] is fraught with everlasting [illegible] tion. And just because in our [illegible] homes perhaps we may [illegible] and unconsciously be rearing the future leader of a nation [illegible] us under God to look carefully [illegible] teaching and the training of [illegible] youth.

The mother love of the [illegible] soul who gave the breath [illegible] God to Moses was as holy and [illegible] faithful as any that we may [illegible] She could not see her child [illegible] tered, beautiful baby that [illegible] and so trusting in the [illegible] of womanhood she floated her [illegible] into the presence of the princess [illegible] the Empire.

Somehow or other we are impressed with the fact that this [illegible] woman must have been [illegible] conscious of the providence of [illegible] And her confidence was [illegible] Her intuitions were correct [illegible] mother in the princess went out [illegible] the lonely little waif in his little [illegible] ing ark. By the most fortuitous circumstances Moses is returned [illegible] the custody of his mother before [illegible] ing taken to the palace to live [illegible] the princes.

It is after Moses enters into the inner life of the palace that our interest in his character deepens. We are impressed with the fact that in spite of the ease and pleasures, the peculiar charms and seductions of the palace life Moses did not lose interest in his own people or sympathy for their distress and oppression. The first act recorded of the man as he contemplates the [illegible] conditions under which his brethren live is indicative of the character of the future life of the man. Fired with a holy indignation at the cruelty of the Egyptian taskmaster in his dealing with his kinsman, he struck the Egyptian down. We may not be able precisely to justify the act, but we can readily understand the [illegible] cation and the spirit of the man who in midst of ease could so control and resist unnecessary hardship [illegible] ing forced unwillingly upon any [illegible] man being.

The second act recorded of the [illegible] after his life of ease in the palace of Pharaoh is equally indicative of [illegible] temperament, and more indicative of the philosophical insight of the man. It was also the means to the rescuing of the denseness of the very people whom he wished to rescue from affliction. His admonishment of the two fighting toilers shows us his wisdom. Their answer, which drove Moses in fear into a distant region to escape the king, reveals the lack of insight of these men whom he wished to aid.

The most amazing thing in all the world is the unkindness of the world toilers to each other. The oppression of the poor by those who are socially and industrially above them is an unquestioned feature of too large a portion of our modern life. But the uncharitableness and unkindness of multitudes of the working class toward their own kind is as inexplicable from the standpoint of wisdom as it is appalling. I am conscious of the courtesy and generosity of many men and women among the poor as an object lesson to many who are [illegible] tifully blessed with this world's goods. But no man who is at all familiar with life and observant of conditions in the industrial life of [illegible] they are can fail to be impressed with the appalling amount of diversity and discord among the very classes of society to whom union and amity mean strength. The salvation of the working class to-day is to be tolerant, wise advice, to lay aside contentions, to cease to fight among themselves, to make life easier for themselves as they progress toward better conditions by the exercise of a certain courtesy and good will, to pull together.

The advice which Moses offered all too often answered with the answer of these men to Moses. He who might be leaders of the people into a freer and a larger life are discouraged by the inhospitable reception of the very people whom they strive to aid. Moses was not offering patronage. He was offering sound advice. A child of the common people though bred in luxury and ease, had a heart that felt for the oppressed woe of his people. There is a great difference between patronage and sound advice. Oftentimes the wisest advice may be annulled by the appearance of patronage. But whatever there may arise in the providence of God a leader, who, though live in luxury or in squalor, who bears the marks of a divine gift for leadership, may the hungry, tired, sick host of this world's oppressed have the sense not to rebuff him, but the wisdom to welcome him with reverence, attend to his message, profit by his advice, adopt his wisdom as their own guide, follow his leadership out of Egypt up to the confines of the land of promise and enter in.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON ... MENTS FOR MAY 26 BY THE REV. I. W. RENDERSON.

Subject: Childhood and Ed... of Moses, Ex. 2:1-15—... Text, Acts 7:23 — H... Verses, 9, 10.

The first two verses give us an insight into the humble beginnings of Moses. A simple man and wife marry. And from that incompetent union the leader of a mighty people and the leader of a social epoch appears. The mighty men of God have quite generally and equally remarkably been the children of humble homes and of simple parentage. It is unnecessary to mention names, they are familiar to us all. In the light of these verses every marriage is fraught with everlasting possibilities. And just because in our own homes perhaps we may unwittingly and unconsciously be rearing the future leader of a nation it behooves us under God to look carefully to the teaching and the training of our youth.

The mother love of the humble soul who gave the breath of life from God to Moses was as loyal and as faithful as any that we may suppose. She could not see her child slaughtered, beautiful baby that he was, and so trusting in the compassion of womanhood she floated her child into the presence of the princess of the Empire.

Somehow or other we are impressed with the fact that this simple woman must have been supremely conscious of the providence of God. And her confidence was rewarded. Her intuitions were correct. The mother in the princess went out to the lonely little waif in his little floating ark. By the most fortuitous of circumstances Moses is returned to the custody of his mother before being taken to the palace to live among the princes.

FINDING WATER WITH A TWIG.

By C. H. ROCKWELL, Rear Admiral, U. S. N.

I have been much interested from time to time in what we must call the "witch-hazel tales." Let me add a little to them.

Some years ago I was in process of driving a well near my house, for a water supply, so that the pipe could be carried under the house and into the kitchen sink, where a pump could be attached to it. I therefore sent to to an adjoining town for the driver of wells, who came with his tools, arriving about 1 p. m. He asked me where I wished to have the well located, and I indicated the exact spot. A second man who had accompanied the well artist took a forked twig from his pocket and began pacing over the ground, and at the very spot where I desired the well the twig seemed to point directly to the ground. The well was driven in the exact spot indicated, and has never failed to deliver an abundant supply of excellent water. It was ready for use at 5 p. m.

I had often heard of this divining business before, but I had never seen it. I asked the diviner to lend me the twig, and I went off into the fields by myself and to my surprise it acted perfectly in my hands, and I found that I also was a medium, and the matter puzzled me very greatly. I conversed with the seer and found that he was an intelligent and cultivated man, and was, at that time, principal of the high school in a neighboring town. He could give me no rational explanation of the phenomenon, but said that he was so sensitive to running water and its connection with what he had demonstrated, that in driving over a bridge with a swift running stream beneath, his wrists would twitch perceptibly when holding the twig. I had material to work on, and so I ... to the fountain head of knowledge and sought for light.

In my house at that time as an honored guest was my father. Learned in the sciences and ologies of all the ages, theologian, student, poet, teacher, a traveler in many lands, and familiar with literature in several languages, he knew many things and had a vast experience. To him I submitted this problem in natural science, and this was his exposition. He said that he had known of the so-called divination for water, and that the power or facility, or whatever it might be called, undoubtedly existed, and had been used with success on many occasions which had come under his observation, and said that he would give me a theory, but could not vouch for its correctness, for want of more exact knowledge. He proceeded as follows:

"All nature is full of a mysterious power or element, which we call electricity. We know very little about it, but we know that it is present in the earth, the air, the sea; in fact, in all water. We have it in our bodies. In some persons it is very strongly shown, in others it is less apparent. The tendency of some electrical currents is to attract each other, and by the shortest lines. In this case we have a strongly electrical man, a stream of running or percolating water, producing or inciting a current of electricity, and a green forked twig, for a dry twig will not act. Now we find that the wood of the twig is not a conductor of electricity, neither is the bark, but the sap between them is a conductor. So the man holds the twig, he walks about until a spot is reached where water is producing electrical action; his electricity is attracted toward that spot, traversing the sap under the bark of the twig, and turning it down toward the reservoir or natural manufactory of electrical action, and producing the phenomena which has puzzled many people. I give you this thing for what it may be worth."

In like manner I pass this explanation along to the Forest and Stream as a contribution to the literature of the art of finding water with a forked twig.—From Forest and Stream.

Witches Still Believed In.

Neglected by the powers, witches ceased to be so notorious, but the belief continued to exist, and does exist now, in rural parts of Scotland and England; and in England and France, even in the towns, fortune-tellers, whether they charge a guinea or a shilling for their advice, are witches under the terms of the old statutes, and flourish abundantly, but as they are not burned they are supposed by superficial observers to have been exterminated by school boards and electric lighting. The blacker sort of witch who "overlooks" and casts spells on man and beast may be found in many rural regions North and South. One of them was brought before a squire and J. P. of my acquaintance as a dangerous nuisance. He said to her solemnly: "You know, Betty, the Bible says 'Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live in the parish,'" and she migrated, under certain conditions of compensation, to another parish.—Andrew Lang, in the London Post.

Poets' Themes.

The cynics of our time have whitewashed many of the vices. Poets like the earlier Swinburne practically praised lust as an expression of the love of life. Poets like Mr. Henley and Mr. John Davidson have practically praised drunkenness, or violence, or obscenity as expressions of the love of life.—G. K. Chesterton, in London News.

George F. Pride, the last survivor of General U. S. Grant's staff, died recently at Huntington, Ind.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how quickly a few years of married life often make the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face radiates it. Here witness to the fact in regard to this: Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Calling People to Church.

When I was examining the church bells of the East Riding of Yorkshire some years ago I came to a little place called Forden, on the wolds between Malton and Bridlington. It was a very primitive place, quite cut off from the world, the few inhabitants hardly knowing the road over the hilltop to the next place northward. The distinctive building which serves as a church is built near the brow of the hill. It has no tower, bell turret or bell cot. On inquiry I found that it had no bell. The parson came over on horseback now and then from a neighboring parish, tied up his horse outside the church, opened the door, put on his surplice and then, walked to the top of the hill and cracked his whip several times, "and then we knawes as it's time ti gang ti chotch," said my informant on the spot.—London Notes and Queries.

Lady (who has asked Jones to tea at her club)—So awfully sorry. I quite forgot I had a "Down with Man" meeting. But please take a seat and make yourself comfortable. We shall only be about an hour. (Jones says he thinks he'll go and do some shopping.)—Punch.

"I've brought your letters back. Where are mine?" "They are in my safe-deposit vault at the bank. I regard them as my share of the assets of our joint enterprise thus far, and shall keep them. You know love letters are often equivalent to gilt-edged securities in these times."—Judge.

Her Mother—Does your husband take you into his confidence regarding his business affairs? Young Wife—Oh, yes; he did so only this morning. When I asked him to let me have $50 for a new gown he said he was very sorry, but business was so bad just now he couldn't possibly do it."—Chicago Daily News.

Tired Nervous Women Make Unhappy Homes

MRS. NELLIE MAKHAM

A nervous irritable woman often on the verge of hysterics, is a source of misery to everyone who comes under her influence, and unhappy and miserable herself.

Such women not only drive husbands from home but are wholly unfit to govern children.

The ills of women act like a fire brand upon the nerves, consequently seven-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, the "blues", sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some organic derangement.

Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness alternating with extreme irritability? Do you suffer from pains in the abdominal region, backache, bearing-down pains, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, and almost continually cross and snappy? If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous troubles of women than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

Mrs. Nellie Makham, of 151 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was a wreck from nervous prostration.

MRS. GEO. A. JAMES

I suffered so I did not care what became of me, and my family despaired of my recovery. Physicians failed to help me. I was urged to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I want to tell you that it has entirely cured me. I think it is the finest medicine on earth and I am recommending it to all my friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Geo. A. James, a life long resident of Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was in a terribly run down condition and had nervous prostration caused by female trouble. In fact I had not been well since my children were born. This condition worked on my nerves and I was irritable and miserable. I had tried many remedies without getting much help but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me back to health and strength. It has also carried me safely through the Change of Life. I cannot too strongly recommend your medicine."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to communicate promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

"Everything is growing—except cotton," says J. W. Sorrell, of the Farmers' Union, "and what that is going to do I don't know."

In our report of the subscriptions to the Cotton Association last week, W. H. Mullins was credited with only $1.00 when it should have been $5.00. Mistakes will happen in the best regulated households.

Birmingham is indulging in a strike this week, all the street cars are partially out of business, the men trying to force the company to recognize their union, which the latter declines to do. Everything is quiet so far.

The trustees of the Girls' Industrial school at Montevallo elected Prof. T. W. Palmer of the University of Alabama as president of that institution, and recognizing the valuable services of Prof. J. A. Moore created the office of vice-president and elected him to fill it. We congratulate Prof. Moore.

An electrical substitute has been found for the barber's scissors. The device consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be shorn, the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing.

A hundred years from now the chimney will be a thing of the past, predicts Thomas A. Edison. He says that the cities will be free from steam and smoke, while the waste of coal and fuel will be stopped through the use of electricity generated direct from the fuel without the aid of engine, boiler and dynamo. In factories each machine will have its individual motor. Houses will be heated by electricity and most of the city noises will cease. He prophesies steel and concrete sky-scrapers with bridged streets, wireless communications of all kinds and faster, safer and better transit from country to country.

The country newspaper office furnishes a rare opportunity for the education of young boys and girls—an opportunity that is hardly excelled by the best schools. Ask an old editor of a weekly newspaper how many boys he has started out in the world, and how they have succeeded in after years, and you will be surprised at the number and at the success in life achieved by so many. And they are generally boys who would not have had an opportunity for an education in any other way. —Montgomery Journal.

Nearly all home newspapers are loyal to home merchants and discourage the buying away from home or of mail order houses. Not all merchants are equally loyal to local printing offices, that generally are the most important departments or adjuncts of home newspapers. The Echo, of West Alexandria, Ohio, puts this on the basis of the golden rule, of doing as you would be done by, and says:

No business man has a vestige of argument to put to the mail order patron if he himself sends job printing away from a home-printed newspaper. Every time a job of printing is sent away from home the local paper is being antagonized.

There are thousands of men in this world, who are alway willing to accept any favor that may be extended but who are never willing to reciprocate and never see any obligation on their part, when their own interests are involved. Such men will take anything that good nature or law will give them and would steal if there were no danger of being caught. It is time for the enforcement of a little more of the golden rule in business as well as politics and everywhere else.—National Printer-Journalist.

MR. MIDDLETON'S DENIAL.

From the Montgomery Journal.

In a communication to the Union, published at Clanton, Mr. J. Osmond Middleton, who with Mr. J. C. Manning, has recently been making speeches in the north relative to the conditions in the south, denies the truthfulness of a statement attributed to him by a Boston paper. The statement, as we learn from his card, is as follows: "There are some bad black men where I came from, but for every one I will find you two white men who are worse."

Mr. Middleton says that the article from the Boston paper in question "is almost totally incorrect" and concludes: "In all my speeches and interviews while east all of my arguments and attacks on the Democratic party were based entirely on questions of principle, and at no time or place did I make such a wild statement as charged."

The Journal did not read the article to which Mr. Middleton refers and is based its own criticism of Mr. Middleton and Mr. Manning upon articles reprinted in Mr. Manning's own paper from the northern press as to what he and Mr. Manning did say in interviews and speeches, and which also appears in the Clanton Union this week, evidently with the endorsement and consent of Mr. Middleton.

In these articles Mr. Middleton and Mr. Manning are made to appear as making attacks, not on the Democracy alone, but on the Southern people, their methods and purposes, thus seeking to engender and fan the flames of sectional prejudice—arousing hatred of their own people among whom they live, the very white people Mr. Middleton proudly boasts elected him to the Legislature.

Mr. Middleton, according to an article clipped from the Boston Advertiser and reprinted in the Clanton Union, which we presume is correct, charged that the Democratic majority in the house of representatives defeated a bill proposed by him making the payment of the poll tax compulsory and eliminating that feature of the law as a qualification for voting, because they did not want the poor whites of the South educated. "Killing it," said Mr. Middleton, "put the Democrats in an inconsistent position as regards action on their platform calling for the education of the poor whites, for the compulsory poll tax would have netted $750,000 to be applied exclusively to the public schools. But they did not want the common people to be educated; they do not want them to vote."

What if the facts were as stated? What good is to come or expected of airing the alleged shortcomings of his own family before an unfriendly audience ready to believe any slander and scandal of his own section?

But Mr. Middleton has done his people and section a wrong. The truth is, the legislature that Mr. Middleton says did not want to educate the poor whites increased the appropriation to public schools nearly a half million dollars, and in addition, in order to encourage education among the poor, passed a bill appropriating $65,000 to build school houses for the poor. The legislature of which Mr. Middleton speaks so flippantly, did more for education than any previous legislature in the historyof the state.

Mr. Middleton could have well said to his northern hearers that his bill was defeated because the people of this state thought more of good and decent government than a government dominated by ignorant and vicious blacks; and that the white people preferred to tax themselves more and receive from the blacks less for the education of the blacks than to have ignorant blacks controling the destinies of the people of Alabama.

But, as we said before, we regret that Mr. Middleton and Mr. Manning have seen fit to go out from their homes and among strangers to speak ill of their own.

THE REASON

Why Upchurch Drug Co. Continues to Recommend Vinol

First: Because it is not a patent medicine and it contains besides tonic iron all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work; therefore, when old fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Second; Because Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates a healthy appetite, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, and in a natural manner, restores health and strength.

Third: Because Vinol contains no injurious drugs to react upon the system; every ingredient being named on the label, a patient knows exactly what he is taking.

Fourth: Because we never sold anything in our store that gave such universal satisfaction for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and to build up the system after a severe sickness, and for relieving hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our guarantee. Upchurch Drug co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Clanton, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

It has rained so much till the farmers are getting behind with their work, but they are taking advantage of these pretty sun-shiny days.

Everybody is invited to come to Mt. Carmel next Saturday morning for the purpose of cleaning off the cemetery.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. [illegible] Foshee and took away their little babe; its little body was laid away in Mt. Carmel cemetery Sunday last. I do not feel that I could speak a consoling word to those weeping ones, but weep not, dear friends, for our loss is heavy gain; the lord giveth and the lord taketh away.

Basil Klinner visited Mr. Nicholas Minor last Sunday.

Misses Everee Ratliff, Essie Hood and Etha Klinner visited Misses [illegible] and Ada Minor Sunday last and reported a nice time.

Mr. Nicholas Minor and charming sister, Miss Rosie, visited their cousin Mr. J. B. Chambers and family, recently.

DO YOU LOVE

your baby? You wonder why he cries. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he will never cry. Most babies have worms, and the mothers don't know it. White's Cream Vermifuge rids the child of worms and cleans out its system in a pleasant way. Every mother should keep a bottle of this medicine in the house. With it, fear need never enter her mind. Price 25c Sold by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thornby.

Jemison.

I am sorry that I caused the Editor to miss telling us his story last week and I will try to do more prompt hereafter.

Oh my, how the farmers are hustling to get their cotton planted again and their crops worked out. The farmers will come if they but have a chance.

Our town is on a boom these days. It is almost an assured fact that the Farmers' Union will locate and build a warehouse here, and Judge S. M. Adams was here last week working in interest of a bank to be located here. Our business men are most interested in both projects. With a bank, a warehouse and a fine health resort out on Eastside at Mineral Springs we can surely keep pace with the most progressive towns of the state. Let us keep the good things coming our way.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Huffman of Bessemer were the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Johnson last week. The Doctor, Mr. Huffman and party spending a part of the week out on Coosa river fishing. They report a nice time and by the way they brought in some nice fish.

Miss Knowls of Birmingham is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Reynolds, here.

Mr. J. D. Wright made a trip to Birmingham Monday.

Mrs. D. C. Hubbard has just returned from a visit to her son, Mr. V. L. Hubbard, at Brierfield.

Mrs. James Honeycutt is spending some time with her husband in Tennessee. She is accompanied by her children.

Miss Maggie Franklin of Mount Grove was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Caddell, last week.

Old Sandy.

The health of this community is tolerable good, and the people are very busy trying to get all done they can before it rains. Everybody seems to be behind with their work, but they ought to be very thankful it is no worse, and I suppose they are.

Quite a crowd enjoyed the sermon preached by Bro. Smitherman Sunday night at Pleasant Grove church. It seemed like everybody was interested in the sermon. We hope he will preach for us again.

Our Sunday school is still going on nicely, we are glad to see the people take an interest in the Sunday school.

The Shepherd mill hands are busy trying to get ready so they can hear the whistle blow.

We sure do welcome Mr. Frank Broadhead's family in our midst.

Mr. Ambrose Clinner and wife spent Sunday at Mr. John Bearden's.

Grandma Hall spent Sunday at her son's, Mr. Colton Hall's.

Mrs. P. G. Maness and Miss Ola Kelly spent Sunday at Mr. John Ellis'

Mr. Woodie McGee's family spent Sunday at their father's, Mr. Eugene McGee's.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Correct any constipation by giving small occasional doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, mild and sure.

These brands have been thoroughly tested by the most wide-awake farmers in the cotton states. Time is money; so don't waste your valuable time in trying NEW BRANDS that you know nothing about, when you can get these old established RELIABLE ONES.

None but the best and purest materials are used, such as raw and steamed bone, high grade bone phosphate, lime, dry and acidulated flesh from the slaughter houses of the West, dried blood, tankage, lime, fish scrap and pure forms of potash.

MECHANICAL CONDITION.

We desire that buyers will particularly notice the mechanical condition of these goods. They are manufactured many months before they are shipped out. They lie in bulk so that all the materials become thoroughly assimilated, and to this fact is their excellency largely due. All of these goods are carefully milled and screened before shipment.

ALL OF THESE GOODS ARE IN PERFECT MECHANICAL CONDITION and we believe that they are WORTH MORE MONEY to the farmer than goods that are not in perfect condition.

LABORERS NEEDED IN SOUTHERN MILLS

Plea Made Before Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

TURN TIDE OF IMMIGRATION.

Shortage in South So Great That Building is Almost at Standstill. Compared With Situation in New England States—Many Men Wanted.

Philadelphia, Pa.—With an attendance of nearly two thousand members, the eleventh annual convention of the National Cotton Manufacturers' Association opened here. In connection with the convention the cotton mills are exhibiting all the branches of their business at First Regiment armory. The association held a session this forenoon, and will hold another tomorrow morning, the afternoon and evening being given over to the exhibition and to many entertainments provided by the local members of the organization. Today's session was devoted almost entirely to the reading of papers on subjects connected with the cotton industry. Arthur H. Lowe, president of the association, in his annual address said it was to be regretted that the honest efforts made in perfect good faith by some of the cotton manufacturers to divert the flow of immigrants from the cities where they are not wanted to the South, where there is need for labor, should have offered "opportunity to the government officials at the behest of labor organizations to prosecute the manufacturers.

"The labor situation is the most important problem before the cotton manufacturers today," said Mr. Lowe. "The shortage in the south is so great that cotton mill building is almost at a standstill compared with what it is in New England states."

E. J. Watson, commissioner of immigration of South Carolina, said the time has come for the American manufacturer and the American laborer, without regard of section, to join hands and eliminate the political demagogue whose mission in life seems to be to array labor against capital and section against section without regard to any other interest than his own petty political advancement. He suggested that desirable immigrants be brought directly into the South through a southern port of entry.

Among others who spoke at today's session were James W. Burke, of the National Export Association of American Manufacturers; Dr. W. E. Frances, director of the Philadelphia textile school, and E. W. Robertson, Columbia, S. C.

Bomb Exploded.

New York.—A Rome dispatch to the Journal says that a bomb exploded at Pontelagoscuro, near Ferarra, near a merry-go-round. Three children were wounded. A man named Antonio, the supposed bearer of the bomb, was arrested.

The royal train from Venice was due to pass Pontelagoscuro a few minutes after the explosion. Antonio refused to explain his presence, which occasions the belief that he intended to attempt the king's life. The train stopped just outside Pontelagoscuro.

It is believed the police received warning at the last minute and stopped the train.

Cotton Seed Famine.

New Orleans.—The Picayune advices from Baton Rouge say that cotton seed is becoming so scarce that farmers who have sold seed to oil mills are telephoning the mills begging to buy it back. As many as three plantings, made necessary by the phenomenal rains in some sections, have brought planters to the verge of a seed famine. Several cotton seed oil mills have closed down because of the scarcity.

Cattle Quarantine.

Huntsville.—G. W. Browning, cattle quarantine officer for the government, has leased ten acres of ground in West Huntsville, and will establish a quarantine station. Cattle will be brought to this station for treatment, and the station will probably maintain a pasturage of 500 acres in this locality.

Magoon Spends $4,000,000.

Washington.—Information has been received at the war department that Governor Magoon is making plans to carry out contracts for extensive road improvements in Cuba. The Cuban congress passed a bill authorizing the expenditure of $5,000,000 for this work. Governor Magoon has reduced this sum to $4,000,000, and will begin the work in the province of Pinar del Rio, the principal tobacco region.

Plague in India.

Simla, British India.—The government returns show that the deaths from the plague throughout India for the six weeks ending May 11 reached the appalling total of 451,392. In the Punjab alone 236,777 deaths occurred.

Evergreen.—The residence of Mrs. Eunice Sampey was burned Friday morning. The fire so alarmed Mrs. Bobbins, the aged mother of Mrs. Sampey, that she died from fright.

FORTUNE FOUND BY WORKMEN.

Iron Box in Debris Contained $116,740 in Erie Bonds.

Cleveland, O.—Erie railroad bonds worth $116,740 and $675 in blackened gold coins were found Thursday when the rusted tin box which Contractor B. W. Hollingsworth recently unearthed in the ruins of the century-old Ohio City Inn, at 2811 Detroit avenue, N. W., was forced open.

The original owner of the treasure was George C. Moran, who mysteriously disappeared in 1874. A heap of charred bones, found several days before the box was dug up by Hollingsworth in a bricked-in fireplace, further went to substantiate the theory that Moran was murdered.

Originally the bonds had a par value of $40,000. Accumulated interest, dividends and market rises have brought their value up to $116,740.

Because he was to have all the material in the building as compensation for tearing it down, Hollingsworth, the contractor, claimed the entire contents of the box. He finally, however, compromised with the present owner of the property and divided the gold with him. The bonds have been placed in the custody of United States Judge Tyler, who will hold the bonds for five years while search is being made for Moran's heirs.

JAPANESE SOLDIERS FOR FRANCE

Secret Agreement Applying to European War—Great Britain Also.

St. Petersburg.—The Paris correspondent of the Russ in a dispatch published Friday announced that he had obtained information from authentic sources to the effect that the Franco-Japanese agreement now in course of negotiation will contain secret conditions applying to the eventuality of an European war and binding Japan to place at the disposal of France 300,000 men, while the British will land a contingent of 100,000 to 150,000 men. Great Britain and France, it is added, not only guarantee the inviolability of Japanese territory, but also engage to float several loans. The statements made are received with incredibility in diplomatic circles here.

CASTRO IS ACCUSED.

President of Venezuela is Charged With Murder.

New York.—Hector Lucius Paredes, brother of General Antonio Paredes, who was killed on February 15, after he had led an insurrection against President Castro, it is announced, has forwarded to the high federal court and court of cassation at Caracas a petition accusing Castro of murder, and demanding that he be placed on trial.

The documents of accusation show first that capital punishment being abolished, Article XVII of the Constitution of Venezuela guarantees the inviolability of life; second, that the president of the republic can be punished for common crime; and, thirdly, that President Castro had ordered the killing of General Paredes.

Strike on the Isthmus.

Panama.—The strike of the steam shovelers demanding $300 per month instead of their present salary of $210, continues.

Colonel Goethals, the chief engineer, is endeavoring to replace the strikers with mechanics now employed in the shops, an dit is reported that he has sent a cablegram to Jackson Smith, the member of the canal commission in charge of labor, to contract for engineers in the United States.

Talk of Dollar Wheat.

St. Paul, Minn.—Oliver Dalrymple, of this city, who is reputed to be the greatest of all bonanza wheat raisers in North Dakota, so far as acreage goes, in an interview said: "It looks as if the United States would be 100,000,000 bushels short on the aggregate crop, and Europe about the same. If that is true, present prices do not look too high. I wouldn't be surprised if those who predict wheat well above $1 should be right."

$10,000 Stolen From Topeka Bank.

Topeka, Kas.—Officials of the Citizens' Bank of North Topeka have admitted that the safe had been entered some time between Saturday night last and Monday morning and robbed of $10,000.

Distribute Babies in New Orleans.

New Orleans, La.—Fifty-eight babies and children under 7 years of age, from New York's charitable institutions, were distributed in New Orleans and Louisiana Friday. The children are one of several consignments to this state. A train load, carrying about 100 children, arrived here about two weeks ago. Still more are to come, especially babies.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Wearing Homespun.

Asheville, N. C.—In order to encourage and revive the almost lost art of hand weaving among the mountain women of the Blue Ridge mountains, Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt has taken to wearing homespun material. Mrs. Vanderbilt appeared in Asheville a few days ago in a homespun gown. It started a fad for homespuns among the women of the town and has resulted in just what Mrs. Vanderbilt had

ABRAHAM RUEF DENIES THAT HE LIED.

"Boss" Answers the Statement by Mayor Schmitz.

SCHMITZ HAS NOT RESIGNED

But He is Bound Hereafter to Carry Out the Wishes of the Committee of Seven in Administering the Affairs of the City.

San Francisco.—Although Abraham Ruef was on the verge of a collapse when he was excused from the witness stand in the grand jury room he passed a restful night, and Saturday morning accompanied Elisor Biggy on a brisk walk through the Presidio reservation. Asked as to the statement by Mayor Schmitz that Ruef had "lied" in stating that he had paid bribes to the mayor, Ruef declined to comment other than to say that his statement was made under oath and could be depended upon.

Notwithstanding the many contradictory stories told about the scope and power of the committee of seven, it is now generally conceded that the administration of municipal affairs in this city is at least to some extent in its hands. In a written agreement Mayor Schmitz has bound himself, it is said, to carry out any request which this committee, made up of representatives of five leading commercial organizations of the city, may make of him, and the committee has already begun an investigation into the conduct of the police department, and will gradually extend the scope of its actions to other branches of the municipal government. Its object is to make a thorough inquiry into the conditions that exist in various branches of the city government and to make such changes in personnel and method as shall be judged necessary.

"We hold Mayor Schmitz's written promise to carry out the wishes and instructions of the committee in administering the affairs of the city," said F. W. Van Sicklen, a member of the committee of seven.

"Mayor Schmitz has not resigned. All reports to the contrary are erroneous. If we demand the removal of the chief of police or any commissioner or any official connected with the city government, he must remove those whom we designate or go back on his written promise. The only hold we have on him is his promise. If he disregards that we can do nothing, but I believe he will do anything the committee asks. I believe that he is not only willing, but anxious to do what we want."

TONNAGE BASIS FOR STEEL MEN.

Amalgamated Association Will Adopt Wage Scale.

Toledo, O.—The scale placing all the men in the steel, iron and tin mills on the tonnage basis and the sliding scale was adopted by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers in convention here Saturday. Prior to the closing of the convention President McArdle will appoint a scale committee to present the scale to the employers.

Twenty Persons Injured.

Cincinnati.—Twenty persons were injured in a head-on collision on the Cincinnati Southern Traction Line one mile south of Hamilton, north and southbound traction cars coming together with enough force to wreck both cars. Fortunately none of the injured was seriously.

Arrow Follow Many Big Fires.

Hoisington, Kan.—Fire bugs set fire to the [illegible] house Thursday night, but the fire department put out the flames with little loss. Only a few minutes later the entire contents of the Elmore lumber yards were ablaze, destroying property amounting to $20,000. Four men have been arrested.

Harriman Uses Foreign Labor.

London.—E. H. Harriman, the American railway magnate, will experiment with Chinese and Russians as workmen building a line in Mexico, and 1,400 laborers are now on their way from Vladivostok to Mexico for that purpose.

Takes Nineteen Drinks and Dies.

St. Louis, Mo.—To prove his capacity for whisky Thomas Taylor, a negro [illegible] driver, wager Friday that he could drink a large quantity of liquor. He consumed nineteen drinks without a break, according to a wager, and died seven hours later.

Fairbanks Breaks Speed Record.

Philadelphia.—An automobile in which the vice-president of the United States was riding from the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel on the Pennsylvania railroad station was held up by a policeman for speeding.

First Spike Driven on A., B. & A.

The first spike in the new road of the A., B. & A. on Alabama soil was driven at 10 o'clock on Friday morning by Major W. A. Hanley at Boaz. The Chattahoochee was crossed a day or two ago, and the work of putting down the rails on the road to Birmingham was commenced Friday. Major Hanley removed the first shovel of dirt when the grading commenced, and he was selected by President A[illegible]

SEVENTY-ONE RESCUED.

Had Been in Coal Mine a Day and a Half.

Evansville, Ind.—A special from Madison, Ky., says: Seventy-one men were rescued from the Royal coal mines near this city Saturday, after having been underground for a day and a half. The rope attached to the big cage in hoisting the cars from the mines broke and the cage fell to the bottom, bursting into small bits and blocking the entrance so that it was impossible for the workmen to get out. A rope was lowered into the air shaft and the men were pulled out one by one. The men rescued were unhurt.

Pierce Goes to New York.

St. Louis, Mo.—Having been released under bonds of $40,000 pending hearing by the United States court of appeals and the federal supreme court, H. Clay Pierce, president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, left Wednesday night for New York. Sheriff Mathews, of Texas, who came to St. Louis to take Pierce to Austin, has also departed for home.

Lady Mangled by Car.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Mrs. S. A. Davis, a well-known lady living in Highland Park, a suburb of Chattanooga, was struck by a street car on McCallie avenue Saturday. Her body was badly mangled and her physicians say she cannot live. Mrs. Davis stepped out of the way of one car directly in front of another.

Roasted Alive.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Patrick Smith, aged 30, was roasted alive in one of the Lackawanna Steel Company's blast furnaces Friday night. When Smith's body was rescued from the molten mass of coke and pig iron in the furnace it was burned to a crisp. Smith thought he was going down into a dead furnace to light the gas.

"Baroness" Gets Seven Years.

New York.—Anisia Louise De Massey, popularly known as the "Baroness De Massey," recently convicted of having shot and killed Gustav Simon, a Broadway shirt waist manufacturer, was sentenced to serve seven years and five months in the state prison for women at Auburn.

Clement Killed by Automobile.

Dieppe, France.—Albert Clement, son of the well-known automobile builder, was killed instantly during a run in preparation of the Automobile Club's grand prize, which is to be competed for on July 2. Clement was thrown out of his automobile at a sharp turn and sustained a fracture of the skull.

Commission Will Probe Leaks.

Washington, D. C.—The interstate commerce commission is on the warpath. The members are indignant over the publication of the confidential report of its special counsel in the Harriman case. A rigid investigation is going on in view of disclosing the "leaks."

Big Increase for Operatives.

Fall River, Mass.—Ten per cent increase in wages was announced to the employes of the Iron Work Mills, which is one of the seven great cotton mills owned by C. M. Borden, of New York. This mill is being operated by an outside operator's agreement. The raise is effective May 27.

60,000 Men Strike at Berlin.

Berlin, Germany.—A lockout in the building trades began here Friday afternoon, all attempts to effect a compromise having proved fruitless. About 60,000 men are directly affected, and 40,000 are affected indirectly by the movement.

Dislocates Jaw in Falling to Deck.

New York.—While waving a greeting to his brother from the White Star liner Adriatic as she came into port Friday afternoon Richard C. Kerens, Jr., son of Republican Committeeman Kerens, of St. Louis, slipped on the deck and dislocated his jaw.

Exhibit of Talladega Marble.

The exhibit of Talladega marble at the Jamestown Exposition is attracting wide attention. The space allotted to the exhibit is sufficient, and all persons viewing it comment not only on the beautiful grade of marble, but the artistic manner in which the exhibit is displayed. Signor Moretti, that it is difficult to convince visitors that it is Talladega marble, quarried and worked in Alabama, many insist

DISCUSSES AFRICAN COTTON.

Say the Plant Grows Very High, But Will Not Fruit.

Montgomery.—Robert Trey, who is in Montgomery after an absence of 41 years, having left just after the war between the States, says of his own knowledge that cotton will not grow to commercial excellence in South Africa. He tells of the experiments made by friends and by government officials, and says that while the plant will grow very high, it runs to stalk, and will not fruit.

Under his observation lands were prepared carefully and made in every way for the reception and germination of the seed. The plant was then put in and watched carefully. They came up and the stalk grew rapidly. It had blossoms of yellow, and the stalks were as large as a man's arm. After a short time the blooms would fall off, leaving no pods and of course no cotton.

Hailstones as Large as Baseballs.

Tuscumbia.—Reports come from Cherokee, this county, of a heavy and destructive hail storm which visited that vicinity a few days ago. It is said to have been the fiercest and most damaging storm of the kind ever witnessed. The crops of corn and cotton, [illegible] vegetables, yard shrubbery, etc., were beaten down, fruit trees dismembered, windows shattered and all kinds of damage inflicted. The hailstones are reported to have been as large as goose eggs, and by some as large as baseballs. One report is that several hogs were killed and several yearlings crippled. After the storm had subsided, numbers of the housewives gathered up the stones by the bucketful, which they used in freezing ice cream.

Queer Freight.

Selma.—A queer load of freight was received in Selma Wednesday, and was immediately rushed on to its destination in Kansas. The freight consisted of a carload of turtles, alligators, sharks, snakes and other denizens of the deep and swamps. The car came from Jacksonville, Fla., and reached here via Rome, and was immediately attached to a freight train and sent on to Meridian, from which point it will be taken to Kansas. This load of queer freight will be used as exhibits at fairs that will be held throughout Kansas.

To Boom Their Towns.

New Decatur.—The Commercial Club has elected Baynard L. Malone president and Eli P. Jennings secretary. This club has started a movement to raise a fund for advertising and reaching out after new manufacturing enterprises. Each member contributes monthly a certain amount to the fund. For some time the Decatur have been making no special effort looking to the location of factories, but the two cities have had a most remarkable growth during the past few years.

Claims to be 113 Years of Age.

Decatur.—"Uncle John" Tate, who is the oldest negro in this portion of the state, if not in the entire state, was in the city recently. He claims to be 113 years of age, and says he can prove his age by papers and by several living white people. He lives on a plantation in Limestone county, only a few miles across the Tennessee river from Decatur. He formerly belonged to a Mr. John Tate, who was one of the oldest white inhabitants of this portion of the state.

Alabama Peach Crop.

Montgomery.—M. M. Dawson, a peach grower and one of the best posted men of the state on peach culture, says that the crop this year is about one-fourth. However, he is of the opinion they will be better than last year and sell for a greater price. Mobile section reports better conditions than any other part of the state. The crop is also very late, made so by the unseasonable weather.

Boy Kicked by Mule.

Tuscaloosa.—News has reached here Saturday evening at Windham Springs, 22 miles from town. Howard Lollar, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lollar, was kicked by a mule and almost killed. His skull was broken on the side and near the top. On last Sunday morning [illegible] Gibson and Gaines removed the broken part of the bone and the little fellow seems to be doing well.

Cotton Spinners on Foreign Trade.

Philadelphia.—Thursday was an important day in the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, although the session ended Wednesday. The manufacturers interested in export trade conferred to discuss plans to overcome the obstacles in the way of the foreign cotton markets.

The first almanac was printed in Hungary in 1478.

LAWYERS CANNOT COLLECT.

Fee Was Nine Hundred Dollars More Than Land Sold For.

Montgomery.—A [illegible] The general has ruled that [illegible] ter, lawyers of this city cannot collect $5,900 fees for the conveyance of state land in Mobile county. There are two acts, one providing that land can't be sold for a less sum than will pay all the fees and another whereby payment may be made on approval of the purchase, certain charges, but no provision is made for lawyers' fees. There is no authority to pay it out of the funds as the lands were only sold for $1 an acre and the lawyers claim $900 of that amount. The case has attracted much attention, and is likely to set a precedent in land sale transactions.

Another Gas Well.

Huntsville.—The fourth [illegible] gas well within a short distance of the corporate limits of the city [illegible] vinced the oil and gas experts are here that this is one of the best gas fields in the United States. The people of Huntsville had become excited over the discovery, but have come to the conclusion that the boom is about to come to an end. CAPT. J. M. FALKNER

He Was the Well-Known Attorney for the L. & N.

Montgomery, Ala.—Capt. Manly Falkner, a well-known confederate veteran of this city, for many years was district attorney for the Louisville and Nashville, after whom has been named the confederate camp of this city, and who was founded at Mountain Creek, a home for the needy and worthy confederate veterans, died suddenly at his home at Mountain Creek.

Captain Falkner was a native of Alabama, being born in Perry county in 1843. He is survived by wife and two sons, one brother and one sister.

LAWYERS CANNOT COLLECT

Fee Was Nine Hundred Dollars More Than Land Sold For.

Montgomery, Ala.—The attorney general has ruled that Gunter Gunter, lawyers of this city, cannot collect $5,900 fees for the conduct of the sale of state land in Mobile county. There are two acts, one providing that land can't be sold for a less amount than will pay all the fees and another whereby payment may be made on approval of the governor of certain charges, but no power is made for lawyers' fees. Hence there is no authority to pay in excess of $100 as the lands were only sold for $1,000 and the lawyers claim $900 in addition of that amount. The case has attracted much attention, and is thought will set a precedent in land sale decisions.

Another Gas Well.

Huntsville.—The fourth gas well within a short distance of the corporate limits of the city has convinced the oil and gas experts that are here that this is one of the greatest gas fields in the United States. The people of Huntsville had never been excited over the discovery, but now have come to the conclusion that a boom is about to come upon them. The Business Men's League has received dozens of inquiries from manufacturing concerns that use gas in their process of manufacture, and the League is getting ready to offer inducements to some of them.

Killed by Wife and Child.

Union Springs.—A negro, Silas Johnson, had been missing from his home near here for about a week, when several days ago his dead body was found in a ditch about a hundred yards from his home, partly covered with water and dirt. His throat was cut. Deputy Sheriff Knight went out to hold an inquest, and upon investigation arrested the wife and daughter of the dead man. They confessed to having killed him because of his cruelty to them.

Dispensers Chosen.

Tuscumbia, Ala.—Leighton and Cherokee town councils met Wednesday night and selected as dispensers James H. Spangler in the former place and W. W. Carter in the latter. These appointments complete the list of dispensers for Colbert county, who are O. Clark, Tuscumbia; J. M. Sheffield; James H. Spangler, Leighton, and W. W. Carter, Cherokee. They will enter upon their duties 1st next, when the dispensaries begin.

Government to Build Road.

Tuscaloosa.—Congressman Hobson and his party of experts from Washington addressed a large crowd at the court house here. Captain Hobson stated that he had succeeded in getting the government to build a piece of road at Tuscaloosa, and the state board of public works would select the location immediately.

Will Gather Statistics.

Athens.—R. M. Rawls, editor of the Courier, has been appointed a special agent of the census department to gather the statistics of marriages and divorces in this county for the past 25 years, and will at once begin the work, which requires a search of the records for that period. He has been under the civil service for some time, acting as a special agent of the census department, securing the cotton, etc.

Alabama Dental Association Adjourns.

TWO MOTHERS FOR ONE BABY.

Baby Child is Registered by Two Families.

Paris.—An amusing story comes from Quimper, in Brittany, where the wife of a man named Le Roux last week gave birth to a boy. The father took the child and sold it for $20 to the wife of the local butcher, Mme. Bonan. The woman presented it to her husband as her own newly-born infant, and Bonan hastened to register the child's birth. Le Roux, fearing that he might get into trouble with the police, next consulting the butcher, whom he supposed to be a party to the fraud. The duped husband threw Le Roux out of the house. The latter then registered the birth of his own child. In the eye of the law, therefore, the infant has claims on two separate families and enjoys the unique distinction of being the son of two mothers.

Decrease in Export of Canned Beef.

Washington, D. C.—Continued decrease in the exportation of canned beef is shown in a statement issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. The falling off in this trade is not confined to any one country, but is general. The exports of canned beef for April last amounted to 893,017 pounds, against 4,121,000 pounds in the same month of last year. For the ten months ending with April the exportations showed but 13,032,703 pounds, against 56,730,873 pounds during a similar period last year.

Expedition Against Colombia.

Havana.—Reports have reached here through the Colombian government that a filibustering expedition against Colombia is being formed near Cienfuegos. The cruiser Des Moines has been ordered to the scene to watch for the expedition. The plotters against President Reyes, it is stated, have purchased a quantity of arms left over from the revolution in Cuba a year ago.

Arkansas Governor Declared Insane.

Little Rock, Ark.—Gov. NEW YORK ASSEMBLY PASSES UTILITIES BILL

Not a Single Vote Was Recorded Against the Measure.

MANY AMENDMENTS REJECTED

Senate to Make Such Changes Only as Are Approved by the Governor —One Concession Granted on Trolley Extensions.

Albany, N. Y.—The Merritt Public Utilities bill passed the Assembly, every one of the 140 members present voting for it. Thirteen amendments were offered to the measure by the Independence League and Democratic members. They were all defeated by a party vote and the bill put through in the form approved by the Governor.

Most of the amendments offered were drawn by Attorney-General Jackson, and embodied the principles of the Independence League Public Utilities bill introduced by Assemblyman Foley. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The first amendment, calling for the election of the commissioners by a vote of the people, was offered by Assemblyman Robert Wagner. In support of his amendment Mr. Wagner said:

The principle of centralization of power and government by the commissions is in direct contradiction of the theories of our republican form of government."

Assemblyman A. E. Smith offered an amendment calling for the appointment of the New York City Commission by the Mayor of the city.

The provisions of the bill, which prevent New York City from constructing and operating its own lighting plant without the consent of the commission, were stricken out by amendments which Assemblyman Stern sought to have adopted.

Assemblyman Kellei sought to amend the bill to make the Attorney-General the counse' of the commission.

Assemblyman Glynn, of Monroe, offered an amendment preventing the proposed commissions from interfering in any way with railroad employes during the time of labor troubles.

Assemblyman Stratton, of Chenango, offered an amendment which prohibits any holding company from acquiring stock in a public service corporation. Mr. Harowitz also offered an amendment against the formation of mergers.

An amendment to relieve New York City from the burden of maintaining the upstate commission was offered by Assemblyman J. A. Foley.

Assemblyman Bohan offered an amendment prohibiting a railroad corporation from engaging in any other business than that of operating a railroad.

Assemblyman Dobbs spoke in favor of court review and offered an amendment to that end.

The only Republican who attacked the bill in the debate was Assemblyman Prentice. He opposed the control of the corporations by the commissions.

A vote ranging from fifty-one to fifty-four yeas and ninety-eight nays was recorded against each of the Democratic caucus amendments, and then Mr. Cuvelier got his amendments before the House. They were rejected by a vote of yeas, 19; nays, 119.

The roll call resulted in a unanimous vote for the bill. When it was announced James Oliver rose and with a low bow toward the reporters' seats, said:

"I extend my congratulations to the press of the State for their success in passing this bill."

Simultaneously with the passage of the bill through the Assembly came the news that Governor Hughes had consented to an amendment, which will probably be made by the Senate Committee on Judiciary. This amendment deals with trolley extensions in the interior of the State and was the result of frantic and almost tearful appeals to the Governor by capitalists in interior New York.

Under the bill no trolley extensions can be made from the time of the passage of the bill until they have been considered and approved by the Public Service Commissioners, after they take office and begin work on July 1. At the same time there are many trolley companies that have obtained consents of property owners, and of the State Railroad Commission, which have issued bonds and borrowed the money for the extensions. All this work would have to be held in abeyance. Governor Hughes for a long time refused to make any concessions in this or any other matter. He felt that if he once yielded it would be an entering wedge, and he would have great difficulty in protecting the bill against other amendments.

Damage No Bar to Business.

Financiers, mercantile men and the promoters of business enterprises generally are going ahead with their plans, sure that whatever percentage of failure is shown on the net ultimate returns the farmers naturally will be reimbursed by the increased prices they will receive for their produce. This being the case, it is figured the regular lines of business will thrive much the same as during the last few years.

Will Spend $10,000 on Lucy Cobb.

Athens.—The trustees of Lucy Cobb Institute are to expend at an early date $10,000 on the remodeling and repairing of all the buildings of the institute grounds. This improvement will include a steam-heating plant and other necessary equipment for the more perfect comfort of the girls who attend there. The work will begin this summer.

WOMAN'S ACTIVITY IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GIRL TEACHER VINDICATED FOR ADJUSTING GARTERS

Says Charges Are Result of "Spite Work" by Jealous Women.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Charged with adjusting her garters in the presence of the pupils, Miss Pearl Gray, principal and teaching staff combined of the public school in Chardon, was triumphant in a trial before the Board of Education of the pretty little suburb. The trial was marked by much display of bitterness on the part of a score of women. They expressed their disapproval of the verdict in direct and forceful terms, and one indignant matron was applauded when she exclaimed: "It just goes to show what a woman who's said to be pretty can do with a trial board composed entirely of men. I'd like to have been on that board."

Miss Gray took her victory quietly. She said it was only what she had expected, and intimated that the charg were the result of "spite work" and she further expressed the opinion that there "are a lot of jealous wo en cats in Chardon." Asked for an explanation, Miss Gray said she co talk if she wanted to, but the fa was she didn't. The significance f her statement, however, may lie the fact that Miss Gray is conced by one-half of the population of Chardon, at least, to be the prettiest young woman in the town.

There we six charges in all against the young teacher. First, of course, came the allegation that she frequently raised her skirts a few inches in adjusting her garters. Then, in turn, were read the separate counts, that she ten immodestly arranged her skirts in the presence of the pupils; that she was in the habit of sitting with he t on her desk while she read nov that she used improper language; as janitor of the school, in add to principal and teaching staff, irdened the taxpayers by burning much coal.

Five children, ram from seven to thirteen years of a ere called, as witnesses, but the ed of no avail, because their rec eir testimony as if they were ng a familiar lesson to Miss

Miss Gray was easy smiling on the stand. She ge he witness chair until her back turned to the hostile female con nt, and then she beamed her pr st upon her judges. These vene le guardians of Chardon's moral tus con-tinued to face the fair ness in dignified sternness, but it assert-ed by more than one of t aggressive matrons that the judg relaxed in sympathetic smiles and n nods of approval to the teacher.

It took the board just f minutes to absolve Miss Gray m all suspicion. She bowed her ks to each member of the board, then, in all the radiance of her summer attire, she swept past the athful women, without defacing give them a look.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WIVES MAKE GOOD DEPUTY SHERIFFS

State Finds Them Successful in Protecting Children and Animals From Cruelty.

Nashua, N. H.—The unique experiment of the State of New Hampshire to induce better enforcement of the laws regarding cruelty to children and animals by appointing two women as deputy sheriffs seems to have fully demonstrated its success by the reports made by Mrs. Jennie P. Powers, of Keene, and Mrs. M. Jennie Kendall, of Nashua, and will lead, it is believed, to several other such appointments.

The work of both women is confined almost wholly to the enforcement of laws protecting children and animals from cruelty. Mrs. Powers has Cheshire County under her jurisdiction, while Mrs. Kendall is responsible for Hillsboro County. The former devotes her time exclusively to the work of prosecuting wrongdoers, while Mrs. Kendall's time is only partially taken up by the work, her home demanding the rest of her time.

Armed with a camera and a revolver of heavy calibre, and thoroughly versed in the law covering her powers and duties, Mrs. Powers has gone fearlessly about her work, and in the last year has made sixteen arrests, killed forty-one horses and caused numerous prosecutions. Using her camera to obtain indisputable evidence, she notifies wrongdoers of the law and their duty. Failure to kill a maimed animal or a continuance of cruel treatment is followed at once by arrest and prosecution, Mrs. Powers personally assuming the responsibility of putting the animal out of the way or obtaining relief.

Mrs. Kendall has confined most of her activities to Nashua and the immediate vicinity, where she has caused many arrests for cruelty to children and animals, followed by prosecution in the courts, and has had many animals killed.

"I often find it necessary to make arrests," said Mrs. Powers, "and have locked up many offenders, including a number of men. I have a team and a driver and thus far have not met with any resistance when arresting a person. I usually inform a man or woman that I have been authorized to make the arrest, at the same time emphasizing the fact that any resistance will involve a greater penalty. As a rule this has been sufficient."

Both deputies are constantly seeking new means of bettering conditions for which they are responsible. They visited Lowell last week to inspect a new gas system for the painless killing of animals, a method they purpose to introduce into New Hampshire, and at the same time consulted a Massachusetts veterinary with a view of having him visit New Hampshire and give lectures.

Woman Justice Cuts "Obey" and Substitutes "Agree."

Chicago.—Mrs. Catherine W. McCulloch, the only woman justice of the peace in this State and also judge, has decided to leave out the word "obey" in performing marriage ceremonies.

"That is a word that has outlived its usefulness," said she. "No man or woman expects the person he or she is going to marry to keep such a promise. I believe that instead of the word 'obey' I will use the word 'agree.' That's the one thing that brides and bridegrooms should decide to do. If they always strive to agree there will be no need of 'obeying.'"

Why He Was Going to Die.

There is one jovial member of the Chicago Board of Trade who, despite his strenuous life, has attained the age of 66.

One day a number of friends on the Exchange were congratulating the elderly member upon his birthday. "You'll live to be 100," said one.

"No-o," said the old chap, with a sigh. "I'm going to die very soon—I know it."

"What on earth makes you think that?" demanded the friends in chorus.

"Do you suppose that death is such a fool," asked the old fellow, "to take me at 100 when he can get me at sixty odd?"—Harper's Weekly.

Dog Yarn From Maine.

Dr. S. W. Bragg of Lincoln has a dog that takes the cake for canine intelligence in that town, where all the dogs are bright. He is a big black fellow and his special accomplishment is carrying parcels, etc., in his mouth. The doctor opens the door on a frosty morning and says, "Jeff, go down to the postoffice and get the mail." Forthwith Jeff trots off, or more likely runs at top speed, and soon returns with the mail matter in his mouth. If the door is closed, he makes his presence known by some very vigorous barking, which barking continues until the door is opened. Jeff—he was named after Jeff Davis—also goes to the butcher shop and brings home steak, never troubling the contents of the package.—Kennebec Journal.

FIT THE GROCER

Wife Made the Suggestion.

A grocer has excellent opportunity to know the effects of special foods on his customers. A Cleveland grocer has a long list of customers that have been helped in health by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

He says, regarding his own experience: "Two years ago I had been drinking coffee and must say that I was almost wrecked in my nerves.

"Particularly in the morning I was so irritable and upset that I could hardly wait until the coffee was served, and then I had no appetite for breakfast and did not feel like attending to my store duties.

"One day my wife suggested that inasmuch as I was selling so much Postum there must be some merit in it and suggested that we try it. I took home a package and she prepared it according to directions. The result was a very happy one. My nervousness gradually disappeared and to-day I am all right. I would advise everyone afflicted in any way with nervousness or stomach trouble, to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee." "There's a Reason." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

New Prospect.

The health of this community is not good, but I hope they will all soon recover.

The Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely. We have preaching once a month on the second Sunday and Saturday before by Rev Hudson.

We have been having lots of rain and it is putting farmers behind with their work, but it is good enough for us, we ought to do better and God would bless us more. We have a great privilege in the world if we would take advantage of it. We have good preaching and good Sunday schools to go to and we ought to go and carry our children and learn them to love the Lord and study about something good instead of something that isn't good. We ought to do the very best we can, and that isn't much. M. B.

"Only a glass of wine,
Sparkling, rosy and bright;
Drink, for I kissed its crystal rim,
And dream of me love tonight."

Oh! woman has power to bind,
The noblest hearts enthrall
"Only a glass of wine" was quaffed;
Ah, God! would that were all.

Only a wretched form
Staggering through the night,
Leaving on wife and child unborn
"Only a glass of wine," at first.

Ah, me! what a potent spell
Must lie entombed
In the fragrant wine,
Ensnaring thoughts to quell!

Only a drunken brute
Found in the gutter, dead,
While a wife and newborn babe
Are dying from lack of bread!

"Only a glass of wine?" No! No!
Away with the tempter's thrall,
For worse is a demon dire that robs
Of God and manhood and all.

Can you imagine a young girl with oh, such a pleasing look on her beautiful face, holding a glass of wine temptingly before a young man, her lover. Hear her say: "Only a glass of wine," see she bids him drink. See him hesitate. He has never taken a drink, but it is so hard to resist the pleading look and tone of the one he loves. Hear her even now. "Drink, for I kissed its crystal rim. Drink, and dream of me love, tonight." He can resist no longer; he drains the glass. That is the first drink. She has worked her own ruin, and his also. See him go on from bad to worse, until he fills a drunkard's grave, while she (now the wife of him she tempted with "only a glass of wine") and her helpless babe "are dying from lack of bread." Who has she to blame? Surely not him who was "found in the gutter dead." Oh, girls, we speak of the boys and men drinking, but we are sometimes more responsible than we think. If we do not hold up the wine glass we do encourage them in other ways. Some of us by accepting their company when they are drunk, and never say a word against drink in their hearing. Sometimes home is so unpleasant that the boys seek pleasure elsewhere, and naturally take up bad habits. I will ring off wishing the Banner and its many readers success. BONNIE ROSE.

Kincheon.

Health is good at present.

The farmers are getting along nicely with their work, but crops are sorry for the time of year, but our Master knows best.

Well, how is the dispensary? It has a new law; when we go and buy whiskey get drunk and raise sand, the marshal arrests us, then tries before the mayor and he fines $16.55. The next thing we you are going around beg we farmers to buy your whisk and pay the fine for the one y rested to keep him off of the s. Is that the way you are to do us? If it is we will cha in December. What are you t ing about good people? Are you g to let them run that over us? re you going to stop it in Dece er? It is time to think about it be ready for that time when it omes. Come again, A Voter.

I am glad to get the good old Banner en it comes. AMO.

Billingsley.

Health is not good in our town. There is 15 or 20 cases of mumps in town.

Fishing is all the go now. There was a fishing picnic at the coal chute Friday by the ladies of Billingsley. The party consisted of the following ladies: Mrs. E. H. Downs, Mrs. J. C. Grimes, Mrs. W. W. Carter, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. W. L. Price. They report a nice time.

Two ladies of our town were called upon to visit a sick child, a mile out of town. A buggy and horse was riged up, and instructions were given them how to go. They started off very merrily, talking as they went, and when they got through talking they were at Big Springs church, some six miles below Billingsley.

I see a good deal is said about the dispensary in Clanton. You will find my sentiment in the following lines: "A man's life is full of crosses and temptations, he comes into this world without his consent and goes out against his will, and the trip between the two is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contraries is one of the important features of the trip. When he is little the big girls kiss him, but when he is grown the little girls kiss him. If he raises a large family he is a chump, but if he raises a small check he is a thief, if he is poor he is a bad manager, if he is rich he is dishonest, if he is in politics it's for pie, if he is out of politics you can't place him, and he is no good for his country, if he doesn't give to charity he is a stingy cuss, if he does it is for show, if he dies young there was a great future ahead of him, if he lives to an old age he has missed his calling. He is introduced in this world and to the next by the same process. The road is rocky, but men love to travel it.

THE MILLER.

Cascasweet for babies is the best remedy for colic, summer complaint, diarrhoea and sour stomach. It is especially good in cases of teething when irritation affects the stomach and intestines. Cascasweet is a pleasant, safe remedy, containing neither opiates nor narcotics; all the ingredients are printed plainly on the wrapper. Endorsed by mothers because it acts so quickly. Stump's Hill.

Mr. S. L. Arledge had a collision with a fence rail a few days ago while feeding his stock, got a painful bruise in the rib but is improving.

If Mr Gulledge would come this way for a collection on the cotton association, I think he would do fully as well as he did at Calera. I could name a few men that are strictly for Mr. Gulledge in all his undertakings.

Say, wasn't that trip, or the article published in the papers about Mr. Middleton's trip to Boston, a slam on white people? It is enough to make a kinkyhead grunt. CROW BAR.

There is a number of people who are under an erroneous impression. They think that they never control enough money to start a bank account. In this they are mistaken. We solicit small accounts as well as large. And we handle the business of both with our best care. We believe that you ought to have a bank account, and we offer you our services.

This is Why

We deserve to be favored with a share of your banking business:

First, because OUR RECORD IS CLEAN, and a long record of honest dealing is the best guarantee of a prosperous future.

Then OUR POLICY is as liberal as is consistent with security; we are accommodating but prudent.

And finally, OUR LOCATION is central and accessible—right in the centre of business.

We ask your consideration.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by Upchurch Drug co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Thorsby.

Thorsby Institute is making great plans for the closing exercises of a most successful year. On Friday night of this week will occur the prize speaking contest and a short play. With this the Thorsby Cornet Band and Orchestra will render musical selections. There are over fourteen contestants for the prizes and a spirited contest is already assured. On Saturday night an informal reception will be held. At this time choice selections will be sung by Miss Lena Jackson, the head of the music department. Other music by the orchestra and further entertainment will make the evening enjoyable. A special feature will be selections sung by the school chorus. Sunday will be observed with special music services and addresses both combined will make a most impressive closing school service. In the evening vesper services will be held in the park and Rev. Geo. E. Bates from Birmingham will deliver an address. To all these exercises the people who feel inclined to come are most cordially welcome. This is a good time for the people of Chilton county to see what has been done at the Institute. The people should be especially interested because of the fact that the school is the whole peoples' and the attempt has been made to have all feel this. The school has proved its usefulness. It is here to stay. The plans for next year are very extensive. There is nothing too good for Chilton county and Alabama. Everybody come; all welcome to the closing exercises.

Singing at Salem.

The 9th annual singing of Salem church, convened on the 4th Sunday in May, 1907, beginning at 9 a. m. by singing "All hail the power of Jesus' name," followed with prayer by W. J. Armstrong. On motion T. L. Robinson was elected Chm., L. A. Calloway, Secty. The committee on arrangement were D. S. Robinson, J. S. Jones and W. J. Armstrong. The names of the following leaders were placed on the program: T. L. Robinson, R. T. Grant, S. E. Parrish, O. Z. Robinson, Riley Robinson, Jack Lowery, W. G. Culp, A. L. Robinson and W. H. Robinson. The organists of the day were Misses Fannie Belle Robinson, Carrie Littlejohn, Mamie Robinson, Martha Pyron and Messrs. Lee Robinson, Columbus Robinson and Wm Culp.

At 11:30 Rev. W. W. Robinson addressed the audience on "The power of music," after which recess was taken until 1:30, p.m. for dinner. The meeting adjourned at 3:15, p.m. to meet again on the 4th Sunday in May, 1908. This session was acknowledged by all to have been the most successful singing in the history of the convention. There was plenty of good dinner on the ground for all, and everyone went away feeling well paid for having attended the singing. T. L. ROBINSON, Chm.

L. A. CALLOWAY, Secty.

Sardis.

Our Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Ratliff is on the sick list, but hope she will soon be up.

Misses Ella and Gertie Klinner visited Miss Ella Milford Sunday and report a nice time.

Misses Minnie Klinner and Evgree Ratliff visited Miss Bertha Roebuck Saturday night; they thought they would have a fine time, but they sure missed it.

There is to be dinner on the ground at Sardis the 5th Sunday in June. Everybody come and bring your baskets.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

Snails are blessed with great vitality. A case is recorded of an Egyptian desert snail which came to life again being immersed in warm water, after having passed four years glued to a card in a museum.

"I would not for much money," wrote Jean Paul, "have had much money in my youth." Andrew Carnegie is more explicity. "I am glad," he said at the dinner of the Military Telegraph Corps, "that I was born in poverty. I would not exchange it to be the son of the richest millionaire on earth. What does he know of his father and mother? How is he off beside the boy who has in his mother his nurse, his teacher, his cook, his seamstress, his angel, his saint? There are no servants between them. His father is his guide, philosopher, and friend."

"While it is, of course, a platitude to say that a wise teacher learns by instructing others," recently observed an instructor in a preparatory school in Brooklyn, according to Harper's Weekly, "it is permissible to remark that he frequently picks up some curious information in this way. I once asked a boy to explain, if he could, the difference between animal instinct and human intelligence. It was a pretty hard question, but the lad was equal to it. 'If we had instinct,' he said, 'we should know everything we needed to know without learning it; but we've got reason, and so we have to study ourselves 'most blind, or be a fool.'"

Through its five years of experimentation the Pennsylvania Railway Company has accumulated some 1,500,000 small trees. It is now proposed, notes the New York Commercial, to stock some six hundred and eighty acres of company lands near Altoona with chestnut and red oak seedlings and so begin on a large scale the growing of its own crosstie material. Should the example of the Pennsylvania be followed by other railroads, the important problem of general reforestration will have received a partial solution by the appeal made to the selfish interests of great railway corporations. And, meantime, all railroad interests might profitably look into the matter of vulcanizing ties, for the lengthening of their life and service.

"I have lost heavily and there is no use in my trying to hold out." This was the message telephoned to a friend by a woman in Dorchester, who then hung up the receiver and went to her bedroom and shot herself. It has been "a rich man's panic," some say. It is a "mystery," according to the talk on the street, insists the Boston Journal. But while the big railroad jugglers are working their schemes and the bulls and bears of the exchange are rfoting in reciprocal slaughter ruin is brought home to smaller people, and if few of them seek the oblivion of suicide, as did this woman in Dorchester, it is because they have the greater courage or the stronger conscience to live and face it. There is misery widespread in the rages of the stock market.

It is significant, in view of the movement in Massachusetts for the abolition of the penalty of death for the crime of murder, that the restoration of the guillotine in France is urged for the protection of society, observes the Boston Post. Here in the United States we have seen two States, Colorado and Iowa, re-establish the death penalty after experimenting with its abolition. There is no capital punishment in Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, but those States show no exceptional freedom from capital crime. The testimony from France, as stated by one of the leading Paris journals, is that "the abolition of the death penalty has done nothing but cut the sinews of justice," and another declares that "the knowledge that those sentenced to death will never be executed has brought the bludgeon, the revolver and the dagger into such prominence as to menace public security." It is held by some sociologists that the delay and frequent failure of the execution of the death penalty in New York is accountable in large measure for the increase of crimes of violence in that city.

A WHOLE WEEK'S EVENTS.

$11,000 VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Big Award is Made as Damages for Death of Laura E. Schuler.

A verdict for eleven thousand damages was returned Saturday in Judge Lane's division of the circuit court in the case of Morris Loveman administrator de bonis non, vs. the Birmingham Railway, Light and Power Company. This is the biggest award in a damage suit known to the court in many years.

The cause of action was the death of a little girl, Laura E. Schuler, who was killed by a street car in Birmingham about four years ago. It was shown by the evidence in the case that the former administratrix, Mrs. Isora Graffin, accepted $500 in settlement of the case, but that she was dying at the time, and did die shortly after. This settlement was declared invalid by the court on a former trial and set aside, after which the case was tried, taken to the supreme court and the judgment of the lower court reversed. Saturday's verdict is the result of the second trial.

Hill Gets New Job.

Hon. I. W. Hill, former state superintendent of education, was elected superintendent of the Opelika public schools for a term of two years by the Opelika school board at a meeting held at the council chamber Saturday morning. Mr. Hill was present at the time, and accepted the position to which he had been elected. He will receive a salary of $2,000 per year, and in addition to his duties as superintendent, he will act as secretary-treasurer of the Opelika school board He is a successful teacher, and the position to which he has been elected will open up to him new fields of usefulness.

Fire in Pell City.

Thursday morning fire was discovered on the roof of the buildings occupied by the Pell City Dispensary and the Knott Ice Cream Parlor and Restaurant. Both buildings were wooden, and the loss to them is about $1,000. The loss to the dispensary stock was about $2,500, and that of Knott's about $1,500. Everything was fully covered by insurance.

Ask for Trustee.

John A. Anderson & Co., Stroud, Fletcher & Co., of Nashville, and other creditors of W. H. Beeson, the Gurley merchant who recently made an assignment, have filed a petition in the United States court to have Beeson declared an involuntary bankrupt and asking the appointment of George Cooper as trustee.

Mine Examiners.

Governor Comer has appointed the following men to the state board of examiners for mine bosses, of which the chief inspector of mines is the chairman: For operators, J. F. Beaty, Dora; P. B. Rogers, Pratt City. For the miners—T. H. Tinney, Hargrove, and George Barbour, Pratt City.

Road Files Papers.

Papers of incorporation of the Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans Railway Company were filed in the probate court at Mobile Saturday morning. R. M. Robinson, J. W. Bullock, Jr., E. McLaughlin, W. J. Forbes, C. E. Merritt, J. A. Sherrill and Henry McLaughlin are named as the incorporators.

Stewart is Released.

J. R. Stewart, who killed Pierce Travis, has been released at Brewton, it being plainly shown that the defendant acted in self-defense. The tragedy created much excitement at the time it happened.

Road Blocked Twelve Hours.

North-bound freight train No. 52, Alabama Great Southern railway, was ditched near Coaling, Ala., Saturday afternoon, ten cars of lumber being thrown from the track. The road was blocked for twelve hours. No one was injured.

Dothan Postoffice.

S. A. Taliaferro, of Atlanta, Ga., a civil service examiner, conducted an examination on Saturday of applicants for clerk and carrier positions in the postoffice at Dothan.

The city delivery is to begin on August 1. There were 24 applicants, including three ladies. What is considered as something remarkable by some was the fact that but one negro took the examination.

Bad Crops in Henry.

Reports from all sections of Henry county show bad stands of cotton. A great many farmers have planted twice, and some three times, and have not yet secured a good stand. The cool nights and the excessive rains during the past few days have greatly injured the prospects of this year's crop. Labor is exceedingly scarce, and the cotton is in such a grassy condition that many acres will have to be abandoned.

State Normal Will Get Aid From the Town.

The Jacksonville city council at a meeting held Saturday night provided the means whereby the State Normal School at that place will get ten thousand dollars for the enlargement of the school building. To this will be added $15,000 to be spent on extension of the building this summer.

From $8,000 to $10,000 will also be spent for a library on the school grounds, but detached from the main building. This enlargement of the building became a necessity, the school having greatly outgrown its limits as to room. It was simply a question of more buildings or the turning away of students seeking the advantages of learning. Inasmuch as no appropriation from the state was to be had for this purpose, the town of Jacksonville took the matter in hand with the result stated above.

COUNCIL MAY GIVE FRANCHISE.

Anniston May Yet Have Street Car Competition.

At the meeting of the Anniston city council Saturday night, an ordinance was introduced and ordered published granting franchise to L. H. Kaplan and associates the right to construct an electric railway in the city. The franchise does not conflict with the lines of the Anniston Electric and Gas Company only in a few places. Should this franchise be granted, the new company would gain a fine point in that they would reach the new depot at Fourth street. The line extends into Glen Addie, South Anniston, the northeast part of the city, and near the Louisville and Nashville roundhouse and Woodstock furnace.

The franchise, if granted, makes the concern begin building the line in one year and to complete it in two years.

A New Cotton Destroyer.

A negro farmer who lives near Tilden, in the southern part of Dallas county, has reported that his young cotton is being destroyed by a reddish-brown worm. Worms of this color, he states, are nuumerous in his cotton fields, and they eat away the leaves of the plant and then destroy the stalk.

While the worm is of a reddish hue, it does not resemble the caterpillar, but has long hairs all over it. The truth of the negro's assertion is borne out by white farmers from that section of the county who have visited the cotton field planted by the negro

Chautauqua Opens.

The opening of the Alabama Brenau Chautauqua at Eufaula last Thursday morning marks an epoch in the way of entertainment and instruction never before witnessed in the history of the city. The business houses we e all draped in orange and black streamers, the Brenau colors, and a flag of the same material proudly floats from the dome of the large Chautauqua theatre.

Increase Capital Stock.

A meeting of the stock holders of the First National Bank, Enterprise, has been called for June 21, at which time the capital stock will be increased 50 or 100 per cent.

The capital stock now is $50,000, with a surplus of $25,000, and plans are on foot to make the capital probably $100,000. Mr. W. E. Law is president, and Mr. J. L. Warren is cashier.

A Wireless Station.

It was announced Saturday that Dr. Edward Francis, of the marine hospital service at Mobile, has approved of the plan to establish the station of the Deforrest Wireless Company at Fort Morgan on the large detention barge of the quarantine service which is maintained at Fort Morgan.

Surgeons Operate on $1,500 Setter.

A valuable setter belonging to George Evans, of Clanton, was disemboweled by a hog. Surgeons sewed up the wound, and it is believed now the dog will recover. The setter is valued at $1,500.

Palmer Elected President.

Dean Thomas W. Palmer, of the University of Alabama, has been elected president of the Alabama Girls' Industrial School. The board created the office of vice-president and elected J. Alexander Moore to the position.

Decatur After Southern Shops.

The commercial organizations of the two Decaturs are now in correspondence with officials of the Southern railway for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is any truth in the rumor that their shops at Sheffield are to be moved from that city.

Should the report be true, the Decaturs will endeavor to get the railroad company to locate the shops at Decatur.

Bishop Candler to Preach.

The twenty-sixth year of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute comes to a close with the commencement exercises Sunday, at which time Bishop Warren A. Candler, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, preached the commencement sermon Bishop Candler is one of the great churchmen of the South. Last year the commencement sermon was also preached by a southern clergyman, the Rev. H. S. Bradley.

STEAMER BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE

The Naomi Destroyed in Middle of Lake Michigan.

LOOKOUT SAW THE FLAMES

Sailor on Another Boat First to Observe the Fire—Passengers Saved in Small Boats—Four Coal Passers Burned to Death.

Cedar Rapids, Mich.—Four coal passers were burned to death and one passenger, E. M. Rhodes, of Detroit, was fatally burned, when the Crosby line steamer Naomi, for Milwaukee, Wis., was burned to the water's edge in the middle of Lake Michigan. Fifty passengers and all of the crew, except the four coal passers, were taken off in small boats by the steamer Stratford and the Naomi's sister ship, the Kansas, which was en route from Milwaukee to Grand Haven. The loss on the Naomi, which was in command of Capt. Thomas Traill, is estimated at $225,000.

After the passengers and crew were rescued, a barge, which had been attracted to the scene of the fire, put a line on the burning hull and is now towing her to Grand Haven.

The fire started in the vicinity of the kitchen, between decks, and spread so rapidly that the whole ship was a blazing furnace before the crew could get the fire-fighting apparatus working. Fire swept the whole length of the ship and the upper works burned like kindling. It is miraculous that all the passengers escaped. Many of them were taken off in their night clothes, while scarcely any one was more than partially clad.

The fire was not discovered by any of the Naomi's crew, but was first seen by the lookout on the steamer Kansas, which was proceeding in the opposite direction, from Milwaukee to Grand Haven. The Kansas made directly for the Naomi, and in the meantime the passengers of the ill-fated boat were being awakened.

Captain Thomas Traill was the last man to leave the steamer alive, and his clothing was almost burned off of him.

The four coal passers who perished are believed to have been penned in by the flames.

Bounty of Three Cents.

Halifax, N. S.—Alarmed at the extent of the brown tail moth throughout Nova Scotia, and the danger to the agricultural business of the provinces should the pest become general, the provincial government has issued a notice stating that a bounty of three cents will be paid for each specimen of the moth secured.

The agricultural officials have organized school children's corps which have been trained to catch the insects. The Annapolis valley, one of the largest apple-producing centers in the world, has recently been invaded by the pest.

Court Holds Him on Charge of Obstructing Due Process of Law.

New York.—The court has held George Seligman, manager of the International policyholders' committee; Charles M. Stirrup and C. F. Curran for trial in the court of general sessions on the charge of violating that section of the penal code which makes it conspiracy to "obstruct the due process of the law."

In a lengthy opinion Magistrate Heese says he believes the defendants conspired to obstruct the due process of the law by changing ballots cast in the recent election for officers of the New York and Mutual Life insurance companies.

The defendants were paroled to appear before Magistrate House to give bail.

GREAT ENGINEER DIES.

Sir Benjamin Baker Invented Pneumatic Shield.

New York.—A dispatch from London announces the death of Sir Benjamin Baker, one of the world's greatest engineers. It was he who invented the pneumatic shield, which has rendered so much assistance in tunneling under rivers.

The late engineer works by which he will be best remembered are the Forth bridge in Scotland and the Assouan dam. Engel, the French engineer, declares that the former is the greatest construction in the world.

The Assouan dam cost $15,000,000 It is a mile and a quarter long and raises the level of the Nile sixty feet.

ENSIGN SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Naval Officer in Trouble With Cuban Police and Drank With Sailors.

Washington, D. C.—The navy department has received a dispatch from Santiago, Cuba, stating that Ensign Alfred T. Brisbin, who was in a difficulty with the police of Santiago about a fortnight ago, in company with sailors from the Tacoma, had shot himself through the lung and was in a precarious condition. Ensign Brisbin is in Santiago. The official investigation of the trouble with the Santiago police appears to have developed the fact that Brisbin was drinking with the sailors, which would have doubtless resulted in his court martial.

Augustus Pifer Dead.

CROKER'S STATUE

Friends Gather in Atlanta to Hear Orations.

AND "REBEL YELL"

Unveil Equestrian Monument to Confederate Commander. Address by General Evans. Fine Military Parade.

Atlanta, Ga.—Thousands of Georgia's sons, with added hundreds from other sections of the South, gathered today at the unveiling ceremonies of the equestrian statue to the memory of Gen. John B. Gordon. Here within the shadow of the state capitol great crowds gathered to hear the addresses and see the monument unveiled.

The parade which preceded the exercises a long line of soldiery and civic organizations marched through the principal down-town streets, and by thousands of spectators assembled in front of Gen. Clement Evans, Gordon's long friend and war companion. The old dead chieftain, was heard with the greatest interest, and as two little grandsons of General Gordon pulled the cords and revealed the statue, the cry of "Dixie" rang out, and the strains of the song by the multitude and the old rebel yell from the throats of the veterans who fought under Gordon.

The feature of the day was the presentation of Mrs. Gordon, widow of the illustrious commander, of his two daughters, Mrs. Barton Smith, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Bishop Brown, of Georgia, who unveiled the monument. Mrs. Hugh A. Gordon, a son of Gen. Gordon; of Mrs. Mary G. Rogers, sister, and of several grandchildren. The ceremonies were presided over by Governor Joseph M Brown, who introduced the speakers and accepted the monument for the state of Georgia.

The invocation the history of the Gordon Monument Association was read. Then General Evans was introduced. The oration of General Evans like the rest of the program, was in the open air in the shadow of the capitol.

General Evans gave an interesting account of General Gordon from the time he entered the Confederate army "full of the ardor of his natural temperament," as captain of a company from Alabama and Georgia until the close of the war. He instanced Gordon's characteristic attitude in battle, and this was never more needed or conspicuously displayed than during the charge at Gettysburg. He stated that history should not call the Gettysburg battle as more than a technical Confederate defeat, for he lost ground that Lee withdrew across the Potomac.

Oldest Man in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky.—William Coburn, a retired stone mason in Kentucky, is said to be one of the oldest citizens. He died Thursday evening at his home in this city from troubles incident to old age, together with a fall which he suffered several weeks ago, which resulted in serious injuries to his hip. He was a native of Scotland, where he claimed to have been born 104 years ago. He emigrated to America in 1827, and soon after reaching this country he settled near this city, where the remainder of his life was spent and where he died. He had the distinction of being one of the best known citizens in this state.

MYSTERIOUS CASE.

Involving Estate of Late Nicholas De Raylan, of Chicago.

Chicago.—The mysterious case of the late Nicholas de Raylan, secretary of the Russian consulate in Chicago, is to be investigated. De Raylan lived as a man, was married twice and divorced once, but when he died in Phoenix, Ariz., the statement was made by those who had charge of the body at Phoenix that the supposed man was a woman. Public Administrator Reddick had refused to turn over De Raylan's estate, valued at $6,000, to the widow, on the ground that if De Raylan was a woman there had been no marriage in the eyes of the law.

Mrs. De Raylan, who claims to have many competent witnesses to prove her assertion, declares that her husband was a man, and that she will spend her last cent to prove it. She has sent an agent to Phoenix to exhume the body, which, at the time of De Raylan's death, was not seen by any of his former friends. No one went from Chicago to attend the funeral. Mrs. De Raylan expresses the opinion that some curious mistake was made, whereby a woman's body took the place of her husband's body.

JAPANESE STILL DISSATISFIED.

They Hope That Admission of Laborers into America Will Be Permitted.

Washington.—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, and several members of the embassy staff will leave Washington about the middle of next month for a tour of several weeks on the Pacific coast.

The object of the visit has a direct bearing on the question of Japanese exclusion in the United States, and on the renewal of the treaty of commerce and navigation now in force between this country and Japan.

It has been lately represented that the government of Japan has weakened on the question of excluding Japanese of the laboring class from the United States, and that the coming new treaty will, if Japan has its say, insist upon liberal treatment to which so much exception or nullification as that in effect will be permitted.

PAPAL GUARANTEES.

Proposition to Italian Government for Modus Vivendi is Reported.

Rome.—It is reported that a proposition has been made to the government for a modus vivendi as to the fund set apart under the law of papal guarantees.

Under Article 4 of that lay a sum of 3,200,000 lire ($640,000) was annually set apart for the maintenance of the pope. It is now proposed to capitalize this fund into state bonds, which will furnish the pope a revenue of 3,800,000 lire ($700,000). It is stated that a majority of the ministers would accept such an arrangement, which would be a step towards a political modus vivendi. The opposition, however, would combat the proposal.

Stands Pat on Tariff.

Washington.—Speaker Cannon, after his attention was called to a report which has gained currency that he is out for tariff revision as a presidential candidate, and has abandoned the stand-patters, said:

"I do not know where the 'grapevine' originated. The only knowledge I have in the matter is the report.

"In the campaign of a year ago the Republican party won a victory which gave the Republicans a majority of 58 in the Sixtieth Congress, which organizes in December next, upon the cry, 'Let well enough alone,' and I have no doubt that the Sixtieth Congress so elected will be true to the pledges made in the campaign."

Cotton Exchange Election Contest.

New York.—For the first time in eleven years there is to be a contest on the New York Cotton Exchange for control of the management. News to this effect was made known on the floor of the exchange Saturday, when two tickets were posted for the annual election, which will take place on June 3. James H. Parker will head both tickets, but for other offices there will be a contest. It is understood that the question of reform in contracts will be an issue.

Sidetrack Cotton Oil Duties.

Paris.—The French government has succeeded in sidetracking the bill which had been pending before parliament to increase the duties on American cotton seed oil. The action of the cabinet in this instance furnished fresh proof of the desire of the government to avoid tariff complications with the United States pending an attempt to arrange an agreement through a joint commission.

.. How to .. Train for Sprinting

By Arthur E. Duffey, World's Champion Sprinter.

THE first and very best advice that I can give to any schoolboy who wants to become a sprinter is to be careful in his training and have form in everything.

By being careful in training I mean he should not overdo. If he runs too hard or too far when he is beginning to run any good he might gain will be lost.

Every boy, of course, cannot be a world's champion. A great many boys can be first-class runners, though, if they will follow a few common-sense rules.

I advise every boy to go in for all sports at first. Try football, baseball, basketball, running—anything that is good fun and good athletic work. When you find the kind of athletics you like best devote all the rest of your time to that one thing.

If you like best to run, remember always to run naturally. Don't try to copy some other person's style—mine, for instance. Run just as it comes easiest for you.

To train, spend a certain amount of time every day in some little light exercise. A pair of 10-cent dumbbells will do as well as anything else. Follow your work with the dumbbells by practising bounding. Jump from one foot to the other, always on the ball of the foot and in the same spot. You have got to know how to bound if you ever hope to run fast.

End your training by running about 220 yards only moderately fast, but bringing in the bounding on your toes and keeping your form perfect.

By having form in everything I mean run in form, train the same way every day and at the same time, and keep your diet regular.

Boys and men who are training for the sprint or any other contest should avoid eating pastry and candy, for they are hard to digest. Never think of using tobacco in any form while you are training, and end your training every day by a bath. It you can get a shower bath, so much the better. But no matter whether it be in a tub, under a shower or only with a sponge be sure to get your daily bath.

The Wonders of New York by Night

By E. J. Martin.

WHATEVER route you reach or leave Manhattan Island in the evening, the river lights are beautiful. On the North River the spectacle varies according to the hour and the season, for the down-town lights in Manhattan are more numerous when the days are short and the tenants of the great office-buildings have to light up to finish their day's work. Across from the lower Jersey ferries late in the afternoon of a winter day glow and sparkle the great company of tall shafts grouped against the sky, each one pierced to the top with regular rows of shining windows. A memorable sight they make, those shafts and huge blocks of gleaming holes, reaching far above their neighbors that come between them and the river. There is much in that spectacle to recompense a tired man for being a commuter, and nowhere else on earth is there the like of it.

And besides the tall shafts and the intervening lower lights, and the glow of the streets that run to the river and border it, there are all the river lights—the ferry-boats, with their long rows of bright windows, hurrying on their various courses; the Sound steamers going out; other steamers coming in; all manner of lights more sober on all manner of shipping; the street glare and the ferry-house and wharf lights ashore; and higher up, here and there, the obstrusive and commercial, but none the less radiant, advertising signs.

The down-town office-building lights go out early—most of them—but up the river some of the tall up-town hotels continue, all the evening and in spite of curtained windows, to be lighthouses.

On the East River, besides the city lights and the river lights, are the high, curving bridges, very striking and beautiful, with their unobstructed outlines marked by the glow of the electric bulbs.

There is poetry in these river lights, bordered and framed by the dark shining water and reflected in it.—Harper's Magazine.

Employer and Employee

By Jean Cawgill Comerford.

CAPITAL is business. Labor is the root of business. From all observations it would seem that the greatest prosperity of both comes through most perfect harmony between the two.

If business and labor have been engaged in a struggle and the final settlement has brought about prosperity to both, then there is a good result.

And in the solution of all problems it is the result alone that counts.

It is from a study of past results, therefore, that future problems can be successfully solved. For experience is the parent of progress. Business and progress must be brother and brother in their relations; or the larger results will be lacking.

But progress and prosperity are of the times. Labor is not what it was ten years ago. Through the eyes of today it must be considered. So must capital; this in fairness to both. Fate and the bounden ultimate onwardness will take care of the rest. The large danger is in being of the yesterday. The danger is for both capital and labor.

The question which concerns us when we consider the relations between them is: "What means have been productive of the largest results?"

There is but one way to answer the question; by a careful analysis of actual experience.

Business has battled with labor and is still doing it. Labor has slugged and thrown mud at business, and is still engaged in the same occupation.

The results are what we want to know about. They are inspiration and voiceless advice. Business needs them to show it the way—to bring about an end to all struggles.—System.

False Teeth .... at 16 Years

By the Rev. Percy S. Grant.

A MAJORITY of the men and women of the United States will soon live in tenement-houses. The cradle of the future American citizen will be the tenement. Our cities are not only filled from our abandoned farms with people who for generations have been used to the vigor of country labor; our cities are filled with aliens.

We are crowding the tenements with foreigners. The American farmer's boy is trying to breathe in the devitalized air of the city, and the European peasant is trying to keep his health in America. Class and race acclimatization are going on at once. The farmer is bent upon becoming a factory or mercantile unit; the foreigner hastens to become an American.

This is serious business. If you know any mill town full of foreigners, you have mourned over the deterioration of physique in the second generation. American food, hot summers, cold winters, stuffy tenements, play the mischief with ruddy, beefy Englishmen or Irishmen, or whom you will. I have been repeatedly shocked to find girls of sixteen among cotton operatives with full sets of false teeth.—North American Review.

"ALWAYS DIFFERENT" STORY

A Jolly Game Play a Rainy Day or an Evening at Home.

Elizabeth Hyde Weeks in St. Nicholas.

"Oh, dearie me!" said little Polly as she stood looking into the rain-soaked garden, "I wish it didn't rain. I want to play out of doors."

"When I was a little girl and there came a rainy day," said Aunt Katie, "my mother used to tell me this verse:

"'When the rain comes tumbling down
In the country or the town
All good little girls and boys,
Stay at home and mind their toys.'"

"But I don't want to play with my toys," said Polly.

"Neither do I," said Rob. "This is the second day it has rained, and I am tired of them."

"Well, then, I will read you a story if you like," replied her aunt. "Don't you want to hear Alice in Wonderland?"

"But I'm tired of it, Aunt Katie," said Polly. "I love the story, but the people in it always do the same things every time you read the book. Why do they make stories the same? I would like one that was always different. Don't they make them that way, Aunt Katie?"

"Well, well," said Aunt Katie, "you remind me of the little girl I used to be. I liked things 'different,' too, and my mother made me a story that is never the same, no matter how many times you read it. I will get it. I have in my 'Keepsake Box.'"

Aunt Katie left the room and presently returned with a small book of yellowish faded paper, and a little box.

"The story is called 'Fanny Frivol; Her Adventures in the Wood; At the Fair; At the School; At the Picnic; In the Meadow; By the Brook; At the Circus; In Grandfather's Barn; and At the Party.' Which adventure would you like to hear first?"

"The one by the brook," said Polly and Rob in one breath; and Polly's eyes sparkled as she added, "I love to play by the brook!"

"Very well," said Aunt Kate. "Take this box. In it you will find slips of paper on which words are printed. I will read the story, and when I stop and hold up my finger you must draw a slip of paper from the box and read what it says on it; and the next time Rob will draw and read—each in turn."

This is the story that Aunt Katie read of Fanny Frivol's Adventure by the Brook, and the words in it printed in capitals are those which Polly and Rob read from the slips of paper which they drew one by one from the box:

"May I go and play by the brook?" said Fanny Frivol to her Grandmother.

Her Grandmother nodded her head, on which was a large—GREEN BOTTLE.

"Yes, but don't wet your feet, and take a—LONG WOODEN SWORD—to shield you from the sun."

On her way she met Tommy and Topsy Turvey carrying a—PLATE OF CHEESE. When Fanny saw them she said:

"Come and play with me by the brook. I have a—BOTTLE OF INK—to catch fish with, a—BAG OF CLOTHESPINS—to build a bridge, and we can hunt for crabs under stones."

Tommy and Fanny turned over stones, but Topsy Turvey, who always did things wrong, turned hers under. Fanny found a big—LEMON PIE—under a stone, but the others found nothing.

"There are no crabs here," said Fanny, "let us fish." Tommy and Fanny threw their lines in the brook but Topsy threw hers out. Fanny caught a—DUSTING CLOTH—but the others caught nothing.

"Let us build a bridge," said Fanny. "Tommy you bring a—DISH OF ICE CREAM—and Topsy a—YELLOW BOWL—and we shall soon have it done."

"What is this in the water?" said Tommy.

Fanny pulled it out and found it was a—SEWING MACHINE.

"I will take it home to Grandmother," said Fanny, "and she will make me a—WINDOW CURTAIN—of it."

They were now tired and hungry and sat down to rest on a big—WHITE BEAR—and when Fanny opened her lunch-box out fell a—DOORBELL — and a — TIN SOLDIER—instead of the nice cakes her Grandmother had given her.

"Never mind," said Fannie, "I have some cookies in my pocket," but when she took them out she found they had changed into a—JAPANESE LANTERN.

Just then the sun went down and they started for home, but Topsy ran backward and fell over a—FAT PIG.

"I am so hungry I could eat a—KITCHEN TOWEL," said Fanny, but when she went to the supper table there was nothing there but a—ROLLING PIN—and a—BLACK KITTEN.

When she went to her room she found a—BROWN TEAPOT—on her bed, and in every chair a big—RED HEN.

"Dear me," said Fanny, as she laid her tired head on a—STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE—which she found in place of her pillow. "What a funny time I have had at the brook. When I go to the picnic to-morrow, with Tommy and Topsy Turvey, I wonder what strange things will happen there."

How Polly did laugh over Fanny Frivol's Adventure by the Brook!

And only read it over again, but nothing happened as it did before. Fanny pulled a MERRY-GO-ROUND out of the brook, and for their lunch they had a PAIR OF SHEARS and a WAX DOLL.

Aunt Katie explained how the story was made. Words were left out of the story and written on slips of paper, and when one came to a place where a word was left out one of the slips of paper was read. As the slips of paper were drawn without looking at them, the words read were always different or came in different places each time the story was read.

"The next rainy day," said Aunt Katie, "we will read the Adventures of Fanny in Grandfather's Barn."

Perhaps some other little Pollys and Robbies would like to read the story which is always different, so here is the list of words which those young folk found in the box, and you can print them for yourself on slips of paper. Or, better still, you can make up more amusing lists of your own:

Long Ladder. Paper of Pins. Window Curtain. Loaf of Bread. Pound of Butter. Sewing Machine. Box of Beads. Pink Shoe. Green Bottle. Paint Brush. Comb with no Teeth. Dusting Cloth. White Bear. Red Hen. Fat Pig. Plate of Cheese. Black Kitten. Basket of Apples. Letter Box. Pound of Candy. Japanese Lantern. Kitchen Towel. Rubber Ball. Croquet Set. Merry-Go-Round. Yellow Bowl. Bottle of Ink. Brown Teapot. Strawberry Shortcake. Lemon Pie. Rocking Chair. Tall Clock. Doorbell. Bag of Clothespins. Dish of Ice Cream. Rolling Pin. Baking Tin. Chicken Pie. Pepper Box. Wax Doll. Glass of Soda Water. Pair of Shears. Paint Box. Tin Soldier. Long Wooden Sword. Folding Fan. Pair of Gloves. Jumping Jack. Chocolate Cake.

When the rainy days came Polly heard about all the other adventures of Fanny Frivol, and if you ever meet Polly she will be glad to tell them to you.

THE DOG OF THE NORTH.

First the Companion of Men Then the Assistant in Hunting.

The dog was the first animal domesticated by man. Originally merely a companion and later a hunting assistant he came at last to be also a beast of burden, and such he was over a great part of northern America at the time when the white faces of Spaniard and Englishman were first seen on these shores.

Even after he had become a beast of burden, the dog's function as a hunting helper did not cease. Even today the wild Eskimo and hardly less wild Dog Ribs of the Arctic regions turn loose their dogs when a bear or a herd of musk ox is seen, and man and his four-footed companion compete in a wild race toward the game, the man depending on the dogs to hold the quarry until he shall come near enough to kill it. In the same way in ancient days when the dogs carried burdens and hauled loads for the Indians of the plains, the animals were often freed from their loads if game was suddenly sighted; and when, as sometimes happened in those days of wild animal abundance, buffalo or deer or rabbits ran through the column of the marching camp, the patient dogs, which had been wearily tugging under the packs, forgot their fatigue and started in pursuit of the game, scattering their loads far and wide over the prairie.

In temperate zones—as has been intimated—the dog hauled the travois and carried the pack. These dogs were not like those that we see to-day in Indian camps, but were big and strong and able to carry a good load. The most ancient men, whose memories go back to the early part of the last century, describe these animals as being as large as wolves, long coat, of many colors, white, black, yellow or spotted, and as often having crooked legs and turned out feet, something like those of the daschund or the bench-legged beagle of to-day.

With the passing out of existence of America's primitive people, the use of dogs as burden bearers has almost ceased. Over a vast range of this continent the horse has taken his place, and the old breeds that so well performed the labor of transportation have become extinct. Only in the farthest North the husky remains, used by the Eskimo, by the Alaska miner in winter, and by the Indians on the border of the barren ground. Even these are growing scarcer, though in the Eskimo camps of the Far North one may still see splendid specimens of the sturdy breed, and as he walks through the camp will often be in danger of stumbling over a brace of tiny pups already being trained to the harness, and fastened to some stake driven into the frozen ground.

It is but a few years since Major H. M. Robinson, whose familiarity with the great lone land of the Far North is so well known, told in Forest and Stream the story of the passing of the sledge dog. He gave an interesting picture of the sledge dog and the sledge travel, and one who reads the old books of Arctic exploration and of Arctic life will find this story often retold. It is the old tale of the change from primitive methods of life to those which are more complex, and such changes never fail to possess an interest.—Forest and Stream.

MAY be this May will be long remembered.

THE weather continues to be the leading topic of conversation, and the extraordinary cool nights are causing considerable anxiety. It seems to be generally admitted that with all farming work as backward as it is, not more than half a can be expected.

IN July, after holding its annual meeting in Montgomery, the Alabama Press Association will float gently down the river to Mobile—no smoke or dust or cinders to trouble the voyagers who will bless the anti-pass law for furnishing such an agreeable outing.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

While not so tremendous a scale as in the opening weeks the naval display at Jamestown will nevertheless be maintained in an adequate manner throughout the entire period of the exposition.

The United States government has assigned three ships to duty right off the great pier during the seven months and these will be constantly open to the inspection of visitors. Considering that the most popular exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago was an imitation battle-ship built on piles in the lake, the reality of the Jamestown squadron will be of the greatest interest to strangers from the interior. But this is by no means the limit of naval representation; the harbor of Hampton Roads, being a naval rendezvous, is seldom without several war vessels lying at anchor, and the ships of the United States are constantly arriving and leaving the harbor. The Navy Yard at Portsmouth, and the great ship-building plant at Newport News, are generally crowded with war craft under construction and undergoing repairs, so that no visitor need leave the section without having his curiosity fully satisfied concerning naval matters.

Some of the foreign fleets will not arrive until later in the summer, and an effort will be made to have this government extend a further invitation to the different naval powers to make Hampton Roads a stopping place for their individual cruising vessels during the period of the Exposition. This is a frequent occurrece in ordinary times and with proper representation to the different governments could be made a feature.

This is to correct the impression that the dispersal of the present fleet signifies the ending of the naval display. At no time during the entire period of the Jamestown Exposition will there be less than twenty-five war ships on the near-by waters for the instruction and entertainment of visitors.

Jemison.

Oh, my, my, what weather we continue to have. A rain storm Sunday afternoon and then frost this (Tuesday) morning. All this bad weather has our farmers wearing long faces. Our oldest and one of our most successful farmers, Uncle George Shaw, says this is the worst spring to start a crop since he has been farming.

Rev. Loftin filled his appointment at the Baptist church here Sunday, and gave his hearers a vivid description of his trip to the Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond, whence he has just returned.

Miss Ardie Jones of Calera was the guest of Miss Mae Honeycutt Sunday.

Miss Slaten of Piper is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. W. Reynolds, this week.

Mr. Numa Thomas of Tacoa visited Jemison Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Haley Mullins was the guest of Prof. Rasco Sunday.

Some of our people attended the singing Sunday evening at Providence.

Mr J. D. Wright visited homefolks out at Pleasant Grove Sunday.

Mr. J. A. Caddell, one of our Rural letter carriers is on the sick list this week. A ROUNDER.

Verbena, May 26, 1907

Editor Banner—I first wish to thank my friend from Stumps Hill for his kind words in last week's Banner. Want to propose to him that he act as a special committee of one in his section to get me up a nice subscription for the Cotton Association. He could not do a more loyal act. He can place in the Peoples Savings Bank to my credit and leave his list with The Banner for publication and for which I will now thank him in advance.

I went up to Montevallo last week, where much wealth exists, one of our State schools located at which four hundred of Alabama's beautiful country farmer girls (God bless them) attended the past session, and who spent in connection with the State of our taxes mind you, I will say fifty thousand dollars since last September. What do you suppose I got in the town? Fourteen dollars. Think of it, farmers.

Then on my way back I thought I would give Calera another barrel, and after two hour's hard work got $4.50, towit: J. M. Collins, $1.00; Mr. Large, $1.00; Holcomb & Bowden, $2.50; making a total of $7.50 out of Calera.

I saw Billy Walker on my trip. He was among "the four hundred" at Montevallo. I called him and in his usual liberal way he racked out his dollar. I say that each merchant in Alabama, and especially the country merchant, ought to call on his every customer for a contribution for it, for in my rounds I have many to say "Why don't the farmers keep up their organization?" This is a knock out to the average man and is a legitimate argument, for it is first the duty of each farmer to be true to himself and his own interest and in doing so he should feel impelled by a spirit of loyalty to himself and his Southland to be liberal to the needs and demands of the Southern Cotton Association. Don't wait for me to ask for it but let each neighborhood furnish its man like Stumps Hill has. Who will come forward and propose his help?

And to my Stumps Hill friend will propose that he get up a picnic or singing and write me, then meet me at Jemison with buggy. I will take great pleasure in spending a day with him and his people partaking of their true hospitality and for which such rural districts are so famous. Want to warn my Stumps Hill friend that if I do go up I want to say to the good women and children up there "Be ye not afraid, 'tis I." No horns on this old Coosa Democrat.

Yours truly,
F. A. GULLEDGE.

P. S. I want to hereby and herein record myself as favoring the movement now on foot to prepare a home in Alabama for our needy old worn out Masons and the widows and orphans of Masons. This is a move in the right direction at last, and each Mason should call to memory the impressive lesson he learned while "Approaching the east," and should not withhold, but hasten to lend a helping hand to a distressed brother, etc., and for one I pledge my moral as well as financial support to such move. Who will join me in this move from Amand Lodge No. 250, or from other Lodges in Chilton county?

Chamberlains' Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

There is probably no medicine that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. When the Hair Falls

Then it's time to act! No time to study, to read, to experiment! You want to save your hair, and save it quickly, too! So make up your mind this very minute that if your hair ever comes out you will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the scalp healthy. The hair stays in. It cannot do anything else. It's nature's way.

I come once more to say a few words in regard to the dispensary. It has its right name for it does dispense with everything that is good. It dispenses with our peace and happiness; it dispenses with our money, friends, principle, character, time, boys, churches and finally send many a disgraced soul to an endless hell. I am surprised at Clanton for having one. I once wanted to live in or near Clanton, but if the citizens of that town want such a thing or curse, I am fooled in the crowd. I imagine Bro. F. M. Woods and Bro. Adams have fought it to a finish. Pray, what difference can we see 'twixt tweedle dum and tweedle dee? If a man wants liquor send and get good pure whiskey and take it home and keep it until me or some other old man comes and says let us take a small toddy. You, Bro. Frank, would take a small one with our friend and not much harm done and really no good. But of the two evils let us take the least. These dispensaries generally keep a grade of stuff named "Get home if you can." Now, say, if Clanton community has such long mud holes as our Maplesville folks have you better not touch a drop until you get home and get in bed and be sure to give your wife your—I liked to have said your money, but you won't have one cent.

But I wanted to tell you about our new mud hole at Maplesville, but space won't allow it. Our commissioners are sure going to fix us so Maplesville will be isolated from the civilized world except by rail. Plenty of liquor there too. Well, I am like the fellow that was about to drown and could only remember part of his father's grace at the table, he said Lord make us thankful for what we are about to receive.

W. Y. ATCHISON.

Stumps Hill.

Here is the "Owl" asking for a small corner. Health of community good with the exceptions of some severe colds. Sunday school at Mount Zion is good; quite a large turnout of visitors, Sunday.

Bro. Smith preached a good sermon for us, and Bro. Cox following him made a good talk. We were glad to have Bro. Smith and family with us; hope they will come again soon. There was a collection taken to which the people responded liberally, for the purpose of repairing the church and putting in large lights and painting the house. We also want to get an organ for our church, and would be glad some good hustler for pushing such things through would give us a push.

Well, I want to say something about the dispensary. God pity a town that has one. I would like to give them an advertisement to put over their doors, but they would not accept one of my sort. I will add it here: There was once a liquor dealer in Fayetteville who had a very appropriate sign painted for his door, as follows: "I have opened a business for the purpose of making drunkards, paupers and beggars for the sober, industrious and respectable portion of the community to support; I shall deal in family spirits, which will excite men to deeds of riot, robbery and blood, and by so doing, diminish the comfort, augment the expenses and endanger the welfare of the community; I will undertake, at a short notice, for a small sum, and with great expectation, to prepare victims for the asylums, poor houses, prisons and gallows. I will furnish an article which will increase the amount of fatal accidents, multiply the number of distressing diseases and render those which are harmless incurable; I will deal in drugs which will deprive some of life, many of reason, most of property and all of peace, which will cause the fathers to become fiends, wives widows, children, orphans and all mendicant; I will cause many of the rising generation to grow up in ignorance and prove a burden and a nuisance to the nation; I will cause mothers to forget their offsprings, and cruelty to take place of love. I will sometimes even corrupt the ministers of religion, obstruct the progress of the Gospel, defile the purity of the church, and cause temporal, spiritual and eternal death, and if any should be so impertinent to ask me why, my honest reply is: "money, money."

Now hear me a little further. It's a greater curse than the open saloon, and when our people vote for a dispensary, I fear they send their boys and girls to hell in a gilted coffin. Mother, let us rise up in arms and pray mightily to God for its removal. A great writer once said: "A woman was at the bottom of everything, either good or bad." So if that be true, let us do our best to down the whiskey curse, for curse it is.

THE OWL.

Mulberry.

It is very early for "Pea Vines", though he's coming again.

The people of this community are very well, except colds.

I promised in my last letter to write again, if that letter missed the waste basket, so I am coming again, but I tell you I hardly feel like it. I suppose so much rainy weather is the cause, so I needn't blame any one.

The people are plowing to beat the band since the rain has ceased, though it seems very late to try to make a big crop this year. I have three acres in my cotton patch, and just count on two or three bales. Do you think that's enough?

I've been thinking of writing a long letter to the Banner, though I hardly know what to say. I suppose I could do like some of our educated men—copy from some good author and sign my name. I see a good many doing this, and I don't like it very much. Remember an effort is worth a great deal, so let us try and have things organized.

Some people are so ignorant until they don't know what ignorance is.

Not very long ago I received a Bible which passed through the hands of a friend of mine. The man saw the name of a publishing company on the wrapper, and asked me was I going to read that kind of a Bible. It seems to me that every person ought to know that there is only one Bible. Now I mean no harm by what I've said, only trying to show you the importance of a little knowledge which can be acquired by just a little hard work.

Young people, you are losing time, just wasting your life away. There is not one out of ten of the young people, but what can study at least one hour every night, which in 365 days would amount to lots. It would be almost equal to three months schooling.

The dispensary is still moving along. I heard the other day that there were some poor farmers here in Chilton, who were not able to pay cash for their year's supply and bought on time, so they bought goods on time and peddled them out for half price in order to buy whiskey. It seems that any person can see the harm in our "Beloved dispensary." Whiskey does harm in a great many ways. The first and worst of all, it completely destroys the character, which is the most valuable part of man; Second: It destroys the physical health, and also, it weakens the pocket, leaving many wives and children to suffer for food and clothing. I have heard my father speak of a man that would sell the meal out of the barrel to buy whiskey, and his poor children crying for bread. The Bible says: "Judge not, that ye be not judged." Mat. 7:1, though, I will judge enough to say: I don't think there will be any room in Heaven for such people.

Society is gaining the day among a great many people Oh! the pretty hats and silk dresses. The people have gone so far with fashionable society till I think God will soon bring about something to destroy it. Read Isaiah, 3. I would not advise any one to go to a place where so much society is practiced.

I do not like slovenliness nor do I like fastidiousness.

I suppose I've written enough for this time. I will come again if this misses the waste basket. I close with many congratulations to "Pet" and many other writers, and good wishes to the Banner.

The farmers were glad to see the sunshine and have been making good use of the time, but most all are behind yet. However, we should be submissive to the Lord's will and all will be right, for He has said the righteous are never forsaken, nor their seed begging bread. But, oh! how disobedient some of us are, never thanking the Lord for anything and always desiring more. We should do something along the line and see if we have given thanks to the Lord for all our past blessings. If we have, then we may ask of Him with all assurance of receiving, for the Lord himself has said "Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss." We should be very careful in our conduct and daily life, lest we err from His will. There are so many things in this day and time to beset us, and one of the most common is the dispensary. Now, let me say that the dispensary itself can harm no one, then why dare yourself near it? You know the results, having seen them time after time. No, the dispensary cannot hurt you, it's you that hurts yourself and you should bear in mind that not only you are being hurt, but perhaps your dear wife and little children are at home crying and begging for some much needed article or perhaps for food, and perchance the very money they have faithfully earned you have given it for that vile and degrading drink or drinks which does not degrade you alone but casts a damper upon your family.

Some one may say let him go for none but the trash will indulge in such. Well, that is a fact unless some poor innocent boy is led off by those old demons, then we should extend our sympathy for the sake of his dear innocent mother, against whose will he has rebelled.

May God help men to more clearly see their erring ways and turn from them. We have often heard it said that a bird of a feather flock together. But this is not the case every time, if so some would be off with the class that cleanes up the decomposed substances of the earth. Hurrah for the Miller!

With best wishes to the Banner, I am A BANNER BOY.

INDIGESTION.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

The health of this community is good.

I have just returned from preaching and heard the best sermon I have heard in twenty years. The sermon was preached by Rev. Gibson, followed by Bro. Dykes.

I was at a nice Sunday school and it was carried on nicely.

I have been here ever since January and have been cleaning off branch banks and ditches and cleaning out fence corners and have not received one cent for it, but I got 25 cents from Mrs. Boswell for a chicken coop, 50 cents from Mr. Bentley, for sprouting.

CONFIRMATION.

I know the sorrows of the lost abyss;
I walked the cold black peaks without a star;
I lay on reek of unseen flint and spar;
I heard the miserable serpent hiss;
I dreamed of sun, fruit-tree, and virgin's kiss;
I woke alone with midnight near and far,
And everlasting hunger, keen to mar
But I arose, and my reward is this:

I am no more cast there amid the throng;
The name he sought, and lips forever weak,
I seem to know at last of mighty song;
And, with no blush, no tremor on the cheek,
I do claim consort with the great and strong
Who suffered ill and had the gift to speak.

The Wanderer

BY W. R. ROSE.

On a low fence along a dusty highway a little girl sat and whistled. Back of this whistling sprite, a little way up the lane, was an old farmhouse.

On the porch a woman appeared.

"Alma," she called, "what are you doing?"

"I'm out here on the fence, mamma, whistling goodnight to the sun."

"Supper will soon be ready."

"I'll come in a minute, mamma."

She turned her head as she spoke and saw a stranger approaching over the ridge, beyond which in the valley lay the village. As he came down the roadway he seemed very tall and very thin, and his shadow stretched far behind him.

He was an old man, with full gray beard and long gray hair. His coat was long and loose and he leaned heavily on a stout cane.

The whistle stopped as he neared the child. The old man raised his hands with a strange gesture.

"The child!" he murmured, and stood fast in the roadway.

For a full moment he stood there with hands upraised. Then his hands slowly dropped, a new light came into his face.

"It iss Lena," he softly said.

"My name is Alma," said the child.

"It iss Lena's hair and Lena's eyes," he murmured.

"I am Alma Sedgwick," said the child. "I live with my mamma in the house you see there."

He slowly nodded his gray head. "Lena lives far away."

"Is Lena your little girl?"

"She was my leetle girl, but she iss lostod."

"That's too bad," said the child with a tremor of sympathy. "And are you looking for her now?"

"I look effryveres," the old man answered. "Vat is de use? She comes no more. I call so loudt, 'Lena!' but she hears me not." His thin figure suddenly drooped. "I am so very tired," he murmured.

He staggered a little and the frightened child caught his hand. "Come with me," she said, "and rest. My mamma knows just what to do for sick people. Come."

Holding fast to his hand, she slowly led him to the porch.

"He is very tired, mamma," exclaimed the child. "He is looking for his daughter, Lena. A child like me. She is lost."

Then the woman, noting his exhaustion, brought him cordial and cakes. He drank the cordial and slowly ate the food. And his deep-set eyes wandered from the child to the mother.

"And do you think your daughter came this way?" she presently asked.

"Dere are many vays," he slowly answered, "vy not dis vun?"

"And was it long ago you lost her?"

He gravely nodded.

"Long ago," he answered, "so werry long ago."

"Then she must be a grown woman now?"

"So," he said, with infinite pathos. "That iss why I haf lost her."

He talked little, but listened with an eager air to all that was said. But when the mother tried to learn something about him, his mind proved a blank. He did not even remember his name; he had no friends, nobody would look for him. He did not know whence he came, nor whither he was going. If Lena could be found, Lena would know.

His restless gaze, wandering about the room, stopped at a violin box that stood in a corner.

"That was my Uncle Jim's," said the child, following his gaze. "He left it here when he went away with papa. Would you like to see it?"

He took out the violin and frowned as he looked it over. Then he strung it with infinite care and adjusted the bow. And presently the little room was filled with crowding tones, now sweet, now harsh, now sad, now jubilant, and then dying into silence.

The old man lifted his head and looked at the mother in the doorway.

"I vas de king's chapel master in de long ago," he said with quiet dignity. "Now I play something for de child."

It was a lilting little measure, full of laughter and whispering voices and the patter of merry feet. And when it ended with a sudden thrum the child laughed.

"More," she cried. "more."

"Den I play you de leetle folk song I taught Lena," he said. "Und after I vill teach it you. Sit here by me vere you can vatch it close."

It was a song of the Rhine, of sunny slopes, of vineyards fair, of the humble cot and the mother heart—the song of the wanderer who longs for his boyhood's home.

The old man played it through with pathos, and then he had the child hum it with the violin. Her ear was quick and presently she hummed it alone. The old man was much pleased.

"To-morrow," he said, "I vill de words teach you. To-night it iss enough."

In the morning the wanderer appeared stronger and brighter, but said nothing of his future plans. He seemed anxious to make himself useful as far as possible. He brought in wood, he mended the fence, and then he gave the child her music lesson.

The puzzled mother shook her head. Was it right for her to shelter this stranger of whom she knew nothing? It was evident that he was mentally disordered, although harmless. She would wait longer before she decided what she would do.

Alma and the old man were inseparable companions. And she never tired of the music lessons he gave her.

"She has the werry promising voice," he told her mother. I vill a fine singer of her make. It vill not be de feerst time, no, no."

But one bright summer day in June the child was again sitting on the fence along the highway. This time she was not whistling. Her clear soprano was warbling the folk song the old man so carefully had taught her. And as she sang, her eyes were intent upon the page of the wonderful German fairy book the old man had sent to the village and bought for her.

She was so absorbed that she did not hear the approach of a huge touring car. There was in the car a lady, who, catching sight of the child, signalled the chauffeur to stop. Then she lightly stepped down and stood there listening to the song. When it ended, she drew a long breath.

"My dear," she softly called, "will you come here, please?"

The child looked down and saw the lady, a very grand lady, with beautiful clothes, and with a winning smile.

"Who taught you to sing that song, my dear?"

There were tears in the beautiful lady's eyes.

"Father Luke taught me."

"Father Luke? And will you take me to him?"

She took the child's hand and together they went up the lane. The old man was sitting on the porch, and the mother of the child was in the doorway.

As the grand lady approached the old man looked up, and his gaze was a troubled one.

"Father," said the grand lady very softly.

He slowly shook his head.

Then as she stood with her appealing eyes upon his face she began the song he had taught the child. She sang it softly in the start, then fuller and louder and presently her great voice rang out vibrant and wonderful.

As the last notes lingeringly died away, the old man, his face rapt and shining, turned to the mother of the child.

"There is no odder voice like that," he simply said. "It iss Lena!"

Then the grand lady's arms were around him and her kiss was on his cheeks.

"Ah, it is very good to see you again, father. And you look so fine, so well, so happy!"

"Und vill you take me away, Lena?"

"Why, father dear, you want to visit Lena, do you not? But you may come back. Lena is only too happy to find you again, and find you so comfortable. You may come and go as you please, father."

The gray head nodded. "It is well," he said.

A little later the lady talked to the mother of the child.

"I am Mme. Mariatti of the grand opera," she explained in her quick way, "and this is my father. He wandered away from us—he has not been the same since my mother died—and we have searched so far for him. It was quite by chance we heard of the strange old man who played the violin so beautifully. I hurry, hurry, and lo! he is here!"

The voice of the old man interrupted her.

"Und how about de child, Lena?"

"You will make a singer of the child, father—a great singer."

And the old man's trembling hand touched the child's curls and he gently smiled. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: The New Note.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church, Hamburg avenue and Weirfield street, on the theme, "The Church's New Note," the Rev. I. W. Henderson, pastor, took as his text Mark 12:30: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." He said:

The adaptability of the Gospel is wonderful. In every epoch and in every age wherever the truth of God as it has been revealed in Jesus Christ has been preached, it has been found to be a fit guide for the leading of the minds and hearts and souls of men, a true solvent for the evils of the epoch and the age in which it has been declared. Always it has possessed a message that has been peculiarly adaptable to the individual and social iniquities and to the individual and social spiritual yearnings and necessities of the society to which it has been proclaimed. When in apostolic times the preciousness of budding human life was discounted and largely unrecognized the vitalizing Gospel of Jesus Christ revealed the beauty and the value of life itself. When in the ante-Reformation days the truth was endangered by the regrettable unwisdom of the ecclesiastical authorities of that day and time the compelling Gospel of Jesus opened wide the treasury of written truth that had been preserved in all its fragrance through the centuries and a new era for mankind began. As in those times so throughout Christendom it has been. Whatever may have been the sins, the spiritual yearnings, the mode of thought, the manner of expression, of any generation, the Gospel has always adapted itself and been found humanly adaptable to the sins, the yearnings, the thoughts, the terminology of the period. Every revival in Christian history, especially in the history of the last four hundred years, has had its peculiar message, adaptable to the sins, the yearnings, the spiritual needs, the thought and the terminology of the time in which it has been preached. Historians tell us that when in the days of Jonathan Edwards—days in which Christianity was largely legalistic in thought and speech—the fiery prophet of the living God wished to bring men into an open realization and confession of their sinfulness and their accountability to God he preached them sermons on the essential fact and necessity of Divine sovereignty; and with burning zeal declared to humanity, as God gave him opportunity to sow the seed of His truth, the wisdom of yielding self into the control of the Divine Ruler of the universe. Wesley preached the truth of the freedom of the will to a nation to whom freedom was life. "Whosoever will may come" was not all the Gospel then, nor is it all the Gospel now; but it is the lever of truth by which men in the days of that great revivalist were most quickly turned to love and serve God.

We are face to face with another great world-wide revival. We are in the midst of it. It may not be recognized in some quarters and it may be blinked in others. Many men refuse to recognize it or they may fail to have the insight to perceive it, but it is here none the less. Evidencing itself within the church it is expressing itself more largely perhaps outside of the church than within it.

Men are Gospel-hardened to the messages of yesterday. Not that they disdain Christ, but because the proclamations of the past have lost, through perfunctory familiarity with them, the power to cut deep into their souls. The edge of the truth has become dulled for them. It needs to be brought to the tempering fire of a flaming truth that shall startle and attract men. It must be laid hard on the wheel of a compelling Divine verity that shall put an edge on all that has become dulled. The preaching of Edwards will not do it, the oratory of Wesley will not do it, the burning messages of Finney will not do it, the declaration of God's love in the mouth of Moody will not do it. These are our places of departure. The truth that these men have declared, the men-we-are-after know. We must vitalize that dormant truth by flinging a new message into their souls. We must warm the chilled embers of their own religious experiences with the blaze of a modern message that, having its inspirations in the historic Christ, shall be indwelt of His presence and energized of His spirit for a special ministry to-day. Men know that God is sovereign; they know that the human will is free, for are they not exercising it against God every day? They know that personal responsibility for personal sin or decency is inescapable; they know that God is love. We do not need to prove these things to them most insistently. What we need to do is to proclaim before them a new note from the old Anthem of God's revelation of His truth and Himself in Jesus Christ that shall find a correlative note in their own souls and lead them back into harmony with the age-long chorus of the redeemed of God. It is the business of the church of Jesus Christ to strike this note and to assume leadership.

Granted that these remarks be true, what then shall be our new note? What note shall we strike? What word of God shall be our watchword? What text in the Scriptures shall epitomize our thought? About what idea shall our preaching revolve? In my humble judgment the text which shall epitomize the message of the new revival is that which is to be found as indicated in the text for this evening in the Gospel according to St. Mark, the 12th chapter and the 30th verse: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." And the idea that shall crystallize our thinking shall be the conception of human love for God. As the basis of Moody's evangel was the love of God for man, so, I verily believe, ere we shall do the work for Jesus that we desire to perform, we must declare, with insistency and with cumulative force, the dignity, the wisdom, the fairness, the efficacy of human love for God.

The trouble with us to-day is not that we do not know that God loves us. The trouble is that men do not love God. The evil which afflicts us can only be cured by the exercise of a controlling and vitalizing love for God, such a love as shall mellow and beautify the souls of men. The iniquity which scourges us now and torments us would not be if, in the past, men had loved God. A thoroughgoing love for God will make evil conditions in this world as impossible as they will be in the new Jerusalem hereafter. The golden rule has failed to accomplish its mission, not because it is not a truth, but because it is only half a truth, as it is popularly used to-day. The second commandment is a safe guide for our rule and practice through life only when it is correlated with that primary commandment which our Lord enunciated as at the logical centre of the moral and spiritual realities. The golden rule is not enough of a guide for us as we travel toward the undiscovered country. We must be more than moral if we desire happiness here and hope to enter into joy eternal hereafter. The golden rule must be vitalized by the living first principle of the kingdom of God. The trouble with the world is that men have been altogether too well satisfied to do and be done by, as God never intended they should. See for a moment how this half truth works in practice. You and I are on the Stock Exchange. You are satisfied that if by trickery or falsification or by the spreading of dangerous reports, true or untrue, I can ruin you, I may do so, provided I afford you equal opportunity to do the same to me. You and I are trading horses. It is all right for you to fleece me with my eyes open so long as I am permitted to fleece you in the same manner. You and I are in business. It is proper for me to steal your trade, provided you have an equal opportunity to steal mine. Of course this meets a modern interpretation of the golden rule, which says, "Whatsoever ye are willing that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." But how grievously it violates the spirit of Christ's law. The principle of the business world too largely is this, that it is all right for one dog to eat the other, because they have agreed that it shall be fair to play the industrial and commercial game that way. "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," we are told. But when this law is separated from the correlated truth that Christ declared, and transplanted alone into the lives of multitudes of men to-day, we understand what an awful half-truth it has become.

In all seriousness, I do not desire that some men shall love me in the way they love themselves, outside of Christ. I do not care to practice the golden rule as to-day it is promulgated in our social life, outside of Jesus Christ, or to have it so practiced upon me. For some men have no comprehension of their own value and the demands of their own integrity upon their lives; and how, therefore, can they appreciate the value of the lives, the minds, the hearts, the souls, the peace and purity and happiness of their fellow men? Some men have such a small estimate, seemingly, of themselves, judged by the way they treat themselves, that we should be untrue to ourselves did we not resent like treatment by them of us. Some men have such a debased idea concerning what is right for men to do unto them that they cannot be expected to know, unless the grace of God inform them, what they should do to their fellows.

The message for our own time, the appeal of to-day, must be based on the text I have read. Its theme must be the love of man for God. Loving God, we shall conserve the interests of our own personalities and gain a divine value of our own worth to God and to the world. Loving God, we shall know the value of our brethren.

Do you suppose for an instant that men would have the audacity to publish declarations that they were only worth a paltry couple of hundred millions if they really loved God as God means they should? Do you suppose for an instant that they would boast that they can buy legislatures and judges and the government, if they loved God as Jesus loved Him? If we loved God as Jesus means we should, do you suppose that we would stand for child labor, with all its horrors and cruelties; for the saloon as it is, with all its fruitage of vice and crime and misery and poverty and despair? If we loved God as Jesus means we should, have you the slightest suspicion that we would permit women by the thousands to be sent into the brothel in economic self-defense? If men loved God, would it be thinkable that they would murder and rape, and steep themselves in drunkenness, in bestiality and crime? Do you think that if we could get men to love God, they would not have again a lively consciousness of His sovereignty as Edwards declared it, and of their free will to do the right as Wesley declared it, and of their personal responsibility as Finney declared it, and of their indebtedness to divine love as Moody declared it? I think not.

The new note of the church will be the love of men for God. For it is the second logical step in the scheme of redemption in Christ. God in Christ hath already loved men, and now loves them. It is for them to reciprocate His love. The new message must be the central truth of the kingdom of God on its manward side. We must lead men to love God. Then shall we reach them.

Getting men to love God, we shall transform the individual character; we shall regenerate society; we shall make wars to cease and all nations throughout all the earth to dwell in righteous and godly fraternal relationships. The task is great. But it is not impossible. The means and the method we shall discuss at another time. But when we shall have gotten men to love the living God, then shall we hear a voice out of Heaven saying unto us, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them, their God."

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR JUNE 2, BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON.

Subject: Moses Called to Deliver Israel, Ex. 3:1-14—Golden Text: Ex. 3:12—Memory Verses, 2-4—Commentary.

The call of God to Moses to do the work which he did among the children of Israel is shown in the third and the fourth chapters of the book of the Exodus. In this call we find many lessons that are applicable to human life to-day.

To us each day God comes with a duty, be it great or small, as He came to Moses in the unconsuming fire of the bush at Horeb. To some of us it is given to do work beside which the work of Moses was a gigantic task; to others of us it is given to shape the destinies of a people even as Moses shaped the career of Israel. Moses gave His people a higher, nobler, more uplifting economic and religious system.

The first lesson that we have here is in the emphasis that is laid on the holiness of the place where the special presence of God is conceived to be. To Moses the place about the burning bush was holy because there he communed with God in an especial and peculiar manner. To-day we consecrate the house of God to His use and then oftentimes without any reasonable excuse whatsoever treat that place without proper and due consideration. We do not have to take our shoes off as do the Eastern peoples when we go into church. Neither should we take off our manners or lose our sense of the proprieties. The church is entitled to especial consideration. In it we meet for the holiest purposes and in it we enter into our finest visions of God, oftentimes. It should be treated with respect. To be sure a church building is only so much wood, and brick, and stone, but the memories and the influences which hallow it consecrate it, or ought to consecrate it, in a special manner. While not forgetting that God is everywhere and that His dwelling place is not made with hands, we ought not to forget that the places where we meet in common worship and communion are inexpressibly dear to God and that they ought to be incomparably sacred to us. And we should teach our youth the sacredness of the church building. Too often they leave their manners outside when they go into a church. And too often their elders do the same thing.

The second thing that the lesson points out to us is the value of humility and dependence upon God. When God charged Moses to go down to bring the children of Israel out of Egypt he was not over-confident. Moses felt the weight of the responsibility. Like a true and strong man Moses saw immediately that the task was too great for his unaided powers. He saw that his education, his intellectual endowments, his spirituality, were not sufficient for the upbuilding of an enduring work. "Who am I," says he, "that I should go unto Pharaoh and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?" His humility was that of a strong man. We must gain this Mosaic humbleness if we would do true work. For this is not the humility of self-depreciation but of open-minded self-valuation.

The third lesson is a dual one. Gifted of God with a divine task and with the evidence of the validity of his call Moses still feels himself unequal to the work. His tongue is slow of speech. He pleads for a spokesman. And God gives Aaron to him to be "instead of a mouth" to him. The lesson that we ought to learn is that men of power should be ready and willing to receive assistance from other men of power, especially when the help they may be able to secure is superior to their own abilities. Moses was a thinker, a seer, an organiser of immense ability, a wise lawyer, but he was no speaker. Moses recognized that he needed aid along the very line in which personally he was inefficient. This shows his greatness. An honest declaration of the limits of personal ability is, with the power to select able helpers and use them at their value, a true test of greatness.

The lesson also reveals to us the power of God in the world. His power is shown through His dealings with humanity. Israel, repenting of her sin and lifting up her prayer to God for deliverance from the heavy hand of the Egyptians is not forgotten. God never forgets a people who turn to Him believing that He can and will aid. Steadfast prayer, in every national crisis, reaches the ear of Jehovah. Jehovah replies to every petition. For each crisis God perpares a master. Moses led Israel out of bondage. He is a leader of liberators. The class of which He is a prototype exists in every land. He was the man for the hour. And God supplies every praying people with a fit leader.

To-day, in this land, God is raising up men who shall lead humanity nearer to Himself. They are being divinely nurtured in every walk in life. To-day and in America we have conditions that need rectifying just as the conditions in Egypt among the Jews needed to be rectified. And we need a Moses. We need a man who shall guide this people out of the darkness of sin and ignorance into the promised land where the economics of Christ shall rule and where the eternal and spiritual principles of the Christ life shall control.

Nothing will give you a better outlook on this world than some skylights to heaven.

The Common House [illegible]

Whence He Comes and Why He Comes.

By HAROLD SOMERS, [illegible]

The common house fly (Musca domestica) is a creature of many [illegible] tive habits that although [illegible] very earliest times he has been [illegible] us, and the most ancient writings mentioned and described him, very little was known of his life and history.

It remained for the eminent [illegible] ton biologist, Dr. A. S. Packard, [illegible] 1873, to make known his original [illegible] its and transformations from the egg through the larva state with [illegible] changes to the pupa state, [illegible] the perfect fly.

Near the first of August the female lays about 120 eggs of a dull white color, selecting fresh horse manure in which to deposit her eggs, as she secretes them that they are not seen. It takes only twenty hours for them to hatch into the first stage of larva, a white worm-like creature of an inch in length and one-fourth in diameter. They feed on the liquid matter of their environment, and after changes or casting of skins [illegible] fore they turn into the pupa state. In this change comes very near. The entire period from the egg to the pupa state is from three to four days. If moist food is wanting when in this condition they will eat each other and thus decrease their number. Warmth and humidity greatly assist the development, as upon careful observation each pound of manure in stables and outhouses develops under favorable conditions over [illegible] flies. It is no wonder that [illegible] these conditions exist we have the veritable harvest of the fly pest.

In the pupa state when the fly is about to emerge the end of the [illegible] case splits off, making a hole through which the fly pushes a portion of the head, but here it seems to [illegible] a difficulty; the pupa case is still and hard to pass through, but nature comes to its assistance, and a sort of bladder like substance behind the head, which swells apparently filled with air, it [illegible] means of pushing away the pupa case and releases the fly. When the fly first emerges it runs around with its wings soft, small and baggy; the body pale and the colors are not developed. The head rapidly expands and the [illegible] formation passes away—within a few hours the wings grow and harden and the fly is now a perfect fly.

The whole time from the laying of the egg to the perfect fly is not over ten days in duration. Many persons who observe small flies in midsummer suppose they are very young, but such is not the case. They are flies that are imperfectly developed in the larvae and pupae state, and do not attain full size; but though they are the dwarfs of their race the male fly differs from the female in the front of the head between the eyes, being at least one-third smaller, though in size the female is smaller.

Adult flies like most other insects have parasites of minute size that prey upon them; these can only be seen as presenting small specks over the body of the fly.

Another enemy in the form of a fungus often attacks the fly in early autumn. This makes its appearance as a white swelling and the white spores of the disease may be seen penetrating the body of the fly, which it finally distends and distorts.

The fly hibernates in winter with his usual secretive habits, very difficult to find him in his winter quarters. With the first chill of autumn the flies, feeling the cold, seek temporary warmth in houses, clustering together form beneath the corners of walls and other places. They are then sluggish and not so active as in the warm weather. However, they do not make a permanent stay indoors, but on the first warm sunny day seek the windows, creep out and find their permanent winter hiding place. Many prefer to hibernate in their homes in the roots of grass on lawns, where they hide themselves so effectually that the ice and snow of winter does not destroy them in their hibernating state. If in the early warm days of spring when the snow is gone and the grass on the lawn becomes dry and warm, long before the yellow dandelion shows its head a close observer may see numbers of flies crawling up on the grass to bask in the welcome sunshine, their wings standing out stiff and useless until they soon acquire the power of flight in the warm rays of the sun. After many days, however, elapse before they appear in the houses of men.

In recent years the medical profession have demonstrated that while the fly itself does not propagate disease it is one of the most industrious carriers of disease germs, which it will contact adhere to his feet, hairy body, distributing them to its victims.

If every housekeeper could realize all these interesting facts, which have never before been brought to their attention, they would realize the importance of securing the very best exterminator.

One of the professors of Brown university was explaining to his class in political science how the United States looked after the welfare of its citizens who traveled in foreign countries. He was speaking of the duties of United States ministers in foreign countries, and was also speaking of the use of the passport. "Let us take a concrete example," he said. "Suppose you were going from New York to Russia. Upon leaving New York you would be given a passport. This would give a minute description of you, the color of your eyes, the shape of your nose, whether you are clean-shaven or not, etc. We will say that when you started you were clean-shaven, but on the voyage you decided to grow a beard, and when you reached Russia your beard had grown so that the officers failed to recognize you by your passport. Suppose they go further, suppose they arrest you as a suspicious character, say as an anarchist. What would you do then?"

"Escape," was the prompt response of the bright student.—Ridgway's.

Mortality Among Ducks.

The causes of mortality among young ducks may be summed up as follows: Overheat, dampness, getting sick of grit, gray head lice, sudden showers, delayed hatches, exposure to sun, lack of fresh water, drinking vessels too shallow and breeding in filthy condition.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily question of the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment, a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and poorly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits. From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last year I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cream and milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the digestion of the stomach were greatly improved and I again slept as sweetly and as well as in my youth. I took upon Grape-Nuts as a permanent food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in the rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will be convinced of the constituents and principle upon which it is constructed and may thereby know how to use to its true worth." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. The Common House Fly

Whence He Comes and Whither He Goes.

By HAROLD SOMERS, M.

The common house fly (Musca domestica) is a creature of such active habits that although from very earliest times he has been with us, and the most ancient writings mentioned and described him, very little was known of his life and history.

It remained for the eminent American biologist, Dr. A. S. Packard, in 1873, to make known his origin, its and transformations from egg through the larva state with its changes to the pupa state, and the perfect fly.

Near the first of August the female lays about 120 eggs of a dull white color, selecting fresh horse manure in which to deposit her eggs, to which she secretes them that they are not seen. It takes only twenty-four hours for them to hatch into the first stage of larva, a white worm one-quarter of an inch in length and one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter. They feed on the decaying matter of their environment, and after changes or casting of skins called moults before they turn into the pupa state. In this change comes very suddenly. The entire period from the egg to the pupa state is from three to four days. If moist food is wanting when in this condition they will eat each other and thus decrease their number. Heat and humidity greatly assist their development, as upon careful examination each pound of manure around stables and outhouses develops under favorable conditions over 1,000 flies. It is no wonder that when these conditions exist we have such a veritable harvest of the fly pest.

In the pupa state when the fly is about to emerge the end of the pupa case splits off, making a hole through which the fly pushes a portion of its head, but here it seems to encounter a difficulty; the pupa case is quite stiff and hard to pass through, so nature comes to its assistance, and a sort of bladder like substance forces behind the head, which swells out, apparently filled with air; it acts as a means of pushing away the pupa case and releases the fly. When the fly first emerges it runs around with its wings soft, small and baggy; the body pale and the colors are not set; the head rapidly expands and the whole transformation passes away—within a few hours the wings grow and harden and he is now a perfect fly.

The whole time from the depositing of the egg to the perfect fly is not over ten days in duration. Many persons who observe small flies in midsummer suppose they are very young, but such is not the case; they are flies that are imperfectly established in the larvae and pupae state and do not attain full size; in fact they are the dwarfs of their race. The male fly differs from the female in the front of the head between the eyes, being at least one-third narrower, though in size the female is rather smaller.

Adult flies like most other creatures have parasites of minute size that prey upon them; these can often be seen as presenting small specks over the body of the fly.

Another enemy in the form of a fungus often attacks the fly in the early autumn. This makes its appearance as a white swelling and the white spores of the disease can be seen penetrating the body of the fly, which it finally distends and distorts.

The fly hibernates in winter, and with his usual secretive habit is very difficult to find him in his winter quarters. With the first chill of autumn the flies, feeling the cold, and temporary warmth in houses, clustering together form bunches in the corners of walls and other places. They are then sluggish and not as active as in the warm weather. However, they do not make a permanent stay indoors, but on the first warm sunny day seek the windows to get out and find their permanent winter hiding place. Many prefer to make their homes in the roots of grass on lawns, where they hide themselves effectually that the ice and snow of winter does not destroy them in their hibernating state. If in the early warm days of spring when the grass is gone and the grass on the lawn becomes dry and warm, long before the yellow dandelion shows its head a close observer may see numbers of flies crawling up on the grass to get the welcome sunshine, their wings standing out stiff and useless, but they soon acquire the power of flight in the warm rays of the sun. After many days, however, elapse before they appear in the homes of man.

In recent years the medical profession have demonstrated that while the fly itself does not propagate disease it is one of the most industrious carriers of disease germs, which by contact adhere to his feet, hairy body, distributing them to human victims.

MILL WORKERS GET INCREASE.

New England Operatives Receive Advance in Wages From 5 to 10 Per Cent.

Boston, Mass.—The general upward movement in the wages of New England cotton mill operatives Monday affected about 65,000 operatives in different parts of New England. The advance in this section amounts to about 10 per cent. Early next month it is expected an increase of 5 per cent will be given in many mills in other manufacturing districts. The cotton mills of New England employ upward of 200,000 hands when the machinery is fully manned. In Lowell the operatives have requested an advance of 10 per cent and through the Textile Council declined an offer of a 5 per cent increase made by the manufacturers.

TO PREVENT EXPLOSIONS.

Novel Mining School to Be Established in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Plans for the establishment of one of the most novel mining schools or experiment stations in the world are under way in this city. The station will be under the control of the fuel division of the United States geological survey and its purpose will be to prevent explosions in coal mines and to minimize the loss of life in such explosions. It is expected that the station will be in operation within the next few months. A unique feature of the station will be a miniature coal mine. The mine will be filled with gases and afterdamp and exploded. Miners and operators will then be shown the most practical way of rescuing the occupants who of course in this instance will be "dummies." Another feature will be the tests conducted under scientific conditions to ascertain what explosives can be used in mining with the greatest safety in the presence of fire damp and coal gas.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

Features Will Be Unveilings of Monuments at Various Places.

New York.—The features of this year's national observance of Memorial Day will be the unveiling of a monument to Gen. Henry W. Lawton at Indianapolis, where President Roosevelt will deliver an address, and the unveiling of a statue of Gen. James E. B. Stuart by the United Confederate Veterans at Richmond, Va. On the same day Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, and Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts, will speak at the unveiling of tablets to celebrated Americans in the Hall of Fame at New York University.

May Irwin Weds.

Clayton, N. Y.—May Irwin, the actress, was married at her summer home on Irwin Island, in the St. Lawrence river, yesterday to Kurt Elsfeldt, for three years her manager and press agent. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Theo Payden, rector of Christ Episcopal church. The only witnesses were the bride's two sons, Harry and Walter. Mr. and Mrs. Elsfeldt will spend the summer in the St. Lawrence.

Considers Calling Out Troops.

San Francisco, Cal.—United States Attorney-General Devlin will begin a thorough investigation of the attack on a Japanese restaurant and bath house last Tuesday by a mob of hoodlums. The governor has hesitated to order out the militia, because this, he says, would be a confession to the world that the city is unable to govern itself. He believes that a strong committee of representative citizens could soon restore peace and order.

Hurt by Explosion of Powder.

New York.—Fourteen persons were injured, some of them probably fatally, by an explosion in the cut of the new Pennsylvania station at Thirty-first street and Seventh avenue Monday. Several of the injured were pedestrians in surrounding streets, who were caught in the shower of stones which were hurled hundreds of feet by the force of the explosion.

Cleveland Contributes to Schurz Fund.

New York.—Subscriptions to the Carl Scurz memorial fund received by Isaac Seligman, treasurer, now amount to $72,567.61. Rock Island Sells $10,000,000 Bonds.

New York.—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company has sold to Messrs. Speyer & Co. $10,000,000 of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific firsts and refunding mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, due April 1, 1934. The proceeds of this sale will be applied by the company to pay $7,500,000 notes maturing July 1 next, and the balance for betterments and improvements.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, dull, tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, ... "rising" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Feared a Consultation.

The latest story about Senator Pettus of Alabama is of how he was overcome with vertigo some time ago while working on a law case in his Alabama office. He recovered in a few minutes and his clerk said he was going to send for a doctor.

"All right," said the octogenarian, "but don't get more than one." When the doctor arrived the senator said: "You are the only doctor here, are you? You're sure there's only one of you?" Oh, yes, Senator," said the physician, who thought the old gentleman had some confidential communication to make.

"I'm mighty glad of it," the Senator said, with a sigh of relief. "I'm sure I'll get well if there is only one of you fellows here, but I could never survive a consultation.—Indianapolis Star.

ECZEMA COVERED BABY.

Worst Case Doctors Ever Saw—Suffered Untold Misery — Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when four months old began to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I used many kinds of patent medicines to no avail. At last I decided to try Cuticura, when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies. He was better in two months; in six months he was well. Mrs. R. L. Risley, Piermont, N. H., Oct. 24, 1905."

The Question.

John Wanamaker superintends, as all the world knows, one of the largest Sunday schools in the world—Bethany Sunday school in Philadelphia.

It is said of Mr. Wanamaker that one Sunday he delivered before the infant class of Bethany a brief but eloquent address on the lesson. At the end he said:

"And now is there any question that any little boy or girl would like to ask me?"

A girl of 8 or 9 years rose.

"Well, Martha, what is it?" said the superintendent, smiling on the tot in kindly fashion.

"Please, Mr. Wanamaker," said the little girl, "what is the price of those large wax dolls in your window?"—Washington Star.

Indians Cling to Tribal Language.

The Euchee Indians, 500 in number, who live in a remote part of the Creek nation, cling to their old language and marry principally among their own tribe, after being conquered and absorbed by the Creek Indians more than 200 years ago. In some cases an Euchee may marry a Creek, and the children will speak to the father in the Euchee language and to the mother in Creek.

Noah Gregory, a well-known Euchee Indian, in recalling some of these circumstances, says he can remember when his father used to punish him for talking Creek at home. The Creeks conquered the Euchees in Alabama so many years ago that the story is only tradition, the latter being given the full rights and privileges of the Creek citizens. Most of the tribe are fullbloods, owing to the fact that they marry principally among themselves. The district in which they live is in the mountainous region of the Creek nation, which lies between Weelocha and a point southwest of Bristow.—Muskogee Cor. Kansas City Journal.

Use for Bad Roads.

A farmer's wife wanted to send a lot of butter to market last Saturday, but she did not have the churning done, nor did she have time to wait until it was done, but she was equal to the occasion.

She poured the ripened cream into a milk can with a close fitting top and set it in her buggy, and drove in; the rough and rigid roads did the rest. Upon arriving, she took the lids off the can and with the ladle and butter tray she had provided, she dipped up the butter and had it ready for delivery in a jiffy. Even the rough roads can be turned into utility by the gumption of a Kansas woman.—Douglas Tribune.

MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

WOMEN SUFFER

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, hoping well that they ought to have immediate assistance.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong?

The cause may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. F. Walsh, of 329 W. 36th St., New York City, writes—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

WORMS

All children complain frequently of headaches, backaches, that "their stomachs hurt," and that they "don't feel good." This condition is a common one and the trouble is almost invariably due to pin worms.

Children haven't the strength to combat their ills and indispositions without the aid of some reliable medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's
(Laxative)
Syrup Pepsin

is an unfailing, harmless and absolute cure for worms, stomach and bowel troubles, and can be used as freely for either baby or the bigger child, as for full grown folks.

If your child seems indisposed, feverish, fretful, peevish, and all out of sorts, these are symtoms of worms. One dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN as directed, the dejected condition will soon give way to health and vigor.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Write today.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains

"I suffered with rheumatism over two years," says Mr. [illegible] Curry, a patrolman, of Key [illegible] Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One day when I was in severe pain and suffering from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I got her to rubbed with it and found relief. I had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from the disease for over three months." For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

There is a number of people who are under an erroneous impression. They think that they never control enough money to start a bank account. In this they are mistaken. We solicit small accounts as well as large. And we handle the business of both with our best care. We believe that you ought to have a bank account, and we offer you our services.

This is Why

We deserve to be favored with a share of your banking business:

First, because OUR RECORD IS CLEAN, and a long record of honest dealing is the best guarantee of a prosperous future.

Then OUR POLICY is as liberal as is consistent with security; we are accommodating but prudent.

And finally, OUR LOCATION is central and accessible—right in the centre of business.

We ask your consideration.

Wildwood, Ga., June 3, 1907
Editor Banner—I have been receiving the Banner for a month or so, and appreciate it very much and would be glad to know the name of the friend or relative that is sending it to me so I could thank them personally. I have a brother near Clanton and he has several children that are grown and some of them married that are living in Chilton county. I also have lots of friends in the county that I hope have not forgotten me. I see some of their names in the Banner, and it brings back many pleasant memories to my mind. I am proud to know that old Chilton county is coming to the front. I would like to own a home near Clanton and live there so I could have Bill McDaniel to mend my shoes when they need it. I have not been in Chilton since 1889, and I can see from reading the Banner that there has been a wonderful change there.

I would be glad if all of the correspondents to the Banner would sign their right names when they write, it would be so much better to know who one was reading after. It makes one tired to read a good letter, on a good subject and find some little sorry ficticious name signed to it that means nothing. Sign your name to what you write if there is anything good in it; we want to know where the good comes from.

I think I will visit Chilton county some time in the near future.

If this does not find the waste basket, I will promise to write up the progress that is being made in the mountains of North Georgia in the way of development of its grand resources, some time soon, and tell you where Wildwood is, and what it looks like.

JAS. R. SHAW.

New Salem.

Dear Editor—If you will allow me a small space in the Banner for my first, I will attempt to write.

Our Sunday school is getting along nicely, with about 75 scholars.

There is to be Childrens' day here Saturday, June 8th. Everybody is invited to come and be with us and have a nice time.

I am glad to say New Salem is coming right on with good music and singing every Sunday eve.

Mrs. Daily Fairington of Birmingham is visiting her parents near Collins Chapel.

I am sorry to say that J. B. Littletons' wife of Sloss, Ala., has gone to Birmingham to have an operation performed; hope she will soon recover.

I would like for New Salem to let people hear from her more often and let them know that she is not quite dead.

Well, as this is my first, will close with best wishes to the Banner and its many readers. GERTIE MAY.

Ocampo.

Dear Editor—From gleaning over the columns of your paper, it seems that there is a number of people against the Clanton dispensary. I am sure that I am, for there isn't anything so ruining to the youth of this day as whiskey. To walk the streets of Clanton on Saturday evening, or visit your all-day singings, is enough to put the good people of this county to thinking and writing as to putting it out of reach of the youth. May we have the wit to discover what is true, and the fortitude to practice what is good.

The farmers through this section are very much out of heart. It seems that winter will never leave.

Mr. C. A. D. is increasing his visits out west these days, for some cause.

Mr. Oliver Collum visited Clanton Monday.

Mr. C. R. Mullins of Clanton dined at the Ocampo Inn, Thursday

Mrs. W. M. Guy visited Clanton Monday.

Mrs. A. L. Burnett is on the sick list.

Well, Ocampo is on a boom now. Mr. Wills has had a nice side room built to the store. Best wishes to the Banner and its many readers.

REYWAS.

Sandy.

It rains and rains; more rain, more rest, every fair day is not the best. The farmers are trying to work out their crop. The cotton in this community looks bad, but maybe it will stop raining and the farmers will make a good crop yet We hope so anyhow. We don't know what is before us, but God knows best.

Mrs. P. G. Maness and Mrs. Ella Chastain visited Mrs. Abram at Sheppard's mill.

Misses Bessie and Eva Hall spent Sunday with Misses Lena and Willie Walker.

Miss Rosie and Mabel Williams spent awhile with Misses Bessie and Eva Hall.

Messrs. R. Dickinson and Broadhead were all smiles Sunday; we can guess where they went.

Anybody that wants to know where Sheppard's mill is, it is on the right of Pleasant Grove church in Beat 7. The mill is not ready for the whistle yet, but the boys bought them one; you can hear it a quarter of a mile.

Mr. Tom Wallace and family spent Sunday at Mr. Woodie McGee's. HARD KNOT.

East Lomax.

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words. The health of this community is very good.

Our Sunday school at Jackson's Chapel is progressing nicely under the management of Mr. E. F. Taylor. Say, Pet, I think you girls wasn't so lucky last Sunday, there were about four deserters in the Sunday school.

Some of our boys of the Chapel push visited Unity last Sunday and reported a nice time. But two of them broke the record in eating dinner. I think Lomax community needs to make up $10 to pay for those two boy's dinner, for they were hungry; they done without anything to eat for several days. They knew they would get plenty to eat at Unity. They say they will call again if they can get some more chicken pie.

The farmers of this community are far behind with work; their farms look like grass patches, which they are. Success to the Banner and its readers.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

"I would not for much money," wrote Jean Paul, "have had much money in my youth." Andrew Carnegie is more explicity. "I am glad," he said at the dinner of the Military Telegraph Corps, "that I was born in poverty. I would not exchange it to be the son of the richest millionaire on earth. What does he know of his father and mother? How is he off beside the boy who has in his mother his nurse, his teacher, his cook, his seamstress, his angel, his saint? There are no servants between them. His father is his guide, philosopher, and friend."

"While it is, of course, a platitude to say that a wise teacher learns by instructing others," recently observed an instructor in a preparatory school in Brooklyn, according to Harper's Weekly, "it is permissible to remark that he frequently picks up some curious information in this way. I once asked a boy to explain, if he could, the difference between animal instinct and human intelligence. It was a pretty hard question, but the lad was equal to it. 'If we had instinct,' he said, 'we should know everything we needed to know without learning it; but we've got reason, and so we have to study ourselves 'most blind, or be a fool.'"

Through its five years of experimentation the Pennsylvania Railway Company has accumulated some 1,500,000 small trees. It is now proposed, notes the New York Commercial, to stock some six hundred and eighty acres of company lands near Altoona with chestnut and red oak seedlings and so begin on a large scale the growing of its own crosstie material. Should the example of the Pennsylvania be followed by other railroads, the important problem of general reforestration will have received a partial solution by the appeal made to the selfish interests of great railway corporations. And, meantime, all railroad interests might profitably look into the matter of vulcanizing ties, for the lengthening of their life and service.

"I have lost heavily and there is no use in my trying to hold out." This was the message telephoned to a friend by a woman in Dorchester, who then hung up the receiver and went to her bedroom and shot herself. It has been "a rich man's panic," some say. It is a "mystery," according to the talk on the street, insists the Boston Journal. But while the big railroad jugglers are working their schemes and the bulls and bears of the exchange are rioting in reciprocal slaughter ruin is brought home to smaller people, and if few of them seek the oblivion of suicide, as did this woman in Dorchester, it is because they have the greater courage or the stronger conscience to live and face it. There is misery widespread in the rages of the stock market.

It is significant, in view of the movement in Massachusetts for the abolition of the penalty of death for the crime of murder, that the restoration of the guillotine in France is urged for the protection of society, observes the Boston Post. Here in the United States we have seen two States, Colorado and Iowa, re-establish the death penalty after experimenting with its abolition. There is no capital punishment in Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Rhode Island and Wisconsin, but those States show no exceptional freedom from capital crime. The testimony from France, as stated by one of the leading Paris journals, is that "the abolition of the death penalty has done nothing but cut the sinews of justice," and another declares that "the knowledge that those sentenced to death will never be executed has brought the bludgeon, the revolver and the dagger into such prominence as to menace public security." It is held by some sociologists that the delay and frequent failure of the execution of the death penalty in New York is accountable in large measure for the increase of crimes of violence in that city.

A Goat With a Record.

The only actual living tomb of literature extant is doing business daily on the battleship Virginia. His name in full, is Pedro of Guantanamo, and as late as yesterday afternoon, when a Times reporter saw him, he was so very busy that at one time it appeared doubtful that he would be able to dispose of the ship's literary supplies.

Pedro is an ancient Cuban goat. Prior to assuming his present duties as mascot of the new flagship of the Second Division of the Atlantic fleet he performed a similar duty for some six years on the second-class battleship Texas. As a kid he was trained to eat up useless letters, bulky pamphlets, and out-of-date orders, and in the last few years he has earned a reputation as the most capacious waste-paper basket on earth. That he deserves the reputation nobody who ever saw the animal at work will deny.—New York Times.

No Pangs in Starving.

Novelists write a lot of nonsense about the pangs of hunger and the extreme suffering that accompanies starvation. It is all poppycock. Any healthy person, with a normal appetite, after missing two or three meals, is as hungry as he ever gets. After a while there is a sense of weakness that grows on one, and this increases with the days. Then there comes a desire for a great deal of sleep, a sort of lassitude that is not unpleasant; and this desire becomes more pronounced as the weakness grows. The end is always in sleep. There is no keeping awake until the hour of death.—Dillon Wallace.

The Unnatural Hen.

By BILL NYE.

It is not alone the fact that the amateur carver misses the joints and tries to cut through the largest bones that fills him with regret and his lap full of sage and onions. It is the horrible thought that the entire company is looking at him. No matter how the perspiration may trickle down between his shoulder blades, or how the hot flashes may chase the chills up and down his spinal column, or how much his eyes may be dimmed by unshed tears, the rest of the company never allows its interest to flag a moment. We remember one time we were called to assume the management of a free-for-all carving tournament at the home of a dove-eyed dumpling, whose kind regard we desired to catch on to as far as possible. How clearly come back to us now the smiling faces of the guests, the rippling laugh, the bald-headed joke, the thanksgiving conundrum, and all as merry as a marriage bell. We call to mind the girlish laughter of that one whose very existence, as she sat on our left that day, seemed cemented and glued to our own. As we sharpened the glittering blade on the ringing steel, we felt bouyant and proud—proud to think how we would slice the white, calm bosom of that deceased hen; proud to think how, in our mind, we had laid out the different pregnable points about that old cackler, and in the anticipation of applause glad and free, when we had accomplished the warfare and victory and stuffing had perched upon our banner. We softly jabbed the shimmering fork a-straddle of the breast-bone, tore off a goose pimple from under the wings of the late lamented, gouged out a few shattered fragments from the neck, and tried to cut a sirloin steak off the back. An oppressive gloom seemed to pervade the air. The old hen didn't have her joints where we had them laid out in our mind. She was deformed. She seemed to be a freak of nature. It rattled us and unnerved us. We gouged wildly at the remains, squirting the gravy right and left, and filling the air with fragments of bread-crumbs and sage. By some kind of omission or miscalculation, we made a wild stab at the back of the late lamented hen, and with a frenzy born of repeated defeats and depressing failures, the knife struck the platter with a loud crash, and ceasing not in its untamed fury, glanced aside, and in an instant buried itself with a sickening thud in the corset of the hired girl. With difficulty we drew out the glittering blade, now ensanguined with the gore of a fellow-creature, wiped it on the table-cloth, and fled out into the cold, unsympathetic world, out into the crash and confusion of struggling humanity, to battle on through life under an assumed name. That is why we tremble and turn pale when our past life is inquired into by biographers. That is why a baked fowl makes us quail.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON COMMENTS FOR JUNE 9, BY THE REV. I. W. HENDERSON

Subject: The Passover, Ex. 12:21-30—Golden Text: Ex. 12:13—Memory Verses, 26, 27—Commentary on the Day's Lesson.

This is the story of God's blood covenant with Israel in Egypt. Covenants are a feature of the historic life of the East. A bread covenant lasts for forty years we are told. When a man breaks bread with another he is that man's friend for four decades. The blood covenant between men is an everlasting covenant. So it is here. With the shedding of the blood of the lamb the covenant of God with Israel reaches out to eternity.

The lesson is replete with lessons. God gave the Israelites the covenant because they trusted in Him and called upon Him in their distress. Israel put her hope in God and she made an effort to keep in some measure the commands of God. She was caught in the whirlpool of a national and industrial and spiritual iniquity that seemed overwhelming. The people were so bowed down with the sins that were practiced against them that they were in danger of losing their courage and hope itself. There seemed to be no human way of escape. God, however, heard their cries of suffering. Their sorrow reached His heart. They looked to Him for deliverance. And He delivered them. Their deliverance came because they came to a realizing sense of their dependence on God. And we must become conscious of our need for God if we are to enter into the covenant which God at a later day made with men in the person of Jesus Christ.

It is remarkable that Egypt reaped the consequences of her own misdoings. God brought no hasty judgment to bear on these evil people. The king and the nation were warned nine times before the final and the awful consequences of their own iniquity fell upon them. And as Egypt was warned so we are warned. Sin has cumulative consequences. We do not reap the worst at first. The evil that men do is followed by consequences that are in the nature of a warning. They are not final, in a sense. The consequences of sin are like the pains that are incidental to physical ills. A sick body warns in the very pain that we undergo that something is the matter, that we are reaping the consequences of physical misdoing. And so the consequences, many and varied as they are, that follow in the wake of sin are warnings to us to desist. They are in a way the voice of God speaking to us through the immutable laws of His own world. Pharaoh had due notice of the consequences of his sin against Israel, but he would not heed the warning. Sin became a habit with him and the consequences of that sin became increasingly acute and horrible. So it is with our sin. If we do not heed the early warning we may be sure that we shall reap a worse harvest of evil consequences in the end.

Another noticeable thing is that the Israelites had to help themselves out of their trouble. God made the promise to them that when the destruction fell on the first born of the land He would pass them by if their door posts were sprinkled with the shed blood of the lambs. That made it necessary that they should be helpers in the work that God was to accomplish for them. This is the divine plan and it is the only plan. If God had saved them from the general calamity without making them do something for themselves in order to make this salvation effective they would not have valued it so highly as they did. We must cooperate with God. And in the Christian economy no man can be saved unless he is willing to co-operate with God. If God did not demand that we should conform to His plans for our redemption in Christ we should not value that salvation as highly as we do. But because we are called upon to work out our own salvation under the guidance and empowering of God Himself we prize salvation in Jesus Christ as the greatest boon that the world holds for humanity.

The three words that close the 28th verse of the lesson show why it is that Israel escaped, why the Passover is commemorated by loyal Jews everywhere to-day, why it is that this episode in the life of the chosen people of God has remained as a classic witness to the truth that God shepherds the peoples who love Him. "So did they!" That is to say they were obedient. And obedience always has brought its reward and it always will bring its reward. We in America to-day are desirous of being released from the power of evil men and evil conditions that have made life hardly worth the living for multitudes of our people and that have made us all hang our faces in shame. But we shall never enter into the promised land of the realised kingdom of God in this country until we obey God. If the Israelites had not done precisely as God had commanded there would have been no deliverance for them. And America is no more precious to God than Israel was. And Americans are living under no different regulations than those under which Israel lived. To be saved we must do as God tells us. And whenever we hear a clear call of God for service or for duty it is for us not to deny the duty or the call, but to give it supremacy in our lives.

One-fifth of all the real property in New York City, asserts the New York Herald, is now exempt from taxation, and taxpayers are alarmed at the vast areas of improved property purchased by the city authorities at private sale and by condemnation for parks, approaches, terminals and other public purposes. This is all transferred from the tax rolls to the exempt list.

The Pulpit

A SERMON BY THE REV. IRA W. HENDERSON

Subject: The Church and the World.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Preaching at the Irving Square Presbyterian Church, on the theme, "The Church and the World," the Rev. Ira Wemmell Henderson, pastor, took as his text Is. 2:3, "Come ye, to the house of the God of Jacob." He said:

The work of the church is properly definable in universal terms alone. The church has no partial mission. It has no restricted message. Its field is the world, and its opportunities are as wide as the universe and as diversified as nature. The wide expanse of the earth as it stretches eastward and westward, from frosen land to frosen land, is the sphere of the church's activities. Only as the church of Jesus Christ accepts her universal responsibilities and honestly engages to transform the world is she true to the commission that she has received under God through Jesus Christ. Just in the measure that her message is partial the church is a partial failure. For the universal concepts of Christian truth are the strength of the church. Her universals constitute her compelling appeal. It is only because Jesus had a world wide, an eternal vision of the needs and the possibilities of humanity under the providence of God that He has any claim upon the world at large. And it is only because the church has a treasury of truth preserved to her through Jesus that to-day she has a claim to universal attention and to a universal hearing. The moment that the church ceases to declare truth that is universal in its application that moment the church ceases to be a universal factor. We must be unconfined by national boundaries or by geographical divisions or by ecclesiastical distinctions if the church of Jesus Christ is to do Christ's work. We are capable of securing and of retaining universal sway over the lives of humanity because of our universals. For they appeal to men in every age and in every land regardless of their color, their creed, their caste.

The Christian church has a universal revelation, a universal message, a universal mission, a universal opportunity, a universal responsibility.

The church has in Jesus Christ a universal revelation that is the fundamental upon which all else in the Christian system is upreared. Everywhere and always men have recognized that there are limits to the comprehension of divinity by the finite mind when unaided by a revelation from on high. Men have been conscious that while they were able to know God partially through the media of the senses and to formulate in some measure ideas of divinity through the power of human intelligence, they have been finitely unable to know God to the entire satisfaction of their souls until God has revealed Himself to them. There has always been a desire upon the part of humanity for a revelation of Himself to them. And the desire has been met. Humanity has not recognized always the full content of the divine self-revelation, but it has never been without a revelation from God. Before the days of Jesus men had only a partial consciousness of the character, of the personality of divinity. Multitudes have no full comprehension of God to-day. And it is to the world that has the light of half the truth to which the church to-day must address herself. For the revelation of God in Jesus Christ is a universal revelation. The truth that is revealed in Jesus is supplemental to all that humanity outside of Him now knows. Wherever there is a soul that is longing for a knowledge of the truth concerning God there is the field of the church. The revelation of God in Jesus Christ is universal in its outreach because it meets a universal need, is universally satisfying, is universally intelligible, is universally the culmination of revealed truth.

The church has a universal message. The sense of sin is a universal consciousness. Likewise the realization of human incapacity to deliver self from the bondage of sin is universal. Everywhere men acknowledge the need of a Saviour. The longing of every heart is that it shall experience a salvation from sin that is satisfying, sufficient and eternal. The church of Jesus offers just that. Its message is that of the universality and the reality of sin, its consequences and its woe. The church declares that humanity cannot unaided from above free itself from sin. It proclaims the necessity of a Redeemer. It offers a sure, a comforting, an everlasting salvation by the gift of God in the personality of Jesus Christ. And this salvation is not restricted. It is not conditioned by any captious commands. It is not confined to any class. Whosoever will may come. It is for all men. And if the church will declare this universal message the church will receive a universal hearing. We cannot do God's work with any less message. It is useless to trim it or to pare it or to endeavor to change it in any essential manner. It is God's message in Christ. It is universal.

The universal mission of the church is to carry this universal message to the whole world. The church has a national mission to the land to which it goes and to the land in which it is; but it has more than this. It has a mission to all lands, a mission that shall lead it to fit the Gospel to the peculiar necessities of the peoples to whom it is declared. But it has a larger mission even than this. It has a mission to all lands and to every people to declare unto the nations the truth of God that we are all of one flesh and blood and that the interest of each man is the interest of the world; that the welfare of one people is the concern of all the peoples; that individual and national lives are to be transformed by the grace of God not for the mere sake of individual and national salvation, but for the larger purpose that a [illegible] may become effective. [illegible] is to say simply this, that the [illegible] of the church in the world is [illegible] individuals and nations [illegible] and in all times to a proper [illegible] standing of the truth that [illegible] is in the last analysis racial [illegible] versal. The Lord Jesus Christ [illegible] for the salvation of the world, [illegible] gospel that does not declare [illegible] of God to save the race as [illegible] mate in Christian truth has [illegible] short of the whole counsel [illegible] to the world. The church has [illegible] vine call to spread this [illegible] the whole world. This is the [illegible] versal mission of the church.

The opportunity of the church [illegible] universal. The church has a [illegible] to do the work for Christ at [illegible] It has a chance also to do [illegible] service for the Master abroad [illegible] The influx of aliens into America [illegible] sent a foreign mission problem [illegible] opportunity to the church [illegible] homeland. To our shores there [illegible] rushing millions of men and [illegible] and children from the four [illegible] of the earth. The [illegible] of the [illegible] alities that have come to make [illegible] abode with us is startling. The [illegible] of all classes and adherents to a [illegible] titude of creeds. The languages [illegible] are spoken round about us [illegible] of the confusion of tongues at [illegible] tower of Babel. The nationalities [illegible] the peoples remind us of the [illegible] congregation that heard Peter [illegible] Pentecost. And all these people [illegible] flocking to our shores present [illegible] greatest opportunity that any [illegible] can conceive or that any church [illegible] had forced upon it. If we [illegible] mould these diverse peoples into [illegible] unity of the Christian fellowship [illegible] suffuse their minds and hearts [illegible] souls with the Gospel of the [illegible] Jesus Christ so that they shall [illegible] righteousness before all else [illegible] then shall we have accomplished [illegible] mightiest work that any church [illegible] undertook. The opportunity of the [illegible] church at home is sublime. It is [illegible] less stupendous abroad. The [illegible] evils that in an economic way [illegible] afflicting the peoples on the [illegible] side of the world are the opportunity [illegible] of the church of Jesus Christ. [illegible] awful famine in China and the [illegible] catastrophes in Russia and in [illegible] parts of the world are the opportunity [illegible] of the church. Heretofore [illegible] gether too largely in the hands [illegible] called) mind Christianity has been [illegible] inseparably associated and [illegible] with opium and whisky and [illegible] infidelity and aggression and [illegible] dizement. The nations of the [illegible] have felt the curse of the Christian [illegible] civilizations of the Occident, [illegible] mistaking the wickedness of [illegible] tion's representatives for the [illegible] truth of Jesus Christ they have [illegible] very little sympathy with Christ. [illegible] And we cannot be too harsh [illegible] judgment of them. But here [illegible] feeling of antagonism is passing [illegible] ly away. And if in this hour [illegible] need America and the Christian [illegible] tions of the West shall show [illegible] nese the spirit of helpfulness [illegible] disinterested service in the name [illegible] under the ministry of Jesus [illegible] we may open the way to the [illegible] ing of China for Jesus. What [illegible] is true of China is true of other [illegible] The conditions may be different [illegible] the opportunity is the same. The [illegible] whole world is awaking. We [illegible] the threshold of a universal [illegible] ing the like of which the world [illegible] never seen before. It is the opportunity of the church and the [illegible] versal.

In the face of this opportunity [illegible] church has universal responsibilities. [illegible] It is impossible for us to [illegible] hands in selfish ease and be [illegible] the command of our Master. [illegible] sponsibility of the church and [illegible] so to transform America that [illegible] be a safe haven for the [illegible] the ambitious of every [illegible] must make America fit for [illegible] work that God has destined [illegible] perform. The church is [illegible] vinely imposed obligation to [illegible] form the world. And first [illegible] must transform the individual [illegible] the world. We need also [illegible] transformation. But no [illegible] formation is at all possible [illegible] shall have gotten the [illegible] right with God. No man will [illegible] realizing sense of his sins [illegible] tions until he has had his [illegible] with the salvation of God [illegible] Christ. Contrariwise, while [illegible] saving individuals we can [illegible] relax our efforts to reform [illegible] that we shall have no evil [illegible] or political conditions. The [illegible] formation must be not only [illegible] it must be also religious. The [illegible] system of ethics will ever [illegible] world straight. Men must [illegible] firm grip on the religious [illegible] fore than can be sure of [illegible] or the world be sure of [illegible] universal responsibility of [illegible] is under the guidance and [illegible] of the Lord Jesus Christ [illegible] these transformations.

The church must [illegible] responsibilities. She cannot [illegible] wise. Possessed of her [illegible] Lord and blessed with [illegible] mental realization of the [illegible] of His Gospel it is her [illegible] ought to be her joy to [illegible] portunities for eternal [illegible] the Lord has prepared [illegible] measure up to them.

BIRMINGHAM GETS VETERANS' REUNION

Exciting Race From Nashville and San Antonio.

CITY IS MADE UNANIMOUS

Result Showed This City's Strength, Others Withdrew—General [illegible] D. Lee Again Elected Commander-in-Chief.

[illegible], Va.—The United Confederate Veterans at Saturday's session of the convention decided to meet next year in Birmingham, Ala. San Antonio, Nashville and Birmingham were placed in nomination for honor of entertaining the veterans in 1908. Gen. George P. Harrison presented the claims of Birmingham on behalf of the state division, and Gen. [illegible] Bush on behalf of the city of Birmingham.

Gen. Carwile, of South Carolina, and Private Atkinson, of North Carolina, seconded Birmingham's nomination for their respective states.

It quickly developed that the contest lay between Birmingham and San Antonio. Enthusiasm and the spirit of rivalry ran high during the balloting. When Tennessee was called Nashville withdrew in favor of Birmingham. And it was all over. Not even the tremendous vote of Texas solidly for San Antonio could stem the tide.

When the final result, Birmingham 801, San Antonio 801, was announced the great convention went wild, and for a hurricane of cheers Birmingham was made the unanimous choice of the convention.

The following officers were elected: General commander, Gen. Stephen D. Lee, Mississippi.

Lieutenant-general department of [illegible], Gen. C. Irvine Walker, of South Carolina.

Lieutenant-general department of [illegible], Gen. Clement A. Evans, of [illegible].

Lieutenant-general department of [illegible]-Mississippi, Gen. W. L. Cabell, [illegible].

LOUISIANA FLOOD SUFFERERS

Lake Charles Without Lights, and Thousands of Cattle Drowned.

Lake Charles, La.—This city Saturday night was without lights or street car service, the flood having extinguished fires in the power company's plant. With the Calcasian river still rising, the water works fires cannot be kept up much longer. Steamboat arrivals from the partly submerged parish of Cameron said that the inhabitants have reached high ground safely, but that thousands of cattle have drowned.

Jamestown Bond Issue.

Norfolk, Va.—The common stock issues of the Jamestown Exposition were on Saturday authorized, by a vote of a majority, the $400,000 bond issue to be used in the completion of the exposition. The company's $1,000,000 shares of common stock, 2,202 were represented at the meeting. Of this number 1,357 were for the issue and only 245 against.

THE BLUE AND GRAY

Units to Do Honor to Dead Union Soldiers.

Norfolk, Va.—The unprecedented fraternizing of the blue and the gray when President Roosevelt was the orator for the Army and Navy Union's Decoration Day celebration at Portsmouth, Va., last year, was repeated in Thursday's observance there. There was a parade of United States seamen headed by civil war and army and navy veterans. The ceremonies of the day, preceded by a military high mass at St. Paul's Catholic church, conducted by Rev. Father Anthony Durkin of Baltimore, took place at the National cemetery in the woods of the naval hospital grounds, where President Roosevelt spoke last year. Gen. Edwin J. Browne, of Washington, D. C., national commander of the Army and Navy Union, was the orator of the day.

BOY'S WONDERFUL NERVE.

Watches Surgeon Amputate His Arm Without Anaesthetic.

Berlin.—A 14-year-old boy here has astonished the prominent surgeon, Baron Von Eiselberg, by the remarkable grit he displayed in undergoing an operation. The boy's arm had to be amputated. He refused to take an anaesthetic brought up, and wanted to see the operation. He resisted all the persuasion of the surgeon, who ultimately yielded. The boy did not wince, and made no sound throughout, but watched the surgeon's work with keen attention. He said afterwards that the sight was so interesting it was well worth the pain. Dr. Von Eiselberg recognized his pluck by giving him a watch.

JEFFERSON DAVIS STATUE UNVEILED.

Closing a Crowning Day of the Great Reunion.

GEN. LEE HEADS VETERANS.

Vast Concourse Assembled to Pay Honor on the Ninety-ninth Anniversary of His Birth—The Veterans Then Leave for Home.

Richmond, Va.—Monday was the closing and crowning day of the most successful reunion ever held by the Confederate veterans—the day of the big parade, followed by the unveiling of the Jefferson Davis monument. The day was a holiday in Richmond. Thousands of visitors, coming for the sole purpose of seeing the old soldiers, were added to the multitude already on the streets.

With their blood stirring to the same old airs which bade them do and die for their cause in the '60's the veterans marched through the streets, the object of a wildly cheering throng's enthusiasm. At the head of the procession rode Gen. Stephen D. Lee and his staff. The erect figure, the alert eyes and the short white beard of the commander-in-chief were well known to most of the spectators, and he was greeted with cheers all along the line. The distinguished guests rode in carriages, and then came the veterans, arranged according to departments, including Texas, Tennessee, trans-Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Pacific division, Northwest division and Virginia.

The Jefferson Davis statue occupies a commanding site within view of the monument to the great general of the Confederacy, Robert E. Lee. About the statue was assembled a vast concourse of people anxious to pay honor to the memory of the president of the Confederate States on this, the ninety-ninth anniversary of his birth.

Gen. Stephen D. Lee presided on the speaker's stand, and the order of exercises was as follows: Invocation by the Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, chaplain-general; addresses by Governor Claude A. Swanson, Mayor Carlton McCarthy and Gen. Clement A. Evans, of Atlanta, Ga., the orator of the day; unveiling of statue by Mrs. J. A. Hays, of California, daughter of President Davis, assisted by her sons; placing of garlands by Mrs. Webb and Miss Hays, granddaughters of President Davis; placing of tributes by Misses Hodgson, Moore and White; address of welcome by Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, chairman of the central committee of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association; response by Mrs. William J. Behan, president of the Southern Confederated Memorial Association; report of Jefferson Davis Monument Association by Mrs. George S. Holmes, president; response by Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The exercises closed with music and the placing of garlands about the bronze figure.

These wreaths and other floral tributes, many of them of the most expensive and elaborate character, were sent by the various states of the south, by chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and by individuals.

Monday night Richmond bade goodbye to thousands of her visitors. The percentage of veterans leaving Monday was comparatively small. For the most part they desired to remain till taps had been sounded in the camp, and they wished particularly to have a part in Monday's memorable tribute to the memory of the only president of the Confederacy. Hundreds of them have arranged to go to Jamestown to put in a few days viewing the sights of the exposition before scattering to their homes throughout the south.

Army Worm Eating Clover.

Uniontown, Ky.—The army worm is doing great damage to the clover crop in Union county, and the farmers say that this year's crop will be of little or no use for hay. Little corn or tobacco planting has been finished on account of the cold weather, so these crops have been practically saved from the pests. Reports received from other counties say that many meadows have been destroyed and that the losses will be heavy. With the floods of last winter and spring and the damages done by the army worm the farmers in the western part of Kentucky are taking a gloomy outlook of the situation, and in some localities it is feared little or not corn will be planted.

Corunn.—A railway train while being switched here Sunday ran into and overturned a vehicle in which nine women were riding at a level crossing. All were crushed to death.

Acquisition of Danish West Indies.

Washington.—Whatever American Minister O'Brien may have said to the Danish officials in regard to the acquisition by the United States of the Danish West Indies on the occasion of his individual and private views, state department officials are authority for the statement that the subject has not again been approached by their direction or authority, nor is it believed that it will be in the immediate future.

TURNS LOOSE MONEY.

Aged Tennessee Man Quits Hoarding Through Fear.

Paintsville, Tenn.—Stricken with the fear that he would be murdered for his money, Willis Smith, an aged resident of the Fourth district, has flooded the county with money which he has been hiding for many years. The money, amounting to fully $20,000, consists of half dollars and quarters of the coinage of two generations ago, and does not give evidence of having been handled.

Smith, who is 84 years of age, kept his money in fruit jars hidden about his house, on the left prong of Shoal creek, until some one told him that he was running the risk of being murdered by keeping it in his home. He then hurried with it to a local bank, and the flood of old coins followed.

Some years ago Smith put some money in a bank, but before he went out some customer handed the cashier a check, which the latter paid from the pile of bills Smith had deposited. Smith saw this and withdrew his money, saying he would not do business with such a concern. From that day until two weeks ago he never patronized a bank, but kept his money at home.

SCORE INJURED IN TEXAS WRECK

Train Wreckers Derail Southern Pacific Train.

San Antonio, Tex.—One man instantly killed and a score of persons injured; some of whom will die, is the result of the wrecking of eastbound passenger train No. 8 at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning two miles west of Lozier, a small station on the Southern Pacific.

The derailment was the result of train wreckers or defective steel, though the positive cause had not been determined up to late Sunday night.

It was while the train was dashing along at a speed of from thirty-five to forty miles an hour that the derailment occurred.

All the dead and wounded were in the chair car, this being one of the cars to turn over. This car was thrown over upon its side and dragged along over the rocks of the embankment.

INVENTION AT EXPOSITION.

Section Set Off Especially for This Business.

Norfolk, Va.—A most interesting feature of the Jamestown Exposition, on Hampton Roads, near Norfolk, Va., which opened April 26 and will close November 30, is the "Section for Invention," in which inventors are invited to display their invention sand demonstrate their value to visitors. The invitation is open to all, and every facility is offered in the way of floor space, tables and shelves, advertising cards and labels, electric current, gas and lights. The service includes, as well as the general care of models, explanations to visitors and the return of the exhibit at the close of the exposition. Awards will be made of gold, silver and bronze medals and diplomas.

FIFTY BABIES DUG UP BY POLICE.

Believed to Have Been Buried by Manager of a Baby Farm.

Baltimore, Md.—The bodies of fifty babies have been unearthed near Ellicott City. They are believed to have been interred by some one running a baby farm. The police expect to round the manager of the farm up within the next twenty-four hours.

A dog gave the clew. He was seen digging in the earth some days ago, and aroused the suspicions of the neighbors. An investigation showed that many little boxes had been buried, and each box contained the body of a baby probably murdered to hide a previous crime.

BALLOON BURSTS.

Army Captain Meets Awful Fate in Presence of King.

Rome.—A tragic incident took place Sunday during a review of the troops by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. As a part of the maneuvers a military balloon was sent up to a height of 700 feet, with Captain Ulivelli in the car. A storm which had been coming up burst suddenly, and the thousands of spectators were horrified to see a flash of lightning strike the gas bag. There was an enormous burst of flame and a terrific detonation, and the collapsed balloon, with its dangling car, fell to the earth a mile from the scene of the review.

Booker T. Neighbor to Teddy.

New York.—Booker T. Washington has engaged a summer home at West Neck, Long Island. He will live about three miles from President Roosevelt's summer home, Sagamore Hill. The place consists of 100 acres of farm land, with an old-fashioned house built by the VanWyck family many years ago.

Want New Police Board.

San Francisco.—The commercial interests of San Francisco have formally demanded the removal of the incumbent police commission. The demand made on Mayor Schmitz Thursday also involves the appointment of a police commissioner from a list of names selected by that body of citizens, which is practically the reinstated and enlarged committee of fifty originally appointed by the mayor himself.

ISLANDS SWEPT BARE BY THE SEA

Natives of the Caroline Group Perish in Typhoon.

CLIMBED COCOANUT TREES

Few Saved Rescued From the Breakers Many Days Afterward—Two Hundred Lives Lost on One Island—Storm Felt at Manila.

Victoria, B. C.—Further advices regarding the disastrous typhoon in the Caroline Islands recently reported by cable from Australia were received here in the mails from the Orient. The typhoon passed over the Caribbean group on March 28, and hundreds of people were killed by the waves which swept over the smaller islands. The saved were mostly those who climbed cocoanut trees. The typhoon extended as far east as Guam.

At Manila on March 10 the typhoon was registered as being northeast of Yap in the Western Carolines. March 31 it was found to be north of Yap, indicating a dangerous situation in the southern part of the Carolines and the Philippines. The accuracy of the observations from the Manila observatory were confirmed on receipt of advices from Yap and the Carolines.

The island of Ulie was entirely destroyed, and the waves which passed over this island killed 200 people and a heavy loss of life was reported from other islands. Some were entirely covered, and natives were rescued days afterward clinging to the tops of cocoanut trees. On Wilson island twenty people were killed, and on Strool, Philips Island, which lies between Yap and Eulie, fifty people perished. The majority of the islands were desolated and the loss is said to be great.

Good Increase to Employes.

Chicago.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Omaha, Neb., says: Salary advances averaging 18 cents all around have been granted by the Burlington to employes over the entire system. The increase became effective May 1. Practically every employe of the road, both east of the Missouri river and west, shares in the advance except the trainmen, whose pay is fixed by conference, and the telegraphers, who recently received an advance. Each department is given a 10 per cent. additional allowance, and this is distributed at the discretion of the heads of departments. The raises are adjusted according to individual merit. In the Omaha offices alone there will be an increase of approximately $50,000 a year.

Veliva May Lose Control.

Chicago.—On the ground that the estate of the late John Alexander Dowie, now in the hands of Receiver John C. Hately, is greatly deteriorating in value in the present state of disorganization, a petition has been prepared for presentation before Judge Landis in the United States court asking for a decree granting authority to the receiver to sell the property without further delay. It is said that this is a plan for reorganization of the Zion City property, and may result in the complete overthrow of William Glenn Veliva, who assumed power following the death of Dowie.

Russians on Verge Outbreak.

St. Petersburg.—Russians are on the verge of an outbreak owing to the refusal of the government to sanction the agrarian program for compulsory expropriation of land.

Many persons are preparing to leave Russia temporarily and the conservatives fear greater violence than a year ago. Disorder was precipitated when Premier Stolypin announced to the douma that the government would never consent to compulsory expropriation.

Storm in Texas.

Houston, Tex.—A wind storm which assumed the proportions almost of a tornado passed between this city and Galveston Wednesday and caused great damage to fruit and truck farms. The path of the storm was half a mile in width. Wires were demolished, and information from the affected section is meager. No loss of life was reported.

Urges Export Tax.

Havana, Cuba.—Should Governor Magoon accede to the request to place an export tax on raw tobacco the price of Havana cigars in America will soar. General Carlos Garcia Valez, a politician leading the movement, declares that over seventy million less cigars are manufactured annually in Cuba now than in 1900. He believes an export tax would result in inducing factories which have moved from Cuba to return.

Americans Get Foreign Contract.

New York.—In the face of the keenest competition on the part of the foremost Italian, German and other European concerns another important contract has been allotted to American electrical interests by the Italian government. The contract, valued at about $1,000,000, as obtained by the Westinghouse Company, and calls for the conversion from steam to electricity of the suburban state railway lines operating around Genoa.

POURING POISONOUS GAS.

Fissure Opens on Southern Declivity of Mount Vesuvius.

Naples.—At Boco Tuzzo, on the southern declivity of Mount Vesuvius, a fissure suddenly opened on Sunday from which a flow of poisonous gas escaped. A peasant who unexpectedly approached the fissure was killed, and also others who rushed to his rescue were saved with difficulty. The new fissure resembles the famous Dog Grotto near Pozzuoli, so-called because the carbonic acid gas from it does not rise high enough to kill man, but kills dogs or other small animals that approach. The gas from the new fissure is so light that it rises to the height of five or six feet, and carbineers have been posted in the vicinity to prevent persons going within the danger zone.

100,000 LOSE JOBS.

In Addition to Regular Force Thousands of Laborers Will be Out.

Chicago.—Between 50,000 and 100,000 men will be thrown out of employment by the railroads of the country before the end of the first week in June, according to reports here. It has been the custom in the past for the railroads to reduce their payrolls at the beginning of summer, but this year the roads have issued especially stringent economic orders, and the working forces will be reduced to the lowest possible point. In addition to the employes in the regular service, many thousands of laborers will be discharged by the railroads which have abandoned new works and new extensions, owing to the difficulty of raising money.

A FORMER CONFEDERATE

Is to Deliver Memorial Address at Climax, Mich.

Battle Creek, Mich.—An unusual honor has been bestowed upon Dr. James H. Reed, of Battle Creek, Mich. He is here to deliver the Memorial Day address at Climax, Mich. The doctor is an ex-Confederate, and has fought hard battles. During the civil war Reed, with the Fourteenth Mississippi, participated in the battle of Thompson's Station, Tenn., which the Southerners call the battle of Spring Hill. In this engagement Reed was captured by the Nineteenth Michigan, which has now adopted him as an honorary member.

Forty Fishermen Lost.

Fort Sidney, N. S.—Forty fishermen have been given up as lost by the officials of St. Pierre. The men are members of the crew of the schooner Iligiradia and Lefleme, which left St. Pierre for the Grand Banks two months ago.

From that day to the present there has been nothing heard from either vessel.

It is thought that the schooners were wrecked in the easterly hurricane which swept the banks on April 9th.

Mrs. McKinley's Fortune $350,000.

Canton, O.—Mrs. McKinley will leave a considerable estate. Those in a position to know say it will approximate $350,000. She owns several valuable business blocks in Canton, and has investments elsewhere, together with gilt-edged securities. Practically the entire estate could be converted into cash within a short time. Major McKinley's estate, which is entirely separate from this, amounted to about $140,000, including his life insurance. This goes to the McKinley family at Mrs. McKinley's death. Mrs. Mary H. Barber, a sister, is Mrs. McKinley's nearest relative, and is expected to inherit the bulk of the fortune.

Twice Struck by Lightning.

Marion, O.—Six weeks ago Owen Rowe, of Kirkpatrick, was struck by lightning, and he carries a long scar on his shoulder. Tuesday while reading he was knocked unconscious by a thunderbolt which struck the home of Amesi Reamsnyder.

Half a Billion Capital.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Articles of incorporation of the United States syndicate, the capital stock of which is $500,000,000, was filed on Wednesday. The purpose of the company is to build a railroad to connect North and South America.

War Time Hero Commits Suicide.

Washington.—William R. Skinner, 70 years of age, who served in Stonewall Jackson's brigade during the civil war, an who was given a medal of honor for bravery, committed suicide here Wednesday by inhaling illuminating gas. Skinner came from Fairfax county, Virginia, where three old residents have recently committed suicide. His love for drink and the fact that he is separated from his wife are thought to be the cause.

Zero Weather in Michigan.

Detroit, Mich.—A heavy snow is reported through Central and Northern Michigan Monday. At several towns above the straits the temperature has gone down 2 degrees below zero.

Budapest, Hungary.—The burning of the dams on the Danube has caused disastrous floods in the neighborhood of Raab-Gonod. In Tuesday county 200 houses have collapsed. Troops are rescuing the endangered inhabitants.

JUDGE W. W. Pearson, of Montgomery, came up from the capital city on last Thursday to hear the application in the nature quo warranto, directed to Dr. E. A. Matthews, who holds the office of Mayor of Clanton. Upon the hearing of the matter, the proceeding was quashed. Judge Pearson's decision leaves the matter as it stood before, and affirms the title of Dr. Matthews to the office.

From reports of the correspondents and agents, the crop reporting board finds the total area planted and to be planted to cotton in the United States this year (1907) to be about the same as the area planted last year (1906); that is, 32,060,000 acres planted or to be planted this year (1907) as compared with 32,049,000 which was found to have been planted last year.

The average condition of the growing crop on May 25 was 70.5 as compared with 84.6 per cent, and 77.2 per cent at the corresponding dates in 1906 and 1905, respectively, and a ten year average of 83.6 per cent.

On last Friday the preliminary trial of Dick Aldridge, charged with the killing of Dutch Headley, was held before Justice Dake. The trial occupied the entire day; a large number of witnesses were examined, and Aldridge was put under $300 bond, which was at once made.

Mulberry.

Dear Editor—I will try and write just a few lines again as I saw my letter in print, tho' I haven't very much to say, except we are having plenty of rain and an over supply of grass. The farmers seem to be out of heart. I think we will have time yet to make a little corn bread. I guess we can live on corn bread and pot liquor, though I don't fancy that idea. I think it was reported about May 20th that we could only make a half crop of cotton, providing weather conditions be favorable from then on. Now it has rained up 'till June 3d, consequently we can't buy flour at the high price it will be and will have to sit away back and gnaw our chunk of corn bread.

I notice, every week, something about our "Beloved dispensary." I would like to say something against it, though I could only repeat what some one else has already written. They have given it every kind of a bad name imaginable. I have seen and heard of so many bad things happening caused by whiskey 'till I wish there wasn't a drop in the world. It is not good for anything, not even in a case of sickness. There's no use of we good people saying so many things against the dispensary because all people of common sense and self-respect know the riotous deeds caused by whiskey. The other side is in the dark with eyes glued and can never be opened 'till they find themselves in the bottomless pit of hell. Then it will be too late, too late.

In one of my letters I gave some Scriptural references, and for fear all didn't read them, I will quote some of them again. Read Lev. 10:9, Prov. 20:1, Isa. 28, 1 Peter, 5:6, 7, 8; Thess. 5:6, 7, 8; Job, 1:8, 1 Cor. 6:10, 5:10, 11, 12, 13.

Hoping everyone will read the above, if not more. With many good wishes to the Banner and its many readers. PEA VINES.

Montgomery, June 4, 1907

Dear Banner—Having accepted a unanimous call to West End Baptist church, Montgomery, I am glad to be back in Alabama and not so far from dear old Chilton that I can't run up occasionally and see my friends. Especially do I want to keep in touch with members of Cheerful Addie Mercy Band, of whom there are many in Chilton.

I am delighted with Montgomery. There is plenty for me to do here to keep me out of mischief. Under God, we hope to build a great people's church in West End. Pray for us.

I promise to write an interesting article on "Many Things" soon.

A RETROSPECT.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Thorsby Institute, was held at Thorsby, on Monday of this week. G. C. Michelson and S. E. Norton of Thorsby (whose terms as trustees expired) and James A. Emery of Birmingham, were elected as trustees for a term of three years, and John L. Winslow of Thorsby, was elected as trustee for one year, to fill the term of Rev. A. T. Clerke, resigned the officers of the Board for the ensuing year, will be elected at their next meeting. Starting only one year ago, with little except consecrated pluck, the results achieved are far in excess of reasonable expectation. Opening on Sept 17th, 1906 with only six students, the number gradually increased to fifty. A high grade of work has been done by the student body, and the whole year has been marked by diligent and successful effort. Indeed so satisfactory has been the result considering obstacles that each member of the faculty has been offered a reengagement for next year at increased compensation. Nearly $2,000 have been collecced and expenden during the year and the school has closed with but a small deficit, which will be soon made up. The school and dormitory property, with the grounds, altogether worth $8,000 to $10,000, will be turned over to the board of trustees, free of debt whenever they are ready to take up about $1,000 still unpaid. The Board desire to express their sincere thanks to the press of Chilton county and elsewhere for courtesies extended, and to the good people of Thorsby and vicinity as well as to others wherever they may be, who have so nobly and at great sacrifice, in season and out, assisted and sustained them in their efforts to establish and maintain an educational institution, that shall be a credit to Thorsby, to Chilton county and to the State of Alabama.

Mount Nebo.

The health of this community is very good at present.

I wish to say a few words about the S. S. Convention held at this place on June 2nd. It was enjoyed by both, the Sunday school and community. We had a very interesting program, and every subject was ably discussed. I think that much of the success of this convention is due to the faithful work of president, Prof. J. O. Williams, who has faithfully served the district for the last month, and is elected for another year. I am glad Chilton county is a banner county in the Sunday school work, and am also glad we have some faithful workers in the Isabella district.

Among the many good talks, that of primary work and teaching a primary class, by Miss Mary C. Gibson, was certainly fine. I wish every Sunday school teacher in the district could have heard it.

We also had an excellent address by Judge Reynolds. We hope that the Sunday school workers of our district will take the Judge's advice in the Sunday school work, and especially that of warning our children against the evils of strong drink. Our Sunday school was glad of the privilege of entertaining the convention. Sincerely yours,

J. D. CULP.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

Dear Editor—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper, as I have never written anything to the Banner. Health of this community is very good.

Our Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely under the careful management of Mr. and Mrs. Hews.

The ice cream supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Heart, Saturday night last was a success. It was enjoyed by all who attended. The music was made by Messrs. McClure, B. Sanders, J. S. Ruddick and Miss Virgie Harbin.

Mrs. John Lee has just returned home after a long visit to Scottsville, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and little daughter have returned home from a visit to New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker and Miss Alice Lawley made a flying trip to Hattiesburg Sunday last.

We regret to say that Mrs. Harbin is on the sick list; hope she will soon recover.

Richburg is coming out, several new buildings going up.

The health of our community is very good at present.

Rev. Bryant preached an excellent sermon at the Baptist church Sunday, and also Sunday night.

Miss Willie Mae Parnell is visiting friends and relatives at Riderville.

The little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cunningham died on Sunday night, the 2nd, after a lingering illness of several weeks. The bereaved family have our heartfelt sympathy.

Mr. Vester Young, son of Mr. Robt. Young, of this place, was killed on the 1st inst., near Anniston, by his train being wrecked, of which he was flagman. He was just in the bloom of life, being in his twentieth year. He leaves a father and mother, three sisters and two brothers, and a host of loving friends and relatives to mourn his loss. The remains were laid to rest in Stanton cemetery on Sunday eve, with the honors of B. R. T. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Bryant. Our sympathies go out to the grief stricken family.

Mr. Richard Kemp has removed his family to this place; we welcome them in our midst.

The Sabbath schools of Stanton will have Childrens' day service the 5th Sunday in this month.

IN MEMORY

Winfield, La., May 31, 907

On May 24th, the death angel taken from our home our darling little Decy Beuna. It is hard to give her up and see her consigned to the tomb, but we know our loss is heaven's gain, for she has gone to join her two sisters and one brother who have gone on before, and her grandma who has just gone to that land of glory, and many other loved ones who have welcomed her to the angel band. I miss her, she can never come and say "Mama, kiss me," any more on this earth, but by the help of God I will meet her in heaven. The good doctor did all he could, for he was by her two and three times a day and closed those sweet eyes when the breath left that precious darling never no more to return. She leaves a father and mother, two sisters and two brothers and a host of friends to mourn her death. We were blessed with friends and company while our darling was sick.

THE BANNER.

Clanton, May 29, 1907

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper as I would like to express my views on the dispensary. I have seen some articles in the Banner giving the dispensary hail Columbia. Now, I am in favor of doing away with the dispensary if they will also do away with the blind tigers in Clanton, but if we are going to have whiskey let us have it free and openly. I had much rather my boy would go to a dispensary and get whiskey than to go to a blind tiger and get it and then to have to get up in court and swear a lie or tell the tiger keeper a lie. A Voter said it would ruin our boys. I will say to Mr. Voter if there is a boy in this county who cannot get whiskey in Clanton I would like for him to tell me who he is. Not from the dispensary but from the blind tiger. Just so he has the money no matter how small or what color he is he can slip around and get any amount he wants. Then again Mr. Voter says he don't want his children educated on tainted money. I am afraid if our children never get an education until they get it entirely on honest money they will come up short, for certainly there is other tainted money besides the dispensary money.

Now, Mr. Voter, I want to ask you if you ever knew of any boy under 21 years old buying any whiskey from the dispensary in Clanton, or do you know of any boy who cannot buy from the blind tiger? I am no advocate of whiskey, I let it alone, and it won't harm any one who lets it alone, but I do not like to see any one strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. Mr. Voter and everybody else has known that the blind tiger has been in Clanton for years, still I have never seen nothing in print about them, but just as soon as the dispensary opens you hear it everywhere down with it. Well, the dispensary has been some benefit to us hill billies, for we can get sorghum whiskey now for $2 that we had to pay $4 for before the dispensary came, and then if we have not got the money we can take some old sorghum syrup that the children won't eat or some musty meal that Sally won't make bread of and take it down to Bill and tell him we want to swap it for booze and he will say alright, boys, but don't tell on me, and of course we promise not to tell. With best wishes to the dear old Banner and its many readers, I will ring off.

Remarkable Rescue

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pooper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed for coughs and colds 50c. and $1.00, at Upchurch Drug co. Trial bottle free.

Editor Banner—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper. We farmers up here in north Louisiana are not going to make any cotton of note; we froze out all former part of spring and for the last twenty days we have been drowned out. People have plowed up nearly all of their cotton and the cotton that is left the boll weevils are destroying it. I've been all over Texas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, but Louisiana is the roughest place I have ever struck. You people over in Alabama had better not tear up to move, for there is nothing to be made at it. I am coming back to old Alabama as soon as I can get back, for even the dogs have chills and fever out here.

I read a piece in the Banner about the dispensary. I would like to correspond with the writer who only signed Voter. We have two open saloons in our little town. There are men here that will even have their wives save up eggs and then spend the money for liquor and their families at home and haven't even got meat and bread to eat. As I have said enough for this time I will ring off, hoping to see this in print. JOHN M. DENNIS

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must for necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by Upchurch Drug co., Clanton; A. Horn, Thorsby.

ALABAMA EVENTS FROM OVER THE STATE.

Interesting Items to Dwellers in the Commonwealth

A BRIEF WEEKLY SUMMARY

Attorney-General Holds That While Election Laws Require Registration Lists, They Do Not Specify Who Will Pay.

The state has not authority to pay judges of probate for the preparation of lists of registered voters as instructed by the election laws. That is the opinion of Hon. Alex M. Garber, attorney-general of Alabama. The opinion was expressed at the request of Hon. W. W. Brandon, auditor of the state, who had received from Jefferson county a bill for a small amount of money said to be owed by the state for the preparation of registered voters.

According to Attorney-General Garber, the election laws, while they require the probate judges to prepare lists of registered voters and names the fees they are to receive for the work, do not specify whether the state or the counties shall pay the fees. In the absence of legislative authority for paying the fees, Colonel Garber therefore advised General Brandon not pay out the moneys from the state.

The opinion is of great importance, since it affects, of course, all the probate courts in the state, and it is expected the legislature at its next session will be asked to give the matter its attention.

Fire in Dry Kilns.

Fire broke out in one of the dry kilns of the Schub-Miller Lumber Company's plant at Selma Saturday morning about 9 o'clock. Steam was turned into the kiln, and with the aid of the chemical engine from the city fire department the flames were kept smouldering until the fire engine of the department could be brought out to the plant, which is about two miles from the city. The kiln was then opened and the two cars of lumber were pulled out and found not greatly damaged. The sides of the kiln and the roof, however, were destroyed, the damage amounting to about $1,000.

Investigating Child Labor.

Mrs. Mary Foster, representing the department of justice at Washington, has been in Huntsville during the past few days investigating the conditions of child labor in the cotton factories. She did not find conditions very bad there, while they are not exactly what the people who are opposed to child labor would wish them to be. Mrs. Foster believes that the only solution of the child labor problem is a strict enforcement of a compulsory education law.

State Guard Encampments.

At a meeting of the members of the state military board and the commanding officers of the Alabama National Guard at Montgomery these encampments were decided upon at about the dates given: First Regiment, Montgomery, second week in August; Second Regiment, Montgomery or Selma July 22; Third Regiment, at place selected by the colonel, July 17; cavalry Montgomery or Selma, first week in August; artillery, Fort Moultrie, S. C., ten days between July 1 and 15.

New Knitting Mill.

This week the deal for the Foster hardware plant at Fort Payne was closed. The deed has been signed and filed in the probate office for record. This building, which is an immense three-story brick, will be used for a knitting mill by a Pennsylvania firm, which has a number of knitting mills throughout the south. As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made new machinery will be installed, and it will be put in operation as soon as possible.

Jasper Votes for Bonds.

Jasper has just gone through an election for the issuing of bonds to build a sewer system for the town. The bond issue carried. This was one of the quietest contests ever held in Jasper.

$17,000 Lost by Fire.

A loss of $17,000 was caused by an early morning blaze in the Thompson Bros. & Proctor hardware store Thursday morning at Huntsville. The fire is believed to have been caused by somebody's carelessness in throwing a lighted cigar in a box of sawdust. For a time the fire threatened the destruction of the whole block on Washington street between Randloph and Clinton.

Half a Million for the University.

Plans for the Greater University were submitted Thursday to the board of trustees by the sub-committee, of which Daniel Pratt is chairman. The expenditure of half a million dollars all told is contemplated, and an architect will be chosen to have charge of the work. A full attendance was on hand at the meeting of the trustees. The reports of the treasurer and the president were received.

To Erect Confederate Monument.

The Gen. John H. Forney Chapter, U. D. C., of Jacksonville, who last year erected a handsome monument over the grave of the famous Confederate artillerist, John Pelham, have now started a campaign for the erection of a monument to the memory of the Confederate soldiers of Calhoun county, of which Anniston is the county seat. The design for the monument will be a shaft composed of small blocks or marble, each block to contain the name and address of a veteran who took part in the conflict, an effort being made to secure the name of every soldier in the county. The ladies have already collected a small sum toward the enterprise, and when their efforts are complete the monument will likely be erected in the town square.

Open New Mines.

The Woodstock Iron and Steel Corporation, of Anniston, has put a large force of hands at work at Rendalia, where they will open up the old Rendalia ore mine that was abandoned some years ago. The corporation will rebuild the large ore washer plant and supply the mines with the latest equipment, so that a large output will be made from the mines. The entire output will be brought to the furnace at Anniston. In the past this ore mine has furnished a large tonnage of the best brown ore in the district without apparently diminishing the ore body. It is one of the oldest ore properties in the state, being developed early in the history of the iron industry in this section of Alabama.

Improving Mobile Docks.

The river front litigation has been cleared up sufficiently at Mobile to permit repair work to go on, and much improvement is being made on the down town docks. The St. Francis street wharf is being put in fine condition, and the wharves where the river boats land will soon be in excellent order. New sheds have been erected and oyster shells are being put in the mud holes.

Prospecting for Petroleum.

Dr. Eugene A. Smith, state geologist and professor of geology in the University of Alabama, has announced that he will go to Huntsville as soon as possible to make an investigation of the gas field. He is particularly interested in pretroleum prospects, and has repeatedly expressed the belief that petroleum will be found in this section. He is anxious for some corporation to make a thorough test.

Rusty Nail Caused Death.

A rusty nail, which he stuck in his foot while plowing, resulted in the horrible death of Andrew J. Bills, 14 years old, at Whitehead, Morgan county. The accident occurred early last week, and the boy went on with his work without mentioning it, until lockjaw developed. The unfortunate youth was a bright and industrious boy, the son of W. N. Bills, a well-to-do farmers at Whitehead.

Comer's Libel Suit.

The celebrated Governor Comer case against the Birmingham Age-Herald for alleged libel in the last campaign will be aired again in the lower court. The case went to the supreme court on a demurrer, the lower court deciding that failure to give proper notice of filing the suit barred recovery of damages. The supreme court holds that this failure does not bar recovery of actual damages.

Fight on Tax Raises.

It is not at all unlikely that the state tax commission will have t omake the raises in Montgomery county if there is any general advance on what is now the average. A member of the board of revenue said: "We are not going to increase the average tax rate in this county. Where there are inequalities they wil be corrected, but it is not our purpose to make any raise."

Postmasters Appointed.

Jacob Whetstone was appointed postmaster at Kellyton, Coosa county Rural free delivery route No. 2 ordered established August 1 at Corona, Walker county, serving 475 people and 110 families.

A New Bank.

The secretary of state of Alabama has been informed of the organization of the Farmers' Bank and Trust Company of Thomasville, Clarke county, with a capital of $200,000, of which $100,000 is paid in.

Wreck Near Jenifer.

Northbound freight No. 76, on the Southern railway, was derailed Sunday morning near Jenifer, the engine and nine freight cars turning over. Engineer McMillian in jumping was painfully injured. Brakesman Emmett Young, white, was found dead under the engine. Trains were detoured around the wreck over the Louisville and Nashville from Anniston to Jenifer.

Verdict Given for $21,740.

In the federal court of Anniston Saturday a judgment was given the plaintiff for $21,740 in the case of Thornton vs. Dyke. The case is that of T. M. Thornton, receiver of the First National Bank of Attalla, against R. L. Dyke, the former president of the bank. Mr. Dyke did not oppose the judgment that was ordered. The case is the outcome of the failure of the Attalla bank.

GIRL VICTIM OF TIGER IS DEAD

Panic in Tents When Enraged Animal Charged on Crowd and Attacked Ponies.

Twin Falls, Idaho.—Four-year-old Ruth Rozell, who was attacked by a Royal Bengal tiger which escaped from its cage at the performance of the Sells-Floto circus here, has died from her injuries. Mrs. Rozell, the mother of the child, who was knocked down and badly shaken by the tiger, is overcome with grief and the shock of her experience. Thus far no criminal action has been brought against the circus management, and, while the panic following the breaking of the animal from its cage and the ensuing tragedy are the sole topic of conversation, there has been no demonstration made against the circus by citizens because of the unfortunate occurrence.

The tiger charged into the crowd, killing the little girl and a Shetland pony, and mauled several other spectators and ponies before it was shot and killed by a man in the audience. For a few moments there was a panic in the menagerie and women screamed and fainted. The elephants tugged at their chains and trumpeted wildly, and there was great commotion until the tiger rolled over dead in front of the main entrance.

Hundreds were in the menagerie tent at the afternoon performance when the time came for feeding the animals. Markel, the tiger, and his mate, Agnes, had been restless for some time. At the sight of the meat Markel beat furiously with his paws on the door of the cage. The door gave way and the tiger sprang from his cage to the neck of a Shetland pony fifteen feet away.

The tiger's keeper seized a bar and struck the animal between the eyes. Markel released his grip on the pony's neck and leaped upon the back of another pony. Again the keeper felled him with the iron, and he relinquished his hold of the second pony only to seize a third. Another stiff blow from the iron drove the tiger from his prey and he leaped into the crowd.

The tent was well filled, and the people fled in every direction, most of them crowding out under the canvas. One woman scrambled to the top of an animal cage and refused to come down until long after the tiger was killed.

Shrill cries from the frightened elephants aroused the keepers to further activity. The guns kept by the keepers for emergencies were seventy-five feet away, and had they been available they could not have been used on account of the danger to spectators.

Women seized their children and dragged them from the path of the maddened tiger, and hundreds of little children clung to the skirts of their terrified mothers and scrambled to get away.

Markel headed for the main entrance, forty feet away. In his rush he struck several people with his shoulders, knocking them down.

Mrs. S. E. Rozell, of Twin Falls, and her little daughter Ruth could not escape the tiger's rush, and were borne to the ground. The tiger held Mrs. Rozell with his paws while his fangs sank into the neck of the child. J. W. Bell, a Twin Falls blacksmith, was standing beside Mrs. Rozell when she was attacked. His wife and children, too, were with him and at the mercy of the beast.

Thrusting his family aside Bell drew a revolver and opened fire on the tiger at a distance of three feet. When the first bullet struck Markel behind the shoulders he winced and opened his jaws, growling viciously and lashing his tail against the wall of spectators. The second bullet caused him to release Mrs. Rozell and her daughter from the grasp of his paws, and the third to put him on the run.

Bell followed, firing three more bullets into the fleeing tiger, as it ran outside the tent. Markel was sorely hit, but he managed to crawl some distance before he collapsed. Recovering his strength for an instant the tiger turned and started back toward the stampeding spectators. Bell was waiting for the attack with his revolver reloaded, but the big beast had enough, rolled over, snarling and biting at his wounds, and expired in a few moments.

Meanwhile the news that the tiger had escaped had spread, and spectators continued to flee from the tents. Many of them fell or were knocked down in the confusion, but none sustained serious injuries.

Mrs. Rozell and her daughter were taken to the office of a physician, where everything possible was done for the child. It was found that the teeth of the tiger had frightfully lacerated the neck and breast of the little one, and much blood was lost before the wounds could be closed. The little girl died, and Mrs. Rozell was removed to her home.

Markel was reputed to be one of the largest and best proportioned tigers on exhibition, and was the pride of the manager. He had shown no previous signs of ill temper, and the management of the circus was astonished at his behavior. Many persons thought that the door of the tiger's cage might have been more secure. The keepers were helpless on account of the confusion, and had it not been for Bell's presence of mind and prompt action in risking an encounter with the angry tiger more lives might have been sacrificed.

GIRL ALONE ALL NIGHT IN JUNGLE

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bell Loses Way in Indian Wilderness.

Washington, D. C. — Miss Helen Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Bell, has just returned from an eventful winter in India, the most thrilling episode of which was a night alone in the jungle.

Miss Bell left here early in the winter to spend several months in India with English friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hopkins. Part of the time Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins and their party, including Miss Bell, were camping near Hyderabad and hunting big game.

The men of the party started out on a hunt one morning, and toward night Miss Bell rode out from camp to meet them. She missed the trail after a few miles and soon found herself getting further into the heart of the jungle and unable to get her bearings. Darkness came on, and with it a heavy rain.

Alone with only her horse and a few dogs, Miss Bell faced a night in that lonely wilderness known for its venomous snakes. The night wore on and no help came, and, unable to find her way in daylight, she was still more helpless in the thick darkness. In the distance she heard the roaring of panthers and other wild animals. Her horse and dogs heard the sounds and became almost unmanageable in their fright.

The rain, which poured down steadily, was a blessing in disguise, though she knew it not at the time.

Her friends told her later it was undoubtedly the rain that prevented her being surrounded by reptiles. It kept them under cover and she was unmolested.

Miss Bell's friends sent out several hundred coolies to beat the brush. They failed to find her, but at daybreak she found her way to a clearing, and meeting a native who could speak some English was directed to the camp.

Miss Bell returned to the United States by way of Japan. The vessel on which she took passage had just left Yokohama when it ran agrounds on a reef. It was safely floated, and started on its voyage, but a few days later smallpox appeared on board, and for fourteen days the passengers were quarantined on the Pacific coast.

Miss Bell finally reached her home safely, with a stock of exciting stories for her relatives and friends. She is now with her parents at their country place, Twin Oaks.

INDIAN MAIDS SEEK HUSBANDS.

Chickasaw Girls Want Only White Men in Marriage.

Charlotte, N. C. — Twelve Indian girls of the Chickasaw Nation in Indian Territory, have written to President Winstone, of the State Agricultural College, requesting his aid in procuring white husbands. They have entered into an agreement to marry none but white men. As they have much land, they think students at the Agricultural College would make the right sort of husbands.

THE MYSTERIES OF SC

VAGARIES WHICH HUNTERS CANNOT EXPLAIN.

Theories That Have Been Advanced—Good and Bad Scenting Days—How Hounds Lose and Recover the Trail—Fallen Leaves as a Help to the Hunted Fox.

If there is one thing more than another that has vexed the minds of sportsmen through countless centuries, it is the question of "scent"—that remarkable commodity which is so necessary to the success of the hunter. And yet even in this twentieth century, says the London Daily Mail, with all the accumulated knowledge of successive generations at our disposal, it is doubtful whether we know much more about the mysteries of scent than did Nimrod, who, so far as we know, was the mightiest hunter of early days.

As to Nimrod and his methods of hunting we are actually told but little, for he is only referred to twice in all the writings of ancient days that are given to us, and no mention is made of his hounds. But we have records of one Marri—who is held by many old time writers to be one and the same as the mighty hunter of Genesis—and he certainly hunted with hounds, the latter being invariably mentioned with his name.

At that very remote period, therefore, the usefulness of the hound as a tracker of wild beasts had been recognized, and doubtless everything was done then as it is to this day, to encourage the natural instinct of the canine race in this particular with a view to aiding man in the chase. Yet after all these days there is not an M. F. H. in the land, or a huntsman either, who can tell you why it is that under precisely similar meteorological conditions hounds can run on a burning scent all day on the Monday, and can scarcely raise a whimper on the Tuesday, though the fox be but half a field ahead of them.

Many theories have been advanced to explain the vagaries of scent, but none of them is entirely satisfactory. Some, no doubt, still pin their faith to the words of the poet who declared that

A southerly wind and a cloudy sky
Proclaim a hunting morning.

But as a matter of fact neither the one nor the other will make scent "hang" if so be that Providence wills it otherwise. You cannot, indeed, lay down any hard and fast rule concerning so variable and intangible a thing as scent, which is generally at its best when you least expect it.

Take for instance the behavior of scent during this present season. Prior to Christmas the sport enjoyed with most packs had been up to the average and rather better than that with some. With Christmas came the first spell of winter, and hunting was abandoned throughout the length and breadth of the kingdom. After that the thaw and with it a period of stirring gallops day after day such as are seldom chronicled within the space of a few days in any season. Hardly a pack went out that week without a good run every time hounds left kennel, and many a huntsman went home with as many as three or four good gallops to his credit in a single day and as many masks dangling from sundry saddles.

Shortly afterward the frost returned, and again broke up. To all intents and purposes the conditions were once more the same—the atmosphere close and heavy, little or no wind, showers of rain at intervals, and the ground cold and wet. But none of the brilliant runs of a few days before were to be had.

Hounds found as frequently as usual, and as frequently, after running on a faint line for a few hundred yards, threw up [illegible] disappointment and [illegible] ting scent during a thaw [illegible] frost has usually been [illegible] the rule, but the exception [illegible] more marked this season [illegible] needed to prove it.

A year ago there was [illegible] discussion among hunting [illegible] the why and the wherefore [illegible] and bad scenting days, [illegible] the many suggestions put [illegible] forward was that which [illegible] to be known as the [illegible] theory. The argument [illegible] evaporation is going on [illegible] scent should be good, [illegible] the opposite process [illegible] is in progress, scent [illegible] wanting. The basis of [illegible] may be correct, but it is [illegible] fallible than many another.

Scent certainly at times [illegible] in a high wind just as [illegible] a very still day it will [illegible] disappear all of a sudden. [illegible] are days when the wind [illegible] the ground wet at which [illegible] must be plenty of [illegible] on, but never a [illegible] to be discovered although [illegible] dozen foxes may leave [illegible] your very eyes.

Country folk will [illegible] you that scent is never [illegible] the fall of the leaf is [illegible] deed, until the fallen [illegible] become rotten. The [illegible] support of this argument [illegible] fox while running [illegible] leaves as he goes along—[illegible] of course—and so conceals [illegible] as it were, behind him.

It must be a careful [illegible] accomplish this sleight [illegible] any degree of accuracy, [illegible] nosed pack of hounds that [illegible] own his scent through [illegible] density of a withered leaf [illegible] yokel is quite right up [illegible] point in his argument. [illegible] often is at its worst during [illegible] fall, but that is because [illegible] of the decaying leaves [illegible] so pungent that it baffles [illegible] of the pack unless the [illegible] very pronounced odor of [illegible] Perhaps it is because, like [illegible] tryman, we sometimes [illegible] sues of this description [illegible] often puzzled by the [illegible] scent.

One point in particular [illegible] to scent seems impossible [illegible] A fox slips away on [illegible] covert while hounds are [illegible] the other. Somebody [illegible] shouts a view halloo! [illegible] the huntsman at his best [illegible] lays on his hounds at the [illegible] the aforesaid person swears [illegible] fox left the wood, but not [illegible] the pack will own the [illegible] whimper breaks in upon [illegible] ant silence of the eager [illegible] after cast is made, but to [illegible] and eventually the hunted [illegible] off to resume his draw, [illegible] himself that he "don't believe [illegible] weren't no fox at all."

For all that, twenty [illegible] when hounds happen [illegible] passing that way toward [illegible] covert, suddenly there is [illegible] here and another there, [illegible] they go like a pack possessed [illegible] across the field and through [illegible] gap in yonder hedge that [illegible] pointed out to the unbeliever [illegible] man. "Well, I never!" [illegible] worthy, "and so old Mr. [illegible] right after all."

Later in the day, when [illegible] jogging homeward, the [illegible] ferred to, but nobody has [illegible] planation to offer. And yet [illegible] when a fox passes you his [illegible] strong that even the [illegible] tory organs of mere man [illegible] inferior to the brute [illegible] respect—are positively [illegible] the tainted atmosphere. [illegible] the mysteries of scent [illegible] end.

A TRIBUTE TO THE IRON HORSE.

An Old Railroad Man's Lament at the Growth of the Electric Motor.

"The locomotive was to the land what the steamboat was to the river," said a veteran railroad manager. Some one had asked him if he was not glad to see electricity taking the place of steam in the operation of railroads.

"The business has had to come to it," he said with a sort of lamentation in his confession. "So commerce had to give up steamboating and come to the railroad when steam was the power on land.

"But personally it fills me with regret to see the locomotive going to the dead yard. There was always something human, to my mind, in the iron horse.

"It completed the picture of a landscape. If a man had been rambling in a wilderness all day and suddenly came upon a bit of view in which a locomotive was making a whirl with a long train of cars, the scene was inspiriting. It made the observer feel as if he were on the rim of civilization.

"The long pall of smoke or the white cloud of steam against the sky added to the picture. The electric engine can never make such a scene.

"Have you ever stood on the platform of a station when a locomotive thundered in with its train that was an hour or two behind time? It had the animated nature of a great horse that had just come to the wire after a hard and close race. It breathed like a sprinter after a long run. It trembled in its iron harness like a living creature.

"The electric motor comes to a standstill in an instant. It looks like something decapitated, anyway.
